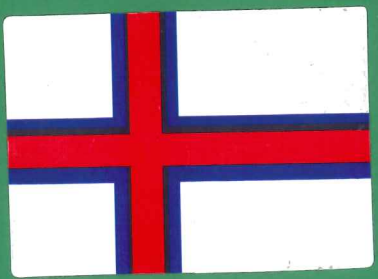
Faroese

Jonathan Adams and Hjalmar P. Petersen

A Language Course for Beginners

Textbook



100000

Stiðin

FAROESE

A Language Course for Beginners

TEXTBOOK

by

Jonathan Adams and Hjalmar P. Petersen

STIÐIN
2009

Faroese: A Language Course for Beginners – Textbook
By Jonathan Adams and Hjalmar P. Petersen © 2009, Stiðin and the authors
Typesetting, layout and cover: Gramar Spf., Tórshavn . www.gramar.fo Printing and binding: Sjónband, Tórshavn Sponsors: BP, Mentanargrunnur landsins, Eik

www.stidin.fo

ISBN 978-99918-42-48-6 (Textbook)
ISBN 978-99918-42-49-3 (Grammar + Textbook)

Contents

Introduction v

About this book – The authors – Acknowledgements – The Faroese language: Language, literature and history; The language situation today; Faroese and English – How to use this course: Textbook; Grammar; The CD recording

Abbreviations x

CD Contents xii

1 Vælkomin til Føroya! 1
Welcome to the Faroe Islands!

The Faroese alphabet – Gender – Greetings – Articles – Personal pronouns (nominative) – Present tense verbs (first person singular) – Asking someone's name – Word order: statements and questions – Question words – Words for countries, nationalities and languages – The verb vera 'to be' in present tense – The infinitive – Words for marital status – Vowel length – The pronunciation of the letters a and æ

2 Hvussu hevur tú tað? 23
How are you?

Numbers – How to ask somebody's age – Providing personal details – The plural of nouns – The definite article in the plural – Asking how somebody is – Weak and strong verbs – Present tense: group 1 verbs – Negation – The verb at plaga – Days of the week, months, seasons and time phrases – The letters i and y

3 Nýggir vinir í Havn 47
New friends in Tórshavn

Making an arrangement – Accepting, declining – The direct object (accusative) – Possessive pronouns – The possessive construction with hjá – Discussing family, work and religion – Adjectives (nominative and accusative forms) – The present tense: group 2 verbs – The letters í and ý

4 Kann eg fáa matseðilin? 75
May I have the menu?

The interrogative pronoun: hvør – Present tense: groups 3–4 verbs – Telling the time – How to order and ask for things – Discussing food and places to eat – How to pay a compliment and make a complaint – Numbers from 100 – The letters á, o and ó

5 Hvussu sleppi eg til bankan? 103
How do I get to the bank?

How to ask for directions – How to give directions – Present tense: strong and irregular verbs – The indirect object (dative) – The genitive case – Possessive constructions: summary – The letters e and ø

6 Eg skal veksla eitt sindur av pengum 127
I want to change some money

The verbs: eiga, kunna, mega, munna, skula and vilja – The comparative form of adjectives – The superlative form of adjectives – Compound nouns – Expressing weight, volume and length – The bank, the post office, and the customs and tax authorities – Currency – Colours – The letters u and ú

7 Tú mást taka regnfrakka við tær 147
You'll have to bring a raincoat

Reflexive verbs – The reflexive pronoun sín – -st verbs – Discussing the weather – Forming adverbs from adjectives – The comparison of adverbs – Expressing the future – The media – The diphthongs ei, ey and oy

8 Hvat ber til at gera um kvøldið? 165
What's there to do in the evening?

Demonstratives – Preterite tense – Joining sentences with conjunctions – Verbs with accusative and dative subjects – Saying what you like, dislike and prefer – Going out and ordering tickets – The letter r

9 Hvussu nógv kostar tað? 183
How much is it?

Prepositions that take the accusative – Uses of tað – Shopping – Amounts, prices and fractions – Clothes – The names of shops and groceries – The letters d and ð

10 Hvat feilar? 205
What's wrong?

Prepositions that take the dative case – Joining sentences with relative pronouns – How to say something hurts and talking about illness – Parts of the body – Intensifiers – Using the phone and email – The letter combinations dj, sj, skj, stj and tj

11 Bara tú hevur minst til at taka dósaopnaran við! 223
As long as you've remembered to bring the can-opener!

Prepositions that take the accusative and genitive cases – The past participle and the supine – The present perfect – Birdlife – Indefinite and negative pronouns – Apologising – Places to stay – The letter g

12 Mál! 245
Goal!

Prepositions that take the accusative and the dative case – The past perfect – Saying you are good or bad at something – Some adverbs indicating position and movement to and from – Hobbies – Sports – The letter k

13 Hann er rættiligur tjóðskaparmaður 261
He's a real nationalist

The passive voice – Expressing surprise – The verbs: teinkja, hugsa, halda, meina and ætla – Irregular nouns – Faroese history – The letter combinations sj, sk and skj

14 Er nakar studentaavsláttur? 287
Is there a student discount?

Vowel mutation – The imperative mood and how to say 'let's do this' – Indirect speech – The reciprocal pronoun 'each other' – Means of transport and buying a travel ticket – Describing people – The letter combinations ll and nn and the letter s

15 Aftur heim til Skotlands? 313
Back home to Scotland?

The present participle (the -ing form) – Expressing wishes – The subjunctive (optative mood) – Writing letters – The letter combinations kk, kkj, pp and tt

Audio-scripts 329

Answers to the exercises 333

Faroese-English glossary 351

Introduction

About this book

Track 1

The aim of authors has been to write an up-to-date introductory course in Faroese for the learner to be able to use either by him- or herself or in a classroom environment. The course is designed for speakers of English (and includes American variants where the British English term might be unfamiliar). The Faroese language is presented in an everyday spoken style in the dialogues (including slang), and in various written styles in the reading passages (taken from literature, poetry, song, newspapers, menus, advertising, emails, text messages and so on). We have tried to cover as many styles and types of Faroese language as possible.

There are undoubtedly gaps, and a course-book will never be able to teach you absolutely everything you need to know. However, a student working diligently through this course will become a competent speaker of Faroese and have a solid foundation for further study; suggestions for which can be found at the back of the grammar book.

The authors

Jonathan Adams took undergraduate and postgraduate degrees in Scandinavian Studies and medieval vernacular languages and literature at the University of Hull, and has a doctorate in Scandinavian languages from University College London. He spent eight years as lecturer in the Department of Scandinavian Studies in Hull and has also taught in Kraków, Poland. He now lives and works in Copenhagen, where he is a senior researcher at the Society for Danish Language and Literature specialising in the history of language during the Middle Ages and the Renaissance.

Hjalmar P. Petersen has studied linguistics in Reykjavík and at Yale University, and Nordic Philology in Copenhagen, in addition to Faroese at University of the Faroe Islands. He has taught Faroese summer courses for some years, both to Nordic and international students, in addition to teaching experience from the Faroese University and secondary schools in the Faroe Islands. Presently, he is working on a project on Faroese-Danish bilingualism at the University of Hamburg.

Acknowledgements

We have received assistance from a number of individuals and organisations. Fróðskaparsetur Føroya and Det Letterstedtske Selskab have both paid for Jonathan's research trips to the Faroe Islands. We are grateful to Miklagarður supermarket, Café Natúr and Norðurlandahúsið (all in Tórshavn) for granting Jonathan permission to photograph their premises. Remco Knooihuizen kindly allowed us to reproduce his photograph of Nólsoy and the rowing competition on Ólavsøka; Føroya Postverk to reproduce images of their stamps, and Niels Arge Galán of 200 to use the band's lyrics of the song 'Um 50 ár'. Special thanks go to Jeffrei Henriksen in Strendur as well as to Turið Sigurðardóttir, Randi Kúrberg and Lena Reinert of Fróðskaparsetur Føroya for their many invaluable comments and corrections to the manuscript of the book and their assistance in answering a great many questions. Thanks also to the students of the 2007 summer courses at Fróðskaparsetur Føroya for their feedback on the material. The following individuals have all been involved at some level in preparing this course, and we thank them for their encouragement and help: Sámal J. Samuelsen of Kringvarp Føroya; Zakaris Svabo Hansen of Fróðskaparsetur Føroya; John Dalsgarð, Margreta Næss and Finnur Hansen in Tórshavn; Don Brandt in Reykjavík, and Zakarias Wang of Stiðin, Hoyvík. Finally, we would like to thank family and friends for their support and patience.

The Faroese language

The Faroese language is spoken in the Faroe Islands which lie midway between Norway and Iceland in the North Atlantic. A little fewer than 50,000 people live spread across the nation's 18 islands (one of which is uninhabited). The capital is Tórshavn (pop. 19,000), and the second largest settlement is Klaksvík (pop. 4,700). The landscape is made up of grass-covered, steep-sided mountains and valleys. There are a great many rivers and streams, and one large lake, Sørvágsvatn. There is excellent infrastructure on the islands, which are connected by means of tunnels, causeways, a bridge, ferries and helicopter. The economy is based on the fishing industry, but information technology and tourism are both growing sectors. The islands are an autonomous dependency belonging to Denmark, a country to which they have many ties.

Language, literature and history

Faroese belongs to the Germanic branch of the Indo-European family of languages. Like Swedish, Norwegian, Icelandic and Danish, it belongs more specifically to the Northern Germanic group of languages. The islands may first have been settled by Irish monks in the seventh and eighth centuries. The Norse settlers arrived around 800. The parliament (løgtingið) they established is thought to date from this time, making it the oldest existing national assembly in the world. There are a few runic inscriptions from the twelfth and thirteenth centuries and some documents from the Middle Ages, which show that written Faroese is almost indistinguishable from the written Norwegian of the period. However, Faroese remained largely undocumented until the late eighteenth century. The isolation of the Faroe Islands has meant that a number of archaic features of the language have been preserved, and also that there are several innovations unique to Faroese when compared with the other Scandinavian languages. Indeed, some researchers group Faroese as a 'Mid-Scandinavian' language, placing it between Icelandic ('Insular Scandinavian') on the one hand and Norwegian, Swedish and Danish ('Mainland Scandinavian') on the other. The Faroe Islands were christianised in 1000, and became part of the kingdom of Norway in the eleventh century. Norway and Denmark entered into a royal union in 1380 which survived in various forms for over four centuries. The collapse of a written form of Norwegian around the end of the fourteenth century together with the many centuries of rule from Copenhagen, resulted in a number of changes in Faroese as well as massive influence from Danish on the Faroese language. For much of the islands' history, Danish was the only language permitted in church, schools and administration, although Faroese always remained the spoken language and mother-tongue of the islanders.

For centuries, Faroese had no written form, but during the eighteenth century, the Faroese linguist Jens Christian Svabo (1746–1824), set about writing down folk ballads and compiling a dictionary of Faroese using his own orthography. Svabo wanted to record the islands' language and song culture before they disappeared. However, modern Faroese owes its orthography to Venceslaus Ulricus Hammershaimb (1819–1909). In 1854, he published Færøisk Sproglære ('Faroese Grammar') which laid the foundations for a written form. It has been unnecessary to change Hammershaimb's orthography in any fundamental way, although it did meet with some opposition. For example, a rival system was devised by Jakob Jakobsen (1864–1918), but it was never accepted by the Faroese. However, even today there are occasional calls for a reform of the spelling system (with the letter ð being the focus of much criticism).

Even before there was a standardised orthography in place, Faroese literature began to germinate; for example, Nólsoyar Páll (1766–1809) wrote a number of poems in Faroese. The first writers, including the brothers Janus Djurhuus (1881–1948, poet) and Hans Andrias Djurhuus (1883–1951, poet and dramatist) were national romantics. Other notable Faroese writers include the poets Christian Matras (1900–88), Regin Dahl (1918–2007), Rói Patursson (b. 1947) and Tóroddur Poulsen (b. 1957); the poet, dramatist and translator Símun av Skarði (1872–1942); the novelists Heðin Brú (1901–87), Jens Pauli Heinesen (b. 1932), Oddvør Johansen (b. 1941), Gunnar Hoydal (b. 1941), Jóanes Nielsen (b. 1953), Carl Jóhan Jensen (b. 1957), and the artist and art critic Bárður Jákupsson (b. 1943). The two Faroese writers best-known abroad, William Heinesen (1900–91) and Jørgen-Frantz Jacobsen (1900–38), did not write in their mother-tongue, but in Danish.

In 1814, the Norwegian kingdom was broken up. Norway 'proper' fell to Sweden, whilst Greenland, Iceland and the Faroe Islands came under the sole control of Denmark. Throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, there were calls in the Faroe Islands for greater independence, and nationalism grew. During the Second World War, the islands were occupied by British forces, who allowed the Faroese largely to govern themselves and to use their own flag Merkið for the first time. After the war, a referendum was held on the question of independence. There were more votes for independence than for remaining within the Danish kingdom, but the Danish government refused to recognise the outcome of the referendum and grant the Faroes independence. Ever since, the islands have been gradually taking over control of areas of administration from Denmark. Areas such as the postal service, education, taxation and the Church are under the control of the Faroese government, while areas such as foreign affairs and defence remain under Danish control.

The language situation today

Today, Faroese is defined as the national language of the Faroe Islanders with Danish being considered a foreign language (although it remains an obligatory subject in schools). Faroese is the language used in all aspects of life – educational, cultural, religious and administrative. There is Faroese radio, television, theatre, newspapers and a vibrant literary scene. The parliament, løgtingið, conducts all its business in Faroese, and the University of the Faroe Islands, Fróðskaparsetur Føroya, offers undergraduate and postgraduate degrees in, among other things, Faroese language and literature. Signposts and information booklets often appear in Faroese and English, with no Danish translations whatsoever, and some islanders are reluctant to speak Danish.

As a result of Danish being used as the language of administration for centuries, there is a large amount of Danish influence on the Faroese language today. This influence is especially noticeable in the many loanwords and also syntactic constructions borrowed from Danish. There is a language committee, Málstovan, one of whose tasks it is to strengthen Faroese by weeding out these loanwords and syntactic expressions or in some cases creating pure Faroese alternatives. For example, the word begynna 'to begin' (cf. Danish begynde) has been replaced by byrja (cf. Old Norse byrja). Some of the committee's recommendations have been more successful than others. For example, although most people would say fløga rather than CD, few would say hjólhestur 'wheel-horse' except in jest, preferring instead to use súkkla ('bicycle', cf. Danish cykel), and no one would use ástig or føtil for pedalur ('pedal', cf. Danish pedal).

The written or official-style language tends to make greater use of these neologisms, whereas spoken Faroese contains more Danish loanwords. There are also a number of small differences in grammar. In this course, we shall be learning a more colloquial, spoken Faroese, although official words are included where necessary. Words that are mainly used in an official written style are marked with this symbol ¤, and should be avoided by the learner when speaking.

There are some dialectal differences in the Faroes, but they are not so huge that the dialects are not mutually intelligible. The most noticeable dialectal features are in the pronunciation of certain vowels, for example ó, and a few consonants, notably p, t, k, which are weakened to b, d, g in Tórshavn and on Sandoy and Suðuroy. In this course, the description of Faroese is based on the western dialect and partly on the dialects in Norðurstreymoy and Eysturoy.

Faroese and English

Faroese and English both belong to the same branch of the Indo-European language tree. For this reason – as well as the geographic proximity that has resulted in borrowing – there are many similarities between the languages, both in terms of grammar and vocabulary. There are, for example, many recognisable words in sentences such as tey eta egg og drekka mjólk ('they eat eggs and drink milk'), eg havi ein hund ('I have a dog' ['hound']), and Jógvan kann koma mánadag ('Jógvan can come Monday'). Some words will be more familiar to speakers from the north of England or Scotland (barn 'bairn'/'child'; flyta 'flit'/'move'; leika 'laik'/'play'). As far as grammar is concerned, there are a number of shared principles. For example, the past tense is formed by adding an ending (tali 'talk', talaði 'talked'; læri 'learn', lærdi 'learnt'; sáa 'sow', sáddi 'sowed'; hjálpi 'help', hjálpti 'helped'), by changing a vowel (drekki 'drink', drakk 'drank'; syngi 'sing', sang 'sang'), or by adding an ending and changing a vowel (fortelji 'tell', fortaldi 'told'). However, the grammar of Faroese is rather complex and you'll need to make sure you understand each new topic. If you speak another Germanic language (such as German, Dutch, Danish, Swedish or Icelandic), you should find Faroese fairly straightforward to get to grips with.

How to use this course

The course consists of two books (Textbook and Grammar) and a CD-ROM.

Textbook

This book comprises 15 units. Each unit contains these sections:

- 3 dialogues (samrøða)
- 3 reading texts (lesistykki)
- exercises (venjing)
- vocabulary (orðalýsingar)
- language points (mállæra)
- pronunciation of one or more letters
- proverbs (orðatøk)
- historical, geographical and cultural facts (veitst tú at...?)

Dialogues:
Each chapter contains three dialogues based around the character Claire McDonald, a Scottish student, travelling to the Faroe Islands to visit her family in Tórshavn and Klaksvík. En route she meets and befriends Jógvan. By following Claire, her family and Jógvan from the moment she arrives at the airport on Vágar until her departure, you are able to view the sorts of situations that a newcomer to the islands would encounter through the eyes of both the resident and the visitor.

Vocabulary notes:
The vocabulary notes contain all the new words in the text. It is a good idea to learn the words as you go along. Make flash cards with the Faroese word on one side and the English on the other in order to test yourself. Get a friend or study partner to test you on vocabulary. A Faroese-English word-list can be found at the back of the book. The course contains a total of 4000 items of vocabulary.

Language points:
This section includes phrases and words for discussing a certain topic. Again it is useful to memorise as many phrases as possible. Grammar points are also introduced here, and it is important that you understand each grammar point before moving on to the next section. The grammar points are referenced (marked with §) and these references refer to paragraphs in the grammar book where you can learn more about the grammar point under discussion.

Pronunciation:
The pronunciation of one or more letters is introduced on the CD. Listen and repeat to improve your Faroese pronunciation.

Reading texts:
Your knowledge of the written and literary language is also developed by three reading passages in each chapter, many of which are real texts from newspapers, magazines or literary works.

Proverb:
A few words of wisdom in Faroese!

Historical, geographical and cultural background:
These short texts in English tell you something about an aspect of Faroese culture or society, and introduce a few new words.

Exercises:
There are exercises (questions, true or false, quizzes and so on) throughout each chapter. A key to all the exercises can be found at the back of the book.

Grammar

This grammar handbook for learners of Faroese is to be used in conjunction with the textbook. It contains detailed descriptions of Faroese grammar, pronunciation and orthography. It also has suggestions for further reading and study. You are not expected to read the entire grammar book cover to cover but to dip into it to clarify points of difficulty.

The CD recording

The pronunciation of Faroese can be rather tricky to describe by reference to English sounds, and the intonation of Faroese can only be learnt from hearing the language as spoken by natives. In order to make sure the student can comprehend spoken Faroese and reproduce its sounds correctly, we have recorded the dialogues, reading passages and some other texts. Listen to the recording as much as possible and try to imitate what you hear. The CD is a CD-ROM, not an audio CD, and therefore should be used on a computer or one of the newer CD-players that are CD-ROM compatible. It is also possible to download all the audio recordings directly from the publisher's website at http://www.stidin.fo. The texts found on the recording are marked in the book with the symbol Góða eydnu og góðan arbeiðshug!

Jonathan Adams and Hjalmar P. Petersen

Abbreviations

acc.	accusative	irr.	irregular
adj.	adjective	lit.	literally
adv.	adverb	m.	masculine
coll.	colloquial, spoken language	n.	neuter
comp.	comparative	nom.	nominative
conj.	conjunction	num.	numeral
Dan.	Danish	obj.	object
dat.	dative	ON	Old Norse
dem.	demonstrative	past part.	past participle
Eng.	English	pl.	plural
excl.	exclamation	pol.	polite
f.	feminine	pret.	preterite
Far.	Faroese	prep.	preposition
gen.	genitive	pres. part.	present participle
Ger.	German	pron.	pronoun
Ice.	Icelandic	refl.	reflexive
imp.	imperative	sg.	singular
impers.	impersonal	subj.	subject
indecl.	indeclinable	superl.	superlative
inf.	infinitive; informal	sup.	supine
inter.	interrogative	trans.	transitive
interj.	interjection	vb.	verb
intrans.	intransitive

¤	official, written style; not recommended when speaking
§	see paragraph in the grammar book

CD Contents

Track	Content	Page
001	Introduction	v-x
Unit 1
002	Vælkomin til Føroya!	1
003	Samrøða 1: Í bussinum av flogvøllinum til Havnar (1)	1
004	The Faroese alphabet	3
005	Greeting people	3
006	Samrøða 2	8
007	Question words	11
008	Countries and nationalities	11
009	Some other place-names	12
010	Where do you come from?	13
011	Talking about yourself	13
012	Languages	13
013	Mál	13
014	Other useful phrases	14
015	Venjing 6: Listening	15
016	Vera in the present tense	16
017	Samrøða 3	17
018	Vowel length: a and æ	18
019	Lesistykki 1: Claire McDonald	19
020	Lesistykki 2: Ein bussur - trý fólk	19
021	Lesistykki 3: Eg oyggjar veit	20
022	Orðatak	21
Unit 2
023	Hvussu hevur tú tað?	23
024	Samrøða 1: Í bussinum av flogvøllinum til Havnar (2)	23
025	Cardinal numbers 1-100	24
026	Samrøða 2: Koma til Havnar	30
027	Samrøða 3: Heima hjá Kristini (1)	37
028	Days of the week	39
029	Months	40
030	Seasons	41
031	The letters i and y	42
032	Lesistykki 1: Kristin Poulsen	42
033	Lesistykki 2: Eitt teldubræv úr Føroyum	45
034	Lesistykki 3: Letingavísan	45
035	Orðatak	46
Unit 3
036	Nýggir vinir í Havn	47
037	Samrøða 1: Heima hjá Kristini (2)	47
038	Samrøða 2: Á kaffistovuni (1)	54

Track	Content	Page
039	Samrøða 3: Á kaffistovuni (2)	66
040	The letters í and ý	70
041	Lesistykki 1: Páll Jákupsson	71
042	Lesistykki 3	72
043	Orðatøk	73
Unit 4
044	Kann eg fáa matseðilin?	75
045	Samrøða 1: Morgunmatur	75
046	Venjing 5: Telling the time	81
047	Samrøða 2: Døguröi (1)	81
048	Venjing 7: Ordering from the menu	91
049	Samrøða 3: Døguröi (2)	92
050	The letter á	96
051	The letter o	96
052	The letter ó	97
053	Orðatak	101
Unit 5
054	Hvussu sleppi eg til bankan?	103
055	Samrøða 1: Claire leitar eftir bankanum	103
056	Directions	105
057	Giving directions	106
058	Venjing 4: Directions	107
059	Venjing 5: Directions	108
060	Samrøða 2: Claire og Jógvan koyra í bili (1)	110
061	Samrøða 3: Clarie og Jógvan koyra í bili (2)	116
062	The letter e	123
063	The letter ø	123
064	Orðatak	126
Unit 6
065	Eg skal veksla eitt sindur av pengum	127
066	Samrøða 1: Í bankanum	127
067	Venjing 4: At the bank	133
068	Samrøða 2: Á posthúsinum	133
069	Samrøða 3: Á skattadeildini	139
070	The letter u	143
071	The letter ú	143
072	Lesistykki 3	145
073	Orðatak	145
Unit 7
074	Tú mást taka regnfrakka við tær!	147
075	Samrøða 1: Veðrið	147
076	Samrøða 2: Veðurvánir	151
077	Samrøða 3: Samrøða um ferðir	157

Track	Content	Page
078	The diphthong ei	159
079	The diphthong ey	159
080	The diphthong oy	160
081	Lesistykki 1	160
082	Lesistykki 2: Uttan streym í góðar 12 tímar	161
Unit 8
083	Hvat ber til at gera um kvøldið?	165
084	Samrøða 1	165
085	Venjing 6: Likes, dislikes and preferences	170
086	Samrøða 2: Jógvan bíleggur atgongumerkini	170
087	Venjing 11: Going out and booking tickets	175
088	Samrøða 3: Claire tosar við Kristin um filmin	176
089	The letter r	180
090	Lesistykki 1: Karaokestjørnur í Stjørnuni!	180
091	Lesistykki 2: Í sjónvarpinum	181
092	Lesistykki 3: Norðurlandahúsið	181
Unit 9
093	Hvussu nógv kostar tað?	183
094	Samrøða 1	183
095	Venjing 5: Quantities and prices	188
096	Samrøða 2	188
097	Samrøða 3: Kristin keypir klæðir í einum nýggjum mótahandli	195
098	The letter d	200
099	The letter ð	200
100	Lesistykki 2: Tey ríkastu og dýrastu londini í Evropu	201
101	Lesistykki 3: Ormurin langi	202
Unit 10
102	Hvat feilar?	205
103	Samrøða 1	205
104	Samrøða 2	211
105	Samrøða 3: Á apotekinum	215
106	The letter combinations dj, sj, skj, stj and tj	218
107	Lesistykki 1: Serlig telefonnummur	219
108	Lesistykki 2: Ring 1-1-2	220
109	Orðatøk	222
Unit 11
110	Bara tú hevur minst til at taka dósaopnaran við!	223
111	Samrøða 1	223
112	Samrøða 2	228
113	Samrøða 3	236
114	The letter g	239
115	Lesistykki 1	239
116	Lesistykki 2	241

Track	Content	Page
117	Orðatak	243
Unit 12
118	Mál!	245
119	Samrøða 1	245
120	Samrøða 2	251
121	Samrøða 3	254
122	The letter k	256
123	Lesistykki 1: Skemtisøgur	256
124	Orðatøk	259
Unit 13
125	Hann er rættiligur tjóðskaparmaður	261
126	Samrøða 1	261
127	Samrøða 2	268
128	Samrøða 3	275
129	The letter combinations sj, sk and skj	280
130	Lesistykki 1: Jólafundurin 1888	280
131	Lesistykki 2: Tríggir megnarmenn	282
132	Lesistykki 3: Um 50 ár	284
Unit 14
133	Er nakar studentaavsláttur?	287
134	Samrøða 1	287
135	Samrøða 2	294
136	Samrøða 3	300
137	The letter combination ll	306
138	The letter combination nn	307
139	The letter s	307
140	Lesistykki 1: Tyrlan	307
141	Lesistykki 2: Blaðgreinir	309
142	Lesistykki 3: Hvør er Kai?	311
Unit 15
143	Aftur heim til Skotlands?	313
144	Samrøða 1	313
145	Samrøða 2	317
146	Samrøða 3	321
147	The letter combinations kk and kkj	323
148	The letter combination pp	324
149	The letter combination tt	324
150	Lesistykki 1: Brøv	324
151	Lesistykki 3: Hvat hendi?	326

1 Vælkomin til Føroya!

Welcome to the Faroe Islands!

Track 2

In this unit you will learn about:

- the Faroese alphabet
- gender
- greetings
- articles
- personal pronouns (nominative)
- present tense verbs (first person singular)
- asking someone's name
- word order: statements and questions
- question words
- words for countries, nationalities and languages
- the verb vera 'to be' in present tense
- the infinitive
- words for marital status
- vowel length
- the pronunciation of the letters a and æ

We suggest you concentrate on the pronunciation of Faroese during the first few units. You should make good use of the recordings that accompany this course as there is no substitute for hearing the words pronounced by native speakers. Although you will probably understand very little at this stage, try listening to Faroese radio and television so that you get used to hearing the sounds and rhythm of Faroese. Programmes are available free of charge over the Internet (Kringvarp Føroya, the national broadcaster, can be found at www.uf.fo).

Samrøða 1 ('Dialogue 1')

Track 3

Í bussinum av flogvøllinum til Havnar (1. partur)

Claire McDonald is a Scottish student visiting family in the Faroe Islands. She has just arrived at the airport on Vágar and is taking the bus to Tórshavn. On the bus she meets Jógvan.

JÓGVAN: Kann eg seta meg her?
CLAIRE: Ha?
JÓGVAN: Er hetta plássið upptikið?
CLAIRE: Nei. Ger so væl.
JÓGVAN: Takk. Hvaðani ert tú?
CLAIRE: Eg eri úr Skotlandi. Eg eri her í feriu.
JÓGVAN: Eg skilji. Eg eri úr Føroyum – úr Havn.
CLAIRE: Góðan dagin. Eg eiti Claire. Hvussu eitur tú?
JÓGVAN: Góðan dagin, Claire. Eg eiti Jógvan.

In the bus from the airport to Tórshavn (part 1)

JÓGVAN: May I sit here?
CLAIRE: Pardon?
JÓGVAN: Is this seat taken?
CLAIRE: No. Help yourself.
JÓGVAN: Thanks. Where are you from?
CLAIRE: I'm from Scotland. I'm here on holiday.
JÓGVAN: I see. I'm from the Faroe Islands – from Tórshavn.
CLAIRE: Pleased to meet you. I'm called Claire. What's your name?
JÓGVAN: How do you do, Claire. I'm called Jógvan.

Vága Flogvøllur

Orðalýsingar ('Vocabulary explanations')

í	in	hvaðani	from where?
í bussinum	on the bus	ert	are
av	from	tú	you (inf.)
av flogvøllinum	from the airport	eg	I til	to	eri	am
til Havnar	to Tórshavn	úr	from
kann eg?	may I?	úr Skotlandi	from Scotland
seta meg	sit down	her	here
her	here	í feriu	on holiday
ha?	what? pardon? eh?	skilji	see; understand
er	is	góðan dagin	how do you do, hello
hetta plássið	this seat	eiti	am called upptikið	taken; occupied	eitur	are called nei	no	hvussu	how
ger so væl	please; help yourself	hvussu eitur tú?	what is your name?

Mállæra ('Grammar')

The Faroese alphabet [§16.1]

Track 4

The Faroese alphabet has 29 letters. They are:

A a Á á B b D d Đ đ E e F f G g H h I i Í í
J j K k L l M m N n O o Ó ó P p R r S s T t U u Ú ú V v Y y Ý ý Æ æ Ø ø

Listen to the recording to hear what each letter is called. Notice especially these names:

a	fyrra a	i	fyrra i	í	fyrra í	ð	edd
æ	seinna æ	y	seinna y	ý	seinna ý

The letters c, q, w, x and z are not used in Faroese except in some foreign words (for example, celsius, watt, x-ásur 'x-axis'). Notice where the unfamiliar letters ð, æ and ø come in the alphabet. Very rarely the letter ø is written ö.

Greeting people

Track 5

To greet people we say:

Góðan morgun	Good morning (up to about 10am)
Góðan dag	Good afternoon, hello
Gott kvøld	Good evening
Hey	Hello, hi
Halló	Hello, hi

To say goodbye:

Farvæl	Goodbye
Vit síggjast	See you (later / soon)
Bei bei	'Bye
Góða nátt	Good night
Góða ferð	Have a good trip

Other greetings:

Góðan dag(in)	How do you do
Til lukku	Congratulations
Alt tað besta	Good luck
Takk, í líka máta	Thanks, you too
Hugna tær! (sg.)	Have fun! Enjoy yourself!
Hugnið tykkum! (pl.)	Have fun! Enjoy yourselves!
Sov væl (sg.)	Sleep well
Sovið væl (pl.)	Sleep well
Stuttligt at hitta teg	I'm pleased to meet you

Other useful phrases:

Ja / Nei	Yes / No
Takk	Thanks
Túsund takk	Many thanks
Einki at takka (fyri)	You're welcome
Sleppi eg? Kann eg?	May I?
Orsaka	Excuse me
Umskylda	I'm sorry
Tað er í lagi	That's okay

Masculine, feminine and neuter nouns [§1]

All nouns in Faroese have one of three genders: masculine, feminine or neuter. In English, the gender of a noun is natural; that is, we refer to a male person as he (boy, man, father), a female person as she (girl, woman, mother), and an inanimate thing or lowly animal as it (table, ship, beetle). This, however, is not what happens in Faroese; a child (barn) is always it in Faroese, never he or she, whereas a beetle (klukka) is always referred to as she and a chair (stólur) as he! This is because gender in Faroese, like many other languages, is not natural, but grammatical – a feminine word does not necessarily refer to a female (for example, gøta 'street' and ferð 'journey') and a neuter word can refer to something with natural gender (for example, menniskja 'person' and postboð 'postman, postwoman'). It is important that you memorise the gender of every noun in Faroese as you learn it. Fortunately, the endings of nouns often make it easy to determine their gender:

Masculine nouns usually end in:
–ur maður 'man', dagur 'day', stólur 'chair', næmingur 'pupil'
–i tími 'hour', máni 'month', beiggi 'brother', lundi 'puffin'

Feminine nouns usually end in:
–0[1] bók 'book', nátt 'night', kúgv 'cow', hond 'hand'
–a genta 'girl', kirkja 'church', gøta 'street', súkkla 'bike', 'bicycle'

Neuter nouns usually end in:
–0 hús 'house', summar 'summer', barn 'child', kríggj 'war'
–i kaffi 'coffee', politi 'police', dømi 'example', stykki 'piece'
–a eyga 'eye', oyra 'ear', hjarta 'heart', lunga 'lung'

In this course we mark the gender of nouns with following abbreviations: m. for masculine, f. for feminine and n. for neuter. It is essential that you learn the gender of each noun as you study.

1 The symbol '0' is used to mean 'nothing' or 'zero'. Thus, if we talk about a noun ending in –0 (a 'zero ending'), we mean that it has no special ending at all.

Venjing 1 ('Exercise 1'): Gender

What gender are the following nouns? Use the glossary at the back of the book if you get stuck. (Remember that endings can help you.)

(a)	bussur 'bus'	(g)	Skotland 'Scotland'
(b)	mamma 'mother'	(h)	dagur 'day'
(c)	borð 'table'	(i)	kona 'woman'
(d)	flogvøllur 'airport'	(j)	fjall 'mountain'
(e)	pláss 'seat'	(k)	troyggja 'jumper', 'sweater'
(f)	nátt 'night'	(l)	stivli 'boot'

Articles

The Indefinite Article: 'A', 'an' [§2.2]

The Faroese indefinite article changes according to the gender of the noun it qualifies. Here are the forms of the indefinite article:

Masculine: ein – ein maður 'a man', ein dagur 'a day', ein tími 'an hour'
Feminine: ein – ein bók 'a book', ein nátt 'a night', ein genta 'a girl' Neuter: eitt – eitt hús 'a house', eitt summar 'a summer', eitt dømi 'an example'

Venjing 2: Indefinite article

Write the correct form of the indefinite article (ein or eitt) alongside each of the nouns from Venjing 1 above.

The Definite Article: 'The' [§2.1]

The definite article in Faroese takes the form of a suffix; that is, it is added directly onto the end of the noun. The suffix has different forms depending on the gender of the noun it is joined to. Here are the forms of the definite article:

Masculine: –in – maðurin 'the man', dagurin 'the day', stólurin 'the chair'
–n – tímin 'the hour', mánin 'the month', beiggin 'the brother'

Feminine: –in – bókin 'the book', náttin 'the night', kúgvin 'the cow'
–n – gentan 'the girl', kirkjan 'the church', gøtan 'the street'

Neuter: –ið – húsið 'the house', summarið 'the summer', barnið 'the child'
–ð – kaffið 'the coffee', dømið 'the example', eygað 'the eye'

If the noun already ends in an unstressed vowel, there is no need to include the i of the suffix. That is why we write dagur*in, but tím*in (not tímiin!). However, if the final vowel of a word is stressed (this is sometimes the case with words that are not Faroese in origin), we include the i of the suffix:

politi 'police'	→	politiið 'the police'
bakarí 'bakery'	→	bakaríið 'the bakery'
kondittarí 'cake shop'	→	kondittaríið 'the cake shop'

If any vowel other than the first one is stressed, it is underlined in the glossaries.

Venjing 3: Definite article

Add the definite article to the following nouns:

(a)	bussur	(g)	dagur
(b)	mamma	(h)	kona
(c)	borð	(i)	fjall
(d)	flogvøllur	(j)	troyggja
(e)	skoti	(k)	stivli
(f)	skoti 'Scot', 'person from Scotland'	(l)	vaskarí 'laundrette'

The Articles: Usage* [§2.3]

When to use the definite and indefinite articles in Faroese is very similar to English. However, there are a few differences. At this stage the most important is that the indefinite article ('a', 'an') is not used in Faroese when giving one's nationality, profession or religious conviction:

eg eri føroyingur	I'm a Faroe Islander, I'm Faroese (not eg eri ein føroyingur)
tú ert íslendingur	you're an Icelander, you're Icelandic
hann er blaðmaður	he's a journalist
hon er studentur	she's a student eg eri muslimur	I'm a Muslim
tú ert fríteinkjari	you're an atheist, you're atheist

Personal pronouns (nominative)* [§6.1]

	Singular		Plural
First person	eg	I	vit	we
Second person	tú (inf.)	you	tit	you
Third person	hann	he; it	teir	they m.
	hon	she; it	tær	they f.
	tað	it	tey	they n.

There are, in fact, three forms for 'you' in Faroese. There is a polite form, tygum, that is only used by older generations when addressing a stranger and is rarely encountered nowadays. The familiar form tú is used when addressing one person you know well (for example: a good friend, a close work colleague or a relative), and by younger Faroe Islanders at least, even when addressing a stranger. Notice that tú is the form used by Claire and Jógvan when they meet on the bus. Both tygum and tú are used when speaking to just one person (although confusingly tygum takes a verb in the plural; see Unit 2). When addressing more than one person, always use tit; it does not matter whether you know them well or not.

There are three forms for 'it' in Faroese: masculine, feminine and neuter. The gender of 'it' matches the gender of the noun it refers to. Look at the sentences below:

Masculine:	Stólurin er nýggjur	→	Hann er nýggjur
	The chair is new	→	It is new
Feminine:	Bókin er spennandi	→	Hon er spennandi
	The book is exciting	→	It is exciting
Neuter:	Borðið er gamalt	→	Tað er gamalt
	The table is old	→	It is old

Of course, hann and hon also mean 'he' and 'she':

Jógvan er føroyingur	→	Hann er føroyingur
Jógvan is Faroese	→	He is Faroese
Claire er í bussinum	→	Hon er í bussinum
Claire is in the bus	→	She is in the bus

Venjing 4: Personal pronouns

Which personal pronoun would you use to refer to each of the nouns listed in Venjing 3 above? Write the correct pronoun (hann, hon or tað) alongside each of the nouns.

There are also three different words for 'they' in Faroese. Again you must choose the correct form to refer to the gender of the noun:

		For example:
Use teir to refer to	two or more masculine nouns	stólar 'chairs'
	two or more men	beiggjar 'brothers'
Use tær to refer to	two or more feminine nouns	bøkur 'books'
	two or more women	systrar 'sisters'
Use tey to refer to	two or more neuter nouns	borð 'tables', børn 'children'
	men and women together	Jógvan og Claire, dreingir og gentur 'boys and girls'
	a mixture of masculine, feminine and neuter nouns	stólar, bøkur og borð 'chairs, books and tables'

Look at the sentences below:

(Stólar 'chairs')	Teir eru nýggir	They (m.) are new
(Bøkur 'books')	Tær eru spennandi	They (f.) are exciting
(Borð 'tables')	Tey eru gomul	They (n.) are old
(Jógvan og Mikkjal)	Teir eru føroyingar	They (m.) are Faroese
(Claire og Anna)	Tær eru í bussinum	They (f.) are on the bus
(Claire og Jógvan)	Tey eru í bussinum	They (m.) are on the bus

The plural of nouns is dealt with in more detail in the next unit.

Samrøða 2

Track 6

Claire and Jógvan chat together as the bus makes its way from the airport to Tórshavn.

CLAIRE: Hvat gert tú?
JÓGVAN: Eg arbeiði sum blaðmaður. Og tú?
CLAIRE: Eg eri studentur. Eg lesi enskt í Edinburgh.
JÓGVAN: Hvussu ber tað so til, at tú tosar føroyskt?
CLAIRE: Mamma mín er føroyingur. Eg vitji familju í Havn.
JÓGVAN: Nú skilji eg, hví tú tosar flótandi føroyskt! Dugir tú onnur mál?
CLAIRE: Ja. Eg dugi eitt sindur av fronskum. Dugir tú eingilskt?
JÓGVAN: Nei, men eg dugi danskt.

CLAIRE: What do you do?
JÓGVAN: I'm a journalist. And you?
CLAIRE: I'm a student. I'm studying English in Edinburgh.
JÓGVAN: How come you speak Faroese?
CLAIRE: My mum is Faroese. I'm visiting family in Tórshavn.
JÓGVAN: Now I understand why you speak fluent Faroese! Do you speak any other languages?
CLAIRE: Yes. I speak a little French. Do you speak English?
JÓGVAN: No, but I speak Danish.

Orðalýsingar

hvat	what	mín	my
gert	do	mamma mín	my mum
arbeiði	work	føroyingur m.	a Faroe Islander sum	as	familju	family
blaðmaður m.	journalist, reporter	< familja f.
og	and	flótandi	fluently
studentur m.	student	dugir	to know (how to…)
lesi	read; study	dugir tú…?	do you speak…?
enskt	English	onnur mál	other languages
hvussu ber tað so til at	how come then	mál n.	language tosar	speak	eitt sindur av	some, a little føroyskt	Faroese	fronskum	French
vitji	visit	eingilskt	English
mamma f.	mum

In the vocabulary explanations we have started to provide you with extra information about some of the words. When a word appears in an inflected form in the text, this inflected form appears in the vocabulary list together with a translation followed on the line below by the symbol '<' ('inflected from') and the dictionary form of the word (that is, the nominative form for nouns). For example in the list above we have:

familju	family < familja f.

This means that the word familju is an inflected form of the feminine noun familja.

Mállæra

Present tense of verbs (first person singular)

The first person singular, the 'I' form, of verbs in the present tense ends in –i. For example:

eg eri 'I am', skilji 'understand', eiti 'am called', arbeiði 'work', lesi 'read; study', vitji 'visit', dugi 'can (speak)', komi 'come', tosi 'speak', búgvi 'live', kenni 'know'.
There is only one present tense in Faroese, so several English constructions, such as 'I speak', 'I am speaking' and 'I do speak', are all translated with the present tense (here, eg tosi). Don't try to translate the 'am', '-ing' or 'do'!

Asking someone's name

The simplest way to ask someone's name is to say: Hvussu eitur tú? (inf.) / Hvussu eita tygum? (pol.). The answer to which is: Eg eiti… 'I'm called…'

Faroe Islanders usually have at least one first name (fornavn n.), often a middle name (millumnavn n.), and a surname (eftirnavn n.). In addition to these, a nickname (referred to as a kelinavn n. if it is positive, and eyknevni n. if it is negative or rude) is very common. A Faroe Islander's surname is sometimes the same as his or her mother or father's, in other words a family name (ættarnavn n.). Family names are often of Danish origin (and end in –sen: Abrahamsen, Hansen, Mikkelsen etc.). Family names can also refer to a place where the family once lived: á Ryggi ('on the Ridge'), av Skarði ('from the Mountain Pass'), við Ánna ('by the Stream'), á Høvdanum ('on the Headland'). However, surnames can also be created from the first name of the father (a patronymic) or the mother (a matronymic) with the suffix –son added for males or –dóttir for females. For example, if Eirikur Hansen and Guðrun við Ánna had a daughter Magga, she might be called Magga Hansen, Magga við Ánna, Magga Eiriksdóttir or Magga Guðrunardóttir! Their son Mikkjal Pætur could be called Mikkjal Pætur Hansen, Mikkjal Pætur við Ánna, Mikkjal Pætur Eiriksson or Mikkjal Pætur Guðrunarson! It is becoming more common to use this patronymic-matronymic system and members of the same family may well have different surnames.[2]

2 The law which reintroduced the use of patronymic and matronymic surnames is known as Lógin um fólkanøvn and was passed by the Faroese parliament (løgtingið) in 1992. Until then Faroe Islanders had been required by a law passed in 1832 in Copenhagen to use family names instead of the patronymic system that had been in use until then.

Notice also the following phrases:

Hvussu eitur tú til fornavn? (inf.)	What is your first name?
Hvussu eita tygum til fornavn? (pol.)
Fornavn mítt er Katrina	My first name is Katrina
Hvussu eitur tú til eftirnavn? (inf.)	What is your surname?
Hvussu eita tygum til eftirnavn? (pol.)
Eftirnavn mítt er Djurhuus	My surname is Djurhuus

Word order: Statements and questions [§11.1–11.2]

Word order is often similar to English: subject – verb. Look at the following examples:

Tit eru úr Skotlandi	You are from Scotland
Hon eitur Claire	She is called Claire
Eg arbeiði sum blaðmaður	I am a journalist [literally: I work as journalist]
Tú ert studentur	You are a student
Eg lesi eingilskt í Keypmannahavn	I'm studying English in Copenhagen

Notice that the verb is the second element in a main clause that is not a question. Compare these sentences that all mean 'I'm buying a book in Tórshavn today':

Eg keypi eina bók í Havn í dag
Í dag keypi eg eina bók í Havn Í Havn keypi eg eina bók í dag
Eina bók keypi eg í Havn í dag

} the verb keypi is always the second element in the sentence

Beginning a sentence with an adverb of time (for example, í dag), of place (for example, í Havn) or even with another part of speech (such as the object, eina bók) is very common in Faroese, so it is essential that you remember the basic word order rule, that the verb is always in the second position. Remember that í dag, í Havn and eina bók count as one element each even though they consist of more than one word.

However, in order to make a yes/no question in Faroese, we swap the position of the subject and the verb, giving: verb – subject. This is known as inversion. Look at the following examples:

Eru tit úr Skotlandi?	Are you (pl.) from Scotland?
Eitur hon Claire?	Is she called Claire?
Arbeiði eg sum blaðmaður?	Am I a journalist?
Ert tú studentur?	Are you a student?
Lesi eg eingilskt í Keypmannahavn?	Am I studying English in Copenhagen?

An alternative is to use the question tag ha? This little word is probably the most frequently used word in the Faroese language! Its meaning covers just about everything from 'I beg your pardon?' and 'do you know what I mean?' to 'aren't you?' and 'isn't it?'. By placing it at the end of an affirmative sentence you create a yes/no question:

Tit eru úr Skotlandi, ha?	You are from Scotland, aren't you?
Hon eitur Claire, ha?	She is called Claire, isn't she?
Eg arbeiði sum blaðmaður, ha?	I'm a journalist, aren't I?
Tú ert studentur, ha?	You're a student, aren't you?

Question words [§9.5, 11.2]

Track 7

Below is a list of question words:

hvat	what	hvussu leingi	how long (time)
hvar	where	hvussu langt	how far (distance) hvaðani	from where	hví	why hvussu	how	nær	when
hvussu nógv sg.	how much	hvør	who hvussu nógvir m. pl.	how many	hvør m. and f.	which hvussu nógvar f. pl.	how many	hvat n.	which hvussu nógv n. pl.	how many	hvat (fyri)	what sort of Examples of usage:

Hvat er tað?	What is that?
Hvussu nógvir studentar lesa føroyskt?	How many students are studying Faroese?
Hvussu leingi ert tú í Føroyum?	How long are you in the Faroe Islands?
Hvussu langt er tað til Klaksvíkar?	How far is it to Klaksvík?
Hví lesur tú eingilskt?	Why are you studying English?
Nær eru vit í Havn?	When are we in Tórshavn?
Hvør er hon?	Who is she?
Hvat (fyri) breyð etur tú?	What (sort of) bread are you eating?
Hvaðani ert tú?	Where are you from?

The interrogative pronoun hvør is dealt with in more detail in the next unit.

Countries and nationalities

Track 8

	Land	Eg eri úr...	Eg eri...
Australia	Avstralia	Avstralia	avstraliari / avstrali
Austria	Eysturríki	Eysturríki	eysturríkari
Brazil	Brasilia	Brasilia	brasiliari / brasili / brasilianari
Canada	Kanada	Kanada	kanadiari / kanadamaður
China	Kina	Kina	kinesari / kinverji

Denmark	Danmark[3]	Danmark	danskari / dani
England	Ongland[4]	Onglandi	onglendingur / eingilskmaður
Faroe Islands	Føroyar	Føroyum	føroyingur
Finland	Finnland	Finnlandi	finnlendingur / finni
France	Frakland[5]	Fraklandi	fraklendingur / fransmaður
Germany	Týskland	Týsklandi	týskari
Great Britain	Bretland	Bretlandi	breti
Greece	Grikkaland	Grikkalandi	grikki
Greenland	Grønland	Grønlandi	grønlendingur
Iceland	Ísland	Íslandi	íslendingur
India	India	India	indari / indi
Ireland	Írland	Írlandi	íri
Israel	Ísrael	Ísrael	ísraelari / ísraeli
Italy	Italia	Italia	italiari / italienari
Japan	Japan	Japan	japanari / japanesari
The Netherlands	Háland[6]	Hálandi	hálendingur
New Zealand	Nýsæland	Nýsælandi	nýsælendingur
Norway	Norra[7]	Norra	norðmaður
Philippines	Filipsoyggjar	Filipsoyggjum	filipsoyingur / filipinari
Poland	Pólland	Póllandi	póllendingur
Russia	Russland	Russlandi	russari / russi
Scotland	Skotland	Skotlandi	skoti
South Africa	Suðurafrika	Suðurafrika	suðurafrikanari
Spain	Spania	Spania	spanióli
Sweden	Svøríki	Svøríki	svenskari / svii
Switzerland	Sveis / Svais	Sveis / Svais	sveisari / svaisari
Thailand	Tailand	Tailandi	tailendingur
Ukraine	Ukraina	Ukraina	ukraini
USA	Amerika / USA[8]	Amerika / USA	amerikanari
Wales	Wales	Wales	walisari / walisi

Some other place-names in Faroese:

Track 9

Copenhagen	Keypmannahavn	Middle East	Miðeystur
Scandinavia	Norðurlond	North America	Norðuramerika
The Hebrides	Suðuroyggjar	South America	Suðuramerika
The Orkney Islands	Orknoyggjar	Central America	Miðamerika
The Shetland Islands	Hetland	Arctic	Arktis
Europe	Evropa	Antarctic	Antarktis
Africa	Afrika	The Atlantic Ocean	Atlantshavið
Asia	Asia	The Pacific Ocean	Kyrrahavið

3 Also Danmørk[n].
4 Also England.
5 Also Frankariki.
6 Also Niðurlond (úr Niðurlondum, niðurlendingur).
7 Also Noreg (úr Noregi[n]).
8 Also Sambandsríkið Amerika[n].

Notice also that Tórshavn is usually just referred to as Havn or Havnin (lit. '[the] harbour').

To ask where someone comes from, we say:

Track 10

Hvaðani ert tú? (inf.) / Hvaðani eru tygum? (pol.)

To reply, we say:

Eg eri úr... [Føroyum / Skotlandi / Norra]

Notice that the name of a country (land n.) may change form in these sentences (for example, we say Eg eri úr Onglandi, not Eg eri úr Ongland). This is because nouns in Faroese inflect; that is, they take endings to mark their role in a sentence. The noun must appear in a special case called the dative after the preposition úr. This is explained in Unit 5.

Another way of saying where you come from is to give your nationality (tjóðskapur m.). We can say:

Eg eri danskari	I am a Dane; I am Danish
Ert tú fraklendingur?	Are you French?

Remember that we do not use the indefinite article in Faroese in these expressions about nationality. So we say, eg eri amerikanari (and never eg eri ein amerikanari).

Other useful phrases:

Track 11

Eg eri her...	I'm here...
í feriu	on holiday
á vitjan	visiting
í handilsørindum	on business

Languages

Track 12

Do you speak?	Dugir tú...? / Tosar tú...? (inf.)
	Duga tygum...? / Tosa tygum...? (pol.)
I speak...	Eg dugi... / Eg tosi...
I speak a little...	Eg dugi eitt sindur av... / Eg tosi eitt sindur av...
I speak ... well	Eg dugi væl... / Eg tosi væl...
I don't speak...	Eg dugi ikki... / Eg tosi ikki...

MÁL 'languages'

Track 13

Arabic	arabiskt	Icelandic	íslendskt
Chinese	kinesiskt	Italian	italskt / italienskt
Danish	danskt	Japanese	japanskt
English	enskt / eingilskt	Norwegian	norskt

Czech

Faroese	føroyskt	Polish	pólskt
French	franskt	Portuguese	portugisiskt
Finnish	finskt	Russian	russiskt
German	týskt	Spanish	spanskt
Hebrew	hebraiskt	Swedish	svenskt

Listen carefully to the pronunciation of these words on the recording. The ending –skt is often pronounced as if it were spelt –kst.

To say 'in Faroese', 'in English' and so on, we use a special phrase with the preposition á – á enskum, á føroyskum, á finskum. Here the form of the language ends in –um because here, after the preposition á, we use the dative case. This form is dealt with more fully in Unit 5.

Other useful phrases: Track 14

Nei, men eg skilji eitt sindur	No, but I understand a bit
Ger so væl ikki at tosa so skjótt	Please don't speak so quickly
Eg royni at læra føroyskt	I'm trying to learn Faroese
Hvussu eitur tað / hetta / hatta á føroyskum?	What is it / this / that called in Faroese?
Hvussu verður tað framborið?	How is it pronounced?
Ger so væl at siga tað umaftur	Please repeat it
Hvat merkir tað / hetta / hatta?	What does it / this / that mean?

Note also the verbs snakka (= tosa 'to speak') and forstanda (skilja 'to understand'), which are much used colloquially.

Venjing 5: Spurningar ('questions')

Answer the following question in Faroese:

(a) Hvussu eitur tú? _____

(b) Hvussu eitur tú til fornavn? _____

(c) Hvussu eitur tú til eftirnavn? _____

(d) Hvaðani ert tú? _____

(e) Dugir tú føroyskt? _____

(f) Dugir tú onnur mál? _____

Venjing 6: Listening Track 15

Listen to each person on the recording. Complete the information box for each person. Any new vocabulary is provided at the end of the exercise.

A
Eftirnavn		Joensen
Fornavn		Hans
Tjóðskapur		føroyingur
Málkunnleiki	✓ [ja]	føroyskt, danskt, norskt
	× [nei]	eingilskt

B
Eftirnavn
Fornavn
Tjóðskapur
Málkunnleiki	✓
	×

C Eftirnavn
Fornavn
Tjóðskapur
Málkunnleiki	✓
	×

D
Eftirnavn
Fornavn
Tjóðskapur
Málkunnleiki	✓
	×

av tí at = because / pretože

E
Eftirnavn		_____
Fornavn		_____
Tjóðskapur		_____
Málkunnleiki	✓	_____
	×

Orðalýsingar

málkunnleiki m.	ability to speak languages	búgvi	live
sjálvandi	of course	gæliskt	Gaelic
eisini	also	Róm f.	Rome

Vera in the present tense

Track 16

The verb 'to be' is vera in Faroese. Its forms are:

	Singular		Plural
First person	eg eri	I am	vit eru	we are Second person	tú ert	you are (inf.)[9]	tit eru	you are
Third person	hann er	he is; it is	teir eru	they are hon er	she is; it is	tær eru	they are tað er	it is	tey eru	they are

Venjing 7: vera

Complete the sentences below using the correct form of the verb vera:

(a) Eg _____ úr Føroyum.
(b) Maðurin _____ walisi.
(c) Anna og Ísakur _____ gift ['married'].
(d) Vit _____ ikki gift.
(e) _____ tú studentur?
(f) Hví _____ tit ikki her?

The infinitive

The infinitive of the verb, the 'to' form, ends in –a. The infinitive marker 'to' is at. For example:

9 The polite form is tygum eru 'you are'.

at vera 'to be', at skilja 'to understand', at eita 'to be called', at arbeiða 'to work', at lesa 'to read; to study', at vitja 'to visit', at duga 'to be able (to speak)', at koma 'to come', at tosa 'to speak', at búgva 'to live', at kenna 'to know'.

Marital status (hjúnastøða f.)

The phrases below are useful for discussing marital status:

Hann er giftur (m.)	He is married
Hon er gift (f.)	She is married
Eg eri singul / stakur / ógiftur (m.)	I'm single / unmarried
Eg eri singul / stak / ógift (f.)	I'm single / unmarried
Eg eri leysur (m.) / leys (f.)	I'm available
Hevur tú sjeik / damu?	Do you have a boyfriend / girlfriend?
Tú ert forlovaður (m.) / forlovað (f.)	You're engaged
Vit búgva saman	We live together, we co-habit
Eg eri fráskildur (m.) / fráskild (f.)	I am divorced
Eg eri einkjumaður / einkja	I am a widower / widow
Eg eri samkyndur (m.) / gjeikari (m.)	I'm gay
Eg eri samkynd (f.) / lesbisk (f.)	I'm lesbian / gay
Vit eru / Eg eri í skrásettum parlagi	We're / I'm in a registered partnership

Samrøða 3

Track 17

JÓGVAN: Er tað fyrsta ferð tín til Føroya?
CLAIRE: Nei. Eg var her fyri einum ári síðan.
JÓGVAN: Býr familja tín í Havn?
CLAIRE: Ja, mostir mín býr í Havn, men omma býr í Klaksvík.
JÓGVAN: Hvat eitur mostir tín?
CLAIRE: Hon eitur Kristin Poulsen.
JÓGVAN: Oy, oy, Kristin? Hana kenni eg! Hon arbeiðir á posthúsinum, ha?
CLAIRE: Ja! Hatta var løgið!
JÓGVAN: Ája, veitst tú. Havnin er ikki so stór!

JÓGVAN: Is this your first trip to the Faroe Islands?
CLAIRE: No. I was here a year ago.
JÓGVAN: Does your family live in Tórshavn?
CLAIRE: Yes, my aunt lives in Tórshavn, but my grandmother lives in Klaksvík.
JÓGVAN: What is your aunt called?
CLAIRE: She's called Kristin Poulsen.
JÓGVAN: Well I never! Kristin? I know her. She works at the post office, doesn't she?
CLAIRE: Yes! What a coincidence!
JÓGVAN: Well, you know. Tórshavn's not that big!

Orðalýsingar

fyrsta	first	hana	her
ferð f.	trip	kenni	know
ár n.	year	á	in, at fyri einum ári síðan	one year ago	posthús n.	post office familja f.	family	ha?	question tag (doesn't she?)
mostir f.	aunt (mother's sister)
mín	my	hatta var løgið	what a coincidence
omma f.	grandmother	ája	well
tín	your	veitst	know
oy, oy	goodness me	stór	big

Venjing 8: Rætt ella skeivt? (True or false?)

(a) Tað er Clairesa fyrsta ferð til Føroya.
(b) Familja hennara býr á Tvøroyri.
(c) Mostirin eitur Kristin.
(d) Kristin arbeiðir í bankanum.
(e) Havnin er ein lítil býur.

Orðalýsingar

Clairesa	Claire's	hennara	her	lítil	little, small

Mállæra

Vowel length: a and æ — Track 18

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letters a and æ:

mamma f. 'mum', 'mother', 'ma' fjall n. 'mountain'
kaffi n. 'coffee'
barn n. 'child'
ætla 'to think'
banki m. 'bank' (from Danish bank) sangur m. 'song' (from Danish sang) langur 'long'
hanga 'to hang'
maður m. 'man'
dagur m. 'day'
tað n. 'it'
hvat 'what'
hvaðani 'from where'
mær 'me' (dative)
æt 'was called'
æra f. 'honour'
baða 'to bathe'
ræðast 'to be afraid'
tomat m. 'tomato' (from Danish tomat)

Lesistykki 1 ('Reading passage 1')

Track 19

Claire McDonald

Claire er úr Skotlandi. Hon lesur eingilskt á fróðskaparsetrinum í Edinburgh. Nú er hon í Føroyum í feriu. Mamma Claire er føroyingur. Hon er úr Klaksvík. Pápin er skoti. Claire vitjar familju sína og er sera glað. Hon fer við bussinum av flogvøllinum til Havnar, har ið mostir hennara býr. Mostir hennara eitur Kristin Poulsen. Hon arbeiðir á posthúsinum í Havn. Í bussinum tosar Claire við ein ungan mann. Hann eitur Jógvan Jákupsson. Hann er blaðmaður og býr í Havn.

Venjing 9: Spurningar

(a) Hvaðani er Claire?
(b) Hvat lesur hon á fróðskaparsetrinum í Edinburgh?
(c) Hvar er hon nú?
(d) Er mamma Claire skoti?
(e) Hvar býr mostir Claire?
(f) Hvussu eitur mostirin?
(g) Hvar arbeiðir hon?
(h) Hvønn tosar Claire við í bussinum?
(i) Hvat ger Jógvan Jákupsson?

Orðalýsingar

á fróðskaparsetrinum	at (the) university	hvønn	who, whom mamma Claire	Claire's mum	har ið	where

Lesistykki 2

Track 20

Ein bussur – trý fólk

Jógvan Jákupsson er úr Havn. Hann er føroyingur. Hann tosar føroyskt og danskt. Hann er ógiftur og arbeiðir sum blaðmaður. Nú situr hann í bussinum av flogvøllinum í Vágum til Havnar í Streymoy og tosar við Claire. Hon er í Føroyum á vitjan.

Pia Larsen er úr Danmark. Hon er donsk. Hon tosar danskt, enskt og eitt sindur av føroyskum. Hon arbeiðir á sjúkrahúsinum í Havn. Hon hevur verið í Keypmannahavn í feriu. Í morgin byrjar hon aftur at arbeiða.

Per Johansen er úr Vágum. Hann er føroyingur og tosar føroyskt. Hann er bussførari og arbeiðir júst nú – hann koyrir bussin av flogvøllinum til Havnar!

Orðalýsingar

trý	three	< sjúkrahús n.	hospital
fólk n.	people	hevur verið	has been arbeiðir	works, is working	aftur	again
sum	as	at arbeiða	to work
nú	now	bussførari m.	bus driver
situr	is sitting	júst nú	right now
á sjúkrahúsinum	at/in the hospital	koyrir	is driving

Lesistykki 3

Track 21

This popular song, Eg oyggjar veit 'I know of some islands', by Fríðrikur Petersen (1853–1917) celebrates the natural beauty of the Faroe Islands. The first verse is written below and you can listen to it on the recording.

Eg oyggjar veit, sum hava fjøll	I know of some islands that have mountains
og grøna líð,	and green hillsides,
og taktar eru tær við mjøll	and they are covered with snow
um vetrartíð;	in the wintertime;
og áir renna vakrar har	and beautiful streams run there
og fossa nógv;	and cascade a lot;
tær vilja allar skunda sær	they all want to hurry
í bláan sjógv.	into the blue ocean.
Gud signi mítt føðiland Føroyar.	God bless the land of my birth, the Faroes.

Orðalýsingar

oyggjar	islands	vakrar	beautiful
veit	know	har	there
sum	which, that	fossa	cascade, gush
hava	have	nógv	a lot
fjøll	mountains	vilja	want
grøna	green	allar	all
líð	hillsides	skunda sær	hurry
taktar	covered	bláan	blue
við	with	sjógv	sea, ocean
mjøll	snow	Gud	God
um vetrartíð	in the wintertime	signi	bless áir	streams	mítt	my
renna	run	føðiland	native land (of birth)

Orðatak

Track 22

Trygg eru heimatún 'home sweet home'

Orðalýsingar

orðatak n.	proverb, saying	heimatún	courtyards, paths
trygg	secure, safe	< heimatún n.	next to your home

Veitst tú at...? ('Do you know that...?')

The Faroe Islands can be reached by air and sea. There are regular flights from Denmark, Iceland, Norway and the UK (Bretland) to the airport on Vágar (Vága Flogvøllur). A bus (bussur) connects the airport to the bus and ferry terminal (farstøðin) in Tórshavn. From there you can take the bus or ferry to almost any corner of the Islands (oyggjar). Alternatively, it is possible to catch a domestic flight in a helicopter (tyrla) from the airport to other destinations in the Islands. There are about a dozen villages and towns with helicopter platforms (tyrlupallar) in the country. You can also reach the Faroe Islands by sailing from Denmark, Iceland, Norway and Scotland. The ferry docks in Tórshavn at the bus and ferry terminal. Once there, you can rent a car (bilur) to explore the Islands or you might consider renting a bike (súkkla). Look in the resources and further reading at the back of the grammar book for the addresses of organisations that can advise you on travelling to and from the Faroe Islands.

The ferry terminal in Tórshavn

2 Hvussu hevur tú tað?

How are you?

Track 23

In this unit you will learn about:

- numbers
- how to ask somebody's age
- providing personal details
- the plural of nouns
- the definite article – plural
- asking how somebody is
- weak and strong verbs
- present tense: group 1 verbs
- negation
- the verb at plaga
- days of the week, months, seasons and time phrases
- the letters i and y

Continue concentrating on your pronunciation in this unit. In particular, make sure that you understand the difference between short and long vowels.

Samrøða 1

Track 24

Í bussinum av flogvøllinum til Havnar (2. partur)

Claire and Jógvan continue talking as the bus makes its way towards Tórshavn.

JÓGVAN: Býrt tú í Edinburgh?
CLAIRE: Ja. Men eg eri úr Aberdeen.
JÓGVAN: Hvussu gomul ert tú?
CLAIRE: Ha?
JÓGVAN: Hvussu gomul ert tú?
CLAIRE: Eg eri 23 ára gomul. Og tú? Hvussu gamal ert tú?
JÓGVAN: Eg eri 27 ára gamal.

In the bus from the airport to Tórshavn (part 2)

JÓGVAN: Do you live in Edinburgh?
CLAIRE: Yes. But I'm from Aberdeen.
JÓGVAN: How old are you?
CLAIRE: Pardon?
JÓGVAN: How old are you?

CLAIRE: I'm 23 years old. And you? How old are you?
JÓGVAN: I'm 27 years old.

Orðalýsingar

býrt	live
í	in
ja	yes
men	but
úr	from
hvussu	how
gomul, adj. f.	old
ára	years
og	and
gamal, adj. m.	old

Arriving in Tórshavn

Mállæra

Cardinal Numbers 1–100 [§5.1]

Track 25

Notice in particular the order of the numbers in complex constructions such as seks og hálvfjerðs (76). The numbers 1–3 agree with the noun in gender:

masculine	feminine	neuter
ein maður '1 man'	ein kona '1 woman'	eitt barn '1 child'
tveir menn '2 men'	tvær konur '2 women'	tvey børn '2 children' tríggir menn '3 men'	tríggjar konur '3 women'	trý børn '3 children'

However, in complex numbers, the part of the construction comprising the numbers 1–3 is not inflected for gender, but always remains the same (except in official language, for example on the radio). The uninflected forms in the compound numbers are ein og..., tvey og... and trý og... Thus, we say:

tvey og* tretivu menn '32 men' (rather than tveir og tretivu menn[¤])
trý og* fjøruti konur '43 women' (rather than tríggjar og fjøruti konur[¤]) ein og* tjúgu hús '21 houses' (rather than eitt og tjúgu hús[¤])

In counting, the neuter forms are used in Faroese: eitt, tvey, trý, fýra, fimm...

Venjing 1: Numbers

Write out the following numbers in full:

(a) 17	(d) 43	(g) 24
(b) 98	(e) 36	(h) 59
(c) 75	(f) 82	(i) 0

Asking somebody's age

There is a difference in Faroese if you are talking about or to a male or a female. This is because adjectives change according to the gender of the noun or pronoun they qualify (see Units 3, 4 and 5):

Male		Female
Hvussu gamal ert tú?	How old are you? (inf.)	Hvussu gomul er tú?
Hvussu gamal eru tygum?	How old are you? (pol.)	Hvussu gomul eru tygum?
Eg eri ... ára gamal	I'm ... years old	Eg eri ... ára gomul

Neuter
Hvussu gamalt er barnið?	How old is the child?
Tað er ... ára gamalt	(S)he is ... years old or: Hann er ... ára gamal	He is ... years old or: Hon er ... ára gomul	She is ... years old

Note also:

hálvt árs gamal	6 months old
hálvtannað ára gamal	18 months old
ein trý ára gamal drongur	a three-year-old boy
ein tvey ára gomul genta	a two-year-old girl

Personal details

adressa f.	address	føðingarstaður m.	place of birth
aldur m.	age	følsdagur m.	birthday
bústaður m.	address	fornavn n.	first name
eftirnavn n.	surname	gentunavn n.	maiden name
føðibræv n.	birth certificate	kyn n.	sex
føðingardagur m.	birthday	samleikaprógv n.	ID

Venjing 2: Personal information

Complete the information boxes for each of these two people:

fornavn	_____
eftirnavn	_____
aldur	_____

(a) "Hey! Eg eiti Tóroddur Simonsen. Eg eri føroyingur, porkerningur, men eg búgvi í Keypmannahavn. Eg eri trý og tríss ára gamal."

fornavn	_____
eftirnavn	_____
aldur	_____

(b) "Góðan dagin. Eg eri Anna Poulsen. Eg eri ikki gomul – bara fýra og tjúgu ár!"

(c) Complete the form below with your own personal details:

Fornavn .....

Eftirnavn .....

Bústaður .....

Føðingardagur .....

Aldur ..... ár

Føðingarstaður .....

Tjóðskapur .....

Gift(ur) Ja ☐ Nei ☐

Børn Ja ☐ Nei ☐

↳ hvussu nógv? .....

MYND

Orðalýsingar

porkerningur m.	someone from Porkeri	mynd f.	picture, photo
Keypmannahavn f.	Copenhagen	bústaður m.	address
ikki	not	tjóðskapur m.	nationality
bara	only	hvussu nógv?	how many?

The plural of nouns [§3.1–3.3]

It is important to understand that every noun (as well as adjective and verb) is made up of two parts: a stem, that carries the principal meaning of the word, and an ending or suffix, that tells us what role the word plays grammatically. For example, the English word 'birds' is made up of the stem bird–, meaning 'warm-blooded egg-laying vertebrate', and the ending –s meaning 'more than one'. The number of possible stems in a language is unlimited, but the number of possible endings is usually relatively small. Languages vary, however, concerning what and how much grammatical information is conveyed by such endings. English does not use endings as much as Faroese and instead relies on word order or prepositions to clarify the grammatical role a word plays in a sentence. Faroese uses endings much more extensively to convey each word's role. Faroese may also use different endings to convey the same piece of information; for example, there are several different endings to mark the plural and the choice of plural ending depends on such things as the noun's gender.

Venjing 3: Stems

Write down the stem form for each of the following nouns:

(a) bussur 'bus'
(b) mamma 'mother'
(c) borð 'table'
(d) flogvøllur 'airport'
(e) pláss 'seat'
(f) nátt 'night'
(g) land 'land'
(h) dagur 'day'
(i) kona 'woman'
(j) fjall 'mountain'
(k) troyggja 'jumper'
(l) stivli 'boot'

To make a noun plural in Faroese we usually have to add an ending (just like in English: 'one car' → 'two cars'). However, sometimes an ending is not added (compare: 'one sheep' → 'two sheep0'), and there are also cases where no ending is added but a vowel in the word changes (compare: 'one foot' → 'two feet0'). The different ways of making the plural in Faroese are presented briefly below.

If a noun is masculine, it forms the plural by adding one of the following endings to the stem:

1. –ar bussur 'bus' (buss–) → bussar 'buses', tími 'hour' (tím–) → tímar 'hours'
2. –ir vinur 'friend' (vin–) → vinir 'friends'
3. –ur bóndi 'farmer' (bónd–) → bøndur 'farmers'[1]

If a noun is feminine, it forms the plural by adding one of the following endings to the stem:

1. –ir sól 'sun' (sól–) → sólir 'suns'
2. –ar oyggj 'island' (oygg(j)–) → oyggjar 'islands'

1 This ending is very rare for masculine nouns. Only the nouns bóndi, frændi 'relative' (→ frændur 'relatives'), bróðir 'brother' (→ brøður 'brothers') and fótur 'foot' (→ føtur 'feet') have this ending.

3. –ur bók 'book' (bók–)→ bøkur 'books', gøta 'street' (gøt–) → gøtur 'streets'
4. –r tá 'toe' → tær 'toes'
5. –0[2] gás 'goose' → gæs 'geese'

If a noun is neuter, it forms the plural by adding one of the following endings to the stem:

1. –0 hús 'house' (hús–) → hús 'houses'
2. –u(r) eyga 'eye' (eyg–) → eygu or eygur 'eyes'
3. –(r) dømi 'example' (dømi–) → dømi or dømir 'examples'

The plural endings –ur, –r and –0 for feminine nouns and the ending –0 for neuter nouns can be accompanied by a change to the vowel in the noun's stem. For example:

nátt f. 'night' → nætur 'nights' song f. 'bed' → sengur 'beds' klógv f. 'claw' → kløur 'claws' mús f. 'mouse' → mýs 'mice' barn n. 'child' → børn 'children' hond f. 'hand' → hendur 'hands' rót f. 'root' → røtur 'roots' kúgv f. 'cow' → kýr 'cows' tonn f. 'tooth' → tenn 'teeth' bræv n. 'letter' → brøv 'letters'

This is called mutation or umlaut and is dealt with in more detail in Unit 14.

In the vocabulary explanations from now on and in the Faroese-English glossary at the end of this book, the plural form of a noun is always given. It is shown just before the abbreviation for gender.[3] However, you need to be able to construct the stem of the noun yourself in order to make the plural form correctly. To help you to determine the noun's stem, the beginning of a noun's ending is also marked by using a slash (dag/ur, tím/i, gent/a, eyg/a etc.). For example:

oyggj (–ar, –ar), f. the plural is oyggjar kon/a (–u, –ur), f. the plural is konur sól (–ar, –ir), f. the plural is sólir

If the plural is irregular or contains a vowel change, it is noted in its full form:

nátt (–ar, nætur), f. the plural is nætur barn (–s, børn), n. the plural is børn gás (–ar, gæs), f. the plural is gæs blaðmað/ur (–mans, –menn), m. the plural is blaðmenn blaðgrein (–ar, –ar/–ir), f. the plural is either 'newspaper article' blaðgreinar or blaðgreinir

2 Remember that –0 means 'zero ending'; that is, the noun does not take an ending to make the plural.

3 The ending shown straight after the word and before the plural is the genitive singular and will be dealt with later in this course.

There are no precise rules for knowing which plural ending a noun takes. As a general rule of thumb we can say that –ar is mostly added to masculine nouns and –ir to feminine nouns. However, it is important that you learn the plural of each new noun you meet.

The plural definite article [§2.1]

The following suffixes are added to the plurals to form the definite:

Masculine:	–nir	bussarnir 'the buses', vinirnir 'the friends', bøndurnir 'the farmers'
Feminine:	–nar	oyggjarnar 'the islands', sólirnar 'the suns', bøkurnar 'the books', tærnar 'the toes', gæsnar 'the geese'
Neuter:	–(i)ni	húsini 'the houses', eyguni 'the eyes', dømini 'the examples'

Venjing 4: Plural of nouns

Using the Faroese-English glossary at the end of this book to help you if necessary, write down the plural forms, indefinite and definite, of these nouns. The first one has been done as an example:

(a) buss/ur 'bus'	bussar	bussarnir
(b) land 'land'
(c) mamm/a 'mother'
(d) dag/ur 'day'
(e) borð 'table'
(f) kon/a 'woman'
(g) flogvøll/ur 'airport'
(h) fjall 'mountain'
(i) pláss 'seat'
(j) troyggj/a 'jumper'
(k) nátt 'night'
(l) stivl/i 'boot'
(m) lung/a 'lung'

Samrøða 2

Track 26

Koma til Havnar

The bus arrives at the terminal building by the harbour in Tórshavn.

JÓGVAN: Nú eru vit komin til Havnar.
CLAIRE: Ja. Eg síggi Kristin. Hon stendur við bilin hjá sær.

Claire og Kristin vinka til hvørja aðra. Bussurin steðgar. Claire fer úr.

KRISTIN: Hey, Claire! Vælkomin til Føroya! Hvussu hevur tú tað?
CLAIRE: Takk, hampiligt. Eg eri eitt sindur móð. Og tú? Hvussu gongur?
KRISTIN: Takk, fínt, fínt.

Jógvan fer eisini úr bussinum.

CLAIRE: Hetta er Jógvan.
KRISTIN: Tað veit eg, Claire. Eg kenni pápa hansara.
JÓGVAN: Hey, Kristin. Hvussu gongur?
KRISTIN: Tað gongur væl, takk, og hjá tær?
JÓGVAN: Rættiliga væl. Eg havi verið í Keypmannahavn. Eg havi skrivað eina blaðgrein um fólkatingsvalið í Danmark.
KRISTIN: Spennandi. Og hvussu hevur pápi tín tað?
JÓGVAN: Ikki so gott. Hann hevur krím.
KRISTIN: Tað var spell. Heilsa honum frá mær.
JÓGVAN: Ja, tað skal eg.

Jógvan tosar við Claire.

JÓGVAN: Kann eg ringja til tín, meðan tú ert í Havn?
CLAIRE: Ja, eg búgvi hjá Kristini. Hevur tú telefonnummarið hjá henni? Eg minnist ikki telefonnummarið á fartelefonini hjá mær.
JÓGVAN: Nei. Hvat er tað?
CLAIRE: 32 54 16.
JÓGVAN: Fínt. Eg ringi. Vit síggjast!
CLAIRE: Vit síggjast!
KRISTIN: Farvæl, Jógvan.
JÓGVAN: Farvæl, Kristin.

Jógvan fer avstað.

KRISTIN: Hygga síggj! Tú ert í Føroyum ein tíma, og tú hevur longu ein nýggjan vin!

Arrival in Tórshavn

JÓGVAN: Now we have arrived in Tórshavn.
CLAIRE: Yes. I can see Kristin. She is standing next to her car.

Claire and Kristin wave to one another. The bus stops. Claire gets off.

KRISTIN: Hello, Claire! Welcome to the Faroe Islands! How are you?
CLAIRE: So so, thanks. I'm a bit tired. And you? How's it going?
KRISTIN: Just fine, thanks.

Jógvan also gets off the bus.

CLAIRE: This is Jógvan.
KRISTIN: I know, Claire. I know his dad.
JÓGVAN: Hello, Kristin. How are you?
KRISTIN: I'm well, thanks, and you?
JÓGVAN: Really well. I have been in Copenhagen. I have been writing an article about the general election in Denmark.
KRISTIN: How interesting. And how is your dad?
JÓGVAN: Not so well. He has a cold.
KRISTIN: What a pity. Pass on my regards.
JÓGVAN: Yes, I will.

Jógvan speaks to Claire.

JÓGVAN: May I call you, while you're in Tórshavn?
CLAIRE: Yes, I'm staying at Kristin's. Do you have her telephone number? I don't remember my mobile phone number.
JÓGVAN: No. What is it?
CLAIRE: 32 54 16.
JÓGVAN: Great. I'll call. See you!
CLAIRE: See you!
KRISTIN: Goodbye, Jógvan.
JÓGVAN: Goodbye, Kristin.

Jógvan leaves.

KRISTIN: Well, well! You've been in the Faroes one hour and already you have a new friend!

Orðalýsingar

kom/a (–u, –ur), f.	arrival
til	to
nú	now
komin til	arrived in
síggi, vb.	see
stendur, vb.	stands, is standing
við	by, next to
bilin	the car
< bil/ur (–s, –ar), m.
hjá sær	[here:] her
vinka, vb.	wave
til hvørja aðra	to one another
buss/ur (–0, –ar), m.	bus
steðgar, vb.	stops
fer úr, vb.	gets off
hvussu	how
hevur, vb.	have
hvussu hevur tú tað?	how are you?
takk	thank you, thanks
hampiligt	so so
eitt sindur	a bit
móð, adj. f.	tired
gongur, vb.	goes
hvussu gongur?	how's it going?
fínt	fine
eisini	also, as well
úr	out of, off
bussinum	the bus
hetta	this
veit, vb.	know (a fact)
tað veit eg	I know
kenni, vb.	know (a person, place), am acquainted with pápa	father, dad
< páp/i (–a, –ar), m.
hansara	his
pápa hansara	his dad
væl	well
og hjá tær?	and you?
rættiliga	really, very
havi, vb.	have
verið	been
Keypmannahavn (-ar, ~), f.	Copenhagen
skrivað	written
eina	a, an
blaðgrein (–ar, –ar/–ir), f.	article
um	about
fólkatingsvalið	the general election,
< fólkatingsval (–s, –0), n.	the national election spennandi, adj.	interesting, exciting
ikki	not
so	so
gott	well
krím (–s, ~), n.	a cold
var, vb.	was
spell (–s, ~), n.	pity
tað var spell	that's a pity, that's a shame
heilsa, vb.	greet, pass on regards, say hello
honum	to him
frá	from
mær	me
geri, vb.	do
kann, vb.	may, can
ringja, vb.	call, ring, phone
til tín	(to) you
meðan	while
búgvi, vb.	live
hjá	at the home of
minnist, vb.	remember
telefonnummarið	the telephone number < telefonnummar (–s, –nummur), n.
fartelefonini	the mobile phone < fartelefon (–ar, –ir), f.
hjá mær	my
fartelefonini hjá mær	my mobile phone
hjá henni	her
telefonnummarið hjá henni	her telephone number
hvat	what
ringi, vb.	call, ring, phone
vit síggjast!	see you!
farvæl	goodbye
gongur, vb.	goes
avstað	away
fer, vb.	go
fer avstað	leave
hygga síggj!	well, well!
longu	already
nýggjan, adj.	new
vin	friend
< vin/ur (–s, –ir), m.

Venjing 5: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Nú eru Claire og Jógvan komin til Klaksvíkar.
(b) Claire hevur tað gott, men hon er eitt sindur móð.
(c) Jógvan hevur verið í Íslandi.
(d) Jógvan hevur skrivað eina blaðgrein.
(e) Tað gongur rættiliga væl hjá pápa Jógvan.
(f) Claire býr hjá Kristini, meðan hon er í Tórshavn.

Mállæra

Asking how somebody is

To ask how somebody is, we say:

Hvussu hevur tú tað? (inf.)
Hvussu gongur? (inf.)
Hvussu hava tygum tað? (pol.)

To reply, we say:

frálíkt	great
rættiliga væl	really well
væl	well
fínt	fine
hampiligt	so so
so toluliga	could be better
ikki so gott	not well
illa	bad
út av lagi illa	really bad
støðugt niður á bakka	from bad to worse

You may wish to follow your reply with og tú? (inf.) / og tygum? (pol.) 'and you?' After hvussu gongur?, you can also use og hjá tær? (inf.) / og hjá tygum? (pol.).

Venjing 6: Hvussu gongur?

How would these people reply to the question hvussu gongur?

(a) Anfinnur

(b) Malan

(c) Jóannes

(d) Marjun og Pætur

The present tense: group 1 verbs [§7.0–7.1]

Group 1
Verb forms			ending	Examples	'call'	'shout'	'write'
infinitive			–a	at	kalla	rópa	skriva
present tense	Singular	First person	–i	eg	kalli	rópi	skrivi
		Second person	–ar	tú	kallar	rópar	skrivar
		Third person		hann, hon, tað	kallar	rópar	skrivar
	Plural	First person	–a	vit	kalla	rópa	skriva
		Second person		tit (tygum)	kalla	rópa	skriva
		Third person		teir, tær, tey	kalla	rópa	skriva

We have already seen the first person singular ('I') ending –i in Unit 1. The only other ending in the singular (for 'you', 'he', 'she', 'it') is –ar, while the plural ('we', 'you', 'they') has just one ending –a. The polite second person singular pronoun tygum takes a verb in the plural form (tygum kalla, rópa, skriva etc.). Remember that the present tense is also the tense used to translate the continuous present in English ('I am calling', 'you are shouting').

Venjing 7: Pronouns and verbs

Create sentences by changing the noun into a pronoun (if necessary) and combining it with the correct form of the verb shown. The first one has been done for you as an example.

(a) Malan og Jovina / (at) tosa → Tær tosa.
(b) Hesturin / (at) gneggja →
(c) Gentan / (at) súkkla →
(d) Maðurin og kona hansara / (at) rópa →
(e) Jógvan og tú / (at) skriva →
(f) Eg / (at) hugsa →
(g) Malan og eg / (at) hugsa →
(h) Beiggi mín / (at) bíða →
(i) Jógvan og Símun / (at) mála →
(j) Tú / (at) svara →
(k) Gentan / (at) tosa →
(l) Tygum / (at) rópa →

Orðalýsingar

hest/ur (–s, –ar), m. horse gneggja (gneggjar), vb. to neigh gent/a (–u, –ur), f. girl súkkla (súkklar), vb. to cycle hugsa (hugsar), vb. to think beigg/i (beiggja, beiggjar, m. brother mín my bíða (bíðar), vb. to wait vóna (vónar), vb. to hope mála (málar), vb. to paint svara (svarar), vb. to answer

Venjing 8: The present tense

Complete the table:

	(a)	(b)	(c)	(d)	(e)	(f)	(g)	(h)	(i)
English infinitive	to speak				to intend, want		to wait
Faroese infinitive						hugsa
eg			vóni		ætli
tú		skrivar

hann, hon, tað								ropar
vit
tit, tygum				kalla
teir, tær, tey									súkkla

Negation

In order to make a verb negative ('I call' → 'I don't call', 'I'm calling' → 'I'm not calling'), we simply add the negating adverb ikki 'not'. In sentences that start with the subject, ikki comes directly after the verb:

Eg eiti Jógvan	→	Eg eiti ikki Jógvan
Eg eri úr Aberdeen	→	Eg eri ikki úr Aberdeen
Eg eri 23 ára gomul	→	Eg eri ikki 23 ára gomul
Eg síggi Kristin	→	Eg síggi ikki Kristin

However, sometimes sentences in Faroese start with one or more words that is not the subject. In these cases the adverb ikki follows the subject:

Nú eru vit komin til Havnar	→	Nú eru vit ikki komin til Havnar
Tað veit eg	→	Tað veit eg ikki
Hevur tú telefonnummarið?	→	Hevur tú ikki telefonnummarið?
Er hann 12 ára gamal?	→	Er hann ikki 12 ára gamal?

Venjing 9: Using ikki

Transform the positive sentences below into negative ones by inserting ikki.

(a) Eg eri úr Føroyum.
(b) Hann eitur Páll.
(c) Nú tosar tú við Claire.
(d) Hevur Claire telefonnummarið?
(e) Vit duga eitt sindur av føroyskum.
(f) Malan súkklar til Klaksvíkar.
(g) Koma tey úr Danmark?
(h) Lesur tú bøkur?

Samrøða 3

Track 27

Heima hjá Kristini

Claire and Kristin are sitting in the kitchen talking over a cup of coffee.

KRISTIN: Hvat ætlar tú at gera, meðan tú ert í Føroyum, Claire?
CLAIRE: Eg ætli mær at vitja alla familjuna hjá mær her í Havn og í Klaksvík.
KRISTIN: Tað er gott, at tú ert her nú. Veðrið er ikki so ringt í juli, og tað er ljóst úti.
CLAIRE: Ja, tað er satt. Eg elski tær ljósu næturnar. Eg plagi at koma til Føroya á sumri.
KRISTIN: Dámar tær klassiskan tónleik?
CLAIRE: Ja. Hví spyrt tú?
KRISTIN: Leygarkvøldið spælir eitt orkestur úr Íslandi í Norðurlandahúsinum.
CLAIRE: Hvat spæla tey?
KRISTIN: Eg havi gloymt tað – okkurt av Mozart haldi eg.
CLAIRE: Og hvat gert tú í morgin, Kristin?
KRISTIN: Hósdag keypi eg altíð inn í sølumiðstøðini.
CLAIRE: Men í morgin er ikki hósdagur. Í morgin er mikudagur!
KRISTIN: Tú hevur rætt! Eg eri so gomul, at eg gloymi, um tað er týsdagur ella mikudagur í dag!
CLAIRE: Tvætl, Kristin! Tú ert ikki gomul!

Inside Norðurlandahúsið

At home at Kristin's

KRISTIN: What do you want to do while you are in the Faroes, Claire?
CLAIRE: I want to visit all my family here in Tórshavn and in Klaksvík.
KRISTIN: It's good that you're here now. The weather isn't so bad in July, and it's light outside.
CLAIRE: Yes, it's true. I love the light nights. I usually come to the Faroe Islands during the summertime.
KRISTIN: Do you like classical music?
CLAIRE: Yes. Why do you ask?
KRISTIN: There's an orchestra from Iceland playing Saturday evening at the Nordic House.
CLAIRE: What are they playing?
KRISTIN: I have forgotten – something by Mozart I think.
CLAIRE: And what are you doing tomorrow, Kristin?
KRISTIN: I always do my shopping on Thursdays at the shopping centre.
CLAIRE: But tomorrow isn't Thursday. Tomorrow is Wednesday!
KRISTIN: You're right! I'm so old, that I forget whether today is Tuesday or Wednesday!
CLAIRE: Nonsense, Kristin! You're not that old!

Orðalýsingar

heima	at home
hjá	at the home of
ætlar, vb.	want, intend
gera, vb.	do
alla, adj.	all
familjuna < familj/a (–u, –ur), f.	(the) family
hjá mær	my
her	here
veðrið < veður (–s, ~), n.	the weather
so	so
ringt, adj.	bad
juli, m. indecl.	July
ljóst, adj.	light
úti	outside
satt, adj.	true
elski, vb.	love
tær	[here:] the
ljósu, adj.	light
næturnar < nátt (–ar, nætur), f.	night
plagi, vb.	am in the habit of, usually (see below)
koma, vb.	to come
á sumri	in the summertime
dámar tær?	do you like?
klassiskan, adj.	classical
tónleik < tónleik/ur (–s, ~), m.	music

hví	why?
spyrt, vb.	ask
leygarkvøldið < leygarkvøld (–s, –0), n.	on Saturday evening
spælir, vb.	Saturday evening plays
orkestur (–s, –0), n.	orchestra
Norðurlandahúsinum < -hús, n. def. sg.	The Nordic House (cultural centre in Tórshavn)
gloymt	forgotten
okkurt	something
av	by
haldi, vb.	think, believe
gert, vb.	do
í morgin	tomorrow
hósdag	on Thursdays
keypi inn, vb.	do the shopping
altíð	always
sølumiðstøðini < sølumiðstøð (–ar, –ir), f.	supermarket, shopping centre
hósdag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Thursday
mikudag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Wednesday
hevur rætt	are right
gloymi, vb.	forget
um	whether, if
í dag	today
týsdag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Tuesday
tvætl (–s, ~), n.	nonsense

Venjing 10: Spurningar

(a) Hvat ætlar Claire at gera, meðan hon er í Føroyum.
(b) Hvussu er veðrið í Føroyum í juli?
(c) Nær plagar Claire at koma til Føroya?
(d) Hvat hendir ['is happening'] leygarkvøldið í Norðurlandahúsinum?
(e) Hvat ger Kristin hósdagin?

Mállæra

To be in the habit of (at plaga at)

Faroese has a special verb, at plaga 'to be in the habit of, to be wont', which is used to express the idea of usually doing something. The verb plaga is followed by the infinitive with at:

Eg plagi at koma til Havnar um summarið	I usually come to Tórshavn in the summer
Tú plagar at lesa blaðið	You usually read the paper
Kristin plagar at tosa við Jógvan	Kristin usually talks to Jógvan
Vit plaga at súkkla til arbeiðis	We usually cycle to work
Tær plaga at bíða leingi eftir honum	They (f.) usually wait a long time for him

Days of the week (vikudagar)

Track 28

Below are the days of the week as well as a number of related phrases. Notice that the days of the week do not begin with a capital letter in Faroese.

mánadag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Monday	mánadagin	on Monday
týsdag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Tuesday	týsdagin	on Tuesday mikudag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Wednesday	mikudagin	on Wednesday
hósdag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Thursday	hósdagin	on Thursday
fríggjadag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Friday	fríggjadagin	on Friday
leygardag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Saturday	leygardagin	on Saturday
sunnudag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Sunday	sunnudagin	on Sunday
mánadag	on Mondays	næsta mánadag	next Monday
týsdag	on Tuesdays	seinasta týsdag	last Tuesday mikudag	on Wednesdays	dag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	day
hósdag	on Thursdays	nátt (–ar, nætur), f.	night
fríggjadag	on Fridays	samdøgur (–s, –0), n.	24-hour period leygardag	on Saturdays	vik/a (–u, –ur), f.	week
sunnudag	on Sundays	vikuskifti (–s, –[r]), n.	weekend

mánamorgun (–s, –morgnar), m.	Monday morning
mánamorgunin	on Monday morning
týskvøld (–s, –0), n.	Tuesday evening
týskvøldið	on Tuesday evening
mikunátt (–ar, –nætur), f.	night between Tuesday and Wednesday
mikunáttina	during the night between Tuesday and Wednesay

For example:

Hann kom fríggjadagin	He came on Friday
Hon kemur leygardagin	She's coming on Saturday
Eg ringi til tín sunnumorgunin	I'll phone you Sunday morning
Tey spæla mikukvøldið	They're playing Wednesday evening
Sunnudag fara vit í kirkju	On Sundays we go to church
Hósdag keypi eg altíð eplir	I always buy potatoes on Thursday

Note also:

nýggjársaftan	New Year's Eve	hvítusunnudagur	Whit Sunday
nýggjársdagur	New Year's Day	annar hvítusunnudagur	Whit Monday
langi fríggjadagur	Good Friday	jólaaftan	Christmas Eve
fyrsti páskadagur	Easter Sunday	jóladagur	Christmas Day
annar páskadagur	Easter Monday	annar jóladagur	Boxing Day, 26 December

These words for holidays also do not begin with a capital letter in Faroese.

Venjing 11: Time phrases

Translate the following sentences into Faroese. Remember that the main verb is the second item in the sentence:

(a) On Mondays I usually write a letter.
(b) I am cycling to Tórshavn on Saturday.
(c) Do you want to visit me [meg] Tuesday evening?
(d) Today is Thursday.
(e) Tomorrow is Friday.
(f) I'll phone [translate: 'I phone'] you Wednesday evening.
(g) Are you at home Sunday morning?
(h) What do you want to do this [hetta] weekend?

Months (mánar)

Track 29

Below are the months of the year as well as a number of related words. Notice that the names of the months do not begin with a capital letter in Faroese.

januar m.	juli m.
februar m.	august m.
mars m.	september / septembur m.
apríl m.	oktober / oktobur m.
mai m.	november / novembur m.
juni m.	desember / desembur m.

The names of the months of the year are indeclinable – they do not take endings. Like the word for month, they are all masculine.

mán/i (–a, –ar), m.	month (also: moon)	ár (–s, –0), n.	year mánað/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	month	leypár (–s, –0), n.	leap-year

Seasons (árstíðir)

Track 30

Below are the names of the seasons as well as a number of related phrases.

árstíð (–ar, –ir), f.	season
vár (–s, –0), n.	spring	í vár	in the spring, this spring
summar (–s, summør), n.	summer	í summar	in the summer, this summer heyst (–s, –0), n.	autumn	í heyst	in the autumn, this autumn
vetur (–s, vetrar), n.	winter	í vetur	in the winter, this winter

Other useful phrases for expressing time

um náttina	in the night, at night	í annaðkvøld	tomorrow evening á nátt	in the night, at night	í ovurmorgin	the day after tomorrow
á morgni	in the morning, mornings	næsta ár	next year
á degi	in the day time	nú ein dagin	the other day
á kvøldi	in the evening, evenings	onkuntíð	some day (in the future)
í fjør	last year	aðra hvørja viku	every other week
í fyrradagin	the day before yesterday	einaferð	once upon a time
í gjár	yesterday	eina ferð	once
í dag	today	tvær ferðir	twice
í morgun	early this morning	ongantíð	never fyrrapartin	this morning	aldrin	never
á middegi	(at) midday	sjáldan	rarely seinnapartin	this afternoon	av og á	once in a while í kvøld	this evening	onkuntíð	sometimes
í nátt	tonight	ofta	often
í morgin	tomorrow	altíð	always

Commonly used prepositions used with time phrases are:

eftir	after	For example:	eftir 5 mánum	after 5 months
fyri ... síðani	ago		fyri 2 vikum síðani	2 weeks ago
í	for		í allan dag	for the whole day

And adjectives:

heil/ur	whole, all	For example:	heila árið	the whole year
all/ur	all		alt árið	all year
síðst/ur	last		síðsta sunnudag	last Sunday
næst/ur	next		í næstu viku	next week
sam/ur (som)	the same		sama dag	the same day

The letters i and y

Track 31

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letters i and y:

skip n. 'ship'	ikki 'not'
skips 'ship' (gen. sg.)	mirakul n. 'miracle'
stuttliga 'entertainingly'	systir f. 'sister'
linur 'soft' (m.)	ynskja 'to wish'
lint 'soft' (n.)	lyklar 'keys'
hitti '(I) find'	fyri 'for'
hiti 'heat'	tysja 'to rush'

Note the pronunciation of the word ið 'that, which'. [wi]

A number of loanwords from Danish contain the letter y. If the vowel is short in such words, the pronunciation is /Y/, if long /y:/. Listen to the recording:

mystiskur 'mysterious'	psykolog/ur m. 'psychologist'
mytiskur 'mythological'	typ/a f. 'type' kyniskur 'cynical'

Lesistykki 1

Track 32

Kristin Poulsen

Hey! Eg eiti Kristin. Til eftirnavn eiti eg Poulsen. Maður mín er úr Danmark. Hann eitur Jakob, men eg rópi hann Jákup. Hann tosar føroyskt og danskt. Hann er átta og fjøruti ára gamal. Nú búgva vit í Havn, men eg eri upprunaliga úr Klaksvík í Borðoy. Eg eri ein og hálvtrýss ára gomul. Eg arbeiði á posthúsinum í Havn. Jákup er teldumaður og arbeiðir í Kringvarpinum. Vit hava tvey børn. Pætur er trý og tjúgu ára gamal og býr í Keypmannahavn. Hann lesur løgfrøði á universitetinum. Hann er ógiftur. Dóttir okkara, Turið, býr í Kollafirði. Hon er seks og tjúgu ára gomul og gift við Janusi. Hon er arbeiðsleys. Eg havi eina systur. Hon eitur Malan og er gift við einum skota, Tom. Tey búgva í Aberdeen í Skotlandi. Hon er lærari, og maður hennara er fiskimaður. Eg havi eisini tveir beiggjar, Jóannes og Tórodd.

Jóannes er løgfrøðingur og arbeiðir í einum banka í Klaksvík. Hann er fráskildur. Tóroddur er lærari eins og Malan, og hann býr eisini í Havn. Hann er giftur við Maggu. Tað er familjan hjá mær!

Orðalýsingar

maður (mans, menn), m.	[here:] husband
rópi, vb.	call
hann	[here:] him
nú	now
upprunaliga	originally
teldumaður (–mans, –menn), m.	IT-man, programmer
Kringvarpinum < Kringvarp n. Føroya	broadcasting company Faroese national broadcasting company
børn < barn (–s, børn), n.	children
lesur, vb.	is studying, is reading
løgfrøði (–0, ~), n.	law
universitetinum < universitet (–s, –0), n.	university
dóttir (dóttur, døtur), f.	daughter okkara	our
Kollafirði < Kollafjørður (–fjarðar, ~), m.	Kollafjørður
arbeiðsleys, adj.	unemployed
systur < systir (systur, systrar), f.	sister
lærar/i (–a, –ar), m.	teacher
hennara	her
fiskimað/ur (–mans, –menn), m.	fisherman
eisini	also
beiggjar <beigg/i (beiggja, beiggjar), m.	brothers
løgfrøðing/ur (–s, –ar), m.	lawyer
banka < bank/i (–a, –ar), m.	bank
eins og	just like

Venjing 12: Personal information

Fill in the missing information about Kristin and her family based on the passage above.

(a) Name: Kristin

Age: .....

Occupation: .....

Place of residence: .....

Name of spouse: .....

Age of spouse: .....

Occupation of spouse: .....

(b) Kristin's son

Name: .....
Age: .....
Studying: .....
Place of residence: .....
Marital status: .....

(c) Kristin's daughter

Name: .....
Age: .....
Occupation: .....
Place of residence: .....
Name of spouse: .....

(d) Kristin'sister

Name: .....
Occupation: .....
Place of residence: .....
Name of spouse: .....
Occupation of spouse: .....

(e) Kristin's brother #1:

Name: Jóannes .....
Occupation: .....
Place of work: .....
Marital status: .....

(f) Kristin's brother #2:

Name: .....
Occupation: .....
Place of residence: .....
Name of spouse: .....

Lesistykki 2

Track 33

Eitt teldubræv úr Føroyum

```
Til:  malanmcdonald@teldupost.fo

Frá:  clairemcdonald@teldupost.fo

Hey mamma og pápi!

Nú eri eg í Havn hjá Kristini. Eg havi tað gott, men eg eri eitt sindur móð eftir ferðina. Eg skrivi til tykkum, av tí at eg havi gloymt gávuna til Kristin og familjuna. Hon liggur á seingini í sovikamarinum hjá mær. Gerið so væl at senda mær hana!

Eg ringi í kvøld. C.
```

Orðalýsingar

teldubræv (–s, –brøv), n.	email	á	on
mamm/a (–u, –ur), f.	mum	seingini < song (–ar, sengur), f.	the bed
páp/i (–a, –ar), m.	dad	sovikamarinum < sovikamar (–s, –kømur), n.	(the) bedroom eftir	after	hjá mær	my ferðina < ferð (–ar, –ir), f.	the journey	í sovikamarinum hjá mær	in my bedroom tykkum	to you	gerið so væl at (+ infinitive)	please av tí at	because	senda, vb.	send gávuna < gáv/a (–u, –ur), f.	the present, gift	hana	it
liggur, vb.	is, is lying	mær	to me

Lesistykki 3

Track 34

Letingavísan

Mánadag havi eg einki at gera, týsdag havi eg góða tíð.
Mikudagur má mín frídagur vera, hósdag gangi eg tonkum í.
Fríggjadag geri eg hvat eg vil. Leygardag stundar halgan til, og so er vikan úti.

Orðalýsingar

letingavísan <–vís/a (–u, –ur), f.	the lazy man's song	tonkum < tank/i (–a, –ar), m.	thoughts, ideas
einki	nothing	gangi eg tonkum í	I wander in my thoughts
tíð (–ar, –ir), f.	time	geri, vb.	(I) do má	must	stundar halgan til	the day of rest approaches frídag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	day off, free day	so	then, so gangi, vb.	(I) go	úti	[here:] over

Orðatak

Track 35

Trøllabørn gráta eftir hvonnum á jólum 'You can't have the impossible'

Orðalýsingar

trøllabørn n. pl.	troll children	hvonnum f. pl.	angelica
gráta eftir	cry for	á jólum	at Christmas

The proverb is used to describe someone who wants something that isn't available.

Veitst tú at...?

The Faroe Islands (Føroyar) are situated to the northwest of Scotland (Skotland) roughly halfway between Norway (Noreg) and Iceland (Ísland). They comprise 18 islands (oyggjar) with about 1100 km of coastline (strond) and a surface area of 1400 km2. The highest point on land is 882 m. The islands enjoy a moderate climate (veðurlag) thanks to the Gulf Stream (Golfstreymurin), although the weather (veðrið) can change rapidly. The average temperature (miðalhitalagið) ranges from 3°C in the winter (á vetri) to 11°C in the summer (á sumri). Because of the islands' northerly location, the nights (næturnar) are very light in the summer, but the days (dagarnir) are very dark in the winter. Altogether about 50,000 people inhabit the islands with nearly 20,000 in the capital (høvuðsstaður), Tórshavn. The second largest town is Klaksvík with 5,000 or so inhabitants (íbúgvar).

3 Nýggir vinir í Havn
New friends in Tórshavn

Track 36

In this unit you will learn about:

- making an arrangement
- accepting, declining
- the direct object (accusative)
- possessive pronouns
- the possessive construction with hjá
- discussing family, work and religion
- adjectives (nominative and accusative forms)
- the present tense: group 2 verbs
- the letters í and ý

Keep working on your pronunciation in this unit. There is also some rather tricky grammar, so take your time!

Samrøða 1

Track 37

Heima hjá Kristini (2. partur)

Kristin og Claire sita í køkinum og drekka kaffi.

KRISTIN: Vilt tú hava meira kaffi, Claire?
CLAIRE: Ja, takk, bara ein dropa.
KRISTIN: Ver so góð.
CLAIRE: Takk fyri. Namminamm, henda jarðberkøkan er lekkur.
KRISTIN: Eg bakaði hana fyrrapartin. Tey høvdu sponsk jarðber sum tilboð í sølubúðini...

Telefonin ringir.

KRISTIN: Halló, tað er Kristin.
JÓGVAN: Hey Kristin. Tað er Jógvan Jákupsson. Kann eg tosa við Claire? Er hon inni?
KRISTIN: Ja, tað er hon. Eg fari eftir henni beint nú. Bíða eitt sindur... Claire! Jógvan Jákupsson er í telefonini!

Claire tekur telefonina.

CLAIRE: Halló, tað er Claire.

JÓGVAN: Hey Claire, tað er Jógvan. Hvussu gongur?
CLAIRE: Hey Jógvan, fínt takk, eg siti og drekki kaffi saman við mostur mínari. Hvussu hevur tú tað?
JÓGVAN: Gott, takk. Eg ringi, av tí at beiggi mín hevur eina lítla konsert á kaffistovuni í annað kvøld. Hann er gittaristur og sangari. Hevur tú hug at koma við mær til konsertina hjá honum?
CLAIRE: Í morgin… hósdagin… ja, takk, eg vil fegin koma. Nær byrjar konsertin?
JÓGVAN: Hon byrjar klokkan níggju. Eg komi eftir tær við bilinum klokkan hálvgum níggju. Vit kunnu fylgjast. Alt í lagi?
CLAIRE: Ja, alt í lagi. Vit síggjast í morgin!
JÓGVAN: Vit síggjast!

Claire leggur hornið á.

CLAIRE: Jógvan hevur boðið mær út í annað kvøld. Beiggi hansara er gittaristur og fer at hava eina konsert.
KRISTIN: Spennandi, Claire. Eg síggi, at tú fert at hava nógv at gera, meðan tú ert í Havn!

At home at Kristin's (part 2)

Kristin and Claire are sitting in the kitchen drinking coffee.

KRISTIN: Would you like some more coffee, Claire?
CLAIRE: Yes, thanks, just a drop.
KRISTIN: Here you are.
CLAIRE: Thanks. Yum, this strawberry cake tastes delicious.
KRISTIN: I baked it this morning. They had Spanish strawberries on offer at the corner shop…

The telephone rings.

KRISTIN: Hello, Kristin speaking.
JÓGVAN: Hi Kristin. It's Jógvan Jákupsson. Can I speak to Claire? Is she at home?
KRISTIN: Yes, she is. I'll go and get her straightaway. Wait a minute … Claire! Jógvan Jákupsson is on the telephone!

Claire picks up the telephone.

CLAIRE: Hello, Claire speaking.
JÓGVAN: Hi Claire, it's Jógvan. How's it going?
CLAIRE: Hi Jógvan, fine thanks. I'm sitting drinking coffee with my aunt. How are you?
JÓGVAN: Well, thanks. I'm calling, because my brother is having a small concert at the café tomorrow evening. He is a guitarist and a singer. Do you fancy coming with me to his concert?
CLAIRE: Tomorrow… Thursday… yes, thanks, I would like to come. When does the concert begin?

JÓGVAN: It begins at nine. I'll fetch you by car at half past eight. We can go together. All right?
CLAIRE: Yes, okay. See you tomorrow!
JÓGVAN: See you!

Claire replaces the handset.

CLAIRE: Jógvan has asked me out tomorrow evening. His brother is a guitarist and is going to have a concert.
KRISTIN: Exciting, Claire. I see, you are going to have plenty to do while you are in Tórshavn!

Orðalýsingar

heima	at home
sita, vb.	are sitting
í køkinum < køk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	in the kitchen
drekka, vb.	are drinking
sita og drekka	are (sitting) drinking
kaffi (–s, -), n.	coffee
vilt, vb.	(you) want
meira	more
bara ein dropa < drop/i (–a, –ar), m.	just a drop ver so góð	here you are
takk fyri	thanks
namminamm	yum, mmm...
henda	this
jarðberkøkan < køk/a (–u, –ur), f.	(the) strawberry cake
lekkur, adj.	delicious
bakaði, vb.	baked
hana	it
høvdu, vb.	had
sponsk, adj.	Spanish
jarðber, n. pl. < jarðber (–s, –0), n.	strawberries sum	as
tilboð (–s, –0), n.	special offer
sum tilboð	on special offer
sølubúðini < sølubúð (–ar, –ir), f.	the convenience store, corner shop telefonin < telefon (–ar, –ir), f.	the telephone ringir, vb.	rings
halló	hello (on the telephone)
hey	hello, hi
inni	[here:] there, at home
fari, vb.	(I'll) go
fari eftir henni	(I'll) go and fetch her
beint nú	straightaway
bíða, vb.	wait
tekur, vb.	takes, picks up
saman við	(together) with
ringi, vb.	(I) ring, am ringing av tí at	because
lítla, adj.	small
konsert (–ar, –ir), f.	concert, gig
á kaffistovuni < kaffistov/a (–u, –ur), f.	at the café
gittarist/ur (–s, –ar), m.	guitarist
sangar/i (–a, –ar), m.	singer
hevur tú hug at	do you fancy..., would you like to...
eg vil fegin koma	I would like to come nær	when
byrjar, vb.	begins
klokkan níggju	at nine o'clock
komi eftir tær	come for you, come and fetch you
við bilinum < bil/ur (–s, –ar), m.	by car, in the car klokkan hálvgum níggju	half past eight kunnu, vb.	can
fylgjast, vb.	go together, accompany one another alt í lagi	all right, okay
vit síggjast	see you later
leggur á	replaces
hornið < horn (–s, –0), n.	the handset
boðið	asked, offered
síggi, vb.	(I) see
tú fert at hava	you are going to have
nógv	a lot, plenty, much gera, vb.	to do
meðan	while

Mállæra

Making an arrangement

The following phrases can be used to ask somebody out:

Hevur tú hug at koma við mær...	Do you want to come with me...
til konsertina?	to the concert?
í biograf?	to the cinema?
í leikhúsið?	to the theatre?
á kaffistovuna?	to the café?

Vilt tú hava ein kaffimunn?	Do you fancy a coffee?
Skulu vit fáa okkum...	Shall we have...
ein drekkamunn?	a cup of coffee/tea?
ein drink?	a drink (alcoholic)?
eina øl?	a beer?

Accepting and declining

In order to accept an invitation:

Ja, takk, eg vil (óføra) fegin koma	Yes, thanks, I'd like (very much) to come
Ja, takk, hví ikki?	Yes, thanks, why not?

In order to decline an invitation:

Nei, takk	No, thanks
Nei, takk, eg fái tíverri ikki komið	No, thanks, I can't come unfortunately
Tíverri, tað liggur ikki fyri	Unfortunately, that's not possible / I can't

The direct object

The direct object is the part of the sentence that is acted on by the verb:

She bought the book.	What did she buy? – The book.
He sold the television.	What did he sell? – The television.
I give the dog a bone.	What do I give? – A bone.
He kissed the teacher.	Who(m) did he kiss? – The teacher.

The direct object can of course be a thing or a person. The most usual case for the direct object in Faroese is the accusative case. Some nouns require a special ending for the accusative in the singular, but the plural accusative forms are exactly the same as the plural nominative forms that you have already learnt.

Formation of the accusative singular [§3.1–3.3]

Masculine nouns:	___/ur	>	___/0	dag/ur 'day' (dag–)	>	dag
	___/i	>	___/a	tím/i 'hour' (tím–)	>	tíma
Feminine nouns:	___/0	>	___/0	bók 'book' (bók–)	>	bók
	___/a	>	___/u	gent/a 'girl' (gent–)	>	gentu
Neuter nouns:	___/0	>	___0	hús 'house' (hús–)	>	hús
	___/a	>	___/a	eyg/a 'eye' (eyg–)	>	eyga

Formation of the accusative plural

The accusative plural of all nouns is identical with the nominative plural: dagar, tímar, bøkur, gentur, hús, eygu(r).

The accusative form of the articles

	Indefinite	Definite (suffixed article)
	(singular)	singular	plural
masculine	ein	–in	–nar
feminine	eina	–ina	–nar
neuter	eitt	–ið	–(i)ni

The accusative form of the personal pronouns

me	meg	us	okkum
you sg. inf.	teg	you pl.	tykkum
you sg. pol.	tygum
him	hann	them m.	teir
her	hana	them f.	tær
it	tað	them n.	tey

Venjing 1: Accusative singular

Complete the table below. The first line has been done for you as an example.

	Noun	Gender	Meaning	Hvat sært tú?	Eg síggi...
(a)	kopp/ur	m.	cup	ein kopp	koppin
(b)	bygd
(c)	grís/ur
(d)	glas
(e)	mað/ur
(f)	epli
(g)	kett/a
(h)	skip
(i)	træ
(j)	bil/ur
(k)	gent/a
(l)	bók
(m)	oyggj
(n)	bát/ur

Orðalýsingar

hvat	what	hvat sært tú?	what do you see?
sært, vb.	see	síggi, vb.	(I) see

Venjing 2: Accusative singular

Complete each sentence below putting the direct object in the correct form:

(a) Vilt tú hava (ein jarðberkøka) .....?
(b) Nei takk, eg vil fegin hava (ein breyðflís) .....
(c) Vilt tú hava (kaffi) ..... ella (te) .....?
(d) Nei takk, eg vil fegin hava (mjólk) .....
(e) Vilt tú lesa (blaðið) .....?
(f) Nei takk, eg vil fegin lesa (bókin) .....

Orðalýsingar

breyðflís (–ar, –ar), f.	slice of bread
te (–s, ~), n.	tea
mjólk (–ar, ~), f.	milk

Venjing 3: Accusative plural

Complete the table below. Use the Faroese-English glossary at the back of this book to find out the plural of each noun and then put it in the correct form for accusative plural. The first line has been done for you as an example.

	Noun	Hvat sært tú?	Eg síggi...
(a)	kopp/ur	koppar	kopparnar
(b)	bygd
(c)	grís/ur
(d)	glas
(e)	mað/ur
(f)	epli
(g)	kett/a
(h)	skip
(i)	træ
(j)	bil/ur
(k)	gent/a
(l)	bók
(m)	oyggj
(n)	bát/ur

Venjing 4: Accusative singular and plural

Complete each sentence below putting the direct object in the correct form:

(a) Drongurin argar (hundurin) .....
(b) Pápi roykir (pípa) .....
(c) Maðurin koyrir (bussurin) .....
(d) Barnið sópar (gólvið) .....
(e) Eg renni tíggju (kilometur) ..... hvønn morgun.

(f) Tú keypir tær fimm (fløga) .....

(g) Gentan spælir (eitt telduspæl) .....

(h) Studenturin etur (ein pylsa) .....

og drekkur (ein kola) .....

(i) Eg skrivi (eitt bræv) .....

Orðalýsingar

argar, vb.	annoys, teases	telduspæl (–s, –0), n.	computer game
roykir, vb.	smokes	etur, vb.	eats
sópar, vb.	sweeps	pyls/a (–u, –ur), f.	sausage
renni, vb.	(I) run	drekkur, vb.	drinks
hvønn morgun	every morning	kola, f. indecl.	cola, coke
keypir, vb.	buy	skrivi, vb.	(I) write
tær	yourself, for you	bræv (–s, brøv), n.	letter
fløg/a (–u, –ur), f.	CD

Samrøða 2

Track 38

Á kaffistovuni (1. partur)

Jógvan og Claire eru á konsertini og tosa saman um familju, meðan tey lurta eftir tónleikinum.

JÓGVAN: Her er hugnaligt, ha?
CLAIRE: Jú, og beiggi tín syngur og spælir væl. Hann hevur góða rødd.
JÓGVAN: Ja, lítlibeiggi mín dugir væl at spæla! Hann ætlar at fara á tónlistaskúla næsta ár.
CLAIRE: Er tónlistaskúli í Føroyum?
JÓGVAN: Nei, tíverri ikki. Hann má fara til Norra ella Danmarkar.
CLAIRE: Hevur tú fleiri systkin?
JÓGVAN: Nei, bara beiggja mín Páll – og hann er nóg mikið! Hvussu við tær? Hevur tú systkin?
CLAIRE: Ja, eg havi eisini ein beiggja. Hann eitur Andrew og er fimm og tjúgu ára gamal.
JÓGVAN: Hvat ger hann?
CLAIRE: Hann er sjúkrarøktari og arbeiðir á einum stórum sjúkrahúsi í Glasgow.
JÓGVAN: Glasgow er langt frá Aberdeen, ha? Tit síggjast ikki so ofta meðni?
CLAIRE: Jú, Glasgow er langt frá Aberdeen, men eg búgvi og lesi í Edinburgh. Glasgow er bara ein knappan tíma frá Edinburgh. Vit síggjast nóg ofta.
JÓGVAN: Nú minnist eg. Tú lesur eingilskt á fróðskaparsetrinum í Edinburgh. Hvat ætlar tú at gera, tá ið tú ert liðug at lesa?
CLAIRE: Eg veit ikki. Eg havi eitt ár eftir enn. Kanska blívi eg lærari eins og mamma mín.

Café Natúr in Tórshavn

At the café (part 1)

Jógvan and Claire are at the concert and converse about family while listening to the music.

JÓGVAN: It's nice here, isn't it?
CLAIRE: Yes, and your brother sings and plays well. He has a good voice.
JÓGVAN: Yes, my little brother is good at playing! He plans to go to a music academy next year.
CLAIRE: Is there a music academy in the Faroe Islands?
JÓGVAN: No, unfortunately not. He has to go to Norway or Denmark.
CLAIRE: Do you have any more brothers or sisters?
JÓGVAN: No, just my brother Páll – and he is quite enough! What about you? Do you have any brothers or sisters?
CLAIRE: Yes, I also have a brother. He is called Andrew and is twenty-five years old.
JÓGVAN: What does he do?
CLAIRE: He is a nurse and works in a large hospital in Glasgow.
JÓGVAN: Glasgow is a long way from Aberdeen, isn't it? You don't see one another so often then?
CLAIRE: Yes, Glasgow is a long way from Aberdeen, but I live and study in Edinburgh. We see each other very often.
JÓGVAN: Now I remember. You are studying English at university in Edinburgh. What do you intend to do, when you have finished studying?
CLAIRE: I don't know. I still have a year left. Perhaps I'll become a teacher like my mum.

Orðalýsingar

tosa, vb.	talk
saman	together
um	about
lurta eftir, vb.	to hear, listen to tónleikinum < tónleik/ur (–s, ~), m.	the music
her	here
hugnaligt	nice, cosy, pleasant
her er hugnaligt	it's nice here
jú	yes
rødd (raddar, –ir), f.	voice
hann hevur góða rødd	he has a good voice
lítlibeigg/i (–beiggja, –beiggjar), m.	little / younger brother
dugir væl at	is good at ætlar at	intends to, plans to
fara á tónlistaskúla < tónlistaskúl/i (–a, –ar), m.	go to music school music academy, conservatory
næsta ár	next year
tíverri	unfortunately
má, vb.	must
fleiri	more
systkin, n. pl.	brothers and sisters, siblings
bara	only, just
nóg mikið	plenty enough
hvussu við tær?	how about you?
eisini	also
ger, vb.	does
sjúkrarøktar/i (–a, –ar), m.	nurse
arbeiðir, vb.	works
einum	a
stórum, adj.	big
sjúkrahúsi < sjúkrahús (–0, –0), n.	hospital
langt	far
frá	from
síggjast, vb.	see each other / one another so	so, that
ofta	often
meðni	then
ein knappan tíma	just under an hour
nú	now
minnist, vb.	(I) remember
tá ið	when
liðug at lesa	finished studying
veit, vb.	know
eftir	left, remaining
enn	still
kanska	perhaps, maybe
blívi, vb.	(I) become
lærar/i (–a, –ar), m.	teacher
eins og	just like

Mállæra

Possessive pronouns [§6.4]

There are a number of ways of expressing the possessive (my book, your dad, his chair) in Faroese. One way is to use a possessive pronoun: mín 'my'; tín 'your' sg.; hansara 'his', 'its' m.; hennara 'her', 'its' f.; tess 'its' n.; okkara 'our'; tykkara 'your' pl.; teirra 'their'. Of these, only mín and tín decline:

		m.	f.	n.	m.	f.	n.
sg.	nom.	mín	mín	mítt	tín	tín	títt
	acc.	mín	mína	mítt	tín	tína	títt
pl.	nom.	mínir	mínar	míni	tínir	tínar	tíni
	acc.	mínar	mínar	míni	tínar	tínar	tíni

The forms for mín and tín inflect according to the gender and number of the noun being possessed. Thus we say mítt bræv, and not mín bræv, because the noun bræv is neuter and singular.

1. If the noun being possessed is a family relative (for example, mamma, pápi, systir, beiggi), then the possessive pronoun follows the noun:

   pápi mín 'my dad'
   kona tín 'your wife'
   dóttir okkara 'our daughter'
   beiggi hansara 'his brother'

2. If the noun being possessed is not a family relative then the possessive pronoun may come before or after the noun. The possessive pronoun usually comes after the thing possessed. It is placed before the thing possessed if we wish to emphasise the possessor (it is my book, not yours!). However, there is a great deal of flexibility here, and you will be readily understood whether you place the pronoun before or after the thing possessed.

   hetta er bók hansara 'this is his book' hetta er mín bók, ikki tín 'this is my book, not yours!'
   hvar er bók hennara? 'where's her book?'
   hús okkara er í Havn 'our house is in Tórshavn'

Venjing 5: Possessive pronouns

Complete the sentences below. If there are two possible answers, write them both. The first one has been done as an example for you:

(a) Eg havi ein bil. → Hetta er bilur mín / mín bilur

(b) Hann hevur eina konu. → Hetta er .....

(c) Vit eiga eitt skip. → Hetta er .....

(d) Tú spælir gittara. → Hetta er .....

(e) Hon hevur ein lítlabeiggja. → Hetta er .....

Orðalýsingar

gittar/i (–a, –ar), m.	guitar

The possessive construction with hjá [§8.2.4 (a), 11.8]

Another very common way of expressing 'my', 'your' and so on in Faroese is to use the hjá-construction. It is formed by using the noun that is possessed in the definite form followed by hjá and the appropriate pronoun. For example:

bókin hjá mær 'my book' skipið hjá okkum 'our ship' bilurin hjá honum 'his car'

We have not met these forms of the pronouns before; they are in the dative case:

Definite form of the noun followed by…
	hjá mær	'my'
	hjá tær	'your' sg.
	hjá honum	'his', 'its' m.
	hjá henni	'her', 'its' f.
	hjá tí	'its' n.
	hjá okkum	'our'
	hjá tykkum	'your' pl.
	hjá teimum	'their'

This construction should not be used with nouns denoting family relatives, as it sounds rather childish. For example, use pápi mín rather than pápin hjá mær.

Venjing 6: The possessive construction with hjá

Complete the sentences below using the hjá-construction. The first one has been done as an example for you. Remember to put the noun in the definite form:

(a) Eg havi ein bil.	→	Hetta er bilurin hjá mær
(b) Hann hevur eina jarðberkøku.	→	Hetta er .....
(c) Vit eiga eitt skip.	→	Hetta er .....
(d) Tú spælir gittara.	→	Hetta er .....
(e) Hon hevur ein vin.	→	Hetta er .....

Discussing family

Hvussu nógv børn eigur tú?	How many children do you have?
Eg eigi eingi børn	I don't have any children
Eg eigi eina dóttur og ein son	I have a daughter and a son
Hvussu nógv systkin hevur tú?	How many brothers and sisters do you have?
Eg havi eina systur og ein beiggja	I have one sister and one brother

In addition to the word familja, Faroese also has the word skyldfólk (–s, –0), n.[¤], which is mainly used in written language. The names of various relatives in Faroese:

grandparents	omma og abbi
grandfather	abb/i (–a, –ar), m.
grandmother	omm/a (–u, –ur), f.
parents	foreldur, n. pl.
father	páp/i (–a, –ar), m.; faðir[¤] (–s, fedrar), m.
mother	mamm/a (–u, –ur), f.; móðir[¤] (móður, møður), f.
siblings	systkin n. pl.
brother	beigg/i (–ja, –gjar), m.; bróðir[¤] (bróður, brøður), m.
sister	systir (systur, systrar), f.
children	børn n. pl.
son	son/ur (–ar, synir), m.
daughter	dóttir (dóttur, døtur), f.
grandchild	barnabarn (–s, –børn), n.; ommubarn (–s, –børn), n. (if you are the child's grandmother); abbabarn (–s, –børn), n. (if you are the child's grandfather)
cousin	systkinabarn (–s, –børn), n.
uncle	pápabeigg/i (–ja, –gjar), m.; mammubeigg/i (–ja, –gjar), m.; maður (mans, menn), m. at fastur; maður (mans, menn), m. at mostur[1]
aunt	pápasystir (–systur, –systrar), f.; mostir (mostur, mostrar), f.; pápabeiggjakon/a (–u, –ur), f.; mammubeiggjakon/a (–u, –ur), f.[2]
husband	maður (mans, menn), m.
wife	kon/a (–u, –ur), f.
boyfriend	sjeik/ur (–s, –ar), m.
girlfriend	gent/a (–u, –ur), f.; dam/a (–u, –ur), f.
partner	mak/i (–a, –ar), m.

If we want to say 'I have a brother', a brother is the direct object and must therefore be in the accusative. Several of the words for relatives are irregular and do not have the accusative form that we might expect.

Venjing 7: Members of the family (accusative case)

Complete the sentences below:

(a) Eg havi (ein systir)	eina systur
(b) Hevur tú (ein beiggi)	..... ?
(c) Eg vitji (mamma mín)	.....
(d) Hon hevur (ein sjeikur)	.....
(e) Sært tú (abbi)	..... ?

1 That is: the brother of my father, the brother of my mother, the husband of my father's sister, the husband of my mother's sister.

2 That is: the sister of my father, the sister of my mother, the wife of my father's brother, the wife of my mother's brother.

Venjing 8: Members of the family

How would you answer the following questions in Faroese?

(a) Hevur tú systkin?
(b) Hvussu eitur pápi tín?
(c) Eigur tú børn?
(d) Eigur tú familju í Føroyum?
(e) Hvussu gomul er omma tín?

Discussing work

Here are some useful phrases for discussing work:

Hvat gert tú?	What do you do (for a living)?
Eg eri arbeiðsleysur (m.)	I'm unemployed
Eg eri arbeiðsleys (f.)	I'm unemployed
Eg arbeiði…	I work…
í einum banka	in a bank
á einum sjúkrahúsi	in a hospital
á eini skrivstovu	in an office
í / á einum skúla	in a school
í einum handli	in a shop
Eg eri í læru	I'm in training / an apprenticeship
Eg eri virkiseigari	I own my own business
Eg arbeiði fyri meg sjálvan	I am self-employed (m.)
Eg arbeiði fyri meg sjálva	I am self-employed (f.)

Remember that when you are saying what your occupation is ('I'm a doctor'), you do not use the indefinite article in Faroese (eg eri lækni, not eg eri ein lækni):

Eg eri…	I'm a(n)…
bókhaldari m.	accountant
(sjón)leikari m.	actor
arkitektur m.	architect
listafólk n.	artist
grannskoðari m.	auditor
rithøvundur m.	author, writer
handilsmaður m.	businessman
handilskvinna f.	businesswoman
bilsmiður m.	car mechanic
snikkari m., træsmiður m.	carpenter
embætismaður m.	civil servant
tannlækni m.	dentist

lækni m.	doctor
bilstjóri m.	driver
elektrikari m.	electrician
verkfrøðingur m.	engineer bóndi m.	farmer
fiskimaður m., útróðrarmaður m.	fisherman
hárfríðkari m., frisørur m.	hairdresser
tíðindafólk n.	journalist
løgfrøðingur m.	lawyer
arbeiðsmaður m.	manual worker
arbeiðskvinna f.	manual worker
mekanikari m.	mechanic
tónleikari m.	musician
sjúkrarøktarfrøðingur m.	nurse
sjúkrasystir f.	nurse
skrivstovufólk n.	office worker
brillusmiður m.	optician
málari m.	painter
blikksmiður m.	plumber
yrkjari m.	poet
løgreglufólk n.	police officer
prestur m.	priest
sálarfrøðingur m.	psychologist
sjómaður m.	sailor
skrivari m.	secretary
almannaráðgevi m.	social worker
lærari m.	teacher
terapeutur m.	therapist

The majority of the names for professionals (lærari 'teacher', lækni 'doctor', elektrikari 'electrician' etc.) are masculine, but refer to both men and women. You may also hear terms borrowed from Danish such as advokatur ('lawyer'), bilmekanikari ('car mechanic'), journalistur, optikari, politistur and psykologur.

Eg eri studentur	I'm a student
Eg lesi… + acc.	I'm studying…
lívfrøði f.	biology
plantufrøði f.	botany
evnafrøði f.	chemistry
teldufrøði f.	computer science
tannfrøði f.	dentistry
búskap m.	economics
verkfrøði f.	engineering
jarðfrøði f.	geology
landafrøði f.	geography
søgu f.	history

hugvísindi, n. pl.	humanities
løgfrøði, f.	law
málvísindi, n. pl.	linguistics
støddfrøði, f.	mathematics
miðilslæru, f.	media studies
læknafrøði, f.	medicine
heimspeki, f.	philosophy
alisfrøði, f.	physics
sálarfrøði f.	psychology
náttúruvísindi, n. pl.	sciences
samfelagsfrøði, f.	sociology
tøknifrøði, f.	technical sciences
gudfrøði, f.	theology
djórafrøði, f.	zoology

Words ending in –frøði are a bit special as these feminine nouns retain the –i in all cases in the singular. See §3.2.7.

Eg geri herskyldu	I'm doing military service[3]
Eg eri eftirløntur m. / eftirlønst f.	I'm retired

Work-related vocabulary:

to earn	vinna / tjena	pension	eftirløn (–ar, –ir), f.,
to employ	seta		pensjón (–ar, –ir), f.
employee	arbeiðstakar/i (–a, –ar), m.	to sack, fire	siga upp, koyra employer	arbeiðsgevar/i (–a, –ar), m.	shift	skifti (–s, –[r]), n.
factory	virki (–s –[r]), n.,	strike	verkfall (verkfals, –føll), n.
	fabrikk (–ar, –ir), f.	tax	skatt/ur (skats, –ir), m.
income	inntøk/a (–u, –ur), f.	union	fakfelag (–s, –løg), n.
interview	samtal/a (–u, –ur), f.	wage	løn (–ar, –ir), f.
job	arbeiði (–s, –0), n.	to work shifts	arbeiða í skiftum
office	skrivstov/a (–u, –ur), f.

3 Military service is entirely voluntary for Faroe Islanders. Volunteers serve in the Danish forces.

Discussing religion

Religion is very important in the Faroe Islands with about three quarters of the population belonging to the state Lutheran church (fólkakirkjan). Other Christian groups include the Brethren (Brøðrasamkoman), Adventists (Adventistasamkoman), Pentecostals (Hvítusunnusamkoman), the Salvation Army (Frelsunarherurin), Jehovah's Witnesses (Jehova vitni) and Catholics (katólsk trúgv). There are also a number of Baha'i (bahá'í trúgvin). Most people attend church and belong to a congregation (samkoma), and shops and businesses are closed on Sundays. Here are some useful phrases for discussing religion:

Hvørja trúgv hevur tú?	What is your religion?
Eg eri ikki religiøsur (m.) / religiøs (f.)	I am not religious
Eg eri...	I am (a, an)
agnostikari	agnostic
fríteinkjari	atheist
buddistur	Buddhist
katolikkur	Catholic
kristin	Christian
hindu	Hindu
jødi	Jew
muslimur	Muslim
Eg havi áhuga fyri...	I'm interested in...
stjørnuspeki / astrologi	astrology
heimspeki / filosofi	philosophy
teirri norrønu trúnni	the Old Norse religion
Kann eg vera við til hesa gudstænastuna?	Can I attend this service?
Kann eg biðja her?	May I pray here?

Some vocabulary:

bible	bíbli/a (–u, –ur), f.	koran, Qu'ran	koran (–ar, –ir), f.
bishop	biskup/ur (–s, –ar), m.,	monastery	klostur (–s, –0), n.
	bisp/ur (–s, –ar), m.	mosque	mosk/a (–u, –ur), f.
cathedral	dómkirkj/a (–u, –ur), f.	priest	prest/ur (–s, –ar), m.
church	kirkj/a (–u, –ur), f.	rabbi	rabbin/i (–a, –ar), m.
convent	klostur (–s, –0), n.	religious service	gudstænast/a (–u, –ur), f.
hymn	sálm/ur (–s, –ar), m.	synagogue	sýnagog/a (–u, –ur), f.
imam	imam/ur (–s, –ar), m.	temple	tempul (–s, –0), n.

Adjectives (nominative and accusative forms) [§4.0–4.1]

Adjectives come before the noun in Faroese and require endings that agree with the case, number and gender of the noun to which they apply. In addition, there are two sets of endings for adjectives (the weak and strong declensions; also known as the definite and indefinite declensions respectively):

For example:	tann føroyski maðurin	the Faroese man
	ein føroyskur maður	a Faroese man

tann stór*a* konan	the big woman
ein stór kona	a big woman

There is, however, a small group of adjectives that do not take endings. For example, adjectives derived from the present participle (ending in –andi) do not decline:

tann spenn*andi* bókin	the exciting book
ein spenn*andi* bók	an exciting book

Other indeclinable adjectives like spennandi: álítandi 'trustworthy', dugandi 'skillful', galdandi 'valid', hóskandi 'appropriate', livandi 'alive', múgvandi 'wealthy', týðandi 'important'.

The weak or definite declension [§4.2]

The weak declension of adjectives is as follows:

		m.	f.	n.
sg.	nom.	–i	–a	–a
	acc.	–a	–u	–a
pl.	nom.	–u	–u	–u
	acc.	–u	–u	–u

The weak declension is used if the adjective:

1) Comes after a definite article
2) Comes after a demonstrative pronoun
3) Comes after a possessive pronoun
4) Is used in certain fixed expressions
5) Is used before a personal name

Venjing 9: Weak adjectival declension

Put the adjective in brackets in the correct form. The first one has been done for you as an example.

(a)	Tann (stórur)	stóri	maðurin er pápi mín.
(b)	Teir (føroyskur)	.....	menninir eru her.
(c)	Hansara (reyður)	.....	hús er stórt.
(d)	Hvussu eitur tann (langur)	.....	gøtan?
(e)	Eg lesi ta (nýggjur)	.....	bókina hjá tær.
(f)	Kennir tú tær (danskur)	.....	konurnar væl?
(g)	(Góður)	.....	Anna! Hvat gert tú?
(h)	Okkara (myrkur)	.....	gøtur eru ikki tryggar.
(i)	Tey (fittur)	.....	børnini spæla á spæliplássinum.
(j)	Hevur tú sætt teir (ullintur)	.....	handskarnar hjá mær?

Orðalýsingar

kennir, vb.	do you know	spæliplássinum	the playground
myrk/ur, adj.	dark	< spælipláss (–0, –0), n.
trygg/ur, adj.	safe	ullint/ur, adj.	woollen
fitt/ur, adj.	nice	handskar m. pl.	gloves

The strong or indefinite declension [§4.3]

The strong declension of adjectives is as follows:

		m.	f.	n.
sg.	nom.	–ur	–0	–t
	acc.	–an	–a	–t
pl.	nom.	–ir	–ar	–0
	acc.	–ar	–ar	–0

The strong declension of the adjective is used in all other situations than those described for the weak declension.

Venjing 10: Strong adjectival declension

Put the adjective in brackets in the correct form. The first one has been done for you as an example.

(a)	Pápi mín er ein (stórur)	stórur	maður.
(b)	Her eru (føroyskur)	.....	menn.
(c)	Hansara stóra hús er (reyður)	.....	.
(d)	Er gøtan (langur)	.....	?
(e)	Eg lesi eina (nýggjur)	.....	bók.
(f)	Eru hasar konurnar (danskur)	.....	?
(g)	Anna er so (góður)	.....	.
(h)	Okkara gøtur eru (myrkur)	.....	.
(i)	Børnini á spæliplássinum eru (fittur)	.....	.
(j)	Eg vil fegin keypa (nýggjur, ullintur)	....., ...	handskar.

Venjing 11: Weak and strong adjectival declension

Translate the following sentences into Faroese.

(a) The Faroese language is difficult.
(b) I am reading a good book.
(c) Do you have a new car?
(d) Where do the Faroese people live?

(e) The cosy café is not big.
(f) Páll is a young man.
(g) Young men have big dreams.
(h) Do you want to buy those woollen gloves?
(i) The music is loud.
(j) Is your new house red?

Orðalýsingar

torfør/ur, adj.	difficult	dreym/ur (–s, –ar), m.	dream
fólk (–s, –), n.	people	harður, adj.	loud
hugnalig/ur, adj.	cosy

Samrøða 3

Track 39

Á kaffistovuni (2. partur)

Jógvan, Claire og Páll tosa saman.

JÓGVAN: Claire, hetta er Páll, beiggi mín, stjørnan!
CLAIRE: Hey, Páll. Takk fyri konsertina. Mær dámar rættiliga væl tónleikin hjá tær.
PÁLL: Takk, Claire. Tað gleðir meg at hitta teg. Jógvan hevur tosað nógv um teg…

Jógvan kvettir tosið av.

JÓGVAN: Kann eg fáa øskubikarið, Páll? Eg ætli mær at roykja.
PÁLL: Ger so væl.
JÓGVAN: Roykir tú, Claire?
CLAIRE: Nei.
PÁLL: Men tú kanst geva mær ein guv, Jógvan!
JÓGVAN: Roykir tú? Eg visti ikki, at tú roykti!
PÁLL: Jú, jú, av og á.

Jógvan gevur beiggja sínum eina sigarett og fer at keypa øl. Páll tosar við Claire.

PÁLL: Hvønn tónleik dámar tær best, Claire?
CLAIRE: Mær dámar bæði klassiskan og modernaðan tónleik. Tá eg eri glað, lurti eg eftir hørðum rokk- ella popptónleiki, men tá eg eri kedd, lurti eg eftir tunglyntum klassiskum tónleiki, til dømis Mahler.
PÁLL: Vit hava nógv tónaskøld og tónleikarar her í Føroyum. Kennir tú nakrar føroyskar tónleikarar, Claire?
CLAIRE: Nei, bara teg, Páll.
PÁLL: So kennir tú tann besta!

Jógvan kemur aftur. Hann hevur keypt tríggjar øl og ein pakka av jarðnøtum.

JÓGVAN: Gerið so væl!
CLAIRE: Takk.
PÁLL: Takk.
ØLL: Skál!

At the café (part 2)

Jógvan, Claire and Páll talk together.

JÓGVAN: Claire, this is Páll, my brother, the star!
CLAIRE: Hi, Páll. Thanks for the concert. I really like your music.
PÁLL: Thanks, Claire. I'm pleased to meet you. Jógvan has talked a lot about you…

Jógvan interrupts the conversation.

JÓGVAN: Could I have the ashtray, Páll? I want to smoke.
PÁLL: Here you are.
JÓGVAN: Do you smoke, Claire?
CLAIRE: No.
PÁLL: But you can give me a drag, Jógvan!
JÓGVAN: You smoke? I didn't know you smoked!
PÁLL: Well, yeah, every so often.

Jógvan gives his brother a cigarette and goes to buy beer. Páll talks to Claire.

PÁLL: What music do you like best, Claire?
CLAIRE: I like both classical and modern music. When I am happy, I listen to loud rock or pop music, but when I am sad, I listen to melancholic classical music, for example Mahler.
PÁLL: We have lots of composers and musicians here in the Faroes. Do you know any Faroese musicians, Claire?
CLAIRE: No, just you, Páll.
PÁLL: Then you know the best one!

Jógvan returns. He has bought three beers and a packet of peanuts.

JÓGVAN: Here you are!
CLAIRE: Thanks.
PÁLL: Thanks.
ALL: Cheers!

Orðalýsingar

stjørnan < stjørn/a (–u, –ur), f.	the star
mær	to me (dat.)
dámar, vb.	is pleasing
mær dámar	I like
rættiliga	really
væl	[here:] much, a lot
gleðir, vb.	pleases
meg	me (acc.)
tað gleðir meg	I am pleased
hitta, vb.	(to) meet
teg	you (acc.)
tosað	talked, spoken
nógv	a lot, much
um	about (+ acc.)
kvettir av, vb.	breaks off, interrupts
tosið < tos (–0, –0), n.	the conversation
kann eg fáa	may I have
øskubikarið < øskubikar (–s, –0), n.	the ashtray ætli mær, vb.	(I) want, intend ger so væl	here you are kanst, vb.	can
geva, vb.	(to) give
guv/ur (–s, –ar), m.	drag (of a cigarette)
visti, vb.	knew
av og á	every so often
gevur, vb.	gives
sigarętt (–ar, –ir), f.	cigarette
fer, vb.	goes
keypa, vb.	(to) buy
øl (–s, –), n.	beer *
hvat	what (sort of, kind of)
best	best
bæði... og...	both... and...
klassiskan, adj.	classical
modernaðan, adj.	modern
tá	when
glað, adj. < glað/ur, adj.	happy
lurti eftir, vb.	(I) listen to
hørðum, adj. < harð/ur, adj.	loud
rokktónleiki < rokktónleik/ur (–s, ~), m.	rock music
ella	or
popptónleiki < popptónleik/ur (–s, ~), m.	pop music
men	but
kedd, adj. < kedd/ur, adj.	sad
tunglyntum, adj. < tunglynt/ur, adj.	melancholic
til dømis	for example
tónaskøld < tónaskald (–s, –skøld), n.	composers
tónleikarar < tónleikar/i (–a, –ar), m.	musicians
kennir, vb.	know
nakrar	any
bara	only
so	then
kemur aftur, vb.	returns, comes back
keypt, vb.	bought
tríggjar	three
ein pakka av < pakk/i (–a, –ar), m.	a bag of jarðnøtum < jarðnøt (–ar, –ir), f.	peanuts
gerið so væl	here you are
skál!	cheers!

* Notice that 'beer' is feminine when used as a countable noun (tvær øl, takk!, 'two beers, please!').

Venjing 12: Spurningar

(a) Eigur Jógvan ein beiggja? Hvussu eitur hann? Hvat ger hann?
(b) Roykir Claire? Hvør roykir?
(c) Hvønn tónleik dámar Claire best? Hvønn tónleik dámar tær best?
(d) Eru tað nógv tónaskøld og tónleikarar í Føroyum? Kennir tú nakrar føroyskar tónleikarar?

Mállæra

The present tense: group 2 verbs [§7.2]

Group 2
Verb forms			ending	Examples	'move'	'sell'	'train'
infinitive			–a	at	flyta	selja	venja
present tense	Singular	First person	–i	eg	flyti	selji	venji
		Second person	–ur	tú	flytur	selur	venur
		Third person		hann, hon	flytur	selur	venur
	Plural	First person	–a	vit	flyta	selja	venja
		Second person		tit (tygum)	flyta	selja	venja
		Third person		teir, tær, tey	flyta	selja	venja

Notice that the first person singular and the plural form is the same as group 1 verbs. In fact, these forms are exactly the same for all verbs.

The infinitive of some verbs ends in –ja rather than just –a. These verbs lose the j before the ending –ur.

Many strong verbs also end in –ur in the second and third person singular, but the endings are often accompanied by a vowel change:

	taka 'to take'	ganga 'to walk'	standa 'to stand'	koma 'to come'	sova 'to sleep'
eg	taki	gangi	standi	komi	sovi
tú	tekur	gongur	stendur	kemur	svevur
hann, hon	tekur	gongur	stendur	kemur	svevur
vit	taka	ganga	standa	koma	sova
tit	taka	ganga	standa	koma	sova
tey	taka	ganga	standa	koma	sova

Don't worry too much about this now, as we shall look at strong verbs more closely in Unit 5.

Venjing 13: The present tense

Complete the table:

	(a)	(b)	(c)	(d)	(e)	(f)	(g)
English infinitive		to count
Faroese infinitive	krevja
eg			selji	hyggi
tú					kemur
hann, hon, tað
vit						flyta
tit, tygum				hyggja
teir, tær, tey							standa

Orðalýsingar

krevja (krevur), vb. to demand telja (telur), vb. to count hyggja (hyggur), vb. to look

The letters í and ý

Track 40

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letters í and ý:

síggjast níggju nýggjur
dýrt 'expensive'
fýrs 'eighty'
frískur 'healthy'
lívga 'to enliven'
líknandi 'similar'
fínt lítla 'little'
nýtt 'new'
títt tíma grísur breyðflís pípa
orðalýsingar
bíða
býur 'town'
tíðindi

Lesistykki 1

Track 41

Páll Jákupsson

Páll Jákupsson er nítjan ára gamal og ein komandi stjørna í Føroyum. Nú gongur hann í skúla, men eina ferð ætlar hann at verða eitt heimskent navn. Hann er nevniliga tónleikari í frítíðini. Tá hann ikki ger leksiur, øvar hann seg á gittara og skrivar nýggjar sangir. Av og á spælir hann til konsert ymsastaðni, og hann er væl umtóktur. Hann hevur nógvar fjepparar og ætlar at leggja eina heimasíðu á netið. Næsta ár ætlar hann at lesa á tónleiksskúlanum í Oslo ella Keypmannahavn. Men tá hann er liðugur at lesa, vil hann fegin flyta til USA og blíva ein verðinskend poppstjørna.

Orðalýsingar

ára gamal years old komandi, adj. indecl. coming, in the making gongur í skúla goes to school eina ferð one day verða, vb. to become heimskent, adj. world-famous nevniliga namely, you see í frítíð sínari in his freetime
tá when ger leksiur is doing homework øvar seg, vb. practises sangir songs < sang/ur (–s –ir), m.
ymsastaðni in different places væl umtókt/ur, adj. well liked, popular fjepparar fans < fjeppar/i (–a, –ar), m. leggja á netið to put on the web heimasíðu homepage < heimasíð/a (–u, –ur), f.
liðug/ur, adj. finished flyta, vb. to move blíva, vb. to become verðinskend/ur, adj. world-famous poppstjørn/a popstar (–u, –ur), f.

Venjing 14: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Páll Jákupsson er nítjan ára gamal.
(b) Hann er ein komandi blaðmaður í Føroyum.
(c) Nú lesur hann á tónleiksskúlanum.
(d) Hann er yrkistónleikari ('professional musician').
(e) Tá hann ikki ger leksiur, øvar hann seg á gittara og skrivar nýggjar sangir.
(f) Hann spælir altíð til konsert í Havn.
(g) Hann hevur nógvar fjepparar.
(h) Hann hevur eina heimasíðu á netinum.
(i) Hann vil fegin búgva í Føroyum, tá hann er liðugur at lesa.

Lesistykki 2

Claire og Jógvan sms'ast

hey claire takk fyri seinast. tað var hugnaligt at vera saman við tær. eg vóni, at vit kunnu siggjast aftur. jógvan

→

hey jógvan! ja, tað var ógvuliga hugnaligt. eg eri í havn til og við 8. juli. tú kanst ringja til mín ella smsa, um tú hevur hug. :-) claire

→

takk, claire. eg ringi í kvøld! j. ;-)

Orðalýsingar

sms'ast, vb.	are texting each other	kunnu, vb.	are able, can takk fyri seinast	thanks (for a pleasant time last time we saw each other)	siggjast, vb.	to see each other aftur	again
		ógvuliga	very
saman	together	til og við	up to and including vóni, vb.	(I) hope	um	if

Lesistykki 3

Track 42

Náttina eftir konsertina á kaffistovuni svevur Páll og droymir…

SV-tíðindi: 'Tað var ikki so langt síðan, milliónir av ungum fólkum vóru í fløguhandlunum og keyptu fløguna "Hvat bagir?" hjá Pálli Jákupssyni. Henda fløgan var sera væl umtókt. Nú fer Páll at geva út nýggja fløgu. Hon eitur "Pállpopp", og á henni er sangurin "Hipp hopp Havn", sum hann syngur saman við Frank Sinatra. Poppkongurin Páll, sum sigst vera fyrsti, føroyski milliarderur, fer at trína á pallin á einari stórari konsert í New York í juli. Hetta er aðru ferð, Páll upptraðkar í USA, har hann nú býr. Frá í dag ber eisini til at keypa eina syngjandi dukku, ið ímyndar Páll. Dukkan kann keypast á heimasíðuni hjá Pálli (www.pallpoppsangari.com) og kostar $100…'

Orðalýsingar

náttina < nátt (–ar, nætur), f.	the night	nýggja, adj.	new sum	that
svevur, vb.	is sleeping	poppkongurin < poppkong/ur (–s, –ar), m.	the king of pop
droymir, vb.	is dreaming
SV-tíðindi n. pl.	TV-news	sigst, vb.	is said
síðan	ago	fyrsti, adj.	first milliónir av < millión (–ar, –ir), f.	millions of	milliarder/ur (–s, –ar), m.	billionaire ungum, adj.	young	trína á pallin	to step on the stage fólkum < fólk (–s, ~), n.	people	stórari, adj.	big
		hetta	this
vóru, vb.	were	aðru ferð	the second time fløguhandlunum < fløguhandil (–s, handlar), m.	music shops	upptraðkar, vb.	performs ber til at	is possible to keyptu, vb.	bought	syngjandi, adj. indecl.	singing fløguna < fløg/a (–u, –ur), f.	the CD	dukku < dukk/a (–u, –ur), f.	doll hvat bagir?	what's up?	ið	that
henda	this	ímyndar, vb.	looks like, symbolises
sera	very	keypast, vb.	to be bought væl umtókt, adj.	well liked, popular	kostar, vb.	costs
geva út, vb.	to release

Venjing 15: Spurningar

(a) Hvussu eitur fyrra fløgan hjá Pálli?
(b) Hvussu eitur tann nýggja fløgan hjá Pálli?
(c) Hvør syngur "Hipp hopp Havn"?
(d) Er Páll ríkur?
(e) Hvar býr Páll?
(f) Hvat kann keypast á heimasíðuni hjá Pálli?

Orðatøk

Track 43

Tá ið ølið fer inn, fer vitið út 'When the beer goes in, reason goes out'

Høgt kall gevur høgt fall 'Pride goes before a fall'

Orðalýsingar

tá ið	when	kall (–s, køll), n.	calling, mission
vit (–s, –0), n.	reason, intelligence	fall (–s, føll), n.	fall
høgt, adj.	high

Veitst tú at...?

Tórshavn has approximately 20,000 inhabitants (íbúgvar) and is by far the biggest town in the Faroes. However, it is probably one of the smallest capitals (høvuðsstaður) in the world! It was first settled by the vikings (víkingar) more than 1000 years ago. They established a public assembly (løgting) on the promontory by the harbour (Tinganes). The first fort (tann fyrsti skansin) was built in the sixteenth century (í 16. øld) to protect trade and it is around this fort that the settlement first began to grow. In the eighteenth century people began to leave the villages (bygdir) and move to Tórshavn. The farmers in the villages were worried that they would lose their workforce (arbeiðsmegi) so special laws were passed to prevent this. The Danes abolished the Faroese parliament in 1816 and the islands became a Danish province (amt). Tórshavn was developed and acquired a library (bókasavn), a bank (banki) and a hospital (sjúkrahús). The Second World War (seinni heimsbardagi) saw Tórshavn and the rest of the Islands occupied by British troops (bretskir hermenn). Since the fifties and sixties, Tórshavn has expanded rapidly and developed into a modern town. Unlike many other Faroese towns that rely solely on fishing (fiskiídnaður), Tórshavn has various industries (ídnaðir). The town is also packed with cultural and sports opportunities: theatres (sjónleikarhús), a cinema (biografur), the Nordic House (Norðurlandahúsið), art galleries (listasøvn), the sports stadium known as Gundadalur, and a swimming pool (svimjihøll). The town centre, known as 'the roost' (Vaglið), is where the majority of the town's offices (skrivstovur), shops (handlar), hotels (gistingarhús), pubs (vertshús) and discos (diskotek) can be found. The borough (kommuna) of Tórshavn also includes the suburbs of Hoyvík and Argir, a number of smaller outlying villages such as Kirkjubøur, Velbastaður, Syðradalur, Norðradalur, Kollafjørður, Kaldbak, Kaldbaksbotnur, Sund and Hvítanes, as well as the three islands (oyggjar) Nólsoy, Hestur and Koltur.

4 Kann eg fáa matseðilin?

May I have the menu?

Track 44

In this unit you will learn about:

- the interrogative pronoun: hvør
- present tense: groups 3–4 verbs
- telling the time
- how to order and ask for things
- discussing food and places to eat
- how to pay a compliment and make a complaint
- numbers from 100
- the letters á, o and ó

In this unit, pay particular attention to the formation of the present tense and make sure you've fully understood how to tell the time in Faroese – it's not entirely straightforward!

Samrøða 1

Track 45

Morgunmatur

Claire situr og etur morgunmat saman við mostur sínari og Jákupi.

JÁKUP: Kanst tú rætta mær mjólkina, Claire?
CLAIRE: Ger so væl.
JÁKUP: Takk fyri.
KRISTIN: Claire, vilt tú ikki hava eitt sindur meira kaffi?
CLAIRE: Jú takk. Eg drekki altíð kaffi á morgni.
KRISTIN: Hvat ætlar tú tær at gera í dag?
CLAIRE: Eg má avheinta ein pakka á posthúsinum. Eg ætli eisini at spáka mær ein túr í viðarlundini.
KRISTIN: Vit ætlaðu at bjóða tær út til døgurða í kvøld. Ein nýggj matstova er í býnum, sum vit fegin vilja royna.
CLAIRE: Kul! Nær?
KRISTIN: Eg arbeiði til klokkan fýra og eri heima okkurt um klokkan fimm, men Jákup er ikki liðugur fyrr enn klokkan seks.
JÁKUP: Ja, og eg komi ikki heim fyrr enn klokkan hálvgum sjey.
KRISTIN: Skal eg so bíleggja eitt borð til í kvøld klokkan hálvgum átta?

Breakfast

JÁKUP: Ja, og kanst tú eisini ringja eftir einum hýruvogni?
KRISTIN: Sjálvandi.
CLAIRE: Hvør matstova er tað?
KRISTIN: Tað er ein italiensk matstova, men eg haldi, at tey hava alskyns mat úr Miðjarðarhavslondunum.
CLAIRE: Spennandi! Eg gleði meg longu til í kvøld.

Breakfast

Claire is sitting having breakfast with her aunt and Jákup.

JÁKUP: Could you pass the milk (please), Claire?
CLAIRE: Here you are.
JÁKUP: Thanks.
KRISTIN: Wouldn't you like some more coffee, Claire?
CLAIRE: Yes, please. I always drink coffee in the morning.
KRISTIN: What are you going to do today?
CLAIRE: I have to collect a parcel from the post office. I also want to go for a walk in the woods.
KRISTIN: We would like to take you out for dinner this evening. There is a new restaurant in town that we would like to try.
CLAIRE: Great! What time?
KRISTIN: I work until four o'clock and am home at around five. But Jákup isn't finished until six.
JÁKUP: Yes, and I won't get home until half past six.
KRISTIN: Shall I book a table for this evening at half past seven then?
JÁKUP: Yes, and can you call a taxi too?
KRISTIN: Of course.
CLAIRE: What kind of restaurant is it?
KRISTIN: It's an Italian restaurant, but I think they have all sorts of food from the Mediterranean.
CLAIRE: How exciting! I'm already looking forward to this evening.

Orðalýsingar

morgunmat < morgunmat/ur (–s, –ir), m.	breakfast	sum	that, which royna, vb.	to try
saman við	(together) with	kul!	great!
mostir (mostur, mostur), f.	aunt	nær	when
		til klokkan...	until... o'clock
rætta, vb.	to pass	okkurt um klokkan...	about... o'clock mjólkina < mjólk (–ar, ~), f.	the milk	liðug/ur, adj.	finished, ready milk	heim	home
ger so væl	here you are	ikki... fyrr enn	not... until
takk fyri	thanks	klokkan hálvgum sjey	half past six drekki, vb.	(I) drink	skal, vb.	shall altíð	always	so	then
má, vb.	must	bíleggja, vb.	to book, reserve
avheinta, vb.	to fetch	borð (–s, –0), n.	table

pakka < pakk/i (–a, –ar), m.	package	til í kvøld	for this evening ringja eftir, vb.	to phone for, call spáka, vb.	to stroll	hýruvogn < hýruvogn/ur (–s, –ar), m.	taxi
ein túr < túr/ur (–s, –ar), m.	a walk
sjálvandi	of course
spáka mær ein túr	go for a walk	haldi, vb.	(I) think, believe viðarlundini < viðarlund (–ar, –ir), f.	the woods, plantation	alskyns, adj. indecl.	all sorts of
	in Tórshavn	Miðjarðarhavslondunum < Miðjarðar havslondini, n. pl. def.	the Mediterranean countries
bjóða, vb.	to invite
døgurða < døgurð/i (–a, –ar), m.	dinner
		spennandi, adj. indecl.	exciting
matstov/a (–u, –ur), f.	restaurant	gleði meg til, vb.	(I) look forward to býnum < bý/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	the town	longu	already

Mállæra

The interrogative pronoun hvør [§6.6]

The interrogative pronoun hvør means 'who?', 'which?', 'what?' and inflects for gender, number and case.

		m.	f.	n.
sg.	nom.	hvør	hvør	hvat
	acc.	hvønn	hvørja	hvat
pl.	nom.	hvørjir	hvørjar	hvørji
	acc.	hvørjar	hvørjar	hvørji

Notice the similarity between this inflection pattern and the strong declension of adjectives. Some examples:

m. nom. sg.	hvør er tann stóri maðurin?	who is the big man?
m. nom. sg.	hvør maður?	which man?
m. nom. sg.	hvør er har?	who's there?
m. nom. sg.	hvør drongur er beiggi tín?	which boy is your brother?
m. nom. pl.	hvørjir eru teir?	who are they?
m. acc. sg.	hvønn tosi eg við?	who(m) am I speaking to?
f. acc. sg.	hvørja gentu elskar tú?	which girl do you love?
f. acc. sg.	hvørja tíð?	what time?[1]
f. acc. pl.	hvørjar bøkur lesur barnið?	what books is the child reading?
n. nom. sg.	hvat barn tosar føroyskt?	which child is speaking Faroese?
n. nom. sg.	hvat er á vási?	what is the matter?
n. acc. sg.	hvat sigur tú?	what are you saying?
n. nom. pl.	hvørji eru tey?	who are they?

1 In the sense of an appointment; for example, hvørja tíð fekk tú hjá læknanum? 'what time did you get an appointment at the doctor's?'. But usually nær or hvat klokkan is used for 'what time?', 'when?': nær kemur tú? 'what time are you coming?'

Venjing 1: Hvør

Translate the following sentences into Faroese:

(a) Who is the big man?
(b) What time is he coming?
(c) Which house is yours?
(d) Which book is he reading?
(e) Who are the Faroese men?
(f) Who are you talking to?
(g) What newspapers does she read?

Orðalýsingar

títt	yours	blað (–s, bløð), n.	newspaper
tosar við + acc.	are talking to

The present tense: group 3–4 verbs* [§7.3–7.4]

Group 3

Verb forms			ending	Examples	'hear'	'work'	'play'
INFINITIVE			–a	at	hoyra	arbeiða	spæla
PRESENT TENSE	Singular	First person	–i	eg	hoyri	arbeiði	spæli
		Second person	–ir	tú	hoyrir	arbeiðir	spælir
		Third person		hann, hon	hoyrir	arbeiðir	spælir
	Plural	First person	–a	vit	hoyra	arbeiða	spæla
		Second person		tit (tygum)	hoyra	arbeiða	spæla
		Third person		teir, tær, tey	hoyra	arbeiða	spæla

Group 4

Verb forms			ending	Examples	'die'	'live'	'row'
INFINITIVE			–a	at	doyggja	búgva	rógva
PRESENT TENSE	Singular	First person	–i	eg	doyggi	búgvi	rógvi
		Second person	–rt	tú	doyrt	býrt	rørt
		Third person	–r	hann, hon	doyr	býr	rør
	Plural	First person	–a	vit	doyggja	búgva	rógva
		Second person		tit (tygum)	doyggja	búgva	rógva
		Third person		teir, tær, tey	doyggja	búgva	rógva

It will be noticed that here, as with group 2 verbs, no –r is added in the second and third person singular forms if the stem ends in –r.

Group 4 verbs are a bit of a mixed bag, frequently with various changes in the stem of the verb. These changes in the stem are in fact often predictable and some of them are the result of a phonological phenomenon (known as skerping), and in time, you will be conjugating these verbs correctly with little thought.

Venjing 2: Verb groups

By looking at the information given for the verbs below, decide which group each verb belongs to:

(a) inf. berja (pres. 3. sg. berjir) 'to hit'
(b) inf. elska (pres. 3. sg. elskar) 'to love'
(c) inf. fremja (pres. 3. sg. fremur) 'to do'
(d) inf. frøa (pres. 3. sg. frøir) 'to please'
(e) inf. goyggja (pres. 3. sg. goyr) 'to bark'
(f) inf. grógva (pres. 3. sg. grør) 'to grow'
(g) inf. hugsa (pres. 3. sg. hugsar) 'to think'
(h) inf. kalla (pres. 3. sg. kallar) 'to call'
(i) inf. keypa (pres. 3. sg. keypir) 'to buy'
(j) inf. lýsa (pres. 3. sg. lýsir) 'to shine', 'advertise'
(k) inf. rópa (pres. 3. sg. rópar) 'to shout'
(l) inf. roykja (pres. 3. sg. roykir) 'to smoke'
(m) inf. smíla (pres. 3. sg. smílir) 'to smile'
(n) inf. súkkla (pres. 3. sg. súkklar) 'to cycle'
(o) inf. tiga (pres. 3. sg. tigur) 'to be silent'

Venjing 3: The present tense

Conjugate each of the verbs from Venjing 2 in all persons for the present tense. For example:

(a) eg berji; tú berjir; hann, hon, tað berjir; vit berja; tit berja; teir, tær, tey berja (also tygum berja).

Telling the time [§5.9]

Telling the time is fairly straightforward in Faroese but the prepositions may surprise you. Here are some examples to answer the quesion hvat er klokkan? 'what time is it?':

13:00		klokkan er eitt
13:05		klokkan er fimm minuttir yvir eitt
13:10		klokkan er tíggju minuttir yvir eitt
13:15		klokkan er eitt korter til tvey
	or	klokkan er eitt korter yvir eitt
13:20		klokkan er tíggju minuttir í hálvgum tvey
	or	klokkan er tjúgu minuttir yvir eitt
13:25		klokkan er fimm minuttir í hálvgum tvey
	or	klokkan er fimm og tjúgu minuttir yvir eitt
13:30		klokkan er hálvgum tvey
13:35		klokkan er fimm minuttir yvir hálvgum tvey
	or	klokkan er fimm og tjúgu minuttir í tvey
13:40		klokkan er tíggju minuttir yvir hálvgum tvey
	or	klokkan er tjúgu minuttir í tvey
13:45		klokkan er trý korter til tvey
13:50		klokkan er tíggju minuttir í tvey
13:55		klokkan er fimm minuttir í tvey
13.58		klokkan er tveir minuttir í tvey

Instead of repeating the word klokkan 'the time', we can say hon 'it'; for example hon er eitt korter til trý 'it's a quarter past two'.
The hour is given in the neuter form of the numeral (klokkan er eitt, tvey, trý, etc.).
Notice particularly how to express 'quarter' and 'half' with the hours.

Vocabulary connected to telling the time:

tím/i (–a, –ar), m.	hour	samdøgur (–s, –0), n.	24-hour period
korter (–s, –0), n.	quarter	fyrrapartur, f.p.	a.m.
minutt/ur (–s, –ir), m.	minute	seinnapartur, s.p.	p.m.
sekund (–s, –0), n.	second	ur (–s, –0), n., klokk/a (–u, –ur), f.	clock, watch

Some phrases:

klokkan fimm	(at) five o'clock
klokkan tolv á midnátt	(at) twelve o'clock midnight
klokkan tolv á middegi	(at) twelve o'clock midday
okkurt um klokkan tvey	around two o'clock
o. u. kl. 2 s. p.	around 2pm
klokkan er farin av seks	it's just after six (o'clock)
um sjeytíðina	at seven o'clock

fimm korter	an hour and a quarter klokkan er nógv	it's late
fyri eini løtu síðani	a moment ago
fyri hálvum tíma síðani	half an hour ago
fyri einum tíma síðani	an hour ago
um eina løtu	in a moment
um ein hálvan tíma	in half an hour
um ein tíma	in an hour
klokkan er ov skjót	the clock is fast
klokkan er ov sein	the clock is slow

Venjing 4: Telling the time

Read and write out in full the following times into Faroese:

(a) 3:15	(e) 7:05	(i) 18:30
(b) 4:40	(f) 9:50	(j) 19:20
(c) 5:45	(g) 12:55	(k) 21:00
(d) 6:25	(h) 14:10	(l) 23:25

Venjing 5: Telling the time Track 46

Listen to the people on the recording asking what the time is – hvat er klokkan? Then draw the correct times on the blank clock faces below:

(a) (b) (c) (d)

Samrøða 2 Track 47

Døgurði 1. partur

Claire, Kristin og Jákup fara inn í matstovuna.

KRISTIN: Her er hugnaligt!
JÁKUP: Nei. Her er ov myrkt. Eg síggi einki.
KRISTIN: Tað er romantiskt, Jákup.

CLAIRE: Tað haldi eg eisini. Ljósið er so óføra dámligt.
TÆNARIN: Gott kvøld!
JÁKUP: Gott kvøld. Kona mín hevur bílagt eitt borð til klokkan hálvgum átta.
TÆNARIN: Hvat var eftirnavnið?
JÁKUP: Poulsen.
TÆNARIN: Á ja. Her er bíleggingin. Borðið hjá tykkum er har. Skal eg taka yvirklæðini hjá tykkum?
ØLL: Takk fyri.
TÆNARIN: Her er matseðilin. Eg komi aftur um eina løtu.

Øll hyggja at matseðlinum.

CLAIRE: Tað eru nógvir lekrir rættir her. Eg veit ikki, hvat eg skal fáa mær.
KRISTIN: Eg sigi so við! Og eg veit ikki, um eg klári at eta bæði forrætt og høvuðsrætt og so eisini fáa mær okkurt omaná.
JÁKUP: Eg síggi ikki, hvat stendur á matseðlinum. Her er so myrkt.
KRISTIN: Oy, oy, Jákup! Brúka kertiljósið.
JÁKUP: Hvat sigur tú? Tónleikurin er ov hart frá. Eg hoyri teg ikki.
KRISTIN: Pianoleikarin spælir so heilt fantastiskt. Óførur er hann. Eg haldi, at hatta er maðurin hjá starvsfelaga mínum.
JÁKUP: Kann vera, men vit sita ov nær, og eg hoyri ikki, hvat tit siga. Tænari! Tænari!
TÆNARIN: Ha?
JÁKUP: Vit vilja fegin hava eitt annað borð. Er hatta borðið yviri við vindeygað upptikið? Kunnu vit ikki sita har?
TÆNARIN: Nei, tað er ikki upptikið. Gerið so væl.
JÁKUP: Takk fyri.

Kristin, Jákup og Claire flyta yvir til vindeygaborðið.

JÁKUP: Hetta var betri, ha? Hygga. Vit síggja havnarlagið hiðani.
CLAIRE: Ja, og sum kvøldroðin er vakur.

Tey lesa matseðilin, og síðani kemur tænarin aftur.

TÆNARIN: Hvat vilja tit hava?
KRISTIN: Eg ætlaði at byrja við carpaccio; síðani stoktan tosk vendan í raspi.
TÆNARIN: Gaman í.
CLAIRE: Eg ætlaði at fáa jomfrúhummara. Tournedos sum høvuðsrætt.
TÆNARIN: Eitt gott val, mademoiselle. Monsieur?
JÁKUP: Hvat er dagsins suppa?
TÆNARIN: Tað er eplasuppa við súrroma og hvítleyki.
JÁKUP: Hmmm, tað ljóðar einki serliga miðjarðarhavskent, men helst er tað ein góð suppa. Lat meg fáa hana og so eisini ein enskan búff.
TÆNARIN: Skulu tit hava vín aftur við matinum? Eg mæli til, at tit royna húsins vín. Tað er eitt gott franskt chardonnay. Vit hava eisini eitt gott italienskt frascativín.
JÁKUP: Eina fløsku av tí franska chardonnay.
TÆNARIN: Gaman í.

Dinner Part 1

Claire, Kristin and Jákup enter the restaurant.

KRISTIN: It's cosy here!
JÁKUP: No. It's too dark here. I can't see anything.
KRISTIN: It's romantic, Jákup.
CLAIRE: I think so too. The light is very atmospheric.
THE WAITER: Good evening.
JÁKUP: Good evening. My wife has reserved a table for half past seven.
THE WAITER: What is your surname?
JÁKUP: Poulsen.
THE WAITER: Ah, yes. Here's the reservation. Your table is there. Shall I take your coats?
EVERBODY: Thank you.
THE WAITER: Here's the menu. I'll come back in a moment.

Everybody looks at the menu.

CLAIRE: There are many delicious dishes here. I don't know what to have.
KRISTIN: I should say so! And I don't know whether I can manage to eat both a starter and a main course and have dessert.
JÁKUP: I can't see what it says on the menu. It's so dark here.
KRISTIN: Oh, Jákup! Use the candle.
JÁKUP: What did you say? The music is too loud. I can't hear you.
KRISTIN: The pianist is playing really amazingly. He's got talent. I think he is my colleague's husband.
JÁKUP: Maybe so, but we are sitting too close and I can't hear what you are saying. Waiter! Waiter!
THE WAITER: Yes?
JÁKUP: We would like another table. Is that table over by the window taken? Couldn't we sit there?
THE WAITER: No, it is not taken. Help yourselves.
JÁKUP: Thanks

Kristin, Jákup and Claire move over to the table by the window.

JÁKUP: This is better, isn't it? Look. We can see the harbour from here.
CLAIRE: Yes, and isn't the sunset beautiful?

They read the menu and then the waiter returns.

THE WAITER: What would you like?
KRISTIN: I'd like to start with carpaccio, and then fried cod in breadcrumbs.
THE WAITER: Very good.
CLAIRE: I'd like to have the Norway lobster. Tournedos for my main course.
THE WAITER: A good choice, mademoiselle. Monsieur?
JÁKUP: What is the soup of the day?
THE WAITER: It's potato soup with creme fraiche and garlic.
JÁKUP: Hmmm, that doesn't sound expecially Mediterranean, but I dare say it is a good soup. I'll take that and an English-style steak.

THE WAITER: Would you like some wine with your meal? I can recommend you try the house wine. It is a good French chardonnay. We also have a good Italian frascati.
JÁKUP: A bottle of the French chardonnay.
THE WAITER: Very good.

Orðlýsingar

fara inn	enter
hugnaligt, adj.	cosy, charming
ov	too
myrkt, adj.	dark
síggi, vb.	(I) see
einki	nothing
romantiskt, adj.	romantic
ljósið < ljós (–0, –0), n.	the light
so óføra	so very, really
dámligt, adj.	atmospheric, pleasant
bílagt, vb.	reserved
bíleggingin < bílegging (–ar, –ar), f.	the reservation
har	there
taka, vb.	take
yvirklæðini < yvirklæði n. pl.	the outdoor clothes
matseðilin < matseðil (–s, –seðlar), m.	the menu
aftur	back
um eina løtu	in a moment
hyggja at, vb.	look at nógvir	many
lekrir, adj.	delicious
rættir < rætt/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	dishes fáa mær, vb.	have, take
eg sigi so við!	I should say so!
um	whether, if
klári, vb.	(I) manage
bæði… og…	both… and…
forrætt < forrætt/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	first course høvuðsrætt < høvuðsrætt/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	main course okkurt omaná	something after, dessert
stendur, vb.	[here:] it says
brúka, vb.	use!
kertiljósið < kertiljós (–0, –0), n.	the candle
ov hart frá	too loud
pianoleikarin < pianoleikar/i (–a, –ar), m.	the pianist
ov nær	too close
vindeygað < vindeyg/a (–a, –u[r]), n.	the window upptikið	occupied
gerið so væl	you're welcome; here you are; please; help yourselves
flyta, vb.	move
yvir til	over to
betri	better
hygga, vb. imp.	look!
havnarlagið < havnarlag (–s, –løg), n.	the harbour area
hiðani	from here
sum	[here:] how, isn't
kvøldroðin < kvøldroð/i (–a, –ar), m.	the sunset (glow)
vakur, adj.	beautiful
sum kvøldroðin er vakur	isn't the sunset beautiful!
stoktan, adj.	fried
tosk < tosk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	cod vendan, adj.	turned, covered
raspi < rasp (–s, ~), n.	breadcrumbs
gaman í	very good (sir/madam)
jomfrúhummara < jomfrúhummar/i (–a, –ar), m.	Norway lobster, Dublin Bay prawn, langoustine
val (–s, val), n.	choice
dagsins suppa	soup of the day
eplasuppa < eplasupp/a (–u, –ur), f.	potato soup
súrroma < súrróm/i (–a, ~), m.	creme fraiche
hvítleyki < hvítleyk/ur (–s, –ir), m.	garlic
ljóðar einki serliga miðjarðarhavskent	doesn't sound particularly Mediterranean
helst	I dare say
lat meg fáa hana	I'll take it, give me that
búff < búff/ur (–s, –ar), m.	steak
vín (–s, –0), n.	wine
aftur við	with
mæli til, vb.	I recommend
fløsku av < fløsk/a (–u, –ur), f.	bottle of
so heilt fantastiskt	really fantastically
ófør/ur, adj.	skillfull, great, talented starvsfelaga < starvsfelag/i (–a, –ar), m.	colleague kann vera, vb.	may be
annað, adj.	another, a different yviri við	over by

Mállæra

How to reserve a table, order food and ask for things

Below are a number of useful phrases for eating out. There are two important constructions to note:

– 'I want', 'I would like' – the adverb fegin [fɛ:jɪn]
To say you want to do something use the phrase eg vil fegin 'I want'; for example, eg vil fegin bíleggja eitt borð 'I want/would like to reserve a table', eg vil fegin spáka mær ein túr 'I want to go for a walk', eg vil fegin bjóða tær út at eta døgurða í kvøld 'I want/would like to invite you out for dinner this evening'. To say you would like something use the phrase eg vil fegin hava 'I would like (to have)'. All of these phrases make use of the adverb fegin. This adverb is difficult to translate into English but means something like 'with pleasure', 'willingly'. Together with the verb vilja it expresses either a polite request, for example, eg vil fegin tosa við teg 'I would like to talk to you'; willingness, for example, eg vil fegin hjálpa tær 'I am willing to help you', or desire, for example, eg vil fegin koma 'I shall be glad to come, 'I want to come'.

– 'May I?', 'could I?', 'could you?'
To ask whether you may or could do something, say kann eg? 'may I?', 'could I'; for example, kann eg taka yvirklæðini hjá tykkum? 'may I take your coat?', kann eg fáa matseðilin? 'may I have the menu?'. To ask whether someone else could do something, say kanst tú? 'could you?'. Notice that these questions sound rather direct or rude if translated literally into English where the conditional is preferred together with 'please'. There is no such construction in Faroese, and the phrases above are considered perfectly polite.

Eg vil fegin bíleggja eitt borð	I would like to reserve a table
til tvey /trý / fýra (fólk)	for two / three / four (people)
til í kvøld / annaðkvøld	for this evening / tomorrow evening
klokkan seks / sjey / átta	for six / seven / eight o'clock
Kann eg fáa matseðilin?	May I have the menu, please?
Hava tit nakran føroyskan mat?	Do you have any Faroese food?
Eg eri vegetarur / Eg eti bara grønmeti	I'm vegetarian
Hava tit nakran mat til vegetarar?	Do you have anything suitable for vegetarians?
Eg eti ikki kjøt / fisk / svínakjøt	I don't eat meat / fish / pork
Hvat hoyrir til?	What does it include? What's included?
Eg vil fegin hava…	I would like…

Kann eg fáa...?	Could I have...?
Tað smakkar lekkurt / væl	It tastes delicious / good
Tað er...	It's...
ov seigt / kalt / ikki heilt kókað	too tough / cold / not cooked through
Kann eg fáa rokningina?	May I have the bill?
Kanst tú rætta mær...?	Could you pass me...?
saltið / piparið / sukurið	the salt / the pepper / the sugar

Food

1. Meals

morgundrekk/a (–u, –ur), f.	breakfast	millummál/i (–a, –ar), m.	afternoon tea morgunmat/ur (–s, –ar), m.	lunch	nátturð/i (–a, –ar), m.	dinner, supper (evening)
døgurð/i (–a, –ar), m.	dinner (midday or evening)

2.Typical Faroese food

a. Traditional ways of preserving and serving meat and fish bleytræst/ur	hung and dried (wind-cured) and fermented for a short while fesk/ur	freshly caught

kókað/ur	boiled
lakasaltað/ur	preserved in salt water
ræst/ur	hung, dried and fermented
saltað/ur	salted
skarpræst/ur	hung, dried and fermented for a long time skinsað/ur	boiled, salted, then hung and dried stokt/ur	roasted
turr/ur	dried by hanging
visnað/ur	part-dried by hanging and lightly fermented

b. Fish and whale products

(fiska)knetti (–s, –[r]), n.	dumplings made of fish and sheep's tallow frikadęll/a (–u, –ur), f.	fried burgers, patties (usually made of fish) grind (–ar, –ir), f.	pilot whale (can be fresh, salted, hung or dried) grindabúff/ur (–s, –ar), m.	thin steaks of whale meat
saltgrind (–ar, ~), f.	salted and boiled whale meat
spik (–s, ~), n.	blubber of the pilot whale
tvøst (–s, ~), n.	meat of the pilot whale

c. Meat products

blóðpyls/a, (–u, –ar) f.	black pudding
fyltur sperðil (–s, sperðlar), m.	Christmas sausage (made from a sheep's rectum stuffed with intestines and tallow)
garnatálg (–ar, ~), f.	kneaded tallow from around sheep's intestines
havhest/ur (–s, –ar), m.	fulmar
livur (livrar, livrar), f.	liver (served í sós 'in gravy')
lomvig/i (–a, –ar), m.	guillemot
lund/i (–a, –ar), m.	puffin (usually served fylt/ur 'stuffed')
nát/i (–a, –ar), m.	young fulmar
purrusúpan (–ar, –ir), f.	= skólpasúpan
rullupyls/a (–u, –ur), f.	a spiced meat roll made from lamb, pork and onions
seyðarhøvd (–s, –0), n.	sheep's head (boiled)

skerpikjøt (–s, ~), n.	one-year-old hung and dried mutton or lamb
skinsakjøt (–s, ~), n.	boiled, salted and hung mutton
skólpasúpan (–ar, –ir), f.	soup made of lambs' testicles
slambur (–s, –0), n.	edible offal (for example, sperðil 'gut', nýra 'kidney', vomb 'stomach')
súlupyls/a (–u, –ur), f.	sausage (with skin made from a gannet's stomach)
tálgarlivur (–livrar, –livrar), f.	lamb's liver filled with tallow or suet
turt kjøt (–s, ~), n.	hung and dried meat (mutton or lamb)

d. Faroese soups

súpan (–ar, –ir), f.	soup (Faroese)
breyðsúpan	soup made from bread, sugar and beer
fesk súpan	soup made from freshly slaughtered sheep
fuglasúpan	soup made from seabirds
knettasúpan	fish-ball soup
røst súpan	soup made from hung meat

3. Other foods

a. Soups

suppa (–u, –ur), f.	soup	fiskasúpan	fish soup
súpan (–ar, –ir), f.	soup (Faroese style)	høsnasúpan	chicken soup aspargussúpan	asparagus soup	suppa við grønmeti	vegetable soup ertnasúpan	pea soup

b. Fish

fisk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	fish	laks/ur (laks, –ar), m.	salmon
brosm/a (–u, –ur), f.	cusk, tosk	makręl/ur (–s, –ar), m.	mackerel fiskaboll/i (–a, –ar), m.	fish-ball	reyðsprøk/a (–u, –ur), f.	plaice fiskakøk/a (–u, –ur), f.	fish cake	rækj/a (–u, –ur), f.	prawn háv/ur (hás, –ar), m.	shark	saltfisk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	salted fish høgguslokk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	octopus, squid	seið/ur (–s, –ir), m.	coalfish hummar/i (–a, –ar), m.	lobster	síl (–s, –0), n.	trout hýs/a (–u, –ur), f.	haddock	sild (–ar, –ir), f.	herring
kalv/i (–a, –ar), m.	halibut	svartkjaft/ur (–s, –ar), m.	blue whiting klippfisk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	dried and salted fish	tosk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	cod
		tunfisk/ur (–s –ar), m.	tuna
kongafisk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	ocean perch	tung/a (–u, –ur), f.	lemon sole

c. Meat and poultry

búff/ur (–s, –ar), m.	steak	høsnarung/i (–a, –ar), m.	(young) chicken
kjøt (–s, ~), n.	meat	kálv/ur (–s, –ar) m.	veal
fugl/ur (–s, –ar), m.	poultry	lamb (–s, lomb) n.	lamb flesk (–s, ~), n.	(roasting) pork	lambskjøt (–s, ~), n.	lamb (meat of)
frikadęll/a (–u, –ur), f.	fried burgers (patties) of veal, pork and onions	livurpostei (–ar, –ir), f.	liver pâté
		malið kjøt n.	minced meat
		neytakjøt (–s, ~), n.	beef
		dunn/a (–u, –ur), f.	duck
gás (–ar, gæs), f.	goose	postei (–ar, –ir), f.	pâté hakkibúff/ur (–s, –ar), m.	beef burgers, beef patties	pyls/a (–u, –ur), f.	sausage
		steikt pylsa	fried sausage
høn/a (–u, –ur), f,	chicken	kókað pylsa	boiled sausage

seyð/ur (–ar, –ir), m. sheep
seyðakjøt (–s, ~), n. mutton
skink/a (–u, –ur), f. ham kókað skinka boiled ham steik (–ar, –ir), f. steak; roast kálvasteik veal steak lambssteik lamb steak
oksasteik beef steak
gjøgnumstokt well-done
'tað bløðir' rare
svínakjøt (–s, ~), n. pork
veðr/ur (–ar, –ir), m. ram

d. Eggs

egg (egs, –0), n. egg spailegg, steikt egg fried egg harðkókað egg boiled egg røregg scrambled egg
eggjakøka (–u, –ur), f. omelette
(also omelet)
eggjahvíti (–a, –ar), m. egg white
eggjareyði (–a, –ar), m. egg yolk

e. Vegetables

grønmeti (–s, ~), n. vegetables
agurk/a (–u, –ur), f. cucumber
blómkál (–s, –0), n. cauliflower
bøn (–ar, –ir), f. bean
epli (–s, –[r]), n. potato
eplamorl (–s, ~), n. mashed potatoes
grønertur (–ertrar, –ertrar), m. pea gularót (–ar, –røtur), f. carrot
kál (–s, –0), n. cabbage
leyk/ur (–s, –ir), m. onion
mais (–0, ~), n. sweetcorn
piparfrukt (–ar, –ir), f., pepper pipar (–s, –0), n.
reytt pipar red pepper
grønt pipar green pepper piparrót (–ar, ~), f. horseradish
radis/a (–u, –ur), f. radish
reyðkál (–s, –0), n. red cabbage
reyðrót (–ar, –røtur), f. beetroot salat (–s, –0), n. salad blandað salat mixed salad grønt salat green salad sellarí (–s, ~), m. celery
sopp/ur (sops, –ar), m. mushroom spinat (–s, ~), n. spinach tomat (–ar, –ir), f. tomato

f. Side orders, dressings etc.

bolli (–a, –ar), m. bun, bread roll
breyð (–s, ~), n. bread
edik/ur (–s, ~), m. vinegar
franskbreyð (–s, ~), n. white bread horn (–s, –0), n. crescent-shaped roll kips n. pl. chips, french fries kjøtsós (–ar, –ir), f. meat sauce
majones/a (–u, ~), n. mayonnaise margarin (–s, ~), m. margarine
matolj/a (–u, –ur), f. oil
nudl/a (–u, –ur), f. noodle
olj/a (–u, –ur), f. oil
ost/ur (–s, –ar), m. cheese
pastasós (–ar, –ir), f. pasta sauce
pitabreyð (–s, ~), n. pita bread remulát/a (–u, ~), f. mayonnaise mixed with piccalilli
rís (–0, ~), n. rice
rugbreyð (–s, ~), n. ryebread rundstykki (–s, –0), n. breakfast roll sinoppur (–s, ~), m. mustard
smør (–s, ~), n. butter
sós (–ar, –ir), f. sauce, gravy tomatsós (–ar, –ir), f. tomato sauce

g. Dessert and cakes

dessert (–s, –ir), m. dessert omaná dessert
ísur (ís, ~), m. ice-cream
kak/a (–u,–ur), f. cake
køk/a (–u, –ur), f. cake gularótakøka/–kaka carrot-cake formakøka/–kaka sponge cake rabarbukøka/–kaka rhubarb cake pannukak/a (–u, –ur), f. pancake súreplakak/a (–u, –ur), f. stewed apple dessert tert/a (–u, –ur), f. tart, pie wienerbreyð (–s, –0), n. Danish pastry

h. Snacks, sandwiches etc.

bomm (boms, –0), n., sweet, piece of drops (–0, –0), n., candy góðgæti (–s, –[r]), n.¤ fløtaost/ur (–s, –ar), m., cream cheese rómaost/ur¤ (–s, –ar), m. kips n. pl. crisps, chips (Am.)
ost/ur (–s, –ar), m. cheese
smyrjibreyð (–s, –0), n. open sandwich
smyrjiost/ur (–s, –ar), m. soft cheese
speigipyls/a (–u, –ur), f. salami-style sausage viðsker/i (–a, –ar), m. toppings for sandwiches (sausage, cheese etc.)
viðskerabreyð (–s, –0), n. open sandwich

i. Breakfast items

havragreyt/ur (ar, ~), m. oat porridge
hunang/ur (–s, ~), m. honey
hvít/a (–u, ~), f. fromage frais jogurt (–s, ~), n. yoghurt
marmulát/a (–u, ~), f. marmelade, jam
músli (–s, –[r]), n. muesli omegabreyð (–s, –0), n. wholemeal bread ristað breyð (–s, ~), n. toast rundstykki (–s, –[r]), n. roll súltutoy (–s, ~), m. jam

j. Fruit and nuts

frukt (–ar, –ir), f. fruit
appilsin (–ar, –ir), f. orange
banan (–ar, –ir), f. banana ber (–s, –0), n. berry bláber bilberry, blueberry hindber raspberry jarðber strawberry
kirsuber cherry
blomm/a (–u, –ur), f. plum
drúv/a (–a, –ur), f. grape
fersk/a (–u, –ur), f. peach jarðnøt (–ar, –ir), f. peanut kastanj/a (–u, –ur), f. chestnut mandarin (–ar, –ir), f. mandarin melón (–ar, –ir), f. melon
nøt (–ar, –ir), f. nut
per/a (–u, –ur), f. pear
rabarb/a (–u, –ur), f. rhubarb
rosin/a (–u, –ur), f. raisin sitrón (–ar, –ir), f. lemon
súrepli (–s, –[r]), n. apple
svisk/a (–u, –ur), f. prune víndrúv/a (–a, –ur), f. grape

k. Seasonings, herbs and spices

basilikum (–s, ~), n. basil
dild (–ar, ~), f. dill
grønleyk/ur (–s, –ir), m. chive hvítleyk/ur (–s, –ir), m. garlic
kanel (–s, ~), n. cinnamon
karry (–s, ~), n. curry
kili (–s, ~), n. chilli
lavrber (–s, ~), n. bay leaf merian (–s, ~), n. marjoram
muskattnøt (–ar, ~), f. nutmeg
nelikur (–s, –ar), m. clove persilla (–u, ~), f. parsley pipar (–s, ~), n. pepper rosmarin (–s, ~), n. rosemary
salt (–s, ~), n. salt
salvia (–u, ~), f. sage sukur (–s, ~), n. sugar
timian (–s, ~), n. thyme

l. Drinks

drekkivør/a (–u, –ur), f., drink
drykk/ur (–jar –ir), m., okkurt at drekka appilsindjús (–0, –0), n. orange juice brennivín (–s, –0), n. schnapps drekkajogurt (–s, –0), n. drinking yoghurt
kaffi (–s, ~), n. coffee
við mjólk with milk
við róma with cream
kakao (–s, –0), n. hot chocolate
kakaomjólk (–ar, ~), f. cold drinking-chocolate
likør/ur (–s, –ar), m. liquor limonad/a (–u, ~), f. lemonade

mjólk (–ar, ~), f.		milk	sodavatn (–s, ~), n.		soft drink
(skúmað mjólk	(0.1%)	skimmed)	te (–s, ~), n.		tea
soltimjólk	(0.1%)	skimmed	við mjólk		with milk
lættimjólk	(0.5%)	low-fat	við sitrón		with lemon
(hálvskúmað mjólk	(1.5%)	semi-skimmed)	vatn (–s, ~), n.		water millummjólk	(1.5%)	semi-skimmed	við ísi		with ice
vanlig mjólk	(3%)	full-cream	uttan ís		without ice
maltøl (–s, –0), n.		malted beer	við kólsýru		sparkling pilsnar/i (–a, –ar), m.		lager	uttan kólsýru		non-sparkling rúsdrekk/a (–u, –ur), f.		alcoholic drink, alcohol	vín (–s, –0), n.		wine hvítvín		white wine
saft (–ar, ~), f.		juice; soft drink	kampavín		sparkling wine sjampanj/a (–u, ~), f.		champagne	reyðvín		red wine snaps/ur (–0, –ar), m.		schnapps	øl (–s, –0), n.		beer

m. Related nouns

borð (–s, –0), n.	table	matstov/a (–u, –ur), f.	restaurant
borðiskur (–s, –ar), m.	dish, soup plate	restauratión (–ar, –ir), f.	restaurant
(borð)dúk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	tablecloth	rokning (–ar, –ar), f.	bill, check café (–ar, –ir), f.	café	serviett/ur (serviets, –ar), m.	napkin, serviette
fløsk/a (–u, –ur), f.	bottle
gaffil (–s, gaflar), m.	fork	skál (–ar, –ir), f.	bowl
glas (–0, gløs), n.	glass	skeið (–ar, –ir), f.	spoon grillbarr (–ar, –ir), f.	burger bar	tallerk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	plate kaffistov/a (–u, –ur), f.	café	tannsteytar/i (–a, –ar), m.	toothpick knív/ur (–s, –ar), m.	knife	teskeið (–ar, –ir), f.	teaspoon kopp/ur (–s, –ar), m.	cup	tænar/i (–a, –ar), m.	waiter
krúss (–0, –0), n.	mug	øskubikar (–s, –0/–bikør), n.	ashtray

n. Related adjectives

bakað/ur	baked	kryddað/ur	spicy
fesk/ur	fresh	nýggj/ur	fresh
heit/ur	hot, warm	søt/ur	sweet
kald/ur	cold	spilt/ur	stale
kókað/ur	boiled	súltað/ur	pickled

When you're ordering coffee or tea you might be asked brúkar tú útí? 'do you take anything in it (i.e. milk and/or sugar)?'

Venjing 6: Understanding the menu

Look at the café menu below and answer the questions. There are two abbreviations: v/ stands for við 'with', and o.ø. stands for og øðrum 'and others', 'and other things'.

Prislisti

Suppa	25,00
Salat (stór skál)	30,00
Salat (lítil skál)	25,00
Smyrjibreyð	25,00

Franskbreyð v/egg, tomat ella rækjum	28,00
Franskbreyð v/laksi	35,00
Franskbreyð v/rækjum	35,00
Grovbolli við laksi, rækjusalat o.ø.	35,00
Rundstykki	8,00
Horn v/salati og skinku	35,00
Tallerkur v/frikadellu	35,00
Wienarbreyð	10,00
Gularótakøka	25,00
Formakøka	7,00
Dessertir	20,00
Drykkir:
Kaffi	14,00
Cappucino	20,00
Espresso	20,00
Kakao	20,00
Te	12,00
Sodavatn (lítil)	10,00
Sodavatn (stór)	12,00
Øl og maltøl	14,00

(a) What could you order if you wanted a vegetarian sandwich?
(b) How much would a bowl of soup, a small salad and a bread roll cost?
(c) Is it possible to buy a glass of white wine?
(d) How would you ask for a coffee and a slice of carrot-cake?
(e) How would you say that the carrot-cake tastes delicious?
(f) How would you ask whether there is any Faroese food?

Venjing 7: Ordering from the menu

Track 48

Listen to Anna ordering a meal for herself from the menu above. What does she order?

Venjing 8: Types of food

Label the following jumbled menu items a, b, c or d according to their correct headings:

FORRÆTTIR (a)	HØVUÐSRÆTTIR (b)	OMANÁ (c)	DRYKKIR (d)
súreplakaka	øl	te	ostar
kaffi	hvítleyksbreyð	fiskasúpan	ísur
oksasteik	køka	pitsa	búffur
kalvi	sodavatn	lítil tomatsalat	fuglasúpan

Samrøða 3

Track 49

Døguriði 2. partur

Familjan tosar eitt sindur, meðan tey bíða eftir matinum.

KRISTIN: Hasin kjólin, sum tú ert í, Claire, er vakur. Er hann nýggjur?
CLAIRE: Nei. Eg hevði hann við úr Edinburgh. Ja, eg haldi hann vera penan.
KRISTIN: Hann riggar væl.
CLAIRE: Takk. Blusan hjá tær er eisini pen, Kristin.
JÁKUP: Jú, tað haldi eg eisini. Tit eru tvær av teimum vakrastu gentunum í Havn í kvøld!
KRISTIN: Oyjøssus, Jákup. Sum tú ert fjákutur!

Tænarin kemur við matinum.

TÆNARIN: Carpaccio, jomfrúhummari, eplasuppa… Væl gagnist!
ØLL: Takk fyri.
CLAIRE: Namminamm, sum hetta smakkar!
KRISTIN: Ja, tað smakkar ordiliga væl.
JÁKUP: Hvat er hatta fyri nakað?
KRISTIN: Hvat?
JÁKUP: Hatta – í suppuni hjá mær. Tað sær út sum ein fluga! Tænari! Tænari! Ein fluga er í suppuni hjá mær!

Tænarin kemur yvir til teirra.

TÆNARIN: Hvat bagir?
JÁKUP: Ein fluga er í suppuni.
TÆNARIN: Hatta sær út sum eitt persillublað, men sjálvandi fáa tygum ein nýggjan supputallerk. Tygum mugu orsaka.

Tænarin kemur aftur við einum nýggjum súpanartallerki.

TÆNARIN: Tygum mugu orsaka okkum. Her hava tygum ein nýggjan tallerk við suppu.
JÁKUP: Takk. Hetta smakkar nógv betri, men suppan er eitt sindur køld. Tænari!
TÆNARIN: Ja.
JÁKUP: Suppan hjá mær er køld.
TÆNARIN: Tað harmar meg. Tygum skulu fáa ein nýggjan skamt av suppu.

Og soleiðis gongur alt kvøldið. Jákup heldur, at tænarin er ov seinur í vendingini og ókurteisur; at tónleikurin er ov hart frá; at tað gýsur frá vindeyganum; at búffurin hjá sær er ov seigur, dessertirnar ov heitar, og kaffið ov sterkt. Alla tíðina klagar hann, meðan Kristin og Claire rættiliga hugna sær og halda, at bæði matstovan og maturin eru framúr góð. Nú skulu tey gjalda.

JÁKUP: Eg vil fegin betala nú, takk.
TÆNARIN: Tað verða 905 krónur tilsamans. Dessertirnar og drekkivørurnar eru upp á húsið.

JÁKUP: Takk. Slíkt gestablídni. Her eru 910 krónur. Tú skalt eiga rest!
TÆNARIN: Takk fyri. Góða nátt!
ØLL: Góða nátt.

Claire, Kristin og Jákup fara. Tey tosa saman, meðan tey ganga niðan gøtuna.

CLAIRE: Hatta var ein deilig matstova!
KRISTIN: Og sum toskurin smakkaði væl!
JÁKUP: Og bíligt var tað eisini!

Tænarin hyggur út ígjøgnum gluggan, meðan hann hugsar 'Eitt sovorðið vittuggi, hasin maðurin!'

Restaurant Mediterraneo

Borð ~~12~~ 7

1 x carp.	95,-
1 x jomfrúhum.	100,-
1 x suppa	80,-
1 x toskur í raspi	200,-
1 x tournedos	220,-
1 x ensk. búffur (gjøgn.)	210,- ~~1 x ostatall.~~
~~1 x køka~~
~~1 x frit. camembert~~ ~~2 x kaffi~~
~~1 x espresso~~
~~1 x fl. chardon.~~
~~2 x cognac~~
~~1 x gr. mariner~~
í alt	905,--

Dinner Part 2

The family talks a bit while they are waiting for the food.

KRISTIN: That's a pretty dress you're wearing, Claire. Is it new?
CLAIRE: No. I brought it with me from Edinburgh. Yes, I think it is nice.
KRISTIN: It suits you.
CLAIRE: Thanks, and your blouse is pretty as well, Kristin.
JÁKUP: Yes, I think so too. You are two of the most beautiful women in Tórshavn this evening!
KRISTIN: Good grief, Jákup. Aren't you silly!

The waiter arrives with the food.

THE WAITER: Carpaccio, lobster, potato soup… Bon appétit!
EVERBODY: Thanks.
CLAIRE: Yum, this tastes great!
KRISTIN: Yes, it is really delicious.
JÁKUP: What's that?
KRISTIN: What?
JÁKUP: That – in my soup. It looks like a fly! Waiter! Waiter! There's a fly in my soup!

The waiter comes over to their table.

THE WAITER: What's the matter?
JÁKUP: There's a fly in my soup.
THE WAITER: It looks like a leaf of parsley, but of course you'll get a new bowl of soup. I beg your pardon.

The waiter returns with a new bowl of soup.

THE WAITER: I am very sorry. Here is a new bowl of soup for you.
JÁKUP: Thank you. This tastes much better, but the soup is a bit cold. Waiter!
THE WAITER: Yes.

JÁKUP: My soup is cold.
THE WAITER: I'm sorry. You'll get a new portion of soup.

And the whole evening passes in this way. Jákup thinks that the waiter is too slow and rude; that the music is too loud; that there's a draught from the window; that his steak is too tough, the desserts too hot, and the coffee too strong. All the time he is complaining, while Kristin and Claire have a really nice time and think that both the restaurant and the food are extremely good. Now they have to pay.

JÁKUP: I would like to pay now, please.
THE WAITER: It comes to 905 krónur all together. The desserts and drinks are on the house.
JÁKUP: Thanks. What hospitality. Here's 910 krónur. Keep the change!
THE WAITER: Thanks. Good night!
EVERYBODY: Good night.

Claire, Kristin and Jákup leave. They chat as they walk up the street.

CLAIRE: That was a lovely restaurant!
KRISTIN: And didn't the cod taste wonderful!
JÁKUP: And it was cheap too!

The waiter looks out through the peephole while thinking 'What an unpleasant man!'

Orðalýsingar

meðan while
bíða eftir, vb. wait for hasin that kjólin (the) dress < kjól/i (–a, –ar), m. ert í, vb. are wearing penan, adj. nice, pretty riggar væl, vb. suits you blusan (the) blouse < blus/a (–u, –ur), f. teimum vakrastu the most beautiful gentunum (the) girls < gent/a (–u, –ur), f.
oyjøssus good grief!
sum how, aren't fjákutur, adj. silly
væl gagnist! bon appétit!
ordiliga væl really good hvat er hatta fyri nakað? what is that?
sær út sum, vb. looks like flug/a (–u, –ur), f. fly
hvat bagir? what's wrong?
persillublað leaf of parsley (–s, –bløð), n.
supputallerk dish of soup, soup plate < supputallerk/ur (–s, –ir), m. tygum mugu orsaka I beg your pardon soleiðis in this way, like this gongur, vb. [here:] passes alt kvøldið the entire evening heldur, vb. thinks sein/ur í vendingini [here:] slow ókurteisur, adj. rude tað gýsur there is a draught seigur, adj. tough dessertirnar the desserts < dessert (–s, –ir), m. heitar, adj. warm

sterkt, adj. strong, hot alla tíðina all the time, the whole time klagar, vb. to complain
rættiliga really
hugna sær, vb. have a pleasant time framúr exceptionally gjalda[H], vb. to pay betala, vb. to pay (spoken lang.) tað verða... tilsamans that comes to... drekkivørurnar the drinks < drekkivør/a (–u, –ur), f. upp á húsið on the house, free of charge slíkt, adj. such, what gestablídn/i (–a, ~), f. hospitalility

súpanartallerki dish of soup, soup plate < súpanartallerk/ur (–s, –ir), m.
okkum us
tallerk við suppu dish of soup < tallerk/ur (–s, –ir), m.
nógv betri much better
køld, adj. cold
tað harmar meg I'm sorry skamt portion < skamt/ur (–s, –ar), m.
suppu soup < supp/a (–u, –ur), f.

eiga, vb. [here:] to keep restin the change; remainder, what's left < rest (–ar, –ir), f.
niðan up
deilig, adj. lovely, delightful bíligt, adj. cheap
hyggur út, vb. look out ígjøgnum through gluggan peephole < glugg/i (–a, –ar), m.
eitt sovorðið what an vittuggi (–s, –[r]), n. unpleasant person

Mállæra

Paying a compliment – using sum and sovorðin

If you want to compliment someone, use one of the following phrases:

sum tú riggar! you look great!

sum { tann kjólin / tann frisuran / hetta } riggar væl! { that dress / that hairdo / this } really suits you!

Notice how sum is used in the following phrases taken from the dialogues above:

sum kvøldroðin er vakur!
sum tú ert fjákutur!
sum hetta smakkar!
sum toskurin smakkaði væl!

Another useful phrase is ein sovorðin (m. / f.), eitt sovorðið (n.), 'such a', although like sum it isn't restricted to paying compliments!

ein sovorðin penur kjóli	such a pretty dress
ein sovorðin vøkur genta	such a beautiful girl
eitt sovorðið vittuggi	such an unpleasant man
føroyskt er eitt sovorðið torført mál	Faroese is such a difficult language

Complaints

A useful word when complaining is ov 'too':

Tað er ov kalt / ov seigt / ov sterkt / ov dýrt
'It's too cold / too tough / too strong / too expensive'

Numbers from 100 [§5.1]

Large numbers are separated into thousands with a decimal point. The comma is use to separate values below 1:

6.234	seks túsund tvey hundrað og fýra og tretivu	(=English 6,234)
6,234	seks komma tvey trý fýra	(=English 6.234)

The year in Faroese is read thus:

1945	nítjan hundrað og fimm og fjøruti
2008	tvey túsund og átta
1236	tólv hundrað og seks og tretivu
526	fimm hundrað og seks og tjúgu

Note also that BC is f. Kr. (= fyri føðing Krists) and AD is e. Kr. (= eftir føðing Krists). The equivalent to BCE (before Common Era) is FOT (= fyri okkara tíðarrokning) and CE (Common Era) is EOT (= eftir okkara tíðarrokning) in Faroese.

Venjing 9: Numbers

Write out the following numbers in full:

(a) 117	(d) 443	(g) 7.324
(b) 298	(e) 536	(h) 61.859
(c) 375	(f) 682	(i) 20.090

The letters á, o and ó

Track 50

1. Á

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letter á:

sjálvandi	átta	spáka
midnátt	mál	klára
hálvgum	Jákup	fáa

2. O

Track 51

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letter o:

posthús	romantiskur	tosa
klokkan	pianoleikari	kvøldroði
gott	koma	noða 'ball of yarn'
politi 'police'	matstova	loða 'to hang low'

3. Ó

Track 52

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letter ó:

dóttir	nógv	bjóða
mjólk	Jógvan	stórur
stórt	rógva	krónur

Lesistykki 1

Ein bílegging

A: Góðan dag! Restaurant Mediterraneo.
B: Góðan dag. Eg vil fegin bíleggja eitt borð til í kvøld.
A: Til hvussu nógv fólk?
B: Til trý.
A: Roykjarar ella ikki-roykjarar?
B: Ikki-roykjarar.
A: Hvat klokkan?
B: Klokkan átta.
A: Fínt, fínt. Eitt borð til trý, klokkan átta, og ikki-roykjarar.
B: Ja takk.
A: Vit síggjast í kvøld. Farvæl.
B: Farvæl.

Venjing 10

Complete the following conversation:

A: Gott kvøld.
B: Say good evening and that you would like to book a table for tomorrow.
A: Eg haldi, at vit eru fult bókað í morgin... hvat klokkan?
B: Say half past seven.
A: Og til hvussu nógv fólk?
B: Say two.
A: Roykjarar ella ikki-roykjarar?
B: Say smoking.
A: Fínt. Vit hava eitt borð. Vit síggjast klokkan hálvgum átta.
B: Say thank you and goodbye.

Venjing 11

Complete the following conversation:

A: Halló.
B: Say good morning and that you would like to book a table for tonight at 8 o'clock.

A: Til hvussu nógv fólk?
B: Say five
A: Roykjarar ella ikki-roykjarar?
B: Say non-smoking.
A: Fínt. Vit síggjast klokkan átta.
B: Say thank you and goodbye.

Lesistykki 2

Ein matseðil

Restaurant Mediterraneo
Matseðilin

Opið hvønn dag frá kl. 11.00 – 24.00

Forrættir

Carpaccio	Kr. 95,00
Stoktur høgguslokkur	Kr. 95,00
Jomfrúhummari av grillini við hvítleyki	Kr. 100,00
Hvítleyksbreyð við salati og skinku	Kr. 95,00
Dagsins suppa	Kr. 80,00

Høvuðsrættir

Fiskur

Urtabakaður toskur	Kr. 200,00
Lættstoktar jákupsskeljar	Kr. 205,00
Stoktur toskur í raspi av koriander og dild við mildari sinnopssós	Kr. 200,00
Fiskasymfoni (3 sløg av fiski)	Kr. 195,00

Kjøt

Nachos við høsnabringu, mozarellaosti, tzaziki og pestosalsa	Kr. 175,00
Tournedos stokt við foie gras og reyðrótasalati við súreplum og dagsins eplum ella pommes frites	Kr. 220,00
Heilstokt lambssneið í rósmarin við nýggjum grønmeti og dagsins eplum	Kr. 210,00
Stokt perluhøna við soppum og dagsins eplum ella pommes frites	Kr. 205,00
Enskur búffur við leyki, agurksalati, kókaðum eplum og dagsins eplum ella pommes frites	Kr. 210,00
Parisarbúffur (malið neytakjøt stokt við ljósum breyði). Kapers, pickles, piparrót, leyk, reyðrót og eggjareyða afturvið	Kr. 220,00

Piparbúffur flamberaður við cognac við nýggjum grønmeti og dagsins eplum	Kr. 220,00

Pitsur

Margherita	Tomatsós og ostur	Kr. 95,00
Vesuvio	Tomatsós, ostur og skinka	Kr. 100,00
Quattro Stagioni	Tomatsós, ostur, oksakjøt, soppar, flesk og skinka	Kr. 110,00
Calzone	(samanbakað) Tomatsós, ostur, rækjur, skinka og soppar	Kr. 115,00

Pasta

Tortellini	Kjøtfylt pasta við skinku, soppum, róma, kjøtsós og parmesanosti	Kr. 105,00
Jóansa Spagetti	Spagetti við skinku, leyki og soppum í róma- og tomatsós	Kr. 115,00
Spagetti Bolognese	Spagetti við italskari kjøtsós	Kr. 115,00

Annað

Omelet við t. d. rækjum, asparges, skinku, osti, soppum ella øðrum. Sigið hvat tygum ynskja	--------
Vit hava eisini mat til vegetarar. Spyr tænaran hvat køkurin hevur at bjóða	--------

Omaná

Djúpstoktur Camembert-ostur borðreiddur við sólberjasúltutoy og ristaðum breyði	Kr. 80,00
Ostatallerkur - ymisk sløg av góðum ostum úr Evropa	Kr. 80,00
Dagsins køka	Kr. 70,00
Íssymfoni	Kr. 55,00

Tyst? Siggj tað stóra øl- og vínkortið hjá okkum…

Orðalýsingar

av grillini	from the grill	kókaður, adj.	boiled
grill (–ar, –ir), f.	grill, barbecue	flamberaður, adj.	flambé urtabakaður, adj.	herb-baked	samanbakað, adj.	folded and baked lættstoktar, adj.	lightly fried	kjøtfylt, adj.	filled with meat jákupsskeljar < jákupsskel (–jar, –jar), m.	scallops	djúpstoktur, adj.	deep-fried borðreiddur, adj.	served
symfoni (–ar, –ir), f.	symphony	ristaðum, adj.	toasted høsnabringu < høsnabring/a (–u, –ur), f.	chicken breast	ymisk sløg av	different types of
		tyst, adj.	thirsty
heilstokt, adj.	roasted in one piece	ølkort (–s, –0), n.	beer list lambssneið (–ar, –ir), f.	cut of lamb	vínkort (–s, –0), n.	wine list
perluhøn/a (–u, –ur), f.	guinea fowl

Venjing 12: Spurningar

(a) Hava tey nakran mat til vegetarar?
(b) Hvat vildi tú fegin fáa til forrætt? høvuðsrætt? dessert?
(c) Tú hevur bara 500 krónur og tú vilt keypa døgurða til tín og vinin hjá tær. Hvat hevur tú ráð til at keypa?

Orðalýsingar

hevur ráð til can afford < hava ráð til, irr. vb.

Lesistykki 3

Ummæli

EIN NÝGGJ HUGNALIG MATSTOVA Í HAVN

Restaurant Mediterraneo er ein nýggj restauratión, sum liggur miðskeiðis í Havn. Eigarin eitur Pætur Hansen og hann drívur matstovuna saman við beiggja sínum Jóan. Báðir beiggjarnir eru útbúnir kokkar, ið lærdu í Keypmannahavn og Paris.

Teir eru óføra glaðir fyri mat úr Miðjarðarhavslondunum, og teir vildu fegnir opna eina spennandi nýggja matstovu í heimabýnum hjá sær.

Restaurant Mediterraneo er ein 'topklass' restauratión við passandi prísum! Beiggjarnir gera seg serkønar við rættum úr Italia, Fraklandi, Spania og Grikkalandi, sum teir geva ein føroyskan smakk. Teir hava eitt frálíkt úrval av víni, og allur maturin er gjørdur úr teirri allarbestu rávøruni. Beiggjarnir brúka so mangar rávørur sum møguligt. Setur tú prís upp á góðan mat, royn Restaurant Mediterraneo!

Orðalýsingar

ummæli (–s, –i[r]), n. review liggur, vb. is situated, is miðskeiðis near the centre eigarin the owner < eigar/i (–a, –ar), m.
drívur, vb. manages, runs báðir both útbúnir, adj. trained, educated kokkar chefs < kokk/ur (–s, –ar), m.
lærdu, vb. trained opna, vb. open
heimabýnum the hometown < heimabý/ur (–ar, –ir), m. passandi, adj. indecl. matching prísum prices < prís/ur (–0, –ir/–ar), m.
gera seg serkønar, vb. specialise smakk taste < smakk/ur (smaks, –ir), m. frálíkt, adj. excellent úrval (–s, –0), n. selection gjørdur, adj. made teirri allarbestu, adj. the very best rávøruni the raw materials < rávør/a (–u, –ur), f. mangar many møguligt, adj. possible setur prís upp á, vb. value

Venjing 13: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Restaurant Mediterraneo er ein gomul matstova.
(b) Matstovan er í Klaksvík.
(c) Tveir beiggjar dríva matstovuna.
(d) Matstovan selur bara føroyskan mat.
(e) Restaurant Mediterraneo er ein bílig matstova.
(f) Gestirnir kunnu ikki keypa rúsdrekka í matstovuni.

Orðatak

Track 53

Tað er ikki altíð, matbruður stendur opin
'Carpe diem', 'Make the most of every moment'

Orðalýsingar

matbruður (bruns, brunnar), m. spring or well with drinking water

The usual word for a well or spring is brunn/ur (–s, –ar), m.

Veitst tú at...?

Traditional Faroese food (traditionellur føroyskur matur) may seem unusual to those used to a more continental European style. In their isolated society (samfelag) with its harsh climate (veðurlag) and nature (náttúra), the Faroese had to make use of whatever they could find, especially as provisions (vørur) from the outside world were unreliable. Faroese food was thus based on sheep (seyður), birds (fuglur), fish (fiskur) and whale (grind). Most animal parts were used with the exception of the contents of the intestine (gor) and the gall bladder (gall). This resulted in remarkable ingredients such as rukkulakki (a ruminant's third stomach) and unusual dishes such as fyltur sperðil (sausage stuffed in a sheep's rectum) and súlupylsa (sausage stuffed in a gannet's stomach). The islands' poor soil was used to grow grass for sheep and cattle, corn (korn), root vegetables (røtur) and, more recently, potatoes (eplir).

A nice cup of Faroese tea!

Before the era of refrigerators and freezers, food was preserved largely through drying. Meat (kjøt) would be hung and dried in special drying houses (hjallar), which are still used and can be seen today. Hung, dried meat is called ræst. Because of the high salt content in the air, the meat would not rot, allowing varying grades of drying (for example, bleytræst means that the meat has been dried for a short while, and skarpræst means the meat has been hung for a much longer period, over a year, and can be eaten raw). Fish (fiskur) is also dried, although often out in the open rather than in the hjallur.

Whale meat (tvøst) has always been an important part of the Faroe Islanders' diet (kostur). Whale meat is often boiled together with potatoes and whale blubber (spik) to provide a nutritional meal, although it is something of an acquired taste for an outsider.

Today, of course, the Faroese diet is much more varied. There are supermarkets selling food from around the world and restaurants (matstovur) and cafés (caféir) serving international as well as Faroese cuisine.

5 Hvussu sleppi eg til bankan?
How do I get to the bank?

Track 54

In this unit you will learn about:

- how to ask for directions
- how to give directions
- present tense: strong and irregular verbs
- the indirect object (dative)
- the genitive case
- possessive constructions: summary
- the letters e and ø

Samrøða 1

Track 55

Claire leitar eftir bankanum

CLAIRE: Orsaka meg.
H. Á G.:* Ha?
CLAIRE: Veitst tú ta stytstu leiðina til onkran banka?
H. Á G.: Bankin, sum er stytst burturfrá, hm, hann liggur í Niels Finsensgøtu.
CLAIRE: Hvussu finni eg?
H. Á G.: Beint fram og omaneftir. Tá tú kemur til ferðsluljósini, skalt tú fara til høgru. Tá tú so ert komin til kioskina, skalt tú fara til vinstru og fara yvir um gonguteigin. Einar 100 metrar frá gonguteiginum,vinstrumegin, er bankin.
CLAIRE: Beint fram… Snara til høgru… Snara til høgru við kioskina.
H. Á G.: Nei, nei. Snara til vinstru við gongugøtuna. Kioskin er høgrumegin. Har skalt tú yvir um vegin við gonguteigin.
CLAIRE: O.K. Og so beint fram. Tá eg havi gingið 100 metrar, komi eg til bankan, sum er høgrumegin.
H. Á G.: Nei, bankin liggur vinstrumegin.
CLAIRE: Vinstrumegin. Eg skilji. Takk fyri hjálpina.
H. Á G.: Einki at takka fyri.

Claire gongur omaneftir. Her steðgar eitt ungt par í einum bili henni.

MAÐUR: Orsaka.
CLAIRE: Ja.
MAÐUR: Ert tú staðkend í býnum?
CLAIRE: Nei, einki sum so.
MAÐUR: Veitst tú, hvar SMS er?
CLAIRE: Ja, tað er lætt at finna. Tit skulu koyra niðaneftir. SMS er har uppi.

MAÐUR: Er tað langt hiðani?
CLAIRE: Nej, umleið einar 400 metrar.
MAÐUR: Takk fyri!
CLAIRE: Einki at takka.

Claire snarar til høgru og gongur, til hon kemur til kioskina, men nú minnist hon ikki, um hon skal fara til høgru ella til vinstru. Hon fer inn í kioskina.

KIOSKEIGARI: Góðan dagin.
CLAIRE: Góðan dagin. Hevði tú kunnað hjálpt mær? Eg leiti eftir bankanum.
KIOSKEIGARI: Hann er ikki so langt hiðani. Tú skalt fara yvir um vegin beint her við Steinatún og so beint omaneftir Niels Finsensgøtu. Bankin er vinstrumegin.
CLAIRE: Takk fyri.

Claire fer yvir um vegin, og skjótt hevur hon funnið bankan.

* H. Á G. = Hin á gongubreytini.

Orðalýsingar

From now on, the news words in the texts are ordered alphabetically in the word-lists and they only appear in their dictionary form (for example, nominative forms for nouns and infinitive forms for verbs). There are no translations of the dialogues.

bank/i (–a, –ar), m.	bank	lætt/ur, adv.	easy
beint, adv.	just, right, straight	minnast (minnist), vb.	to remember beint fram, adv.	straight ahead	niðaneftir, adv.	up the road beint her, adv.	right here	Niels Finsensgøt/a (–u), f.	main shopping-street in Tórshavn
burturfrá, adv.	away
einar 100 metrar (acc.)	some 100 metres	omaneftir, adv.	down the road einki sum so	not really	onkran (acc.)	a, any fara (fer[t]) yvir, vb.	cross	orsaka meg	excuse me ferðsluljós, n. pl.	traffic lights	par (–s, pør), n.	couple finna (finnur), vb.	to find, get to	skjótt, adv.	quickly funnið, sup. < finna, vb.	found	snara (snarar), vb.	turn gingið, sup. < ganga, vb.	walked	staðkend/ur, adv.	see vera staðkend/ur gongubreyt (–ar, –ir), f.	pavement, sidewalk	steðga (steðgar), vb.	to stop gonguteig/ur (–s, –ar), m.	pedestrian crossing	Steinatún (–s), n.	street in Tórshavn har uppi, adv.	up there	stytstu < stytt/ur, adv.	shortest hiðani, adv.	from here	tá, conj.	when hin á gongubreytini	passer-by [lit. the one on the pavement]	til høgru, adv.	right
		til vinstru, adv.	left hjálp (–ar, ~), f.	help	um, conj.	whether høgrumegin, adv.	on the right	umleið, adv.	approximately kiosk (–ar, –ir), f.	kiosk, newsagents	veg/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	road koyra (koyrir), vb.	to drive	vera (er) staðkend/ur	to know one's way around leið (–ar, –ir), f.	way, route
leita (leitar) eftir, vb.	to look for	vinstrumegin, adv.	on the left

Venjing 1: Claire's route through Tórshavn

Plot Claire's route through Tórshavn on this map. Where do you think the kiosk mentioned in the dialogue is?

Mállæra

Directions

Track 56

The following phrases are useful for asking directions:

Umskylda/Orsaka, hvar er…?	Excuse me, where is…?
Hvussu finni eg… + acc.?	How do I get to…?
Kanst tú siga mær vegin til… + acc.?	Can you tell me the way to…?
Er hetta rætti vegurin til… + acc.?	Is this the right way to…?
Er tað langt hiðani?	Is it far from here?
Er tað langt vekk/burt?	Is it far?
Kanst tú vísa mær á kortinum?	Can you show me on the map?
Eg leiti eftir… + dat.	I'm looking for…
Eg eri vilst/ur (m.) / vilst (f.)	I'm lost

Giving directions:

Track 57

Far / Gakk beint fram	Go / Walk straight ahead
Snara til vinstru / til høgru	Turn left / right
á næsta horni	at the next corner
við ferðsluljósini	at the traffic lights
Tak ta næstu gøtuna til vinstru / høgru	Take the next street on the left / right
Far um hornið	Go round the corner
Fylg skeltunum til Havnar	Follow the signs to Tórshavn
Tað er tvær gøtur omaneftir	It's two streets down
Tað er 100 metrar herfrá	It's 100 metres from here
Tað er 10 minuttir at ganga	It's a ten-minute walk

Maps

vegakort (–s, –0), n.	road map
býarkort (–s, –0), n.	town map, town plan

Location:

á høgru hond	on the right, on the right-hand side
á horninum	on the corner
á vinstru hond	on the left, on the left-hand side
aftan fyri… + acc.	behind
(beint) um hornið	(just) round the corner framman fyri… + acc.	in front of
nærindis	nearby
tætt við… + acc.	close to, near
við síðuna av… + dat.	next to
yvir av… + dat.	opposite

Landmarks and natural features:

á (–ar, –ir), f.	river
alment vesi (–s, –[r]), n.	public toilet
bank/i (–a, –ar), m.	bank
berghol (–s, –0), n.	tunnel
biograf/ur (–s, –ar), m.	cinema
bø/ur (bíggjar, –ir), m.	cultivated field
bókasavn (–s, –søvn), n.	library
brúgv (–ar, brýr), f.	bridge
bussstøðgiplass (–0, –0), n.	bus-stop
bø/ur (–ar / bíggjar, –ir), f.	cultivated grass field
bygning/ur (–s, –ar), m.	building
dal/ur (–s, –ar), m.	valley
ferðaskrivstov/a (–u, –ur), f.	travel agent
ferðsluljós n. pl.	traffic lights
fjall (fjals, fjøll), n.	mountain
fjallarygg/ur (–ryggjar, –ir), m.	mountain ridge
fjørð/ur (fjarðar, firðir), m.	fjord
fornminnissavn (–s, –søvn), n.	museum
foss/ur (foss, –ar), m.	waterfall
geil (–ar, –ar), f.	street; alleyway
gongubreyt (–ar, –ir), f.	pavement
gonguteig/ur (–s, –ar), m.	pedestrian crossing
gøt/a (–u, –ur), f.	street
gøtuhorn (–s, –0), n.	street corner
hag/i (–a, –ar), m.	field (for) grazing
hav (–s, høv), n.	sea, ocean
heyggj/ur (heygs, –ar), m.	hill
horn (–s, –0), n.	corner
hotell (hotels, –0), n.	hotel

ítróttarvøll/ur (–vallar, –ir), f.	stadium
kirkj/a (–u, –ur), f.	church
krossveg/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	crossroads
kunningarstov/a (–u, –ur), f.	tourist office
leið (–ar, –ir), f.	path
listasavn (–s, –søvn), n.	art gallery
løgreglustøð (–ar, –ir), f.	police station
miðbý/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	town centre
nes (–0, –0), n.	headland, cape
oyggj (–ar, –ar), f.	island
postboks (–ar, –ir), f.	postbox
posthús (–0, –0), n.	post office
sjónleikarhús (–0, –0), n.	theatre
skelti (–s, –0), n.	sign
sker (–s, –0), n.	rock, skerry
skúl/i (–a, –ar), m.	school
strond (strandar, strendur), f.	beach, shore
sund (–s, –0), n.	strait, channel
telefonboks (–ar, –ir), f.	telephone box
tjaldplass (–0, –0), n.	campsite
tjørn (tjarnar, tjarnir), f.	small lake
tún (–s, –0), n.	alleyway
vatn (–s, vøtn), n.	lake
veg/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	road
vegamót (–s, –0), n.	junction, road
vík (–ar, –ir), f.	bay, cove

Venjing 2: Directions

Translate the following dialogue into Faroese:

A: Excuse me. Is there a bank near here?
B: Yes. There's a bank on the corner.
A: Thank you.
B: You're welcome.

Venjing 3: Directions

Complete the following dialogue.

A: _____ _____, veitst tú _____ _____ _____ til posthúsið?
B: Ja, far _____ fram og _____ til høgru við kioskina. Posthúsið _____ vinstrumegin.
A: _____ tað _____ hiðani?
B: Nei, _____ einar 100 metrar.
A: _____ fyri!
B: Einki _____ _____.

Venjing 4: Directions

Track 58

Listen as Malan asks for directions, then answer the questions below:

(a) Where does Malan want to go?
(b) What is the first direction given to her?
(c) What should she do after turning left?
(d) Is it far?

Venjing 5: Directions Track 59

Páll ( ) is standing in Tórsgøta. He asks his way to three different places. Listen to the recording and work out which place he is trying to get to. Label the boxes (a, b and c) on the map below.

Venjing 6: Directions

Translate the following dialogue into Faroese:

A: Excuse me. Is there a supermarket near here?
B: Yes. There's one near here.
A: How do I get there?
B: At the traffic lights, take the first left and go straight on. It's on the left.
A: Is it far?
B: Not really.
A: Thank you.
B: Don't mention it.

Addresses

adress/a (–u, –ur), f.,
bústað/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	address
gøt/a (–u, –ur), f.	street
veg/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	road
postnummar (–s, –nummur), n.	postcode, zipcode

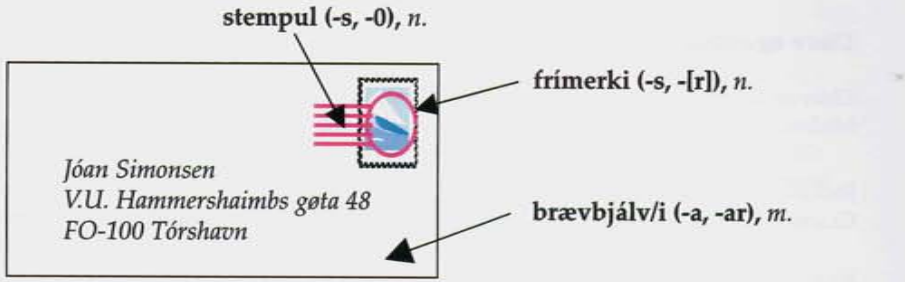
For example:



Note that the number of the street is written after the name of the street in Faroese. When writing an address, do not include the name of the island, but be sure to use the correct postnummar! FO is the international abbreviation used for the Faroe Islands in addresses, on car number-plates, internet addresses etc.

Venjing 7: Addresses

You want to buy a new Faroese dictionary at the local bookshop in Klaksvík. Unfortunately, there is none left in stock, but the shop assistant will order one for you. He is going to contact you as soon as it arrives. Complete the dialogue:

Ekspedientur:	Hvussu eitur tú?
Tú:	Tell him.
Ekspedientur:	Hvussu skrivar mann tað?
Tú:	Tell him.
Ekspedientur:	Hvar býrt tú?
Tú:	Say in Klaksvík. My address is Íslandsvegur 12.
Ekspedientur:	Hvat er telefonnummarið?
Tú:	10 12 78.
Ekspedientur:	Eg ringi til tín, so títt og knapt bókin er komin.
Tú:	Thank him.
Ekspedientur:	Farvæl.
Tú:	Say goodbye.

Present tense of strong and irregular verbs [§7.5–7.11]

We have already met a number of irregular verbs in the texts so far (for example, er (<vera) 'is', býr (<búgva) 'live', veit (<vita), 'knows'). It is difficult to give any rules for their conjugation in the present tense – they are, after all, irregular! Remember that group 2 –ur verbs as well as group 4 –r/–rt verbs often change their stem vowel in the second and third person singular: eg sovi, but tú svevur (<sova 'to sleep'), eg gangi, but tú gongur (<ganga 'to walk'), eg búgvi, but tú býrt (<búgva 'to live'). The grammar section of this course has more details. If in doubt, you can also check the vocabulary lists or consult a dictionary.

Samrøða 2

Track 60

Claire og Jógvan koyra í bili. 1. partur.

Claire og Jógvan ferðast saman. Jógvan skal vitja ein garð í Suðuroy. Hann skal skriva eina grein um bóndan.

JÓGVAN: Er hetta fyrsta ferðin, tú ert í Suðuroy, Claire?
CLAIRE: Nei, eg var her eina feriu sum smágenta. Familjan leigaði eini lítil summarhús í Øravík.
JÓGVAN: Ein vinur mín er úr Øravík!
CLAIRE: Hann kenni eg nokk ikki, Jógvan! Eg minnist næstan einki frá teirri feriuni!
JÓGVAN: Ná ja, sjálvandi. Hevur tú familju í Suðuroy?
CLAIRE: Nei, tann føroyski parturin av familjuni hjá mær býr í Havn og Klaksvík. Hvaðani er tín familja?
JÓGVAN: Upprunaliga úr Vágum. Omma mín býr enn í Sandavági, men nú havi eg eisini familju í Havn, Vestmanna og við Gjógv.
CLAIRE: Gjógv, hvar er tað?
JÓGVAN: Í Eysturoynni.
CLAIRE: Er tað vakurt har?
JÓGVAN: Ja, heilt ótrúliga vakurt. Har er ein natúrhavn og nøkur gomul hús. Mann kann ganga norðureftir og vestureftir niðan úr bygdini. Hægsta fjallið í Føroyum, Slættaratindur, er skamt frá Gjógv.
CLAIRE: Hvussu høgt er tað?
JÓGVAN: Sum tú spyrt. Hvussu í Guðs garði skuldi eg kunnað vitað tað? Eg haldi, at tað er umleið einar 900 metrar.
CLAIRE: Tað kundi eg hugsað mær at sætt onkran dagin.
JÓGVAN: So kunnu vit gera eina avtalu. Men nú eru vit í trongum skóm kortini!
CLAIRE: Hví?
JÓGVAN: Vit eru vilst!

Orðalýsingar

avtal/a (–u, –ur), f. date, appointment; deal einki n. < eingin, pron. nothing enn, adv. still
ferð (–ar, –ir), f. time ferðast (ferðast), vb. to travel, be on a journey
fjall (fjals, fjøll), n. mountain fyrst/ur, adj. first garð/ur (–s, –ar), m. farm grein (–ar, –ar/–ir), f. article heilt, adv. totally, completely hvaðani, adv. from where hvussu í Guðs garði? how on earth?
hægst/ur < høg/ur, adj. highest ið, relative particle which, that kortini, adv. for all that, all the same, nonetheless kunna (kann[st]) hugsað sær at + sup. to fancy, want kunnað sup. < kunna, vb. could leigaði pret. < leiga (leigar), vb. to rent lítil, adj. small mann, pron. one, you
natúrhavn (–ar, –ir), f. natural harbour
nokk, adv. probably norðureftir, adv. northwards næstan, adv. almost nøkur n. pl. < nakar some ótrúliga, adv. incredibly, unbelievably
part/ur (–s, –ar), m. part sjálvandi, adv. of course
skamt, adv. not far, close
skógv/ur (skós, –ar), m. shoe Slættaratind/ur, m. name of a mountain smágent/a (–u, –ur), f. small girl spyrja (spyr[t]), vb. to ask summarhús n. pl. summerhouse sætt, sup. < siggja, vb. seen trong/ur, adj. tight upprunaliga, adv. originally vera (er) í trongum skóm to be in trouble [lit. to be in tight shoes] vestureftir, adv. westwards vilst/ur, adj. lost
vitað, sup. < vita, vb. known

The word hús is often used in the plural in Faroese when it means '(dwelling) house' as opposed to 'building'.

Venjing 8: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Jógvan vitjar familju í Suðuroy.
(b) Tað er fyrstu ferð, Claire er í Suðuroy.
(c) Jógvan kennir ein mann úr Øravík.
(d) Familjan hjá Jógvani er úr Vágum.
(e) Gjógv er í Streymoynni.
(f) Gjógv er ein stórur býur.
(g) Slættaratindur er hægsta fjallið í Føroyum.

Mállæra

Points of the compass

in the north / south / east/ west	norðuri / suðuri / eysturi / vesturi
towards the north / south / east / west	norður / suður / eystur / vestur
from the north / south / east / west	norðan / sunnan / eystan / vestan
north of / south of / east of / west of	norðan fyri / sunnan fyri / eystan fyri / vestan fyri

The Dative Case

Formation of the dative

Nouns singular [§3.1–3.3]

Masculine nouns:	____/ur	>	____/i	veg/ur 'road' (veg–)	>	vegi
	____/i	>	____/a	tím/i 'hour' (tím–)	>	tíma
Feminine nouns:	____/0	>	____/0	bók 'book' (bók–)	>	bók
	____/a	>	____/u	gent/a 'girl' (gent–)	>	gentu
Neuter nouns:	____/0	>	____/i	hús 'house' (hús–)	>	húsi
	____/a	>	____/a	eyg/a 'eye' (eyg–)	>	eyga

Nouns plural [§3.1–3.3]

All nouns take the ending –um in the dative plural:

m. pl. veg/ur > veg/um, tím/i > tím/um
f. pl. bók > bók/um, gent/a > gent/um
n. pl. hús > hús/um, eyg/a > eyg/um

Nouns – Definite

	Masculine	Feminine	Neuter
Singular	–(i)num	–(i)ni	–(i)num
Plural	–num	–num	–num

The –m of the dative plural is dropped before the definite ending –num is added:

m. pl. vegum + –num > vegunum, tímum + –num > tímunum
f. pl. bókum + –num > bókunum, gentum + –num > gentunum
n. pl. húsum + –num > húsunum, eygum + –num > eygunum

Adjective endings – The Dative [§4.2–4.3]

Weak declension

	m.	f.	n.
sg.	–a	–u	–a
pl.	–u	–u	–u

Strong declension

	m.	f.	n.
sg.	–um	–ari	–um
pl.	–um	–um	–um

Personal pronouns [§6.1]

		Singular	Plural
First		mær	okkum
Second	inf.	tær	tykkum
	pol.	tygum	tygum
Third	m.	honum	teimum
	f.	henni	teimum
	n.	tí	teimum

Use of the dative [§3.5]

1) The indirect object stands in the dative case in Faroese:

Eg gevi manninum bókina
'I give the man the book' / 'I give the book to the man'

Hann selur mær eitt kort
'He sells me a map' / 'He sells the map to me'

The indirect object usually directly precedes the direct object in Faroese.

2) The dative case is used after certain verbs (for example, bjóða 'to invite', hjálpa 'to help', trúgva 'to believe'):

Vit ætlaðu at bjóða tær út til døgurða í kvøld
'We're considering inviting you out for dinner this evening'

Kanst tú hjálpa mær? 'Can you help me?'

Trýrt tú honum? 'Do you believe him?'

3) The dative is also required after certain prepositions (we will be looking at this in more detail later; see also §8.2–8.3 for details):

Tað er bilurin hjá henni	'It is her car'
Hann er úr Vágum	'He is from Vágar'

Venjing 9: Personal Pronouns

Read the following text and fill in the gaps with the correct personal pronouns. Pay particular attention to the gender, number and case you need to use:

Claire og Jógvan koyra í bili. (a)_____ eru í Suðuroynni. (b)_____ er ikki fyrsta ferðin, Claire er í Suðuroynni. (c)_____ hevur verið har sum barn. Jógvan spyr (d)_____, um (e)_____ kennir vinin hjá (f)_____ úr Øravík. Vinurin eitur Jóhannes, og (g)_____ er 24 ára gamal. Claire sigur, at (h)_____ ikki kennir (i)_____. Claire spyr Jógvan, hvaðani familja hansara er. Jógvan svarar, at (j)_____ koma upprunaliga úr Vágum. Omma (k)_____ býr enn í Sandavági. (l)_____ býr á einum ellisheimi. Mostir (m)_____ býr við Gjógv. (n)_____ er gift við einum manni úr Danmark. (o)_____ eitur Søren. (p)_____ hava tvey børn. (q)_____ er ótrúliga vakurt við Gjógv.

Orðalýsingar

ellisheim (–s, –0), n. home for the elderly

Venjing 10: Cases

Read the following text and fill in the gaps with the correct form of the nominative nouns, pronouns and adjectives in brackets. Pay particular attention to the gender, number and case you need to use:

(a) _____ (maðurin) gevur _____ (kvinnan) _____ _____ _____ (ein nýggj bók).

(b) _____ (kvinnan) heldur _____ (tað) er _____ _____ _____ (ein spennandi bók).

(c) _____ (hon) takkar _____ (hann) fyri _____ (bókin).

(d) _____ (eg) ætli at bjóða _____ (tú) út at eta _____ (døgurði) í kvøld.

(e) _____ (eg) kenni _____ _____ _____ (ein nýggj matstova) í Havn.

(f) _____ (eg) komi eftir _____ (tú) við _____ (bilurin) klokkan hálvgun átta. Alt í _____ (lag)?

(g) Kanst _____ (tú) hjálpa _____ (eg)?

_____ (eg) eri vilstur! _____ (eg) leiti eftir _____ (ein banki).

(h) _____ _____ (næsti bankin) er beint um _____ (hornið).

(i) Kanst _____ (tú) vísa _____ (eg) á _____ (býarkortið)?

Place names in the Faroe Islands* [§3.4]

When referring to islands, í + dat. = 'on', úr + dat. = 'from', and til + gen. or í + acc. = 'to':

	'in' / 'from'	'to'
Borðoy	í / úr Borðoy	til Borðoyar
Eysturoy	í / úr Eysturoy	í Eysturoy
Fugloy	í / úr Fugloy	til Fugloyar
Hestur	í / úr Hesti	í Hest
Kalsoy	í / úr Kalsoy	til Kalsoyar
Koltur	í / úr Koltri	í Koltur
Kunoy	í / úr Kunoy	til Kunoyar
Mykines	í / úr Mykinesi	í Mykines
Nólsoy	í / úr Nólsoy	til Nólsoyar
Sandoy	í / úr Sandoy	til Sandoyar
Skúvoy	í / úr Skúvoy	til Skúvoyar
Stóra Dímun	í / úr Stóru Dímun	til Stóru Dímunar
Streymoy	í / úr Streymoy	til Streymoyar
Suðuroy	í / úr Suðuroy	til Suðuroyar
Svínoy	í / úr Svínoy	til Svínoyar
Vágar	í / úr Vágum	(vestur) í Vágar
Viðoy	í / úr Viðoy	til Viðoyar

You may have noticed in Samrøða 2, that Jógvan says í Eysturoynni. In the spoken language, the islands that end in –oy can take the definite article in the nominative (Streymoyggin), and with í and úr (í Suðuroynni, úr Svínoynni). When the island name comes after 'to', only Eysturoy can have the definite suffix (í Esturoynna).

Expressing 'in', 'from' and 'to' with the names of towns and villages can be a complicated affair in Faroese! Here are the most common place names:

	'in'	'from'	'to'
Akrar	á Økrum	av Økrum	á Akrar
Bøur	í Bø	úr Bø	til Bíggjar
Dalur	í Dali	úr Dali	til Dals
Eiði	á Eiði	av Eiði	til Eiðis
Fámjin	í Fámjin	úr Fámjin	til Fámjins
Funningur	í Funningi	úr Funningi	til Funnings
Gjógv	við Gjógv	frá Gjógv	til Gjáar

Glyvrar	á Glyvrum	av Glyvrum	á Glyvrar
Havn	í Havn	úr Havn	til Havnar
Hellur	á Hellunum	av Hellunum	á Hellurnar
Húsar	á Húsum	av Húsum	til Húsa[r]
Hvalba	í Hvalba	úr Hvalba	til Hvalbiar
Kaldbak	í Kaldbak	úr Kaldbak	til Kaldbaks
Kirkja	á Kirkju	av Kirkju	til Kirkju
Kirkjubøur	í Kirkjubø	úr Kirkjubø	til Kirkjubøar
Klaksvík	í Klaksvík	úr Klaksvík	til Klaksvíkar
Kollafjørður	í Kollafirði	úr Kollafirði	til Kollafjarðar
Langasandur	á Langasandi	av Langasandi	til Langasands
Nes	á Nesi	av Nesi	á Nes
Norðdepil	í Norðdepli	úr Norðdepli	til Norðdepils
Norðragøta	í Norðragøtu	úr Norðragøtu	til Norðragøtu
Norðtoftir	í Norðtoftum	úr Norðtoftum	til Norðtofta
Oyrarbakki	á Oyrarbakka	av Oyrarbakka	til Oyrarbakka
Oyri	á Oyri	av Oyri	til Oyrar
Porkeri	í Porkeri	úr Porkeri	til Porkeris
Saksun	í Saksun	úr Saksun	til Saksunar
Skælingur	á Skælingi	av Skælingi	til Skælings
Skopun	í Skopun	úr Skopun	til Skopunar
Streymnes	í Streymnesi	úr Streymnesi	til Streymnes
Stykkið	á Stykkinum	av Stykkinum	til Stykkið
Sund	á Sundi	av Sundi	á Sund
Tjørnuvík	í Tjørnuvík	úr Tjørnuvík	til Tjørnuvíkar
Tórshavn	í Tórshavn	úr Tórshavn	til Tórshavnar
Tvøroyri	á Tvøroyri	av Tvøroyri	á Tvøroyri
Vágur	í Vági	úr Vági	til Vágs
Velbastaður	á Velbastað	av Velbastað	til Velbastaðar
Vestmanna	í Vestmanna	úr Vestmanna	til Vestmannar
Víkarbyrgi	í Víkarbyrgi	úr Víkarbyrgi	til Víkarbyrgis

For example:

Eg búgvi á Eiði, men eg eri ikki av Eiði	I live in Eiði, but I don't come from Eiði
Eg fari til Havnar. Pápi mín býr í Havn	I'm going to Tórshavn. My dad lives in Tórshavn
Ert tú ættaður frá Gjógv?	Does your family come from Gjógv?

Samrøða 3

Track 61

Claire og Jógvan koyra í bili. 2. partur.

JÓGVAN: Har kemur ein genta gangandi. Eg steðgi og spyrji, hvussu vit finna leiðina fram. Umskylda.
GENTA: Ha?
JÓGVAN: Veitst tú, hvar bóndagarðurin hjá Mikkjali Eirikssyni er?
GENTA: Ja, sjálvandi! Tit skulu koyra oman eftir vegnum og ígjøgnum bergholið. Síðani snara tit til høgru. Koyrið yvir um ta lítlu brúnna og snarið síðani til vinstru við postkassan. Gamli Mikkjal býr á garðinum beint við tann vegin har.

JÓGVAN: Takk.
GENTA: Einki at takka.
CLAIRE: Hvat segði hon?
JÓGVAN: Vit skulu fara ígjøgnum bergholið, snara til høgru og fara yvir um brúnna. Tá ið vit koma til postkassan, skulu vit snara til vinstru.
CLAIRE: Er hetta fyrsta ferðin, tú ert her?
JÓGVAN: Ja, eg kenni einki her.
CLAIRE: Kanst tú gera so væl at rætta mær kortið?
JÓGVAN: Ger so væl. Eitt kort av Suðuroynni er á fjórðu síðu.
CLAIRE: Ná ja. Vit er tætt við Sumba.
JÓGVAN: Hygga síggj!
CLAIRE: Vit eru ógvuliga langt frá Havnini.
JÓGVAN: Ja, tað er vit. Vit mugu syrgja fyri at koma til ferjuna á Tvøroyri í góðari tíð í dag.
CLAIRE: Nær sigla vit?
JÓGVAN: 17:30.
CLAIRE: Tað verður eitt stutt prát við Mikkjal Eiriksson, Jógvan. Klokkan er longu 16.00!
JÓGVAN: Oyjøssusikki.

Orðalýsingar

berghol (–s, –0), n.	tunnel	ná ja, interj.	oh yes
bóndagarð/ur (–s, –ar), m.	farm	oyjøssusikki, interj.	oh no ógvuliga, adv.	very
brúgv (–ar, brýr), f.	bridge	postkass/i (–a, –ar), m.	postbox ferj/a (–u, –ur), f.	ferry	prát (–s, –0), n.	talk, chat; interview
fjórð/i, weak adj.	fourth	sigla (siglir), vb.	to sail hygga síggj, interj.	exactly, there you see	síðani, adv.	then ígjøgnum + acc., prep.	through	stutt/ur, adj.	short, brief koma (kemur) gangandi, vb.	to come walking, to walk (towards)	syrgja (syrgir) fyri, vb.	to make sure tætt við + acc., prep.	close to umskylda, interj.	excuse me
langt, adv.	far

Venjing 11: Spurningar

(a) Hvønn spyr Jógvan um veg?
(b) Hvussu nógvar ferðir hevur Jógvan verið her fyrr?
(c) Hvar kann Claire finna eitt kort av Suðuroynni?
(d) Eru tey tætt við Tvøroyri?
(e) Nær sigla tey aftur til Havnar?

Venjing 12: Signs

Here are some signs you might see on the road and in buildings. Match the signs with the correct English translations:

(a)

(b)

(c)

(d)

(e)

(f)

(g) EINGIN GJØGNUMKOYRING

(h) ÚTGONGD

(i) EINGIN PARKERING

(j) MYNDATØKA BANNAÐ

(k) STOPP – REYTT BLUNK – OV NÓGV CO-INNIHALD

i. Car-park / parking
ii. Disabled parking only
iii. Exit
iv. Stop – red flash. Too much carbon monoxide content (in the tunnel)
v. No entry / access
vi. No parking
vii. No smoking
viii. No thoroughfare
ix. One way
x. Photography forbidden
xi. Restricted drinking water area – all forms of pollution forbidden

The Genitive Case [§3 (d), 3.1–3.3, 8.1.4–8.1.8]

This case is rarely used and only so in the written language. It is useful to recognise although you will probably not need to use it actively except for the pronominal forms:

Formation of the genitive

Nouns singular

Masculine nouns:	_____/ur	>	_____/s	bát/ur (bát–)	>	báts
or	_____/ur	>	_____/ar	bústað/ur (bústað–)	>	bústaðar
	_____/i	>	_____/a	tím/i 'hour' (tím–)	>	tíma

Feminine nouns:	_____/0	>	_____/ar	bók 'book' (bók–)	>	bókar
	_____/a	>	_____/u	gent/a 'girl' (gent–)	>	gentu
	_____i/	>	_____i/	ævi 'life span' (ævi–)	>	ævi
Neuter nouns:	_____/0	>	_____/s	barn 'child' (barn–)	>	barns
	_____/a	>	_____/a	eyg/a 'eye' (eyg–)	>	eyga

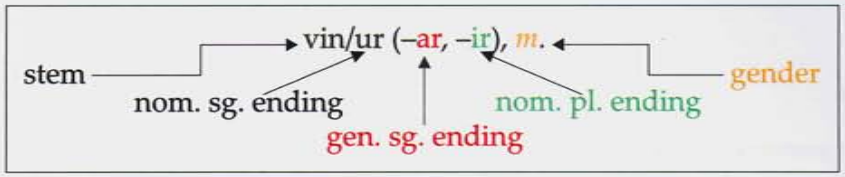
The form of the genitive singular is always provided in the vocabulary lists in this course:



Nouns plural

All nouns take the ending –a in the genitive plural. The forms are either extremely rare or only found in compounds. Some are even just hypothetical:

(bát/ur > bát/a, tím/i > tím/a, bók > bók/a, gent/a > gent/a, hús > hús/a, eyg/a > eyg(n)/a)

Nouns – Definite

	Masculine	Feminine	Neuter
Singular	–(i)ns	–(i)nnar	–(i)ns
Plural	–nna	–nna	–nna

Adjective endings in the genitive

The genitive form of the adjective is rarely used in Faroese.

Weak declension

	m.	f.	n.
sg.	–a	–u	–a
pl.	–u	–u	–u

Strong declension

	m.	f.	n.
sg.	–s	–(r)ar	–s
pl.	–(r)a	–(r)a	–(r)a

Personal pronouns [§6.1]

		Singular	Plural
First		mín	okkara
Second	inf.	tín	tykkara
	pol.	tygara	tygara
Third	m.	hansara	teirra
	f.	hennara	teirra
	n.	tess	teirra

Use

The genitive is used in:

(a) Possessive constructions (see below)
(b) After certain prepositions (til Íslands, 'to Iceland')
(c) In compounds (dagsverk, 'a day's work'; havnarmaður, 'a man from Tórshavn')

Possessive constructions [§11.8]

As the genitive has largely fallen into disuse in Faroese, there are a number of ways of expressing possession.

1. My car, your book, his table…

(a) Noun + possessive pronoun

This is the most common construction for referring to members of the family, but is also used for other types of nouns:

pápi mín	my father
beiggi hansara	his brother
abbi okkara	our granddad
bók hennara	her book
bilur tín	your car
borð tykkara	your table

(b) Possessive pronoun + noun

This construction cannot be used for referring to members of the family:

hennara bók, tín bilur, tykkara borð

By placing the possessive pronoun before the noun, we emphasise the possessor:

tað er hennara bók, ikki tín that is her book, not yours

(c) Definite noun + hjá + dative pronoun

bókin hjá henni, bilurin hjá tær, borðið hjá tykkum

2. John's book, Hjalmar's car, Anna's table…

(a) Definite noun + + name in dative

bókin hjá John, bilurin hjá Hjalmari, borðið hjá Onnu

(b) Name (in accusative)+ sa suffix + noun

Johnsa bók, Hjalmarsa bilur, Onnusa borð

(c) Indefinite noun + Name in genitive

This is the construction to use to translate phrases such as 'a friend of Pætur's':

ein vinur Pæturs a friend of Pætur's

3. The man's car, a teacher's book, this woman's table

Definite noun + hjá + definite dative noun

bilurin hjá manninum, bókin hjá einum lærara, borðið hjá hesi kvinnuni

4. Constructions with prepositions

In addition to hjá, there are a whole range of prepositions that can be used in possessive constructions. For example:

takið á posthúsinum	the roof of the post office
ein koppur av kaffi	a cup of coffee
eyguni í honum	his eyes
søgan um tey seinastu 2 árini	the story of the last 2 years
foreldrini at Onnu	Anna's parents
mamma til Jógvan	Jógvan's mother
ein fløska við mjólk	a bottle of milk
hondin á tær	your hand
húðin á mær	my skin

5. Formal or stylised language using the genitive case

(a) Noun + genitive noun

Toll- og Skattstova Føroya	Customs and Tax Office of the Faroe Islands
samtykt Løgtingsins	The Løgting's decision

(b) Genitive noun + noun

Løgtingsins samtykt	The Løgting's decision
tína fedra Gud	the God of your fathers
eitt av landsins elstu bergholum	one of the country's oldest tunnels

Summary: Rules of thumb

- when referring to members of the family use structure 1a
- with people's names use the sa-structure as in 2b
- with parts of the body use á + dat.
- use hjá + dat. construction in all other cases

We have now covered all of the grammatical cases in Faroese. Make sure you take time to learn the various forms and endings for nouns, adjectives and pronouns, and to understand when you should use each case.

Venjing 13: Possession

Translate the following phrases into Faroese:

(a)	my father's boat	(e)	Hjalmar's money
(b)	the girl's book	(f)	a friend of Jógvan's
(c)	the boys' bikes	(g)	Mikkjal Eiriksson's farm
(d)	my parents' car	(h)	the capital of the Faroes

Translate the following phrases into English:

(i)	navnið á gøtuni	(m)	høvdið á mær
(j)	liturin á bátinum	(n)	Ólavsa bók
(k)	Oyggin Jersey	(o)	hundurin hjá manninum
(l)	Øravíkar bygd	(p)	ein koppur av te

The letters* e and ø

Track 62

1. E

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letter e:

vestur	ella	eta	gleða
enn	áðrenn	ferðin	meðan
men	nærhendis	vegur	matseðil

2. Ø

Track 63

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letter ø:

ítróttarvøllur	fjøll	Bøur	gøta
høgt	børn	hvør	til høgru
ígjøgnum	á Økrum	hvønn	løgreglustøð

Lesistykki 1 (+ Venjing 14)

Time to look for a job. Read the following job advertisements and answer the questions in English:

Avloysari

Søkt verður eftir avloysara fyri klinikkassistent, sum er í barnsburðarfarloyvi.

Tannlæknastovan "Bros" í Tórshavn · Tlf. 12 34 56

(a) What position is being advertised?

(b) Is it a permanent position?

Maður søkist: Sóknast verður eftir manni til línuveiðu í Íslandi. Áhugað kunnu venda sær til TLF. 123456 - Eivind

(d) What work is being advertised in Iceland?

Søkt verður eftir røskum handverkara til húsabygging í Danmark TEL. 123456 - Eyðun

d) What work is being advertised in Denmark?

(e) What formal qualifications are required for the job at Bíli-Bilar?

(f) What else is required of the applicant?

(g) How should you apply for the position?

(h) What should you do if you want to know more?

BILSMIÐUR

Bíli-Bilar søkir eftir bilmekanikara at byrja skjótast til ber.

Umsøkjarin skal hava sveinabræv og royndir sum bilmekanikari. Umsøkjari skal eisini vera fyrikomandi og duga at arbeiða sjálvstøðugt.

Skriftlig umsókn skal sendast til:

Bíli-Bilar Sp/f, Grønlandsvegur 3, 700 Klaksvík

Meira fæst at vita við at venda sær til Jóhannes Jørgensen á telefon 123 456 ella við teldupost: bilibilar@teldupost.fo

LASTBILFØRARI

Søkt verður eftir førara til betongpumpubil.

FB

FarBetong

Tlf. 123456 · Fax: 789012 · T-postur: bogi@farbetong.fo

(i) What type of vehicle will the successful applicant drive?

(j) What is the Faroese for email?

Orðalýsingar

áhugað/ur, adj.	interested	roynd (–ar, –ir), f.	experience
avloysar/i (–a, –ar), m.	substitute, locum	sjálvstøðugt, adv.	independently barnsburðarfarloyvi (–s, ~), n.	maternity leave	skjótast til ber, adv.	as soon as possible
		skriftlig/ur, adj.	written
betong (–s, ~), n.	concrete	søkja (søkir), vb.	to look for, seek betongpumpubil/ur (–s, –ar), m.	concrete-mixer truck (with pump dispenser)	søkjast (søkist), vb.	to be sought sóknast (sóknast) eftir, vb.	to look for
bros (–0, –0), n.	smile
fáast (fæst) at vita, vb.	to get to know	søkt past part. < søkja, vb.	sought
fyrikomandi, adj. indecl.	courteous, polite
handverkar/i (–a, –ar), m.	workman, tradesman	sveinabræv (–s, –0), n.	certificate of completed apprenticeship húsabygging (–ar, –ar), f.	house construction	tannlækn/i (–a, –ar), m.	dentist klinikkassistent/ur (–s, –ar), m.	dentist's assistant	umsøkjar/i (–a, –ar), m.	applicant
		umsókn (–ar, –ir), f.	application
lastbil/ur (–s, –ar), m.	lorry, truck	venda (vendir) sær til, vb.	to contact, write to
línuveið/a (–u, –ur), f.	long-line fishing
meira, adv.	more
rask/ur, adj.	skilful, capable

Lesistykki 2

Ein biltúrur í Suðuroynni

Claire og Jógvan eru í Suðuroynni, og tey eru vilst. Tíbetur kemur ein genta gangandi og hjálpir teimum at finna veg. Tá ið tey endaliga koma til bóndagarðin, er eingin inni.

»Avtalaði tú ikki, at tit skulu møtast í dag?« spyr Claire.

»Sjálvandi. Eg skilji ikki, hví hann ikki er inni. Eg ringi til hansara«, svarar Jógvan. Hann tekur fartelefonina úr bilinum og ringir til Mikkjal.

»Halló!«

»Hey Mikkjal. Her er Jógvan Jákupsson frá FøroyaBlaðnum. Vit høvdu eina avtalu í dag. Vit skulu tosa um garðin og lívið hjá tær her í Suðuroynni.«

»Í dag? Tað var ikki fyrr enn í morgin, ha? Eg eri hjá dóttur míni á Tvøroyri í dag.«

»Í morgin. Nei. Vit avtalaðu at møtast í dag, hósdagin, klokkan 15. Eg eri eitt sindur seinur á veg, av tí at eg viltist…«

»Tórsdagin? Í dag er ónsdagur!«

»Hvat?! Oyjøssusikki! Tú hevur rætt. Orsaka Mikkjal! Vit síggjast í morgin klokkan 15. Farvæl!«

»Farvæl!«

»Oy nei, Claire… veitst tú, hvat eg havi gjørt…?«

Orðalýsingar

avtal/a (–u, –ur), f.	appointment	ónsdag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Wednesday (in Suðuroy dialect)
avtala (avtalar), vb.	to make an appointment biltúr/ur (–s, –ar), m.	car trip	seinur á veg, adj.	late endaliga, adv.	finally	tíbetur, adv.	fortunately fartelefon (–ar, –ir), f.	mobile phone, cellphone	tórsdag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Thursday (in Suðuroy dialect)
ikki fyrr enn	not until
møtast (møtist), vb.	to meet	villast (villast), vb.	to get lost

Lesistykki 3

Suðuroy

Suðuroy er sunnasta oyggin í Føroyum. Størstu býirnir, Tvøroyri og Vágur, liggja við vakrar firðir umgirdir av fjøllum. Norðastu bygdirnar, Hvalba og Sandvík, hava samband við hvørja aðra gjøgnum eitt av landsins elstu bergholum. Úr hesum bygdum er vakurt útsýni til Føroya einastu mannleysu oyggj, Lítlu Dímun. Sunnast á oynni er Sumba. Á veg til og frá Sumba, eftir gamla fjallavegnum, verður farið fram við Beinisvørði, Føroya næsthægsta fuglabergi; tað er 469 m høgt og er alkent fyri sín vakurleika.

The west coast of Suðuroy

Orðalýsingar

alkend/ur, adj.	famous	norðast/ur, adj.	most northerly
einast/ur, adj.	only	samband (–s, –bond), n.	connection
elst/ur, adj.	oldest	størst/ur, adj.	largest fjallaveg/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	mountain road	sunnast/ur, adj.	most southerly fuglaberg (–s, –0), n.	bird cliff	umgird/ur, adj.	surrounded mannleys/ur, adj.	uninhabited	útsýni (–s, –[r]), n.	view næsthægst/ur, adj.	second highest	vakurleik/i (–a, ~), m.	beauty

Orðatak

Track 64

Hann eigur reiðina,ið fyri ríður
'The one who caused the quarrel should be the first to reconcile it' [lit. 'he, who rides in front, owns the ride']

Orðalýsingar

eigur pres. < eiga, vb.	owns	reið (–ar, –ir), f.	ride, riding
fyri, adv.	in front, at the front	ríður pres. < ríða, vb.	rides

Veitst tú at...?

'Pig Island' seen from the east

It is often interesting to look at place names (staðanøvn) in the Faroe Islands and try to understand (skilja) what they mean: Kirkjubøur, for example, is made up of the words kirkja 'church' and bøur 'cultivated land'. Indeed, the ruins (múrurin) of the old Cathedral of St Magnus are still to be seen in the village. Many names refer to geological features. Glyvrar means 'clefts or fissures opening out towards the sea' and Gjógv means 'ravine' or 'chasm'. Tórshavn means 'the harbour of the God Thor' and refers to pre-Christian practices on the islands.
Some place names are more difficult to decipher. Mykines may be from the Celtic muc-innis meaning 'pig island', and perhaps dates from before the Norse population arrived, as also does the element Dímun (meaning 'two hills'), in Lítla and Stóra Dímun.

6 Eg skal veksla eitt sindur av pengum
I want to change some money

Track 65

In this unit you will learn about:

- the verbs: eiga, kunna, mega, munna, skula and vilja
- the comparative form of adjectives
- the superlative form of adjectives
- compound nouns
- expressing weight, volume and length
- the bank, the post office, and the customs and tax authorities
- currency
- colours
- the letters u and ú

Samrøða 1

Track 66

Í bankanum

Claire skal veksla pengar í bankanum.

BANKAFÓLK: Halló.
CLAIRE: Halló.
BANKAFÓLK: Hvat kann eg gera fyri teg?
CLAIRE: Eg ætlaði at veksla £50 um til krónur.
BANKAFÓLK: Tú mást gjalda 25 krónur í ómaksgjaldi fyri at veksla pengar. Er tað í lagi?
CLAIRE: Tað er í lagi.
BANKAFÓLK: £50... tað verður 504 krónur og 75 oyrur... Hvussu vilt tú hava pengarnar?
CLAIRE: Kann eg fáa fimm 100-krónuseðlar og restina í smápengum?
BANKAFÓLK: Tað er í lagi. 100, 200, 300, 400, 500, 1, 2, 3, 4 og 75 oyrur.
CLAIRE: Takk fyri.
BANKAFÓLK: Hevur tú nakað gjaldskort?
CLAIRE: Gjaldskort? Hvat meinar tú?
BANKAFÓLK: Ja, gjaldskort ella kredittkort, sum tað eisini verður rópt.
CLAIRE: Á, ja, tað havi eg.
BANKAFÓLK: So er betri at nýta pengaautomatina. Tú kanst taka pengar út automatiskt. Tú mást rinda eitt sindur fyri at taka út kortini, men ikki so nógv.
CLAIRE: Ná, fint. Hvar er pengaautomatin?
BANKAFÓLK: Ein er beint uttan fyri bankan, og ein er inni í bankanum. Beint innan fyri dyrnar.
CLAIRE: Takk fyri, at tú segði mær hatta!
BANKAFÓLK: Einki at takka! Hugna tær, meðan tú ert í Føroyum!
CLAIRE: Takk fyri. Farvæl.

Orðalýsingar

automatiskt, adv.	automatically
dyr f. pl.	door
gjaldskort (–s, –0), n.	payment card, cash card
innan fyri + acc., prep.	inside
inni í + dat., prep.	inside
kredittkort (–s, –0), n.	credit card
krón/a (–u, –ur), f.	króna, unit of currency = 100 oyrur
krónuseðil (–s, –seðlar), m.	(króna) bank note
meina (meinar), vb.	to mean
nýta (nýtir), vb.	to use
oyr/a (–a, –u[r]), n.	oyra, unit of currency = 1/100 króna
ómaksgjald (–s, –gjøld), n.	fee
pengaautomat (–ar, –ir), f.	cash machine
pengar, m. pl.	money
rest (–ar, –ir), f.	rest, remainder
rinda (rindar), vb.	to pay (a fee)
segði, pret. < siga, vb.	said
smápengar, m. pl.	change
taka (tekur) út, st. vb.	to withdraw uttan fyri + acc.	outside
veksla (vekslar), vb.	to change
verða (verður) rópt, vb.	to be called

Mállæra

The verbs: eiga, kunna, mega, munna, skula and vilja [§7.12]

Some of these verbs have very irregular forms in the present tense. They are modal verbs and used to express the speaker's (or someone else's) attitude to what is being said.

Eiga: necessity or obligation ('have to, ought to')

vit eiga at fara til Danmarkar	we have to go to Denmark
tit eiga at hyggja at hesum viðurskiftunum	you ought to look at this matter
tey eiga at lata hana koma við	they ought to let her come along

Notice that it is followed by at + infinitive.

We have already met this verb used with the direct object (in the accusative case) to mean 'to own', 'possess', 'have':

eg eigi ein stóran bát í Klaksvík eigur tú ein ella tveir synir? (= hevur tú ein ella tveir synir?) hon eigur barn (both 'she is having a child' and 'she has a child')

Kunna: possibility, permission, ability ('may, be allowed, can, be able')

tað kann kava í morgin	it may snow tomorrow
kann eg koma við?	can / may I come?
tað kann vera kostnaðarmikið	it may be costly
tú kanst vera ónevndur, um tú vilt tað	you can be anonymous if you want

Note that there are two other verbs commonly used in the sense of 'can': duga 'to know how to do something' and sleppa 'to be allowed to':

hann dugir at skriva	he can write eg dugi at arbeiða við teldum	I can work with computers
tú dugir ikki japanskt	you can't speak Japanese
sleppi eg?	may I (take this chair, sit here etc.)?
hann sleppur ikki at hitta teg	he isn't allowed to meet you

Mega: necessity or obligation ('have to, must')

vit mugu royna	we must try
tey mugu vera sterk	they must be strong
tú mást ikki goyma upplýsingar um loynitalið saman við kortinum	you mustn't keep information about your pincode together with your card eg má tosa við teg	I have to speak to you

Munna: probability ('shall, will (I reckon)', 'must (I reckon)')

hann man ikki koma	he won't come vit munnu vera mong, sum eru her	there must be many of us here
hvar munnu tey vera í kvøld?	where do you reckon they are this evening?
tú manst hava misskilt okkurt	you must have misunderstood something

Skula: obligation ('must, is to, shall, should, ought to')

eg haldi, at tú skalt taka teg saman	I think you should pull yourself together
tú skalt hava fylt 25 ár	you (f.) must be at least 25 years old
skal eg fortelja honum tað?	shall I tell him it?
hon skal vera kona hansara	she is to be his wife

The verb is also used to report something 'it is said':

Tórshavn skal vera ein vakur býur	Tórshavn is said to be a beautiful town

Although the phrase sigst, at... 'is said that...' is more commonly used for this:

hann sigst vera ríkur	he is said to be rich
tað sigst, at Føroyar hava tað reinasta havumhvørvið í Evropa	the Faroe Islands are said to have the cleanest marine environment in Europe

Vilja: volition ('want to, will')

eg vil ikki fara	I don't want (am not willing) to go
hvar vilt tú koyra?	where do you want to drive?
hevur tú ikki altíð viljað tað?	haven't you always wanted to do that?
tey vilja ikki síggja veruleikan, sum hann er	they do not want to see reality as it is

The verb vilja is often accompanied by one of the adverbs fegin or gjarna 'gladly':

eg vil fegin koma við	I (really) want to come
hvat vilt tú gjarna hava?	what do you want?

Remember that we have already seen phrases such as eg vil fegin hava ein kopp av kaffi 'I'd like a cup of coffee'.

Note that we also use the verb ætla sær at to talk about what we want or intend to do:

eg ætli mær at royna at skriva eitt sindur	I want to try and write a little
hon ætlar sær at útbúgva seg til frisør	she intends to train to be a hairdresser

Venjing 1: Eiga, kunna, mega, munna, skula and vilja

Complete the table below:

	(a)	(b)	(c)	(d)	(e)	(f)
at	eiga		mega		skula
eg	eigi
tú		kanst
hann			má
vit				munnu
tit					skulu
tey						vilja

Venjing 2: Eiga, kunna, mega, munna, skula and vilja

Choose from the verbs eiga, kunna, mega, munna, skula and vilja and translate the following sentences into Faroese:

(a) Shall we go now?
(b) He is to meet her at 7 o'clock.
(c) Will you marry me?
(d) Can you speak German?
(e) He won't write the letter.
(f) Can you come tomorrow?
(g) Gjógv is said to be a beautiful village.
(h) Claire must ring Jógvan.
(i) I can't find my mobile phone.
(j) He has to go to Copenhagen next week.
(k) You must speak Faroese to my mother.
(l) I will [probably] go to Tórshavn on Friday.
(m) He is said to be very rich.

Orðalýsingar

giftast (giftist) við + dat., vb. to marry tosa (tosar) við + acc., vb. to talk to

At the bank

The Faroese króna (abbreviated as kr.) is not an independent currency and has the same value as the Danish krone. It is divided into 100 oyrur although the smallest denomination coin is for 25 oyrur. The National Bank of Denmark produces special banknotes for the Faroe Islands with Faroese motifs, but the islands use the same (Danish) coins as Denmark and Greenland. An oyra in Danish is called an øre.

There are a number of different banks and savings banks on the Faroe Islands (Føroya Banki, Eik Banki, Suðuroyar Sparikassi and Norðoya Sparikassi) as well as the governmental bank Landsbanki Føroya.

Money can be exchanged at banks and post offices, and there are also cashpoint machines dotted around. However, when visiting the smaller settlements it is easiest to pay with cash. Below are some useful phrases for visiting the bank:

Eg ætlaði at veksla eitt sindur av…	I want to exchange some…
pengum	money
ferðakekkum	travellers' cheques
Hvat er kursurin?	What is the exchange rate?
Hvussu nógvar krónur fyri…	How many krónur to the…
pundið?	pound?
evruna?	euro?
dollaran?	dollar?
Sjálvtøkan virkar ikki	The cash machine isn't working
Sjálvtøkan er í ólagi	The cash machine isn't working
Sjálvtøkan hevur tikið gjaldkortið hjá mær	The cash machine has swallowed my card

Useful words:

bank/i (–a, –ar), m.	bank
bankakonto (–0, –ir), f.	bank account
betala (betalir), vb.	to pay
deild (–ar, –ir), f.	branch
dollar/i (–a, –ar), m.	dollar
evr/a (–u, –ur), f.	euro
faktur/a (–u, –ur), f.	invoice
ferðakekk/ur (–keks, –ar), m.	traveller's cheque
flyta (flytur) pengar, vb.	to transfer money
framrokning (–ar, –ar), f.	invoice
fremmant gjaldoyra	foreign currency
fremmandur valuti	foreign currency
FR-kort (–s, –0), n.	debit card
gjald (–s, gjøld), n.	debt
gjalda (geldur), vb.	to pay
gjalda í hond(ina), vb.	to pay cash
gjalda í ómaksgjaldi, vb.	to pay a fee
gjalda við kekki, vb.	to pay by cheque
gjalda við kredittkorti, vb.	to pay by credit card
gjaldoyr/a (–a, –u[r]), n.	currency
gjaldoyrakostnað/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	exchange rate
heva (hevar) pengar, vb.	to withdraw money
húsagang/ur (–s, ~), m.	bankruptcy
inflasjón (–ar, ~), f.	inflation
kassalán (–s, ~), n.	overdraft
kass/i (–a, –ar), m.	counter
kekk/ur (–keks, –ar), m.	cheque
ein kekkur upp á 100 kr	a cheque for 100 kr.
kekkhefti (–s, –[r]), n.	cheque book
konto (–0, –ir), f.	account
kontoavrit (–s, –0), n.	bank statement
kredittkort (–s, –0), n.	credit card
krón/a (–u, –ur), f.	króna, krone
kundatænast/a (–u, ~), f.	customer service
kund/i (–a, –ar), m.	customer
kurs/ur (kurs, –ir), m.	exchange rate
kvittan (–ar, –ir), f.	receipt
læna (lænir) + dat., vb.	to lend to læna (lænir) frá + dat., vb.	to borrow from
lán (–s, –0), n.	loan
løn (–ar, –ir), f.	salary
lummapengar m. pl.	pocket money
mynt/ur (–s, –ir), m.	coin
netbank/i (–a, –ar), m.	internet bank
ómaksgjald (–s, –gjøld), n.	fee
oyr/a (–a, –u[r]), n.	oyra
pengaautomat (–ar, –ir), f.	cash machine, ATM
pengar m. pl.	money
pengaseðil (–s, –seðlar), m.	banknote
pengaskáp (–s, –0), n.	safe
peningasjálvtøk/a (–u, –ur), f.	cash machine, ATM
peningur (–s, –ar), m.	money
pensjón (–ar, –ir), f.	pension
pund (–s, –0), n.	pound (sterling)
rent/a (–u, ~), f.	interest
rokning (–ar, –ar), f.	bill
seta (setur) pengar inn (á kontoina), vb.	to deposit money
sjálvtøk/a (–u, –ur), f.	cash machine, ATM
skylda (skyldar) + dat. pengar, vb.	to owe money to…
spara (sparir), vb.	to save
sparikass/i (–a, –ar), m.	savings bank
stovna (stovnar) eina konto, vb.	to open an account
taka (tekur) pengar út (av kontoini), st. vb.	to withdraw money
trygging (–ar, –ar), f.	insurance
undirskriva (–skrivar), vb.	to sign
uppsparingarkonto (–0, –ir), f.	savings account
valut/i (–a, –ar), m.	currency
veksla (vekslar) pengar, vb.	to change money
viðskiftafólk (–s, –0), n.	customer
virðisminking (–ar, ~), f.	inflation

Venjing 3: At the bank

Translate the following dialogue into Faroese:

A: Good morning.
B: Good morning. I would like to change 100 dollars to krónur.
A: Certainly.
B: What is the exchange rate?
A: One dollar is 5 krónur 95.
B: Is there [Er nakað…] a fee?
A: Yes, you must pay a 20-króna fee [lit.: 'twenty krónur in fee'].
B: That's okay.
A: Please sign here… and here is your money.
B: Thank you. Goodbye.
A: Goodbye.

Venjing 4: At the bank

Track 67

Listen to the recording and answer the questions:

(a) What does the tourist ask the bank clerk?
(b) What does the bank clerk ask the tourist for?
(c) What does the bank clerk say to the tourist at the end of their conversation?

Samrøða 2

Á posthúsinum

Track 68

POSTSTOVUFÓLK: Góðan morgun.
CLAIRE: Góðan morgun. Kann eg fáa 10 frímerkir?
POSTSTOVUFÓLK: Senda í Føroyum ella uttanlands?
CLAIRE: Til Skotlands.
POSTSTOVUFÓLK: Prioritaire ella economique?
CLAIRE: Er nakar munur á?
POSTSTOVUFÓLK: Prioritaire er skjótari.
CLAIRE: Kosta tey frímerkini meira?
POSTSTOVUFÓLK: Ja, tey kosta eitt sindur meira.
CLAIRE: Hvussu nógv kostar eitt frímerki til eitt postkort?
POSTSTOVUFÓLK: 7,50
CLAIRE: 10 frímerkir fyri 7,50 krónur.
POSTSTOVUFÓLK: Ger so væl. Nakað annað?
CLAIRE: Ja. Eg ætlaði at senda ein tungan pakka til Klaksvíkar og ein lættan pakka til Vestmanna.
POSTSTOVUFÓLK: Ger so væl at seta pakkarnar á vektina. Soleiðis. Tann stóri pakkin vigar næstan 3 kilo, tann minni 800 gramm… Tað verður 90 krónur, íroknað frímerkini verður tað 165 krónur tilsamans.
CLAIRE: Ber til at gjalda við gjaldkorti?
POSTSTOVUFÓLK: Ja, sjálvandi. Ger so væl at skriva undir her.
CLAIRE: Soleiðis, ger so væl.
POSTSTOVUFÓLK: Takk fyri og farvæl.
CLAIRE: Farvæl.

Orðalýsingar

bera (ber) til, vb.	to be possible	poststovufólk (–s, –0), n.	post-office clerk
economique	second class	prioritaire	first class frímerki (–s, –[r]), n.	(postage) stamp	senda (sendir), vb.	to send íroknað past part.	included	seta (setur), vb.	to place
< írokna (íroknar), vb.		skjótari < skjót/ur, adj.	faster kosta (kostar), vb.	to cost	skriva (skrivar) undir, vb.
lætt/ur, adj.	light		to sign
minni < comp. of lítil, adj.	smaller	soleiðis, adv.	thus, like this, so
mun/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	difference	tilsamans, adv.	in total (á + dat., between)	tung/ur, adj.	heavy nakað annað	anything else	uttanlands, adv.	abroad
pakk/i (–a, –ar), m.	package	vekt (–ar, –ir), f.	scales postkort (–s, –0), n.	postcard	viga (vigar), vb.	to weigh

Mállæra

The comparative form of adjectives [§4.5–4.8]

To say 'as [big] as' in Faroese use the construction so… sum:

hann er so fátækur sum ein kirkjurotta	he's as poor as a church mouse
hon er so vøkur sum mamma sín	she's as beautiful as her mother
Páll er ikki so ungur sum eg	Páll is not as young as I am

To say '(bigger) than' use the construction comparative form of adjective + enn:

hann er fátækari enn ein kirkjurotta hon er vakrari enn mamma sín Páll er ikki yngri enn eg

There are two ways of forming the comparative of an adjective:

1. Adding an ending: –ari is the most common (vakur > vakrari) –ri is rare (trongur > trengri)
   There are several irregular adjectives to be learnt (gamal > eldri)

2. Using meiri before an indeclinable adjective (spennandi > meiri spennandi)

Note that after sum and enn, Faroese uses the nominative form of the personal pronouns.

Venjing 5: The comparative

Fill in the gaps with the comparative form of the adjective in brackets:

(a) Tann blái bilurin er _____ (lítil) enn tann reyði.
(b) Gráfelli (856 m) er _____ (lágur) enn Slættaratindur (882 m).
(c) Norðoyatunnilin (6,3 km) er _____ (langur) enn Vágatunnilin (4,9 km).
(d) Omma mín er _____ (gamal) enn abbi mín.
(e) Hon var nógv _____ (vinaligur) enn eg væntaði.
(f) Tann føroyski starin er _____ (stórur) enn tann danski.
(g) Hvør er _____ (tjúkkur), Símun ella Pætur?
(h) Leiðin til Kirkjubøar er _____ (stuttur) enn leiðin til Havnar.

Orðalýsingar

berghol (–s, –0), n.	tunnel	stutt/ur, adj.	short
lág/ur, adj.	low	tjúkk/ur, adj.	fat
sera, adv.	very	trong/ur, adj.	narrow star/i (–a, –ar), m.	starling	vinalig/ur, adj.	friendly

Venjing 6: The comparative

Translate the following sentences into Faroese:

(a) Tórshavn is bigger than Klaksvík.
(b) My book is more exciting than yours.
(c) The temperature is higher today than yesterday.
(d) Wasn't it warmer yesterday?
(e) He is shorter than my brother.
(f) My sweater was more expensive than hers.
(g) The University of the Faroe Islands is smaller than the University of Oslo.
(h) This old flat is cheaper than that new flat.

Orðalýsingar

bílig/ur, adj.	cheap	íbúð (–ar, –ir), f.	flat, apartment
Fróðskaparsetur Føroya	The University of the Faroe Islands	lýggj/ur (lýtt n.), adj.	warm (of weather)
		troyggj/a (–u, –ur), f.	sweater
hit/i (–a, ~), m.	temperature	Universitetið í Oslo	The University of Oslo

The superlative form of adjectives

There are two ways of forming the superlative of an adjective:

1. Adding an ending: –astur (vakur > vakrastur)
   –stur (trongur > trengstur)
   There are several irregular adjectives to be learnt (gamal > elstur)

2. Using mest before an indeclinable adjective (spennandi > mest spennandi)

To say 'the (biggest) of', use the construction definite article + superlative form of the adjective + av (+ dat.):

hann er tann fátækasti av kirkjurottunum hon er tann vakrasta av øllum Páll er tann yngsti av okkum

Strictly speaking, the superlative is not used when comparing just two things or people. The comparative should be used instead: Páll er tann yngri 'Páll is the youngest / the younger of the two'.

To say 'one of the (biggest)', use the construction indefinite article + definite article + superlative form of the adjective [+ noun (indefinite singular)]:

hann er ein tann fátækasta kirkjurottan hon er ein tann vakrasta Páll er ein tann yngsti av okkum

To say 'the (biggest) of all', prefix the superlative form of the adjective with allar–:

hann er tann allarfátækasta av kirkjurottunum hon er tann allarvakrasta av øllum Páll er tann allaryngsti av okkum

To say 'the second (biggest)', prefix the superlative form of the adjective with næst–:

hann er tann næstfátækasta av kirkjurottunum hon er tann næstvakrasta av øllum Páll er tann næstyngsti av okkum

Venjing 7: The superlative

Fill in the gaps with the superlative form of the adjective in brackets:

(a) Tann nýggi trolarin hjá Pæturi er _____ (modernaður) í Streymoynni.
(b) Slættaratindur er _____ (høgur) fjallið í Føroyum.
(c) Tað gamla bergholið er _____ (stuttur).
(d) Omma mín er _____ (gamal) kvinnan í bygdini.

(e) Símun er _____ (tjúkkur) maðurin, eg kenni.
(f) Føroyskt er _____ (lættur) málið í øllum heiminum.
(g) Tann nýggja tónleikavideoin hjá Pálli er _____ (dýrur), sum nakrantíð er gjørd í Føroyum.
(h) Grindin er _____ (stórur), sum vit drepið í ár.

Orðalýsingar

drepa (drepur), vb.	to kill	modernað/ur, adj.	modern grind (–ar, –ir), f.	pilot whale	nakrantíð, adv.	ever heim/ur (–s, –ar), m.	world	tónleikavideo (–0, –ir), f.	music video
í øllum heiminum	in the whole world	trolar/i (–a, –ar), m.	trawler
lætt/ur, adj.	easy

Venjing 8: The superlative

Translate the following phrases into Faroese:

(a) They sell the best cakes in Tórshavn.
(b) He is the richest man I know.
(c) My best friend is from Germany.
(d) He owns the biggest car in Klaksvík, but I own the most expensive [one].
(e) Greenland is the coldest country in the whole world.
(f) He ate [át] the most cakes.
(g) I am reading the most exciting book by Jógvan Isaksen.
(h) This is the most boring film I have ever seen [sætt].

Venjing 9

Compare two people you know well, and write a few lines about them in Faroese. For example: Pápi mín eitur Mike, og mamma eitur Louise. Mike er eldri enn Louise, men hon er hægri…

At the Post Office

Postverk Føroya runs postal services in the Faroe Islands. There are post offices in all the larger settlements, although opening times might be as little as a couple of hours three days a week. Here are some useful phrases for visiting the post office:

Eg skal senda…	I'd like to send…
eitt bræv	a letter
eitt postkort	a postcard
ein pakka	a parcel

Postverk Føroya postboxes

Kann eg fáa...?	I'd like...
eitt frímerki	a stamp
nøkur frímerkir	some stamps
Hvussu nógv kostar tað at senda hetta til...?	How much does it cost to send this to...?

bræv (–s, brøv), n.	letter	pakk/i (–a, –ar), m.	parcel
a bræv (–s, brøv), n.	letter sent 1st class	post restante	poste restante
b bræv (–s, brøv), n.	letter sent 2nd class	post/ur (–s, –ar), m.	post, mail brævbjálv/i (–a, –ar), m.	envelope	postboð (–s, –0), n.	postman/-woman economique	second class	postgjald (–s, –gjøld), n.	cost of postage
faks (–0, –0), n.	fax	postkass/i (–a, –ar), m.	postbox fjarrit (–s, –0), n.	telegram	postkort (–s, –0), n.	postcard
frímerki (–s, –[r]), n.	stamp	prioritaire	first class innskrivað/ur, adj.	registered	skipspost/ur (–s, –ar), m.	surface mail (by ship)
konvolutt/ur (–s, –ar), m.	envelope	telegramm (–s, –0), n.	telegram legubræv (–s, –brøv), n.	poste restante	við postinum	by post
luftpost/ur (–s, –ar), m.	airmail

Venjing 10: At the post office

Translate the following dialogue into Faroese:

A: Hello.
B: Hello. I'd like some stamps, please.
A: How many?
B: Six for [til] France, please.
A: Certainly. That's 45 krónur.
B: Here you are.
A: Thank you. Goodbye.
B: Goodbye.

Venjing 11: At the post office

You are in the post office in Sandavágur. Look at the prices for posting letters and answer the questions.

(a) How much is a second-class stamp for a small postcard to Tvøroyri?

(b) How much does it cost to send a package weighing 1.2 kg first class to Viðareiði?

Postgjøld fyri brøv í Føroyum
Vekt	A-brøv	B-brøv
Mest 20 g	5,50 kr	5,00 kr
Mest 100 g	9,00 kr	8,50 kr
Mest 250 g	14,00 kr	12,00 kr
Mest 500 g	25,00 kr	21,00 kr
Mest 1000 g	35,00 kr	30,00 kr
Mest 2000 g	45,00 kr	40,00 kr

Postgjøld fyri brøv til útheimin
Vekt	A Prioritaire		B Economique
	Evropa íroknað norðurlond	Onnur lond	Evropa íroknað norðurlond	Onnur lond
Mest 20 g	7,50 kr	10,00 kr	7,00 kr	9,00 kr
Mest 100 g	12,00 kr	20,00 kr	10,00 kr	17,00 kr
Mest 250 g	25,00 kr	45,00 kr	20,00 kr	35,00 kr
Mest 500 g	40,00 kr	90,00 kr	30,00 kr	70,00 kr
Mest 1000 g	70,00 kr	150,00 kr	50,00 kr	100,00 kr
Mest 2000 g	100,00 kr	250,00 kr	80,00 kr	200,00 kr

(c) How much is a second-class stamp to Denmark for a letter weighing 35g?

(d) How much does it cost to send a small postcard first class to France?

(e) What does the cheapest stamp cost for a 1.5 kg package to Canada?

Orðalýsingar

útheim/ur (–s, –ar), m.	countries abroad	íroknað/ur, adj. (past part.)
til útheimin, adv.	abroad		inclusive, including vekt (–ar, –ir), f.	weight	onnur, adj. n. pl. < annar	other

Samrøða 3

Track 69

Á skattadeildini

Claire og Kristin drekka ein kaffimunn og eta rabarbukøku í køkinum, tá ið postmaðurin kemur.

KRISTIN: Claire! Eitt bræv er komið til tín. Tað sær út til at vera frá Toll- og Skattstovu Føroya.
CLAIRE: Toll- og Skatt? Hví skriva tey til mín?
KRISTIN: Lat brævið upp og hygg!

Claire letur brævið upp.

Góða Claire McDonald,

Vit hava fingið ein pakka til tín úr útheiminium. Møguliga skal tollur rindast av innihaldinum. Ger so væl at møta á tolldeildini á posthúsinum. Hav samleikaprógv við.

Vinaligast, Erla Hansen

CLAIRE: Tað var løgið!

Seinni sama dag fer Claire inn á posthúsið.

CLAIRE: Halló. Eg fekk hetta brævið í morgun – tað er okkurt um ein pakka, sum er komin úr útlondum.

POSTSTOVUFÓLK: Tú mást tosa við tey á tolldeildini. Far út aftur um hasa hurðina har og síðani til vinstru. Tolldeildin er onnur hurð til høgru.

CLAIRE: Takk fyri.

.....

CLAIRE: Halló. Eg eri her, tí eg fekk eitt bræv í morgun.

TOLLFÓLK: Ná, ja. Vit hava fingið ein pakka til tín úr Stóra Bretlandi. Eingin tollseðil er við, og vit vita ikki, hvussu nógv hann er verdur, ella um tollur skal betalast av honum.

CLAIRE: Eg rokni við, at tað er okkurt, sum mamma hevur sent.

TOLLFÓLK: Allir pakkar, sum koma til Føroyar ella verða sendir úr Føroyum, skulu hava ein tollseðil viðfestan. Sendarin í Skotlandi hevur ikki sent nøkur slík pappír við.

CLAIRE: Vissi tað er mamma, so hevur hon allarhelst bara koyrt eina rúgvu av frímerkjum á pakkan og koyrt hann á posthúsið.

TOLLFÓLK: Eg skilji.

.....

TOLLFÓLK: Her er pakkin. Kanst tú gera so væl at lata hann upp?

CLAIRE: Sjálvandi. Eg visti tað altíð!! Her er eitt bræv frá mammu, og, oy oy, sjálvandi! Tað er gávan til mammusystur mína og familjuna hjá henni – gávan, sum eg gloymdi at taka við mær.

TOLLFÓLK: Hvussu nógv er gávan verd?

CLAIRE: Tað er bara eitt sindur av skotskum keksum, og ein mynd, sum eg havi málað. Einki vert.

TOLLFÓLK: Eg skilji. Ná, men takk fyri, at tú stakst inn á gólvið og farvæl.

CLAIRE: Farvæl.

Orðalýsingar

allarhelst, adv.	[here:] most likely	koyra (koyrir), vb.	[here:] to stick on betalast (betalist), vb.	to be paid	køk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	kitchen eg visti tað altíð	I knew it	lata (letur) upp, vb.	to open fekk pret. < fáa (fær[t]), vb.	got, received	mynd (–ar, –ir), f.	picture fingið past part. < fáa (fær[t]), vb.	got, received	møguliga, adv.	possibly gáv/a (–u, –ur), f.	present, gift	møta (møtir), vb.	to come to gloyma (gloymir), vb.	to forget	onnur, adj. f. pl. < annar	second gólv (–s, –0), n.	floor	pappír (–s, ~), n.	paper
hurð (–ar, –ar), f.	door	postmaður (–mans, –menn), m.	postman innihald (–s, –0), n.	content	rabarbukøk/a (–u, –ur), f.	rhubarb cake kaffimunn/ur (–s, –ar), m.	cup of coffee	rokna (roknar) við, vb.	to expect keks (–ar, –ir), f.	biscuit	rúgv/a (–u, –ur), f.	pile, load

samleikaprógv (–prógvs, ~), n.	ID, proof of identification	tolldeild (–ar, –ir), f.	tax office
		tollpappír (–s, ~), n.	tax paper, label
seinni, comp. < seint, adv.	later	tollseðil (–s, –seðlar), m.	tax form sendar/i (–a, –ar), m.	sender	uttanlendis, adv.	from abroad síggja (sær[t]) út til, vb.	to look like	útheim/ur (–s, –ar), m.	countries overseas
slík/ur, adj.	such, like this støkka (støkkur) inn á gólvið	to drop by	verd/ur, adj.	worth
tað var løgið	that's strange	viðfest/ur, adj.	attached
Toll- og Skattstov/a (–u, –ur), f.	Tax and Revenue Office	vinaligast, adv.	yours sincerely
		vissi, conj.	if
toll/ur (–s, –ar), m.	customs, duty

Mállæra

Compound nouns [§3 (d), 12]

By now you will have noticed that Faroese makes great use of compound nouns. For example:

noun + noun	ein rabarbu+køka	a rhubarb cake
adjective + noun	smá+pengar	(small) change
verb + noun	ein skrivi+bók	an exercise book
numeral + noun	ein tíggju+króna	a ten-króna piece
particle, preposition, adverb + noun	upp+sparing	savings

These nouns take the gender of the final element and it is only to the final element that inflectional endings are added. Thus, rabarbukøka is feminine (køka = feminine) and has the plural form rabarbukøkur (køkur = plural 'cakes').

Weight, volume and length

vekt (–ar, –ir), f.	weight	gramm (grams, –0), n.	gramme	g
viga (vigar)	to weigh	kilo, n. indecl.	kilo	kg rúmmál (–s, –0), n.	volume	desilitur (–s, –litrar), m.	decilitre	dl
mála (málir)	to measure	litur (–s, litrar), m.	litre	l
longd (–ar, –ir), f.	length	sentimetur (–s, –metrar), m.	centimetre	cm
máta (mátar)	to measure	metur (–s, metrar), m.	metre	m
		kilometur (–s, –metrar), m.	kilometre	km

As in English, Faroese requires 'of' (av + dat.) after these words:

100 gramm av smøri	100 grammes of butter tvey kilo av osti	two kilos of cheese
ein litur av mjólk	a litre of milk
tríggir metrar av silki	three metres of silk

To express 'much', 'a bit of', 'many' and 'few', use the following:

much, a lot of + singular noun	nógvur m. / nógv f. / nógv n.
much, a lot of + singular noun	mikil m. / mikil f. / mikið n.
a little, a bit of + singular noun	eitt sindur av
many, a lot of + plural noun	nógvir m. / nógvar f. / nógv n.
few + plural noun	fáir m. / fáar f. / fá n. (or eitt sindur av)

The word for 'too' is ov (hann er ov gamal), and 'enough' is nóg (hann er nóg gamal, eg havi ikki nóg mikið vatn).

Colours

appilsingul/ur, adj.	orange	korkalitt/ur, adj.	purple
appilsinlitt/ur, adj.	orange	lilla, adj. indecl.	mauve
blá/ur, adj.	blue	ljósareyð/ur, adj.	pink blágrøn/ur, adj.	turquoise	morreyð/ur, adj.	maroon
brandgul/ur, adj.	orange	reyð/ur, adj.	red
brún/ur, adj.	brown	reyðblá/ur, adj.	mauve
grá/ur, adj.	grey	reyðgul/ur, adj.	orange grábrún/ur, adj.	beige	sandlitt/ur, adj.	sandy grøn/ur, adj.	green	silvur (–s, ~), n.	silver
gul/ur, adj.	yellow	svart/ur, adj.	black gull (guls, ~), n.	gold	víólblá/ur, adj.	violet
hvít/ur, adj.	white	violett/ur, adj.	violet

To say 'light (blue)' etc. add the prefix ljósa– to the colour:

ljósabláur	light blue
ljósagrønur	light green
ljósagulur	pale yellow

To say 'dark (blue)' etc. add either the prefix myrka– or dimm(a)– to the colour:

myrkabláur, dimmbláur	dark blue
myrkagrønur, dimmgrønur	dark green
myrkagulur, dimmgulur	dark yellow

At the tax office

As elsewhere in the Nordic countries, the Faroe Islands has a welfare system that is largely paid for through taxation. Taxes are generally high, and VAT, currently 25%, is paid on most goods, although tourists may be able to benefit from tax-free shopping. The tax and customs and excise offices have all been merged into Toll- og Skattstova Føroya (recently renamed TAKS).

Tax-related vocabulary:

avgjaldsfrí/ur, adj.	tax free	skattaskjól (–s, –0), n.	tax-haven
gjalda (geldur) skatt, vb.	to pay tax	skattasvikar/i (–a, –ar), m.	tax dodger inntøkuskatt/ur (–skats, –ir), m.	income tax	skattatrýst (–s, ~), n.	tax burden meirvirðisgjald (–s, –gjøld), n.	value-added tax, goods and services tax	skattskyldig/ur, adj.	liable to pay tax; taxable
		skattstov/a (–u, –ur), f.	tax office
MVG ='meirvirðisgjald'	VAT, GST	stempul (–s, –0), n.	stamp, seal oyðublað (–s, –bløð), n.	form	toll/ur (tols, –ar), m.	customs, duty skatt/ur (skats, –ir), m.	tax (on, á + dat.)	tollar/i (–a, –ar), m.	customs official
		tollfólk (–s, –0), n.	customs official
skattaborgar/i (–a, –ar), m.	taxpayer	tollfrí/ur, adj.	duty-free skattafrádrátt/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	tax deduction	tollgjald (–s, –gjøld), n.	customs duties
skattaprosent (–s, –0), n.	rate of taxation	tollstov/a (–u, –ur), f.	customs office

The letters u and ú

Track 70

1. U

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letter u:

sum	verður	munur
hvussu	studentur	skulu
uttanlendis	hugna	mugu
krónur	hurð	dugi

Track 71

2. Ú

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letter ú:

tjúkkur	brúnur	rúgva
krúss 'mug'	hús	snúgva 'turn'
brúnna acc. sg. def.	íbúð	trúgva
'bridge'	nú
kúnni dat. sg. def. 'cow'	útbúgva seg

Lesistykki 1

The following text is about allowances for bringing duty- and tax-free goods into the Faroe Islands. How much do you understand?

Brennivín, vín, øl og tubbaksvørur (Ferðandi, ið hava fylt 18 ár):

Rúsdrekka yvir 22% vol. alkohol til og við 60% vol. alkohol, í mesta lagi 1 litur og
vín og drekkivørur við alkoholinnihaldi, sum ikki er yvir 22% vol. alkohol, í mesta lagi 1 litur, ella vanligt borðvín í staðin, í mesta lagi 2 litrar
og
øl, sum inniheldur í mesta lagi 5,8% vol. alkohol, í mesta lagi 2 litrar.

Sigarettir, í mesta lagi 200 stk.
ella
sigarillos, í mesta lagi 100 stk.
ella
sigarir, í mesta lagi 50 stk.
ella
tubbak, í mesta lagi 250 gr.

Harumframt kunnu øll ferðandi flyta inn toll- og avgjaldsfrítt:

- luktilsi, í mesta lagi 50 gr.
- sukurvørur, í mesta lagi 3 kg.
- rakivatn, í mesta lagi 25 cl.
- sodavatn, í mesta lagi 10 litrar

Orðalýsingar

alkoholinnihald (–s, –0), n.	alcohol content	rakivatn (–s, ~), n.	aftershave ferðandi, adjectival noun indecl.	traveller	rúsdrekk/a (–a, ~), n.	alcoholic drink
flyta (flytur) inn, vb.	to import	sodavatn (–s, ~), n.	soft drink, soda harumframt, adv.	besides, in addition	sukurvørur f. pl.	confectionery til og við	up to and including
í mesta lagi, adv.	maximum
í staðin, adv.	instead	tubbaksvar/a (–vøru, vørur), f.	tobacco product innihalda (inniheldur), vb.	to contain luktilsi (–s, ~), n.	perfume	vanlig/ur, adj.	normal

Lesistykki 2 (+ Venjing 12)

If you were using this cash machine in the Faroe Islands, what order would the screens appear in?

A

Norðurlandabanki
Takk fyri

B

Vælkomin í Norðurlandabanka
Set kortið í

C

Norðurlandabanki
Trýst loynitalið inn

D

Norðurlandabanki
Vel upphædd:

50	100
200	300
400	500
100	onnur upphædd

E

Norðurlandabanki
Tak kvittan og minst til peningin

F

Norðurlandabanki
Ynskja tygum kvittan?
⇐ Ja Nei ⇒

G

Norðurlandabanki
Vel tænastu: ⇐ Úttøka Kontoavrit ⇒

Lesistykki 3

Track 72

Fyrsta posthúsið læt upp í Tórshavn tann 1. mars 1870. Tað var Hans Christopher Müller, sum stóð fyri posthúsinum tey fyrstu árini. Hann var táverandi sýslumaður í Suðurstreymoyar sýslu. Tann 1. mars 1884 varð posthús latið upp á Tvøroyri í Suðuroynni. Tann 1. mai 1888 læt posthúsið í Klaksvík upp. Í 19. øld komu ikki fleiri posthús í Føroyum enn hesi trý. Í 20. øld lótu nýggj posthús upp í næstan hvørjari bygd í landinum.

Orðalýsingar

læt, lótu pret. < lata, vb.	to let	sýslumaður (–mans, –menn), m.	sheriff
lata (letur) upp, vb.	to open	sýsl/a (–u, –ur), f.	(sheriff's) district
stóð pret. < standa, vb.	to stand	øld (aldar, –ir), f.	century standa (stendur) fyri, vb.	to be responsible for	næstan, adv.	almost táverandi, adj. indecl.	the former	hvør, adj.	every

Orðatak

Track 73

Ikki er alt gull ið glitrar 'All that glitters is not gold'

Veitst tú at...?

Up until 1 April 1976, the Faroese postal system (postverk n.) was administered (rikið) by Denmark. Until then, there was one main post office (posthús n.) in Tórshavn with a number of smaller postal branches (postavgreiðslur f. pl.) for letter collection and exchange in the smaller settlements. In 1974, the Danish postal system began issuing (at framleiða) Faroese postage stamps – in Faroese and decorated with Faroese motifs. The postal system used these stamps in the Faroe Islands for franking mail (frímerkingar av postsendingum) and sold them to stamp collectors (frímerkjasavnarar) abroad. The interest (áhugi) in Faroese postage stamps abroad has always been great. A number of times, postage stamps have been the second-largest source of export revenues (næststørsta føroyska útflutningsvøra) for the Faroe Islands!

Onkur føroysk frímerki:

7 Tú mást taka regnfrakka við tær
You'll have to bring a raincoat

Track 74

In this unit you will learn about:

- reflexive verbs
- the reflexive pronoun sín
- –st verbs
- discussing the weather
- forming adverbs from adjectives
- the comparison of adverbs
- expressing the future
- the media
- the diphthongs ei, ey and oy

Samrøða 1

Track 75

Veðrið

Claire:	Eg fari ein lítlan kaitúr, Kristin.
Kristin:	Tú mást taka regnfrakka við tær!
Claire:	Eg havi eitt regnskjól.
Kristin:	Tað fært tú ikki brúkt. Vindurin er alt ov nógvur.
Claire:	Passar tað?
Kristin:	Ja, ja. Vindurin er nógvur, og vit kunnu rokna við ódn. Hygg út ígjøgnum vindeygað!
Claire:	Rætt hevur tú, Kristin. Hann hevur rættiliga ætlað vindin. Luftin er samdrigin. Eg skilji einki petti av hesum.
Kristin:	Hvat meinar tú við?
Claire:	Eg hugdi út fyri tíggju minuttum síðani. Tá regnaði ikki og sólin skein bæði oman og niðan.
Kristin:	Soleiðis eru Føroyar. Veðrið er óstøðugt. Eina løtu toka, so sól. Sum vit plaga at siga: 'Dámar tær ikki veðrið, bíða so í fimm minuttir – tá fer tað at broytast'.
Claire:	So bíði eg í tíggju minuttir!

Orðalýsingar

alt ov, adv.	far too	óstøðug/ur, adj.	unstable
bæði... og..., conj.	both... and...	passa (passar), vb.	to be true
bíða (bíðar), vb.	to wait	petti (–s, –[r]), n.	bit, piece broytast (broytist), vb.	to change	regna (regnar), vb.	to rain brúka (brúkar), vb.	to use	regnaði, pret. < regna, vb.	rained

dáma (dámar), vb.	to like dámar tær ikki	if you don't like einki petti av	nothing at all of fara (fer[t]) ein túr, vb.	to go for a walk
hava (hevur) rætt, vb.	to be right
hugdi pret. < hyggja, vb.	looked, peeped
hygg imp. < hyggja, vb.	look!
hyggja (hyggur), vb.	to look
kai (–ar, –ir), f.	quay, harbourside
kaitúr/ur (–s, –ar), m.	walk along the quay
løt/a (–u, –ur), f.	moment, instant
luft (–ar, ~), f.	[here:] sky
niðan, adv.	from below, upwards
nógv/ur, adj.	[here:] strong
ódn (–ar, –ir), f.	violent storm
oman, adv.	from above, downwards
regnfrakk/i (–a, –ar), m.	raincoat
regnskjól (–s, –0), n.	umbrella
rokna (roknar) við + dat., vb.	to expect
rættiliga, adv.	really
samdrigin, adj.	overcast
skein, pret. < skína, vb.	shone
skína (skínur), vb.	to shine
sól (–ar, –ir), f.	sun
soleiðis, adv.	like that, thus
tok/a (–u, ~), f.	fog, mist
veður (–s, ~), n.	weather
vind/ur (–s, –ar), m.	wind
vindeyg/a (–a, –u[r]), n.	window
ætla (ætlar), vb. *	to deteriorate, get rougher
ætlað past part. < ætla, vb.	got stronger

* Look at the verb ætla in the following sentences and note how it is used with hann and followed by the accusative:

hann ætlar sjógvin	the sea is getting rougher
hann ætlar veðrið	the weather is deteriorating, getting worse
hann ætlar vindin	the wind is getting stronger

Venjing 1: Spurningar

(a) Hvat ætlar Claire sær at gera?
(b) Hví kann mann ikki brúka regnskjól í dag?
(c) Hvussu er veðrið?
(d) Hví sigur mann 'dámar tær ikki veðrið, bíða so í fimm minuttir – tá fer tað at broytast'?
(e) Fer Claire ein kaitúr?

Mállæra

Reflexive verbs* [§6.2]

Faroese has many reflexive verbs, that is verbs that take a reflexive pronoun as their object. The case of the reflexive pronoun, either the accusative or dative, depends on the verb: eg seti meg niður her 'I'll sit down here', but eg vaski mær hvønn dag 'I wash everyday'. You will need to learn whether the accusative or dative form of the pronoun is used as you learn each verb. Many verbs that are reflexive in Faroese have no corresponding reflexive form in English (for example, eg ætli mær at... 'I intend to...'). The reflexive pronouns are the same in form as the accusative and dative personal pronouns, except in the third person singular and plural, where the form is seg (acc.) or sær (dat.), and does not change for gender:

Teir seta seg niður	They (m.) sit down
Hon vaskar sær	She washes

Venjing 2: Reflexive verbs

Use the verbs below (many of them are reflexive) to describe how Jógvan starts the day. Begin your description like this:

Klokkan 7 vaknar Jógvan. Hann...

vakna (vaknar)	to wake up
fara (fer[t]) á føtur	to get up
raka (rakar) sær	to shave
fáa (fær[t]) sær bað	to have a shower
turka (turkar) sær við einum handklæði	to dry oneself in a towel lata (letur) seg í	to get dressed greiða (greiðir) sær	to comb one's hair
eta (etur) morgunmat	to eat breakfast
busta (bustar) tenn	to brush one's teeth
lata (letur) seg í skógvar	to put on one's shoes
fara (fer[t]) til arbeiðis	to go to work

How would you describe your morning routine in Faroese?

The reflexive possessive* sín [§6.2]

In Unit 3 we learnt that to say 'his' we use hansara or hjá honum and to say 'her' we say hennara or hjá henni: Hvar er bók hansara? Er tað bilurin hjá henni? However, this is not always the case. You have probably already noticed the possessive sín or hjá sær being used. This is the form to use when the subject of the sentence is the same as the possessor:

Magga elskar beiggja sín	Magga loves her (own) brother
Magga elskar beiggja hennara	Magga loves her [i.e. somebody else's] brother
Hann etur súreplið hjá sær	He eats his (own) apple
Hann etur súreplið hjá honum	He's eating his [i.e. somebody else's] apple

Note that sín declines like mín and tín.

–st Verbs [§7.18]

You may have already noticed a number of verb forms that end in –st (for example, minnast 'to remember', hittast 'to meet', giftast 'to marry'). This is a form known as the middle voice and it is used to express:

(a) Reflexivity
The middle voice is sometimes used instead of a verb with a reflexive pronoun:

Eg fari at gifta meg > Eg fari at giftast
'I'm going to get married'

(b) Reciprocity
The sense of 'each other' is added to the meaning of the verb:

Eg hitti Duritu og Durita hittir meg > Vit hittast
'We meet each other'

(c) Passivity
The use of the passive is dealt with in detail in Unit 13, but sometimes an –st verb is used to express passivity. Here is an example:

Øll kalla oynna Nólsoy > Oyggin kallast Nólsoy
'The island's called Nólsoy'

(d) Different meaning of the verb
Sometimes verbs change their meaning entirely when they are put in the middle voice:

sýna	'to show'	sýnast	'to seem'
gera	'to do'	gerast	'to become'

(e) The only existing form of the verb
Sometimes the middle voice is the only form of the verb that exists (that is, it is not possible to use the verb without the –st ending):

klandrast 'to quarrel', flykkjast 'to flock'

The verbs klandra and flykkja do not exist.

(f) Possibility
The middle voice can also sometimes suggest possibility:

tað sæst	it can be seen
tað gerst	it can be done
fløgan fæst í øllum góðum handlum	the CD can be obtained in all good shops

The middle voice is fairly straightforward to form. Add –st to the conjugated verb forms (or infinitive) as appropriate. You'll need to make the following changes as well:

- any final consonant in the usual inflected form is removed;
- the 'u' of the –ur ending is also deleted before –st is added.

Examples:

inf.		kalla	>	kallast	taka	>	takast	hoyra	>	hoyrast
1		kalli	>	kallist	taki	>	takist	hoyri	>	hoyrist
2	sg.	kallar	>	kallast	tekur	>	tekst	hoyrir	>	hoyrist
3		kallar	>	kallast	tekur	>	tekst	hoyrir	>	hoyrist
pl.		kalla	>	kallast	taka	>	takast	hoyra	>	hoyrast

Venjing 3: –st verbs

Fill in the blanks with the correct present tense middle voice form of the verbs in the brackets:

(a) Hvussu _____(ganga)?
(b) Vit _____(síggja)!
(c) Hvussu _____(liva) heima?
(d) _____(leingja) tær aftur til Føroya?
(e) Oyggin _____(kalla) Svínoy.
(f) Tey _____(venja) við at arbeiða í Føroyum.
(g) _____(kenna) tit ikki?
(h) Hann _____(siga) vera óføra ríkur.
(i) Eg _____(minna) tað ikki.

Venjing 4: Translation

With the help of these two vocabulary items translate the sentences in Venjing 3 into English:

leingjast (leingist) sær aftur til + gen., vb.	to miss venjast (venst) við at, vb.	to get used to

Samrøða 2

Track 76

Veðurvánir

CLAIRE: Hvussu verður veðrið í morgin, Jákup?
JÁKUP: Tað dugi eg ikki at svara tær uppá. Vit mugu bíða, til vit hoyra veðurtíðindini í sjónvarpinum í kvøld.

CLAIRE: Nær koma veðurtíðindini?
JÁKUP: Nú.
CLAIRE: Skal eg koyra sjónvarpið frá?
JÁKUP: Sjálvandi. Veðurtíðindini koma beint eftir Dag og viku. Tað er á fyrstu rás.

Claire tendrar sjónvarpið.

SPIKARI: Og nú eru vit komin til veðurtíðindini. Eitt lágtrýst vestan fyri Skotland fer spakuliga í ein landnyrðing og kølin luft streymar inn yvir Føroyar úr landnyrðingi og norðri. Vit kunnu rokna við nógvum vindi til skrið. Tað verður skýggjut og nógv regn. Í nátt støkkur hann norðurum, og í morgin verður helst nakað frægari veður. Hitin alt samdøgrið verður ímillum 6 og 9 stig.
CLAIRE: Hatta ljóðar ikki so gott!
JÁKUP: Er veðrið í Skotlandi ikki næstan sum her? Tað, sum eg minnist, so regnaði tað næstan hvønn Guds skapta dag, tá ið vit vitjaðu tykkum í fjør. Ferjan heim varð eisini seinkað av veðrinum.
CLAIRE: Ja, men tað var í februar. Nú hava vit juli, Jákup!

Orðalýsingar

beint, adv. directly, straight Dagur og vika the name of the evening new's TV programme fræg/ur, adj. good Gud (–s, ~), m. God
helst, adv. mainly, chiefly hit/i (–a, ~), m. temperature hvønn Guds skapta dag every single day hvønn m. acc. every < hvør, pron.
ímillum + acc. between
kølin, adj. cool, chilly koyra (koyrir) frá, vb. to turn on lágtrýst (–s, ~), n. low pressure
landnyrðingur (–s, ~), m. north-east ljóða (ljóðar), vb. to sound minnast (minnist), vb. to remember nakað somewhat norðurum, adv. over in the north rás (–ar, –ir), f. channel samdøgur (–s, –0), n. day and night, 24 hours seinka (seinkar), vb. to delay seinkað past part. delayed < seinka, vb.
sjónvarp (–s, –vørp), n. television skapa (skapar), vb. to create skapt past part. created < skapa, vb.
skrið (–s, –0), n. moderate gale
skýggjut/ur, adj. cloudy, overcast spakuliga, adv. slowly spikar/i (–a, –ar), m. presenter, newsreader
stig (–s, –0), n. degree støkka (støkkur), vb. * to change direction streyma (streymar), vb. to pour, stream
tá ið, conj. when tendra (tendrar), vb. to turn on veðurtíðindi, n. pl. weather forecast
veðurvánir, f. pl. weather outlook vestan, adv. from the west

* Look at the verb støkka in the following sentences and note how it is used with hann:

móti morgni støkkur hann eysturum towards morning the wind changes over in the east hann fer at støkka the weather is changing direction

Mállæra

Discussing the weather

Here are some phrases to answer the question Hvussu er veðrið í dag? ('What's the weather like today?') and some useful related words. Look also at the table of temperatures from around the globe. Note that some place-names are different in Faroese.

HITALAGIÐ KRING KNØTTIN

Ammassalik	3	New York	19
Aten	31	Nuuk	4
Bangkok	30	Oslo	19
Beijing	30	Panama	29
Bergen	21	Paris	24
Berlin	24	Reykjavík	14
Bukarest	27	Rio de Janeiro	35
Helsinki	26	Róm	28
Jerusalem	29	Saint John's	21
Keypmannahavn	21	Seyðisfjørður	12
Kreta	25	Singapor	27
Lerwick	14	Stokkhólm	23
London	19	Sydney	20
Los Angeles	21	Tórshavn	14
Madrid	25	Tromsø	8
Malta	28	Tunis	29
Meksikobýur	22	Warszawa	23
New Delhi	33	Wien	24

Tað er...	It's...
fantastiskt	amazing
vakurt	pleasant
ikki so ringt	very good
tungt	close, humid
skiftandi	changeable
øgiligt	awful
lýtt	warm
kalt	cold
turt	dry
slagið	damp

Tað regnar It's raining
Toran gongur It's thundering
Sólin skínur The sun's shining

Tað kavar It's snowing
Tað lýsir í It's brightening up Luftin er samdrigin It's overcast avfall (–s, ~), n. precipitation brúgvalag (–s, –løg), n. front celsius centigrade, celsius forsøgn (–sagnar, –sagnir), f. forecast, prediction

hálk/a (–u, –ur), f. slipperiness, iciness
hátrýst (–s, –0), n. high pressure
hegling/ur (–s, –ar), m. hail hitalag (–s, –løg), n. temperature hitastig (–s, –0), n. degree
kav/i (–a, ~), m. snow
kavaroksódn (–ar, –ir), f. snowstorm, blizzard
lágtrýst (–s, –0), n. low pressure liggja (liggur) veður-fast/ur to be unable to travel because of bad weather lýsa (lýsir), vb. to get light mjørk/i (–a, –0), m. mist myrkna (myrknar), vb. to get dark norðlýsi (–s, –[r]), n. northern lights, aurora borealis
regn (–s, ~), n. rain
rotveður (–s, ~), n. drizzle skýggjað/ur, adj. cloudy sólglott/i (–a, –ar), m. sunny spell
stig (–s, –0), n. degree
storm/ur (–s, –ar), m. storm tok/a (–u, ~), f. fog tor/a (–u, ~), f. thunder
toruljós (–0, –0), n. lightning
útideyðaveður (–s, ~), n. extremely bad weather
vátasletting/ur (–s, –ar), m. sleet
veðurstov/a (–u, –ur), f. meteorological office
veðurvánir, f. pl. weather outlook
æl (–s, –0), n. shower
ælabog/i (–a, –ar), m. rainbow

12°C = tólv stig
-6°C = seks stig undir null, seks kuldastig

Note also the phrase fyri illveður 'because of bad weather'.

Venjing 5: The weather

Lable each of the images with the correct weather phrase to the right:

i. Sólin skínur
ii. Tað regnar
iii. Tað er ódn
iv. Tað kavar
v. Luftin er samdrigin
vi. Tað er toka

Now match each of the labelled images with one of the sentences below:

A. Í dag er tað lýtt. Skulu vit ikki fara ein túr?
B. Tað er bítandi kalt uttanfyri. Tað eru fimm kuldastig.
C. Tað er slaguveður í dag. Tú mást taka regnskjól við tær!
D. Koyr varisliga! Mann sær einki.
E. Træið er dottið í garðinum.
F. Eg rokni við, at tað man fara at regna í dag.

Venjing 6: The weather

Í dag er tað... – use the Faroese-English glossary at the back of this book if necessary and match the words in column A with the words in column B

A	B
ógvuliga lýtt	kølið
eitt sindur lýtt	tropiskur hiti
ógvuliga kalt	ikki kalt
eitt sindur kalt	bítandi kalt, ísakalt

Venjing 7: The weather

Read the weather forecasts and match them to the correct items of clothing below:

ein T-shirt ein troyggja gummistivlar

(a) Fleyr upp í gul av suðri. Yvirhøvur turt og sól ella sólglottar, men einki avfall. Hitin 5–6 stig.
(b) Hvassur vindur av landsynningi, nógv regn og tora. Hitin 10 stig.
(c) Logn, sól og turt. Hitin 17 stig.

Venjing 8: The weather

Describe the weather in your country or write a weather forecast for today.

Forming adverbs from adjectives

There are two main ways of forming adverbs from adjectives:

1. by adding –liga to the stem of the adjective (or replacing the adjectival suffix –ligur);
2. by using the strong, neuter, nominative, singular form of the adjective.

knapp/ur 'sudden' > knapp-liga 'suddenly'; sátt-lig/ur 'mild' > sátt-liga 'mildly'; týði-lig/ur 'clear' > týði-liga 'clearly'; skjót/ur 'quick' > skjót-t 'quickly'; bein/ur 'direct' > bein-t 'directly'.

Venjing 9: Adverbs

Transform the following sentences as shown in the example:

Example: Jógvan eigur ein skjótan bil. Bilurin koyrir ___*skjótt*___.

(a) Barbara er ein glað genta. Hon brosar altíð so _____.
(b) Pætur hevur vakra skrift. Hann skrivar _____.
(c) Mamma mín tosar á týðiligum føroyskum. Hon tosar _____.
(d) Hotellið er hugnaligt. Vit búgva _____.
(e) Hann er vinaligur. Hann ber sig altíð _____ at.

Expressing the future

The present tense is often used to refer to the future, especially in combination with a future time phrase such as 'tomorrow', 'later' or 'next week':

Arbeiðir tú í morgin?	Are you working tomorrow?
Eg gloymi teg ongantíð	I'll never forget you
Fara tey til Havnar í næstu viku?	Are they going to Tórshavn next week?
Veðrið blívur ikki gott í morgin	The weather won't be good tomorrow
Summarskeiðið verður frá 7. til 28. juli	The summer course will run from the 7th to the 28th of July

As can be seen in the final examples, the verb vera 'to be' becomes verða or blíva in the future. Otherwise all verbs have the same form to express the present and the future.

A commonly used construction to express the future is fara at 'to be going to':

Tú fert at síggja	You will see
Veðrið fer at broytast	The weather is going to change

The future can also be expressed using the modal verbs we have learnt Unit 6. However, here the meaning is not just a straightforward future, but is moderated by the modal verb (for example, munna expresses uncertainty or doubt, skula obligation, intention or promise, and vilja desire or wish).

Comparison of adverbs [§9.6]

Many adverbs can be compared ('he runs slowly, but she runs more slowly; however, I run the slowest'). They do this in much the same way as adjectives:

Hann rennur skjótt; hon rennur skjótari, men eg renni skjótast
Eg gangi langt; tú gongur longri, men hann gongur longst Eg vil gjarna fara ein túr, men eg vil heldur lesa. Allarhelst vil eg fara í biograf Tú teinkir liberalistiskt, hann teinkir meiri liberalistiskt, men hon teinkir mest liberalistiskt

Venjing 10: The comparative and superlative of adverbs

Add the comparative and superlative forms of the adverb in the following sentences:

(a) Madonna syngur hart. Tina Turner syngur _____. Men Maria Callas syngur _____.

(b) Claire tosar týðiliga. Jógvan tosar _____. Men Páll tosar _____ _____.

(c) Eg skrivi vakurt. Tú skrivar _____. Men Anna skrivar _____ _____.

(d) Henda rabarbukøkan smakkar væl, men handa smakkar _____, hóast rabarbukøkan hjá Kristin smakkar _____.

(e) Tú svimur fantastiskt. Beiggi tín svimur _____. Systir tín svimur _____.

Samrøða 3

Track 77

Samrøða um ferðir

Claire og Jógvan sita á kaffistovu og tosa um at ferðast.

CLAIRE: Eg vil so gjarna sleppa til Suðuramerika. Har skínur sólin, og tað regnar ongantíð.

JÓGVAN: Men tað regnar í regnskóginum! Og tað er bítandi kalt í syðsta parti av Kili og Argentina. Eisini uppi í Andesfjøllunum.

CLAIRE: Jú, hatta passar, men hvussu við Meksiko ella Rio de Janeiro?

JÓGVAN: Eg vil heldur ferðast á teimum stóru víddunum í Russlandi, Kanada ella Alaska. Eg elski náttúruna og kundi væl hugsað mær at sætt bjarnir, úlvar og elgar. Eg arbeiddi einaferð í Grønlandi. Náttúran har er ógvuliga vøkur – firðir, jøklar, fjøll og so kavi og aftur kavi.

CLAIRE: Mær dámar betur í stórbýum við fornminnasøvnum, sjónleikarhúsum og einum hugtakandi, spennandi mentanarlívi.

JÓGVAN: Hvussu dámar tær Føroyar?

CLAIRE: Væl. Mær dámar væl í Føroyum. Her er ein góð blanding av býarlívi og natúr. Ja, sjálvt mitt í Havnini er mann bara nakrar fáar minuttir frá sjónum og fjøllunum. Eg veit kortini ikki so nógv um mentanarlívið í býnum.

JÓGVAN: So skulu vit út at uppliva okkurt!

Orðalýsingar

Andesfjøllini, n. pl. def.	the Andes mountains	mentanarlív (–s, –0), n.	cultural life
bjørn (–ar, –ir), f.	bear	natúr (–ar, ~), f.	nature, countryside blanding (–ar, –ar), f.	mix	náttúr/a (–u, ~), f.	nature, countryside býarlív (–s, –0), n.	city-life, town-life	ongantíð, adv.	never einaferð, adv.	once	part/ur (–s, –ar), m.	part elg/ur (–s, –ar), m.	moose, elk	regnskóg/ur (–ar, –ar), m.	rainforest ferðast (ferðast), vb.	to travel	sætt past part. < síggja, vb.	seen heldur, adv.	rather, sooner	sjálvt, adv.	even hugtakandi, adj. indecl.	thrilling	sleppa (sleppur) til + acc.	to get away to jøkil (–s, jøklar), m.	glacier	syðst/ur, adj.	southernmost
kav/i (–a, –ar), m.	snow	uppliva (upplivir), vb.	to experience
Kili n.	Chile	úlv/ur (–s, –ar), m.	wolf
kundi pret. < kunna, vb.	could	vídd (–ar, –ir), f.	wide open space, expanse
kunna væl hugsað sær at + sup.	to fancy …ing
mann, pron.	you, one

Mállæra

The Media

Kringvarp Føroya headquarters in Tórshavn

The national broadcaster Kringvarp Føroya runs one television channel, Sjónvarp Føroya, and a radio station, Útvarp Føroya. Sjónvarp Føroya began broadcasting in 1984. Today households receive many other Scandinavian and international channels, including the private Faroese station Rás 2. Útvarp Føroya began in 1957, and today shares the airwaves with two other Faroese stations, the private Rás 2 and the Christian Lindin. The two largest-selling newspapers are the Tórshavn-based dailies Sosialurin and Dimmalætting (usually referred to simply as Dimma), but there are two other newspapers, Oyggjatíðindi and Norðlýsið, as well as the weekly publication Vikublaðið. There is also a monthly women's magazine called Kvinna as well as the popular science magazine Frøði. Many organisations have a weekly or monthly magazine for their members and other interested parties as well.

avís (–ar, –ir), f.	newspaper	sjónvarpsstøð (–ar, –ir), f.	channel
blað (–s, bløð), n.	magazine	sjónvarpstíðindi(r), n. pl.	TV news blaðgrein (–ar, –ar/–ir), f.	article	sjónvarpstól (–s, –0), n.	television set dagskrá (–ar, –ir), f.	TV listing	tíðarrit (–s, –0), n.	journal
kringvarp (–s, ~), n.	broadcasting	tíðindablað¤ (–s, –bløð), n.	newspaper kringvarpa (–varpar), vb.	to broadcast	tíðindafólk (–s, –0), n.	journalist lýsingar f. pl.	adverts	undirtekst/ur (–s, –ir), m.	subtitles
rás (–ar, –ir), f.	channel	útvarp (–s, ~), n.	radio sending (–ar, –ar), f.	broadcast, programme	útvarpa (–varpar), vb.	to broadcast (by radio)
sjónvarp (–s, ~), n.	television	útvarpssending (–ar, –ar), f.	radio programme
sjónvarpa (–varpar), vb.	to televise	útvarpsstøð (–ar, –ir), f.	station sjónvarpsrøð (–raðar, –ir / –raðir), f.	TV series	útvarpstól (–s, –0), n.	radio set
		yvirskrift (–ar, –ir), f.	headline

Venjing 11: Spurningar

Look at the TV listing for the day's programmes for Sjónvarp Føroya and answer the questions below.

Dagskrá

17:00	Sunasa verð – svensk teknirøð fyri stór børn
17:25	Pingu
17:30	Øll elska Raymond – amerikonsk skemtirøð
18:00	Miðlingurin Malcolm – amerikonsk skemtirøð
18:30	Haraldur úr Havn – songir og smásøgur; vertur Haraldur í Gongini
19:00	Dagur og vika
19:25	Veðurtíðindi
19:30	Sjimpansurnar úr Kongo – náttúrurøð frá BBC

20:00	Gekkur*
20:30	Føroyskar oyggjar – í dag Skúvoy
21:00	Fótbóltsprát; vertur Hanus Nielsen
21:30	Kvinnur í Pakistan – kanadiskur dokumentarfilmur frá 2004
23:00	Krimitimin: Barnaby kommiserur
23:45	Xena – amazonstríðskvinna (óhóskandi fyri smábørn)
00:20	Liðugt

Orðalýsingar

dokumentarfilm/ur (–s, –ar), m.	documentary	prát (–0, –0), n.	talk, chat heimsbardag/i (–a, –ar), m.	world war	seinni, comp. < sein/ur, adj.	[here:] second kommisær/ur (–s, –ar), m.	police detective	sjimpans/a (–u, –ur), f.	chimpanzee krimi–, prefix	detective, crime	skemtirøð (–raðar, –ir / –raðir), f.	comedy series
liðug/ur, adj.	finished	smásøg/a (–u, –ur), f.	tale miðling/ur (–s, –ar), m.	middle child	stríðskvinn/a (–u, –ur), f.	warrior woman náttúrurøð (–raðar, –ir / –raðir), f.	nature series	teknirøð (–raðar, –ir / –raðir), f.	cartoon series óhóskandi fyri + acc., adj. indecl.	unsuitable for	vert/ur (–s, –ir), m.	host

* Gekkur is the name of a popular TV lottery show.
 Another word you might meet for this is heimildarfilm/ur (–s, –ar), m.
 For example: krimifilmur 'thriller', krimisøga 'detective story', and here krimitimin 'the crime hour'. A thriller can also simply be called a thrillar/i (–a, –ar), m.

(a) What time is the news on?
(b) Are there any children's programmes?
(c) Are there any programmes definitely not suitable for children?
(d) What sort of programme do you think Haraldur úr Havn might be?
(e) When is the nature programme on and what is it about?
(f) When is there a detective programme on?
(g) What is this evening's Faroese documentary film about?
(h) Are there any sports programmes on this evening?

The diphthongs ei, ey and oy

Track 78

1. EI
Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the diphthong ei:

skein	soleiðis	beint	beiggi
kaitúr	sjónleikur	arbeiddi	leingjast
meina	arbeiði	seinni	seinka
skeiðið	eitt	einki	teinkja

Track 79

2. EY
Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the diphthong ey:

vindeygað	breyð	dreymur	eystur
leysur	streyma	eyknavn	reytt
tey	keypa	Eysturríki	heyst

3. OY

Track 80

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the diphthong oy:

broytast	gloyma	roykt ('smoked')	føroyskur
hoyra	troyggja	bláoygdur	Føroyingur
koyra	Oyggjatíðindi	('blue-eyed')	Kunoy
oysregn	roynd ('test')	Føroyar	Borðoy

Lesistykki 1

Track 81

Read the weather forecast and answer the questions below:

Veðrið í dag : Lot til andøvsgul av útsynningi og yvirhøvur turt og sólglottar. Hitin millum 10 og 13 stig.

Veðrið sunnudagin: Fyrrapartin fleyr til gul av útsynningi ella av ymsum ættum, turt og sólglottar. Seinnapartin eitt skifti regn og móti kvøldi upp í stívt andøvsgul av vestri og ælingur. Hitin millum 9 og 12 stig.

Veðrið mánadagin: Gul til stívt andøvsgul av vestri og útnyrðingi og ælingur, men eisini sólglottar. Hitin millum 8 og 11 stig.

Veðrið týsdagin og mikudagin: Hann veksur vindin upp í hvassan vind av suðri og týskvøldið fer at regna. Mikudagin minni vindur og yvirhøvur turt. Hitin millum 8 og 12 stig

Orðalýsingar

andøvsgul (–s, –0), n.	gentle breeze	turr/ur, adj.	dry
fleyr (–s, –0), n.	light breeze	útnyrðing/ur (–s, ~), m.	north-west (wind, direction)
fyrrapartin	in the morning
gul (–s, –0), n.	breeze	útsynning/ur (–s, ~), m.	south-west (wind, direction)
hann veksur vindin	the wind increases
hvass/ur, adj.	[here:] strong	veksur pres. < vaksa	see hann veksur vindin
lot (–s, ~), n.	gentle breeze
móti + acc.	toward	yms/ur, adj.	differing, different seinnapartin	in the afternoon	yvirhøvur, adv.	at all, altogether
skifti (–s, –[r]), n.	a period	æling/ur (–s, ~), m.	showery weather sólglott/i (–a, –ar), m.	sunny spell	ætt (–ar, –ir), f.	wind direction
stív/ur, adj.	steady

Venjing 12: Spurningar

(a) Is it going to get warmer or colder the next few days?
(b) Is it going to be rainy today?
(c) Will there be rain on Sunday?
(d) Can we expect any sun on Monday?
(e) What are the two main features of the weather on Tuesday?
(f) Will Wednesday be mainly wet or dry?

Lesistykki 2

Track 82

UTTAN STREYM Í GÓÐAR 12 TÍMAR

Svínoyingar lógu í streymloysi mánanáttina

Í nátt lógu svínoyingar aftur í streymloysi. Eitt omanlop í oynni gjørdi nevniliga skaða á el-linjurnar, soleiðis at streymurin fór. Og soleiðis lógu svínoyingar í streymloysi til í morgun. Í bygdini er eitt neyðaggregat, men tað óhepna var, at tann maðurin, sum kundi seta tað í gongd, var tíverri farin av oynni ígjár. Tíðliga í morgun fóru menn frá SEV út í Svínoynna, og fingu har umvælt brekið, soleiðis at bygdarfólkið aftur fekk streymin fyri løtu síðani, fingu vit upplýst frá SEV. Svínoyingar fáa streym frá elverkinum á Strond, og hava linjurnar haðani eisini samband við Árnafjørð. Orsakað av brekinum í Svínoy mistu árnfirðingar eisini streymin eitt skifti í gjárkvøldið. Men bert stutta tíð, ti teir fingu longu streymin aftur seinni um kvøldið.

Orðalýsingar

árnfirðing/ur (–s, –ar), m.	inhabitant of Árnafjørður	orsakað sup. < orsaka, vb.	to cause
brek (–s, –0), n.	fault	óheppin, adj.	unlucky
bygdarfólk (–s, –0), n.	villager	samband (–s, –bond), n.	connection el-linj/a (–u, –ur), f.	power line, electricity cable	sein/ur, adj.	late seta (setur) í gongd, vb.	to start elverk (–s, –0), n.	power plant, power station	SEV 	Faroese electricity company
fingu pret. < fáa, vb.	to get	skað/i (–a, –ar), m.	damage fór(u) pret. < fara, vb.	to go	soleiðis, adv.	thus, so fyri...síðani	ago	streym/ur (–s,–ar), m.	current, [here:] power haðani, adv.	from there	streymloysi (–s, –[r]), n.	power cut
í góðar 12 tímar	for a good 12 hours	svínoying/ur (–s, –ar), m.	inhabitant of Svínoy lógu pret. < liggja, vb.	to lie, to be	tíverri, adv.	unfortunately løt/a (–u, –ur), f.	period of time	umvælt sup. < umvæla, vb.	to repair mistu pret. < missa, vb.	to lose nevniliga, adv.	namely	upplýst sup. < upplýsa, vb.	to inform
neyðaggregat (–s, –0), n.	emergency generator
omanlop (–s, –0), n.	rockfall, landslide	uttan + acc., prep.	without

* SEV = Streymoy-Eysturoy-Vágar-elfelagið – Originally the company covered just the three islands mentioned in its name, but now it covers all of the islands.

Venjing 13: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) The inhabitants of Svínoy were without electricity for twelve days.
(b) A hurricane caused damage to the power cables.
(c) The emergency generator was also damaged.
(d) Svínoy receives electricity from the power plant in Strond.
(e) There was also a blackout in Árnafjørður because of the problem on Svínoy.

Lesistykki 3 (+ Venjing 14)

Four more signs, this time from the harbour in Tórshavn. Match each of the prohibitions i.

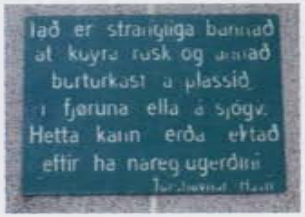
ii.

(a) Keep out
(b) Traffic for ferry only
(c) Don't gut fish in harbour
(d) No dumping rubbish

iii.



iv.

Are you able to work out what the faded letters in sign (iii) are?

Veitst tú at...?

It is said that the Inuit have a hundred different words for 'snow', but did you know the Faroese have a myriad of words to describe the two most characteristic features of the Faroese climate: wind and fog? Here are the different types of vindur in Faroese:

Beaufort scale	metre/second
0	0–0.3	logn, n. 'dead calm'
1	0.4–1.5	fleyr, n. 'light breeze'
2	1.6–3. 3	lot, n. 'gentle breeze'
3	3.4–5.4	gul, n. 'breeze'
4	5.5–7.9	andøvsgul, n. 'steady breeze'
5	8–10.7	stívt andøvsgul, n. 'steady breeze'
6	10.8–13.8	strúkur, m. 'strong breeze'
7	13.9–17.1	hvassur vindur, m. 'strong wind'
8	17.2–20.7	skrið, n. 'moderate gale'
9	20.8–24.4	stormur, m. 'gale'
10	24.4–28.4	hvassur stormur, m. 'severe gale'
11	28.5–32. 6	kolandi stormur, m. 'storm of hurricane force'
12	32.6 +	ódn, f. 'hurricane'

And here are some of the types of fog or mjørki:

fjallamjørki, m.	mountain fog or mist
flóki, m.	bank of fog or mist
hjallamjørki, m.	belt of fog or mist, above and below which it is clear kavamjørki, m.	snow-fog
kavaskadda, f.	snow-filled mountain mist
kavatoka, f.	snow with fog or mist
kódn, f.	thick fog
kógv, n.	thick fog
kóv, n.	hazy sky before a change in the weather
kuldatám, n.	light mist in cold weather
kuldatoka, f.	freezing fog
mjørkabakki, m.	fog bank
mjørkabelti, n.	long, thin bank of fog
mjørkabrúgv, f.	fog bank on the horizon
mjørkaflóki, m.	fog bank
mjørkakógv, n.	very thick fog
mjørkakóv, n.	very thick fog
mjørkasubb, n.	fog and rain together
mjørkasurk, n.	fog and rain together
mjørkatám, n.	mist, haze
mjørki, m.	(usually summer) fog or mist
pollamjørki, m.	low-lying fog with good weather above
rot(u)veður, n.	drizzle, damp fog
sirm, n.	wet fog, very fine rain
skadda, f.	thick wet mountain fog
skødda, f.	thick wet mountain fog
skúlvur, m.	fog or mist on mountain tops
slavtoka, f.	rainy mist
subb, n.	wet mist
surk, n.	wet fog
surp, n.	wet fog
tám, n.	haze, mist
toka, f.	fog, mist
tokubakki, m.	fog bank
tokutám, n.	mist, haze
toppamjørki, m.	mist on the mountain tops
typpamjørki, m.	mist on the mountain tops

The island Nólsoy seen from Argir shrouded in 'pollamjørki'

8 Hvat ber til at gera um kvøldið?

Track 83

What's there to do in the evening?

In this unit you will learn about:

- demonstratives
- preterite tense
- joining sentences with conjunctions
- verbs with accusative and dative subjects
- saying what you like, dislike and prefer
- going out and ordering tickets
- the letter r

Samrøða 1

Track 84

JÓGVAN: Hvat dámar tær best at gera um kvøldarnar, Claire?

CLAIRE: Mær dámar væl at fara í biograf ella hyggja at onkrum sjónleiki. Tónleik elski eg eisini, líkamikið um tað er poppur ella klassiskur tónleikur. Eg og vinirnir hjá mær fara eisini oftani at fáa okkum eina øl á onkrari krógv ella barr.

JÓGVAN: Skulu vit ikki fara í biograf í annaðkvøld?

CLAIRE: Hvør filmur gongur?

JÓGVAN: Ein danskur teknifilmur, barnafilmur er tað, og hann gongur klokkan 18. Klokkan 21 er ein amerikanskur gysari á skránni.

CLAIRE: Mær dámar ikki so væl gysarar.

JÓGVAN: Men hvussu við teknifilminum?

CLAIRE: Nei álvaratos. Tað kanst tú ikki meina.

JÓGVAN: Ein skemtifilmur er klokkan 22 í hinum salinum.

CLAIRE: Hvat fyri filmur er tað?

JÓGVAN: Ein svenskur filmur um nakrar politistar úti á bygd. Ella tað var í einum provinsbýi. Beiggi mín hevur sætt hann, og hann helt, at filmurin slett ikki var so galin.

CLAIRE: Hevur filmurin undirtekstir? Eg skilji ikki svenskt.

JÓGVAN: Ja, allir útlendskir filmar í Føroyum hava danskan undirtekst.

CLAIRE: Men tað danska hjá mær er ikki hundrað prosent.

JÓGVAN: Ná ja. Tað hugsaði eg ikki um. Skulu vit so bara leiga eitt sjónband ella eina fløgu í staðin fyri?

CLAIRE: Nei. Eg vil sleppa at síggja biografin í Havn. Eg havi ikki verið har fyrr, so vit taka tann amerikanska ræðufilmin klokkan 21. Vissi eg blívi bangin, krógvi eg meg bara undir stólinum.

JÓGVAN: Ok. Eg biði um billettirnar. Skulu vit so siga, at vit hittast uttan fyri biografin klokkan 20.45.

CLAIRE: Ja. Tað er útmerkað fyri mín part.

Orðalýsingar

álvaratos (–0, –0), n.	something said in seriousness
bangin, adj.	afraid
barnafilm/ur (–s, –ar), m.	children's film
barr (–ar, –ir), f.	bar
biðja (biður) um + acc., vb.	to ask for billett (–ar, –ir), f.	ticket
biograf/ur (–s, –ar), m.	cinema
blíva (blívur), vb.	to become
fløga = DVD-fløga	DVD(-disc)
fyri mín part (–u, –ur), f.	as far as I'm concerned
gysar/i (–a, –ar), m.	horror film
hugsa (hugsar) um, vb.	to think about hyggja (hyggur) at + dat., vb.	to watch, see í staðin fyri + acc., prep.	instead
krógv (kráar, kráir), f.	pub
krógva (krógvar) seg, vb.	to hide
leiga (leigar), vb.	to rent, hire
líkamikið	no matter
meina (meinar), vb.	to mean
nei álvaratos, interj.	good grief no! honestly!
oftani	often
part/ur (–s, –ar), m.	part
prosent (–s, –0), n.	per cent
provinsbý/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	provincial town
ræðufilm/ur (–s, –ar), m.	horror film
sætt sup. < síggja, vb.	seen
sal (–s, –ar), m.	hall, room
sjónband (–s, –bond), n.	video
sjónleik/ur (–s, –ir), m.	play
skemtifilm/ur (–s, –ar), m.	comedy film
skrá (–ar, –ir), f.	programme
slett ikki so galin	very good*
tað kanst tú ikki meina	you've gotta be kidding
teknifilm/ur (–s, –ar), m.	cartoon
undirtekstir m. pl.	subtitles
útlendsk/ur, adj.	foreign
útmerkað/ur, adj.	excellent
uttan fyri + acc., prep.	outside
vissi, conj.	if

* Note that understatement is quite typical. By saying 'really not so terrible', you actually mean 'really good'!

Venjing 1: Spurningar

(a) Hvat dámar Claire at gera?
(b) Hvat fyri filmar ganga í biografinum?
(c) Hví vil Claire ikki leiga nakað sjónband?
(d) Hvat fer Claire at gera, vissi hon blívur bangin?
(e) Hvør fer at keypa atgongumerkini?

Venjing 2: Spoken and literary terms

Match each of the spoken forms in column A with the more literary, official forms in B:

A	B
avís	atgongumerki
betala	vikuskifti
billett	kykmyndahús
biografur	gjalda
gysari	sjónband
video	tíðindablað
weekend	ræðufilmur

Mállæra

Demonstratives [§6.5]

These are words to say 'this house', 'these people', 'that boy', 'those bananas'. There are four such words in Faroese:

	sg.			pl.
'this'	m.	f.	n.	m.	f.	n.
nom.	hesin	henda	hettar	hesir	hesar	hesi
acc.	henda	hesa	hettar	hesar	hesar	hesi
dat.	hesum	hesi/hesari	hesum	hesum	hesum	hesum
gen.	---	---	---	---	---	---
'that'
nom.	hasin	handa	hattar	hasir	hasar	hasi
acc.	handa	hasa	hattar	hasar	hasar	hasi
dat.	hasum	hasi/hasari	hasum	hasum	hasum	hasum
gen.	---	---	---	---	---	---
'that'
nom.	tann	tann	tað	teir	tær	tey
acc.	tann	ta	tað	teir	tær	tey
dat.	tí	teirri/tí	tí	teimum	teimum	teimum
gen.	tess	teirrar	tess	teirra	teirra	teirra
'the other'
nom.	hin	hin	hitt	hinir	hinar	hini
acc.	hin	hina	hitt	hinar	hinar	hini
dat.	hinum	hini/hinari	hinum	hinum	hinum	hinum
gen.	---	---	---	---	---	---

These are the spoken forms – look in the grammar book §6.5 to find the written forms.

We use the words hesin and hasin to refer to something we can see. If the thing or person is nearby, we say hesin, if it is further away, over there, we say hasin:

Hesin maðurin er úr Klaksvík This man is from Klaksvík Handa kvinnan tosar franskt That woman speaks French

You'll also notice that the noun appears in the definite form together with the demonstratives. We have already met tann as the definite article. If we stress the word, it means 'that' when referring to something that is not within view. Often it refers to something already mentioned:

Eg keypi ein nýggjan bil í morgin – tann gamli er ov lítil til familjuna hjá mær
I'm buying a new car tomorrow – the old one is too small for my family

The word hin means 'the other' and is used in contrasts:

Hesin drongurin er stórur, men hin er størri
This boy is big, but the other one is bigger

Annar sigur 'ja', hin sigur 'nei'
One of them says 'yes', the other 'no'

Remember that the noun accompanying the demonstrative must also be in the definite form.

Venjing 3: Demonstratives

(a) This film is exciting.
(b) That man is from Nólsoy.
(c) These children are speaking Faroese, but those are speaking Icelandic.
(d) That is so good!
(e) This weather is awful!
(f) Those women want to know where you are from.
(g) These men are fishermen.
(h) That is a new car. Which car? That car or this one?

Expressing likes, dislikes and preferences

The verb for expressing likes, dislikes and preferences is dáma [§3.5.3]. It is a little bit complicated to use because the agent (that is, the person doing the liking) is in the dative, the thing liked is in the accusative, and the verb is in the third person singular!

okkum dámar popptónleik	we like pop music
dámar tær popptónleik?	do you like pop music?
mær dámar ikki súrepli	I don't like apples
børnunum dámar ikki kryddaðar karryrættir	the children don't like spicy curries

The verb dáma can also be followed by an infinitive:

mær dámar at aka á skíðum	I like to ski, I like skiing
dámar Mariannu at dansa?	Does Marianna like to dance, does Marianna like dancing?

Note then the three constructions:

mær dámar + acc.	I like…
mær dámar ikki + acc.	I don't like…
mær dámar heldur + acc.	I prefer…

Other useful phrases are:

eg eri býttur í + dat.	I'm crazy about…
eg eri púra bitin av + dat. / bitin av at + inf.	I'm totally mad about…
eg eri burtur í + dat.	I'm wild about…
eg elski + acc. / elski at + inf.	I love…
eg kann ikki torga + acc. / torga at + inf.	I can't stand…
eg hati + acc. / hati at + inf.	I hate…

Venjing 4: Likes, dislikes and preferences

Create suitable sentences to express whether or not the person(s) mentioned like(s) the things in the list below. For example:

Anna – ☺ – popptónleikur > Onnu dámar popptónleik eg – ☹☹ – ertnasúpan > eg kann ikki torga ertnasúpan

(a) tú – ☺☺ – at lesa
(b) Jógvan – ☺ – ræðufilmar
(c) Páll – ☹☹☹ – klassiskur tónleikur
(d) vit – ☺☺ – Føroyar
(e) tey – ☹☹ – at sigla
(f) børnini – ☺ – at spæla telduspøl
(g) tit – ☹ – at lesa bøkur
(h) studentarnir – ☹☹ – lærarin
(i) Ása – ☺ – føroyskur matur
(j) Jóhanna – ☹☹☹ – at matgera
(k) eg – ☺☺☺ – fremmandamál
(l) hon – ☺ – tann nýggja fløgan

Venjing 5: Likes, dislikes and preferences

Write a short passage about what you like and do not like doing. Here is vocabulary to help you:

art	myndalist (–ar, ~), f.	playing sport	at íðka ítrótt
to go to the cinema	at fara í biograf	reading books	at lesa bøkur
to go dancing	at dansa	shopping	at sjoppa, at keypa inn
film	film/ur (–s, –ar), m.	singing (in a choir)	at syngja (í kóri)
folk-dancing	fólkadans/ur (–dans, –ir), m.	surfing the web	at rógva út á netinum
		theatre	sjónleik/ur (–s, ~), m.
going-out	at fara í býin	travelling	at ferðast
music	tónleik/ur (–s, ~), m.	visiting friends	at fara at vitja vinirnar hjá mær
photography	myndatøk/a (–u, ~), f.
playing football	at spæla fótbólt	watching TV	at hyggja at sjónvarpi
playing computer games	at spæla telduspøl	writing	at skriva

Venjing 6: Likes, dislikes and preferences Track 85

Listen to the four people on the recording talking about different types of music. Put a tick (for like) or cross (for dislike) in the correct box for each speaker. The first one has been done for you as an example:

talari	klassiskur	poppur	rokkur	fólkatónleikur
(a) Jógvan	✓	×	✓	×
(b) Páll
(c) Claire
(d) Kristin

Samrøða 2

Jógvan bíleggur atgongumerkini Track 86

EKSPEDIENTURIN: Góðan dagin. Hetta er Havnar bio.
JÓGVAN: Góðan dagin. Eg eiti Jógvan Jákupsson. Eg ætlaði at biðja um tvær billettir til í annaðkvøld.
EKS. Til hvønn film?
JÓGVAN: Tann klokkan 22. Eg minnist ikki, hvussu hann eitur. Tað er ein gysari. Ein thrillari.
EKS. Systir mín ætlar at drepa meg.
JÓGVAN: Hvat sigur tú?!
EKS. 'Systir mín ætlar at drepa meg' – soleiðis eitur filmurin.
JÓGVAN: Ná.
EKS. Og tú skuldi hava tvey atgongumerkir, ha?
JÓGVAN: Jú takk.
EKS. Og tú eitur?
JÓGVAN: Jógvan Jákupsson.
EKS. Eg havi lagt tvey setur av mitt í salinum. Filmurin gongur í øðrum sali. Tú skalt koma eftir atgongumerkjunum í minsta lagi hálvan tíma, áðrenn filmurin byrjar. Tað fer at kosta 140 krónur tilsamans.
JÓGVAN: Takk.
EKS. Farvæl og takk sjálvur.

Havnar Bio

Orðalýsingar

atgongumerki (–s, –0), n.	ticket
áðrenn, conj.	before
byrja (byrjar), vb.	to start
drepa (drepur), vb.	to kill, murder
ekspedient/ur (–s, –ar), m.	sales assistant
í minsta lagi	at least
lagt av sup. < leggja av, vb.	to put to one side, keep koma (kemur) eftir + dat., vb.	to come and collect
setur (–s, –0), n.	seat, place
soleiðis, adv.	thus, like this
tilsamans, adv.	altogether
øðrum < annar, adj.	second

Venjing 7: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Jógvan vil gjarna keypa tvær billettir.
(b) Systirin hjá ekspedientinum ætlar at drepa hana.
(c) Setrini eru mitt í øðrum sali.
(d) Jógvan kann koma eftir atgongumerkjunum tíggju minuttir, áðrenn filmurin byrjar.
(e) Í alt kosta atgongumerkini yvir tvey hundrað krónur.

Mállæra

Conjunctions [§10]

Conjunctions connect two or more words, phrases or clauses together, and they are indeclinable particles in Faroese. They can be coordinating, that is they introduce a new grammatical unit that is independent, or they can be subordinating and introduce a clause that is dependent on the main clause.

Coordinating conjunctions:

og	and	bæði... og...	both... and...
men	but	ikki... uttan...	not... but...
ella	or	antin... ella...	either... or...
tí	because	hvørki... ella...	neither... nor...

Examples:

Eg tosi føroyskt, og tú tosar enskt
Eg dugi føroyskt, men eg dugi ikki enskt
Eg dugi ikki enskt, tí eg eri ikki onglendingur Antin tosar tú føroyskt, ella fari eg avstað

Coordinating conjunctions do not affect word order, except ella which causes verb-subject inversion:

Eg fari at keypa øl í dag, ella keypi eg tað í morgin

The most important subordinating conjunctions (see §10.2 for a full list):

Examples:

at	that	meðan	while
av tí at	because, as	nær	when (at what time)
eins og	as if	so (at)	so (that) fyri at	in order that	tá ið	when (at that time), whenever hóast	although	um	whether (if)
hvar	where	vissi	if
hví	why

Meðan eg eri í Føroyum, eti eg altíð føroyskan mat
Eg eri øgiliga svong, av tí at eg eri upp á a ('...I am on a diet') Vissi tú ert svong, skalt tú eta okkurt!
Eg veit ikki, um hann er heima
Eg dugi ikki føroyskt, av tí at eg ikki eri føroyingur Eg komi, hóast mamma ikki kemur við Ert tú so býttur, at tú ikki veitst tað?!

Subordinating conjunctions commonly affect word order – especially in spoken Faroese. Sentence adverbs (such as ikki, ongantíð, altíð) come before the finite verb (...av tí at tú ikki er føroyingur). However, it is also perfectly acceptable to say and write ...av tí at tú ert ikki føroyingur with normal word order.

Venjing 8: Conjunctions

Complete each of the sentences below with one of the following conjunctions: av tí at, hví, meðan, men, nær, og, so at, tá ið, um and vissi:

(a) Tey spyrja, _____ ferjan kemur.
(b) Hann rópar hart, _____ _____ øll hoyra.
(c) _____ eg sovi, kanst tú vaska bilin.
(d) Mamma _____ pápi eru í Sandoynni.
(e) _____ _____ veðrið er gott, fari eg ein túr niðan í fjøllini.
(f) Eg syngi vakurt, _____ tú syngur vakrari.
(g) Sig mær, _____ tú er so kedd.
(h) _____ eg hevði nógvar pengar, keypti eg ein nýggjan bil
(i) Spyr hana, _____ hon kemur við í kvøld.
(j) Eg fari ikki út, _____ eg eri bangin.

Verbs with accusative and dative subjects* [§3.5.1–3.5.3]

We have already looked at the verb dáma in this unit. There are a number of other verbs that take a subject in a case other than the nominative. In other words, the one experiencing the verb is not in the nominative. In older texts you may come across verbs using the accusative (meg droymdi ein dreym, 'I dreamt a dream'), but these have largely been replaced by the nominative today (eg droymdi ein dreym). However, there are still a number of verbs that take the dative. They are listed in the grammar. The most common ones you will probably have to use are: eydnast 'succeed,' gangast væl / illa 'be successful / unsuccessful', gangast væl / illa 'succeed, not succeed', leiðast við 'get bored with', leingjast 'to miss', mangla 'to lack', sýnast 'seem', and tørva 'need':

honum leingist heim aftur	he misses home, he is homesick
mær lukkast ikki at keypa breyð í dag	I'm not going to get to buy bread today
mær manglar tíggju krónur	I'm 10 krónur short
tørvar tær hjálp?	do you need help?

You will also hear many of these verbs being used with the nominative in the spoken language:

eg dámi ikki bókina	I don't like the book (= mær dámar ikki bókina)
vit leingjast heim aftur	we miss home (= okkum leingist heim aftur)
tú manglar ikki pening	you don't lack money (= tær manglar ikki pening)

Venjing 9: Verbs with accusative and dative subjects

Translate the following sentences into Faroese:

(a) Are you homesick?
(b) Is he short of money?
(c) Is she doing well (succeeding)?
(d) Do they need help?
(e) Are you not bored with this film?

Going out and booking tickets

Below are some phrases to help you find out what is on, find out times, ticket costs and availability of seats at the cinema, theatre, sports stadium or concert hall.

What's on...	Hvat gongur...
at the cinema?	í biografinum?
at the theatre?	í sjónleikarhúsinum?
at the concert hall?	í konserthúsinum?

What time does the … begin?	Nær byrjar
film, play, concert	filmurin, sjónleikurin, konsertin?
match	fótbóltsdysturin?
How much does a ticket cost?	Hvussu nógv kostar ein billett?
Where do I get a ticket?	Hvar fái eg eina billett?
Are there seats available?	Eru nøkur pláss eftir?

Here are the names of the main cultural houses, theatres and sporting venues in the Faroe Islands:

Norðurlandahúsið	Tórshavn	cultural house, exhibitions, concerts
Gundadalur	Tórshavn	football stadium
Gamla Meiarí̲ið	Tórshavn	exhibitions, performances
Sjónleikarhúsið	Tórshavn	theatre
Tjóðpallur Føroya	Tórshavn	theatre
úti á Rundingi	Tórshavn	exhibitions
Havnar Bio	Tórshavn	cinema
Atlantis Bio	Klaksvík	cinema
Stranda Bio	Strendir	cinema

Listasavn Føroya

There are of course many other spaces used for cultural activities, for example, churches, schools, the university, community centres and outdoor sites such as meadows, beaches and parks. The following words are also useful:

sýning (–ar, –ar), f.	exhibition
savn (–s, –søvn), n.	museum
fornminnissavn	historical museum
náttúrugripasavn	natural historical museum
listasavn	art museum
framførsl/a (–u, –ur), f.	performance

Venjing 10: Booking tickets

Complete the dialogue.

– Góðan dagin. Hetta er Norðurlandahúsið.
– Ask if there is a concert on this week.
– Ja. Symfoniorkestrið spælir heystkonsert fríggjakvøldið.
– Ask what time the concert begins.
– Klokkan 19.
– Ask whether there are any seats available.
– Vit hava nakrar fáar billettir eftir.
– Ask how much it costs?
– 150 krónur.
– Ask for two tickets.
– Eg havi tvey setur á fyrsta rað. Er tað í lagi?
– Say that's fine.
– Hvussu eitur tú?
– Give your name.
– Tú skalt koma eftir billettunum í minsta lagi 30 minuttir fyri konsertina.
– Say thank you and that you understand.
– Farvæl.
– Say goodbye.

Venjing 11: Going out and booking tickets Track 87

Listen to the recording describing the day's events in Tórshavn. Complete the table below. The first row has been done for you as an example:

	activity	place	starts	ticket price
(a)	konsert	Norðurlandahúsið	19:00	150,–
(b)		Gundadalur
(c)				70,–
(d)	málningaframsýning
(e)		úr Havn til Kirkjubøar
(f)	vatnaerobikk

Samrøða 3

Claire tosar við Kristin um filmin

Track 88

KRISTIN: Hvussu var filmurin, sum tú hugdi at í gjárkvøldið?
CLAIRE: Fantastiskur. Vanliga dámar mær ikki ræðufilmar, men hesin var spennandi og væl gjørdur.
KRISTIN: Hvat var hann um?
CLAIRE: Um eina konu, sum finnur út av, at hon eigur eina tvíburasystur, sum bleiv rænd, tá ið tær vóru børn. So byrjaði ymiskt undarligt at henda í gerandisdegnum hjá hesari kvinnuni. Hon er heilt sikkur í, at systirin er afturíafturkomin, men øll halda hana vera sinnissjúka.
KRISTIN: Hatta ljóðar óhugnaligt!
CLAIRE: Eg gjørdist eisini bangin fleiri ferðir, og noyddist at krógva meg undir regnfrakkanum hjá Jógvani.
KRISTIN: Dámar tær sjónleik?
CLAIRE: Ja, eg elski alt, sum hevur við sjónleik at gera.
KRISTIN: Ein leikur gongur í Sjónleikarhúsinum, og eg havi tvey atgongumerkir til fríggjadagin. Jákup kann ikki torga sjónleik, so eg helt, at tú kanska hevði hug at koma við.
CLAIRE: Ja, tað tími eg væl! Hvat er tað fyri ein leikur?
KRISTIN: Tað er 'Dreymur jóansøkunátt' hjá Shakespeare.
CLAIRE: Ein av teimum sjónleikunum, sum mær dámar allarbest. Eg gleði meg longu til fríggjadagin.
KRISTIN: Tú fert at uppliva nakað av mentan her í Havnini, heldur tú ikki tað? Konsertir í Norðurlandahúsinum, tónleik á kaffistovum, filmar í Havnar bio, og nú eisini ein sjónleik.
CLAIRE: Tað passar. Havnin er ein mentanardepil.

Orðalýsingar

afturíafturkomin, adj. returned, turned up bleiv pret. < blíva, vb. became byrjaði pret. < byrja, vb. started depil (–s, deplar), m. point fantastisk/ur, adj. fantastic finna (finnur) út av, vb. to find out, discover gerandisdag/ur (–s, –ar), m. weekday gjørdist pret. < gerast, vb. was made gjørdur past part. < gera, vb. made halda (heldur), vb. to consider hava (hevur) hug, vb. to fancy heilt, adv. completely henda (hendir), vb. to happen hevði pret. < hava, vb. had hugdi at pret. < hyggja at, vb. saw í gerandisdegnum in everyday life í gjárkvøldið last night jóansøk/a (–u, –ur), f. midsummer koma (kemur) við, vb. to come along leik/ur (–s, –ir), m. play
ljóða (ljóðar), vb. to sound
mentan (–ar, –ir), f. culture noyddist pret. < noyðast, vb. had to óhugnalig/ur, adj. terrifying rænd past part. < ræna, vb. kidnapped regnfrakk/i (–a, –ar), m. raincoat sikkur, adj. certain sinnissjúk/ur, adj. crazy, insane

sjónleik/ur (–s, ~), m. theatre (as an art form) sjónleikarhús (–0, –0), n. theatre (the place)
tá ið, conj. when tíma (tímir), vb. to want, be bothered torga (torgar), vb. to stand, tolerate tvíburasystir (–systur, –systrar), f. twin sister undarlig/ur, adj. strange uppliva (upplivir), vb. to experience vanliga, adv. usually ymisk/ur, adj. different

Mállæra

The preterite tense

The preterite is the tense used to describe events in the past. The preterite of weak verbs is fairly straightforward to form, but there are numerous sub-groupings and irregularities. The following are guidelines only – consult the grammar for a fuller explanation.

present 3. sg.	preterite sg.	preterite pl.
–ar	–aði	–aðu
–ur	–di	–du
	–ti	–tu
	–di	–du
–ir	–ti	–tu
	–ddi	–ddu
–r	–ði	–du

As far as the endings –di, –du and –ti, –tu are concerned, always use the –d– ending unless the verb stem ends in k, p, t or s in which case use the –t– ending. The endings –ddi, –ddu are added to verb stems that end in a vowel. The group of verbs ending –ur in the present tense undergo stem vowel changes: e > a, y > u, and ý > ú. This all sounds rather confusing, but these examples should clarify things:

Inf.	Pres. 3. sg.	Pret. sg.	Pret. pl.
kasta 'to throw'	kastar	kastaði	kastaðu
velja 'to choose'	velur	valdi	valdu
flyta 'to move'	flytur	flutti	fluttu
døma 'to judge'	dømir	dømdi	dømdu
roykja 'to smoke'	roykir	roykti	royktu
gløa 'to stare'	gløir	gløddi	gløddu
doyggja 'to die'	doyr	doyði	doyðu

Strong verbs are more complicated. They form the preterite form by changing their vowel stem, often to one type of vowel in the singular and another in the plural. In addition to this they take the ending –st in the 2nd person singular (just –t after stems ending in r or s), and the ending –u in the plural. The vowel changes in the preterite tense can be grouped into patterns, and these can be studied in the grammar. Here are some examples of strong verbs:

Inf.	Pres. 3. sg.	Pret. 1. & 3.sg.	Pret. 2. sg.	Pret. pl.
bíta 'to bite'	bítur	beit	beitst	bitu
flúgva 'to fly'	flýgur	fleyg	fleygst	flugu
gjalda 'to pay'	geldur	galt	galtst	guldu
lesa 'to read'	lesur	las	last	lósu
drekka 'to drink'	drekkur	drakk	drakst	drukku
sova 'to sleep'	svevur	svav	svavst	svóvu
síggja 'to see'	sær	sá	sást	sóu

There are, of course, also irregular verbs, whose forms are difficult to predict. You'll need to learn these as you go along.

Venjing 12: Strong and weak verbs

Six of the verbs in Claire's description of the film in Samrøða 2 are in the preterite. Find each one and decide whether it is a strong or weak verb.

Venjing 13: The preterite

Give the preterite forms of the following common verbs:

(a) eta
(b) drekka
(c) gera
(d) ganga
(e) fara
(f) tosa
(g) koma
(h) kalla
(i) brúka 'use'
(j) selja
(k) spyrja
(l) hyggja
(m) kenna
(n) keypa
(o) noyðast
(p) rógva 'to row'
(q) síggja
(r) hoyra

Venjing 14: The preterite

Complete these sentences with the preterite form of the verb in brackets:

(a) Hon _____(vera) ikki heima.
(b) Eg _____(koma) í morgun.
(c) Vit _____(blíva) sjúk av matinum.
(d) Hann _____(hava) barnið.
(e) Eg _____(siga) tær alt.

(f) Hann _____(selja) bilin.
(g) Vit _____(búgva) í Havn.
(h) Tú _____(spyrja) læraran.
(i) _____(keypa) tey bókina?
(j) Vit _____(hava) onga tíð.
(k) Hví _____(starta) bilurin ikki?
(l) Nær _____(koma) tú til Føroya?
(m) Tú _____(vera) sjúkur.
(n) Hann _____(vita) ikki.
(o) Omma mín _____(doyggja) í gjár.
(p) Hóast tey _____(leita) leingi, _____(finna) tey ikki brillurnar hjá henni.
(q) Hon _____(rópa) hart.
(r) Eg _____(geva) honum eina køku.
(s) Teir _____(koyra) ov skjótt.
(t) Vit _____(fara) til Klaksvíkar.
(u) _____(sova) tú væl?
(v) Hon _____(svara) ikki.
(w) Hvar _____(vera) tit í summar?
(x) Arbeiðið _____(blíva) liðugt.
(y) Tað _____(regna) allan dagin.
(z) Tit _____(arbeiða) í Danmark.

Venjing 15: The preterite

Complete the text with the preterite form of the verb in brackets:

Tveir menn [a]_____(standa) og [b]_____(tosa) um, hvussu gamlir teir [c]_____(vera). 'Eg eri 55 ár,' [d]_____(siga) annar. 'Eg eri 60,' [e]_____(svara) hin. 'Ja so,' [f]_____(siga) tann fyrri, 'so verða vit javngamlir um 5 ár!'

Venjing 16: The preterite

Complete the text with the preterite form of the verb in brackets:

Ein gamal bóndi av bygd [a]_____(hava) ansað ['noticed'] eftir, at nógv fólk, sum [b]_____(lesa), [c]_____(seta) einar brillur ['glasses'] á nøsina. Hann [d]_____(fara) so til Havnar til ein mann, sum [e]_____(selja) brillur og [f]_____(biðja) um at fáa einar lesibrillur. Hann [g]_____(fáa) eina Dimmu og nógvar ymiskar brillur at royna ['to try']. Men einki [h]_____(bera) til ['worked']. 'Ná,' [i]_____(spyrja) brillusmiðurin, 'Nú dugir tú væl at lesa, ha?' Bóndin [j]_____(hyggja) álvarsamur at honum og [k]_____(siga), '[l]_____(Hava) eg ikki dugað at lisið, [m]_____(hava) eg ikki droymt um at keypa mær brillur!'

The letter r

Track 89

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letter r:

regnfrakki	børn	myrkna	tú gert
rokna	fornminnissavn	elverk	framførsla
rættiliga	stjørna	útvarpa	Tórshavn
rás	um kvøldarnar	surp	orsaka
ikki so ringt	billettirnar	sjónvarp	álvarsamur
hann rennur	studentarnir	partur	yvirskrift
rabarbukøka	úr eini farnari tíð	ertnasúpan	summarskeið
Russland	turka sær	tú ert	veðurstova
barnafilmur	mjørkaflóki	ert tú ikki?	fyrst

Lesistykki 1

Track 90

★ KARAOKESTJØRNUR Í STJØRNUNI! ★

Fríggjakvøldið eru DJ-show og karaoke á skránni í 'Stjørnuni' í Havn. Tónleikarin Páll Jákupsson skipar fyri karaoke, har øll fáa høvi til at verða stjørna í eitt kvøld. Eisini verður diskotek, har DJ Sparkles fer at spæla nýtt og gott gamalt. Tiltakið byrjar klokkan 23:00. Tað er 16 ára aldursmark – og ókeypis atgongd til klokkan 24:00.

Stjørnan, Bøkjarabrekka, Tórshavn

Orðalýsingar

show (–0, –0), n.	show	tiltak (–s, –tøk), n.	event
karaoke (–0, –0), n.	karaoke	aldursmark (–s, –mørk), n.	age limit skipa (skipar) fyri + acc., vb.	to man	ókeypis, adj. indecl.	free høvi (–s, –[r]), n.	opportunity	atgongd (–ar, –ir), f.	entry
diskotek (–s, –0), n.	disco

Venjing 17: Spurningar

Complete the table with information from the text above:

Venue: _____ Event: _____ Starts: _____
Price: _____
Age-limit: _____

Lesistykki 2

Track 91

Í sjónvarpinum

Sending í kvøld
Í dag býr einans ein familja á Stóru Dímun, men enn eru mong, sum minnast, hvussu gerandisdagurin var har. Í sendingini hitta vit tveir menn og eina kvinnu, sum búðu á oynni. Tey eru systkin og búðu har saman, til allar familjurnar fluttu til Sandoynna. Vit vitja tað gamla heimahúsið hjá teimum, har tey knossaðust við at fáa ein truplan gerandisdag at bera til. Hetta er ein hugnalig sending við látri og gráti og søgum úr eini farnari tíð.

Orðalýsingar

bera (ber) til, vb.	to succeed, be possible	knossast (knossast) við, vb.	to struggle
		látur (–s, ~), m.	laughter
farin, adj.	past	søg/a (–u, –ur), f.	story gerandisdag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	daily life	trupul, adj.	complicated, difficult
grát/ur (–s, ~), m.	weeping, tears
heimahús (–0, –0), n.	home

Lesistykki 3

Track 92

Norðurlandahúsið

Norðurlandahúsið í Føroyum fær norðurlendska mentan til Føroyar og føroyska mentan til onnur norðurlond. Húsið varð upplatið tann 8. mai 1983, og síðani hava tað verið óteljandi sýningar, sjónleikaframførslur og konsertir har. Tað er eisini ein kaffistova í húsinum, har sum mann kann keypa sær okkurt at drekka ella at eta og njóta tað fantastiska útsýnið yvir Havnina. Húsið er bygt av norðurlendskum tilfari. Steinflísarnar eru úr Noregi, stólarnir úr Finnlandi, træið á veggjunum og gólvinum úr Svøríki, glasið og stálið úr Danmark, takkonstruktiónin úr Íslandi, arkitektarnir úr Noregi og Íslandi, og síðst men ikki minst er grasið á tekjuni ramføroyskt.

Orðalýsingar

bygd/ur, past part. < byggja, vb.	built	stál (–s, –0), n.	steel
		steinflís (–ar, –ar), f.	stone tile
glas (–0, gløs), n.	glass	stól/ur (–s, –ar), m.	chair
gólv (–s, –0), n.	floor	tak (–s, tøk), n.	roof gras (–0, grøs), n.	grass	tekj/a (–u, –ur), f.	roof covering njóta, vb.	to enjoy	tilfar (–s, –før), n.	material óteljandi, adj. indecl.	numerous	útsýni (–s, –[r]), n.	view ramføroysk/ur, adj.	totally Faroese, 100% Faroese	vegg/ur (veggjar, –ir), m.	wall

Orðatøk

Mangur dansar og dansar av neyð

Orðalýsingar

dansa (dansar), vb.	to dance	neyð (–ar, –ir), f.	distress, hardship

This proverb is said about someone who is forcing him- or herself to appear happy, but who is not happy.

Veitst tú at...

Føroyar is the only place in Europe where the chain dance (dansur) has been preserved. It is a medieval dance and accompanied by ballads (kvæði). The dance is performed in a ring and led by a captain (skipari). The skipari knows the entire kvæði and recites (kvøða) it off by heart (uttanat) – no mean feat as a kvæði can have hundreds of verses. The dancers (dansarar) usually join in the chanting if they know the words, but everyone sings the chorus (niðurlag) between each verse (ørindi). The steps are fairly straight-forward. Holding hands in a ring (ringur) and facing inwards, the participants take two steps in one direction, and one step back again.

A Faroese dance painted by Emil Krause and reduplicated on this 25-króna stamp designed by Czesław Słania

1) The left foot takes a step to the left
2) The right foot steps towards the left to meet the left foot
3) The left foot makes another step forward
4) The right foot steps again towards the left to meet the left foot
5) The right foot steps to the side or takes one step backwards
6) The left foot steps towards the right to meet the right foot
7) Repeat!

The speed and forcefulness of the stepping (stev) depends on the action described in the kvæði – for example, if a battle (orrusta) is being fought the dancers may tread more aggressively and pound out the rhythm with their clasped hands, whereas things slow down during calmer parts of the kvæði.

9 Hvussu nógv kostar tað?

How much is it?

Track 93

In this unit you will learn about:

- prepositions that take the accusative
- uses of tað
- shopping
- amounts, prices and fractions
- clothes
- the names of shops and groceries
- the letters d and ð

Samrøða 1

Track 94

Beiggi Jógvan, Páll, spákar oman eftir gøtuni. Hann skal í fitnesssentrið (venjingarhøllina) og fer inn í eina kiosk.

EKSPEDIENTUR:	Góðan dagin.
PÁLL:	Halló. Kann eg fáa ein tjúgu Prince light?
EKSPEDIENTUR:	Nakað annað?
PÁLL:	Ein tendrara.
EKSPEDIENTUR:	Ger so væl. Nakað afturat?
PÁLL:	Hava tit dagsins avís?
EKSPEDIENTUR:	Dimmu ella Sosialin?
PÁLL:	Sosialin.
EKSPEDIENTUR:	Nei. Hann er útseldur. Vit hava bara Dimmu eftir.
PÁLL:	So taki eg hana.
EKSPEDIENTUR:	Var tað alt?
PÁLL:	Ja takk.
EKSPEDIENTUR:	Tað verða 73 krónur tilsamans.
PÁLL:	Ger so væl.
EKSPEDIENTUR:	Og sjey aftur. Farvæl og takk.
PÁLL:	Farvæl!

Páll gongur longur omaneftir. Knappliga minnist hann, at systkinabarn hansara í Keypmannahavn skjótt fyllir. Hann fer inn í ein bókahandil.

PÁLL:	Góðan dagin. Hava tit nøkur føðingardagskort?
EKSPEDIENTUR:	Ja. Tey standa har aftan fyri skrivivørurnar.
PÁLL:	Takk.

Páll velur eitt kort út við tí føroyska flagginum 'Merkið'.

PÁLL: Bara hetta, takk.
EKSPEDIENTUR: 20 krónur.
PÁLL: Ver so góður og farvæl.
EKSPEDIENTUR: Farvæl og takk.

Páll heldur leiðina fram. Hann hevur 100 krónur minni uppi á sær, nú hann kemur í sentrið.

Orðalýsingar

In the vocabulary lists from now on and in the Faroese-English glossary at the back of this book, verbs are given together with the 3 sg. preterite form (rather than the present):

spáka (–aði), vb. → 3 sg. pres. spákar, 3 sg. pret. spákaði

If it is not obvious what the present tense form is, then this is also provided:

rópa (–ar; –ti), vb. → 3 sg. pres. rópar, 3 sg. pret. rópti

Tricky spellings are also provided:

fylla (fylti), vb. → 3 sg. pres. fyllir, 3 sg. pret. fylti

As far as irregular (such as those in –ur in the present tense) and strong verbs are concerned, it is necessary to check the forms of the present and preterite in the Faroese-English glossary at the back of this book:

matgera, irr. vb. → irregular verb, check glossary velja, irr. vb. → irregular verb, check glossary halda, st. vb. → strong verb, check glossary

.....

aftan fyri + acc., prep. behind
avís (–ar, –ir), f. newspaper
bókahandil (–s, –handlar), m. bookshop
fitnesssentur (–s, –0), n. fitness centre
flagg (flags, fløgg), n. flag
føðingardagskort (–s, –0), n. birthday card fylla (fylti), vb. to fill, [here:] have a birthday halda fram, st. vb. to continue kiosk (–ar, –ir), f. newsagent, kiosk knappliga, adv. suddenly leið (–ar, –ir), f. path, route longur comp. < langt, adv. further Merkið the name of the Faroese flag nakað afturat, nakað annað anything else oman eftir + dat., prep. down (along) skjótt, adv. soon
skrivivørur f. pl. stationery
spáka (–aði), vb. to stroll systkinabarn (–s, –børn), n. niece / nephew tendrar/i (–a, –ar), m. lighter útseld/ur, adj. sold out velja, irr. vb. to choose
venjingarhøll (–hallar, –hallir), f. fitness centre

Venjing 1: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Páll keypir sigarettir.
(b) Páll keypir svávulpinnur ['matches' < svávulpinn/ur (–pins, –ar), m.].
(c) Páll keypir tíðindablað.
(d) Systkinabarnið hjá Pálli fyllir skjótt.
(e) Páll keypir systkinabarninum hjá sær eina gávu.

Mállæra

Shopping

There are many exciting opportunities for shopping on the Faroe Islands, and here are some words and phrases that you might find useful:

Types of shops:

antikvariat (–s, –0), n. second-hand bookshop
apotek (–s, –0), n. chemist's, pharmacy
bakarí (–s, –0), n. bakery
bókahandil (–s, –handlar), m. bookshop
fotohandil (–s, –handlar), m. camera shop grønmetishandil (–s, –handlar), m. greengrocer's hárfríðkanarstov/a (–u, –ur), f. hairdresser kiosk (–ar, –ir), f. newsagent kjøtbúð (–ar, –ir), f. butcher's
klædnahandil (–s, –handlar), m. clothes' shop
marknað/ur (–ar, –ir), m. market
pappírshandil (–s, –handlar), m. stationer's skóhandil (–s, –handlar), m. shoe shop
skraddar/i (–a, –ar), m. tailor's, dressmaker's sølubúð (–ar, –ir), f. convenience store, minimart sølumiðstøð (–ar, –ir), f. supermarket vaskarí (–s, –0/–ir), n. laundrette (see §3.3.3) viðskerahandil (–s, –handlar), m. delicatessen

Phrases:

Hava tit... + acc.? Do you have...?
Mær vanta(r)... + acc. I need...
Lat meg fáa... + acc. I would like.../May I have...?
Hvat kostar hetta? How much is it?
Kann eg betala við gjaldkorti? Can I pay by credit card?
Hava tit nakað...? Do you have anything...? bíligari cheaper
størri larger minni smaller typiskt føroyskt typically Faroese Eg bara hyggi I'm just looking

Venjing 2: At the newsagent's

Complete the dialogue:

A: Góðan dagin!
B: Say hello and ask for a newspaper.
A: Dimmu ella Sosialin?
B: Ask whether they have anything in English.
A: Nei, tíverri ikki. Vit hava bara føroysk bløð.
B: Ask whether you may have Sosialurin.
A: Ger so væl. Var tað alt?
B: Say yes, thank you.
A: Tað verða 20 krónur.
B: Give the shop assistant the money.
A: Takk fyri. Farvæl.
B: Say goodbye.

Venjing 3: Shopping items

Place the words below into the correct category. You may need to use a dictionary for help:

deodorant (–s, –0), n.
handsk/i (–a, –ar), m.
hos/a (–u, –ur), f.
húgv/a (–u, –ur), f.
píp/a (–u, –ur), f.
rakiblað (–s, –bløð), n.
káp/a (–u, –ur), f.
sigar (–ar, –ir), f.
sigarett (–ar, –ir), f.
sjampo (–s, –0), n.
svávulpinn/ur (–pins, –ar), m.
tannbust (–ar, –ir), f.
tendrar/i (–a, –ar), m.
troyggj/a (–u, –ur), f.
vætt/ur (vattar, –ir), m.

KROPSRØKT	KLÆÐIR	ROYKIVØRUR

Fractions and amounts

Fractions:

a half	helvt (–ar, –ir), f.; but when adjectival as in 'half a…' (ein) hálv/ur…
a third	triðing/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a quarter	fjórðing/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a fifth	fimting/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a sixth	sætting/ur (–s, –ar), m., sættapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a seventh	sjeynding/ur (–s, –ar), m., sjeyndipart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
an eighth	átting/ur (–s, –ar), m., áttandapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a ninth	níggjundapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a tenth	tíggjundapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
an eleventh	ellivtapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a twelfth	tólvtapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a thirteenth	trettandapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a fourteenth	fjúrtandapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a fifteenth	fimtandapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a sixteenth	sekstandapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a seventeenth	seytjandapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.

an eighteenth	átjandapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a nineteenth	nítjandapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a twentieth	tjúgundapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a hundredth	hundraðpart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a thousandth	túsundapart/ur (–s, –ar), m.
a millionth	milliónpart/ur (–s, –ar), m.

For example:

eg havi ein hálvan pakka av kipsum	I have half a packet of crisps ein fjórðingur av einari vínfløsku	a quarter of a bottle of wine
ein tíggjundapartur av fólkinum	a tenth of the population

The words for litre, metre etc. were presented in Unit 6. Here are some new words for expressing amounts:

bag	sekk/ur (sekkjar, –ir), m.	a bag of money	ein sekkur av pengum	ein pengasekkur
barrel	tunn/a (–u, –ur), f.	a barrel of beer	ein tunna av øli	øltunna
bottle	fløsk/a (–u, –ur), f.	a bottle of wine	ein fløska av víni	vínfløska
bowl	skál (–ar, –ir), f.	a bowl of sugar	ein skál av sukri	sukurskál
box	pakk/i (–a, –ar), m.	a box of cereal	ein pakki av kornflakes	kornflakespakki
bucket	spann (–ar, –ir), f.	a bucket of water	ein spann av vatni	vatnspann
can	dós (–ar, –ir), f.	a can of coke	ein dós av kola	koladós
carton	pakk/i (–a, –ar), m.	a carton of milk	ein pakki av mjólk	mjólkarpakki
cup	kopp/ur (–s, –ar), m.	a cup of coffee	ein koppur av kaffi	kaffikoppur glass	glas (–0, gløs), n.	a glass of juice	eitt glas av djús	djúsglas
jar	glas (–0, gløs), n.	a jar of honey	eitt glas av hunangi	hunangsglas mug	krúss (–0, –0), n.	a mug of tea	eitt krúss av te	tekrúss packet	pakk/i (–a, –ar), m.	a packet of cigarettes	ein pakki av sigarettum	sigarettpakka piece	petti (–s, –[r]), n.	a piece of pie	eitt petti av pai	paipetti
pinch	sindur (–s, –0), n.	a pinch of salt	eitt sindur av salti round	flís (–ar, –ar), f.	a round of cheese	ein flís av osti	ostflís
saucepan	kastiroll/a (–u, –ur), f.	a saucepan of pasta	ein kastirolla av pasta	pastakastirolla
slice	stykki (–s, –[r]), *n.	a slice of ham	eitt stykki av skinku	skinkustykki
spoonful	skeið (–ar, –ir), f.	a spoonful of cocoa powder	ein skeið av kakao	kakaoskeið tank	tang/i (–a, –ar), m.	a tank of petrol / gas	ein tangi av bensini	bensintangi
tin	dós (–ar, –ir), f.	a tin of peas	ein dós av ertrum	ertnadós
tub	bikar (–s, bikør), n.	a tub of ice-cream	eitt bikar av ísi	ísbikar
tube	tup/a (–u, –ur), f.	a tube of toothpaste	eina tupa av tannkremi	tannkremstupa

* Also saltmoli.

 Also flís or petti.

 Note the pronunciation of a as [a] in tangi!

Venjing 4: Quantities

Translate these sentences into Faroese:

(a) I would like a bottle of water.
(b) He ate half a tub of ice-cream!
(c) I drank two cups of coffee and ate a piece of cake.
(d) Can you buy a carton of milk, a box of cereal and a bag of sugar?
(e) How much is a tank of petrol?

Venjing 5: Quantities and prices Track 95

Listen to the recording and fill in the table below. The first row has been done as an example:

	Product	Amount	Price
(a)	milk	1 litre	6 krónur
(b)
(c) (d) (e) (f)

Samrøða 2

Track 96

Claire leitar eftir nøkrum gávum, sum hon kann hava við til familju og vinir í Skotlandi.

CLAIRE: Orsaka meg, men hvussu nógv kostar hendan fløgan?
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK: 190 krónur. Hevur tú áhuga fyri føroyskum tónleiki?
CLAIRE: Ja, men eg leiti faktiskt eftir einari gávu til beiggja mín. Hann er púra burtur í fólkatónleiki.
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK: So skuldi tú kanska keypt hesa fløguna. Hetta er eitt savn við ymiskum, føroyskum fólkasangum. Hon er ógvuliga populer og kostar ikki meira enn 140 krónur.
CLAIRE: Fínar greiður. Eg keypi hana. Skal eisini hava eina gávu til pápa. Hann er býttur í øllum føroyskum.
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK: Hvussu við einum útstappaðum lunda ella pulshosum?
CLAIRE: Nei, eg haldi, at eg heldur keypi honum onkran føroyskan mat.
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK: Tú kundi eisini givið honum hesa kókibókina. So kann hann sjálvur læra seg at matgera føroyskt.
CLAIRE: Men hann skilir ikki føroyskt.
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK: Hvussu við hesari lærubókini í føroyskum?
CLAIRE: Hugskotini eru góð, men eg haldi, at hann verður glaðastur fyri turran fisk og rullupylsu. Eg keypi so bara fløguna.

AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK: Sum tú vilt. 140 krónur takk.
CLAIRE: Ger so væl.
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK: Takk og farvæl.
CLAIRE: Farvæl!

Orðalýsingar

avgreiðslufólk (–s, –0), n.	(shop) assistant	kókibók (–ar, –bøkur), f.	cookbook
áhug/i (–a, –ar), m.	interest	lund/i (–a, –ar), m.	puffin burtur í + dat.	crazy about	læra (–di) seg, vb.	to learn býtt/ur í + dat., adj.	crazy about	lærubók (–ar, –bøkur), f.	textbook
enn, adv.	than	matgera, irr. vb.	to cook
faktiskt, adv.	actually	populer/ur, adj.	popular fisk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	fish	pulshos/a (–u, –ur), f.	thick woollen sock fínar greiður, interj.	super fløg/a (–u, –ur), f.	CD	púra, adv.	completely
hava áhuga fyri + dat., irr. vb.	to be interested in	rullupyls/a (–u, –ur), f.	type of sausage
		savn (–s, søvn), n.	collection
heldur, adv.	rather	sum, adv.	as hugskot (–s, –0), n.	thought, idea	turr/ur, adj.	dry, dried hvussu nógv, inter.	how much	útstappað/ur, adj.	stuffed

Venjing 6: Spurningar

(a) Hví fer Claire til handils?
(b) Hví keypir hon beiggja sínum eina fløgu við føroyskum fólkasangum?
(c) Eru útstappaðir lundar og pulshosur nakað serligt føroyskt?
(d) Dugir pápi Claire at lesa føroyskt?
(e) Hvat heldur Claire, at hon heldur keypir pápa sínum?

The main shopping street in Tórshavn

Venjing 7: Books

Match the book titles in column A with the correct genre in column B:

A	B
Eitt myndasavn av føroyskum postkortum	barnabøkur
Føroysk bindingarmynstur	handarbeiði
Keypmaðurin í Venesia	matgerð
Leskiligur matur úr Italia	myndabøkur
Ringanna Harri	sang- og sálmabøkur
Roknskapur fyri byrjarar	sjónleikur
Tann føroyska sangbókin	skaldsøga
Víkingar í Føroyum	skúlabøkur
Ævintýrini hjá bróðrunum Grimm	søga

Mállæra

Prepositions that take the accusative case [§8.1]

A number of prepositions take the accusative (for example, hóast 'in spite of', ígjøgnum 'through', inntil 'until', síðani 'since', um 'about, around, during, across', uttan 'without', and vegna 'on account of' – for a full list see the grammar book). There are some prepositions that can take either the accusative or the dative/genitive, but these are dealt with later in the course.

Venjing 8: Prepositions + accusative

Complete the sentences below by changing the bracketed words into the correct form:

(a) Posthúsið liggur áraka _____ (bankin).
(b) Hóast _____ (ódnin) siglir báturin stundisliga.
(c) Eg hati at sigla og at flúgva – eg verði í Føroyum, inntil _____ (tann dagurin) tey bora ein tunnil til Danmarkar.
(d) Hann hevur verið sjúkur síðani _____ (síðsta vika)
(e) Kanst tú fortelja mær okkurt um _____ (hann). Nei, men eg veit ein heilan hóp um _____ (hon)!
(f) Fert tú uttan _____ (eg)?
(g) Hann svarar brævinum hjá tær innan _____ (ein máni).
(h) Beinta arbeiðir ikki í dag vegna _____ (sjúka)
(i) Umframt _____ (omma mín) koma Jóan og Malan.
(j) Hann situr vinstrumegin _____ (lampan).

Further uses of tað [§11.2.3]

We have seen that tað is the pronoun to use when referring to a neuter noun:

'Do you see the table over there?' 'Yes, it's big'
Sært tú borðið har yviri? – Ja, tað er stórt (tað refers to the neuter noun borð)

We have also seen tað used in expressions relating to the weather:

tað regnaði í gjár	it rained yesterday
tað lýsir í nú	it's brightening up now
tað fer at kava í morgin	it's going to snow tomorrow

If the word order is changed in these weather expressions, so that the sentence begins with an adverb, then tað may be dropped:

í gjár regnaði	or: í gjár regnaði tað
nú lýsir í	or: nú lýsir tað í
í morgin fer at kava	or: í morgin fer tað at kava

Another use of tað corresponds to English 'there' in phrases such as 'there is' and 'there are':

tað er ein harri her, sum vil tosa við tær	there's a gentleman here who would like to speak to you
tað eru nógvar bøkur á borðinum	there are many books on the table
eru tað nakrar smákøkur eftir?	are there any biscuits left?

This use of tað can be found in sentences where 'there' is not possible in English. If the subject is indefinite and the verb is intransitive (that is, it cannot take an object), then it is usual to begin the sentence with tað. Look at the examples below:

ein gamal maður býr í hasum húsunum an old man lives in that house → tað býr ein gamal maður í hasum húsunum mýs dansa á køksborðinum mice are dancing on the kitchen table → tað dansa mýs á køksborðinum ein bilur koyrdi út av hamrinum í nátt a car drove off the cliff last night → tað koyrdi ein bilur út av hamrinum í nátt nýggir gestir komu á hotellið í gjár new guests arrived at the hotel yesterday → tað komu nýggir gestir á hotellið í gjár

The meaning of the sentence does not change, but the tað construction is more colloquial.

Remember that the subject of the sentence must be indefinite; it is not possible to say:

tað býr tann gamli maðurin í hasum húsunum tað dansa mýsnar á køksborðinum tað koyrdi bilurin útav út av hamrinum í nátt tað komu teir nýggju gestirnir á hotellið í gjár

You must say:

tann gamli maðurin býr í hasum húsunum mýsnar dansa á køksborðinum bilurin koyrdi út av hamrinum í nátt teir nýggju gestirnir komu á hotellið í gjár

Venjing 9: Tað *constructions

Transform the sentences below into tað constructions. The first one has been done for you as an example:

(a) Ein lítil genta spákar oman eftir gøtuni → Tað spákar ein lítil genta oman eftir gøtuni
(b) Nógv ferðafólk eru í býnum
→ _____
(c) Ein ungur maður fer inn í eina kiosk
→ _____
(d) Eitt teldubræv er komið til tín
→ _____
(e) Ein íslendskur poppbólkur spælir í Norðurlandahúsinum næsta leygardag
→ _____
(f) Ein vøkur kvinna situr í bilinum
→ _____
(g) Átta minuttir gingu, til dysturin tók eina avgerandi vend
→ _____
(h) Fleiri ung búgva heima hjá foreldrunum
→ _____
(i) Eitt posthús er á horninum
→ _____
(j) Ein nýggjur filmur gongur í biografinum
→ _____
(k) Eitt træ stendur við síðuna av vegnum
→ _____

Shopping at the supermarket for everyday groceries

There is a fairly extensive list of food and groceries in Unit 4, but here are some additional items you may need to put on your shopping list:

battarí (–s, –0), n. battery
brævbjálv/i (–a, –ar), m. envelope
damubind (–s, –0), n. sanitary towels
deodorant (–s, –0), n. deodorant dósaopnar/i (–a, –ar), m. tin opener film (–s, ~), m. cling film, saran wrap
film/ur (–s, –ar), m. film
foli/a (–u, ~), f. aluminium foil, tinfoil
hárbalsam (–s, –0), n. conditioner
hárbust (–ar, –ir), f. hairbrush
hít (–ar, –ir), f. condom
kamb/ur (–s, –ar), m. comb

A supermarket bakery

A supermarket kiosk

kertiljós (–0, –0), n. candle
køkspappír (–s, –0), n. kitchen paper
kort (–s, –0), n. map
liss/a (–u, –ur), f. shoelace
litfilm/ur (–s, –ar), m. colour film lím (–s, ~), n. glue
menstruatiónbind (–s, –0), n. sanitary towel
pappír (–s, –0), n. paper
penn/ur (pens, –ar), m. pen
pergamentpappír (–s, –0), n. greaseproof paper
propptrekkjar/i (–a, –ar), m. corkscrew
saks/ur (saks, –ar), m. scissors káp/a (–u, –ur), f. soap

serviett/ur (serviets, –ar), m. napkin, serviette
sigarett (–ar, –ir), f. cigarette
sigarettpappír (–s, –0), n. cigarette paper silvurpappír (–s, –0), n. aluminium foil, sjampo (–s, –0), n. shampoo
skókrem (–s, –0), n. shoe cream
skriviblokk/ur (–bloks, –ar), m. writing pad
sólkrem (–s, –0), n. sun-cream
svávulpinn/ur (–pins, –ar), m. match
tannbust (–ar, –ir), f. toothbrush
tannkrem (–s, –0), n. toothpaste
tendrar/i (–a, –ar), m. lighter
tubbak (–s, –0), n. tobacco
upptrekkjar/i (–a, –ar), m. bottle opener
vætukrem (–s, –0), n. moisturiser
vesipappír (–s, –0), n. toilet paper

A supermarket in the Faroe Islands

Venjing 10: The supermarket

Here are the names of six supermarket departments.

(a) BRØYÐ OG KØKUR
(b) FRUKT OG GRØNT
(c) PERSÓNLIG RØKT
(d) KJØT OG KRÁS
(e) FISKUR
(f) FLØGUR OG SPØL

Put the following items into the correct supermarket department (a–f):

agurkur appelsinir blæur blómkál dadlur deodorant dunna enskir búffar
franskir grill-høsnarungar frikadellur við eplasalati
gularótakøka
heimagjørt rækjusalat horn hýsa kongafiskur laksur »Pállpopp«-fløgan pitabreyð
reyðkál
rugbreyð
rundstykki
seiður sjampo tannkrem tunga
wc-pappír

Paying by card

When paying for something by card in a shop, you need to remember your loynital or pinnkota. If you want cash back, you can use a phrase such as:

Kann eg fáa 100 krónur yvir?	May I have 100 kr. cash back?

If you just wish to pay the exact amount, you need to say to the check-out assistant:

Á upphæddina	The exact amount, please

Venjing 11: The preterite

Time to practise the preterite again. Complete the gaps in the tragic story below using the correct preterite form of the irregular or strong verb in the brackets.

Per _____ ([a] eiga) ein hund, sum _____ ([b] eita) Snar. Per _____ ([c] vera) so góður við Snar, at hann _____ ([d] vilja) ikki selja hann. Per og Snar _____ ([e] vera) ein dagin burtur í haga. Tá _____ ([f] falla) Snar fyri bakka og _____ ([g] doyggja). So _____ ([h] eiga) Per ongan hund.

Hans Andrias Djurhuus, Barnabókin (1922)

Venjing 12: The preterite

Translate these sentences into Faroese:

(a) Páll was strolling down the street.
(b) He was going to the fitness centre.
(c) He went into a newsagent's and bought a packet of cigarettes and a newspaper.
(d) Claire was looking for a gift for her father, but she could find nothing suitable [einki sum passaði]
(e) She found a CD for her brother and paid 140 krónur for it.
(f) She went to the supermarket and bought dried fish and a spiced meat roll made from lamb, pork and onions [rullupyls/a (–u, –ur), f.]
(g) Kristin was driving home and stopped [steðga (–aði), vb.] at the baker's.
(h) She asked for a rhubarb cake.
(i) She took it home and ate it.

Samrøða 3

Track 97

Kristin keypir klæðir í einum nýggjum mótahandli

KRISTIN:	Hvat heldur tú, Jákup? Passi eg henda kjólan?
JÁKUP:	Ja, hann er flottur, men eg haldi, tú heldur skuldi keypt handa stríputa har yviri.
KRISTIN:	Handa bláa við strípum. Er hann ikki for stuttur?
JÁKUP:	Prøva hann!
KRISTIN:	Orsaka. Hvar er prøvirúmið?
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK:	Har yviri.

Kristin roynir kjólan, men hon er ikki heilt tilfriðs.

KRISTIN:	Eg vil heldur hava handa langa, reyða kjólan. Hesin er alt ov stuttur fyri meg. Orsaka. Hava tit ein nummar 44?
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK:	Nei, tíverri. Men vit hava ein, sum líkist. Hann er eisini reyður, men hevur stuttar ermar.
KRISTIN:	Hasin er flottur. Hvat heldur tú, Jákup?
JÁKUP:	Ja, hann er penur. Hvussu nógv kostar hann?
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK:	850 krónur. Hann er akkurát komin úr Paris. Stuttar ermar og eitt prikkut mynstur, tað er hægsti móti í Fraklandi í ár.
KRISTIN:	Men so haldi eg, at eg eisini skal hava eitt sjál. Annars frysti eg í hel í hesum veðrinum.
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK:	Vit hava nøkur vøkur, handgjørd sjál úr føroyskari ull.
KRISTIN:	Hatta hvíta er ógvuliga vakurt. Oyjøss, sum tað er bleytt. Passar tað ikki eisini gott til tann nýggja kjólan? Hvussu nógv kostar tað?
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK:	500 krónur.
KRISTIN:	Vit keypa tað!
JÁKUP:	Vit?
KRISTIN:	Ná ja. Eg fari við kjólanum, og tú betalir!
JÁKUP:	Hvussu nógv verður tað tilsamans?
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK:	1350 krónur takk.
JÁKUP:	Ger so væl – gjaldskortið hjá mær.
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK:	Kanst tú gera so væl at tasta pinnkotuna hjá tær inn?
JÁKUP:	Sjálvandi.
AVGREIÐSLUFÓLK:	Takk. Her er kvittanin. Farvæl!
JÁKUP OG KRISTIN:	Farvæl!

Orðalýsingar

akkurát, adv.	just	flott/ur, adj.	elegant alt ov, adv.	far too	frysta (frysti), vb.	to freeze betala (–ti), vb.	to pay	hægsti superl. < høgur, adj.	highest bleyt/ur, adj.	soft	handgjørd/ur, adj.	handmade erm/a (–u, –ar), f.	sleeve	har yviri, adv.	over there fara við + acc., st. vb.	to wear	í hel, adv.	to death

kjól/i (–a, –ar), m.	dress
klæðir n. pl.	clothes
kvittan (–ar, –ir), f.	receipt
líkjast (líkist; líktist), vb.	to look similar
mótahandil (–s, –handlar), m.	boutique
mynstur (–s, –0), n.	pattern
nummar (–s, nummur), n.	[here:] size
passa (–aði), vb.	to suit
pen/ur, adj.	nice
pinnkot/a (–u, –ur), f.	pincode*
prikkut/ur, adj.	dotty, spotty
prøva (–aði), vb.	to try on
prøvirúm (–s, –0), n.	fitting room
royna (–di), vb.	to try
sjál (–s, –0), n.	shawl
stríp/a (–u, –ur), f.	stripe
stríput/ur, adj.	stripy
stutt/ur, adj.	short
tasta (–aði) inn, vb.	to key in tilfriðs, adj. indecl.	satisfied tíverri, adv.	unfortunately
ull (–ar, –ir), f.	wool

* Also called loynital (–s, –tøl), n., or just kota or tal: Eg minnist ikki kotuna hjá mær!

Venjing 13: Spurningar

(a) Hví er Kristin ikki nøgd við tann stríputa kjólan?
(b) Hevur ekspedienturin ein reyðan kjóla við longum ermum í nummar 44?
(c) Hvussu sær kjólin, sum Kristin keypir, út?
(d) Hvat manglar Kristin so?
(e) Hvør betalir fyri alt?

Mállæra

Clothing

Here are some words for items of clothing:

HARRAKLÆÐIR ('men's clothing')

klædning/ur (–s, –ar), m.	suit
jakk/i (–a, –ar), m.	blazer
kot (–s, –0), n.	traditional Faroese jacket
skjúrt/a (–u, –ur), f.	shirt
slips (–0, –0), n.	tie
buksur f. pl.	trousers
stuttar buksur f. pl.	shorts
troyggj/a (–u, –ur), f.	sweater
(opin troyggj/a	cardigan)
anorakk/ur (anoraks, –ar), m.	anorak
T-shirt, f. indecl.	t-shirt
yvirals (–0, –0), n.	dungarees

DAMUKLÆÐIR ('women's clothing')

kjól/i (–a, –ar), m.	dress
blus/a (–u, –ur), f.	blouse
skjúrt (–s, –0), n.	skirt

BÆÐI ('unisex')

frakki/i (–a, –ar), m.	coat
jakk/i (–a, –ar), m.	jacket
kovboybuksur f. pl.	jeans

BARNAKLÆÐIR ('children's clothes')

grulvidrakt (–ar, –ir), f.	rompersuit
blæ/a (–u, –ur), f.	nappy

FERIUKLÆÐIR ('holiday clothes')

svimjibuksur f. pl.	trunks
bikini (–s, –0), n.	bikini
svimjidrakt (–ar, –ir), f.	swimsuit

UNDIRKLÆÐIR ('underwear')

undirbuksur f. pl.	underpants
bróstahaldar/i (–a, –ar), m.	bra
trussur f. pl.	knickers
sokkabuksur f. pl.	tights
sokkur f. pl.	stockings
hos/a (–u, –ur), f.	sock
undirtroyggj/a (–u, –ur), f.	vest, undershirt

SKÓGVAR OG STIVLAR ('shoes and boots')

skógv/ur (skós, –ar), m.	shoe
høghælað/ur, adj.	high-heeled
sandál/a (–u, –ur), f.	sandal
stivl/i (–a, –ar), m.	boot
gummistivl/i (–a, –ar), m.	wellington boot
inniskógv/ur (–skós, –ar), m.	slipper
tufl/a (–u, –ur), f.	clog

TILHOYR ('accessories')

belti (–s, –[r]), n.	belt
task/a (–u, –ur), f.	bag
hálsturriklæði (–s, –[r]), n.	scarf
brillur f. pl.	glasses
linsur f. pl.	contact lenses
parúkk/ur (parúks, –ar), m.	wig
ur (–s, –0), n.	watch
sólbrillur f. pl.	sunglasses
handsk/i (–a, –ar), m.	glove
hatt/ur (hats, –ar), m.	hat
húgv/a (–u, –ur), f.	cap
kasjett/ur (kasjets, –ar), m.	cap (with peak)

KLÆÐIR ('materials')

bummull (–ar, ~), f.	cotton
kovboyklæði (–s, ~), n.	denim
feld/ur (–s, –ar), m.	fur
leður (–s, ~), n.	leather
lycra (–s, ~), n.	lycra
neilon (–s, ~), n.	nylon
polyestar/i (–a, ~), m.	polyester
reion (–s, ~), n.	rayon
gumm/i (–s, ~), m.	rubber
silki (–s, ~), n.	silk
ull (–ar, ~), f.	wool

PRÝÐI ('jewellery')

ring/ur (–s, –ar), m.	ring
fingurgull (–s, –0), n.	ring
armband (–s, –bond), n.	bracelet
hálsband (–s, –bond), n.	necklace
oyraring/ur (–s, –ar), m.	earring

PARTAR AV KLÆÐUM ('parts of clothes')

lumm/i (–a, –ar), m.	pocket
krag/i (–a, –ar), m.	collar
knapp/ur (knaps, –ar), m.	button
erm/a (–u, –ur), f.	sleeve
ermakvarð/i (–a, –ar), m.	cuff
seym/ur (–s, –ir), m.	seam, hem
kvarð/i (–a, –ar), m.	waistband
splitt/a (–u, –ur), f.	fly
lynlás (–0, –0), n.	zip
dragulás (–0, –0), n.	zip
stropp/ur (strops, –ar), m.	strap
trýstknapp/ur (–knaps, –ar), m.	snap fastener brillustell (–s, –0), n.	glasses frame
lins/a (–u, –ur), f.	lense
spenni (–s, –[r]), n.	buckle
liss/a (–u, –ur), f.	shoelace

at lata seg í, st. vb.	to put on
at lata seg úr, st. vb.	to take off
at fara í, st. vb.	to wear
at skifta (–ir, skifti) klæði, vb.	to change (clothes)

MYNSTUR ('patterns')

prikkut/ur, adj.	dotted
blomstrut/ur, adj.	flowery
stríput/ur, adj.	stripy
puntut/ur, adj.	plaid, cross-hatched
marglitt/ur, adj.	multi-coloured vera av / úr + dat., irr. vb. to be made of

for example: kjólin er av silki / úr silki skjúrtan var av bummull / úr bummull troyggjan er av føroyskari ull / úr ull

Venjing 14: Krossorðagáta ('crossword')

Complete the crossword by translating the words in Faroese.

LODDRÆTT ('vertical')

1. sandals
2. vest
3. stockings
4. hairbrush
7. suit
6. comb
10. scissors
12. watch
16. Faroese jacket for men
18. rubber
19. pocket

VATNRÆTT ('horizontal')

1. tights
5. gloves
8. watch
9. glue
11. nappies, diapers
13. salt
14. sweet, candy (Suðuroy dialect!)
15. watch
17. ring
20. watch
21. sweater, jumper
22. skirt
23. boot

Venjing 15: Describing clothes

It's Havnar mótavika (Tórshavn Fashion Week)! Write short descriptions in Faroese of what each of the models is wearing. Remember to describe the colour and pattern of the materials:

(a) Barba

(b) Súsanna

(c) Oddný

(d) Tróndur

(e) Kjartan

(f) Oyleivur

Venjing 16: Finn orð ('word-search')

Find the words from the list – they can be horizontal, vertical, diagonal and back-to-front:

A	J	S	K	E	R	P	I	K	J	Ø	T
B	U	E	D	R	O	E	S	A	R	B	O
P	K	J	Ø	T	S	R	Í	K	U	O	S
I	U	H	L	N	I	A	L	A	S	M	K
P	R	J	I	A	N	K	R	A	Í	M	U
A	N	Í	V	S	A	E	U	K	E	T	R
R	U	F	F	Ú	B	P	L	R	U	K	S
G	T	R	S	P	I	V	D	U	B	U	Ó
G	N	L	S	A	L	T	U	G	G	R	S
E	O	M	A	N	Á	Ý	N	A	K	F	L

agurka, ber, bomm, búffur, egg, ertnasúpan, frukt, ísur, kaka, kjøt, nudlur, omaná, pera, pipar, rosina, salt, síl, skerpikjøt, sós, te, toskur, vín, øl

Check that you know what all these words mean.

The letters d and ð

1. D Track 98

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letter d:

Dimma	tendrari	føðingardagskort
Danmark	standa	tónaskald
dagur	hundur	kvøld
dystur	útseldur	strond
Djurhuus	halda	armband
djúpur ('deep')	skuldi	heimagjørd
djarvur ('brave')	koyrdi	umgird

2. Ð Track 99

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letter ð:

blað	steðga	útstappaður
hurð	maðkur ('grub')	klæðum
húsið	steðgaði	høvuðsstaður
barnið	segði	fiskiídnaður
hvaðani	síða	sjálvstøðugur
ræða ('to frighten')	triðingur	ætlaðu
kvøða ('to chant')	greiður	ættaður
verða	prýði	avtalaðu
norður	reyður	góður
harður	seiður	Suðuroy
Kollafjørður	liðugur	móðursystir
biðja	maður	móður ('tired')

Lesistykki 1 [+ Vening 17]

You're trying to find a taxi – which sign will help you? Do you know what all the signs mean?

(a)

(b)

(c)

(d)

(e)

(f)

Lesistykki 2 Track 100

– Tey ríkastu og dýrastu londini í Evropa –

Evropa er ein ríkur heimspartur, men tað er tó munur á ríkidøminum í teim ymisku londunum. Norðurlondini – Danmark, Finnland, Ísland, Noreg og Svøríki – eru millum tey ríkastu londini í Evropa. Á einum lista við 34 evropeiskum londum eru Norðurlondini millum tólv tey fremstu londini. Serliga eru tað Noreg, Ísland og Danmark, sum stinga høvdini fram millum tey múgvandi. Tað vísir ein uppgerð hjá norsku hagstovunum yvir keypsorkuna í 2005.

Tey 34 londini í Evropa eru flokkað eftir einum meðaltali, sum er ásett til 100.

Luksemborg liggur á odda við 248 stigum. Á øðrum plássi er Noreg við 165 stigum. Síðani koma ávikavist Írland, Sveis, Ísland og Danmark. Svøríki er á ellivta plássi og Finnland á tólvta plássi. Fátækasta landið í Evropa er Makedónia, sum hevur fingið 26 stig – langt undir meðaltalinum, ið er 100.

Taka vit tey londini, har tað er dýrast at búgva, eru Norðurlondini eisini í fremstu rød. Ísland er dýrast við 151 stigum. Noreg er næstdýrast við 144 stigum. Sveis er á triða plássi. Danmark á fjórða plássi, Finnland á sætta og Svøríki á sjeynda plássi, tá tað snýr seg um prísir á vørum og tænastum. Bíligasta evropeiska landið at búgva í er Bulgaria.

Orðalýsingar

ásett/ur, past part.	set, fixed	Norðurlondini, n. pl.	the Nordic countries, Scandinavia
ávikavist, adv.	respectively *
bílig/ur, adj.	cheap
dýr/ur, adj.	expensive	odd/i (–a, –ar), m.	front, lead
fátæk/ur, adj.	poor	rík/ur, adj.	rich
fingið, sup.	got, received	ríkidømi (–s, ~), n.	wealth
flokkað/ur, past part.	grouped	røð (raðar, raðir), f.	row fremst/ur, adj.	foremost	serliga, adv.	especially hagstov/a (–u, –ur), f.	department of statistics	síðani, adv.	then, next snúgva seg um, irr. vb.	to be about, to concern
heimspart/ur (–s, –ar), m.	continent
ið, relative particle	which, that	stig (–s, –0), n.	point keypsork/a (–u, ~), f.	purchasing power	stinga, st. vb.	to poke
		tó, adv.	nonetheless
list/i (–a, –ar), m.	list	tænast/a (–u, –ur), f.	service
meðaltal (–s, –[r]), n.	average, mean	uppgerð (–ar, –ir), f.	calculation
mun/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	difference	vísa (–ti), vb.	to show múgvandi, adj. indecl.	wealthy, prosperous	vør/a (–u, –ur), f.	commodity, merchandise ymiss/ur, adj.	different, various

* Note that the word ávikavist precedes the list: Síðani koma ávikavist Írland, Sveis, Ísland og Danmark
'Then come Ireland, Switzerland, Iceland and Denmark respectively [or: 'in that order']'

Venjing 18: Spurningar

(a) In terms of purchase power, which is the richest country in Europe? And which is the poorest?
(b) Which country is the most expensive to live in? And which is the cheapest?

Lesistykki 3

Track 101

Ormurin langi

In the previous unit, you read about Faroese chain dancing. Here are some excerpts from one of the most popular kvæði, Ormurin langi. It tells the story of the Norwegian king, Ólavur Tryggvason, who builds a great longship called 'The Long Serpent' (Ormurin langi), with which he intends to conquer the world. Despite the skill of the archer Einar and his bow Tambar ('Stretches'), the ship is lost in a battle against the kings of Denmark and Sweden and Earl Eirikur. King Ólavur and his men drown in the sea, whilst the ship falls into Eirikur's hands who thus avenges his father, who had been killed by Ólavur. The kvæði has 85 verses.

1.	Viljið tær hoyra kvæði mítt, viljið tær orðum trúgva, um hann Ólav Trygvason, hagar skal ríman snúgva.	You want to hear my ballad, You want to believe the words, about Ólavur Trygvason, this is what the ballad is about.
Niðurlag:	Glymur dansur í høll, Dans sláið í ring! Glaðir ríða Noregsmenn til hildarting.	The dance rings forth in the palace, Form a ring for a dance! The men of Norway ride joyfully, into combat.
3.	Knørrur var bygdur á Noregs landi gott var í honum evni: sjúti alin og fýra til var kjølurin millum stevna.	The ship was built in the land of Norway, there was great power in it: seventy-four ells its keel measured from stem to stern.
8.	Har kom maður á bergið oman við sterkum boga í hendi: »Jallurin av Ringaríki hann meg higar sendi.«	There came a man down from the mountain with a strong bow in his hand: 'the Earl of Ringaríkur sent me here.'
10.	»Einar skalt tú nevna meg væl kann boga spenna; »Tambar« eitur mín menskur bogi, ørvar drívur at renna.«	'You shall call me Einar I can draw a bow well; "Stretches" is the name of my brave bow It makes the arrows flow.'
11.	»Hoyr tú tað, tú ungi maður, vilt tú við mær fara, tú skalt vera mín ørvargarpur Ormin at forsvara.«	'Listen here, young man, if you want to come with me, you'll be my bowshot to defend The Serpent.'
12.	Ganga teir til strandar oman, ríkir menn og reystir, lunnar brustu og jørðin skalv; teir drógu knørr úr neysti.	They go down to the beach, Rich and courageous men, The launching timbers broke and the earth shook; they pulled the boat from the boathouse
70.	Einar spenti triðja sinni, ætlaði jall at raka, tá brast strongur av stáli stinna, í boganum tók at braka.	Einar drew his bow, he wanted to hit the earl, then the string, strong as steel, broke, the bow began to groan.
71.	Allir hoyrdu streingin springa, kongurin seg forundrar: »Hvat er tað í mínum skipi, so ógvuliga dundrar?«	Everyone heard the string snap, the king wondered 'What is there in my ship, that thunders so loudly?'
72.	Svaraði Einar Tambarskelvi: – kastar boga sín: – »Nú brast Noreg úr tínum hondum, kongurin, harri mín!«	Einar Stretches Shaker answered: – throwing down his bow: – 'Now Norway fell out of your hands, the king, my lord!'
73.	»Í Harrans hond mítt ríki stendur og ikki í Tambarboga,	'My kingdom lies in the Lord's hands and not in the bow Stretches, tak tær ein av mínum bogum, vita, hvat teir duga!«	take one of my bows, see, what you can do!'

74.	»Veikir eru kongsins bogar!« Einar ræður at svara, »eg skal taka upp skjøld og svørð, høgg skal eg ikki spara.«	'The king's bows are feeble!' Einar answered, 'I'll take up a shield and a sword, I'll spare no blows.'
83.	Kongurin rópar í lyftingini: »Nú er tap í hendi; leypið í havið, mínir menn, her verður ei góður endi!«	The king shouts in the poopdeck: 'Now the battle is lost; jump in the sea, my men, there will be a good end here!'
84.	Kongurin leyp í havið út, garpar eftir fylgdu, kongsins bróðir síðstur var, teir gjørdu, sum kongurin vildi.	The king jumped out into the sea, the warriors followed after, the king's brother was the last, they did as the king wished.
85.	Eirikur fekk tá Ormin langa, eingin annar kundi, tók hann sjálvur róður í hond og stýrdi honum frá sundi.	Eirikur then got The Long Serpent no-one else could, He took the rudder in his hand and steered away from the sound.

Veitst tú at...

Sheep grazing on Streymoy

The saying, føroyskt ull er føroyskt gull, was for many years a fact (ein royndur lutur), with Faroese wool being the main export item (útflutt vøra) and source of income (inntøkukelda) for the islands. However, with the industrialisation (ídning) of the fisheries and the arrival of cheaper textiles (klæðir), wool came to be of less importance. Recently, however, there has been something of a revival (endurreisn). Wool has once again become a very popular textile, and traditional clothing, such as the kot, has been revived but given a modern cut or new colours. The special qualities of wool, not least its warmth (varmi) and ability to repel water (Faroese wool contains a lot of lanolin (ullarfiti)), have made it the material of choice for fashion-conscious (mótaavvitandi) islanders and Faroese designers (føroyskir sniðgevar). It is also popular because it is a natural product and not a man-made material that can induce allergies (ovurviðkvæmi). There are specialised shops selling designer woollen products in Tórshavn and elsewhere on the islands. Faroese designers are beginning to break through internationally, and their creations can be found not just on the catwalks (á pallunum) of Norðurlondini, but elsewhere in Evropa and Amerika too.

10 Hvat feilar?

What's wrong?

Track 102

In this unit you will learn about:

- prepositions that take the dative case
- joining sentences with relative pronouns
- how to say something hurts and talking about illness
- parts of the body
- intensifiers
- using the phone and email
- the letter combinations dj, sj, skj, stj and tj

Samrøða 1

Track 103

Klokkan er 7 um morgunin. Claire fer innar í køkin, har sum Kristin situr og fær sær morgunkaffi.

KRISTIN:	Harragud, sum tú sært út, Claire! Hvat feilar?
CLAIRE:	Eg havi ilt í hálsinum, og so havi eg eisini høvuðpínu.
KRISTIN:	Hevur tú fepur?
CLAIRE:	Tað veit eg ikki. Eg haldi, at eg eri eitt sindur heit.
KRISTIN:	Ein fepurstokkur liggur í ovastu skuffu á baðiverilsinum. Far og tak fepurin!
CLAIRE:	39,5 °C.
KRISTIN:	Ja. Tú hevur fepur. Hvussu hevur tú sovið?
CLAIRE:	Ikki so galið. Men eg havi droymt so løgið.
KRISTIN:	Tú skalt til læknan. Einki sum eitur. Eg ringi til hennara alt fyri eitt, sum hon hevur viðtalutíð. Nú skalt tú í song aftur. Eg geri tær ein heitan temunn.

Seinni sama morgun.

RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Hallo
KRISTIN:	Hallo. Hetta er Kristin Poulsen. Eg ringi fyri at bestilla tíð hjá Jóhannu av Lofti. Systurdóttir mín er og ferðast í Føroyum. Hon hevur fepur, og eg haldi, at hon hevur hálsbetendilsi ella hálsbruna, sum tit plaga at siga nú.
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Hon kann koma í dag klokkan 14. Er tað í lagi?
KRISTIN:	Fínasta slag.
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Hvussu eitur systurdótturin hjá tær?
KRISTIN:	Claire McDonald.
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Hvussu stavar mann tað?
KRISTIN:	C-L-A-I-R-E M-C-D-O-N-A-L-D.
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Takk fyri. Nær fyllir hon?
KRISTIN:	Tað minnist eg ikki beint nú...
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Tað bilar einki. Minst til at fortelja henni, at hon skal hava samleikakort og onnur pappír við sum prógv fyri sjúkratrygging, tá ið hon kemur.
KRISTIN:	Tað skal eg nokk. Takk og farvæl.
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Farvæl.

Orðalýsingar

alt fyri eitt	as soon as, at once
baðiverilsi (–s, –0), n.	bathroom *
beint nú, adv.	just now
bestilla (bestilti), vb.	to order **
bila (–ar, –ti), vb.	to matter
droyma (–di), vb.	to dream
einki sum eitur	no question about it
feila (–ar, –ti), vb.	to be wrong
fepur (–s, ~), m.	fever; temperature
fepurstokk/ur (–stoks, –ar), m.	thermometer
ferðast (–aðist), vb.	to travel
fínasta slag	perfect
fortelja, irr. vb.	to tell
fylla (fylti), vb.	to have a birthday
galið, adv.	badly
Harragud, interj.	good grief
hava ilt í + dat., irr. vb.	to have pain in ***
háls/ur (–0, –ar), m.	throat; neck
hálsbetendilsi (–s, –0), n	sore throat
hálsbrun/i (–a, –ar), m.	sore throat
heit/ur, adj.	hot
høvuðpín/a (–u, –ur), f.	headache
lækn/i (–a, –ar), m.	doctor
løgið, adv.	strangely
minnast (mintist), vb.	to remember
nokk, adv.	for sure, certainly
ovast/ur, adj.	top, uppermost
prógv (próvs, –0), n.	proof
sam/ur, adj.	same
samleikakort (–s, –0), n.	identity card
seinni comp. < seint, adv.	later
sjúkratrygging (–ar, –ar), f.	health insurance
skuff/a (–u, –ur), f.	drawer
stava (–aði), vb.	to spell
sum [tú sært út]!	what [do you look like]!
taka fepurin, st. vb.	to take one's temperature
temunn/ur (–muns, –ar), m.	cup of tea
tíð (–ar, –ir), f.	[here:] appointment
uttanífrá, adv.	from abroad
viðtalutíð (–ar, –ir), f.	surgery hours

* Another common word for bathroom is baðirúm (–s, –0), n.

 The phrase at bestilla tíð 'to make/book an appointment' can also be rendered at bíleggja tíð or at biðja um tíð.

 For example, eg havi ilt í hálsinum 'my throat hurts'.

Venjing 1: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Claire has a headache.
(b) Claire has a runny nose.
(c) Claire has a temperature.
(d) Claire has slept very badly.
(e) Kristin makes a doctor's appointment for the following day.
(f) Claire needs to take ID with her to the doctor's surgery.

Mállæra

How to say something hurts and talking about illness

Nobody wants to be ill, but if you start feeling off colour – or worse! – here are some useful phrases and vocabulary to help you talk about what's wrong and to get help.

Hvar er...?	Where's...?
apotekið	the chemist's / pharmacy
ein lækni	a doctor
ein tannlækni	a dentist
sjúkrahúsið	the hospital
Hvat feilar? hvat bagir?	What's wrong?
Hvar hevur tú ilt?	Where does it hurt?
Eg havi ilt í + dat. def.	My ____ hurts, My ___ is sore
Eg havi ilt í hálsinum	My throat hurts, I have a sore throat
Eg havi ilt í búkinum	My stomach hurts, I have a stomach ache
Eg havi ilt fyri bringuni	My chest hurts

Parts of the body

ankle	økil (–s, øklar), m.	knee	knæ (–s, knø), n.
arm	arm/ur (–s, –ar), m.	leg	bein (–s, –0), n.
back	ryggur (–s, –ir), m.	lung	lung/a (–a, –u[r]), n.
bladder	bløðr/a (–u, –ur), f.	mouth	munn/ur (muns, –ar), m.
blood	blóð (–s, ~), n.	muscle	vødd/i (–a, –ar), m., muskul (–s, –klar), m.
bone	bein (–s, –0), n.
chest	bring/a (–u, –ur), f.	rib	rivjabein (–s, –0), n.
ear	oyr/a (–a, –u[r]), n.	shoulder	øksl (akslar, akslar), f.
eye	eyg/a (–a, –u[r]), n.	shoulders	herðar, f. pl.
finger	fingur (–s, fingrar), m.	skin	húð (–ar, –ir), f.
foot	fót/ur (–s, føtur), m.	stomach	búk/ur (–s, –ar), m.
hand	hond (handar, hendur), f.	tooth	tonn (tannar, tenn), f.
head	høvd (høvuðs, –0), n.	throat	háls/ur (–0, –ar), m.
heart	hjart/a (–a, hjørtu), n.	vein	æðr (–ar, –ar), f.
kidney	nýr/a (–a, –u[r]), n.

Illnesses and health problems

Eg havi + acc.	I have...
Eg havi hart lív	I have constipation, I'm constipated
Eg havi kokt fótin	I have a sprained ankle
Eg havi høvuðpínu	I have a headache
Kann eg fáa heilivág fyri + acc.?	May I have medication for...?
Eg havi resept upp á + acc.	I have a prescription for...

acne	akne (–0, ~), f.
	døkkormar, m. pl.
AIDS	eyðkvæmi (–s, ~), n.
allergy	ovurviðkvæmi (–s, –[r]), n.
anaemia	blóðmangul (–s, ~), m.
arthritis	giktsjúk/a (–u, ~), f.
athlete's foot	fótsopp/ur (–sops, ~), m.
blister	bløðr/a (–u, –ur), f.
burn	brunasár (–s, –0), n.
cancer	krabbamein (–s, ~), n.
cold	krím (–s, –0), n.
	forkølilsi (–s, –[r]), n.
cold sore	krímsár (–s, –0), n.
constipation	harð/ur búk/ur (–s, –ar), m.
	trek/ur mag/i (–a, –ar), m.
cough	host/i (–a, –ar), m.
(bad) cough	gorp (–s, –0), n.
cystitis	bløðrubrun/i (–a, ~), m.
diarrhoea	leys/t lív (–s, ~), n.
	lívsýki (–s, ~), m.
	skræp/a (–u, –ur), f.
fever	fepur (–s, ~), m.
headache	høvuðpín/a (–u, –ur), f.
hepatitis	livrabrun/i (–a, ~), m.
infection	brun/i (–a, ~), m.
influenza	krím (–s, –0), n.
	beinkrím (–s, –0), n.
intestinal disease	tarmsjúk/a (–u, –ur), f.
lice	lýs, f. pl.
blood pressure	blóðtrýst (–s, –0), n.
high b. pressure	høgt blóðtrýst
low b. pressure	lágt blóðtrýst
migraine	migrena (–u, –ur), f.
nausea	vaml (–s, ~), n.
nosebleed	nasablóð (–s, –0), n.
side effect	hjáárin (–s, –0), n.
sneezing	njós/i (–a, ~), m.
spot, pimple	pirr/a (–u, –ur), f.
sprain	keiking (–ar, –ar), f.
sprained	keikt/ur, past part.
sprained ankle	keikt/ur fót/ur (–s, føtur), m.
STI, STD	kynssjúk/a (–u, –ur), f.
stomach ache	búkilsk/a (–u, –ur), f.
swelling	trot/i (–a, –ar), m.
temperature	fepur (–s, ~), m.
thrush	trøsk/a (–u, ~), f.
toothache	tannapín/a (–u, –ur), f.
travel sickness	bilverk/ur (–s, ~), m.
vomit	spýggj/a (–u, ~), f.
worms	orm/ur (–s, –ar), m.

Phrases describing conditions:

Eg havi sukursjúku(na)	I'm diabetic
Eg eri epileptikari	I'm epileptic
Eg eri astmasjúkur	I'm asthmatic
Eg havi astma	I have asthma
Eg eri upp á vegin	I'm pregnant
Eg havi mánasjúkuna	I'm having my period
Eg toli ikki antibiotika	I'm allergic to antibiotics
Eg eri vaksineraður	I have been vaccinated
Eg eri svimbul og ússaligur	I feel dizzy and weak

Medicines and medical items

accident	ólukk/a (–u, –ur), f.
antibiotics	antibiotik/a (–a, ~), n.
antiseptic	sóttreinsan (–ar, –ir), f.
bandage	bind (–s, –0), n., forbinding (–ar, –ar), f.
Band-aid®	plástur (–s, –0), n.
blood test	blóðroynd (–ar, –ir), f.
condom	hít (–ar, –ir), f., kardongar/i (–a, –ar) m., parisar/i (–a, –ar), m.
contraceptive	fyribyrging (–ar, –ar), f.
cotton wool	vatt (vats, ~), n.
cough medicine	hostasaft (–ar, –ir), f.
drug abuse	rúsevnimisnýtsl/a (–u, ~), f.
gauze	sárbind (–s, –0), n.
laxatives	loysingarevni (–s, –[r]), n.

medicine	heilivág/ur (–s, –ir), m., medisin (–s, –0), n.
morning-after pill	angriboll/i (–a, –ar), m.
natural remedy	náttúruheilivág/ur (–s, –ir), m.
oxygen	súrevni (–s, –[r]), n.
painkiller	pínutablett (–ar, –ir), f.
the Pill	p-boll/i (–a, –ar), m., p-pillar/i (–a, –ar), m.
pill	tablett (–ar, –ir), f.,
	pillar/i (–a, –ar), m.
plaster	plástur (–s, –0), n.
sleeping pill	sovitablett (–ar, –ir), f.
thermometer	fepurstokk/ur (–stoks, –ar), m.
vitamin	vitamin (–ar, –ir), f.

Emergencies

Ein vanlukka hevur verið	There's been an accident
Fá fatur á einum lækna skjótt!	Get a doctor quickly!

accident	vanlukk/a (–u, –ur), f., óhapp (–s, –0), n.
ambulance	sjúkrabil/ur (–s, –ar), m., ambulans/a (–u, –ur), f.
car accident	ferðsluvanlukk/a (–u, –ur), f., ferðsluóhapp (–s, –0), n.
first aid	bráðfeingishjálp (–ar, ~), f.
heart attack	hjartaslag (–s, –sløg), n.
heart massage	hjartamassasj/a (–u, ~), f.
injured	meiðslað/ur, adj.
mouth-to-mouth	andahjálp (–ar, ~), f.

At the hospital

A&E, ER	skaðastov/a (–u, –ur), f.
clinic	læknastov/a (–u, –ur), f.
doctor	lækn/i (–a, –ar), m.
GP	kommunulækn/i (–a, –ar), m.
hospital	sjúkrahús (–0, –0), n.
to hospitalise	leggja inn, irr. vb.
injection	innsproyting (–ar, –ar), f., innsprøning (–ar, –ar), f.
nurse	sjúkrarøktarfrøðing/ur (–s, –ar), m., sjúkrasystir (–systur, –systrar), f.
operation	skurð/ur (–ar, –ir), m.

At the dentist's

Eg havi tannapínu	I have a toothache
Eg havi mist eina plombu	I've lost a filling
Eg havi brotið eina tonn	I've broken a tooth
Tað pínir í tannhaldinum	My gums hurt
Kann eg fáa doyving?	Please give me an anaesthetic

Notice how the definite form of the noun, rather than a possessive with the noun, is often used for parts of the body, especially if it is obvious who the body part belongs to(!):

hon hevur ilt í fótinum	her foot hurts (lit.: she has pain in the foot)
tað pínir í tannhaldinum	my gums hurt (lit.: it pains in the gum)
eg havi kokt fótin	I've sprained my ankle (lit.: I have sprained the ankle)

Venjing 2: Symptoms

Match the symptoms with the condition:

(a)	njósi, hosti, fepur, høvuðpína, hálsbruni	(i)	strongd
(b)	reyðar pirrur, fepur, høvuðpína	(ii)	sjóverkur
(c)	svimbul, spýggja	(iii)	krím
(d)	ilt í øklinum, troti, illa gongdur	(iv)	meslingar
(e)	lúnutur, í ringum lag, móður, ringt svøvnlag, prippin	(v)	keiktur fótur

Orðalýsingar

í ringum lag	in a bad mood	ringt svøvnlag	insomnia
lúnut/ur, adj.	moody	sjóverk/ur (–s, ~), m.	seasickness
meslingar, m. pl.	measles	strongd (–ar, ~), f.	stress
prippin, adj.	irritable	trot/i (–a, –ar), m.	swelling

Venjing 3: Cuts and bruises

Match the English words on the left with the correct word in Faroese on the right. Some of the vocabulary is new, but do the best you can!

(a) boil	(i) blátt merki
(b) lump	(ii) djúpt opið sár
(c) rash	(iii) keiking
(d) scab	(iv) knútur
(e) spot	(v) pirra
(f) swelling	(vi) skøva, skeina, skursl
(g) bruise	(vii) skorpa á sári, skruva
(h) cut	(viii) skurður
(i) gash	(ix) svullur
(j) graze, scratch	(x) útbrot
(k) sprain	(xi) troti

Venjing 4: Parts of the body

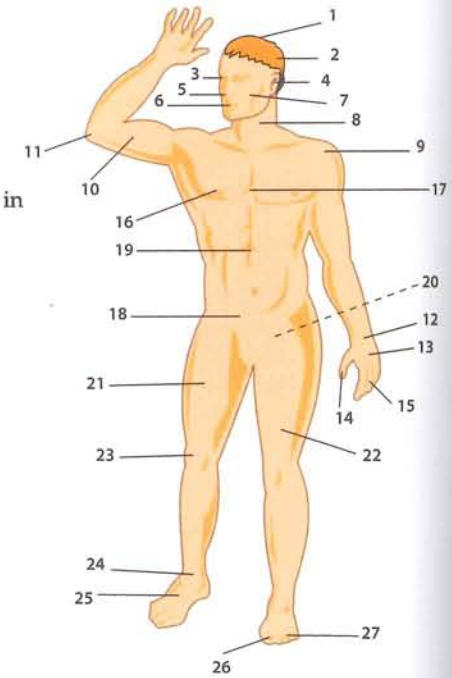
Match the words with the labelled parts of the body in the image:

(a)	afturpartur	(á)	albogi
(b)	andlit	(d)	armur
(ð)	bein	(e)	bringa
(f)	bróst	(g)	eyga
(h)	fingrar	(i)	fótur
(í)	handliður	(j)	hálsur
(k)	hár	(l)	hond
(m)	høvd	(n)	knæ
(o)	lær	(ó)	magi, búkur
(p)	nøs	(r)	oyra
(s)	stóra tá	(t)	tummil
(u)	tær	(ú)	undirlív
(v)	varrar	(y)	økil
(ý)	øksl



Samrøða 2

Track 104

MÓTTØKA: Góðan dagin.
CLAIRE: Góðan dagin. Eg eiti Claire McDonald. Eg havi tíð hjá læknanum klokkan 14.
MÓTTØKA: Á, ja. Ger so væl at seta teg. Læknin er skjótt klárur at taka ímóti tær.

Nakrar minuttir seinni.

JÓHANNA: Góðan dagin. Eg eiti Jóhanna av Lofti.
CLAIRE: Góðan dagin.
JÓHANNA: Eg dugi at síggja, at tú ikki hevur tað so gott. Hvat feilar? Fært tú sagt mær, hvar tú hevur ilt? Sjúkueyðkennini.
CLAIRE: Eg havi ilt í hálsinum og eina øgiliga høvuðpínu.
JÓHANNA: Hvussu byrjaði tað?
CLAIRE: Í morgun. Eg var spillfrísk, tá ið eg fór til songar í gjárkvøldið, men í morgun, tá ið eg vaknaði, hevði eg tað slettis ikki so gott.
JÓHANNA: Snorar tú?
CLAIRE: Nei.
JÓHANNA: Hostar tú?
CLAIRE: Einki soleiðis.
JÓHANNA: Eg má heldur hyggja í hálsin á tær. Ger so væl at lata munnin upp og sig 'aaaa'.
CLAIRE: Aaaa.
JÓHANNA: Jú. Tú hevur hálsbruna, og eg síggi á fepurstokkinum, at tú hevur nógvan fepur, 40 °C. Eg noyðist at taka ein prøva frá hálsinum á tær við hesum vattpinninum fyri at síggja, um brunin er íkomin av einum virusi, ella um talan er um eina bakteriu. Tú fert ikki at fáa ilt.

.....

Tú hevur ikki virus. Eg skrivi tær eina resept upp á antibiotika. Eg haldi eisini, at tú skalt taka onkrar pínutablettir, Panodil til dømis.
Tað hevur eisini týdning, at tú hvílir teg. Tú skalt liggja í songini, til tú hevur tað betri. Fert tú at hosta, skalt tú keypa hostasaft.
CLAIRE: Hvar fái eg fatur á medisininum?
JÓHANNA: Tað er eitt apotek beint um hornið.
CLAIRE: Túsund takk.
JÓHANNA: Sjálv takk. Farvæl.
CLAIRE: Farvæl.

Orðalýsingar

apotek (–s, –0), n.	chemist's, pharmacy	hosta (–aði), vb.	to cough bakteri/a (–u, –ur), f.	bacteria	hostasaft (–ar, –ir), f.	cough mixture brun/i (–a, –ar), m.	infection	hvíla (–di) seg, vb.	to rest dømi (–s, –[r]), n.	example	íkomin, past part.	caused (by), come (from) einki soleiðis	not really
fáa + sup., st. vb.	to be able to	klár/ur, adj.	ready fáa fatur á, st. vb.	to get hold of	lata upp + acc., st. vb.	to open fara til songar, st. vb.	to go to bed	liggja, st. vb.	to lie

medisin (–s, –0), n.	medicine	slettis ikki so	not at all móttøk/a (–u, –ur), f.	reception	snora (–aði), vb.	to have a runny nose noyðast (noyddist), vb.	to have to	spillfrísk/ur, adj.	fit as a fiddle øgilig/ur, adj.	very bad, terrible	taka ímóti + dat., st. vb.	to receive pínutablætt (–ar, –ir), f.	painkiller (tablet)	týdning/ur (–s, –ar), m.	importance prøv/i (–a, –ar), m.	test	um talan er um	whether it is a matter of
resept (–ar, –ir), f.	prescription
seta seg, irr. vb.	to sit	vakna (–aði), vb.	to wake up sjúkueyðkenni (–s, –[r]), n.	symptom	vattpinn/ur (–s, –ar), m.	cotton-tipped bud, Q-tip
skjótt, adv.	soon	virus (–0, –0), n.	virus

Venjing 5: Spurningar

(a) Hvussu eitur læknin?
(b) Hvørji sjúkueyðkennir hevur Claire?
(c) Hvussu hevði Claire tað í gjár?
(d) Hostar ella snorar Claire?
(e) Er hálsbrunin hjá Claire íkomin av einari bakteriu ella einum virusi?
(f) Hvønn heilivág fær Claire á resept?
(g) Hvat kann hon fáa í handkeypi?
(h) Er tað langt til apotekið?

Venjing 6: At the doctor's

Complete these dialogues:

(a)
A: Góðan dagin. Hvat feilar?
B: Tell the doctor you are feeling unwell. You have a sore throat and a headache.
A: Hevur tú tikið fepurin?
B: Say yes. Say you have a fever. 39°.
A: Nógv fólk hava krím í løtuni. Tak eina høvuðpínutablett og far til songar.
B: Ask where you can buy headache pills.
A: Apotekið er beint við SMS.
B: Say thank you and goodbye.
A: Farvæl.

(b)
A: Góðan dagin. Tú sært ikki so væl út. Hvat bagir?
B: Tell the doctor that your head hurts and you are dizzy.
A: Hevur tú vaml?
B: Say yes and that you have difficulty focussing [hava ilt við at fokusera].
A: Nær byrjaði tú at hava so ilt?
B: Say since you fell [datt] off your bike this morning.
A: Slóst tú høvdið í?
B: Say yes, and that you were not wearing a helmet [súkkluhjálm/ur (–s, –ar), m.]

A: Ein lækni á sjúkrahúsinum má kanna høvdið á tær og taka eina røntgenmynd ['x-ray']. Tú noyðist at fara á skaðastovuna.
B: Say you don't think you can cycle [súkkla (–aði), vb.] that far.
A: Sjálvandi ikki! Tak ein hýruvogn. Nei, nei... eg ringi eftir ambulansuni.

Mállæra

Prepositions that take the dative case* [§8.2]

In Unit 5, we learnt about the dative case. A number of common prepositions are always followed by the dative. They are:

aft(u)rat	in addition to	(í)móti	towards; against
at	at; to	nærhendis	near, in the neighbourhood
av	off; from; of	undan	from under; before frá	from	úr	out of, from
hjá	by; with; at the house of	viðvíkjandi	concerning

Venjing 7: Prepositions + dative

Fill in the gaps with the correct form of the word(s) in brackets:

(a) Aftrat _____ _____ (hesir leikir) so var eisini kappróður á vágni.
'In addition to these games, there were also rowing races in the bay.'

(b) Flennir tú at _____ (eg)?
'Are you laughing at me?'

(c) Teir høvdu ein stóran bát við, sum ikki kundi leggja at _____ (land).
'They had a large boat that couldn't moor.'

(d) Svínoy var av _____ _____(fyrst tíð) flotoyggj.
'Svínoy was originally [lit.: 'from the first time'] a floating island.'

(e) Hatta er ein av _____ _____ (hasar gátur), sum mann situr leingi og hugsar um.
'That's one of those riddles that you sit and think about for a long time.'

(f) 10.000 fólk noyddust at fara frá _____ (hús, pl.) sínum.
'10,000 people had to leave their homes.'

(g) Tunglyndi er vanligari hjá _____ (roykjarar) enn hjá _____ (ikki-roykjarar).
'Melancholy is more common among smokers than non-smokers.'

(h) Føroya felag móti _____ (Krabbamein) varð stovnað í januar 1971.
'The Faroese Society against cancer was established in January 1971.'

(i) Tað liggur ein smoltstøð nærhendis _____ (elverkið).
'There's an ironworks near the power station.'

(j) Borgarstjórin ber seg undan _____ _____ (sínar uppgávur).
'The mayor excuses himself from his duties.'

(k) Tveir triðingar av _____ (streymurin), føroyingar nýttu í gjár, var framleiddur úr _____ (ikki-varandi orkukeldur) sum _____ (dieselolja).
'Two thirds of the power used by Faroe Islanders yesterday was produced from non-renewable energy sources such as diesel.'

(l) Hevur tú spurningar viðvíkjandi _____ _____ (hesir politikkarar), ert tú vælkomin at senda mær eitt teldubræv.
'If you have any questions about these politicians, you are welcome to send me an email.'

Relative pronouns [§6.7]

The most usual form of the relative pronoun in spoken Faroese is the indeclinable particle sum:

her er gentan, sum tú kennir	here's the girl, who you know
takk fyri brævið, sum eg fekk í gjár	thanks for the letter that I got yesterday
kennir tú onkran, sum kann hjálpa mær?	do you know anyone who can help me?
Havnin er tann býurin, sum eg elski mest	Torshavn's that town, that I love most
Páll, sum arbeiðir á posthúsinum, er sjúkur	Páll, who works at the post office, is ill

The written language also uses ið:

føroyingar eru ikki teir einastu, ið læra føroyskt!	the Faroe Islanders aren't the only ones who learn Faroese!
tó eru nógv fólk, ið ikki eru samd við meg í hesum	however there are many people who don't agree with me about this

As in English the relative pronoun is frequently dropped, especially in the spoken language:

hann hevur ein son, hann ikki hevur sæð leingi
'he has a son (that) he hasn't seen for ages' = hann hevur ein son, sum / ið hann leingi ikki hevur sæð var tað meg, tú tosaði um?

was it me (that) you were talking about?
= var tað meg, sum / ið tú tosaði um?

Note also that the particle ið also frequently occurs after the adverbs hvar, hvat, hvussu, hvør and nær when they are not used in questions:

Hvar er hann?	where is he?
But:
Eg veit ikki, hvar ið hann er	I don't know where he is
Hvat skal eg keypa?	what shall I buy?
But:
Hvussu veit eg, hvat ið eg skal keypa?!	how do I know what I'll buy?!
Hvat var í?	what was inside?
But:
Eg setti posan og skuldi hyggja, hvat ið í var	I put down the bag and looked what was inside
Nær kemur tú?	when are you coming?
But:
Hann spurdi, nær ið eg kom	he asked when I was coming

Samrøða 3

Track 105

Á apotekinum

APOTEKARIN:	Góðan dagin. Hvussu kann eg hjálpa tær?
CLAIRE:	Hey. Eg havi beint nú fingið hesa reseptina frá læknanum.
APOTEKARIN:	Ja. Bíða eitt sindur. Her er ein pakki við 28 tablettum. Hevur tú nakrantíð tikið henda heilivágin fyrr?
CLAIRE:	Ha? Heilivágin. Eg skilji ikki rættiliga. Eri útlendingur.
APOTEKARIN:	Ná. Hetta medisinið. Hevur tú fyrr tikið tað?
CLAIRE:	Nei. Tað havi eg ikki.
APOTEKARIN:	Tú skalt taka fýra tablettir um dagin. Tvær á morgni og tvær á kvøldi. Kururin hjá tær varir í eina viku. Vissi tú heldur, at tú stadivekk hevur onkur sjúkueyðkenni, skalt tú ringja til læknan hjá tær. Tú mást ikki bróta kurin av, tí tað er týdningarmikið, at tú tekur allar tablettirnar.
CLAIRE:	Kann mann eta tær á fastandi hjarta?
APOTEKARIN:	Tað kann mann gott.
CLAIRE:	Eg ætlaði eisini at keypa nakrar pínutablettir.
APOTEKARIN:	Vit hava ymisk sløg. Er tað aspirin, tú hugsar um? Ella parasetamol?
CLAIRE:	Læknin tosaði okkurt um Panodil.
APOTEKARIN:	Íðan. Har eru ymiskir pakkar. Vilt tú hava 20, 30 ella 100 tablettir?
CLAIRE:	Lat meg fáa 20. So mugu vit vóna, at tað er nóg mikið.
APOTEKARIN:	Tú kanst taka tvær tablettir tríggjar til fýra ferðir um dagin, men so ikki meira. Var tað annars nakað annað?
CLAIRE:	Nei takk.
APOTEKARIN:	Tað verða 107,25 tilsamans.
CLAIRE:	Ger so væl.
APOTEKARIN:	Og 2,75 aftur. Takk og góðan bata.
CLAIRE:	Takk og farvæl.

Orðalýsingar

á fastandi hjarta	on an empty stomach
apotekar/i (–a, –ar), m.	pharmacist
aspirin (–s, –0), n.	aspirin
bat/i (–a, –ar), m.	improvement
bíða (–aði), vb.	to wait
bróta av, st. vb.	to break, discontinue
fyrr, adv.	before
góðan bata, interj.	get well!
heilivág/ur (–s, –ir), m.	medicine
hjálpa (–ti) + dat., vb.	to help
hugsa (–aði) um + acc., vb.	to be thinking of íðan, interj.	right then, well
kur/ur (–s, –ar), m.	course (of medication)
nóg mikið, adj.	enough
parasetamol (–s, –0), n.	paracetamol
rættiliga, adv.	properly, really
slag (–s, sløg), n.	kind, sort, type
stadivekk, adv.	still
tablett (–ar, –ir), f.	tablet
týdningarmikil, adj.	important
útlending/ur (–s, –ar), m.	foreigner
vissi, conj.	if
vóna (–aði), vb.	to hope
ymisk/ur, adj.	different

Venjing 8: Spurningar

(a) Hvussu nógvar tablettir keypir Claire?
(b) Hevur hon tikið heilivágin fyrr?
(c) Hvussu leingi varar kururin?
(d) Hvussu nógvar tablettir skal Claire taka um dagin? Og nær skal hon taka tær?
(e) Keypir Claire nakað meiri?
(f) Hvussu nógv kostar tað tilsamans?

Mállæra

Intensifiers

Intensifiers are adverbs of degree that amplify the verb. They intensify the meaning and especially the emotional content. The most common intensifiers are nógv, sera and ógvuliga all meaning 'very', óføra 'extremely' and rættiliga 'really'. There are many other intensifiers, some based on adjectives and nouns we have already encountered:

ótrúligur 'unbelievable'	>	ótrúliga 'incredibly'	tað var ótrúliga spennandi
øgiligur 'terrible'	>	øgiliga 'terribly, extremely'	eg bíðaði øgiliga leingi
ræðuligur 'terrible'	>	ræðuliga 'extremely'	tað larmar ræðuliga illani

Note also:

a bit	eitt sindur	fairly	fittliga	somewhat	nakað
bloody	fanans	irritatingly	irriterandi	too	ov
completely	heilt	quite	púra	totally	ruddiliga, gall–
damned	forbannað, ólukksáliga	rather	heldur
		really	rættiliga
extremely	ónatúrliga	so	so

For example:

hon er gallsúr	she is pissed off
tað er so irriterandi	that's so irritating
hann er so forbannað góður	he is so damned good

The prefixes skít- and pissi- are used in informal language to amplify an adjective, but they are rather crude:

hann var skítfullur	he was dead drunk
tey eru skítbýtt	they're totally stupid
hon er pissisúr	she's pissed off
alt er pissifrustrerandi	everything's bloody frustrating

A word of caution. Generally, the Faroe Islanders err on the side of understatement. Thus ikki so ringt and ikki so heilt galið are actually positive and mean 'rather good'. This tendency towards understatement is also reflected in body language. There is little waving about of arms; indeed, many men talk without making eye contact and with their hands in their pockets.

Venjing 9: Intensifiers

Claire is writing an email home to her mother. Add some intensifiers at the symbol # but make sure not to become repetitive.

```
Til:    malanmcdonald@teldupost.fo

Frá:    clairemcdonald@teldupost.fo
```

```
Góða mamma!

Eg eri (a) # sjúk! Eg vaknaði í dag og hevði (b) # ilt í hálsinum.
Eg hevði ikki sovið (c) # galið men droymt (d) # løgið. Eg tók fepurin - 39° - og Kristin sendi meg til læknan. Hon var (e) # vinalig og skrivaði eina resept. Eg havi hálsbruna og fekk antibiotika. Heilivágurin var ikki (f) # dýrur men eg hevði (g) # ilt við at ganga heim aftur. Nú liggi eg heima hjá Kristin og havi tað (h) # betri. Hon er (i) # fitt. Eg ringi í morgin, tá ið eg havi tað betri.

Muss muss, C.
```

Telephoning and emailing

If your mobile phone doesn't work, you'll need to use a public telephone - in the street, the post office or a café. The telephone network is run by Føroya Tele. Computers with internet connections for emailing can be found at the library. Here are some useful words:

Advertisement for broadband

Telephoning

mobile phone	fartelefon (–ar, –ir), f.
operator	telefondam/a (–u, –ur), f., telefonmaður (–mans, –menn), m.
sms, text	tekstboð (–s, –0), n.
telephone	telefon (–ar, –ir), f.
to dial	snara (–aði), vb.
to replace the handset	leggja hornið á aftur, irr. vb.
to text, sms	sms'a (–'aði), vb.

Computing

at, @	kurl/a (–u, –ur), f.
broadband	breiðband (–s, ~), n.
to browse	kaga (–aði), vb.
browser	kag/i (–a, –ar), m.
CD-rom	telduføg/a (–u, –ur), f.
computer	teld/a (–u, –ur), f.
to download	heinta (-aði), vb.
diskette	diskil (–s, disklar), m.
email (system)	teldupost/ur (–s, –ar), m.
by email	við telduposti
Internet café	internetstov/a (–u, –ur), f.
Internet	internet (–s, ~), n., alnet (–s, ~), n.[n]
joystick	stýristong (–stangar, –stengur), f.
keyboard	knappaborð (–s, –0), n.
link	leinki (–s, –[r]), n.
mouse	mús (–ar, mýs), f.
printer	geislaprentar/i (–a, –ar), m.
program	forrit (–s, –0), n.
scanner	ljóslesar/i (–a, –ar), m.
screen	skígg/i (–ja, –jar), m.
search engine	leitil (–s, leitlar), m.
spam	fras (–0, ~), n.
to surf (the Internet)	surfa (–aði) í internetinum, vb.
USB disk, memory key	geym/i (–a, –ar), m.
webmaster	vevstjór/i (–a, –ar), m.
website	vevsíð/a (–u, –ur), f.
window	glugg/i (–a, –ar), m.
World Wide Web	heimsvev/ur (–s, ~), m.

The letter combinations dj, sj, skj, stj and tj

Track 106

You know already that the letter j is pronounced as 'y' in 'yesterday', but listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below where the letter j appears in combination with other consonants:

djór ('animal') Djurhuus
djúpur djarvur
sjógvur ('sea')
sjónvarp
sjóverkur sjálvur
skjótt
skjøldur ('shield')
skjúrta ('shirt')
regnskjól ('umbrella')
stjala ('steal')
stjúkbarn ('stepchild') stjóri ('boss')
stjørna
tjóð ('nation, people') tjúgu
tjúkkur ('thick')
vitjan

Lesistykki 1

Track 107

Serlig telefonnummur

Tænasta	Tel. nr.	Frágreiðing
Neyð og hjálp	112	Tørvar tær hjálp frá sløkkiliði, sjúkrabili ella løgreglu, ring so 112 - eitt-eitt-tvey.
Nummarkall	118	Á Nummarkalli finna vit adressur, telefon- og telefaksnummur um allan heim.
Tænastutelefon	80 80 80	Svarar øllum fyrispurningum um fjarskifti.
Fjarrit	80 90 22	Vit senda fjarrit í Føroyum, út í heim ella til skip.
Ólag	80 90 47	Her verður boðað frá einum og hvørjum ólagi, so sum at telefonin ikki virkar, útvarps- ella sjónvarpssendarin er í ólagi ella annað.
Veking	80 90 49	Til ber at biðja okkum um veking, og vit ringja til tykkara ta avtalaðu tíðina.
Avrokningin	80 80 82	Fyrispurningar viðvíkjandi telefonrokningini.
Klokkan	90 11 55	Klokkan er ein rødd, sum sigur heilt neyvt, hvussu nógv klokkan er.
I·net support	90 21 21	I·net support hjálpir tær við trupulleikum, tú hevur við internetinum, t.d. íbinding, loyniorði og heimasíðum.

Orðalýsingar

avrokning (–ar, –ar), f.	bill payment
avtalað/ur, past part.	arranged boða (–aði) frá, vb.	to report, notify
fjarskifti (–s, –[r]), n.	telecommunications
frágreiðing (–ar, –ar), f.	account, statement
fyrispurning/ur (–s, –ar), m.	inquiry
heim/ur (–s, –ar), m.	world
heimasíð/a (–u, –ur), f.	homepage
íbinding (–ar, –ar), f.	connection
loyniorð (–s, –0), n.	password
løgregl/a (–u, ~), f.	police
neyð (–ar, –ir), f.	trouble, problem
neyvt, adv.	exactly
ólag (–s, ~), n.	disorder
sjúkrabil/ur (–s, –ar), m.	ambulance
sløkkilið (–s, –0), n.	fire brigade
til ber at	it is possible
trupulleik/i (–a, –ar), m.	difficulty
tænast/a (–u, –ur), f.	service
veking (–ar, –ar), f.	[here:] wake-up call

Venjing 10: Spurningar

Which number should you dial if:

(a) you're having trouble getting onto the web?
(b) you need to send a telegram?
(c) you need someone's telephone number?
(d) you want to arrange an alarm call?

What service will you get if you dial:

(e) 80 90 47
(f) 90 11 55
(g) 80 80 82

Lesistykki 2

Track 108

Ring 1-2-2
EITT-EITT-TVEY

Sjúkrabilur 1-1-2	Sløkkilið 1-1-2	Politi 1-1-2

Ring 1-1-2

Legg IKKI hornið á aftur fyrr enn svarað verður.
Sig frá HVAT ið er hent, HVAR vanlukkustaðið er, HVØR tú ert og HVAÐAN tú ringir.
Legg ikki hornið á fyrr enn politisturin, tú tosar við, sigur farvæl.

Venjing 11: Spurningar

(a) According to the instructions, what two things must you do while making an emergency call?
(b) What four things must you tell the operator?

Lesistykki 3 (+ Venjing 12)

Read this text about chemists (pharmacies) in the Faroes, and fill in the missing words from the list below:

Í Føroyum hava apotekini fleiri (a)_____ (ymiskt til sjálvrøkt), ymiskt handa børnum, vørur innan vakurleikarøkt, luktilsi og heilivág. (b)_____ (Farmaseutar) útflýggja eisini heilivág eftir (c)_____ ella ávísing (sum lækni tín hevur givið tær).

Til børn

Nógv keypa blæur til børnini á apotekinum. Eisini er annað til børn at fáa har, tað er sovorðið sum blæukrem, (d)_____ (pinnar úr plastikki við bleytari bummull á endanum - at reinsa oyruni á barninum, til dømis), (e)_____ (at vaska barninum) og so framvegis.

Til hárið

Á apotekinum eru eisini ymiskar vørur til hárið. Til ber at keypa (f)_____ (at vaska hárið við) og hárlitingarevni. Til at seta hárið kanst tú keypa sjele ella (g)_____ (mousse). Hetta ber dám av klistri ella lím只 og ger, at hár títt fær ein ávísan form. Eisini ber til at keypa (h)_____, sum tú kanst greiða tær við, og (i)_____, sum fær hárið at liggja betur.

Sjálvrøkt

Rættiliga fitt er at velja ímillum, tá ið talan er um sjálvrøkt. So at siga allir føroyingar hava eina brúsu ella (j)_____, sum summi kalla brúsuna. Tískil er úrvalið stórt, tá ið talan er um brúsukrem og sápur. Eisini ber til at keypa neglasaksar og (k)_____ (at fíla neglinar við), umframt (l)_____, so tú kanst skrubba burtur turra húð undan iljunum og av hælunum. Til munnin kanst tú keypa tannbustir, tannkrem og tanntráð, sum er ein tráður, ið tú kanst brúka at reinsa ímillum tenninar við. Mann kann eisini keypa andlits- og kropskrem, (m)_____ (móti turrari húð), sápu og deodorant. Annað, sum eisini er at fáa, er (n)_____, sum tú kanst raka hár av øllum kroppinum við og barberskúm. Eisini er ymiskt til kvinnuna, tá ið talan er um sjálvrøkt, t.e. slíkt sum tampongir og mánasjúkubind.

(o)_____ (meyk upp)

Vilt tú hava fatur í (p)_____ ella smyrsli (meyk upp), so ber til at fáa smyrsl at koyra rundan um eyguni ((q)_____), eygnalit (maskara) og eygnaskugga, sum er ein litur, at koyra á eygnalokini. Tú kanst eisini keypa (r)_____ (eitt krem at koyra á andlitið, so tað verður slætt), (s)_____, sum ger, at kinnarnar fáa ein reyðan dám, (t)_____, sum tað vanliga verður rópt í talumáli og varraglans, sum fær varrarnar at skína. Til neglinar er (u)_____.

Heilivágur

Tá tú fert á apotekið, skalt tú minnast til at taka eitt nummar og bíða, til nummarið hjá tær verður rópt upp. Gev (v)_____ reseptina, og so fært tú tað, sum tær tørvar. Í summum londum ber til at keypa sterkan heilivág, til dømis (w)_____, men hetta ber ikki til í Føroyum, tí tað er ein lóg móti at útflýggja slíkan heilivág uttan resept, sum (x)_____ hevur givið tær.

(1) antibiotika
(2) apotekaranum
(3) barnalappar
(4) eygnablýant
(5) hárbustir og kambar
(6) hárklemmur og spenni
(7) Heilivágsgerar
(8) húðkrem
(9) kinnareytt
(10) kosmetikki
(11) læknin
(12) neglafílur
(13) neglalakk
(14) oyrapinnar
(15) pimpstein
(16) puturundirlag
(17) rakigreiður
(18) reinførisvørur
(19) resept
(20) sjampo og hárbalsam
(21) skúm
(22) Smyrsl
(23) stoytibað
(24) varralit ella lepastift

Orðatøk

Track 109

Ein sunn sál í einum sunnum likami
'A healthy mind in a healthy body', 'Mens sana in corpore sano'

Eingin kennir mein í annans bein
'No one knows how another person feels'
Lit.: no one feels pain in another person's bone

Orðalýsingar

likam (–s, –0), n. body mein (–s, –0), n. pain, sickness
sál (–ar, –ir), f. soul
sunn/ur, adj. healthy

Veitst tú at...?

Like all of the Nordic nations (Norðurlond), the Faroe Islands is an extensively developed welfare society (vælferðarsamfelag). The health service (heilsuverk), social security (almannaverk) and education system (útbúgvingarskipan) are all the responsibility of the State. There is free access to education at all levels, and the population of the Faroes is educated to a high standard. In addition to primary and secondary schools, there are a number of higher education institutions (útbúgvingarstovnur) for teaching and research (gransking), including a small university (Fróðskaparsetur Føroya). Health care is among the best available in the world. There are three hospitals (sjúkrahús) with good facilities: one on Suðuroy, one on Streymoy and one on Borðoy. If there is an emergency, there are ambulances (sjúkrabilar) or a helicopter (tyrla) to transport patients. If specialist care (serrøkt) is required that is not available on the Faroes, the patient (sjúklingur) is flown to a neighbouring country for treatment. Life expectancy for women is 81-82 years and for men 77 years. The population is cared for from cradle to grave with financial assistance in cases of hardship (neyð), unemployment (arbeiðsloysi), disability (meinkan or brek), pensions (pensjónir) and so on. Unemployment is currently low, but with an economy so dependent on just one sector – fishing – this can change at any time. All this welfare is paid for by taxes (skattir) raised in the islands, for example through income tax (inntøkuskattur) or Value Added Tax (MVG), as well as by the block grant (blokkstuðul) paid by the Danish state to the Faroese government each year (although this grant is being rapidly phased out).

11 Bara tú hevur minst til at taka dósaopnaran við!

Track 110

As long as you've remembered to bring the can-opener!

In this unit you will learn about:

- prepositions that take the accusative and genitive cases
- the past participle and the supine
- the present perfect
- birdlife
- indefinite and negative pronouns
- apologising
- places to stay
- the letter g

Samrøða 1

Track 111

CLAIRE: Steðga bilinum!
JÓGVAN: Ha?
CLAIRE: Steðga bilinum!

Jógvan steðgar bilinum og Claire fer úr.

JÓGVAN: Hvat feilar? Ert tú sjúk?
CLAIRE: Nei, nei. Eg havi tað fínt. Noyðist bara at taka eitt bílæt – tað er so pent her!
JÓGVAN: Ja, handa bygdin har, tað er Funningur.
CLAIRE: Ótrúligt! Hvat er tað, sum veksur í hasum fýrkantunum?
PÁLL: Eplir. Tey grava flagið omanav, koyra tvær skeiðir av salpetri á og leggja so eplini á og bøkkarnar yvir aftur eplini.

Funningur

CLAIRE: Og hvussu eitur hatta fjallið har yviri?
LENA: Hatta er Slættaratindur. Tað er hægsta fjall í Føroyum.
JÓGVAN: Vit skulu fara upp á toppin í morgin. Nú haldi eg, at tú skalt koma inn aftur í bilin. Vegurin her er smalur, og vit standa fyri, um onkur annar bilur kemur.

Tey fara inn aftur í bilin og koyra víðari. Tíggju minuttir seinni koma tey til eitt gistingarhús. Stjórin heilsar teimum.

STJÓRIN: Góðan dagin.
JÓGVAN: Hey. Eg eiti Jógvan Jákupsson. Eg havi bílagt eitt kamar til fýra.
STJÓRIN: So er. Tit verða her til sunnudagin.
JÓGVAN: Passar.
STJÓRIN: Vit hava gjørt fýra koyggjur klárar í Roykstovuni á aðru hædd.
PÁLL: Er nakar morgunmatur í morgin?
STJÓRIN: Eyðvitað. Hann er ímillum 7 og 9.
LENA: Og hvar er vesið?
STJÓRIN: Á aðru hædd hava tit eitt felagsvesi. Tað er ovast uppi.
PÁLL: Og døguröi? Hava tit døguröa?
STJÓRIN: Nei. Men tit kunnu brúka gestakøkin á niðastu hædd, tá ið tit hava hug.
JÓGVAN: Hugsa ikki um hatta, Páll. Eg havi keypt nógvan mat, so tað er nóg mikið at eta.
PÁLL: Bara tú hevur minst til at taka dósaopnaran við!

Orðalýsingar

bara, adv. only; as long as bílæt (–s, bíløt), n. picture
bøkk/ur (–s, –ar), m. lump of earth, mound dósaopnar/i (–a,–ar), m. can-opener eyðvitað, adv. of course
felags–, prefix communal, common flag (–s, fløg), n. grass sod fýrkant/ur (–s, –ar), m. square gera klára(n), irr. vb. to prepare gestakøk/ur (–s, –ar), m. guest kitchen gistingarhús (–0, –0), n. guesthouse grava, st. vb. to dig hædd (–ar, –ir), f. floor, storey hava hug til, irr. vb. to feel like, want heilsa (–aði), vb. to greet hugsa (–aði) um, vb. to think about kamar (–s, kømur), n. (small) room
koyggj/a (–u, –ur), f. bed in an alcove koyra (–di) á, vb. to chuck over minnast (mintist), vb. to remember niðast/ur, adj. [here:] ground nóg mikið enough, plenty noyðast (noyddist), vb. to have to omanav, adv. up, off (from the surface)
ovast uppi, adv. at the top passa (–aði), vb. to be correct pen/ur, adj. pretty; nice roykstov/a (–u, –ur), f. front room containing the hearth salpetur (–s, ~), n. saltpetre skeið (–ar, –ir), f. spoon smal/ur, adj. narrow standa fyri, st. vb. to block steðga (–aði) + dat., vb. to stop stjór/i (–a, –ar), m. manager
topp/ur (tops, –ar), m. top
vaksa, st. vb. to grow
vesi (–s, –0), n. WC, toilet
víðari, adv. further, onwards

Venjing 1: Spurningar

(a) Hví vil Claire, at Jógvan skal steðga bilinum?
(b) Hvat grønmeti velta ['grow'] funningsmenn í bønum?
(c) Hvar hevur Jógvan bílagt eitt kamar?
(d) Nær kann mann eta morgunmat?
(e) Hvar kann mann gera døguröa?

Mállæra

Accommodation

There are several different types of accommodation in the Faroe Islands. You can stay at a hotel or guesthouse (hotell [-s, -0], n.; gistingarhús [-0, -0], n.), a youth hostel (vallaraheim [-s, -0], n.) or a campsite (tjaldingarplass [-0, -0], n.). Here are some useful words and phrases for booking accommodation:

Eru nøkur leys kømur?	Are there any vacancies?
Hvussu nógv kostar tað fyri eina nátt?	How much is it per night?
Eg ætli at bíleggja...	I would like to book...
Eg havi bílagt...	I have booked...
eitt einkultkamar	a single room
eitt dupultkamar	a double room
eitt felagskamar	a shared room
eina song	a bed
... í...	... for...
eina nátt	one night
tvær nætur	two nights
eina viku	a week
Eg vil hava eitt kamar við...	I would like a room with...
vesi	a WC, toilet
brúsu	a shower
sjónvarpi	a television
Er avsláttur fyri...?	Is there a reduction for...?
børn	children
studentar	students
Er morgunmatur íroknaður?	Is breakfast included?

Once you're at the hotel, you may need the following:

Hvar er...?	Where is...?
baðirúmið	the bathroom
lyftan	the lift, elevator
matsalurin	the dining-room
Nær er morgunmatur?	When is breakfast served?
Ber til at vaska klæði?	Is it possible to do some washing?
Kann eg brúka...?	May I use...?
telefonina	the telephone
køkin	the kitchen
faksið hjá tykkum	your fax machine
telduna hjá tykkum	your computer
Kann eg betala rokningina?	May I pay the bill?

Related vocabulary:

song (–ar, sengur), f.	bed	rúmtænast/a (–u, ~), f., room service, indecl.	room service
teppi (–s, –[r]), n.	blanket parkeringsplàss (–0, –0), n.	car-park	lak (–s, løk), n.	sheet
barnasong (–ar, –sengur), f.	cot	einkultsong (–ar, –sengur), f.	single bed dupultsong (–ar, –sengur), f.	double bed	kuffert (–s, –0), n.	suitcase lykil (–s, lyklar), m.	key	útsýni (–s, –[r]), n.	view
kodd/i (–a, –ar), m.	pillow
kamarsnummar (–s, –nummur), n.	room number

Phrases for camping:

Er nakað tjaldingarplàss í nánd?	Is there a campsite nearby?
Er loyvt at tjalda her?	Are you allowed to camp here?

And some words:

ryggsekk/ur (–jar, –ir), m.	backpack	sovipos/i (–a, –ar), m.	sleeping bag
kumpass (–ar, –ir), f.	compass	ovn/ur (–s, –ar), m.	stove
lykt (–ar, –ir), f.	lashlight	tjald (–s, tjøld), n.	tent
gasspatrón (–ar, –ir), f.	gas cylinder	tjaldhælir, m. pl.	tent pegs felliknív/ur (–s, –ar), m.	penknife	lykt (–ar, –ir), f.	torch ryggsekk/ur (–jar, –ir), m.	rucksack	vatnfløsk/a (–u, –ur), f.	water bottle

Venjing 2: Booking a room

You are booking a room at a guesthouse on Sandoy. Complete the dialogue below in Faroese:

A: Halló. Tað er Anna.
B: Say hello and that you would like to book a room.
A: Gaman í. Nær ætlar tú tær at koma?
B: Say on Tuesday.
A: Hvussu leingi ætlar tú tær at vera her?
B: Say three nights.
A: Vilt tú hava eitt einkult- ella eitt dupultkamar?
B: Ask for a double room with a television.
A: Tað er einki problem. Hvussu eitur tú?
B: Give your name and ask whether they serve dinner.
A: Nei, tað gera vit ikki, men ein góð matstova er í bygdini, har ið mann kann keypa døgurða.
B: Say thank you and see you next week.
A: Farvæl.

Venjing 3: Arriving at a hotel

You (A) have arrived in at Hotell Turist in Tórshavn and are greeted by the receptionist (B). Complete the dialogue below in Faroese:

A: Say hello.
B: Góðan dag! Kann eg hjálpa tær?
A: Say you have booked a double room for three nights.
B: Hvussu eitur tú?
A: Tell the receptionist.
B: Aah, ja, her ert tú. Vit hava gjørt eitt dupultkamar klárt á aðru hædd.
A: Ask whether there is a view.
B: Ja, tað er útsýni yvir Havnina og til Nólsoyar.
A: Ask what time breakfast is served.
B: Hann er ímillum 6:30 og 10. Her er lykilin hjá tær, kamar nummar 22.
A: Ask whether there is a lift (elevator).
B: Nei, tíverri. Trappurnar eru har. Eg kann hjálpa tær við bagasjuni, vissi tú vilt.
A: Say it's okay, thank you.
B: Ger so væl.

Prepositions that take the accusative and the genitive cases [§8.1.4-8.1.6]

You will remember that the genitive case is largely defunct in Faroese. However, there are three important prepositions that can sometimes take the genitive case, but they usually take the accusative. The prepositions in question are:

- til 'to'
- (í)millum 'between'
- vegna 'on account of'

Rules of thumb for when to use the genitive or the accusative:

1. Preposition + personal pronoun
   (a) til + genitive — til hansara 'to him'
   (b) millum + genitive — okkara millum 'between us' (notice word order)
   (c) vegna + genitive — teirra vegna 'on account of them' (notice word order)

2. Preposition + noun in set expressions (and occasionally with place-names)
   (a) til + genitive — til dømis 'for example', til Íslands 'to Iceland'
   (b) millum + genitive — millum Onglands og Írlands 'between England and Ireland'

3. Preposition + noun (not set phrases) and most usually with place-names
   (a) til + accusative — til bygdina 'to the village', til Havnina 'to Tórshavn'
   (b) millum + accusative — millum føroyingarnar 'among the Faroese', ímillum Suðuroy og Sandoy 'between Suðuroy and Sandoy'
   (c) vegna + accusative — vegna veðrið 'on account of the weather'

Venjing 4: Genitive or accusative?

Choose the correct form of the nouns and pronouns in the sentences below:

(a) Viðurskiftini eru ímillum [land og kommunur / lands og kommuna]

(b) Smyril kann sigla ímillum [Suðuroy og Havnina / Suðuroyar og Havnar] upp á 1 t. og 40 min.

(c) Javnstøða millum [mannfólk og konufólk / mannfólks og konufólks]

(d) Umskylda – eg eri seinkaður vegna [ódnarveður / ódnarveðurs]

(e) Eg fari til [Havn / Havnar]

(f) Tað er ein lítil krisa [ímillum okkum / okkara ímillum]

(g) Luttakararnir koma úr øllum heiminum og [millum teir / millum teirra] eru tveir føroyingar

(h) Eg gjørdi tað [vegna hann / hansara vegna]

(i) Nær fert tú til [Ísland / Íslands] ?

Orðalýsingar

javnstøð/a (–u, ~), f. equality
kris/a (–u, –ur), f. crisis
luttakar/i (–a, –ar), m. participant seinkað/ur, past part. delayed viðurskifti (–s, –[r]), n. discussion

Samrøða 2

Track 112

Claire og Lena práta saman, meðan tær ganga frá Gjógv móti Slættaratindi.

Gjógv

LENA: Gongur tú nógv, Claire?
CLAIRE: Ja. Eg búgvi í Skotlandi, og har eru fleiri vøkur støð, sum mann kann fara til gongu til. Vanliga eri eg eina viku ella báðar tvær í the Highlands hvørt summar.
LENA: Eg síggi, at tú ert í góðum gongustivlum!
CLAIRE: Ja. Tað er altíð gott at vera væl skøddur, tá ið tú gongur í fjøllunum.
LENA: Tað er heilt vist! Eg minnist einaferð, eg var í Nólsoy. Knappliga brendi hann á við vindi. Til alla lukku hevði eg eina eyka skipstroyggju, regnklæðir og vøttir í ryggsekkinum. Eg fann lívd aftan fyri ein stein í tríggjar tímar. Tá eg so einaferð kom aftur til bygdar, var ferjan farin.
CLAIRE: Hvat í Guds garði gjørdi tú so?
LENA: Pápabeiggi mín býr í Nólsoy, so eg yvirnáttaði hjá honum. Hann fór so við mær til Havnar við bátinum hjá sær morgunin eftir.

Gjógv

CLAIRE: Vart tú einsamøll?
LENA: Ja. Tað er steinbýtt, faktiskt, men oftani noyðist eg at fara niðan í fjøllini at henta mosa.
CLAIRE: At henta hvat?
LENA: Mosa. Eg lesi lívfrøði, biologi, altso, og havi áhuga fyri ymiskum mosasløgum í Føroyum.
CLAIRE: Ná, javel… Hvar heldur tú tað vera vakrast at ganga í fjøllunum í Føroyum?
LENA: Tað er ringt at siga. Mær dámar tað grýtuta lendið í Norðuroyggjum, tey steyrrættu bjørgini í Suðuroy, og Mykines, sum liggur har, fullkomiliga fyri seg sjálva.
CLAIRE: Hevur tú nakrantíð fyrr verið uppi á Slættaratindi?
LENA: Á ja. Fleiri ferðir. Ein kláran dag sært tú allar oyggjarnar av toppinum á Slættaratindi.
CLAIRE: Alletiders. Í dag er klárviðrað.
LENA: Tú skalt ikki kanna tær bitan, fyrr enn hann er svølgdur, Claire. Minst til, at tú kanst uppliva allar fýra árstíðirnar upp á ein dag í Føroyum, og tað er í minsta lagi tveir tímar eftir, til vit eru komnar niðaná.
CLAIRE: Tað er sum um tú órar okkurt, Lena.
LENA: Bara vit ansa eftir og ganga eftir varðunum, so er alt í lagi.
CLAIRE: Henda nógvar ólukkur í fjøllunum?
LENA: Nei, ikki so nógvar, men tað kemur fyri. Tað eru nógvar søgur um fólk, sum villast í mjørkanum…
CLAIRE: Lena! Nú gert tú meg bangna!
LENA: Nú skal eg siga tær eina søgu…

Orðalýsingar

aftan fyri + acc., prep. behind
alletiders, adj. indecl. great, super alt í lagi okay, fine, all right altso, adv. that is
ansa (–aði) eftir + dat., vb. to take care áhug/i (–a, –ar), m. interest
árstíð (–ar, –ir), f. season
bangin, adj. afraid
bát/ur (–s, –ar), m. boat
biologi (–ar, ~), f. biology
bit/i (–a, –ar), m. mouthful, bite
bjørg, n.pl. cliffs
brenna (brendi), vb. to come suddenly einaferð, adv. once
einsamall/ur, adj. alone
eyka, adj. indecl. extra, spare faktiskt, adv. actually finna, st. vb. to find fara til gongu, st. vb. to hike fullkomiliga, adv. completely fyri seg sjálvt alone
fyrr enn, conj. before gera + acc., irr. vb. to make someone gongustivl/i (–a, –ar), m. hiking boot grýtut/ur, adj. stony, rocky hava áhuga fyri + dat, irr. vb. to be interested in heilt, adv. completely henta (–aði), vb. to collect, gather
í minsta lagi, adv. at least javel, interj. yes kanna (–aði), vb. to examine klárviðrað, adj. (n. only) clear (of the weather)
knappliga, adv. suddenly koma fyri, st. vb. to occur, happen
lendi (–s, –[r]), n. country, (type of) land lívd (–ar, ~), f. cover, shelter
lívfrøði (–s, ~), f. biology meðan, conj. while mjørk/i (–a, ~), m. fog
mos/i (–a, –ar), m. moss
mosaslag (–s, –sløg), n. type of moss móti + dat., prep. towards nakrantíð fyrr, adv. ever (before) niðaná, adv. up
ólukk/a (–u, –ur), f. accident
óra (–di or –aði), vb. to have a premonition about, suspect práta (–aði), vb. to chat, talk regnklæðir, n. pl. rain-gear ring/ur, adj. [here:] difficult ryggsekk/ur (–jar, –ir), m. rucksack, backpack skipstroyggj/a (–u, –ur), f. thick type of jumper skødd/ur, adj. shod, wearing footgear søg/a (–u, –ur), f. story stein/ur (–s, –ar), m. rock steinbýtt/ur, adj. idiotic, stupid steyrrætt/ur, adj. sheer, rising straight up stað (–s, støð), n. place svølgd/ur, past part. swallowed til alla lukku, adv. luckily, fortunately tveir tímar eftir, adv. two hours later uppliva (–di), vb. to experience
vanliga, adv. usually
varð/i (–a, –ar), m. cairn (that marks a path)
villast (viltist), vb. to get lost, wander aimlessly viss/ur, adj. certain vøttur (vattar, –ir), m. glove, mitten
ymisk/ur, adj. different
yvirnátta (–aði), vb. to spend the night

Venjing 5: Composition

Vesturvarði outside Tórshavn

Retell Lena's story from Nólsoy in the third person singular. Begin 'Einaferð var Lena í Nólsoy og hentaði mosa…'

Mállæra

The past participle [§7.16]

The past participle is an adjective formed from a verb:

The written word	('write')
Everyone felt disappointed	('disappoint')
The plagiarised article	('plagiarise')

The past participle in Faroese is formed using suffixes. Classes 1-3 of the weak verbs have predictable patterns:

class	infinitive	preterite plural	past participle
1	skriva	skrivaðu	skrivaður
2	selja	seldu	seldur
2	flyta	fluttu	fluttur
3	døma	dømdu	dømdur
3	roykja	royktu	royktur
3	gleða	gleddu	gleddur

Class 4 of the weak verbs and strong verbs are a bit trickier and less predictable:

class	infinitive	preterite plural	past participle
4	rógva	róðu	rógvin strong	blíva	blivu	blivin
strong	bróta	brutu	brotin
strong	binda	bundu	bundin
strong	bera	bóru	borin
strong	síggja	sóu	sæddur
strong	sláa	slógu	sligin
strong	ganga	gingu	gingin

Not all verbs have a past participle form. There is, for example, no past participle of doyggja 'to die'; we use the adjective deyð/ur 'dead' instead (fuglurin er deyður 'the bird's dead'). As past participles are adjectives, they inflect according to the gender, number and case of the noun or pronoun they qualify:

Tú ert ógvuliga vælkomin! Og tit eru eisini vælkomnir!

To revise the inflection of adjectives, look at Units 3 and 5 (also the grammar book §4 and 7.16).

Venjing 6: Past participle

Give the past participles (in the m. nom. sg. form) of each of the following infinitives:

(a)	eta	(g)	koma	(m)	kenna
(b)	drekka	(h)	kalla	(n)	keypa
(c)	gera	(i)	brúka	(o)	skaða
(d)	ganga	(j)	selja	(p)	rógva
(e)	fara	(k)	spyrja	(q)	síggja
(f)	tosa	(l)	hyggja	(r)	hoyra

Venjing 7: Past participle

Complete the sentences below with the correct form of the past participle in brackets:

Ísurin var _____ (tiðnaður), tá ið eg vaknaði.
Bátarnir eru _____ (málaður).
Er brævið _____ (skrivaður) og _____ (sendur), ella bíðar tú til seinni?
Tann nýggja teldan er longu _____ (brotin).
Hjartað í mær er _____ (knúsaður)
Fílan er _____ (goymdur) á harðdiskinum.
Dreingirnir eru _____ (vónsvikin).
Kaffið stóð _____ (gjørdur) og klárt á borðinum.
Køkurnar vóru _____ (brendur) og smakkaðu ikki væl.
Elin og Maria vóru _____ (pøstur)
Tey eru ógvuliga _____ (hugtikin).

Orðalýsingar

brenna (brendi), vb.	to burn	knúsa (–ar, –ti), vb.	to break, crush
fíl/a (–u, –ur), f.	file	pøsa (–ti), vb.	to exhaust
goyma (–di), vb.	to save	tiðna (–aði), vb.	to melt harðdisk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	hard disk	til seinni, adv.	until later hugtaka, st. vb.	to fascinate, captivate	vónsvíkja, st. vb.	to disappoint

The supine

The supine is the form of the past participle used after the verb hava 'to have' in the formation of the perfect tenses and it is identical to the neuter nominative singular form of the past participle:

past participle		supine
skrivaður	>	skrivað
seldur	>	selt
fluttur	>	flutt
dømdur	>	dømdt
royktur	>	roykt
gleddur	>	glett
rógvin	>	rógvið or róð
blivin	>	blivið
brotin	>	brotið
bundin	>	bundið
borin	>	borið
sæddur	>	sæð, sætt
sligin	>	sligið
gingin	>	gingið

We need to use the supine when making the perfect tenses ('I have written', 'we have eaten', 'has she sent the letter yet?).

The present perfect [§7 (c), 7.13]

The present perfect describes an event that took place in the past, but where a link between this event and its significance for the present is established. It is used much as in English:

'I have been at work all day' ('which is why I am tired now')
'Have you done your homework yet?' ('or do you have to do it now?')

In English we construct the present perfect with the present tense of the verb 'to have' and the past participle. In Faroese, the perfect tense is constructed with:

- either the present form of the auxiliary verb hava + the supine
- or the present form of the auxiliary verb vera + past participle.

The rules for when to use hava + supine and when to use vera + past participle are laid out in the grammar book. In brief:

i. Any verb with an object takes hava + supine.
ii. Any verb that does not have an object, that does not express motion and that does not express a change of state takes hava + supine.
iii. Any verb that does not have an object and that expresses motion takes vera + past participle.
iv. Any verb that does not have an object and that expresses a change of state takes vera + past participle.

Look at the following sentences:

Eg havi skrivað eitt bræv 'I have written a letter' the verb (skriva) has an object (eitt bræv), so we use hava + supine (havi skrivað)

Hevur tú sovið væl? 'Have you slept well?' the verb (sova) has no object, and it express no motion or change of state, so we use hava + supine (hevur sovið)

Er hon farin til Norra? 'Has she gone to Norway?'
the verb (fara) has no object, but it does express motion, so we use vera + past particple (er farin)

Teir eru ikki vaknaðir 'They haven't woken up' the verb (vakna) has no object, but it does express a change of state, so we use vera + past particple (eru vaknaðir)

It is important to remember to inflect the past particple with the verb vera.

Venjing 8: Present perfect

Transform the sentences below into the present perfect. The first one has been done as an example for you.

(a) Eg fari til Havnar.
Eg eri farin til Havnar.

(b) Lesur tú teldubrøvini hjá tær í dag?

(c) Etur hann døgurða nú?

(d) Hví tosar tú ikki við meg?

(e) Eg drekki eitt glas av mjólk og so fari eg í song.

(f) Vit flyta borðið inn í stovuna.

(g) Flyta tey ikki til Japan?

(h) Keypir hann eina nýggja teldu?

(i) Tit eru í feriu í Ísrael.

(j) Hon blívur ikki fyrsti kvinnuligi løgmaður í Føroyum.

(k) Hentar hon mosa í Nólsoy?

(l) Pápabeiggi mín býr á Viðareiði.

(m) Roynir tú snorkling við Gjógv?

(n) Eg arbeiði á posthúsinum.

(o) Lærir tú føroyskt á universitetinum?

(p) Svevur hon her?

(q) Vit flúgva til Keypmannahavnar.

(r) Flogskiparin flýgur flogfarið til Keypmannahavnar.

Orðalýsingar

flogfar (–s, –før), n. aeroplane flogskipar/i (–a, –ar), m. pilot løgmaður (–mans, –menn), m. prime-minister of the Faroe Islands snorkling (–ar, ~), f. snorkling
stov/a (–u, –ur), f. living-room, den teld/a (–u, –ur), f. computer

Birdlife

There are more than 100 different species of birds on the Faroe Islands, so keep your eyes peeled when you are out walking and you may see one of the following:

álk/a (–u, –ur), f. razorbill, auk
bak/ur (–s, –ar), m. greater black-backed gull bládúgv/a (–u, –ur), f. rock dove
bókígð/a (–u, –ur), f. chaffinch
drunnhvít/i (–a, –ar), m. storm petrel
ennigul ont (antar, entur), f. widgeon
erla kongsdóttir (–dóttur, –døtur), f. white wagtail feigdarsveimar/i (–a, –ar), m. swift felliskrák/a (–u, –ur), f. rook
ferðafalk/ur (–s, –ar), m. peregrine falcon fiskiørn (–arnar, –ir), f. osprey fjallígð/a (–u, –ur), f. brambling fjallmurr/a (–u, –ur), f. dunlin
fjallvák/ur (–s, –ar), m. common buzzard flekkunáp/ur (–s, –ar), m. flycatcher
fransatern/a (–u, –ur), f. black-headed gull fulkubb/i (–a, –ar), m. little auk
garðljómar/i (–a, –ar), m. garden warbler
gjóð/ur (–s, –ar), m. osprey
gleð/a (–u, –ur), f. kite
grágás (–ar, –gæs), f. greylag goose gráspurv/ur (–s, –ar), m. sparrow
gráspæt/a (–u, –ur), f. grey-headed woodpecker
grýtissmyril (–s, –smyrlar), m. kestrel
havhest/ur (–s, –ar), m. fulmar
havørn (arnar, –ir), f. white-tailed eagle
hálssvørt gjør (–ar, –ir), f. black-tailed grebe herfugl/ur (–s, –ar), m. hoopoe íslandslomvig/i (–a, –ar), m. (short-beaked) guillemot kambsgjør (–ar, –ir), f. grebe

kjógv/i (–a, –ar), m.	skua
knubbsvan/ur (–s, –ir), m.	mute swan
kongaørn (–arnar, –ir), f.	golden eagle
krák/a (–u, –ur), f.	crow
krikkont (–antar, –entur), f.	common teal
kvørkveggj/a (–u, –ur), f.	blackbird
kyrrfugl/ur (–s, –ar), m.	kingfisher
likk/a (–u, –ur), f.	herring gull
lítil mýrisníp/a (–u, –ur), f.	jacksnipe
lomvig/i (–a, –ar), m.	guillemot
lógv (láar, láir), f.	golden plover
lóm/ur (–s, –ar), m.	diver
lund/i (–a, –ar), m.	puffin
mortítling/ur (–s, –ar), m.	wren
músagjóð/ur (–s, –ar), m.	tawny owl
músvák/ur (–s, –ar), m.	common buzzard
mýrisníp/a (–u, –ur), f.	snipe
mækjuglám/ur (–s, –ar), m.	bittern
náttkjarr/a (–u, –ur), f.	nightjar
nevfatt/i (–a, –ar), m.	avocet
orr/i (–a, –ar), m.	black grouse
óðinshan/i (–a, –ar), m.	redwing
ravn/ur (–s, –ar), m.	raven
rók/ur (–s, –ar), m.	jackdaw
ryt/a (–u, –ur), f.	kittiwake
sjógvhøn/a (–u, –ur), f.	coot
skarv/ur (–s, –ar), m.	cormorant
skógarorr/i (–a, –ar), m.	capercaillie
skúgv/ur (skúvs, –ar), m.	great skua
smyril (–s, smyrlar), m.	merlin
snjófugl/ur (–s, –ar), m.	snow bunting
spógv/i (–a, –ar), m.	whimbrel
spurvaheyk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	sparrow hawk
star/i (–a, –ar), m.	starling
stelk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	redshank
stórtít/a (–u, –ur), f.	great tit
sutlont (–antar, –entur), f.	gadwall
súl/a (–u, –ur), f.	gannet
sval/a (–u, –ur), f.	swallow
svan/ur (–s, –ir), m.	whooper swan
svartbak/ur (–s, –ar), m.	greater black-backed gull
teist/i (–a, –ar), m.	black guillemot
tern/a (–u, –ur), f.	tern
tjald/ur (–s, –ar), m.	oystercatcher
tjaldursgræling/ur (–s, –ar), m.	turnstone
toppont (–antar, –entur), f.	red-breasted merganser
trøllont (–antar, –entur), f.	tufted duck
ugl/a (–u, –ur), f.	owl
villdunn/a (–u, –ur), f.	mallard
víp/a (–u, –ur), f.	lapwing
æð/a (–u, –ur), f.	common eider
æðukong/ur (–s, –ar), m.	king eider
øshvít gás (–ar, gæs), f.	Canada goose

Gjógv

Samrøða 3

Track 113

Sunnudagur er. Claire bíður í forhøllini á gistingarhúsinum eftir hinum. Hon prátar við stjóran.

STJÓRIN: Hvussu hevur tær dámað at verið her? Alt ok?
CLAIRE: Jú, takk fyri. Bygdin er ógvuliga vøkur, og nógv vakurt at síggja beint við.
STJÓRIN: Hevur tú sætt nógv?
CLAIRE: Fríggjakvøldið vóru vit í bygdini og ótu nátturða. Í gjár fóru vit niðan á Slættaratind. Veðrið var av tí allarfagrasta allan dagin, og vit ótu matpakkan á tindinum. Í morgun fóru vit ein biltúr, eftir at vit høvdu etið morgunmat.
STJÓRIN: Hevur tú sætt Risan og Kellingina?

CLAIRE: Ja, tað var klárt í veðrinum í morgun, so vit sóu tey. Vit steðgaðu har, sum tær gomlu torvkráirnar eru.
STJÓRIN: Hevur tú sætt nógv av oyggjunum?
CLAIRE: Eg havi verið í Havn og Klaksvík fleiri ferðir fyrr. Í ár ætli eg mær at síggja so nógv sum til ber. Tíbetur havi eg fingið nakrar vinir, sum vísa mær runt, vísa mær støð, sum eg ikki havi sæð fyrr.

Jógvan, Páll og Lena koma niður ígjøgnum trappurnar.

JÓGVAN: Hey. Vit eru klár at fara. Ber til at orðna rokningina?
STJÓRIN: Eyðvitað. Tað verða tvær nætur fyri fýra folk. 1400 krónur, takk.
JÓGVAN: Her er gjaldskortið hjá mær.
STJÓRIN: Takk fyri. Og kvitteringin hjá tær. Vónandi var alt í lagi, meðan tit vóru her.
JÓGVAN, PÁLL, LENA & CLAIRE: Ja, takk fyri. Farvæl!
STJÓRIN: Farvæl.

PÁLL: Skulu vit ikki býta rokningina ímillum okkum?
JÓGVAN: Nei, hugsa ikki um tað. Eg bjóði.
PÁLL, CLAIRE & LENA: Takk fyri!
LENA: Tað er pent gjørt av tær.
CLAIRE: Vit bjóða tær ein døgurða í kvøld, tá ið vit koma aftur til Havnar.
PÁLL: Fínasta slag, Claire. Eg eri gorhungraður!
CLAIRE: Tú ert altíð svangur, Páll!

Orðalýsingar

allar-, prefix	of all, above all
allarfagrast/ur, adj.	most beautiful of all
bera til, st. vb.	to be possible
biltúr/ur (–s, –ar), m.	car trip, outing in a car
bjóða (–aði), vb.	to offer
eg bjóði	it's on me, it's my treat
býta (–ti), vb.	to divide fínasta slag	great, super
forhøll (–hallar, –hallir), f.	lobby
gorhungraður, adj.	starving hungry
kelling (–ar, –ar), f.	witch, hag
kvittering (–ar, –ar), f.	receipt
matpakk/i (–a, –ar), m.	packed lunch
náttur/ði (–a, –ar), m.	supper
orðna (–aði), vb.	to settle; straighten out
ris/i (–a, –ar), m.	giant
rokning (–ar, –ar), f.	bill
runt, adv.	around
svang/ur, adj.	hungry
tind/ur (–s, –ar), m.	summit, top, peak
tíbetur, adv.	fortunately
torvkrógv (–kráar, –kráir), f.	place for storing turf, a long low turf-stack
trapp/a (–u, –ur), f.	staircase
vísa (–ti) +dat., vb.	to show
vónandi, adv.	hopefully

Venjing 9: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Fríggjakvøldið ótu tey smurt breyð á hotellinum.
(b) Veðrið var ikki gott, tá ið tey fóru niðan á Slættaratind.
(c) Sunnudagin gjørdu tey einki.

(d) Claire trýr ikki, at hon fer at síggja nógv av Føroyum í ár.
(e) Tey ungu býta rokningina ímillum sín.
(f) Jógvan bjóðar øllum ein døgurða í Havn.
(g) Páll er ikki svangur.

Mállæra

Indefinite and negative pronouns [§6.8]

The indefinite and negative pronouns refer to someone or something unspecific; for example, 'anyone', 'someone', 'no one' and 'nothing'. See the list in the grammar book §6.8. Look carefully at the section dealing with the difference between onkur and nakar, and then complete the exercise below:

Venjing 10: Indefinite and negative pronouns

Translate the English word in brackets into Faroese:

Eg hoyri _____ (someone) við hurðina.
Ætlar _____ (anyone) sær at fara í bio?
Hvat gert tú sunnudagin? _____ (nothing).
Kann _____ (somebody) siga mær, hvussu høvuðstaðurin í Norra eitur?
Vilt tú ikki hava _____ (something) at eta?
Filmurin var á donskum, so eg skilti _____ (nothing), ið tey søgdu.
Eg eri keddur, av tí at _____ (nobody) mintist føðingardagin hjá mær.
_____ (Somebody) hevur etið greytin hjá mær.

Apologising

Saying sorry's never easy, but at least it's quite straightforward in Faroese! Here are some useful phrases:

umskylda	sorry
umskylda at eg...	sorry that I...
orsaka	sorry
orsaka at eg...	sorry that I...
orsaka meg	forgive me
tú mást orsaka meg	please excuse me

Possible replies include:

alt í lagi	it's all right
tað ger einki	it doesn't matter

The letter g

Track 114

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letter g:

ganga	geymi ('USB')	ótrúligt	eg
garður	leggja	hugnaligur	flag
galdandi	tíggju	song	og
goyggja	gjørt	venjing	nóg
gøta	koyggja	dagur	havi hug til
gistingarhús	bíleggja	vegur	meg
gingu	í gjár	sunnudagin	teg
gingin	hungraður	í lagi	seg
pápabeiggi	bílagt	vanliga	synagoga
umgirdur	felagsvesi	siga	pedagogur
gera	allarfagrastur	egg	biologi
gekk	vegna	liggur	baggasja

Lesistykki 1

Track 115

Hetta er tann óhugnaliga søgan, sum Lena fortaldi fyri Claire á veg niðan á Slættaratind.

"Einaferð fór ein ungur maður heim einsamallur eftir at hava verið saman við vinum sínum alt kvøldið. Hóast kvøld var, so var tað um summarið, og hann sá týðiliga gøtuna og fylgdi varðunum í skýmingini. Komin niðan á eggina, vendi hann og gekk eftir gøtuni longur fram og oman móti bygdini, har hann búði. Knappliga køvdi hann av við einari gandakendari, tjúkkari toku, og hann ætlaði vindin. Drongurin visti, at hann skuldi halda seg kúrran har hann var, og royna at ganga burtur frá tromini, men hann hoyrdi onkran rópa: 'Hjálp, hjálp! Eg eri vilstur! Eg eri her niðri. Gott í teg, hjálp mær!' Røddin var óhugnalig og undarlig. Hann visti ikki, um tað var maður ella kona. 'Hvar ert tú?' rópti hann. Aftur hoyrdi hann røddina: 'Hjálp, hjálp! Eg eri vilstur. Eg eri her niðri. Gott í teg, hjálp mær!' Varisliga gekk hann út á eggina og hugdi niður, men tokan var ov tjúkk, so hann sá hvørki fólk ella fæ. Sum hann snaraði sær á at fara yvir aftur á gøtuna, stóð hann andlit til andlits við ein risastóran mann. Svart hár hevði hann, eitt langt, fløkt skegg, hvassar tenn, reyð eygu og bara eitt bein undir sínum stóra, morreyða kroppi; og tað tóktist sum eldur stóð úr honom. Ein sjódregil! 'Uuuh' ýldi maðurin, men sjódregilin hevði longu fingið fatur á honum. Við sínum stóru, sterku ørmum trýsti hann mannin móti eggini. Maðurin royndi at berjast, men einki nyttaði. Hann datt niður og á sjógv og var burtur.

Tveir mánaðir eftir hetta gekk ein annar maður eftir teirri somu gøtuni. Hann var í haganum við hundinum og hugdi eftir seyði. Knappliga køvdi hann av við mjørka og hann ætlaði vindin. Varisliga fór maðurin burtur frá eggini, men sum við tí fyrra manninum, hoyrdi hann brádliga onkran, frá sær sjálvum, rópa: 'Hjálp! Hjálp. Eg eri vilstur. Eg eri her niðri. Gott í teg, hjálp mær!' Hundurin hjá manninum leyp yvir til eggina; nú stóð hann beint yvir av sjódreglinum, og hesin gjørdist so ræddur – teir ræðast bara hundar – at hann ýldi og eymkaði seg, leyp upp og datt á sjógv. Maðurin sá hesa skepnuna og visti, at hundurin hevði bjargað sær.

Eingin hevur síðani hetta gingið á gøtuni, uttan at hava ein stóran hund við…"

Orðalýsingar

á veg, adv.	on their way
andlit til andlits, adv.	face to face beint, adv.	directly
berjast (bardist), vb.	to fight
bjarga (–aði) + dat., vb.	to save
brádliga, adv.	suddenly
detta, st. vb.	to fall
egg (–jar, –jar), f.	cliff-top, top edge of a mountain wall
einki nyttaði	it was no use
eld/ur (–s, ~), m.	fire
eymka (–aði) seg, vb.	to wail
fáa fatur á + dat., st. vb.	to grab hold of fløktur, past part.	tangled
fortelja, irr. vb.	to tell
fylgja (fylgdi) + dat., vb.	to follow
fyrri, comp. adj.	first (of two), former
gandakend/ur, adj.	dark, mysterious, eery
gott í teg	please, do me a favour halda seg, st. vb.	to stay, remain
hóast, conj.	although
hyggja (hugdi), vb.	to look
hvass/ur, adj.	sharp
hvørki fólk ella fæ	[here:] nothing at all kropp/ur (–s, –ar), m.	body
kúrr/ur, adj.	still
køva (–di) av, vb.	to darken
leypa, st. vb.	to jump, leap
morreyð/ur, adj.	brownish, dark-brown
nytta (–aði), vb.	to be of use
óhugnalig/ur, adj.	unpleasant, creepy
ov, adv.	too
ræðast (ræddist), vb.	to be afraid
rædd/ur, adj.	afraid
risastór/ur, adj.	gigantic
rødd (raddar, –ir), f.	voice
rópa (–ar; –ti), vb.	to shout
royna (royndi), vb.	to try
sjódregil (–s, –dreglar), m.	sea-ghost
skegg (skegs, –0), n.	beard
skepn/a (–u, –ur), f.	creature
skýming (–ar, –ar), f.	twilight
snara (–aði) sær á, vb.	to turn around tjúkk/ur, vb.	thick
tykjast, irr. vb.	to seem, appear
trom (tramar, tremur), f.	edge (of a mountain)
trýsta (–ti), vb.	to push
týðiliga, adv.	clearly, distinctly
undarlig/ur, vb.	strange, weird
varisliga, adv.	carefully, cautiously
venda (vendi), vb.	to turn
hag/i (–a, –ar), m.	outfield, uncultivated pasture land
vilst/ur, adj.	lost, astray
vita, irr. vb.	to know
yvir av + dat., prep.	opposite
ýla (–di), vb.	to howl, bellow

Venjing 11: Spurningar

(a) Where was the young man going at the beginning of the story?
(b) What season was it?
(c) What suddenly happened to the weather?
(d) What could he hear?
(e) Describe the ghost-like figure that he met.
(f) What happened to the man?
(g) Who or what saved the second man in the story?
(h) Do people still use the path along the cliff-top?

Lesistykki 2

Track 116

Risi og Kelling

Norðan fyri bygdina á Eiði ytst í flógvanum, sum er millum Eysturoyar og Streymoyar, standa framman fyri landið tveir stórir drangar, sum kallast Risi og Kelling, hann ytri og hon innari landinum, og har er røtt sund ímillum teirra, tá ið kyrt er. Um hesar drangarnar er søgnin, at einusinni ætlaði Ísland at flytja Føroyar norður til sín og sendi tí ein stóran risa og konu hansara at fáa tær fluttar har norður. Tey komu bæði at tí ytsta berginum, sum kallast Eiðiskollur og er longst ímóti útnyrðingi. Risin varð standandi úti í sjónum, meðan kellingin fór upp á kollin at fatla byrðina, hann skuldi bera og skúgva hana fram á hann. Fyrsta tak, hon tók, var so fast, at »Ytri Kollur« skrædnaði frá; hon royndi tí at fáa fetilin fastan í einum øðrum stað á kollinum, men ikki vildi bera í lag hjá teimum; – grundvøllurin var fastur, og oyggjarnar ikki lættar at flytja. So er sagt, at enn stóð kelling uppi á kolli, tá ið dimmið tók at lætta; – tey ræddust dagin, og hon fór tí sum skjótast oman til risans, sum stóð í sjónum og bíðaði eftir henni; men ov leingi høvdu tey drálað, tí í sama bili, tey funnust undir kollinum og skuldu vaða leið sína norður aftur til Íslands, risin undan og kellingin aftaná, tá reis sól úr havi, og tey gjørdust tí bæði til steinar, og standa nú og líta ímóti Íslandi, men sleppa ongan veg.

Aðrir siga, at tey vóru send at fáa korn úr Føroyum, av tí kornneyð var heima í Íslandi; tað sæst, at kellingin hevur sum knýti ella posa á baki.

(slightly adapted from Hammershaimb 1891)

Orðalýsingar

bak (–s, bøk), n. back bera, st. vb. to carry bera í lag, st. vb. to succeed berg (–s, –0), n. cliff
byrð/i (–a, –ar), m. load
dimmi (–s, ~), n. gloom, darkness
drála (–aði), vb. to delay, dally
drang/ur (–s, –ar), m. high projecting rock in the sea einusinni, adv. = einaferð
enn, adv. still fast/ur, adj. firm, fixed fatla (–aði), vb. to tie a rope around something fetil (–s, fetlar), m. carrying strap flógv/i (–a, –ar), m. mouth of an inlet between two islands flytja, vb. = flyta framman fyri + acc., prep. in front of grundvøll/ur (–vallar, –ir), m. foundation heima, adv. at home; – see vera h.
í sama bili, adv. at the same moment knýti (–s, –[r]), n. bundle
koll/ur (kols, –ar), m. top
korn (–s, ~), n. grain
kornneyð (–ar, –ir), f. famine due to lack of grain kyrr/ur, adj. calm
lætt/ur, adj. easy, light leið (–ar, –ir), f. way, path líta, st. vb. to look longst, adv. furthest ov leingi, adv. too long pos/i (–a, –ar), m. sack, bag
rísa, st. vb. to rise
ris/i (–a, –ar), m. giant rødd/ur, adj. 'rowable', that can be rowed across skrædna (–aði) frá, vb. to fall off, be torn away skúgva (–aði), vb. to push, shove sleppa ongan veg, st.vb. to get nowhere sund (–s, –0), n. channel, strait, sound søgn (sagnar, sagnir), f. legend, fairy-tale tak (–s, tøk), n. hold, grip sum skjótast, adv. as quickly as possible útnyrðing/ur (–s,~), m. north-west vaða, st. vb. to wade vera heima, st. vb. [here:] to ravage; lit. to be at home ytst, adv. furthest out

Lesistykki 3

[+ Venjing 12]

Look at the following price-list for a luxurious hotel in the Faroe Islands, and then answer the questions.

Kamarsprísir
Einkultkamar	1.200,00 kr.
Dupultkamar	1.400,00 kr.
Svita	2.400,00 kr.
Brúðarsvita	5.500,00 kr.
Eyka uppreiðing	200,00 kr.
Børn undir 12 ár, ið sova saman við foreldrunum, búgva ókeypis.
Øll kømur eru útgjørd við sjónvarpi, útvarpi, telefon, buksupressu og baðirúmi við vesi.
Øll kømurini eru roykfrí.
Vikuskiftistilboð Øll kømur ÷ 40% Vikuskiftisprísirnir eru galdandi fríggjadag til mánadag.

(a) How much would a single room cost for one night beginning on a Wednesday?
(b) How much would a standard double room for two nights beginning on a Saturday cost?
(c) What would it cost for a 10-year-old child to sleep on a guest-bed in the same room as his/her parents?
(d) How much would two nights in the honeymoon suite cost?
(e) Is it possible to pay a subsidy for a room where you can smoke?
(f) What can be found in every room?

Orðatak

Track 117

Tú skalt ikki kanna tær bitan, fyrr enn hann er svølgdur
'Don't count your chickens before they've hatched'

Veitst tú at...

In the Faroe Islands, people tend to live in houses (hús) rather than flats or apartments (íbúðir). Homes are often very spacious. Downstairs (í neðra) is the hallway (dyr) where you can hang your coat on a peg (knaggi) and place your shoes in the rack (skóhill). The living-room or den (stova) is where to relax. Typically there will be the following items here: a sofa, an armchair (lenistólur), cushions (koddar), a coffee-table (sofaborð), a bookcase (reol), some shelves (hillar), a vase (vasi), a rug (teppi) or a carpet (gólvteppi), a television set (sjónvarpstól), radio (útvarpstól), a dvd-player (dvd-spælari) and a computer (telda). The kitchen (køkurin) has, of course, a sink (vask), a cooker (komfýrur), a fridge (køliskáp), a freezer (frystiskáp), and maybe a microwave (mikroovnur) and a dish-washer (uppvaskimaskina). There may also be a table with some chairs or stools. Upstairs (uppi á loftinum) is the bathroom (baðirúm) containing a toilet (vesi), a shower (brúsa) or bath-tub (baðikar), and a wash-basin (hondvask). There is probably a mirror (spegil) and a cupboard (skáp) for storing tannkrem, tannbustir, sápa, sjampo and so on. The bedroom (sovikamar) has a bed (song), a wardrobe (klædnaskáp), a chest of drawers (kommoda) and maybe a table (borð) by the bed.

Typical Faroese houses in Gjógv

Outside (uttanfyri) is the garage (garasja) or carport (bilskýli). The garden (havi or garður) is probably not that big, but it may contain a climbing-frame (klivstativ) or a swing (reiggja) for the children. Below the house is the cellar (kjallari), used for storage (goymsla). It is most likely here the family has their washing-machine (vaskimaskina) and tumble-dryer (turkitrumla).

12 Mál!

Goal!

Track 118

In this unit you will learn about:

- prepositions that take the accusative and the dative case
- the past perfect
- saying you are good or bad at something
- some adverbs indicating position and movement to and from
- hobbies
- sports
- the letter k

Samrøða 1

Track 119

Claire og Lena eru farnar ein túr í Viðarlundina. Meðan tær spáka, tosa tær um, hvat tær gera í frítíðini.*

CLAIRE: Hvat gert tú, tá ið tú hevur frí, Lena?
LENA: Mær dámar væl at vitja vinirnar og familjuna.
CLAIRE: Hevur tú nøkur frítíðarítriv?
LENA: Mær dámar væl at syngja. Einaferð um vikuna syngi eg í einum kóri. Hósdagar gangi eg eisini til dans.
CLAIRE: Ballett?
LENA: Nei, nei. Salsa.
CLAIRE: Spælir tú upp á nakað musikkinstrument?
LENA: Nei. Eg plagdi at ganga til violinspæl, tá ið eg var lítil, men eg vandi einki serliga nógv, so spælið varð ongantíð nakað líkinda spæl. Til endans so gavst eg. Hvussu við tær, Claire? Hvat gert tú í frítíðini?
CLAIRE: Eg eri fullkomiliga bitin av ítrótti. Eg elski at íðka og hyggja at ítrótti.
LENA: Álvara? Hvat spælir tú?
CLAIRE: Eg spæli á kvinnufótbóltsliðnum og á kurvabóltsliðnum á universitetinum. Eg spæli eisini regluliga tennis og badminton.
LENA: So ert tú helst kropsliga væl fyri!
CLAIRE: Eg renni fýra tímar um vikuna og eri fastur gestur í einum fitnesssentri.
LENA: Tú ljóðar, sum tú ert eitt yvirmenni! Hevur tú nøkur onnur frítíðarítriv umframt ítróttin?
CLAIRE: Mær dámar at ferðast, og eg lesi nógv.
LENA: Hvørjar bøkur lesur tú?
CLAIRE: Ha?
LENA: Hvat fyri bøkur lesur tú?
CLAIRE: Mest fagurbókmentir. Eg eri rættiliga bitin av krimisøgum. Beint nú royni eg meg við einari føroyskari skaldsøgu.
LENA: Hvussu eitur hon?

CLAIRE: 'Blíð er summarnátt á Føroyalandi.'
LENA: Oy ja, tað er ein rættiliga ræðandi bók. Sjálv havi eg ikki lisið hana kortini. Dámar tær at ganga í biograf?
CLAIRE: Ja, sjálvandi. Hvussu við tær?
LENA: Jú, men onkuntíð kann tað vera trupult at sleppa at síggja nakrar filmar her.
CLAIRE: Hvat meinar tú við?
LENA: Sært tú! Her eru ikki so nógvir biografar, og teir vísa ikki allar teir filmarnar, sum tú sært í útlondunum.
CLAIRE: Eru nógvir føroyskir filmar gjørdir?
LENA: Stuttfilmar, jú, til sjónvarpið og tveir ella tríggir longri filmar.
CLAIRE: Eg má royna at bera so í bandi, at eg síggi teir, meðan eg eri her.
LENA: Tú kanst læna fløgur á bókasavninum.
CLAIRE: Tað fari eg at gera.

* Viðarlundin, also known as Plantasjan 'the Plantation', is a park in Tórshavn with many birch, beech and spruce trees.

Orðalýsingar

álvara, adv.	seriously
badminton (–s, ~), n.	badminton
ballett (–ar, –ir), f.	ballet
beint nú, adv.	right now
bera í bandi, st. vb.	to set out, do, manage bitin av + dat., past part.	mad about
blíð/ur, adj.	mild, gentle
bókasavn (–s, –søvn), n.	library
fagurbókmentir, f. pl.	fiction
fast/ur, adj.	regular, permanent
ferðast (–aðist), vb.	to travel
fitnesssentur (–s, –0), n.	fitness centre
fløg/a (–u, –ur), f. = margfløg/a (–u, –ur), f.	[here:] DVD
frítíð (–ar, –ir), f.	spare time
frítíðarítrív (–s, –0), n.	hobby
fullkomiliga, adv.	completely
ganga í biograf, st. vb.	to go to the cinema, movies
ganga til dans, st. vb.	to go to dance lessons
ganga til violinspæl, st. vb.	to go to violin lessons
gest/ur (–s, –ir), m.	guest
gevast, st. vb.	to give up, stop
hava frí, irr. vb.	to have time off
hvussu við tær?	what about you?
hyggja (hugdi) at + dat.	to watch
íðka (–aði), vb.	to play, go in for (sport)
ítrótt/ur (–ar, –ir), *m.	sport, sports
kortini, adv.	nevertheless
kór (–s, –0), n.	choir
krimisøg/a (–u, –ur), f.	crime novel, thriller
kropsliga, adv.	physically
kurvaboltslið (–s, –0), n.	basketball team
kvinnufótboltslið (–s, –0), n.	women's football team
líkinda, adj. indecl.	good enough
ljóða (–aði), vb.	to sound
læna (–ti), vb.	to borrow
musikkinstrument (–s, –0), *n.	musical instrument
regluliga, adv.	regularly
renna (rendi), vb.	to run
ræðandi, adj. indecl.	scary
rættiliga, adv.	really
skaldsøg/a (–u, –ur), f.	novel
sleppa, st. vb.	to be able to
spáka (–aði), vb.	to stroll
spæl (–s, ~), n.	playing

* Also: ítrótt (–ar, –ir), f.
 Also: tónatól (–s, –0), n. and ljóðføri (–s, –[r]), n.

spæla (–di) upp á + acc.	to play (an instrument)
stuttfilm/ur (–s, –ar), m.	short film
summarnátt (–ar, –nætur), f.	summer night
tennis (–0, ~), n.	tennis
til endans, adv.	in the end
trupul, adj.	difficult
túr/ur (–s, –ar), m.	walk
umframt + acc.	in addition to
útland (–s, –lond), n.	foreign country
venja, irr. vb.	to practise
væl fyri	[here:] in good shape
yvirmenni (–s, –[r]), n.	superhuman

Venjing 1: Um Lenu – rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Hon dansar ballett.
(b) Hon hevur ongar vinir.
(c) Hon dugir væl at spæla violin.
(d) Hon hevur lisið bókina Blíð er summarnátt á Føroyalandi.
(e) Hon gongur ikki í biograf.

Venjing 2: Um Claire – rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Hon íðkar nógvan ítrótt.
(b) Hon spælir á fótbóltsliðnum á universitetinum.
(c) Henni dámar ikki at ferðast.
(d) Henni dámar at lesa.
(e) Hon lesur eina bók á føroyskum.
(f) Hon hevur sæð nógvar føroyskar filmar.
(g) Hon ætlar sær at keypa nakrar margfløgur við føroyskum filmum.

Mállæra

Let's talk sports

To ask someone whether she likes sports, we can say dámar tær ítrótt? Remember that the thing liked (ítróttur here), is in the accusative case (ítrótt). So the answer might be mær dámar kurvabólt 'I like basketball', where kurvabólt is the accusative of kurvabóltur. Here are some types of sports (ítróttargreinar, f. pl.):

badminton (–s, ~), n.	badminton	kappróður (–s, ~), m.	rowing bogaskjóting (–ar, ~), f.	archery	kaving (–ar, ~), f.	diving borðtennis (–0, ~), n.	table tennis	krikket (–s, ~), n..	cricket glím/a (–u, ~), f.	wrestling	kurvabólt/ur (–s, ~), m.	basketball hornabólt/ur (–s, ~), m.	baseball	nevaleik/ur (–s, ~), m.	boxing fimleik/ur (–s, –ir), m.	gymnastics	rógving (–ar, ~), f.	rowing flogbólt/ur (–s, ~), m.	volleyball	rugby (–s, ~), n.	rugby fótbólt/ur (–s, ~), m.	football, soccer	súkkling (–ar, ~), f.	cycling golf (–s, ~), n.	golf	svimjing (–ar, ~), f.	swimming handbólt/ur (–s, ~), m.	handball	tennis (–0, ~), n.	tennis
hokki (–s, ~), n.	hockey	vatnítrótt/ur (–ar, –ar), m.	water sports

Venjing 3: Sport

How would you say:

'I like…(a) archery, (b) rowing, (c) basketball, (d) tennis, (e) American football'?

Further phrases and words:

Eg spæli…	I play…
…eina ferð um vikuna	…once a week
…tvær ferðir um vikuna	…twice a week
…oftani	…often

íðka (–aði) ítrótt, vb.	to play sports	venja, irr. vb.	to practise
trena (–aði), vb.	to train	øva (–aði), vb.	to practise

Venjing 4: Sports

How would you say:

(a) I play badminton twice a week.
(b) I train often.
(c) I don't play sports.
(d) I practise once a week.

More vocabulary to do with sports:

bólt/ur (–s, –ar), m.	ball	kettjar/i (–a, –ar), m.	racket
dómar/i (–a, –ar), m.	referee	kondiskógv/ur (–skós, –ar), m.	trainer, sneaker endaleik/ur (–s, –ir), m.	final	kvartfinal/a (–u, –ur), f.	quarter-final final/a (–u, –ur), f.	final	medalj/a (–u, –ur), f.	medal fitnesssentur (–s, –0), n.	fitness centre	semifinal/a (–u, –ur), f.	semi-final fjórðingsfinal/a (–u, –ur), f.	quarter-final	steyp (–s, –0), n.	cup, trophy fótbóltsvøll/ur (–vallar, –ir), m.	football pitch	svimjibrillur, f. pl.	swimming goggles fótbóltsskógv/ur (–skós, –ar), m.	football boot	svimjibuksur, f. pl.	swimming trunks hálvendaleik/ur (–s, –ir), m.	semi-final	svimjidrakt (–ar, –ir).	swim-suit hálvfinal/a (–u, –ur), f.	semi-final	svimjihøll (–hallar, –hallir)	swimming pool ítróttahøll (–hallar, –hallir)	sports hall	tennisvøll/ur (–vallar, –ir), m.	tennis court
ítróttarsentur (–s, –0), n.	sports centre
kapping (–ar, –ar), f.	competition

To ask someone whether s/he has a hobby, we can say hevur tú nøkur frítíðarítriv? The answer might be:

Mær dámar at…	I like to…
ferðast	travel
gera mat, matgera, kokkast	cook
lesa	read
mála	paint
savna frímerkir / myntir / postkort	collect stamps / coins / postcards
sigla	sail
sjoppa	shop
skriva	write
surfa á netinum, rógva út á netinum	surf the internet
súkkla	bicycle
syngja	sing
tekna	draw

Venjing 5: Hobbies and sporting activities

Write a few sentences in Faroese describing your hobbies and sporting activities.

Prepositions that take the accusative and dative case* [§8.3]

A number of prepositions can govern both the accusative and the dative case. The prepositions in question are:

á eftir fyri í undir við yvir

As far as á, í, undir and yvir are concerned, the rule is that they take the accusative when motion is indicated, and the dative when the meaning is static location or rest at a place:

Accusative (motion)	Dative (rest)
Hann gekk niðan á fjallið 'He walked up the mountain'	Hann er á fjallinum 'He is on the mountain'
Jóannes koyrdi vodka í glasið 'Jóannes put vodka into the glass'	Vodkaið er í glasinum 'The vodka is in the glass'
Kettan leyp undir borðið 'The cat jumped under the table'	Kettan svevur undir borðinum 'The cat's sleeping under the table'
Vit flugu yvir landið 'We flew over the country'	Tað liggur ein tjúkkur mjørki yvir landinum 'There's a thick fog over the country'

The prepositions eftir, fyri and við are not quite so straightforward.

Eftir: The accusative is used to mean 'according to' or with expressions of time. Otherwise the dative is used. See the grammar book §8.3.1.

Vit býta grindina eftir húsatali	We divide the whale according to the number of houses
Hann kom ikki heim eftir kríggið	He didn't come home after the war
Hundurin rennur eftir seyði	The dog is running after sheep

Fyri: The accusative is used with expressions of time, motion, and the dative in expressions of location (one thing 'in front of' another) and the time phrase meaning 'ago'. This preposition is tricky! See more examples in the grammar book §8.3.2.

Hatta hendi fyri seinna kríggj	That happened before the Second World War
Eg setti koppin fram fyri hann	I put the cup in front of him (the verb denotes motion)
Teitur spældi guitar og sang fyri kongi	Teitur played the guitar and sang before the king
Hann kom til Føroya fyri nógvum árum síðani	He came to the Faroes many years ago

Við: The accusative is used with expressions of location and direction, and the dative is used with instrumental expressions ('by means of'), the possessive, and the meaning '(together) with'. This preposition is also very tricky. See more examples in the grammar book §8.3.3.

Claire situr við kaffiborðið	Claire is sitting by the coffee table
Segði hon tað við teg?	Did she say that to you?
Vit gjalda við kekki	We pay by cheque
Gentan við longum hári og svørtum eygum	The girl with the long hair and the black eyes
Hevur tú hundin við tær?	Do you have the dog with you?

Venjing 6: Dative or accusative?

In the sentences below, put the words in brackets into the correct case:

(a) Eru børnini við (tú) ella við (mamma sín)?
(b) Kann eg betala við (kredittkort)?
(c) Hann kom fyri seks (dagar) síðani.
(d) Hann situr í (bíðihøllin).
(e) Eftir hansara (tykki) ert tú býttur.
(f) Vit løgdu okkum við (áin).
(g) Eg kenni hasa konuna við (brillur).
(h) Merkið varð ikki brúkt á almennum bygningum fyri (kríggið).
(i) Hann kastaði taskuna yvir um (múrurin).
(j) Hon fór inn á (skrivstovan) og byrjaði at rópa
(k) Kettan sat undir (borðið).
(l) Músin rann frá hurðini undir (borðið).
(m) Bílætið hongur yvir (spísistovuborðið).
(n) Tey giftu seg eftir (hjúnaskilnaðurin) hjá honum.

Orðalýsingar

almenn/ur, adj.	public	høn/a (–u, –ur), f.	hen
bíðihøll (–hallar, –hallir), f.	waiting-room	kríggj (krígs, –0), n.	war
bílæt (–s, bíløt), n.	picture	Merkið, n. sg. def.	Faroese flag bygning/ur (–s, –ar), m.	building	múr/ur (–s, –ar), m.	wall
hanga, st. vb.	to hang	task/a (–u, –ur), f.	bag
hjúnaskilnað/ur (–a, –ir), m.	divorce	tykki (–s, –[r]), n.	opinion

Samrøða 2

Track 120

Jákup, Kristin og Claire fáa sær døgurða.

JÁKUP: HB* spælir í morgin ímóti B36. Hevur tú hug at koma við at hyggja, Claire?
CLAIRE: Orsaka – hatta skilti eg ikki petti av!
JÁKUP: Fótbóltsliðið HB spælir ein kamp móti fótbóltsliðnum B36 í Gundadali í morgin seinnapartin. Tað er tann føroyska hálvfinalan. Hevur tú hug at koma við mær at hyggja at kampinum?
CLAIRE: Ja, sjálvandi! Tað hevði verið sum ein lítil grind.
JÁKUP: Kampurin byrjar klokkan trý seinnapartin. Helst verður tað ein góður dystur.
CLAIRE: Fótbóltur er væl umtóktur her, ha?
JÁKUP: Avgjørt. Tú fert at leggja merki til, at hvør einstøk føroysk bygd hevur tvey ting: eina kirkju og ein fótbóltsvøll. Tað sigur nakað um, hvussu stóran týdning fótbólturin hevur her!
KRISTIN: Ooo. Nú gert tú av, Jákup!
JÁKUP: Kanska eitt sindur, men líka síðani føroyska landsliðið* hevði eitt sindur av undanvindi í evropameistaraskapinum, hava fólk verið fótbóltsgalin!

Dagin eftir fara Jákup og Claire niðan í Gundadal.

CLAIRE: Fortel mær eitt sindur um ta føroysku fótbóltssøguna.
JÁKUP: Menn hava spælt fótbólt her frá seint í nítjandu øld. Tað fyrsta felagið varð stovnað í Suðuroy (TB), men tann fyrsti føroyameistaraskapurin var ikki, fyrr enn seinni heimsbardagi herjaði, tað var í 1942. Fótbóltssambandið var sett á stovn í 1979.

Havnar Bóltfelag playing against Tvøroyrar Bóltfelag (18 July 1909 in Tórshavn)

Nøkur fá ár eftir, eg haldi, tað var í -85, var tann fyrsti meistara-skapurin fyri kvinnur. Í 1988 fingu vit limaskap í FIFA og frá 1990 hava Føroyar verið limur í UEFA og hava luttikið í altjóða fótbólti. Tilsamans eru meira enn tjúgu fótbólts-feløg í Føroyum.

CLAIRE: Fantastiskt! Tú veitst eina rúgvu um fótbólt í Føroyum.

* HB er tað elsta fótbólts-felagið í Havn (stovnað 1904).

 B36 er eitt annað felag í Havn (stovnað 1936).

 Gundadalur er navnið á ítróttarvøllunum í Tórshavn.

* Føroyska landsliðið; on the lack of a prepositioned definite article here, see the grammar book §2. 3.

altjóða, adj. indecl.	international
avgjørt, adv.	definitely, absolutely
dyst/ur (–s, –ir), m.	match
einstak/ur, adj.	single
evrǫpameistaraskap/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	European championships
felag (–s, feløg), n.	club
fótbóltsgalin, adj.	football crazy
fótbóltslið (–s, –0), n.	football team
fótbóltssamband (–s, –bond), n.	football association
fótbóltssøg/a (–u, –ur), f.	history of football
gera av, irr. vb.	to exaggerate grind (–ar, –ir), f.	school of pilot whales *
heimsbardag/i (–a, –ar), m.	world war
herja (–aði), vb.	to rage, lay waste, ravage
kamp/ur (–s, –ar), m.	match
landslið (–s, –0), n.	national team
leggja merki til, irr. vb.	to notice
lim/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	member
limaskap/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	membership
líka síðani, conj.	ever since
luttaka, st. vb.	to take part, participate
petti (–s , –[r]), n.	(small) piece, bit
rúgv/a (–u, –ur), f.	load, pile, heap
seinni heimsbardagi	World War II
seta á stovn, st. vb.	to found, establish stovna (–aði), vb.	to establish týdning/ur (–s, –ar), m.	meaning, importance umtókt/ur, adj.	popular
undanvind/ur (–s, –ar), m.	[here:] success
øld (aldar, –ir), f.	century

Orðalýsingar

* Tað hevði verið sum ein lítil grind is an understated way of saying 'great', 'fantastic', 'yes, please!'

Mállæra

Saying you're good or not good at something

Use the phrase tað liggur væl fyri hjá mær at... to say you're good at doing something, and tað liggur ikki so væl fyri hjá mær to say you're not good at doing something. For example:

Tað liggur væl fyri hjá mær at spæla tennis	I'm good at playing tennis
Tað liggur ikki so væl fyri hjá mær at spæla upp á violin	I'm not good at playing the violin

Another way of saying this is:

Eg dugi væl at spæla tennis	I'm good at playing tennis
Eg dugi ikki at spæla upp á violin	I'm not good at playing the violin, I can't play the violin

To say you are really good at doing something, use one of the intensifiers we came across in Unit 10. For example:

Eg dugi ógvuliga væl at spæla tennis	I'm extremely good at tennis

Typical Faroese understatement can also be used here. For example, the sentence eg kann brúkast, tá ið tað ræður um at spæla tennis 'I can be used, when it is playing tennis that counts' can be interpreted as meaning the speaker is in fact an excellent tennis player!

Venjing 7: Being good at something

Here is a list of activities. Say whether or not you are good at doing them:

(a) tosa føroyskt
(b) mála
(c) spæla upp á violin
(d) kurvabóltur
(e) syngja
(f) dansa
(g) ballett
(h) skriva

Some adverbs indicating position and movement to and from

There are twelve special adverbs that have different forms depending on whether they express movement to, movement from or position. They are:

movement to a place	position at a place	movement from a place
aftur 'to the back'	afturi 'in the back'	aftan 'from the back' eystur 'to the east'	eysturi 'in the east'	eystan 'from the east'
hagar 'to there'	har 'there'	haðan(i) 'from there'
higar 'to here'	her 'here'	hiðan(i) 'from there'
heim 'homewards'	heima/heimi 'at home'	heiman 'from home'
inn 'inwards'	inni 'inside'	innan 'from inside'
niður 'downwards'	niðri 'down'	niðan 'up', 'from below'
norður 'to the north'	norðuri 'in the north'	norðan 'from the north'
suður 'to the south'	suðuri 'in the south'	sunnan 'from the south'
upp 'upwards'	uppi 'up'	oman 'down', 'from above'
út 'outwards'	úti 'outside'	uttan 'from outside'
vestur 'westwards'	vesturi 'in the west'	vestan 'from the west'

For example:

vit fara heim	we are going home (movement to a place)
hann situr heima	he's sitting at home (situation at a place)

Venjing 8: Adverbs

Choose the correct form of the adverb for each of the sentences below:

(a) Hon er ikki heim / heima / heiman.
(b) Sólin kom ikki upp / uppi / oman.
(c) Vit gingu niður / niðri / niðan á fjallið, heilt á toppin.
(d) Bygdin er har eystur / eysturi / eystan á oynni.
(e) Tey sigldu vestur / vesturi / vestan móti Mykinesi.
(f) Spæla børnini út / úti / uttan í garðinum?
(g) Kettan sprakk inn / inni / innan í bilin.
(h) Kom hann higar / her / hiðan í gjár?
(i) Gingu tey heim / heima / heiman frá ølstovuni?
(j) Bókin er hagar / har / haðan á borðinum.

Samrøða 3

Track 121

Claire fer á Kunningarstovuna fyri at finna út av, hvat hendir hesa vikuna í Havn.

KVINNA: Hvørjum kann eg hjálpa tær við?
CLAIRE: Eg hevði viljað fingið at vitað, hvat hendir hesa vikuna í Tórshavn.
KVINNA: Er tað nakað serligt, sum hevur tín áhuga?
CLAIRE: Mentanarlig tiltøk – sjónleikur og konsertir, serliga, men eisini útferðir.
KVINNA: Ein nýggj framsýning er latin upp í listagallarínum Focus í Grím Kambans gøtu.
CLAIRE: Hvør stillar út?
KVINNA: Ung listafólk úr Føroyum, Íslandi og Grønlandi. Um tær dámar list, so átti tú eisini at vitja niðan á Listasavn Føroya.
CLAIRE: Eg veit. Eg havi longu verið har.
KVINNA: Tað eru fleiri tónleikatiltøk við livandi tónleiki hósdagin, fríggjadagin og leygardagin. Á barrunum og klubbunum.
CLAIRE: Eru nakrar sjónleikaframførslur?
KVINNA: Dreymur jóansøkunátt.
CLAIRE: Oy, oy. Tann leikin havi eg longu sæð. Nakrar útferðir?
KVINNA: Sjálvandi. Ein stutt útferð við sluppini Norðlýsi, ella ein útferð við báti undir Vestmannabjørgini.
CLAIRE: Eg óttist fyri, at eg fái sjóverk.
KVINNA: Um so er, kunnu vit bjóða túrar við Bussleiðum til ymisk støð runt um í Føroyum. Hevur tú nakrantíð verið í Mykinesi? Vit kunnu bóka eina ferð fyri teg við tyrluni.
CLAIRE: Tað ljóðar spennandi, men faktiskt ætlaði eg bara at finna okkurt til dagin í morgin.
KVINNA: Ein ríðitúr, kanska? Tú kundi farið við rossi niðan í fjøllini kring um Havnina. Tú verður heilt vist bergtikin av landslagnum og útsýninum yvir strendurnar og oyggjarnar. Túrurin kann leggjast so til rættis, at hann passar serliga til tín.
CLAIRE: Hatta ljóðar fínt. Betri kann tað ikki vera!
KVINNA: Her er ein brosjura. Telefonnummarið stendur niðast, men vit kunnu eisini ringja til tey fyri teg.
CLAIRE: Tað nýtist ikki. Eg ringi sjálv seinni. Takk fyri hjálpina.
KVINNA: Einki at takka. Farvæl.
CLAIRE: Farvæl.

Orðalýsingar

bergtikin, past part.	spellbound
bóka (–aði), vb.	to book
brosjur/a (–u, –ur), f.	brochure
faktiskt, adv.	actually
finna út av, st. vb.	to find out
framsýning (–ar, –ar), f.	exhibition
henda (hendi), vb.	to happen
Kunningarstov/a (–u, –ur), f.	tourist information office
landslag (–s, –løg), n.	scenery, landscape
lata upp, st. vb.	to open
leggjast til rættis, st. vb.	to adapt, correct
leik/ur (–s, –ir), m.	play
list (–ar, –ir), f.	art
listafólk (–s, ~), n.	artist
listagallarí (–s, –0), n.	art gallery
livandi, adj. indecl.	live
mentanarlig/ur, adj.	cultural
nýtast (–tist), vb.	to be necessary
óttast (–aðist) fyri, vb.	to be afraid (of)
passa (–aði) til, vb.	to suit
ríðitúr/ur (–s, –ar), m.	riding trip, ride
ross (–0, –0), n.	horse
serlig/ur, adj.	special, particular
sjónleikaframførsl/a (–u, –ur), f.	theatre performance
sjóverk/ur (–s, –ir), m.	sea-sickness
slupp (–ar, –ir), f.	cutter-like sailing ship
stað (–s, støð), n.	place, spot
stilla (–aði) út, vb.	to exhibit
strond (strandar, strendur), f.	coast
stutt/ur, adj.	short
tiltak (–s, –tøk), n.	event
tónleikatiltak (–s, –tøk), n.	music event
tyrl/a (–u, –ur), f.	helicopter
útferð (–ar, –ir), f.	excursion
útsýni (–s, –[r]), n.	view
vist, adv.	certainly

Venjing 9: Spurningar

(a) Hví fer Claire á Kunningarstovuna?
(b) Hvat hevur hennara áhuga?
(c) Hvat kann mann síggja í listagallarínum?
(d) Eru nøkur tónleikatiltøk hesa vikuna?
(e) Hvat er Norðlýsi? Og hvat er Vestmannabjørgini?
(f) Hvussu kann Claire fara út í Mykines?
(g) Hvat fer Claire av at gera í morgin?

Mállæra

The past perfect [§7 (e)]

In the previous unit, we learnt about the present perfect. The past perfect has a similar structure, but indicates one event in the past in relation to another past event that is closer to the present.

'He had never seen a penguin before he went to the South Pole'
'When I got home, he still hadn't done his homework'

The tense is constructed using the preterite of the auxiliary verbs hava + the supine or vera + the past participle:

Hann hevði ikki sæð eina pingvin, fyrr enn hann fór til Suðurpólin Tá ið eg kom heim, hevði hann framvegis ikki gjørt leksiur Hann var longu farin avstað, tá ið hon kom heim
'He had already gone, when she got home'
Hon var ikki farin upp, tá ið eg fór til arbeiðis í morgun
'She hadn't got up, when I left for work this morning'

The letter k

Track 122

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letter k:

kunningarstova
kanska kvinna kurvabóltslið kropsligur krimisøga
skaldsøga
kortini
kunnu
Kristin
koma kampurin
klokkan
spáka
líka vika nakar musikkinstrument íðka
bøkur Jákup
orsaka líkinda
ikki merki kirkja
luttikið Mykines
bergtikin Kirkjubøur
kjak 'dispute'
Mikkjal
einki

Lesistykki 1

Track 112

Skemtisøgur 'jokes'

'Fantastiskt ár higartil', segði Jógvan. 'Føroyska landsliðið hevur ongan dyst tapt enn!'
'Hvussu nógvar dystir hava tit spælt?'
'Fyrsti dysturin er komandi sunnudag.'

'Er tað satt, at hasin spælarin fær meira í løn enn løgmaður?'
'Ja, men hann er eisini nógv betri.'

'Jógvan, hann dugir væl at spæla, men hann hevur tveir stórar feilir.'
'Hvørjar?'
'Beinini!'

Hanus er nú komin niðan á vøllin í Gundadali. Hann rættir ein 50-krónuseðil fram.
'Tað kostar hundrað krónur', segði vaktin.
'Eg veit. Men eg ætli mær bara at hyggja at HB.'

Lítli Magnus spurdi pápa sín, 'Hví spæla fótbólt aftur í ár? Eg skilji einki. Tit funnu jú útav í fjør, hvør var best!'

Orðalýsingar

enn, adv. still
feil/ur (–s, –ir), m. fault, mistake
higartil, adv. so far
í fjør, adv. last year komandi, adj. indecl. coming løn (–ar, –ir), f. wage, salary rætta (rætti) fram, vb. to hand sann/ur, adj. true
spælar/i (–a, –ar), m. player
tapa (–ti), vb. to lose
vakt (–ar, –ir), m. official

Lesistykki 2

Ríðitúrar á íslendskum rossi

Uppliva ta vøkru, føroysku náttúruna av hestabaki!

Fø-ross-Tours bjóðar ymiskar ríðitúrar í teirri einastandandi náttúruni kring um Havnina og í Streymoynni. Leiðvísararnir hjá okkum eru ógvuliga royndir og kunnu hjálpa tær at leggja ein spennandi túr til rættis. Túrarnir eru gjørdir eftir teimum ynskjum og royndum, sum viðskiftafólkini hava.
Til dømis:

"Tann stutti" fyri begynnarar – 2 tímar (220,- kr.) Túrurin gongur um fjallið til Velbastaðar.

"Tann longri" til tey framkomnu – allan dagin (450,- kr.) Túrurin gongur um fjallið til Syðradals, Velbastaðar og Kirkjubøar. Vit eta døguröa á Kirkjubøgarðinum.

"Tann langi" til teir royndu – 3 dagar (2.200,- kr.) Túrurin í Norðstreymoy varar 3 dagar. Gisting í Saksun, Tjørnuvík og Vestmanna.

Ringið og fáið meira at vita! Tlf. 98 76 54

Orðalýsingar

begynnar/i (–a, –ar), m. beginner
einastandandi, adj. indecl. unique framkomin, adj. intermediate, advanced hestabak (–s, –bøk), n. horse-back leggja til rættis, irr. vb. to put together leiðvísar/i (–a, –ar), m. guide roynd (–ar, –ir), f. experience roynd/ur, adj. experienced
uppliva (–di), vb. to experience
viðskiftafólk (–s, –0), n. customer
ynski (–s, –[r]), n. wish, desire

Venjing 10: Reading comprehension

The company can offer different types of trips depending on the customer's experience and wishes. Three examples of possible trips are given. Describe these three trips.

Lesistykki 3

Ein føroysk kjattsíða um ítrótt

Íðka tit nakran ítrótt?
Nakar ítróttur tit fáast við? Ella hava tit um ikki annað eina súkklu heima at traðka á innímillum? Spæla tit fótbólt við børnunum í garðinum?
Pætur, 27 ár, Sandavágur

Á rossbaki
Ja, eg eigi eitt ross, sum maður mín og eg bæði brúka. Eg fái undirvísing eina ferð um vikuna og ríði sjálv tvær ferðir um vikuna
Anna, 31 ár, Gøta

Súkklubýttur
Í vikuskiftinum súkkli eg umleið 80 km...
Jóannes, 19 ár, Klaksvík

Nei takk!
Royking er nokk tann størsti ítrótturin hjá mær!!! Ítróttur hevur ongantíð verið nakað fyri meg, og eg haldi, at eg klári meg fint uttan!!! ;-) Malan, 27 ár, Skálabotnur

Boksing, styrkitrening, fitness...
Eg elski ítrótt og dámi so væl at vera í formi og føla meg sterkan.
Símun, 20 ár, Tórshavn

Ja
Mær dámar væl at svimja, súkkla og renna, men eg íðki ikki liðítrótt. Mær nýtist at vera einsamøll innímillum, og eg brúki hesar løturnar fyri meg sjálva, mítt likam og mína sál. Deilig kensla aftaná. Eg føli meg úthvílda og friska.
Sanna, 42 ár, Tórshavn

JA JA!!!
Hvussu kann mann liva uttan ítrótt?!! Tað er so viktugt fyri kropp og sinn. Mann følir seg so væl, tá ið mann íðkar ítrótt. Øll skulu íðka ítrótt.
Mikkjal, 17 ár, Kollafjørður

Orðalýsingar

aftaná, adv. afterwards
brúka (–ti), vb. to use deilig/ur, adj. wonderful
einsamall/ur, adj. alone
fáast við, irr. vb. to have to do with frísk/ur, adj. fresh
føla (–di) seg, vb. to feel hvíld/ur, past part. relaxed í form in shape, fit
innímillum, adv. occasionally
kensl/a (–u, –ur), f. feeling kjattsíð/a (–u, –ur), f. chat-page klára (–aði) seg, vb. to get along kropp/ur (krops, –ar), m. body
liðítrótt/ur (–ar, –ir), m. team-sport
likam (–s, –0), n. body
løt/a (–u, –ur), f. moment nokk, adv. probably nýtast (nýttist), vb. to be needed
sál (–ar, –ir), f. soul
sinni (–s, –[r]), n. mind; mood, temper sterkur, adj. strong
styrkitrening (–ar, ~), f. body-building
traðka (–aði), vb. to tread, pedal umleið, adv. about
undirvísing (–ar, –ar), f. teaching, classes viktug/ur, adj. important

Venjing 11: Spurningar

(a) Hvønn ítrótt íðkar Anna?
(b) Hví íðkar Malan ongan ítrótt?
(c) Hví íðkar Símun ítrótt?
(d) Hvat halda Sanna og Mikkjal um ítrótt?
(e) Hvat hevði tú skrivað um teg sjálva(n) á kjattsíðuni.

Orðatøk

Track 124

Tað skal meiri til hestin enn bokslið
'Easier said than done'

Hann er sum sjey ára gamal hestur við mammu sína
'He is cold towards his relatives'

Hatta man vera, sum tá ið gamal hestur mussar mammu sína
'That must be the kiss of Judas'

Orðalýsingar

boksl (–s, –0), n. bit, bridle
mussa (–aði), vb. to kiss
hest/ur (–s, –ar), m. horse

Veitst tú at...?

Rowing competition on ólavsøka

Although football is the national craze in the Faroe Islands, rowing (kappróður) is another important sport that rouses the passions of the islanders! Indeed, it could probably be called the national sport of the Faroe Islands (tjóðarítrótt Føroya). Rowing is a summer sport (summarítróttur) and both men and women take part in competitions (luttaka í kappróðrinum). On the national holiday (ólavsøka, tann 28.–29. juli) teams from all over the islands compete in the national finals in Tórshavn harbour. There are always many spectators (áskoðarar) and it is an event not to be missed.

13 Hann er rættiligur tjóðskaparmaður

Track 125

He's a real nationalist

In this unit you will learn about:

- the passive voice
- expressing surprise
- the verbs: teinkja, hugsa, halda, meina and ætla
- irregular nouns
- Faroese history
- the letter combinations sj, sk and skj

Samrøða 1

Track 126

Claire og Jógvan ganga oman eftir Niels Finsensgøtu. Tey skulu hitta beiggja Jógvan, Páll og gentuna hjá honum, Lenu, á einari kaffistovu. Sum tey ganga, spyr Claire Jógvan um søguna hjá Føroyum.

CLAIRE: Nær blivu Føroyar bygdar?

JÓGVAN: Tann elsta søgan er okkum ein gáta. Hildið verður, at írskir munkar settust niður her í sættu øld. Við sær høvdu teir seyð og havra.

CLAIRE: Hvussu komu teir higar?

JÓGVAN: Í smáum, rundum skinnbátum.

CLAIRE: Hvat er tað fyri nakað? Ein skinnbátur?

JÓGVAN: Ein lítil, rundur bátur gjørdur úr húðum, sum eru spentar yvir eina viðar-rammu. Tað verður sagt, at tann írski munkurin Brendan fór alla leiðina til Amerika í einum!

CLAIRE: Og teir høvdu seyð við í sovorðnum lítlum bátum?

JÓGVAN: Allarhelst, ja, men spyr ikki meg, hvussu! Eg eri ikki nakar fornfrøðingur! Tað er helst ein myta.

CLAIRE: Nær komu norðbúgvarnir?

JÓGVAN: Sambært søgnini, var Grímur Kamban fyrsti norðbúgvin, sum settist niður her fyrst í níggjundu øld. Víkingarnir tosaðu norrønt, og nútíðarføroyskt stavar frá norrønum, men nøkur orð í føroyskum eru úr gæliskum, nakað, sum vísir, at tætt samband má hava verið millum Føroyar og tey keltisku samfeløgini í Bretlandi.

CLAIRE: Hatta visti eg ikki! Hvørji orð eru úr gæliskum?

JÓGVAN: Staðarnøvn sum Mykines. Tað er gæliskt og merkir svínoyggin. Og Dímun, sum merkir tvífjall. Eisini dýranøvn sum dunna og nógv onnur, men spyr meg ikki hvørji! Jú, og so kamban í Grímur Kamban. Tað merkir 'tann halti'.

CLAIRE: Hvussu búleikaðust norðbúgvarnir her?

JÓGVAN: Teir vóru bøndur, høvdu seyð og handlaðu við Bretland og restina av Skandinavia. Teir vóru ikki víkingar!

CLAIRE: Vóru teir heidnir?

JÓGVAN: Ja, í fyrstuni, men í 999 blivu oyggjarnar kristnaðar.

CLAIRE: Vóru oyggjarnar sjálvstýrandi, ella blivu tær stýrdar úr einum øðrum landi?

JÓGVAN: Landnámsmenninir grundløgdu sítt egna parlament, sum teir kallaðu ting. Teir hittust á Tinganesi í Tórshavn, og har skiftu teir orð um lógirnar.

CLAIRE: Hvussu ber tað til, at Føroyar í dag hoyra til Danmark?

JÓGVAN: Tað er ein heldur fløkt søga. Í 12. og 13. øld fingu norskir kongar størri og størri vald yvir økjunum í Norðuratlantshavi, serliga Føroyum, Íslandi og Grønlandi. Tað endaði við, at londini komu undir norskt vald. Síðst í 14. øld bleiv Noreg eitt kongsríki í unión við Danmark, og sjálvt eftir at Danmark misti Noreg, hava Føroyar hoyrt til Danmark. Tað sama er galdandi fyri Grønland, og galt eisini fyri Ísland, men teir lýstu landið sjálvstøðugt í 1944.

CLAIRE: Hvat hendi so við Føroyum, eftir at tær komu undir danska stjórn?

JÓGVAN: Sært tú. Danir komu við trúbótini til Føroyar í 1538, og danskt bleiv umsitingar-, kirkju- og skúlamál. Eisini byrjaðu teir við einahandli. Tað merkti, at allur handil upp á Føroyar mátti um Danmark. Hetta vóru ringar tíðir fyri Føroyar.

CLAIRE: Men hvussu við nútíðini? Nær byrjaðu broytingarnar?

JÓGVAN: Fyrst í 19. øld tóktist alt ganga av skriðuni. Føroyar blivu eitt danskt amt í 1816. Tað førdi við sær, at løgtingið varð avtikið. Einahandilin var fram til 1856, men so byrjaði broyting at koma í. Fíggjarstøðan batnaði, sum fiskiskapurin tók dik á seg. Tann vaknandi tjóðskaparrørslan síðst í 19. øld førdi við sær framburð fyri mál og mentan landsins. Politiska støðan batnaði eisini, men Føroyar vóru støðugt eitt amt líka til 1948. Men, Claire, spyr heldur beiggja mín um hatta. Hann er rættiligur tjóðskaparmaður.

Orðalýsingar

allarhelst, adv. I suppose so amt (–s, –0), n. (Danish) county avtaka, st. vb. to dissolve batna (–aði), vb. to improve
bera til, st. vb. to be possible
bónd/i (–a, bøndur), m. farmer
broyting (–ar, –ar), f. change
búleikast (–aðist), vb. to live, get by bygd/ur, past part. inhabited bygg (bygs, ~), n. barley byggja (bygdi), vb. to inhabit dik (–s, –0), n. push, shove
dunn/a (–u, –ur), f. duck
dýranavn (–s, –nøvn), n. animal name
einahandil (–s, –handlar), m. trade monopoly enda (–aði) við, vb. to end up fiskiskap/ur (–s, ~), m. fishing (industry)
fíggjarstøð/a (–u, ~), f. economic situation fløkt/ur, adj. complicated fornfrøðing/ur (–s, –ar), m. archaeologist
framburð/ur (–ar, –ir), m. progress føra (–di) við sær, vb. to result in, lead to galda, st. vb. to hold good, apply galdandi, adj. indecl. valid, applicable ganga av skriðuni, st. vb. to go very badly gát/a (–u, –ur), f. riddle, mystery grundleggja, irr. vb. to establish gælisk/ur, adj. Gaelic
halda, st. vb. to think halt/ur, adj. who hobbles, limps handil (–s, handlar), m. trade, business handla (–aði), vb. to trade
heiðin, adj. heathen, pagan heldur, adv. somewhat; rather helst, adv. probably, most likely henda (hendi), vb. to happen hildin, past part. thought hitta (hitti), vb. to meet hoyra (–di) til, vb. to belong
húð (–ar, –ir), f. skin, hide
í fyrstuni, adv. at first keltisk/ur, adj. Celtic koma í, st. vb. occur, begin, arise kongsríki (–s, –[r]), n. kingdom
kristna (–aði), vb. to christianise kristnað/ur, past part. converted to Christianity landnámsmaður (–mans, –menn), m. settler líka, adv. [here:] right up lóg (–ar, –ir), f. law lýsa (–ti), vb. to declare

mentan (–ar, –ir), f. culture
merkja (merkti), vb. to mean missa (misti), vb. to lose
munk/ur (–s, –ar), m. monk
myta (–u, –ur), f. myth
norðbúgv/i (–a, –ar), m. Norseman Norðuratlantshav, n. North Atlantic norrøn/ur, adj. Norse
nútíð (–ar, –ir), f. present nútíðar–, prefix modern
orð (–s, –0), n. word
parlament (–s, –0), n. parliament politisk/ur, adj. political
ramm/a (–u, –ur), f. frame
rest (–ar, –ir), f. rest, remainder rund/ur, adj. round
rættilig/ur, adj. real, proper rørsl/a (–u, –ur), f. movement
samband (–s, –bond), n. connection sambært + dat., prep. according to samfelag (–s, –feløg), n. community serliga, adv. especially setast (settist) niður, vb. to settle seyð/ur (–ar, –ir), m. sheep
sjálvstýrandi, adj. indecl. autonomous sjálvstøðug/ur, adj. independent sjálvt, adv. even skifta (skifti) orð, vb. to discuss skinnbát/ur (–s, –ar), m. coracle
skrið/a (–u, –ur), f. landslide smá/ur, adj. small, little sovorðin, adj. such spenna (spenti), vb. to stretch spent/ur, past part. stretched staðarnavn (–s, –nøvn), n. place-name stava (–aði) frá + dat., vb. to evolve, originate from stjórn (–ar, –ir), f. administration, government stýra (–di), vb. to govern stýrd/ur, past part. governed støð/a (–u, –ur), f. situation støðugt, adv. still svín (–s, –0), n. pig søg/a (–u, –ur), f. history søgn (sagnar, sagnir), f. legend, tradition taka av, st. vb. to dissolve, do away with taka dik á seg, st. vb. to get going ting (–s, –0), n. assembly, 'thing' tjóðskap/ur (–s, –ir), m. nation tjóðskaparmaður (–mans, –menn), m. nationalist tjóðskaparrørsl/a (–u, –ur), f. nationalist movement
trúbót (–ar, –bøtur), f. (religious) reformation
tvífjall (–fjals, fjøll), n. 'double-mountain', mountain with two peaks tykjast, irr. vb. to seem tætt/ur, adj. close umsiting (–ar, ~), f. administration
unión (–ar, –ir), f. union
vaknandi, adj. indecl. awakening
vald (–s, ~), n. power, control
viðarramm/a (–u, –ur), f. wooden frame víking/ur (–s, –ar), m. viking vísa (–ti), vb. to show
øki (–s, –[r]), n. area
øld (aldar, –ir), f. century

Venjing 1: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Norðbúgvar vóru teir fyrstu, ið settust niður í Føroyum.
(b) Írskir munkar tóku seyð og bygg til Føroya.
(c) Ein skinnbátur er eitt stórt víkingaskip.
(d) Føroyska málið stavar frá máli hjá landnámsmonnunum.
(e) Keltarnir hava ikki sett spor eftir seg í Føroyum.
(f) Norðbúgvarnir í Føroyum vóru sjórænarar, ið livdu av at kríggjast og herja.
(g) Føroyar blivu kristnaðar í 999.
(h) Grønland og Ísland eru bæði sjálvstøðug lond.
(i) Danskt var leingi umsitingar-, kirkju- og skúlamál í Føroyum.
(j) Føroyar eru nú eitt danskt amt.

Orðalýsingar

herja (–aði), vb.	to plunder	sjórænar/i (–a, –ar), m.	pirate kríggjast (–aðist), vb.	to wage war	spor (–s, –0), n.	trace; clue
seta spor, irr. vb.	to leave a trace

Mállæra

The passive voice

Why did the chicken cross the road? → Why was the road crossed by the chicken?

The sentence 'why did the chicken cross the road?' is in the active voice. The agent (the one doing the crossing, that is 'the chicken') is the same as the subject of the verb ('the chicken'). However, if we say 'why was the road crossed by the chicken?', we'll notice that the subject of the verb (that is 'the road') is no longer identical with the agent ('the chicken'). The agent is also preceded by the agent marker 'by'.

The passive is often used when we do not want or are unable to identify the agent of a sentence:

When did the Celts? the vikings? the Danes? Martians? discover the Faroe Islands?
→ When were the Faroe Islands discovered?

There are two principal ways of constructing this type of sentence in Faroese: by using the indefinite pronoun mann, and by using a passive construction.

Mann

The most common method in spoken Faroese for avoiding identifying an agent is to use the indefinite pronoun mann:

Hví gekk mann yvir um gøtuna?	Why was the road crossed?
Kann mann keypa eplir her?	Is it possible to buy potatoes here?
Hvat kann mann gera um kvøldarnar?	What is there to do in the evenings?

Very often in English we use the pronoun 'you' (or 'we', 'they' or 'one') in this type of construction: 'Can you buy potatoes here?', 'What can you do in the evenings?', 'One is not amused', 'Do they speak Danish in Greenland?' This is also a possibility in Faroese, and indeed tú seems to be becoming as popular in colloquial Faroese as an indefinite pronoun as 'you' is in English:

Hvat kanst tú gera um kvøldarnar? What can you do in the evenings?

Venjing 2: Mann

Translate these sentences into Faroese using the pronoun mann:

(a) What can you do in Klaksvík during the winter?
(b) They eat a lot of fish in the Faroe Islands.
(c) We don't do that.
(d) You never know [translate as 'You can never know']
(e) Is it possible to sail to the Faroe Islands?

The passive construction [§7.19]

To construct the passive proper we use the auxiliary verb verða (or blíva) together with the past participle. The verb blíva is more common in spoken Faroese, whilst verða tends to be used more in the written language. Note that the cases change and the agent marker av is followed by the dative:

Active		Passive
Pætur selur manninum bilin	→	Bilurin verður seldur manninum
	→	Bilurin verður seldur manninum av Pæturi
	→	Bilurin blívur seldur manninum
	→	Bilurin blívur seldur manninum av Pæturi
Hon skrivaði brævið	→	Brævið varð skrivað
	→	Brævið varð skrivað av henni
	→	Brævið bleiv skrivað
	→	Brævið bleiv skrivað av henni
Vit keyptu telduna	→	Teldan varð keypt
	→	Teldan varð keypt av okkum
	→	Teldan bleiv keypt
	→	Teldan bleiv keypt av okkum
Anna hevur lisið bókina	→	Bókin er (vorðin) lisin
	→	Bókin er (vorðin) lisin av Onnu
	→	Bókin er (blivin) lisin
	→	Bókin er (blivin) lisin av Onnu

Venjing 3: Passive

Transform these sentences from the active into the passive voice (remember that the past participle is inflected!):

(a) Hann keypti henni troyggjuna.
(b) Útróðrarmaðurin málaði bátin.
(c) Vit senda løgmanni eitt bræv.
(d) Hevur tú bakað køkuna?
(e) Øll elskaðu ta nýggju fløguna hjá Pálli.
(f) Tey funnu billykilin.
(g) Írskir munkar bygdu Føroyar í sættu øld.
(h) Eitt annað land stýrir Grønlandi.
(i) Hann betalir ikki rokningina.

Vera + past participle

Not all occurrences in English of the construction 'to be' + past participle are actual passives. Sometimes they describe a state rather than an action. In these cases, the Faroese equivalent is constructed with the auxiliary verb vera + past participle. A rule of thumb: if the English phrase makes sense with 'to be being' + past participle, then use verða or blíva as it is passive. If the 'to be being' form is impossible, use vera:

'The house was demolished' can mean:

(a) 'When I got home, the house was demolished' (state; it had already been demolished) = Húsini vóru rivin niður
(a) 'When I got home, the house was being demolished' (action) = Húsini vórðu rivin niður / Húsini blivu rivin niður

Venjing 4: Verða / blíva or vera?

Choose whether the sentence should be with verða / blíva or vera. The English translations should help you:

(a) 'The car was being driven by a monkey!'
  (i) Bilurin varð / bleiv koyrdur av einari apu!
  (ii) Bilurun var koyrdur av einari apu!

(b) 'The house is 200 years old and made of stone'
  (i) Húsini eru 200 ára gomul og verða / blíva bygd av steini
  (ii) Húsini eru 200 ára gomul og eru bygd av steini

(c) 'The cup is broken'
  (i) Koppurin fer í sor
  (ii) Koppurin er farin í sor

(d) 'I was run over by a car and my leg was broken'
  (i) Eg varð / bleiv yvirkoyrdur av einum bili og breyt annað beinið
  (ii) Eg var yvirkoyrdur av einum bili og breyt annað beinið

(e) 'The cow is milked in the morning and the evening'
  (i) Kúgvin verður / blívur mjólkað á morgni og á kvøldi
  (ii) Kúgvin er mjólkað á morgni og á kvøldi

Intransitive verbs and the passive

When a sentence is changed from the active into the passive voice, the active object becomes the passive subject as we have seen above. If an intransitive verb (that is, a verb without an object) is put into a passive construction, the subject field in the sentence will be empty:

vit bíðaðu leingi → ??? varð bíðað leingi
'?what? was waited long'

Faroese solves this problem in two ways:

1. Either: Another part of the sentence (for example, an adverb or the past participle) is moved to fill the subject field:

   ??? varð bíðað leingi → leingi varð bíðað

2. Or: The formal subject tað is used to fill the empty subject field:

   ??? varð bíðað leingi → tað varð bíðað leingi

Note: It is not possible to combine either of these constructions with an agent prepositional phrase (we cannot say, leingi varð bíðað av okkum or tað varð leingi bíðað av okkum).

It can be difficult to translate intransitive passive constructions into English, but they are fairly common in Faroese and it is important to be able to understand how they work.

Venjing 5: Intransitive verbs and the passive

Turn each of the following active sentences into a passive one:

(a) Tey dansaðu alla náttina.
(b) Familjan át allan dagin.
(c) Claire vitjaði í Tórshavn og Klaksvík.
(d) Tey tosaðu leingi í telefon.
(e) Vit svóvu leingi í gjár.
(f) Gestirnir droyma altíð í seingjunum á hasum hotellinum.

Samrøða 2

Track 127

Claire og Jógvan eru komin á kaffistovuna. Páll og Lena sita longu við eitt borð og bíða eftir teimum.

CLAIRE: Halló!
LENA: Hey, Claire. Gott at síggja teg.
PÁLL: Halló tit bæði!
JÓGVAN: Halló!
LENA: Eg var á veg í barrina. Skulu tit hava nakað?
CLAIRE: Ein café latte, takk.
JÓGVAN: Svart kaffi til mín.
LENA: Ok.

Lena fer at bíleggja.

JÓGVAN: Eg havi beint nú fortalt Claire um Føroya søgu.
CLAIRE: Ja, tað er ógvuliga áhugavert.
JÓGVAN: Eg segði, at tú visti meira um tjóðskaparrørsluna.
PÁLL: Víst geri eg tað. Hvat vilt tú hava at vita, Claire?
CLAIRE: Hvørji mál hevur tjóðskaparrørslan?
PÁLL: Vit vilja, at Føroyar skulu vera eitt frælst, demokratiskt tjóðveldi á sama hátt sum onnur lond, til dømis Írland, Ísland og Finnland. Vit vilja sjálvi ráða.
CLAIRE: Nær byrjaði tjóðskaparrørslan?
PÁLL: Alt byrjaði 2. jóladag við jólafundinum 26. desember 1888. Tá hittust nakrir føroyingar í tinghúsinum, har tey skiftu orð um, hvussu tey best varðveittu føroyskt mál og mentan. Fyrst var talan um mentanarligt frælsi, men frá 1906 var rørslan politisk við tveimum flokkum: Sambandsflokkinum og Sjálvstýrisflokkinum. Í 1918 hevði Sjálvstýrisflokkurin fyri fyrstu ferð meirilutan í løgtinginum.
CLAIRE: Hevur Danmark nakrantíð bjóðað føroyingum frælsi?
PÁLL: Meðan annar heimsbardagi herjaði, var Danmark tikið av týskinum.* Føroyar vóru hersettar av Onglandi. Undir krígnum stýrdu vit so at siga sjálvi, so leingi sum tað var í samsvari við áhugamálini hjá teimum sameindu. Tá ið kríggið varð liðugt, var ein partur av fólkinum fyri sjálvstýri frá Danmark, og hin 14. september 1946 var fólkaatkvøða um loysing. Hetta var fyrsta ferðin, føroyingar vórðu spurdir, um teir vildu hava sjálvstýri ella framhaldandi vildu vera partur av tí danska kongaríkinum. Úrslitið var ein lítil meiriluti fyri loysing, men tann danski kongurin upploysti løgtingið, og við næsta val fingu teir politisku flokkarnir, sum vildu hava samband við Danmark, meirilutan, og gjørdu samgongu. Teir valdu at vísa loysingini frá sær. Í staðin bleiv ein neyðsemja gjørd, og tann danska stjórnin kom við einari heimastýrislóg, sum gav Føroyum eitt ávíst sjálvstýri og fíggjarligan stuðul sum ein árligan blokkstuðul frá Danmark.

Lena kemur aftur til borðið við drykkjuvørunum.

LENA: Ohh. Nei. Fingið Páll at tosa um politikk? Nú fáa vit hann ikki at tiga aftur!

* The singular form týskurin, m. sg. is often used when speaking collectively about 'the Germans', for example in connection with the First and Second World Wars.

Orðalýsingar

á sama hátt, adv.	in the same way, just like
áhugamál (–s, –0), n.	interest
áhugaverd/ur, adj.	interesting
árlig/ur, adj.	annual
ávís/ur, adj.	certain, positive
beint, adv.	just
blokkstuðul (–s, –stuðlar), m.	block grant
demokratisk/ur, adj.	democratic
fíggjarlig/ur, adj.	economic
flokk/ur (floks, –ar), m.	[here:] (political) party
fólkaatkvøð/a (–u, –ur), f.	referendum
framhaldandi, adv.	still
frælsi (–s, ~), n.	freedom
frælst/ur, adj.	free
hátt/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	way, manner
heimastýrislóg (–ar, –ir), f.	home-rule law
herseta, irr. vb.	to occupy
hersett/ur, past part.	occupied
í staðin, adv.	instead
jóladag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Christmas Day
2. jóladag/ur (–s, –ar), m.	Boxing Day, 26 Dec.
jólafund/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	the Christmas Meeting
kong/ur (–s, –ar), m.	king
kongaríki (–s, –[r]), n.	kingdom
kríggj (krígs, –0), n.	war
liðug/ur, adj.	finished
loysing (–ar, –ar), f.	secession
løgtingið, n. sg. def.	the Faroese national assembly
mál (–s, –0), n.	goal, aim
meirilut/i (–a, –ar), m.	majority
mentanarlig/ur, adj.	cultural
nakrantíð, adv.	ever
neyðsemj/a (–u, –ur), f.	compromise
ráða, irr. vb.	to decide
samband (–s, –bond), n.	union
Sambandsflokkurin	The Union Party
sameind/ur, past part.	allied
samgong/a (–u, –ur), f.	coalition
samsvar (–s, –svør), n.	agreement
sjálvstýri (–s, ~), n.	home rule, autonomy
Sjálvstýrisflokkurin	The Independence Party
stuðul (–s, stuðlar), m.	support
søg/a (–u, ~), f.	history tiga (tagdi), vb.	to be quiet
tinghús (–0, –0), n.	parliament building
tjóð (–ar, –ir), f.	nation
tjóðveldi (–s, –[r]), n.	republic
upploysa (–ti), vb.	to dissolve
úrslit (–s, –0), n.	result
val (–s, val), n.	election
varðveita (varðveitti), vb.	to protect
velja, irr. vb.	to choose
vísa (–ti) frá sær, vb.	to decline, turn down
víst, adv.	of course

Venjing 6: Spurningar

(a) Hvat mál hevur tjóðskaparrørslan í Føroyum?
(b) Hvat bleiv diskuterað á Jólafundinum?
(c) Nær hevði Sjálvstýrisflokkurin fyri fyrstu ferð meirilutan í Føroyum?
(d) Hvør stýrdi Føroyum undir krígnum?
(e) Hvat er ein fólkaatkvøða fyri nakað?
(f) Valdu føroyingarnir loysing í 1946?
(g) Hví vórðu Føroyar so ikki sjálvstøðugar?
(h) Hvat er tann danski blokkstuðulin?

Mállæra

Discussing history, politics and current affairs

Below are some useful words and phrases for discussing general history, politics and current affairs. For more on Faroese politics, see Veitst tú at...? at the end of this unit. Many of these words also have more international sounding equivalents (for example, koloni, neutralitetur, anarki, demokrati, presidentur, terrorisma).

SØGA

tíð (–ar, –ir), f. age, era
fornøld (–aldar, –ir), f. Ancient World
borg (–ar, –ir), f. castle, fort
øld (aldar, –ir), f. century
siðmenning (–ar, –ar), f. civilisation
mentan (–ar, –ir), f. culture
uppdaging (–ar, –ar), f. discovery
kong/ur (–s, –ar), m. king
kongaríki (–s, –[r]), n. kingdom
miðnøld (–aldar, –ir), f. Middle Ages
nútíð (–ar, –ir), f. Modern Age forset/i (–a, –ar), m. president prins/ur (prins, –ar), m., kongsson/ur (–ar, –synir), m. prince prinsess/a (–u, –ur), f., kongsdóttir (–dóttur, –døtur), f. princess drotning (–ar, –ar), f. queen
tjóðveldi (–s, –[r]), n. republic búsetast (–tist), vb. to settle búseting (–ar, –ar), f. settlement niðursetumaður (–mans, –menn), m. settler træl/ur (–s, –ir/ar), m. slave
trældóm/ur (–s, ~), m. slavery
landøki (–s, –[r]), n. territory
sarism/a (–u, ~), f. tsarism, czarism
sar/ur (–s, –ar), m. tsar, czar

DIPLOMATI OG ÁVIRKAN

samgong/a (–u, –ur), f. alliance ganga saman, st. vb. to ally sendiharr/i (–a, –ar), m. ambassador
skrivstovuveldi (–s, –[r]), n. bureaucracy
kolonialism/a (–u, ~), f. colonialism landnám (–s, –0), n. colonisation gera til hjáland, irr. vb. to colonise niðursetufólk (–s, –0), n. colonist
niðursetuland (–s, –lond), n. colony
diplomati (–s, ~), n. diplomacy
sendifólk (–s, –0), n. diplomat diplomatisk/ur, adj. diplomatic sendistov/a (–u, –ur), f. embassy
ríki (–s, –[r]), n. state
grasrótarørsl/a (–u, –ur), f. grassroots movement mannarættindi, n. pl. human rights heimsveldisstevn/a (–u, ~), f. imperialism sjálvstýri (–s, –[r]), n. independence sjálstøðug/ur, adj. independent ávirkan (–ar, –ir), f. influence fakfelag (–s, –feløg), n. labour union
rørsl/a (–u, –ur), f. movement tinging (–ar, –ar), f., samráðing (–ar, –ar), f. negotiation lutleys/ur, adj. neutral
lutloysi (–s, ~), n. neutrality
føðilandskærleik/i (–a, ~), m. patriotism
makt (–ar, –ir), f. power umboða (–aði), vb. to represent rættindi (–s, –[r]), n. right
loysing (–ar, –ar), f. secession
einavaldsharr/i (–a, –ar), m. sovereign við fullveldi, adj. sovereign fullveldi (–s, –[r]), n. sovereignty
risaveldi (–s, –[r]), n. superpower fakfelag (–s, –feløg), n. trade union ríkisfelagsskapurin unity of the Danish kingdom

POLITIKKUR

valaldur (–s, –aldrar), m. age of suffrage
stjórnarloysi (–s, –[r]), n. anarchy tinglim/ur (–ar, –ir), m. assembly member atkvøðukass/i (–a, –ar), m. ballot box atkvøðuseðil (–s, –seðlar), m. ballot paper valevni (–s, –[r]), n. candidate
kommunism/a (–u, ~), f. communism
grundlóg (–ar, –ir), f. constitution
fólkastýri (–s, –[r]), n. democracy
val (–s, val), n. election veljararnir, m. pl. def. electorate velja (valdi), vb. to elect valúrslit (–s, –0), n. election result útinnandi vald (–s, –0), n. executive power
valstaðarkanning (–ar, –ar), f. exit poll stjórn (–ar, –ir), f. government stovn/ur (–s, –ar), m. institution
dómsvald (–s, –0), n. judicial power vinstravend/ur, adj. left-wing lóggáv/a (–u, ~), f. legislation
lóggávuvald (–s, –0), n. legislative power
meirilut/i (–a, –ar), m. majority tinglim/ur (–ar, –ir), m. member of parliament ráðharr/i (–a, –ar), m. minister
stjórnaráð (–s, –0), n. ministry
minnilut/i (–a, –ar), m. minority flokk/ur (floks, –ar), m. party (political) politisk/ur, adj. political
politikar/i (–a, –ar), m. politician
stjórnmálamaður (–mans, –menn), m. politician
politikk/ur (politiks, ~), m. politics stjórnmál (–s, ~), n.[n] politics løgmaður (–mans, –menn), m. (Faroese) prime minister forsætisráðharr/i (–a, –ar), m. prime minister lutfalsumboðan (–ar, –ir), f. proportional representation høgravend/ur, adj. right-wing sosialism/a (–u, ~), f. socialism atkvøð/a (–u, –ur), f. vote atkvøða (atkvøddi), vb. to vote hava valrætt, irr. vb. to have the vote veljar/i (–a, –ar), m. voter

TÍÐINDI

flogvápn (–s, –0), n. airforce
her/ur (–s, –ir/ar), m. army stríð (–s, –0), n. battle; conflict borgarakríggj (–krígs, –0), n. civil war tað kalda kríggið the Cold War fangaleg/a (–u, –ur), f. prison camp
rúsevni (–s, –[r]), n. drug, narcotic narko, n. indecl.; drøgg, n. pl. drugs rúsevnismisnýtsl/a (–u, ~), f. drug abuse
rúsevnismisnýtar/i (–a, –ar), m. drug addict
narkoman/ur (–s, –ar), m. drug addict rúsevnissmugling (–ar, ~), f. drug smuggling umhvørvi (–s, ~), n. environment
hungur (–s, ~), m. famine
fólkamorð (–s, –0), n. genocide upphiting ([–ar, ~], f.) av jørðini global warming globalisering (–ar, ~), f. globalisation
vakstrarhúsárinið, n. sg. def. the greenhouse effect flogrænar/i (–a, –ar), m. hijacker ræna (–di) eitt flogfar, vb. to hijack an aeroplane gísl/i (–a, –ar), m. hostage gera innrás í, irr. vb. to invade innrás (–ar, –ir), f. invasion ræna (–di) fólk, vb. to kidnap fólkarænar/i (–a, –ar), m. kidnapper drepa, st. vb. to kill myrða (myrdi), vb. murder
náttúruvanlukk/a (–u, –ur), f. natural disaster
flot/i (–a, –ar), m. navy
fátækt (–ar, ~), f. poverty
flóttafólk (–s, –0), n. refugee flóttafólkaleg/a (–u, –ur), f. refugee camp
kollvelting (–ar, –ar), f. revolution
herfólk (–s, –0), n. soldier
yvirgang/ur (–s, ~), m. terrorism
yvirgangsfólk (–s, –0), n. terrorist
pína (–di), vb. to torture handil (–s, ~), m. trade
kríggj (krígs, –0), n. war
heimsbardag/i (–a, –ar), f. World War

NAKRIR FELAGSSKAPIR

EFTA	Evropeiskur fríhandilsfelagsskapur
EU	Evropeiska samveldið (ES)
OPEC	Felagið hjá oljuútflytaralondum
The Red Cross	Reyði krossur
The Scouts/Guides	Skótar
UN	Sameindu tjóðir (ST)
UNESCO	Útbúgvingar-, vísinda- og menningarstovnur Sameindu Tjóða
UNICEF	Barnahjálparfelagsskapurin hjá teimum Sameindu Tjóðum
WHO	Altjóða heilsustovnurin
The World Bank	Heimsbankin
WTO	Heimshandilsfelagsskapurin

Venjing 7: Vocabulary builder (politics)

Match the English words in the left-hand column with the correct Faroese equivalent in the right-hand column:

ambassador	borgarakríggj
army	búseting
candidate	fakfelag
civil war	fátækt
democracy	forseti
drug abuse	forsætisráðharri
election	fólkastýri
human rights	herur
independence	kollvelting
negotiation	mannarættindi
politician	politikari
poverty	rúsevnismisnýtsla
president	samráðing
prime minister	sendiharri
republic	sjálvstýri
revolution	tjóðveldi
settlement	val
trade union	valevni

Venjing 8: History and politics

Write a few short sentences about your country's history or political system.

Venjing 9: Translation (history)

Translate into Faroese:

(a) Irish monks settled the Faroe Islands in the sixth century.
(b) The Vikings did not arrive until the ninth century.
(c) The Faroes were christianised in 999.
(d) Nowadays the Faroe Islands belong to Denmark.
(e) In World War II, Denmark was occupied by the Germans and the Faroe Islands by the British.
(f) On 14 September 1946, there was a referendum on secession.
(g) The king dissolved the parliament.
(h) Today the Faroe Islands have home-rule and receive a block-grant from Denmark.

Expressing surprise

Here are a few phrases that express surprise or astonishment:

nú bleiv eg tikin á bóli	what a surprise!
o waww!	wow!
tí trúgvi eg ikki!	I don't believe it!
eg havi aldri hoyrt so skaft!	well I never!
íss	oh!
oyjøssus	gosh!

See the grammar book §13 for more interjections.

The verbs:* teinkja, hugsa, halda, meina and ætla

Thinking isn't always straightforward in Faroese! If we want to use the word 'to think' and we're thinking about nothing more than brain activity, the process of thinking, we use the verbs teinkja upp á + acc. and hugsa um + acc.:

Eg hugsi ongantíð um hana	I never think about her
Fært tú ikki tonkt í dag?	Can't you think today?
Hann hugsar bara um seg sjálvan	He just thinks about himself
Børn hugsa ikki altíð um tað, tey gera	Children don't always think about what they're doing

However, if 'think' means 'be of the opinion' or 'reckon', then we use halda or meina:

Eg haldi, at hann kemur	I think he's coming
Hann heldur, hon er fitt	He thinks she's pretty
Hvat halda tey ungu?	What do the young think?
Tí halda tey, at friður ikki er møguligur	That's why they think peace is not possible
Hvat heldur tú?	What do you think?

Eg meini tað	I think so, I mean so
Hvat meinar tú við?	What do you think (about that)?
Eg meini við, at blokkurin skal skerjast	I think that the block grant should be reduced

If we mean 'to intend' or 'to consider', then we can use ætla:

Eg ætli at fara til Rom í ár	I'm thinking of going to Rome this year
Hann ætlar ikki at flyta til Danmark	He is not thinking of moving to Denmark
Eg ætli at búgva her í Føroyum	I'm thinking of living here in the Faroe Islands

Summary:

Brain activity	teinkja, hugsa
Opinion	halda, meina
Intention	ætla

The phrase for 'in my opinion' is eftir mínum tykki, eftir mínari meining or, simply, eg haldi:

Hetta er eftir mínum tykki eitt sera gott dømi um, at alt er møguligt
'In my opinion this is a very good example that everything is possible'

Tað er eftir mínari meining ikki nøkur býtt loysn
'In my opinion that's not a daft solution'

Eg haldi, at hatta ikki er nøkur býtt loysn
'In my opinion that's not a daft solution'

Venjing 10: To think

Translate into Faroese:

(a) What are you thinking about?
(b) I'm thinking of learning to sail in the summer.
(c) He thinks the government is crazy.
(d) We've been thinking about it all day.
(e) She thinks the Faroes should be independent.
(f) Are you thinking of moving to Tórshavn?
(g) In my opinion they are not working quickly.
(h) I think they are lazy [dovin, adj.].

Samrøða 3

Track 128

Claire etur døgurða saman við Kristini og Jákupi.

KRISTIN: Hvat hevur tú gjørt í dag, Claire?
CLAIRE: Eg havi verið saman við Jógvani, Pálli og Lenu. Vit fingu okkum kaffi á einari kaffistovu, og høvdu eina áhugaverda diskussión um tjóðskaparrørsluna her í Føroyum.
KRISTIN: Á, ja. Eg veit, at Páll hevur stóran áhuga fyri politikki. Hann er uppi í unga tjóðveldinum og er ofta í bløðunum og í útvarpinum.
JÁKUP: Eg rokni við, at hann hevur fylt teg við øllum møguligum svassi!
CLAIRE: Hvat meinar tú, Jákup?
JÁKUP: Tað eru so nógv ungfólk, sum hava dreymar um bæði hetta og hatta, men tað, sum tey mugu minnast er, at alt kostar.
CLAIRE: Eg veit ikki, um eg rættiliga skilji teg.
JÁKUP: Um Føroyar blivu sjálvstøðugar frá degi til dags, máttu føroyingar sjálvir rikið og rindað alt: heilsuøkið, verjuna, diplomatiið, almannaøkið og so framvegis. Og tað kostar.
KRISTIN: Men Jákup, vit betala longu nógv av hesum sjálvi, og tað er neyvan nakar, sum vil hava sjálvstýri frá degi til dags. Tey flestu loysingarfólkini vilja hava eina loysn, har vit yvirtaka stig fyri stig alt fleiri mál úr Keypmannahavn til Føroyar.
JÁKUP: Men onkur skal gjalda. Hvussu fara Føroyar at yvirliva uttan tann danska blokkstuðulin?
KRISTIN: Eg eri ikki nakar búskaparfrøðingur, men tað er heilt sikkurt, at tað ber til, tá ið samanum kemur. Aðrar smátjóðir klára seg væl, og um tey finna olju, íðan, so verða vit eitt Saudi Arabia í Norðuratlantshavinum!
JÁKUP: Aaah, ja, oljan. Stóra vón okkara…
CLAIRE: Merkir hetta, at tú heldur, at tað er betri hjá Føroyum at vera í ríkisfelagsskapinum?
JÁKUP: Ikki neyðturviliga, men fólk gloyma skjótt teir fyrimunirnar, sum eru við at vera saman við Danmark. Øll, sum búgva her, hava familju og vinir í Danmark. Eg eri úr Danmark! Allir føroyingar læra danskt og tosa málið flótandi. Vit lesa danskar bøkur og vikubløð og lurta eftir donskum tónleiki. Fleiri taka universitetsútbúgving sína í Danmark, og Danmark hevur eisini skyldu til at verja Føroyar í ófriðartíðum. Samband okkara við Danmark er sterkt, og tað eigur at varðveitast, sjálvt um vit flyta okkum mótvegis meira sjálvstýri.
CLAIRE: Hvussu nógv eru fyri, og hvussu nógv eru ímóti?
KRISTIN: Eg haldi, at tað man vera helvt um helvt. Tað svingar eitt sindur alt eftir teirri politisku og fíggjarligu støðuni.
CLAIRE: Hvørjir flokkar eru fyri loysing og hvørjir fyri sambandi við Danmark?
KRISTIN: Loysingarflokkarnir eru Fólkaflokkurin, Sjálvstýrisflokkurin og Tjóðveldisflokkurin. Tann flokkurin, sum vil varðveita ríkisfelagsskapin er Sambandsflokkurin. Javnaðarflokkurin og Miðflokkurin hava onga rættiliga støðu til málið, men eg haldi, at Miðflokkurin er í ferð við at blíva ein loysingarflokkur, vissi hann ikki longu er tað.
CLAIRE: Hvønn velur tú?
JÁKUP: Sambandsflokkin!
CLAIRE: Kristin?
KRISTIN: Tað er millum meg og atkvøðukassan, Claire!

Orðalýsingar

almannaøki (–s, –[r]), n. social services atkvøðukass/i (–a, –ar), m. ballot box áhug/i (–a, ~), m. interest búskaparfrøðing/ur (–s, –ar), m. economist
bæði... og..., conj. both... and...
diplomati (–s, ~), n. diplomacy
diskussión (–ar, –ir), f. discussion *
dreym/ur (–s, –ar), m. dream
flótandi, adv. fluently Fólkaflokkurin the People's Party frá degi til dags, adv. overnight fylla (fylti), vb. to fill fyrimun/ur (–ar, –ir), m. advantage
gloyma (–di), vb. to forget heilsuøki (–s, –[r]), n. health-care sector helvt um helvt fifty-fifty íðan, interj. then Javnaðarflokkurin the Social Democratic Party klára (–aði) seg, vb. to manage, cope, get by loysingarfólk, n. pl. separatists
loysingarflokk/ur (–floks, –ar), m. separatist party loysn (–ar, –ir), f. separation, freedom mál (–s, –0), n. issue Miðflokkurin the Centre Party
mótvegis + dat., prep. towards møgulig/ur, adj. possible neyðturviliga, adv. necessarily neyvan, adv. hardly og so framvegis and so on
olj/a (–u, –ur), f. oil
ófriðartíð (–ar, –ir), f. (time of) war politikk/ur (–s, ~), m. politics reka, st. vb. to run, administer rinda (–aði), vb. to finance, pay ríkisfelagsskapurin the united kingdom ruled over by Denmark rokna (–aði) við + dat., vb. to suppose, presume samanum – see tá ið samanum kemur sjálvt um, conj. even if skyld/a (–u, –ur), f. duty
smátjóð (–ar, –ir), f. small nation
sterk/ur, adj. strong stig fyri stig step by step, gradually svass (–0, ~), n. nonsense, rubbish
svinga (–aði), vb. to swing
tá ið samanum kemur when it comes to it Tjóðveldisflokkurin the Republican Party unga tjóðveldið youth organisation of Tjóðveldisflokkurin
ungfólk, n. pl. young people, youth
universitetsútbúgving (–ar, –ir), f. university studies varðveita (–ti), vb. to protect vera í ferð við at + inf. to be in (the process of) ...ing velja, irr. vb. to vote for, elect verj/a (–u, ~), f. defence verj/a (verjir; vardi), vb. to defend, protect vón (–ar, –ir), f. hope yvirliva (–di), vb. to survive yvirtaka, st. vb. to take over

* Another common word for discussion, especially in written Faroese, is orðaskifti (–s, –[r]), n.

Venjing 11: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Claire hevur tosað við Páll um politikk.
(b) Páll interesserar seg ikki fyri politikki.
(c) Jákup heldur, at Føroyar ikki hava ráð til sjálvstýri.
(d) Kristin veit nógv um búskap.
(e) Mann hevur funnið olju í Føroyum.
(f) Fáir føroyingar hava nú nøkur sambond við Danmark.
(g) Umleið 50% av føroyingunum eru fyri sjálvstýri.
(h) Kristin velur altíð Sambandsflokkin.

Mállæra

Irregular nouns

There are a number of nouns in Faroese that are irregular, that is they are not declined as we might expect. Here are some examples:

(a) Masculine nouns

(i) Ending in –l, –n or –r:

Sg.	Nom.	lykil 'key'	himin 'sky'	akur 'field'
	Acc.	lykil	himin	akur
	Dat.	lykli	himni	akri
	Gen.	lykils	himins	akurs
Pl.	Nom.	lyklar	himnar	akrar
	Acc.	lyklar	himnar	akrar
	Dat.	lyklum	himnum	økrum
	Gen.	lykla	himna	akra

(ii) Ending in –ggjur and –gvur:

Sg.	Nom.	heyggjur 'hill'	sjógvur 'sea'
	Acc.	heyggj	sjógv
	Dat.	heyggi	sjógvi
	Gen.	heygs	sjós
Pl.	Nom.	heyggjar	sjógvar
	Acc.	heyggjar	sjógvar
	Dat.	heyggjum	sjógvum
	Gen.	heyggja	sjógva

(iii) Gen. sg. –(j)ar, nom. pl. –ir:

Sg.	Nom.	veggur 'wall'	sonur 'son'	fjørður 'fjord'
	Acc.	vegg	son	fjørð
	Dat.	veggi	syni / soni	firði / fjørði
	Gen.	veggjar	sonar	fjarðar
Pl.	Nom.	veggir	synir	firðir
	Acc.	veggir	synir	firðir
	Dat.	vegg(j)um	sonum / synum	fjørðum / firðum
	Gen.	vegg(j)a	sona	fjarða

(iv) Miscellaneous:

Sg.	Nom.	fótur 'foot'	maður 'man'
	Acc.	fót	mann
	Dat.	fóti / føti	manni
	Gen.	fóts	mans
Pl.	Nom.	føtur	menn
	Acc.	føtur	menn
	Dat.	fótum	monnum
	Gen.	fóta	manna

(b) Feminine nouns

(i) Ending in a radical –r:

Sg.	Nom.	fjøður 'feather'	brúður 'bride'
	Acc.	fjøður	brúður
	Dat.	fjøður	brúður
	Gen.	fjaðrar	brúðrar
Pl.	Nom.	fjaðrar	brúðrar
	Acc.	fjaðrar	brúðrar
	Dat.	fjøðrum / fjaðrum	brúðrum
	Gen.	fjaðra	brúðra

(ii) Ending in –gv:

Sg.	Nom.	gjógv 'gorge'	klógv 'claw'	kúgv 'cow'
	Acc.	gjógv	klógv	kúgv
	Dat.	gjógv	klógv	kúgv
	Gen.	gjáar	klóar	kúar
Pl.	Nom.	gjáir	kløur	kýr
	Acc.	gjáir	kløur	kýr
	Dat.	gjáum	klóm	kúm
	Gen.	gjáa	kló(gv)a	kú(gv)a

(iii) Gen. sg. –0:

Sg.	Nom.	ævi 'lifetime'	gleði 'joy'
	Acc.	ævi	gleði
	Dat.	ævi	gleði
	Gen.	ævi	gleði
Pl.	Nom.	ævir	gleðir
	Acc.	ævir	gleðir
	Dat.	ævum	gleðum
	Gen.	æva	(gleða)

(iv) Miscellaneous:

Sg.	Nom.	dóttir 'daughter'	systir 'sister'
	Acc.	dóttur	systur
	Dat.	dóttur	systur
	Gen.	dóttur	systur
Pl.	Nom.	døtur	systrar
	Acc.	døtur	systrar
	Dat.	døtrum	systrum
	Gen.	døtra	systra

(c) Neuter nouns

(i) Ending in a radical –l, –n or –r:

Sg.	Nom.	tempul 'temple'	gaman 'fun'	kamar 'room'
	Acc.	tempul	gaman	kamar
	Dat.	templi	gamni	kamari
	Gen.	tempuls	gamans	kamars
Pl.	Nom.	tempul	~	kømur
	Acc.	tempul	~	kømur
	Dat.	templum	~	kømurum / kømrum
	Gen.	templa	~	kamara

(ii) The nouns summar and nummar:

Sg.	Nom.	summar 'summer'	nummar 'number'
	Acc.	summar	nummar
	Dat.	sumri	nummari
	Gen.	summars	nummars
Pl.	Nom.	summar / summur / summør	nummur / nummar
	Acc.	summar / summur / summør	nummur / nummar
	Dat.	sumrum	nummarum / numrum
	Gen.	sumra	nummara

(iii) Ending in –ggj and –gv:

Sg.	Nom.	skýggj 'cloud'	búgv 'farm'
	Acc.	skýggj	búgv
	Dat.	skýggi	búgvi
	Gen.	skýs	bús
Pl.	Nom.	skýggj	búgv
	Acc.	skýggj	búgv
	Dat.	skýggjum	búgvum
	Gen.	skýggja	búgva

(iv) The nouns knæ, træ and høvd:

Sg.	Nom.	knæ 'knee'	træ 'tree'	høvd 'head'
	Acc.	knæ	træ	høvd
	Dat.	knæi	træi	høvdi
	Gen.	knæs	træs	høvuðs
Pl.	Nom.	knø / knæ	trø	høvd / høvur
	Acc.	knø / knæ	trø	høvd / høvur
	Dat.	knøum	trøum	høvdum
	Gen.	kníggja	træa	høvda

The letter combinations sj, sk and skj

Track 129

Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letters sj, sk and skj:

skal Skandinavia
av skriðuni skoti írskur føroyskur norskur tjóðskaparrørsla politiskur diskussión
danskt franskt írskir skinnbátur skifta fiskiskapur skylda skera skip skjóta
skjótt
sjey sjál
krassj!

Lesistykki 1

Track 130

Jólafundurin 1888

The Faroese parliament (Løgtingið)

Tann 22. desember 1888 skrivaðu níggju føroyingar eina innbjóðing til ein fund í tinghúsinum í tí føroysku blaðnum Dimmalætting. Lýsingin ljóðaði soleiðis:

Ein og hvör
bjóðast at koma í tinghúsið annan jóladag kl. 3 e.m., har sum vit atla, at samráðast um at verja Førja mál og Førja siðir

Soleiðis byrjaði tjóðskaparrørslan í Føroyum, og er tað ein tann største hendingin í søgu landsins. Sjálvan dagin, tá ið fundurin skuldi haldast, var veðrið ógvuliga ringt. Tað regnaði og var nógvur vindur. Tað var næstan ikki útfarandi. Tað komu nógv fólk kortini úr Havn á fundin, ið varð settur við at Rasmus Effersøe las upp eina yrking, ið Jóannes Patursson hevði yrkt. Henda langa yrkingin eitur »Nú er tann stundin komin til handa« og byrjar soleiðis:

Nú er tann stundin komin til handa á hesum landi, at vit skulu taka lógvatak saman máli til frama.	[Now the hour is come to hand in this land for us to gather hand in hand to glorify the language
Illa er nú við Føroya máli vorðið, annaðhvørt orðið, ið nú berst á munni av køllum og kvinnum, í útlendskum rennur.	Our mother tongue is in distress every second word that is now carried in men and women's mouths flows in a foreign language.
Er tað ikki skomm, at várt móðurmál kæra so illa skal fara og burtur rekast sum avdeyðahundur og týnast so sundur?	Is it not a shame that our dear mother tongue should fare so ill be driven off like a decrepit dog and then destroyed?]

Fundurin endaði við fundarsamtykt í seks punktum (Dimmalætting, 5. januar 1889):

1) føroyskt skal verða kenslugrein í skúlanum,
2) dentur skal verða lagdur á Føroya søgu í skúlanum,
3) kristnikensla skal verða á føroyskum,
4) prestarnir skulu eiga rætt til at nýta føroyskt bæði í og uttan fyri kirkjuna,
5) mann skal kunna luttaka í øllum almennum orðaskifti á føroyskum,
6) ein føroyskur fólkaháskúli skal stovnast.

Tann 6. januar 1889 var ein nýggjur fundur, av tí at veðrið hevði verið so ringt tann 22. desember, at bygdafólk ikki kundu koma til Havnar. Á hesum fundi varð Føringafelag stovnað. Hetta felag hevði tvey stevnumið (Dimmalætting, 2. februar 1889):

1) at fáa føroyska málið til æru,
2) at fáa allar føroyingar til at halda saman, at teir mugu blíva sjálvbjargnir.

Orðalýsingar

almenn/ur, adj.	public, general
atla, vb.	= ætla
avdeyðahund/ur (–s, –ar), m.	decrepit dog
berast, st. vb.	to be carried
bygdafólk, n. pl.	village folk
dent/ur (–s, ~), m.	interest, emphasis
eiga rætt til at, irr. vb.	to have the right to enda (–aði), vb.	to end, conclude
fram/i (–a, –ar), m.	fame, glory
fólkaháskúl/i (–a, –ar), m.	folk high school
fund/ur (–s, –ar), m.	meeting
fundarsamtykt (–ar, –ir), f.	resolution carried at a meeting
Føringafelag	'The Faroese Association'
Førja	= Føroya
halda saman, st. vb.	to stand together
haldast, st. vb.	to be held
hending (–ar, –ar), f.	event
innbjóðing (–ar, –ar), f.	invitation
kall/ur (kals, kallar), m.	man
kenslugrein (–ar, –ir), f.	subject (at school)
kirkj/a (–u, –ur), f.	church
kristnikensl/a (–u, –ur), f.	instruction in Christianity
kær/ur, adj.	dear
lesa upp, st. vb.	to read aloud
leggja dent á, irr. vb.	to emphasise

ljóða (–aði), vb.	to sound
lógvatak (–s, –tøk), n.	handshake
luttaka, st. vb.	to take part
lýsing (–ar, –ar), f.	advertisement, announcement
nýta (nýtti), vb.	to use
orðaskifti (–s, –[r]), n.	discussion
punkt (–s, –0), n.	point
rekast burtur, st. vb.	to be driven away, expelled
renna, st. vb.	to flow, run
samráðast (samráddist), vb.	to discuss, debate
sið/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	custom, tradition
sjálvan dagin, adv.	that same day
sjálvbjargin, adj.	self-sufficient
skomm (skammar, skammir), f.	shame, disgrace
soleiðis, adv.	like this, thus, so
stevnumið (–s, –0), n.	aim, purpose
stovnast (–aðist), vb.	to be founded, established
stund (–ar, –ir), f.	moment
sundur, adv.	into pieces, fragments
til handa, adv.	at hand
tinghúsið, n. sg.	the parliament building
týnast (–dist), vb.	to be detroyed, annihilated
undirvísingarmál (–s, –0), n.	language of instruction
upplesing (–ar, –ar), f.	recital, reading
útfarandi, adj. indecl.	possible to go outside
várt verða settur, st. vb.	= hjá okkum to be opened (of meetings etc.)
yrking (–ar, –ar), f.	poem
yrkja (–ti), vb.	to compose
ær/a (–u, ~), f.	glory, honour, reputation

Venjing 12: Spurningar

(a) Hvat stóð í Dimmu tann 22. desember 1888?
(b) Hví kundu bygdafólk ikki koma til jólafundin?
(c) Hvussu varð jólafundurin settur?
(d) Er Jóannes Patursson positivur viðvíkjandi framtíðini hjá føroyskum?
(e) Hvørjar av teimum seks fundarsamtyktunum (1–6) eru um:
  (i) føroyska málið?
  (ii) Føroya søgu?
  (iii) fólkaháskúlarørsluna?
(f) Nær varð Føringafelag stovnað?
(g) Hvussu helt mann, at føroyingar best kundu blíva sjálvbjargnir?

Lesistykki 2

Track 131

Tríggir megnarmenn

Rasmus Christoffer Effersøe (1857–1916); føddur í Trongisvági, deyður í Havn.
Hann var á jólafundinum í 1888 og las upp »Nú er tann stundin komin til handa« eftir Jóannes Patursson. Hann var blaðstjóri á Føringatíðindi, Dúgvuni og Dimmalætting.

Jóannes Patursson (1866–1946); føddur og deyður í Kirkjubø.
Hann var við at seta jólafundin í 1888 og í 1901 varð hann valdur á løgtingið. Hann sat í løgtinginum, til fýra dagar fyri hann doyði (2. august 1946), men hann sat eisini í danska fólkatinginum (1901–06) og danska landstinginum (1918–20 og 1928–36). Frá 1906 var hann limur í Sjálvstýrisflokkinum.

Hans Nicolai Jacobsen (1832–1919); føddur og deyður í Havn.
Hann var við at seta jólafundin í 1888. Hann arbeiddi sum bókbindari og læt upp tann fyrsta bókahandlin í Føroyum. »H. N. Jacobsens bókahandil« stendur framvegis miðskeiðis í Havn.

Orðlýsingar

blaðstjór/i (–a, –ar), m.	newspaper editor
bókahandil (–s, –handlar), m.	bookshop
bókbindar/i (–a, –ar), m.	bookbinder
deyð/ur, adj.	dead
fólkatingið, n.	the Danish parliament (lower chamber until 1953)
framvegis, adv.	still
føddur, past part.	born
landstingið, n.	the Danish parliament's upper chamber (abolished in 1953)
lata upp, st. vb.	to open
lim/ur (–ar, –ir), m	member
megnarmaður (–mans, –menn), m.	great man
miðskeiðis, adv.	near the centre
vera við at, irr. vb.	to be involved in
virka (–aði), vb.	to work, be active, serve

Venjing 13: Comprehension

Complete the table using the information from Lesistykki 2:

Navn:			Rasmus C. Effersøe
Føddur – ár	1866
stað		Havn
Deyður – ár
stað	Kirkjubøur
Arbeiði		bókbindari

Lesistykki 3

Track 132

Um 50 ár

Established in 1996, 200 ('Tveyhundrað') is a Faroese punk-rock band. They are politically engaged and believe in independence and the creation of a republic. In this song, 'Um 50 ár' from the album 200% (2001), they sing that independence is inevitable and that in fifty years' time everyone will wonder what all the fuss was about:

Um 50 ár fer alt hetta her at vera líka mikið.

Tað eru nú liðin 120 ár, síðani sjálvstýrisrørslan í Føroyum tók seg upp. Og líka frá byrjan hava vit verið noyddir til at berjast á tveimum hermótum. Ein tann fyrsta orrustan var at fáa føroyingum føroyskt mál inn í skúlarnar og kirkjurnar í Føroyum, soleiðis at tey føroysku børnini kundu spyrja, læra og tosa á móðurmálinum í staðin fyri at skula sita og jabba kongarekkjur og tabellir á einum máli, tey onki skiltu av.

Tað var so seint sum í 1938, at tað varð komið á mál eftir drúgva togtogan við myndugleikarnar í Danmark og sambandsmenninar í Føroyum. Og eg kenni ongan føroying, sum heldur vildi havt danskt í skúlanum.

Og um 50 ár verða ongir føroyingar sambandsmenn.

Tað var heldur ikki í lagi við teimum donsku myndugleikunum, at vit fingu okkara egna flagg. Ikki fyrr enn Danmark varð hersett av týskinum og vit av bretum, fingu føroysk skip forboð ímóti at sigla undir Dannebrog.

Stríðið um Merkið. Føroyska flaggið, sum leingi hevði møtt mótstøðu frá dønum og teirra gimpum í Føroyum, skuldi nú verða vundið á stong á øllum føroyskum skipum. Vóru sambandsmenninir fyri? Gu' vóru teir ei! Teir vildu heldur hava okkum at brúka okkurt fyribils flagg. Soleiðis at aftan á kríggið kundi Dannebrog aftur veittra í húnar hátt í Føroyum. Kennir tú nakran føroying í dag, sum ikki er góður við Merkið? Teir kunnu teljast á einari hond.

Og um 50 ár eru ongir føroyingar sambandsmenn.

Hvat eru tað fyri fólk, sum koma sær at læra síni børn, at tey ikki eru líka nógv verd sum onnur menniskju? Sum trútta niður í tey hjálparsloysi og undirlutakenslur og læra tey at ganga ímóti sínum natúrligu menniskjansligu instinktum? Vit eru ikki býttari enn onnur fólkasløg. Og tað kann ikki vera so ómøguligt at fáa eitt so lítið land sum okkara upp at koyra.

Og um 50 ár eru ongir føroyingar sambandsmenn.

Um 50 ár verða ongir sambandsmenn eftir. Um 50 ár fer hesin spurningur ikki longur at skilja okkum.

Um 50 ár, tá vit langt síðani eru vorðin sjálvstøðug, og fólk hava sæð, at tað var ikki so ringt, og vit vóru ikki so skíthamrandi býtt, og smakkurin av fullveldi ikki var so beiskur hóast alt, tá fara vit øll alíkavæl at standa øksl móti øksl á Vaglinum á ólavsøku, á tjóðarhátíðini og syngja 'Tú alfagra land mítt' av heilum hjarta. Og børnini, sum vaksa upp, fara ongantíð at undrast á, hví tað man standa 'Danmark' og 'danskari' í passinum hjá mammu og pápa. Og tá børnini spyrja teir gomlu, fyrrverandi sambandsmenninar, hví teir bóru seg so býttisliga at, tá fara sambandsmenninir at skammast og kísta børnini út í túnið at spæla.

Um 50 ár verða ongir sambandsmenn (x3)
Um 50 ár, so fer alt hetta her at vera líka mikið Tí um 50 ár fer hesin spurningurin ikki longur at skilja okkum.

Orðalýsingar

alíkavæl, adv.	still, yet, nevertheless
beisk/ur, adj.	bitter
bera seg at, st. vb.	to behave
berjast (berjist, bardist), vb.	to fight
býtt/ur, adj.	stupid, crazy
býttisliga, adv.	stupidly
Dannebrog	name of the Danish flag
drúgv/ur, adj.	that takes a long time
forboð (–s, –0), n.	prohibition, ban
fólkaslag (–s, –sløg), n.	people, nation
fullveldi (–s, –[r]), n.	sovereignty
fyribils, adj. indecl.	temporary
fyrrverandi, adj. indecl.	former
gimp/ur (–s, –ar), m.	'gimp'; [here:] someone who is submissive to Danish authority (offensive!)
Gu' vóru teir ei!	Hell, they weren't!
hermót (–s, –0), n.	(battle) front
herseta (–setti), vb.	to occupy
hjálparsleys/ur, adj.	helpless
hóast alt, adv.	after all
húnar, m. pl.	masthead
instinkt (–s, –0), n.	instinct
í staðin fyri	instead of
jabba (–aði), vb.	to repeat (for ever)
kísta (–aði), vb.	to shoo away
koma sær, st. vb.	to dare, not shy away from
kongarekkj/a (–u, –ur), f.	list of kings
langt síðani, adv.	long ago
líða, st. vb.	to pass (of time)
líka mikið, adj.	all the same, no matter
menniskjanslig/ur, adj.	human
móðurmál (–s, –0), n.	mother tongue
mótstøð/a (–u, ~), f.	resistance, opposition
myndugleikarnir, m. pl. def.	the authorities
orrust/a (–u, –ur), f.	battle, struggle
ólavsøk/a (–u, –ur), f.	St Olaf's Wake, 29 July (the national holiday)
ómøgulig/ur, adj.	impossible
pass (–0, –0), n.	passport
sambandsmaður (–mans, –menn), m.	unionist
sigla (–di), vb.	to sail
skammast (–aðist), vb.	to be ashamed
skíthamrandi býtt/ur, adj.	completely stupid (offensive!)
smakk/ur (smaks, –ir), m.	taste
stong (stangar, stengur), f.	pole
stríð (–s, –0), n.	struggle
tabell (–ar, –ir), f.	table
taka seg upp, st. vb.	to rise, lift oneself up
teljast, irr. vb.	to be counted
tjóðarhátíð (–ar, –ir), f.	national holiday
togtogan (–ar, –ir), f.	tug-of-war

trútta (–aði), vb.	to force one's opinions (on someone)	Vaglið, n. sg. def.	name of a square in the centre of Tórshavn
tún (–s, –0), n.	garden, yard	vaksa upp, st.vb.	to grow up undirlutakensl/a (–u, –ur), f.	feeling of inferiority	veittra (–aði), vb.	to wave undrast (–aðist), vb.	to wonder, be surprised	vera noyddir til at, irr. vb.	to have to upp at koyra	up and running	verd/ur, adj.	worthy
		vinda, st. vb.	to hoist

Veitst tú at...?

The Faroe Islands have a multi-party political system in which parties must cooperate and form coalitions in order to govern. The six political parties are spread over two axes: one from the political right to the political left, and the other from unionist to separatist:

	Left ↔ Centre ↔ Right
Separatism	Tjóðveldisflokkurin	Sjálvstýrisflokkurin	Fólkaflokkurin
↕		Miðflokkurin
Unionism	Javnaðarflokkurin		Sambandsflokkurin

The prime minister is called the løgmaður. The High Commissioner is appointed by the Danish monarch and is called the ríkisumboðsmaður. Løgmaður heads the cabinet (landsstýri) which has 7 members known as landsstýrismenn. Each landsstýrismaður has an area of responsibility, for example, labour affairs (vinnumál), economic affairs (fíggjarmál), fishing (fiskivinnumál), culture (mentamál), public and health services (almanna- og heilsumál) and domestic affairs (innlendismál). The Faroese parliament (løgtingið) has 33 members elected four years at a time by proportional representation (lutfalsumboðan). In addition, there are two elected Faroese members of the Danish parliament (fólkating). Faroe Islanders can vote and stand for election from age 18.

Since the introduction of Home Rule in 1948, the Faroes have gradually been taking control of an ever increasing number of areas of administration from Denmark. Currently the Faroes have responsibility for things such as postal services, taxation and transport. Denmark maintains responsibilty for defence and foreign policy.

For the purposes of administration, there are 34 municipalities (kommunur) in the Faroe Islands, several of which have fewer than 100 inhabitants, with over 100 towns and villages recognised. Some of these municipalities may be merged in the near future. The word sýsla, that we met earlier, refers to a sheriff's district or a policing district. In all there are six of these (Norðoyggjar, Eysturoy, Streymoy, Vágar og Mykines, Sandoy og Skúvoy, Suðuroy), and the term is frequently used simply to refer to a region.

14 Er nakar studentaavsláttur?

Is there a student discount?

Track 133

In this unit you will learn about:

- vowel mutation
- the imperative mood and how to say 'let's do this'
- indirect speech
- the reciprocal pronoun 'each other'
- means of transport and buying a travel ticket
- describing people
- the letter s

Samrøða 1

Track 134

Claire fer til upplýsingina hjá Bygdaleiðum at vita, nær bussarnir koyra til Klaksvíkar.

RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Góðan morgun.
CLAIRE:	Hey. Eg vil fegin hava at vita, nær bussarnir fara til Klaksvíkar.
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Ferðaætlanir eru í stativinum aftan fyri hurðina.
CLAIRE:	Eg havi vitað har, men ongar eru eftir.
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Nær ætlar tú tær at fara til Klaksvíkar?
CLAIRE:	Í morgin ári.
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Tað ber ikki til at fara í morgin.
CLAIRE:	Ber ikki til? Hví? Er bussurin fullur?
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Nei. Tað er verkfall.
CLAIRE:	Verkfall?
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Bussførararnir eru ikki nøgdir við ta longu arbeiðstíðina. Frá á midnátt í nátt fara teir í eitt 24-tíma verkfall.
CLAIRE:	Hygga síggj. Hvat skal eg so gera?
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Tú kanst ringja til Atlantic Airways og vita, um nakað tómt pláss er umborð á tyrluni í morgin.
CLAIRE:	Tað verður for dýrt.
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Tað verður ikki nakar bussur aftur fyrr enn mánamorgunin.
CLAIRE:	So bíði eg til mánadagin meðni. Nær fer bussurin?
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Tann fyrsti fer kl. 6:15.
CLAIRE:	Tað er rættiliga tíðliga. Fer nakar um tíggjutíðina?
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Klokkan 9:20 og 10:50.
CLAIRE:	Nær er tann, sum fer 9:20, í Klaksvík?
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Klokkan 11.
CLAIRE:	Og hvussu nógv kostar billettin?
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	90 kr.
CLAIRE:	Er nakar studentaavsláttur?
RESEPTIÓNISTUR:	Um tú hevur eitt galdandi kort, so hevur tú rætt til 20% í avsláttri, og tú sleppur ígjøgnum tunlarnar fyri einki. Ein studentabillett til Klaksvíkar kostar 48 kr.

CLAIRE: Ber tað til at keypa billett aftur og fram?

RESEPTIÓNISTUR: Nei.

CLAIRE: Eg ætlaði at taka eina súkklu við mær. Ber tað til?

RESEPTIÓNISTUR: Ja, gaman í. Men súkklan kostar 30 kr – og eingin studentaavsláttur er fyri súkklur!

CLAIRE: Noyðist eg at bóka billettina frammanundan?

RESEPTIÓNISTUR: Nei. Tú keypir billettina í bussinum frá sjaførinum.

CLAIRE: Hvat nummar hevur bussurin?

RESEPTIÓNISTUR: 400.

CLAIRE: Og hvaðani koyrir hann?

RESEPTIÓNISTUR: Ha?

CLAIRE: Hvar koyrir hann frá?

RESEPTIÓNISTUR: Bussstoppistaðið er beint uttanfyri her. Tað er ikki so ringt at finna. Bussnummarið og hvagar hann fer, alt stendur frammanfyri í erva á bussinum.

CLAIRE: Takk fyri.

RESEPTIÓNISTUR: Ger so væl.

Orðalýsingar

arbeiðstíð (–ar, –ir), f.	= working hours
ári	– see í morgin ári
bera til, st. vb.	to be possible
billętt (–ar, –ir), f.	ticket
billętt aftur og fram *	return ticket
bussførar/i (–a, –ar), m.	bus driver
bussstoppistað (–s, –støð), n.	bus-stop
Bygdaleiðir, f. pl.	name of the bus company
dýr/ur, adj.	expensive
erva	– see í erva
ferðaætlan (–ar, –ir), f.	timetable
for, adv.	too (= ov)
frammanfyri, adv.	on the front
frammanundan, adv.	in advance
galdandi, adj. indecl.	valid
hava rætt til, irr. vb.	to be entitled to
hurð (–ar, –ar), f.	door
í erva, adv.	at the top
í morgin ári, adv.	tomorrow morning
meðni, adv.	then
nøgd/ur við + acc., adj.	happy with
noyðast (noyddist), vb.	to have to
sjafør/ur (–s, –ir), m.	driver
stativ (–s, –0), n.	stand, rack
studentaavsláttur (–s, –slátrar), m.	student discount
tíggjutíð	– see um tíggjutíðina
tyrl/a (–u, –ur), f.	helicopter
um tíggjutíðina, adv.	around 10 o'clock
umborð, adv.	onboard
upplýsing (–ar, –ar), f.	information
uttanfyri, adv.	outside
verkfall (–fals, –føll), n.	strike, industrial action
vita (–aði), vb.	to look (for)

* Also retur billętt (–ar, –ir), f. 'return ticket'.

Venjing 1: Spurningar

(a) Hví fer bussurin ikki til Klaksvíkar?
(b) Hvat kann Claire royna at gera fyri at koma til Klaksvíkar í morgin?
(c) Ætlar Claire sær at fara við tí fyrsta bussinum mánamorgunin?
(d) Hví noyðist Claire ikki at rinda fullan prís?
(e) Ber tað til at taka súkklu við?
(f) Er tað ringt at finna bussstoppistaðið?

Mállæra

Means of transport

Norröna docked in Tórshavn harbour with Tinganes in the foreground

There are many ways to get around the Faroe Islands – by car (hired or bring your own on the ferry), bicycle, bus, ferry, motorbike, horseback or even on foot. Below are some words and phrases to help you get to, from and around the Islands.

Means of transport:

flogfar (–s, –før), n.	aeroplane, airplane	undirvatnsbát/ur (–s, –ar), m.	submarine
súkkl/a (–u, –ur), f.	bicycle, bike	taksabil/ur (–s, –ar), m.	taxi, cab bát/ur (–s, –ar), m.	boat	hýruvogn/ur (–s, –ar), m.	taxi, cab
buss/ur (–0, –ar), m.	bus	tok (–s, –0), n.	train
bil/ur(–s, –ar), m.	car	sporvogn/ur (–s, –ar), m.	tram
ferj/a (–u, –ur), f.	ferry	undirgrundarbreyt (–ar, –ir), f.	underground, tube, metro tyrl/a (–u, –ur), f.	helicopter	vøruvogn/ur (–s, –ar), m.	van lastbil/ur (–s, –ar), m.	lorry, truck	jakt (–ar, –ir), f.	yacht knallert (–ar, –ir), f.	moped	til gongu, adv.	on foot
motorsúkkl/a (–u, –ur), f.	motorbike
skip (–s, –0), n.	ship

There are no trains, trams or metro in the Faroe Islands!

Domestic travel:

BUSSURIN

Nær fer tann næsti bussurin til Klaksvíkar?	When is the next bus to Klaksvík please?
Noyðist eg at skifta buss?	Do I have to change buses?
Hvar er bussstoppistaðið?	Where is the bus stop?
Nær fer hann?	What time does it depart?

Nær er hann frammi?	What time does it arrive?
Hvussu long er ferðin?	How long is the journey?
Er tað avsláttur fyri...?	Is there a discount for...?
børn	children
lesandi	students
pensjónistar	pensioners
Eg ætlaði at keypa ein ferðaseðil til Klaksvíkar	I'd like a ticket to Klaksvík please.
einvegis	single
aftur og fram	return
tíggjutúrakort	10-journey travelcard
mánaðarkort	month's travelcard
Er hetta plássið upptikið?	Is this seat taken?
Ber til at senda hendan pakkan við bussi til Klaksvíkar?	Can I send this parcel by bus to Klaksvík?
Kanst tú siga mær frá, tá ið vit koma til...?	Can you tell me when to get off for...?
Eg vil sleppa av!	I want to get off!

FERJAN

Nær siglir tann seinasta ferjan til Sandoynna?	When is the last ferry to Sandoy?
Nær kemur ferjan til Nólsoyar?	What time does the ferry arrive in Nólsoy?
Hvaðani siglir hon?	Where does it leave from?
Hvør er næsta havn?	What's the next harbour?

TYRLAN

Fer nøkur tyrla vestur í Mykines í morgin?	Is there a helicopter flight to Mykines tomorrow?
Nær fer tyrlan avstað?	What time does the helicopter leave?
Hvussu leingi varar túrurin?	How long is the flight?
Hvar er tyrlupallurin?	Where is the helipad?

HÝRUVOGNURIN

Kanst tú koyra meg til...?	Can you take me to...?
Hvussu nógv kostar tað til...?	How much does it cost to go to?

International travel:

FLOGFARIÐ

Er nakað flogfar til Keypmannahavnar?	Is there a flight to Copenhagen please?
Fer flúgvarin beinleiðis, ella noyðist mann at skifta?	Is it a direct flight, or do I have to change planes?
Hevði tú kunnað givið mær eitt...?	Can I have a...?
vindeygapláss	window seat
pláss við gongina?	aisle seat
Nær skal eg tjekka inn?	What time do I have to check in?
Hvussu long er flúgvitíðin?	How long is the flight?
Hevði tú kunnað givið mær ein ferðaseðil til Reykjavíkar?	I'd like a ticket to Reykjavík please.

FERJAN

Er nakað plass umborð á Norrønu til Noregs?	Is there room on Norröna to Norway, please?
Ber til at fáa...?	Can I have a...?
eitt tvíkoyggjukamar	two-berth cabin
eitt tríkoyggjukamar	three-berth cabin
eitt fýrakoyggjukamar	four-berth cabin
eitt luksuskamar	luxury cabin
eina couchettu	couchette
eina kahútt / eitt kamar	cabin
Nær skal eg tjekka inn?	What time do I have to check in?
Hvussu langur er túrurin?	How long is the crossing?

Finally:

Bussurin er seinkaður	The bus is delayed
Seinkingin er ... tímar	There is a ...–hour delay
Ferjan er avlýst	The ferry has been cancelled

Venjing 2: Bus tickets

You're at the bus information desk at the terminal in Tórshavn. Complete the following dialogue.

A: Góðan morgun.
B: Say hello and ask when the next bus leaves for Saksun.
A: Ein bussur fer klokkan 11:15, men mann noyðist at skifta buss á Oyrarbakka.
B: Ask how long you have to wait in Oyrarbakki.
A: Fimm minuttir. Ein minibussur tekur ferðandi víðari til Saksunar.
B: Ask what time the mini-bus arrives in Saksun.
A: Klokkan 12:15.
B: Ask how much a ticket costs.
A: Einvegis ella aftur og fram?
B: Say you want a single.
A: 48 krónur.
B: Ask where the bus leaves from.
A: Busstøðin er beint uttanfyri her.
B: Say thank you and goodbye.
A: Farvæl.

Venjing 3: Ferry to Svínoy

You're on the phone to Strandfaraskip landsins to find out about the ferry to Svínoy tomorrow. Complete the following dialogue.

A: Strandfaraskip landsins. Halló.
B: Say hello and ask when the next ferry to Svínoy is.
A: Frá Hvannasundi ella av Kirkju?
B: Say you are sailing from Hvannasund.

A: Másin siglir klokkan 6:00 í morgin.
B: Ask how long the trip takes.
A: 40 minuttir.
B: Ask whether you can buy a ticket onboard (umborð).
A: Ja, gaman í, men mann noyðist at bóka henda morguntúrin.
B: Ask how to do so.
A: Mann noyðist at ringja til telefonnummarið 50 52 08 í seinasta lagi klokkan 20 í kvøld.
B: Say you want to sail from Svínoy on Wednesday and ask what time the ferry leaves.
A: Fráfaringartíðirnar úr Svínoy eru skiftandi. Mann fær nærri upplýsingar hjá avgreiðslufólki í Svínoy ella umborð.
B: Say you understand and ask for the telephone number to book the ferry tomorrow.
A: 50 52 08.
B: Say thank you and goodbye.
A: Farvæl.

Venjing 4: Helicopter times

Look at the timetable below and answer the following questions in Faroese:

Sunnudag		Mánadag*		Mikudag		Fríggjadag
Vágar	12:00	Vágar	08:00	Vágar	09:45	Vágar	09:45
Mykines	12:11	Koltur	08:07	Mykines	09:56	Mykines	09:56
Vágar	12:22	Tórshavn	08:12	Vágar	10:07	Vágar	10:07
STEÐGUR		Klaksvík	08:24	STEÐGUR		STEÐGUR
Vágar	13:00	Svínoy	08:36	Vágar	11:10	Vágar	11:10
Koltur	13:07	Kirkja	08:40	Koltur	11:17	Koltur	11:17
Tórshavn	13:12	Hattarvík	08:42	Tórshavn	11:22	Tórshavn	11:22
Skúvoy	13:27	Klaksvík	09:00	Skúvoy	11:37	Klaksvík	11:34
St. Dímun	13:32	STEÐGUR		St. Dímun	11:42	Svínoy	11:46
Skúvoy	13:37	Klaksvík	09:30	Froðba	11:51	Kirkja	11:50
Tórshavn	13:52	Tórshavn	09:42	STEÐGUR		Hattarvík	11:53
Klaksvík	14:04	Skúvoy	09:57	Froðba	12:35	Klaksvík	12:11
STEÐGUR		St. Dímun	10:02	St. Dímun	12:44	STEÐGUR
Klaksvík	14:35	Froðba	10:11	Skúvoy	12:49	Klaksvík	13:00
Svínoy	14:47	STEÐGUR		Tórshavn	13:04	Tórshavn	13:12
Kirkja	14:51	Froðba	10:40	Klaksvík	13:16	Skúvoy	13:27
Hattarvík	14:54	St. Dímun	10:49	Svínoy	13:28	St. Dímun	13:32
Klaksvík	15:12	Skúvoy	10:54	Kirkja	13:32	Froðba	13:41
Tórshavn	15:24	Tórshavn	11:09	Hattarvík	13:35	STEÐGUR
Koltur	15:29	Koltur	11:14	Klaksvík	13:53	Froðba	14:15
Vágar	15:36	Vágar	11:21	STEÐGUR		St. Dímun	14:24
		Mykines	11:32	Klaksvík	14:40	Skúvoy	14:29
		Vágar	11:43	Tórshavn	14:52	Tórshavn	14:44
				Koltur	14:57	Koltur	14:49
				Vágar	15:04	Vágar	14:56

* Mánadagar verður einans flogið í juni, juli og august.

(a) Is it possible to fly from Tórshavn to Mykines on a Sunday?
(b) What time of year do Monday flights run?
(c) When is the earliest flight from Suðuroy to Tórshavn on Wednesday?
(d) If you were staying in Tórshavn and wanted to visit Koltur on Friday, what time would you fly and would you be able to get back the same day by helicopter?
(e) How many flights a week are there from Stóra Dímun to Skúvoy?

U-umlaut [§14.2.3]

Some nouns and adjectives with a radical a or æ change this to either an ø or o when followed by a u. The shift to o occurs before an m or n, and the shift to ø occurs in all other instances.

f. noun	nom. sg.	Anna	→ Onnu	acc. sg.
m. noun	nom. sg.	armur	→ ørmum	dat. pl
adj.	m. nom. sg. indef.	spakur	→ spøku	n. nom. pl. def.
adj.	m. nom. sg. indef.	lættur	→ løttum	m. dat. pl. indef.

The m. nom. sg. ending –ur does not cause u-umlaut (hence, armur, not ørmur).

However, many words are not affected in this way, and sometimes the shift is optional. We can say armum instead of ørmum and both forms are widely used. However, we would never say hvølum, only hvalum ('whales', dat. pl.). The accusative form of the name Magga would usually be pronounced Maggu rather than Møggu, although both forms are acceptable, and so on.

U-umlaut also occurs in some noun and adjective declensions where there is no following u. Again only the vowels a and æ are affected. The u umlaut occurs in:

(a)	nouns in	(i)	f. nom. sg.	høll (cf. f. nom. pl. hallir)
		(ii)	f. acc. sg.	høll
		(iii)	f. dat. sg.	høll
		(iv)	n. nom. pl.	børn (cf. n. nom. sg. barn)
		(v)	n. acc. pl.	børn
(b)	adjectives in	(i)	f. nom. sg. indef.	løt (cf. m. nom. sg. latur 'lazy')
		(ii)	n. nom. pl. indef.	svørt (cf. n. nom. sg. svart)
		(iii)	n. acc. pl. indef.	svørt

We can sometimes observe u-umlaut in other word classes than nouns and adjectives:

vb. inf. hava → høvdu 3. pl. pret.

You will always be understood even if you forget to use a form with u-umlaut. However, it is important to understand the umlaut process in order to use the language correctly and to find words in the dictionary. And, finally, remember that not all os and øs are the result of u-umlaut.

Venjing 5: U-umlaut

Write the dictionary forms of the underlined words in column A and the English translation of the dictionary form in column B:

		A	B
(a)	Hevur tú skrivað brøvini?	bræv	letter
(b)	Tær vøkru genturnar sita her.
(c)	Áin er ógvuliga long.
(d)	Hon fer út á gøtuna.
(e)	Vit búgva á Økrum.		name of a village
(f)	Børnini koma kl. 6.
(g)	Er tað ikki skomm?
(h)	Tey ymsu yrkini vóru ikki løtt.
(i)	Ætlar tú tær at baka eina køku?
(j)	Hevur tú farið til so nógv lond?

Samrøða 2

Track 135

Claire er í bussinum til Klaksvíkar. Hon er hugtikin av tí, sum hon sær. Á iPodinum hjá sær lurtar hon eftir einum føroyskum rokkorkestri, sum Páll hevur mælt henni til at lurta eftir. Í Skálabotni kemur ein eldri kona upp í bussin.

KONAN: Halló…
KONAN: Halló… halló… HALLÓ!

Claire tekur oyratelefonirnar burtur.

CLAIRE: Oo, orsaka. Eg hoyrdi teg slett ikki.
KONAN: Er hetta plássið upptikið?
CLAIRE: Nei. Eg skal bara taka frakkan vekk.
KONAN: Tú skuldi lagt hann í baggasjustativið har uppi.
CLAIRE: Sjálvandi. Eg roknaði ikki við, at tað fór at vera so nógv fólk við bussinum. Hann er fullur!
KONAN: Tað er tí, tað varð verkfall í gjár. Hvaðani ert tú?
CLAIRE: Úr Skotlandi.
KONAN: Hvat gert tú her?
CLAIRE: Havi feriu og vitji familju. Eg fari at vitja ommu mína í Klaksvík.
KONAN: Hvussu eitur hon?
CLAIRE: Beinta. Beinta við Skipá.
KONAN: Beinta? Var hon gift við Tummasi?
CLAIRE: Ja. Hann var abbi mín. Hann doyði í fjør. Kennir tú tey?
KONAN: Ja. Vit plagdu at fara í somu samkomu. So ert tú dóttir Maluna.

CLAIRE: Ja. Tað eri eg.
KONAN: Eg minnist Maluna sum tannáring. Hon fór til Skotlands við onkrum mannfólki.
CLAIRE: Pápa mínum. Tom MacDonald.
KONAN: Hon var pen. Langt, svart hár, eitt stórt bros. Altíð í góðum lag og syngjandi.
CLAIRE: Kundi líkst mammu. Tú kennir helst familjuna hjá mær heilt væl.
KONAN: Nei, ikki rættiliga. Vilt tú hava eitt bomm?
CLAIRE: Oo. Jú takk. Tað er ein nokk so langur túrur úr Havn til Klaksvíkar.
KONAN: Tað plagdi at vera nógv verri, áðrenn tey gjørdu tunnilin. Fyrst mátti tú við ferju úr Leirvík til Klaksvíkar; sjálvandi, tá ið eg var ung, mátti mann sigla allan vegin ímillum Klaksvík og Havn. Eingir vegir vóru tá.
CLAIRE: Eingir vegir?
KONAN: Ikki millum bygdir. Fólk mátti ganga eftir bygdagøtunum ella sigla. Bretar løgdu teir fyrstu bygdavegirnar undir krígnum. Penir vóru teir – hasir hermenninir! Ungir, sterkir og í uniformi. Altíð hjálpsamir og fólkaligir. Tað er slett ikki so undarligt, at so nógvar gentur giftust við bretskum hermonnum og fluttu úr Føroyum eftir kríggið.
CLAIRE: Ert tú gift?
KONAN: Eg var gift. Hann doyði. Tað er langt síðani. Vit áttu átta børn. Trý búgva enn í Klaksvík, tvey í Danmark, ein í Íslandi, ein í Havn, og tann yngsti sonurin býr í Skálabotni. Eg havi beint nú verið og vitjað hann í nakrar dagar. Hann hevur aling har. Hvat gjørdi tú í Havn? Hevur tú eisini familju har?
CLAIRE: Ja. Mammusystir mín býr har. Kristin Poulsen.
KONAN: Kristin? Systir mammu tína? Hana minnist eg ikki. Hvørjum er hon gift við?
CLAIRE: Jákupi. Einum danskara.
KONAN: Nei, tíverri. Eg kenni hvørki teirra.

Bussurin kemur í Norðoyartunnilin.

The bus to Klaksvík

KONAN: Hann er langur, hesin tunnilin. Fá tær nú eitt bomm.
CLAIRE: Takk. Hvar hevur tú so arbeitt?
KONAN: Við átta børnum! Hevði nóg mikið við at ganga og arbeiða heima. Onkuntíð var eg á flakavirkinum og onkuntíð í einum handli. Maðurin var sjómaður, og var ofta leingi burtur.

CLAIRE: Hatta ljóðar sum eitt strævið lív.
KONAN: Mamma mín hjálpti nógv til. Og so hevði eg eisini nógvar góðar vinir og fekk altíð eina hjálpandi hond frá kirkjufólki eisini. Gongur tú í kirkju?
CLAIRE: Eeeh. Ikki nakað serligt...
KONAN: Well, eg haldi, at eg havi ein bókling onkustaðni í taskuni. Hevur tú hug at lesa...

Orðalýsingar

abb/i (–a, –ar), m. grandfather
áðrenn, conj. before
aling (–ar, ~), f. fish-farming
baggasjustativ (–s, –0), n. luggage rack
bókling/ur (–s, –ar), m. leaflet, booklet bomm (–s, –0), n. sweet, (piece of) candy
bros (–0, –0), n. smile
bygdagøt/a (–u, –ur), f. path between villages
bygdaveg/ur (–s, –ir), m. road between villages
doyggja (doyði), vb. to die
ferj/a (–u, –ur), f. ferry fjør – see í fjør
flakavirki (–s, –[r]), n. fish filleting plant, fish factory fólkalig/ur, adj. polite frakk/i (–a, –ar), m. coat full/ur, adj. full giftast (–tist) við + dat., vb. to marry hermaður (–mans, –menn), m. soldier hjálpandi, adj. indecl. helping hjálpsam/ur, adj. helpful
hond (handar, hendur), f. hand hugtikin, past part. occupied, busy, engaged hvørki teirra neither of them
í fjør, adv. last year
í góðum lag in a good mood ikki rættiliga, adv. not really iPod/ur (–s, –ar), m. iPod
kirkjufólk, n. pl. people from church kon/a (–u, –ur), f. woman kunna líkjast, irr. vb. to sound like, resemble lag (–s, løg), n. mood leggja, irr. vb. [here:] to build leingi, adv. long, a long time
lík/ur, adj. similar to, resembling
ljóða (–aði), vb. to sound lurta (–aði) eftir + dat., vb. to listen to mæla (–ti) til, vb. to recommend mannfólk (–s, –0), n. man Norðoyartunnilin, m. def. sg. the tunnel between Eysturoy and Borðoy omm/a (–u, –ur), f. grandmother onkuntíð, adv. sometimes onkustaðni, adv. somewhere
oyratelefon (–ar, –ir), f. earphones pen/ur, adj. pretty rokkorkestur (–s, –0), m. rock band rokna (–aði) við, vb. to expect samkom/a (–u, –ur), f. congregation, church serligt, adv. particularly
sigla (–di), vb. to sail sjómaður (–mans, –menn), m. fisherman slett ikki, adv. not at all
sterk/ur, adj. strong strævin, adj. difficult, hard, trying syngjandi, adj. indecl. singing taka burtur, st. vb. to remove taka vekk, st. vb. to remove tannáring/ur (–s, –ar), m. teenager
task/a (–u, –ur), f. bag
tunnil (–s, tunlar), m. tunnel
túr/ur (–s, –ar), m. trip, journey
undarlig/ur, adj. strange
uniform/ur (–s, –ar), m. uniform upptikin, past part. taken, occupied verri, adj. worse

Venjing 6: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Claire situr í bussinum og lurtar eftir tónleiki.
(b) Taskan hjá Claire liggur á setrinum øðrumegin.
(c) Tann eldra konan kennir familjuna hjá Claire.
(d) Pápi Claire er úr Danmark.
(e) Beinta minnist mammu Claire sum eina glaða gentu.
(f) Í gomlum døgum fór mann ímillum Havn og Klaksvík við báti.
(g) Beintu dámdi ikki teir bretsku hermenninar.
(h) Tann yngsti sonurin hjá Beintu býr í Skálabotni.
(i) Beinta kennir Kristin, men ikki Jákup.
(j) Norðoyartunnilin er eitt stutt berghol.
(k) Beinta hevur ongantíð arbeitt, av tí at hon er ein ríkur arvingi ('heiress').
(l) Beinta vil fegin hava, at Claire lesur ein bókling um kristindómin.

Mállæra

Indirect speech

Direct speech	→	Indirect speech
'It's cold', said Claire		Claire said that it was cold
'Is he married?' asked Kristin		Kristin asked whether he was married

Reporting speech is quite straightforward in Faroese and very similar to English.

(a) The first thing to notice is that indirect speech is introduced by a subordinating conjunction, for example:

at	'that'	introduces a statement
um	'whether'	introduces a yes/no question

Claire segði, at tað var kalt	Claire said that it was cold
Kristin spurdi, um hann var giftur	Kristin asked whether he was married

(b) The word order in indirect speech is that of a subordinate clause. Therefore a clausal adverbial can come either before or after the finite verb:

Claire svaraði, at hann ikki var giftur	Claire answered that he wasn't married
Claire svaraði, at hann var ikki giftur	Claire answered that he wasn't married

(c) The tense of the verb changes between direct and indirect speech:

Direct	→	Indirect
present	→	preterite
tað er kalt		hon segði, at tað var kalt

present perfect eg havi verið í Paris	→	past perfect hon segði, at hon hevði verið í Paris
preterite eg var í Havn	→	past perfect hon segði, at hon hevði verið í Havn
past perfect filmurin var longu byrjaður, tá ið eg kom	→	NO CHANGE hon segði, at filmurin longu var byrjaður, tá ið hon kom

(d) Expressions of time will also change in indirect speech:

í dag fara vit til Klaksvíkar [24 hours later] → hon segði, at tey fóru til Klaksvíkar í gjár

Typical changes of expressions of time if reported on a different day:

Direct	→	Indirect
í kvøld	→	tað kvøldið
í dag	→	í gjár
nú	→	tá
fyri (einari viku) síðan	→	(eina viku) frammanundan
seinasta vikuskifti	→	næstseinasta vikuskifti
her	→	har
næsta (viku)	→	(vikuna) eftir
í morgin	→	næsta dagin, dagin eftir

(a) Pronouns will also change:

eg tosi spanskt	→	hann sigur, at hann tosar spanskt
vilt tú hava eitt kakupetti?	→	hon spurdi, um eg vildi hava eitt kakupetti

Here are some useful reporting verbs:

ákæra (–di), vb.	to accuse
viðganga, st. vb.	to admit ráða, irr. vb.	to advise
játta (–aði), vb.	to agree
pástanda, st. vb.	to allege
spyrja (spurdi), vb.	to ask
biðja, st. vb.	to beg
reypa (–aði), vb.	to boast
klaga (–aði), vb.	to complain
krevja (kravdi), vb.	to demand
nokta (–aði), vb.	to deny
greiða (greiddi), vb.	to explain
sipa (–aði) til, vb.	to imply
bjóða (–aði), vb.	to invite
gremja (gramdi) seg um, vb.	to moan, grumble
tutla (–aði), vb.	to mumble
bjóða (–aði), vb.	to offer
krevja (kravdi), vb.	to order
lova (–aði), vb.	to promise
mæla til (–ti), vb.	to recommend siga aftur, irr. vb.	to repeat
svara (–aði), vb.	to reply
siga, irr. vb.	to say
rópa (–ar; –ti), vb.	to shout
suffa (–aði), vb.	to sigh
syngja, st. vb.	to sing
fortelja, irr. vb.	to tell
teska (–aði), vb.	to whisper

Venjing 7: Indirect speech

Transform Claire's direct speech into indirect speech using a suitable reporting verb in the preterite (for example, hon segði, hon spurdi etc.):

(a) 'Eg eri so móð!'
(b) 'Hvussu hevur tú tað?'
(c) 'Tey spákaðu í Viðarlundini.'
(d) 'Eg hevði lisið bókina, áðrenn eg sá filmin.'
(e) 'Hevði tú ikki tíð?'
(f) 'Eg vil fegin ferðast til Suðuramerika.'
(g) 'Eg veit, at tú gjørdi tað!'
(h) 'Eg eri ikki úr Føroyum.'
(i) 'Hon hevur ongantíð etið sushi.'
(j) 'Nær vóru tit í India?'
(k) 'Kanst tú hjálpa mær?'
(l) 'Hví vóru tey so ímóti?'
(m) 'Hevur tú hoyrt ta nýggju fløguna hjá Pálli?'
(n) 'Kristin skrivaði ikki nakað um, at hon hevði bjóðað tær.'
(o) 'Tey vóru longu farin til Danmarkar, tá ið eg kom til Havnar.'
(p) 'Tú ert býttur!'
(q) 'Eg eri ikki smittað av fuglakrími í Fugloy.'
(r) 'Hvat feilar?'
(s) 'Tú mást gera tað!'

Venjing 8: Indirect speech

You could also try rewriting (part of) Samrøða 2 using indirect speech. Begin:

> Tann eldra konan spurdi, um plássið var upptikið. Claire svaraði, at tað var tað ikki, og at hon bara skuldi taka frakkan vekk. Konan gramdi seg um, at Claire…

The reciprocal pronoun 'each other' [§6.3]

The reciprocal pronoun is declined in Faroese:

	m.	f.	n.
acc.	hvønn annan	hvørja aðra	hvørt annað
dat.	hvørjum øðrum	hvørjari aðrari	hvørjum øðrum

For example:

Dreingirnir hata hvønn annan
'The boys hate each other'

Mamma tín og Anna búgva langt frá hvørjari aðrari
'Your mum and Anna live far from each other'

Børnini tosaðu ikki við hvørt annað
'The children did not speak to each other'

Remember that reciprocity is often expressed by an –st verb:

Tey hittast ofta	'They often meet (each other)'
Vit fara at kennast	'We are going to get to know one another'

Samrøða 3

Track 136

Bussurin kemur til Klaksvíkar. Claire tekur súkkluna og ryggsekkin og súkklar tann stutta teinin til ommuna.

OMMA: Claire, góðasta!
CLAIRE: Omma! Deiligt at síggja teg. Tú sært út sum fyrsta dagin!
OMMA: Og tú. Tú sært eisini væl út! Eitt sindur for kløn, kanska. Kom inn. Eg havi bakað eina kaku og kókað te. Set bagasjuna har.

Tær fara innar og taka aftur tað forsømda, meðan tær drekka te.

CLAIRE: Eg hitti eina konu í bussinum, sum kennir teg.
OMMA: Hvussu æt hon?
CLAIRE: Oo, tað veit eg ikki. Kirkjufólk – var hon. Hon segði, at hon eisini kendi abba.
OMMA: Hvussu sá hon út?
CLAIRE: Grátt hár og brillur. Ikki serliga stór. Hevði stav.
OMMA: Hatta kann vera hvør sum helst, sum gongur í kirkju! Hvørjum var hon í?
CLAIRE: Einum grønum frakka. Hon hevði eina hvíta tasku. Hon hevði ein stóran bommposa í taskuni.
OMMA: Snakkaði hon nógv?
CLAIRE: Ja. Alla tíðina. Eg helt, at hon ongantíð fór at halda munn. Eg hevði bara hug at lurta eftir musikki og dagdroyma, men hon royndi í einar fimtan minuttir at fáa meg at koma í kirkju.
OMMA: Oo. Tað er Mona. Hon er eitt møsn. Vit kalla hana fyri Møsni-Monu. Hvussu hevur Kristin tað?
CLAIRE: Hon hevur tað fínt. Letur heilsa. Jákup og hon eru farin ein túr til Turið og Janus í Kollafirði í nakrar dagar. Tey hjálpa teimum at mála húsini.
OMMA: Og Malan og Tom? Hvussu hava mamma tín og pápi tín tað? Hevur Tom fingið hosurnar, sum eg bant honum?
CLAIRE: Bæði hava tað fínt, og pápi elskar hosurnar. Einki er móti ullintum, føroyskum hosum. Tað sigur hann alla tíðina! Eg havi gávur við frá teimum til tín.
OMMA: Og beiggi tín? Arbeiðir alla tíðina?
CLAIRE: Andrew arbeiðir alla tíðina, ja. Tú veitst, hvussu hann er! Seinast eg sá hann, tosaði hann um at koma ein túr til Føroyar at vitja øll her uppi.
OMMA: Tað hevði verið óført. Eg havi ikki sætt hann, síðani hann bleiv liðugur sum sjúkrarøktarfrøðingur. Og hevur tú stuttleikað tær í Havn? Hvat hevur tú gjørt?

CLAIRE: Eg havi verið ymsastaðni og havi hitt nógv, fitt fólk. Faktiskt haldi eg, omma, at eg eri í ferð við at blíva forelskað.
OMMA: Claire, tað er óført! Tað mugu vit feira við einum kakupetti og temunni. So kanst tú fortelja mær alt um hann. Rætt mær tallerkin!

Orðalýsingar

binda, st. vb.	to knit
blíva forelskað/ur, st. vb.	to fall in love
bommpos/i (–a, –ar), m.	bag of sweets / candy
brillur, f. pl.	glasses
dagdroyma (–di), vb.	to daydream
deilig/ur, adj.	wonderful, lovely
faktiskt, adv.	actually
feira (–aði), vb.	to celebrate
gáv/a (–u, –ur), f.	present
halda munn, st. vb.	to be quiet, stop talking
hitta (hitti), vb.	to meet
hos/a (–u, –ur), f.	(men's) socks
hvør sum helst, pron.	anyone
hvørjum var hon í?	what was she wearing?
kakupetti (–s, –[r]), n.	piece of cake
klæn/ur, adj.	thin
kóka (–aði), vb.	to boil, make (tea)
lata heilsa, st. vb.	to send one's regards
liðug/ur, adj.	finished
mála (–aði), vb.	to paint
møsn (–s, –0), n.	chatterbox, someone who talks nonsense
ófør/ur, adj.	great, super
rætta (rætti), vb.	to pass, hand
royna (–di), vb.	to try
ryggsekk/ur (–jar, –ir), m.	rucksack
seinast, adv.	last time, most recently
síggja út, st. vb.	to look (of appearance)
sjúkrarøktarfrøðing/ur (–s, –ar), m.	nurse
snakka (–aði), vb.	to talk, chat
stav/ur (–s, –ar), m.	walking-stick
stutt/ur, adj.	short
stuttleika (–aði) sær, vb.	to have a good time, amuse oneself
sum fyrsta dagin	like one's old self
taka aftur tað forsømda, st. vb.	to catch up tallerk/ur (–s, –ar), m.	plate
tein/ur (–s, –ar), m.	distance, length of road
tekopp/ur (–kops, –ar), m.	cup of tea
ullint/ur, adj.	woollen
vera í ferð við at... + inf., irr. vb	to be (in the process of) ...ing
ymsastaðni, adv.	different places

Venjing 9: Spurningar

(a) Hvat heldur omma Claire um útsjónd ('appearance') hennara?
(b) Hvussu sá Beinta út sambært Claire?
(c) Hvat merkir 'eitt møsn'?
(d) Hví eru Kristin og Jákup hjá dóttur síni?
(e) Dámar pápanum føroyskar hosur?
(f) Hvørjar feriuætlanir ('holiday plans') hevur beiggi Claire?
(g) Hvat er tað nýggjasta úr Havn, ið Claire fegin vil fortelja ommu sínari?

Mállæra

Describing people

When we want to ask about someone's physical appearance, we say hvussu sær hann/hon út? 'what does he / she look like?'. We can respond using an adjective or a phrase with a noun. We're sure you remember to inflect the adjective for gender by now!

HEIGHT / HÆDD (–ar, –ir), f.:

medium height	miðalstórur	tall	høgur
short	lágur	tallish	heldur høgur
shortish	heldur stuttur

BUILD / LIMALAG (–s, –løg), n.:

fat	feitur	skinny	kaldarak, indecl.
frail	skroypiligur	slim, thin	klænur
obese	ovurfeitur, spikafeitur	stocky	breiður
plump	hyldligur	well-built	vøddamikil, væl bygdur, kraftigur, prúður

AGE / ALDUR (–s, aldrar), m.:

elderly	...nakað við aldur	middle-aged	...um miðjan aldur
in 20s	í tjúgunum	teenager	tannáring/ur (–s, –ar), m.
in 40s	í fjørutunum	young	ungur

We can use a phrase such as andlitið á honum / henni er... 'his / her face is...':

freckled	frøknut	spotty (with acne)	pirrut
oval	avlangt, eggrunt	square	fýrkantað
pale	bleikt	sun-tanned	sólbrent
round	runt	wrinkled	rukkut

Or hann / hon hevur ... eygu 'he / she has ... eyes':

big	stór	green	grøn
black	svørt	grey	grá
blood-shot	blóðsprongd	hazel	ljósabrún
blue	blá	narrow	smøl
bright	bjørt	round	rund
brown	brún	small	lítil

Or hárið á honum / henni er... 'his / her hair is...':

curly	purlut	straight	slætt
permed	permanentað	wavy	bylgjandi
spiky	spískt

Or hann er skallutur 'he's bald', hann gongur við parúkki 'he's wearing a wig'.

We can also describe someone's appearance using the preposition við 'with' followed by the dative case:

a man with a beard	ein maður við skeggi
a girl with plaits	ein genta við flættum
a boy with glasses	ein drongur við brillum
a woman with a moustache	ein kvinna við yvirskeggi
a child with red hair	eitt barn við reyðum hári
a nurse with green eyes	ein sjúkrasystir við grønum eygum
a fisherman with broad shoulders	ein útróðrarmaður við breiðum herðum

Such expressions can often be turned into single adjectives or nouns:

with red hair	→	red-haired	við reyðum hári	→	reyðhærdur
with blue eyes	→	blue-eyed	við bláum eygum	→	bláoygdur
man with a beard	→	bearded man	maður við skeggi	→	skeggmaður

The Faroese words for parts of the body are listed in Unit 10.

To ask what someone is wearing, say hvørjum er hann/hon í? 'what is he / she wearing?'. The verb 'to wear' is vera í + dat. These phrases are not usually followed by an article. However, vera ílatin 'to be dressed in, wearing' is followed by the accusative and an indefinite article:

I'm wearing a black t-shirt	eg eri í svartari skjúrtu
she was wearing a Faroese jumper	hon var í føroyskari troyggju
he is wearing brown shoes	hann gongur í brúnum skóm
she's dressed in a pink leather jacket	hon er ílatin ein ljósareyðan leðurjakka

The Faroese words for items of clothing are listed in Unit 9. The following adjectives may also be of use:

casual	gáloysin	shabby	slitin
messy	ónossligur	smart	fínur
scruffy	skurvutur	tidy	hampiligur

We may also be interested in non-physical qualities and ask hvussu er han / hon? or hvat er hann / hon fyri ein? 'what is he / she like?'. Here are some adjectives to describe character:

active	lívligur	cheerful	glaður
aggressive	ágangandi	clumsy	lorkutur
ambitious	stórrætlaður	confident	sannførdur
boring	keðiligur	crafty	snúin
broadminded	tollyntur	curious	forvitin
careful	ansin, varin	dull	keðiligur
careless	líkasælur	energetic	ágrýtin

friendly	fittur
generous	gávumildur
gentle	blíður
hard-working	íðin
imaginative	fantasifullur
in a bad mood	í ringum lag
in a good mood	í góðum lag
independent	sjálvstøðugur
intelligent	klókur
loyal	trúfastur
modest	smákrevjin
moody	lúnutur
naive	bláoygdur
practical	praktiskur
reliable	álítandi
secretive	hulin
self-centred	sjálvglaður
self-controlled	...sum hevur tamarhald á sær sjálvum
selfish	sjálvgóður
sensible	skilagóður
sensitive	viðkvæmur, kenslusamur
shy	smæðin
strong-minded	sjálvstøðugur
stubborn	treiskur, tvørur
stupid	býttur
tolerant	umberandi
tough	áhaldin
trusting	góðtrúgvin
worried	stúrin

Venjing 10: Describing people

(a) Describe the physical appearance and character of someone you admire.
(b) Describe the physical appearance and character of someone you do not like.
(c) Describe yourself.
(d) Place the following adjectives in two columns: one for positive and one for negative characteristics:

ágangandi	bláoygdur	býttur	fittur	gávumildur	glaður
í ringum lag	íðin	keðiligur	klókur	lívligur	lorkutur
lúnutur	sannførdur	sjálvglaður	sjálvgóður	smákrevjin	snúin
tollyntur	treiskur	trúfastur	umberandi

The imperative mood [§7.17]

The imperative mood is used to express a command:

Give me the book! Put your hands up! Don't speak with your mouth full!

The Faroese imperative is constructed like this:

	Singular	Plural
Group 1 verbs	–a	–ið
All other verbs	–0

Tosa við meg!	Talk to me!
Flyt borðið nú!	Move the table now!
Smílið!	Smile!
Rógvið bara!	Just row!
Trúgvið á meg!	Believe in me!
Et, et!	Eat, eat!

Legg lítt til lítt og ger tað títt, so verður tað mikið
'Add a little bit by bit and do it often, then it'll become much' (proverb)

Note the two following irregular verbs:

ganga	→	gakk! (sg.)	gangið! (pl.)
halda	→	halt! (sg.)	haldið! (pl.)

Halt fast við tað, sum tú hevur	Hold on to what you've got
Gangið ikki í grasinum, men á gøtuni	Don't walk on the grass, but on the path

In order to say 'let's...', we use lat okkum (formal language latum okkum):

Lat okkum saman halda	Let's stand together
Lat okkum bera høvdið høgt	Let's keep our heads high
Latum okkum biðja	Let us pray

Venjing 11: The imperative

Below is the recipe for a cheesecake. Look at the cooking instructions and fill in the gaps with the imperative form of the verb in the brackets – first in the singular and then in the plural.

Ostakaka

17 keksir 'digestive'	100 gr smør	125 gr rómaostur
120 gr florsukur	1 tsk vaniljusukur	1 dl súrrómi
1 pk rómi	1 pk sitrónlopi	1 pk jarðberlopi

- _____ [(a) kóka] 21/2 dl vatn og _____ [(á) koyra] sitrónlopa í. _____ [(b) røra] runt og _____ [(d) lata] kølna (tað skal verða kalt til brúks), men _____ [(ð) røra] ofta í.
- _____ *[(e) gera] botn (*_____ [(f) brúka] ein stóran randform):
- _____ [(g) knúsa] 17 keksir í blendara ella plastikkposa og _____ [(h) koyra] í eitt ílat.
- _____ [(i) smelta] smørið í eini grýtu – ikki _____ [(í) steikja]! – og _____ [(j) stoyta] í ílati. _____ [(k) røra] tað runt sum frægast, tað kemur ikki saman. _____ [(l) stoyta] tað í formin og _____ *[(m) gera] botn (*_____ [(n) trýsta] tað væl saman).
- _____ [(o) røra] síðan í miksaranum: rómaostin, 120 gr florsukur og vaniljusukur væl saman. _____ [(ó) koyra] so súrróma í og _____ [(p) lata] røra. _____ [(r) piska] róman og _____ [(s) koyra] hann í. Síðst er tann sitrónlopi, sum er blivin kaldur, _____ [(t) stoyta] tann í.

- Nú skal hetta stoytast í formin, og síðan setast kalt, til tað er ordiliga stívt, og tað kann taka ein dag. Ger mann hatta um morgunin, so kann mann stoyta jarðberlopa útyvir um kvøldið.
- Seinast:
  _____ [(u) kóka] vatn 5 dl og _____ [(ú) gera] jarðberlopa og _____ [(v) lata] kølna (men _____ [(y) røra] av og til). Tað kólnar skjótast í vatnba_í. _____ [(ý) stoyta] yvir, tá ið tað er kalt og _____ [(æ) seta] aftur at kølna.
- Tá kakan skal brúkast, _____ [(ø) loysa] so ringin spakuliga, _____ [(å) skera] runt kantin.

Væl gagnist!

Orðalýsingar

av og til, adv.	now and then	randform/ur (–s, –ar), m.	spring-form cake tin blendar/i (–a, –ar), m.	blender	ring/ur (–s, –ar), m.	ring botn/ur (–s, –ar), m.	bottom	róm/i (–a, ~), m.	cream
brúk (–s, –0), n.	use	rómaost/ur (–s, –ar), m.	cream cheese
brúka (–ti), vb.	to use	røra (–di), vb.	to stir florsukur (–s, ~), n.	icing sugar, powdered sugar	skera, st. vb.	to cut smelta (–aði), vb.	to melt
grýt/a (–u, –ur), f.	pan	spakuliga, adv.	gently, carefully ílat (–s, íløt), n.	container	steikja, irr. vb.	to fry kant/ur (–s, –ar), m.	edge	stív/ur, adj.	stiff, set keks (–ar, –ir), f.	biscuit, cookie	stoyta (stoytti), vb.	to pour knúsa (–ar, –ti), vb.	to crush	stoytast (stoyttist), vb.	to be poured kóka (–aði), vb.	to boil	sum frægast	as well as possible kólna (–aði), vb.	to cool	súrróm/i (–a, ~), m.	crème fraîche, smetana koyra (–di) í, vb.	to put in, add lop/i (–a, ~), m.	jelly, jello	trýsta (–ti), vb.	to press, push loysa (–ti), vb.	to loosen	væl gagnist	enjoy! bon appétit!
miksar/i (–a, –ar), m.	food-mixer	vaniljusukur (–s, ~), n.	sugar flavoured with vanilla
ordiliga, adv.	properly
píska (–aði), vb.	to whip	vatnbað (–s, –0), n.	water bath
plastikkpos/i (–a, –ar), m.	plastic bag

The letter combinations ll and nn and the letter s

1. Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letters ll:

Track 137

Páll	ímillum	ullintur	halló
fullur	kalla	høll	brillur
verkfall	Kollafjørður	billett	bolli
allir	øll	knallert	ball ('dance')
ella	fjallið	mállæra	pillari ('pill')

2. Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letters nn:

Track 138

hann	kunna	Anna	tannáringur
finna	tjekka inn	henni	tunnil
Keypmannahavn	Hvannasund	kenna	oynna
mann	sunnudagur	minnast	seinni

3. Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letter s:

Track 139

avsláttur	skulu	ísur	til borðs
reseptiónistur	so	Ísland	vísti ('showed')
stólur	kanst	fyrsti	nýtsla ('use')
bussur	pláss	motorsúkkla	veitsla ('feast')
Klaksvík	hvussu	Tórshavn	oysti ('poured')
arbeiðstíð	seks	mars	trýss

Lesistykki 1

Track 140

Tyrlan
– Góð ráð –

Ferðandi
Ferðaseðlar til tyrluna skulu bíleggjast á telefon 34 10 60.
Har fáast eisini upplýsingar um prísir og annað.
Ferðaseðilin verður goldin og útflýggjaður á tyrlupallinum áðrenn fráferð. Tað er umráðandi, at tygum møta rættstundis, 20 min. fyri fráferð, soleiðis at pallleiðarin hevur góðar stundir at skriva ferðaseðlarnar út og gera annað fyrireikingararbeiði, áðrenn tyrlan fer.

Viðføri / Frakt
Hvør ferðandi hevur loyvi at hava 20 kg av viðføri við sær.
Eykagjald verður kravt fyri yvirvekt.
Skal einans frakt sendast við tyrluni, er eisini neyðugt at bíleggja pláss.
Tað er sera umráðandi, at tygum upplýsa, hvat slag av viðføri/frakt tygum senda. Vekt, støddog um fraktin er óhandalig. Heitt verður á øll um at pakka viðføri/frakt soleiðis, at hon ikki dálkar, annars kann manningin nokta at taka hana við.

Húsdjór o.a.
Smærri húsdjór verða bert tikin við, um tey eru í kurv ella eskju.

Orðalýsingar

dálka (–aði), vb.	to make dirty, soil
eskj/a (–u, –ur), f.	box
eykagjald (–s, –gjøld), n.	extra payment ferðandi, pres. part. used as indecl. noun.	traveller
frakt (–ar, ~), f.	freight
fráferð (–ar, –ir), f.	departure
fyrireikingararbeiði (–s, –[r]), n.	preparatory work
heita (–ti) á + acc., vb.	to call upon
húsdjór (–s, –0), n.	pet
hvat slag av + dat.	what sort of krevja, irr. vb.	to require, demand
kurv (–ar, –ar), f.	basket
loyvi (–s, ~), n.	permission
manning (–ar, –ar), f.	crew
neyðug/ur, adj.	necessary
nokta (–aði), vb.	to refuse
o.a.	= og annað
óhandalig/ur, adj.	unwieldy, awkward to handle
pallleiðar/i (–a, –ar), m.	helipad manager
ráð (–s, –0), n.	[piece of] advice
rættstundis, adv.	punctually
støddd (–ar, –ir), f.	size
tyrlupall/ur (–pals, –ar), m.	helipad
umráðandi, adj. indecl.	important
upplýsa (–ti), vb.	to inform. tell
upplýsing (–ar, –ar), f.	[piece of] information
útflýggja (–aði), vb.	to dispense, distribute
vekt (–ar, –ir), f.	weight
viðføri (–s, –[r]), n.	luggage, baggage *
yvirvekt (–ar, –ir), f.	excess weight

* Another common word for luggage / baggage is baggasj/a (–u, ~), f.

Venjing 12: Spurningar

(a) How do you reserve a place on a flight?
(b) Where can you get information about ticket prices?
(c) How early before a flight should you be at the helipad and why?
(d) How much luggage / baggage can you take with you?
(e) Is it possible to take your pet rabbit on a flight with you?

Lesistykki 2

Track 141

Blaðgreinir

FRÆTTINDA-BLAÐIÐ

Tíðliga leygarmorgunin varð ein maður tikin fyri rúsdrekka-koyring.

Løgreglan steðgaði einum bili í Vágatunlinum, og tað vísti seg, at bilførarin var ávirkaður. Hann kann tí rokna við at missa koyrikortið.

Prýðilig brúgv um Stórá niðan á Mýrarnar

Sørvingar hava gjørt nýggja brúgv um Stórá beint oman fyri tann gamla svimjihylin. Gamla brúgvin varð eins og gamli vegurin gjørd undir krígnum og hevði bert eina breyt. Hetta er ikki nøktandi, nú ferðslan niðan á Mýrar er økt munandi. Vegføringin niðan á Mýrarnar og til barnagarðin er nú heilt broytt: vegurin er breiður, og eingin brekka er longur á vegnum, tí brúgvin er lyft so mikið upp, at brekkan er burtur.

Tunnilin til Sandoynna – ein ræðulig vanlukka fyri náttúruna

Fuglalívið í Sandoynni er í vanda. Tá ið tann nýggi tunnilin til oynna er veruleiki, koma rottur í oynna á fyrsta sinni nakrantíð og tá verður fuglurin týndur. Rotturnar kunnu møguliga ganga ígjøgnum tunnilin, men mest sannlíkt er, at tær koma við í tí stóru ferðsluni (serliga í lastbilunum), sum tá verður. Um so verður, er hetta størsti skaðin á fuglalívið, sum er gjørdur av mannaávum í nýggjari tíð. Fyrstu rotturnar komu til Føroya við einum vraki, sum rak á land í Suðuroy í 1768. Tær nørdust skjótt, vuksu í tali og komu til aðrar oyggjar, men enn eru nakrar rottuleysar oyggjar (nevniliga Fugloy, Koltur, Hestur, Mykines, Sandoy, Skúvoy, Svínoy, St. Dímun og L. Dímun). Hesar oyggjar hava nógvan fugl, men so hvørt sum sambandið millum oyggjarnar gerst betri, veksur vandin fyri, at rottur eisini verða fluttar til hesar oyggjar og tá kemur fuglurin í vanda.

Rattus norvegicus ella brúna rottan

Orðalýsingar

ávirkað/ur, past part.	under the influence (of alcohol)
barnagarð/ur (–s, –ar), m.	kindergarten, nursery
bert, adv.	only, merely
bilførar/i (–a, –ar), m.	car driver
breið/ur, adj.	wide
brekk/a (–u, –ur), f.	slope
breyt (–ar, –ir), f.	lane
broyta (–ti), vb.	to change
burtur, adv.	gone, away
ferðsl/a (–u, ~), f.	traffic
frættindi (–s, –[r]), n.	news
fuglalív (–s, –0), n.	bird life
gjørd/ur av manna-ávum, past part.	man-made, caused by humans
koyrikort (–s, –0), n.	driver's licence
lastbil/ur (–s, –ar), m.	lorry, truck
løgregl/a (–u, –ur), f.	police
lyfta (lyfti) upp, vb.	to lift up
mannaávum	– see gjørd/ur av m.
missa (misti), vb.	to lose
munandi, adv.	significantly
møguliga, adv.	possibly
nakrantíð, adv.	ever
nevniliga, adv.	that is, namely, viz.
nøktandi, adj. indecl.	satisfactory
nørast (–dist), vb.	to increase
prýðilig/ur, adj.	pretty
reka á land, st. vb.	to drift ashore
rott/a (–u, –ur), f.	rat
rottuleys/ur, adj.	rat-free
rúsdrekkakoyring (–ar, ~), f.	drunk-driving
ræðulig/ur, adj.	terrible
samband (–s, –bond), n.	connection
sannlík/ur, adj.	probable, likely
serliga, adv.	especially
sinni (–s, –[r]), n.	time
skað/i (–a, –ar), m.	damage
so hvørt sum	as (soon as)
sørving/ur (–s, –ar), m.	person from Sørvágur
steðga (–aði), vb.	to stop
svimjihyl/ur (–s, –jar), m.	swimming pool
týnd/ur, past part.	wiped out, annihilated
Vágatunnilin, m. sg. def.	tunnel linking Vágar and Streymoy
vaksa, st. vb.	to grow
vand/i (–a, –ar), m.	danger
vanlukk/a (–u, –ur), f.	accident
vegføring (–ar, –ar), f.	roadway
veruleik/i (–a, –ar), m.	reality
vísa (–ti) seg, vb.	to seem
vrak (–s, –0), n.	wreck
økja (økti), vb.	to increase

Venjing 13: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Maðurin, ið varð tikin í Vágatunlinum, missir ikki koyrikortið.
(b) Tann gamli vegurin í Sørvági varð gjørdur undir krígnum.
(c) Tann gamla brúgvin í Sørvági var ov breið.
(d) Nú er meiri ferðsla á Mýrarnar enn áður.
(e) Mann finnur rottur allastaðni í Føroyum.
(f) Rottur eru ikki góðar fyri náttúruna, av tí at tær eta ungfugl.
(g) Fyrstu rotturnar komu til Føroya við flogfari.

Lesistykki 3 [+ Venjing 14]

Track 142

Hvør er Kai?

Mona kemur inn á løgreglustøðina.

MONA: Kai hjá mær er burtur!
LØGREGLUMAÐUR: Nú so! Hvussu sær hann út?
MONA: Hann hevur stórt, runt høvd og stór oyru. Eyguni eru brún og rund. Nøsin er lítil. Munnurin er breiður. Varrarnar eru reyðar. Hálsurin er stuttur og tjúkkur, og herðarnar eru breiðar. Armarnir eru langir – teir røkka næstan heilt niður á jørðina. Fingrarnir eru langir og beinini stutt. Kroppurin er rundur og brúnur. Hann hevur nógv myrkt hár. Tenninar eru sterkar og hvítar. Hann var ikki í klæðum.
LØGREGLUMAÐUR: Ná – var hann spilnakin?
MONA: Nei, hann var í einum baseballkeppi.
LØGREGLUMAÐUR: Hvussu gamal er hann?
MONA: Hann er fimm ár.
LØGREGLUMAÐUR: Men Mona, hetta er jú ein…

Tekna Kai!

Orðalýsingar

baseballkepp/ur (–keps, –ar), m.	baseball cap
jørð (jarðar, jarðir), f.	ground; earth
røkka, st. vb.	to reach
tekna (–aði), vb.	to draw

Veitst tú at?

There are some 13 tunnels (tunlar), one inter-insular bridge (brúgv) and two causeways (byrgingar) on the Faroe Islands:

Name	Year built	Length	Connecting
Hvalbiartunnilin	1963	1450 m	Hvalba – Trongisvágur
Borðoyartunlarnir	1965–67	3800 m	Klaksvík – Árnafjørður – Hvannasund / Norðdepil
Sandvíkartunnilin	1969	1500 m	Sandvík – Hvalba
Norðskálatunnilin	1976	2520 m	Norðskáli – Millum Fjarða (valley)
Leynartunnilin	1977	760 m	Leynar – Kollfjarðardalur (valley)
Kalsoyartunlarnir	1979–85	5426 m	Trøllanes–Mikladalur–Húsar – Djúpidalur (valley)
Leirvíkartunnilin	1985	2238 m	Leirvík – Gøta
Kunoyartunnilin	1988	3031 m	Kunoy – Haraldssund
Kollfjarðartunnilin	1992	2816 m	Kollafjørður – Kaldbaksbotnur
Sumbiartunnilin	1997	3240 m	Sumba – Lopra
Vágatunnilin	2002	4900 m	Leynar – Fútaklett
Gásadalstunnilin	2005	1410 m	Gásadalur – Bøur
Norðoyatunnilin	2006	6300 m	Klaksvík – Leirvík
Bridges
Brúgvin um Streymin	1973	220 m	Oyrabakki – Nesvík
Causeways
Byrging um Hvannasund	1975	220 m	Hvannasund – Norðdepil
Byrging um Haraldssund	1986	350 m	Haraldssund – Strond

15 Aftur heim til Skotlands?

Back home to Scotland?

Track 143

In this unit you will learn about:

- the present participle (the –ing form)
- expressing wishes
- the subjunctive (optative mood)
- writing letters
- the letter combinations kk, kkj, pp and tt

Samrøða 1

Track 144

Claire sigur farvæl við ommuna.

OMMA: Hevur tú pakkað alt, Claire?
CLAIRE: Ja, alt er klárt.
OMMA: Og tú hevur minst til handskarnar til pápa tín?
CLAIRE: Ja.
OMMA: Hvussu við bindingarmynstrunum til mammu tína?
CLAIRE: Eg havi koyrt tey í ryggsekkin.
OMMA: Og tann turra fiskin til beiggja tína?
CLAIRE: Ja, eisini hann er niðurpakkaður.
OMMA: Og hevur tú fingið tær frukt og kaku at eta í bussinum, um tú verður svong?
CLAIRE: Ja, omma.
OMMA: Og tú ert sikkur upp á, at tú finnur bussin?
CLAIRE: Sjálvandi. Klaksvíkin er ikki so stór! Eg eri vís í, at eg ikki villist.
OMMA: Ja, so er. Eg stúri ov nógv.
CLAIRE: Eg ringi í kvøld frá Kristin og teimum, so tú veitst, at eg eri komin fram í øllum góðum.
OMMA: Takk. Tað hevði verið óført. Eg fari út umleið klokkan seks, so tú mást ringja áðrenn tá.
CLAIRE: Hvagar fert tú?
OMMA: Eg havi ein motiónstíma tá.
CLAIRE: Motiónstíma? Tað er ikki aerobikk, ha? Tað vil eg ikki hopa!
OMMA: Jesus Kristus, nei! Vit sita á stólum og veipa við ørmunum. Eg fari bara, tí vit fáa te og kaku aftaná.
CLAIRE: Ha ha!
OMMA: Well, tað krevur nakað, at vera í so góðum formi, sum eg eri í! Tú heldur ikki, at eg geri fimleik fyri at síggja soleiðis út, ha? Eg noyðist at eta nógva kaku hvønn tann einasta dag!
CLAIRE: Ha ha! Omma! Eg vildi ynskt, at tú búði í Edinburgh. Eg sakni skemtið hjá tær.
OMMA: Well, tú skuldi kanska hugsað um at flutt til Føroyar, tá ið tú ert liðug at lesa. Eftir tað, sum tú hevur sagt um Jógvan, so ljóðar tað sum um, at tú hevur eina góða grund til at flyta higar einaferð í framtíðini!

Veitst tú at?

There are some 13 tunnels (tunlar), one inter-insular bridge (brúgv) and two causeways (byrgingar) on the Faroe Islands:

Name	Year built	Length	Connecting
Hvalbiartunnilin	1963	1450 m	Hvalba – Trongisvágur
Borðoyartunlarnir	1965–67	3800 m	Klaksvík – Árnafjørður – Hvannasund / Norðdepil
Sandvíkartunnilin	1969	1500 m	Sandvík – Hvalba
Norðskálatunnilin	1976	2520 m	Norðskáli – Millum Fjarða (valley)
Leynartunnilin	1977	760 m	Leynar – Kollfjarðardalur (valley)
Kalsoyartunlarnir	1979–85	5426 m	Trøllanes–Mikladalur–Húsar – Djúpidalur (valley)
Leirvíkartunnilin	1985	2238 m	Leirvík – Gøta
Kunoyartunnilin	1988	3031 m	Kunoy – Haraldssund
Kollfjarðartunnilin	1992	2816 m	Kollafjørður – Kaldbaksbotnur
Sumbiartunnilin	1997	3240 m	Sumba – Lopra
Vágatunnilin	2002	4900 m	Leynar – Fútaklett
Gásadalstunnilin	2005	1410 m	Gásadalur – Bøur
Norðoyatunnilin	2006	6300 m	Klaksvík – Leirvík
Bridges
Brúgvin um Streymin	1973	220 m	Oyrabakki – Nesvík
Causeways
Byrging um Hvannasund	1975	220 m	Hvannasund – Norðdepil
Byrging um Haraldssund	1986	350 m	Haraldssund – Strond

15 Aftur heim til Skotlands?

Back home to Scotland?

Track 143

In this unit you will learn about:

- the present participle (the –ing form)
- expressing wishes
- the subjunctive (optative mood)
- writing letters
- the letter combinations kk, kkj, pp and tt

Samrøða 1

Track 144

Claire sigur farvæl við ommuna.

OMMA: Hevur tú pakkað alt, Claire?
CLAIRE: Ja, alt er klárt.
OMMA: Og tú hevur minst til handskarnar til pápa tín?
CLAIRE: Ja.
OMMA: Hvussu við bindingarmynstrunum til mammu tína?
CLAIRE: Eg havi koyrt tey í ryggsekkin.
OMMA: Og tann turra fiskin til beiggja tína?
CLAIRE: Ja, eisini hann er niðurpakkaður.
OMMA: Og hevur tú fingið tær frukt og kaku at eta í bussinum, um tú verður svong?
CLAIRE: Ja, omma.
OMMA: Og tú ert sikkur upp á, at tú finnur bussin?
CLAIRE: Sjálvandi. Klaksvíkin er ikki so stór! Eg eri vís í, at eg ikki villist.
OMMA: Ja, so er. Eg stúri ov nógv.
CLAIRE: Eg ringi í kvøld frá Kristin og teimum, so tú veitst, at eg eri komin fram í øllum góðum.
OMMA: Takk. Tað hevði verið óført. Eg fari út umleið klokkan seks, so tú mást ringja áðrenn tá.
CLAIRE: Hvagar fert tú?
OMMA: Eg havi ein motiónstíma tá.
CLAIRE: Motiónstíma? Tað er ikki aerobikk, ha? Tað vil eg ikki hopa!
OMMA: Jesus Kristus, nei! Vit sita á stólum og veipa við ørmunum. Eg fari bara, tí vit fáa te og kaku aftaná.
CLAIRE: Ha ha!
OMMA: Well, tað krevur nakað, at vera í so góðum formi, sum eg eri í! Tú heldur ikki, at eg geri fimleik fyri at síggja soleiðis út, ha? Eg noyðist at eta nógva kaku hvønn tann einasta dag!
CLAIRE: Ha ha! Omma! Eg vildi ynskt, at tú búði í Edinburgh. Eg sakni skemtið hjá tær.
OMMA: Well, tú skuldi kanska hugsað um at flutt til Føroyar, tá ið tú ert liðug at lesa. Eftir tað, sum tú hevur sagt um Jógvan, so ljóðar tað sum um, at tú hevur eina góða grund til at flyta higar einaferð í framtíðini!

CLAIRE: Omma! Nú tvætlar tú! Hygga síggj. Eg má fara, annars verði eg ov sein til bussin.
OMMA: Ja, far á súkkluna. Ansa eftir tær sjálvari, góðasta.
CLAIRE: Eisini tú, omma.
OMMA: Og heilsa Kristin og familjuni í Havn.
CLAIRE: Tað geri eg. Hav tað gott, omma. Eg ringi í kvøld.
OMMA: Áðrenn klokkan seks.
CLAIRE: Ja, eg skal minnast til tað.
OMMA: Farvæl, góðasta.
CLAIRE: Farvæl.
OMMA: Góðan túr!

Orðalýsingar

aerobikk (aerobiks, ~), n. aerobics ansa (–aði) eftir + dat., vb. to take care of, look after; beware of bindingarmynstur (–s, –0), n. knitting pattern fimleik/ur (–s, ~), m. fitness flyta, irr. vb. to move form/ur (–s, –ar), m. shape framtíð (–ar, –ir), f. future
góðan túr! have a good trip! bon voyage!
hopa (–aði), vb. to hope hygga síggj, interj. well (indeed) í øllum góðum, adv. okay, in one piece klár/ur, adj. ready
koma fram, st. vb. to arrive koyra (–di), vb. [here:] to put *
ljóða (–aði), vb. to sound
minnast (mintist), vb. to remember
motiónstím/i (–a, –ar), m. gym class niðurpakkaður, past part. packed pakka (–aði), vb. to pack ryggsekk/ur (–sekkjar, –ir), m. rucksack sakna (–aði), vb. to miss sein/ur, adj.  late sikkur, adj. sure
skemt (–s, ~), n. good sense of humour
stúra (–di), vb. to worry, be afraid tvætla (–aði), vb. to talk nonsense
umleið, adv. about
veipa (–aði), vb. to wave one's arms about villast (viltist), vb. to get lost vís/ur, adj. certain

* The verb koyra is used with many different meanings in Faroese:
1. to drive – koyra buss; koyra bil; koyra gravimaskinu 'excavator'
2. to transport – hann verður koyrdur á sjúkrahúsið
3. to run (be vehicle in motion) – bussarnir koyra eisini á ólavsøku
4. to travel (by means of transport) – í Fraklandi koyra nógv fólk við toki ('train')
5. to move – hann koyrdi armin burtur
6. to put (in), shove (in) – hon koyrdi sigarettpakkan í lumman; koyr hann í skansan! ('in jail')
7. to drive off, force away – kvinnan varð koyrd av bygdini
8. to pour – skal eg koyra eitt sindur av mjólk í koppin?

 ov sein/ur (lit.: 'too late'): In English, we say that we are late for something; in Faroese, it is necessary to say that we are too late for something. This is in fact rather logical! There is a difference between arriving late (for example, in the evening) and arriving too late (for example, after the event).

Venjing 1: Rætt ella skeivt?

(a) Claire hevur gloymt gávurnar til familjuna.
(b) Hon hevur fingið sær mat til túrin til Havnar.
(c) Klaksvík er ein stórur býur.
(d) Omma Claire stúrir ikki.
(e) Claire má ringja til ommu sína eftir klokkan seks.
(f) Omma Claire íðkar fimleik.
(g) Omma er ógvuliga kløn.
(h) Claire er glað um, at omma hennara ikki býr í Skotlandi.
(i) Claire má heilsa mostur sínari frá ommu.
(j) Omma ynskir Claire ein góðan túr.

Mállæra

Present participle (the –ing form) [§4.7, 4.9, 7.15]

The present participle is constructed by adding the ending –andi to the stem of the verb:

tosa	→	tosandi	'talking'
droyma	→	droymandi	'dreaming'
flenna	→	flennandi	'laughing'
krevja	→	krevjandi	'demanding'

The present participle is not inflected:

stoyt kókandi vatn omaná	pour boiling water on top
tað brennandi ljósið	the burning candle
ein koppur av vælsmakkandi kaffi	a cup of tasty (lit.: good-tasting) coffee

Notice that a present participle sometimes does not have a corresponding verb form:

tað var ófrásigandi torført that was indescribably difficult (there is no such verb as ófrásiga *'to indescribe')

The present participle can often be found in conjunction with a verb of motion or verða/blíva:

hann kom leypandi yvir móti mær	he came running over to me
vit runnu skríggjandi burt	we ran away screaming
Føroyar fara haltandi inn í nýggju øldina	The Faroes limp (lit.: 'go limping') into the new century
hon bleiv sitandi har í 3 tímar	she stayed (was sitting) there for 3 hours
henda kirkjan varð standandi til 1715	this church remained (standing) until 1715

The present participle can also express capability:

vatnið er ikki drekkandi	the water is undrinkable (cannot be drunk)
upplýsingarnar eru atkomandi	the information is accessible (can be accessed) ein sera álitandi kelda	a very reliable source (can be relied upon) her verður ikki sitandi	it will not be possible to sit here (cannot be sitting)
tað er illa etandi	it's hardly edible (can hardly be eaten)

Like some other adjectives, some present participles are used nominally, that is as nouns:

ein ferðandi	a traveller (someone travelling)
ein vitjandi	a guest (someone visiting)
ein studerandi	a student (someone studying) ein dansktalandi	a Danish-speaker (someone speaking Danish)

Even when used as nouns, present participles do not decline:

Nógv ferðandi til Føroyar komu úr Týsklandi, Bretlandi og Fraklandi
'Many tourists to the Faroe Islands came from Germany, Britain and France'

The present participle can also be used as an adverb:

Tónleikurin var ótolandi hart frá	The music is intolerably loud

It is important to remember that Faroese does not make use of the present participle as English does to form a continuous tense ('I'm eating', 'I have been waiting'). Faroese uses either the simple form (eg eti, eg havi bíðað) or a circumlocution (eg siti og eti, eg havi staðið og bíðað).

Venjing 2: Present participle

Write the verbs in brackets in their present participle form:

(a) Genturnar komu (leypa) oman gøtuna.
(b) Brævið var ikki (lesa).
(c) Hon tolir ikki (skríggja) børn.
(d) Eingin kann vita, um tey eru (liva) ella ikki.
(e) Er tað ikki (hugsa), at hon er burtur?
(f) Hann hevur altíð verið (irritera) býttur.
(g) Eg sá nógvar (gráta) kvinnur á kaiini.
(h) So kom báturin (sigla).
(i) Tit mega ikki blíva (sita) ov leingi!

Venjing 3: Present participle

Translate the sentences in Venjing 2 into English.

Samrøða 2

Track 145

Claire er heima hjá Kristini og teimum. Hetta er síðsta kvøld hennara í Føroyum.

KRISTIN: Hevur tú havt ein góðan túr her í Føroyum, Claire?
CLAIRE: Fantastiskt. Eg havi vitjað familju her og í Klaksvík. Eg havi sætt stað, sum eg ongantíð fyrr havi sætt og roynt ymiskt nýtt. Eg havi enntá eisini fingið nakrar nýggjar vinir.
KRISTIN: Hvad dámdi tær best?
CLAIRE: Ringt at siga. Mær hevur dámt at prøvað allan henda ymiska matin. Tað var fantastiskt at smakka matin hjá tær og teir føroysku spesialitetirnar sum skerpikjøt, heimagjørda súlupylsu og knettasúpan. Mær dámdi ikki sovorðnan mat, tá ið eg var lítil, men nú haldi eg tað vera nakað fyri seg. Kvøldið á teirri nýggju matstovuni var eisini ótrúliga gott.
KRISTIN: Og hvussu við teimum ymisku støðunum, tú hevur sæð?
CLAIRE: Mær dámdi ordiliga væl við Gjógv og at ganga niðan á Slættaratind. Ferjutúrurin til Suðuroyar var eisini ótrúliga góður, og ríðitúrurin ímillum Tórshavn og Kirkjubø – hann var eisini ófrásigandi herligur.
KRISTIN: Ja, tú vart heldig við veðrinum tann dagin! Hvat heldur tú um mentanarútboðið í Havn!
CLAIRE: Well, eg havi prøvað so nógv. Eg var á einari klassiskari konsert, lurtaði eftir rokkmusikki, hugdi at sjónleiki, var í biografi og so havi eg verið á listasøvnunum og fornminnissøvnunum í býnum. Eg haldi, at eg havi gjørt meira tær seinastu vikurnar, enn eg nakrantíð havi gjørt í Edinburgh.
KRISTIN: Eg vóni, at tú hevur stuttleikað tær. Okkum hevur dámað væl at hava havt teg her. Vit bæði Jákup halda, at tað er gott at hava eitt ungt menniskja aftur í húsunum. Tað varð so stilt í húsunum, tá ið Pætur flutti til Keypmannahavnar.
CLAIRE: Men Turið vitjar rættiliga ofta, ha?
KRISTIN: Eg vildi ynskt, at hon vitjaði oftari, men hon hevur úr at gera við húsunum.

Líkamikið. Hetta er síðsta kvøldið, tú ert her. Ert tú sikkur í, at tú tímir at vera heima her saman við mær og Jákupi? Vit skilja væl, um tú hevur størri hug at fara at vitja Jógvan.

CLAIRE: Sjálvandi vil eg vera her heima hjá tykkum. Tit koma ikki til Skotlands í ár, so tað verða øldir, áðrenn vit síggjast aftur. Og so tað afturat. Jógvan koyrir meg vestur á flogvøllin í morgin. Eg hitti hann tá.

KRISTIN: Eg skilji. Eg tosaði við ommu í gjár, og vit halda báðar, at Jógvan er ein fittur maður.

CLAIRE: Omma? Hon hevur ikki eingongd hitt hann!

KRISTIN: Nei, men tað sær soleiðis út, at tú hevur tosað rættiliga nógv um hann.

CLAIRE: Kann vera, at eg havi nevnt hann...

Orðalýsingar

báðir, pron. *	both
eingongd, adv.	even, once
enntá, adv.	even
ferjutúr/ur (–s, –ar), m.	ferry trip
hava størri hug, irr. vb.	to prefer hava úr at gera, irr. vb.	to be busy, have one's hands full heimagjørd/ur, adj.	home-made
heldig/ur, adj.	lucky
herlig/ur, adj.	marvellous
knettasúpan (–ar, –ir), f.	fish-ball soup
líkamikil, adj.	of no importance, doesn't matter
mentanarútboð (–s, –0), n.	cultural offering
nakað fyri seg	see – vera nakað fyri seg
nevna (–di), vb.	to mention
og so tað afturat, adv.	and in any case, anyway
ófrásigandi, adv.	indescribably, extremely
prøva (–aði), vb.	to try
ringt at siga	it's hard to say ríðitúr/ur (–s, –ar), m.	riding trip
royna (–di), vb.	to try
skerpikjøt (–s, –0), n.	hung and dried mutton or lamb sovorðin, adj.	such, that sort of
spesialitet/ur (–s, –ir), m.	special(i)ty
stað (–s, støð), n.	place
still/ur, adj.	quiet
stuttleika (–aði) sær, vb.	to enjoy oneself, have a good time
súlupyls/a (–u, –ur), f.	sausage (with skin made from a gannet's stomach)
tíma (–di), vb.	to want, be bothered
vera nakað fyri seg, st. vb.	to be something special ymiskt nýtt	different new things
øld (aldar, –ir), f.	[here:] øldir 'ages'

* Note the use of báðir in constructions such as:

vit báðir Símun	=	Símun og eg (m.)
teir báðir Páll	=	Páll og hann
tær báðar Anna	=	Anna og hon
vit bæði Jónas	=	Jónas og eg (f.)
tey bæði Jógvan	=	Jógvan og hon

Venjing 4: Spurningar

(a) Hevur Claire sætt stað í Føroyum, sum hon ikki hevur sætt fyrr? Kanst tú minnast nøkur nevnd fyrr í bókini?
(b) Hvat er tað besta, Claire hevur roynt hesa ferð í Føroyum?
(c) Hvørjar tríggjar túrar nevnir Claire?
(d) Hvørji ymisk mentanartiltøk hevur Claire upplivað?
(e) Halda Kristin og Jákup, at tað hevur verið keðiligt at hava Claire á vitjan?
(f) Tað er síðsta kvøldið hjá Claire í Føroyum, so hví hevur hon ikki hug at hitta Jógvan?

Venjing 5: Claire's visit

Place the activities, things and places mentioned by Claire in Samrøða 2 in the correct column:

Matur	Býir og bygdir	Fjøll	Oyggjar	Mentanartiltøk
(a) skerpikjøt	(d)	(i)	(j)	(k)
(b)	(e)			(l)
(c)	(f)			(m)
	(g)			(n)
	(h)			(o)
				(p)

Mállæra

Expressing wishes and hope

The verb for wishing is ynskja:

Eg ynski teimum alt tað besta í framtíðini
'I wish them all the best for the future'

Drotningin ynskir øllum føroyingum eina góða ólavsøku
'The queen wishes all Faroe Islanders a happy national holiday'

Trýst her, um tú ynskir at lesa meira
'Click here if you wish to read more'

Eg hevði ynskt, at hann hevði skikkað sær betur
'I had wished, that he would have behaved better'

The words for hoping are vóna or hopa:

Eg vóni, at tær dámar gávurnar hjá tær
'I hope you like your presents'

Vit vóna at síggja nøkur foreldur í dag til ein kaffimun
'We hope to see some parents today for a cup of coffee'

Tey hopa at ávirka fólk meira við at brúka tað
'They hope to influence people more by using it'

Eg hopi, at tú hevur tað gott
'I hope you're well'

A wish or hope can sometimes also be expressed by using the adverb bara to introduce a sentence with the meaning 'If only…', 'As long as…', 'I hope that…':

Bara tað ikki regnar!	As long as it doesn't rain! I hope it doesn't rain! It had better not rain! As long as it doesn't rain!
Bara tú ikki verður sjúkur!	As long as you don't become ill! You'd better not become ill!
Bara hann kemur heim í øllum góðum	I hope he comes home in one piece
Bara tú ikki lýgur fyri mær	As long as you don't lie to me

Note that the word order in such constructions is that of a subordinate clause.

The subjunctive (optative mood) [§7.17]

We have already learnt all the forms of the verb in Faroese, so there are no unpleasant surprises here! But there are a few set phrases in Faroese that include a verb in a form that we have not yet met, viz. the subjunctive. The subjunctive was used in Old Faroese to express a wish or hope (what's called optative modality). But today there are only a few phrases where the verb survives in the present subjunctive:

Hann leingi livi!	Long may he live!
(cf. hann livir leingi	he lives long)
Gud signi Føroyar!	May God bless the Faroes!
(cf. Gud signar Føroyar	God blesses the Faroes)

Two verbs are still to be found in the past subjunctive and can be used initially in phrases expressing a hope or wish; they are gævi (from geva) and hevði (from hava):

Gævi at hann skjótt kom heim	I wish that he'd come home soon
Gævi eg aldrin sá hatta	I wish I'd never seen that
Gævi hon vann	I wish she'd win
Hevði tað nú gingist teimum væl	I wish that things would go well for them now
Hevði eg nú verið yngri	I wish I were younger

Note that the word order in such constructions is that of a subordinate clause.

Samrøða 3

Track 146

Jógvan og Claire eru á flogvøllinum, og Claire tjekkar inn umvegis Keypmannahavn.

TJEKK-IN-DAMA:	Pass og ferðaseðil, takk.
CLAIRE:	Her.
TJEKK-IN-DAMA:	Ferðast tú einsamøll?
CLAIRE:	Ja.
TJEKK-IN-DAMA:	Til Edinburgh umvegis Keypmannahavn.
CLAIRE:	Ja.
TJEKK-IN-DAMA:	Eg kann tjekka bagasjuna inn allan vegin. Bara eina tasku? Pakkaði tú taskuna sjálv?
CLAIRE:	Ja.
TJEKK-IN-DAMA:	Og eingin hevur givið tær nakað at bera?
CLAIRE:	Nú skemtar tú, ha? Mostir mín og omma mín hava givið mær eina rúgvu at taka við heim til familjuna: handskar, bindingarmynstur, turran fisk, heimagjørda súlupylsu, sokkar, tónleik, fløgur, bøkur, myndir, ein málning…
TJEKK-IN-DAMA:	Eg skilji. Hmm. Einki av hasum ljóðar serliga vandamikið.
JÓGVAN:	Ná, kanska súlupylsan!
TJEKK-IN-DAMA:	Her er boardingkortið ella fráferðarkortið hjá tær. Ferðafólkini fara umborð um tíggju minuttir.
CLAIRE:	Takk fyri.

Claire og Jógvan fara yvir til útgongdina.

CLAIRE:	Íðan, so er tað 'farvæl', ha?
JÓGVAN:	Jú, men eg noyðist at siga tær nakað, áðrenn tú fert.
CLAIRE:	Eg lurti.
JÓGVAN:	Claire, eg havi ongantíð fyrr hitt nakran sum teg.
CLAIRE:	Hvat meinar tú? Ein skota?
JÓGVAN:	Nei, tú ert skilagóð, vøkur og stuttlig. Eg føli meg glaðan, tá ið eg eri saman við tær. Mær dámar teg.
CLAIRE:	Takk fyri. Mær dámar eisini teg.
JÓGVAN:	Nei, eg meini, mær dámar teg ordiliga væl, Claire. Eg eri forelskaður uppi í tær, og eg haldi tað vera keðiligt, at tú skalt fara longu. Eg veit ikki, hvat eg skal gera, tá tú er farin. Eg blívi svakur.

CLAIRE: Tú kanst vitja meg í Edinburgh seinni í summar.
JÓGVAN: Men tað er ikki nóg mikið. Oyggjarnar fara at verða tómar uttan teg.

Nú verður rópt á ferðafólkini fyri seinastu ferð.

CLAIRE: Eg noyðist at fara, Jógvan…

Jógvan tekur um Claire og gevur henni ein muss beint á varrarnar.

CLAIRE: Wow!
JÓGVAN: Claire, eg elski teg! Far ikki! Ver her!
CLAIRE: Jógvan, tú mást vera svakur.
JÓGVAN: Nei, Claire. Eg eri ikki svakur. Hetta er kærleiki.
CLAIRE: Men Jógvan, flúgvarin fer skjótt.
JÓGVAN: Ver her og gift teg við mær.
CLAIRE: Ha?
JÓGVAN: Verð kona mín, Claire!
CLAIRE: Oh Jógvan, eg eri púra bimmilimm…

Orðalýsingar

beint, adv. directly, straight, right bimmilimm, adj. indecl. confused
boardingkort (–s, –0), n. boarding card
einsamall/ur, adj. alone
fara umborð, st. vb. to board ferðafólk (–s, –0), n. traveller
ferðast (–aðist), vb. to travel
flúgvar/i (–a, –ar), m. aeroplane, airplane fráferðarkort (–s, –0), n.[N] boarding card
føla (–di) seg, vb. to feel
gifta (–ir, gifti) seg við + dat., vb. to marry íðan, interj. well then keðilig/ur, adj. unfortunate kærleik/i (–a, ~), m. love
longu, adv. already muss/ur (–0, –ar), m. kiss
pass (–0, –0), n. passport
púra, adv. completely
rúgv/a (–u, –ur), f. load, pile, heap skilagóð/ur, adj. sensible stuttlig/ur, adj. nice svak/ur, adj. crazy, mad taka um + acc., st. vb. to embrace
task/a (–u, –ur), f. bag
tjekka (–aði) inn, vb. to check in tóm/ur, adj. empty
umvegis + acc., prep. via útgongd (–ar, –ir), f. exit, way out vandamikil, adj. dangerous
vørr (varrar, varrar), f. lip

Venjing 6: Rætt ella skeivt

(a) Claire hevur gloymt passið hjá sær.
(b) Hon ferðast einsamøll til Edinburgh.
(c) Hon má bíða leingi á Vága flogvøllinum.
(d) Jógvan heldur, at Claire er fitt.
(e) Jógvan gleðir seg til, at Claire er burtur.
(f) Jógvan fríggjar til Claire.
(g) Claire svarar, at hon ikki hevur hug at giftast við honum.

Orðalýsingar

fríggja (–aði), vb. to propose, ask for someone's hand in marriage gleða (gleddi) seg til, vb. to look forward to

Venjing 7: Claire's baggage

Circle those items below that we know Claire has packed in her bag (re-read Samrøða 3):

a drawing	candles	jumper	sausage
a painting	cassette tapes	magazines	socks
a pen	CDs	medicine	stamps
alarm clock	fish	moss samples	sweets / candy
balls of yarn	gloves	pâté	teddy bear biscuits / cookies	hat	photos	whisky
books	home-made cake	sandwiches	writing paper

Mállæra

Writing letters

Most people just write the name of their village or town followed by a comma and the date in the top right-hand corner of the page. The sender's address is usually written on the back flap of the envelope.

The greeting 'dear…' is góði… to a man, and góða… to a woman. If the addressee is someone you know well, you could also use a simple hey…! There are several ways of finishing a letter:

Virðingarmest	Yours faithfully, Yours truly (formal)
Vinaliga, Vinaliga heilsan	Yours, Yours sincerely (less formal)
Bestu heilsanir, Blíðar heilsanir	Best wishes
Muss (muss)	Love and kisses

The letter combinations kk, kkj, pp and tt

(a) Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letters kk and kki / kkj: Track 147

pakkaður	drekka	ikki
sikkur	rokkmusikkur	pakki
klokkan	skikka	rekkja[N] 'bed'
súkkla	tjekka	nykkja 'to jerk'
vælsmakkandi	tykki	sekkjarpípa 'bagpipe'

(b) Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letters pp:

Track 148

koppur	happa 'to mock'	gúppa 'to kick high'
pappageykur	pappír	loppa 'flea'
uppi	kappast 'to compete'	toppur

(c) Listen carefully to the recording and repeat the words below paying particular attention to the pronunciation of the letters tt:

Track 149

flutti	eitt	hetta
sigarett	rættur	knettasúpan
petti	býttur	fittur

Lesistykki 1

Track 150

Brøv

(a)

Runavík, tann 25. september 2007

Góða omma!

Eg vóni, at tú hevur tað gott. Eg skrivi so skjótt, av tí at eg ynskti at senda tær nakrar myndir frá føðingardagsveitsluni hjá tær. Tað var ein ógvuliga góð veitsla!
Kanst tú senda mær uppskriftina upp á lagkøkuna við jarðberjum?

Muss muss, Sólbjørg

(b)

Fámjin, 12/11–2007

Góði Bjarni Nielsen,

Eg eri ein 81 ára gamal maður. Í gjár vildi eg koyra heiman við bussinum til Sumba umvegis Øravík, t.v.s. við bussunum 703 og 700. Eg gav mær góða tíð og kom tíðliga til bussteðgistaðið (kl. 8 á morgni). Men eg noyddist at bíða næstan 2 tímar í regni, áðrenn bussurin kom. Eg spurdi sjaførin, hvat ið var hent, og hann fortaldi mær, at bussfelaginum tørvar fólk, ið kunnu koyra bussarnar! Hvat er tað fyri nakað! Eg vóni, at tygum skjótt finna eina loysn á trupulleikanum við manningini hjá tygum. Í framtíðini hugsi eg meg væl um, áðrenn eg koyri við bussi aftur.

Virðingarmest
Tróndur í Beiti

Orðalýsingar

bussfelag (–s, –feløg), n. bus company framtíð (–ar, ~), f. future hugsa (–aði) seg um, vb. to think twice lagkøk/a (–u, –ur), f. cake of sponge, vanilla custard and whipped cream (traditionally eaten on birthdays)
loysn (–ar, –ir), f. solution manning (–ar, –ar), f. staffing orsøk (orsakar, orsakir), f. reason
t.v.s. = tað vil siga trupulleik/i (–a, –ar), m. difficulty, problem, trouble

Venjing 8: Spurningar

(a) Hvat eru tær báðar orsakirnar til, at Sólbjørg skrivar ommu sínari?
(b) Hvat hendi Tróndi tann 11. november?

Venjing 9: Writing letters

You have just returned from a trip to the Faroe Islands where you stayed with a host family in Argir whilst attending the summer institute in Faroese language at the University of the Faroe Islands. Write a letter to thank them for their hospitality. Include the following points:

(a) you enjoyed your stay
(b) some of the places you visited and the new things you tried
(c) ask them to send you your jacket which you left in the bedroom
(d) promise to send some photos soon

Lesistykki 2

Foreldur, Claire MacDonald og Jógvan Jákupsson bjóða tær, familju og vinum í brúdleyp leygardagin, tann 15. juli
kl. 12 í Havnar Kirkju, Eftir vígsluna verður veitsla í Mediterraneo matstovuni við døgurða, dansi og livandi tónleiki.
Biðið verður um svar.

Orðalýsingar

brúdleyp (–s, –0), n. wedding
vígsl/a (–u, –ur), f. ceremony

Venjing 10: Translation

Translate the wedding invitation into English.

Lesistykki 3

Track 151

Hvat hendi?

Síggja tit, Claire náddi ikki flogfarið heim. Hon fór aftur til Havnar við Jógvani. Eftir at hava ringt til foreldrini og mostrina, varð hon eina viku afturat í Føroyum, áðrenn hon fór aftur til Skotlands. Nakrar vikur seinni fleyg Jógvan til Skotlands at hitta foreldrini hjá Claire, og hann var saman við allari familjuni í Aberdeen í tvær vikur. Eftir nógv stríð, flutti Claire lesturin til Fróðskaparsetur Føroya og byrjaði at lesa føroyskt mál og bókmentir. Hon flutti til Tórshavnar í september fyri at byrja lesturin. Hon búði hjá Kristini teir fyrstu níggju mánaðirnar. Síðani flutti hon saman við Jógvani. Summarið eftir giftust tey í Havnar Kirkju og høvdu eina stóra veitslu, har Páll spældi við sínum nýggja orkestri. Teir spældu sangir frá síni fyrstu plátu. Foreldrini hjá Claire vitjaðu javnan, og Claire, Jógvan og børnini vóru hvørt summar tvær vikur í Skotlandi á vitjan. Beiggi hennara troyttaðist smátt um smátt av Glasgow og fekk sær eitt starv sum sjúkrarøktarfrøðingur í einum hjálparfelagsskapi. Hetta hevði við sær, at hann var nakrar mánaðir hvørt ár í Afrika og Asia. Jógvan bleiv hjálparritstjóri á FøroyaBlaðnum eftir at hava arbeitt har í nøkur ár, og Claire fekk meistaraprógv sítt frá Fróðskaparsetrinum og fór at arbeiða sum lærari. Tey fluttu inn í eini hús við útsýni yvir Havnina og Nólsoynna. Tey fingu trý børn. Tvær gentur og ein drong. Hin eldra dóttirin bleiv tann fyrsti kvinnuligi forsetin í Føroyum. Hin yngra dóttirin arbeiddi sum listakvinna, og bleiv kend sum slík. Sonurin læt upp eina ferðaskrivstovu, sum hevði nógvan viðburð. Áðrenn hann bleiv pensjóneraður, var Jógvan blivin høvuðsritstjóri á teirri avísini í Føroyum, sum hevði tað største upplagið, og Claire arbeiddi sum skúlastjóri og arbeiddi eisini í Mentamálaráðnum. Tá ið tey blivu pensjónerað, keyptu tey eini hús í Spania, og har vóru tey um veturin hvørt ár, men fóru altíð aftur til Føroya at njóta tær ljósu summarnæturnar.

Orðalýsingar

bókmentir, f. pl.	literature
ferðaskrivstov/a (–u, –ur), f.	travel agency
forset/i (–a, –ar), m.	president
hava við sær, irr. vb.	to involve, result in, lead to hjálparfelagsskap/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	charity (organisation)
hjálpar–, prefix	assisting
høvuðs–, prefix	chief, main
javnan, adv.	regularly
kvinnulig/ur, adj.	female
lata upp, st. vb.	to open
lestur (–s, lestrar), m.	studies
listakvinn/a (–u, –ur), f.	artist
ljós/ur, adj.	light
meistaraprógv (–próvs, –0), n.	Master's degree
Mentamálaráðið, n. def.	the Ministry of Education and Culture
náa + dat., vb.	to reach, make in time pensjónerað/ur, adj.	retired
plát/a (–u, –ur), f.	record
ritstjór/i (–a, –ar), m.	editor
skúlastjór/i (–a, –ar), m.	school head, principal
smátt um smátt, adv.	bit by bit, gradually
starv (–s, størv), n.	position, job
stríð (–s, –0), n.	battle, fight
slík/ur, adj.	such
troyttast (–aðist), vb.	to grow tired
upplag (–s, –løg), n.	distribution
útsýni (–s, –[r]), n.	view
veitsl/a (–u, –ur), f.	party
viðburð/ur (–ar, –ir), m.	success

Veitst tú at...?

Family life and education in the Faroe Islands

In the past there was a sharp division of labour between men and women in the Faroe Islands. Men held all official positions and were responsible for work outside of the home, while women took care of the home and milking (mjólking) the animals. With the development of the fishing industry (fiskiídnaður) at the end of the nineteenth century, women became waged labourers in the fish-processing plants (flakavirkir) that were being built around the country. Women's suffrage (atkvøðurættur) was introduced in 1915. Today women often work outside the home and hold official positions in business (handilsskapur) or society (samfelag).

The institution of marriage (hjúnalag) is very important in the Faroe Islands: over seventy per cent of the population over the age of twenty are married (gift), widowed (einkjur ella einkjumenn) or divorced (fráskild). Nowadays many unmarried couples live together and don't marry until they have children. Divorce (hjúnaskilnaður) is not as common as elsewhere in the Nordic countries. Same-sex unions (skrásett parløg) are not legal in the Faroe Islands, although they are in Denmark (since 1989) and Greenland (since 1996).

A Faroese household (húski) typically consists of a mother and father and two or more children. Sometimes an elderly relative or foster child (stjúkbarn) might be living in the home too. The word familja refers to members of the húski as well as one's closest relatives. The term ætt means family in the sense of lineage or descent. Life expectancy (miðallivialdurin) is 77 years for men and 82 years for women.

Children of working parents are looked after in a creche (vøggustova) or a kindergarten (barnagarður). Formal education for children usually begins at age seven at the local primary school (fólkaskúli). There are nine years of compulsory education. There are different types of upper secondary schools that pupils begin after year 10 / the tenth grade:

- General higher Secondary Education (Studentaskúlin) – three years following a curriculum that focuses either on mathematics or languages;
- Higher Preparatory Course (Hægri fyrireikingarprógv) – two years following a general curriculum, especially intended for adults wishing to pursue a delayed education;

- Business College (Føroya Handilsskúli) – a business and commercial education;
- Technical College (Tekniski skúlin) – technical education;
- Fishery College (Fiskivinnuskúlin) – one year studying for work within the fishing industry;
- College of Health Education (Heilsuskúlin) – preparatory studies for working in the public health sector;
- The Maritime School (Sjóvinnuskúlin) – short education that prepares students for work onboard fishing or merchant vessels.

There are a number of further education institutions as well:

- Faroese Folk High School (Føroya Fólkaháskúli) – in operation since 1899, offering a range of educational and vocational programmes for everyone. It was also the first institution in the Faroe Islands to teach in Faroese.
- Maritime College (Maskinmeistaraskúlin and Føroya Sjómansskúli) – education to become a chief engineer or a captain on any type of vessel;
- Nursing School (Sjúkrarøktarfrøðiskúli Føroya) – nursing studies;
- Teachers' Training School (Føroya Læraraskúli) – teacher training for primary–school teachers;
- Kindergarten Teachers' Training School (Føroya Læraraskúli) – training for kindergarten teachers;
- University of the Faroe Islands (Fróðskaparsetur Føroya) – bachelor, master and PhD studies in three faculties: Faroese Language and Literature (Føroyamálsdeildin), Natural Sciences (Náttúruvísindadeildin), History and Sociology (Søgu- og Samfelagsdeildin).

Some higher education degrees, such as medicine (læknafrøði), have to be studied abroad (typically in Denmark).

Audio scripts

Unit 1, Venjing 6

(a) Eg eiti Hans Joensen, og eg eri føroyingur. Eg tosi føroyskt, danskt og norskt, men ikki eingilskt.
(b) Hei. Eg eiti James Brown, og eg eri úr USA. Eg tosi enskt, føroyskt og eitt sindur av fronskum.
(c) Góðan dag. Eg eri Chiaki, og eg eri úr Japan. Eftirnavn mítt er Kaiho. Eg tosi flótandi føroyskt og danskt. Eg tosi tó ikki týskt.
(d) Hei. Eg eiti Marie-Claire Bertillon, og eg búgvi í Paris. Eg dugi eitt sindur av føroyskum. Eg tosi sjálvandi franskt, men danskt dugi eg ikki.
(e) Eg eiti Daniel Dahan. Eg dugi hebraiskt, av tí at eg eri úr Ísrael. Eg tosi eisini enskt og eitt sindur av arabiskum. Eg dugi ikki føroyskt.

Unit 4, Venjing 5

(a) Klokkan er hálvgum fýra.
(b) Hon er eitt korter til seks.
(c) Hon er fimm minuttir í átta.
(d) Hon er tíggju minuttir yvir hálvgum trý.

Unit 4, Venjing 7

DAMA: Hvat vilt tú hava?
ANNA: Hvat er dagsins suppa?
DAMA: Høsnasúpan.
ANNA: Ooo. Eg eti ikki kjøt.
DAMA: Etur tú fisk?
ANNA: Ja.
DAMA: Vit hava franskbreyð við laksi. Tað smakkar lekkurt.
ANNA: Ja, takk. Tað vil eg fegin hava. Og salat eisini, takk.
DAMA: Vilt tú hava eina stóra ella eina lítla skál av salati?
ANNA: Eina lítla, takk.
DAMA: Okkurt at drekka?
ANNA: Ein kopp av te, takk.
DAMA: Gaman í.

Unit 5, Venjing 4

MALAN: Umskylda. Hvar er kunningarstovan?
MAÐURIN: Ja... kunningarstovan... Far um hornið og tak ta næstu gøtuna til vinstru. Far beint fram, umleið tretivu metrar. Kunningarstovan er á høgru hond. Tað eru bara tríggjar minuttir hiðan.
MALAN: Takk fyri. Farvæl.
MAÐURIN: Farvæl.

Unit 5, Venjing 5

(a) Tú mást fara beint fram og snara til vinstru, so ert tú á gongugøtuni. Gakk 10 metrar frameftir og A er á høgru hond – júst áðrenn kunningarstovuna.
(b) Far beint fram. Á høgru hond, á kaiini hittir tú B.
(c) Snara til vinstru oman á gongugøtuna. Far beint fram heilt til endan á gøtuni, og C er á vinstru hond.

Unit 6, Venjing 4

BANKAFÓLK: Góðan dag.
FERÐANDI: Halló. Eg vil taka út 2.000 krónur við kredittkortinum hjá mær.
BANKAFÓLK: Tað er ein pengaautomat beint uttan fyri bankan. Tú kanst taka pengar út har automatiskt.
FERÐANDI: Men hon virkar ikki.
BANKAFÓLK: Ooo. Eg skilji. Fínt. Kann eg sleppa at síggja passið hjá tær ella okkurt samleikaprógv?
FERÐANDI: Ger so væl.
BANKAFÓLK: Takk. Skriva undir her.
.....
Her eru 200, 400, 600, 800, 1000, 1500, 2000 krónur. Tú mátti eisini gjalda 25 krónur í ómaksgjaldi.
FERÐANDI: Í lagi. Takk.
BANKAFÓLK: Hugna tær, meðan tú ert í Føroyum!
FERÐANDI: Takk fyri! Farvæl.

Unit 8, Venjing 6

JÓGVAN: Eg elski rokkmusikk og klassiskan tónleik. Men mær dámar hvørki popp- ella fólkatónleik.
PÁLL: Eg kann ikki torga klassiskan tónleik – hann er so tungur! Mær dámar fólkatónleik, men mær dámar betur popp- og rokktónleik.
CLAIRE: Eg elski allan tónleik!
KRISTIN: Mær dámar Mozart, Beethoven og Bach. Eg eri púra bitin av føroyskum fólkatónleiki. Eg kann tó ikki torga rokk- og popptónleik!

Unit 8, Venjing 11

(a) Tað eru nógv tiltøk í Havn í kvøld. Klokkan 19 er konsert í Norðurlandahúsinum. Tað fantastiska íslendska symfoniorkestrið spælir ymiss populer, klassisk verk. Atgongumerkini kosta bara 150 krónur.
(b) Ein stórur fótbóltsdystur er í Gundadali í kvøld, tá ið føroyska landsliðið spælir móti Noregi. Kampurin byrjar klokkan 19:30, og billettirnar kosta 100 krónur.
(c) Endiliga er tann seinasti filmurin um tann gandakenda drongin – Harald Pottamakara – komin til Føroya. Filmurin kann síggjast í Havnar Bio klokkan 20. Billettirnar kosta 70 krónur.
(d) Klokkan 20 verður tann nýggja málningaframsýningin upplatin í Gamla Meiarínum. Talan er um ein ungan málara, Bjarna á Lakjuni, av Velbastað. Tað er ókeypis atgongd til tiltakið. Vín og øl kunnu keypast.
(e) Í kvøld kann man njóta ta ljósu náttina og tað góða veðrið, tá ið Havnar gongufelag skipar fyri einum túri úr Havn til Kirkjubøar. Gongutúrurin, kaffi og kaka og bussurin aftur til Havnar kosta tilsamans 40 krónur. Øll eru vælkomin, men tey skulu vera klødd eftir veðrinum og vera í góðum gongustivlum. Luttakararnir biðjast møtast á Vaglinum klokkan 17.
(f) Vatnaerobikk byrjar klokkan 19 í svimjihøllini í Havn. Atgongd kostar 30 krónur.

Unit 9, Venjing 5

(a) Ein litur av mjólk kostar 6 krónur.
(b) Ein pakki av músli kostar 24 krónur.
(c) Ein vínfløska kostar 80 krónur.
(d) Eitt glas av marmulátu kostar 18 krónur.
(e) Ein tangi av bensini kostar 400 krónur.
(f) Eitt kilo av fronskum osti kostar 120 krónur.

Answers to the Exercises

Unit 1

1 a) m.; b) f.; c) n.; d) m.; e) n.; f) f.; g) n.; h) m.; i) f.; j) n.; k) f.; l) m.

2 a) ein; b) ein; c) eitt; d) ein; e) eitt; f) ein; g) eitt; h) ein; i) ein; j) eitt; k) ein; l) ein.

3 a) bussurin; b) mamman; c) borðið; d) flogvøllurin; e) plássið; f) skotin; g) dagurin; h) konan; i) fjallið; j) troyggjan; k) stivlin; l) vaskaríið.

4 a) hann; b) hon; c) tað; d) hann; e) tað; f) hann; g) hann; h) hon; i) tað; j) hon; k) hann; l) tað.

5 a) Eg eiti 'name'; b) Eg eiti 'first name' til fornavn; c) Eg eiti 'surname' til eftirnavn; d) Eg komi úr 'country of birth' / Eg eri 'nationality'; e) Ja, eg dugi eitt sindur av føroyskum; f) Ja, eg dugi 'language' / Nei, eg dugi ikki onnur mál.

6 a) Eftirnavn: Joensen; Fornavn: Hans; Tjóðskapur: føroyingur; Málkunnleiki ✓: føroyskt, danskt og norskt; Málkunnleiki ×: eingilskt.
b) Eftirnavn: Brown; Fornavn: James; Tjóðskapur: USA; Málkunnleiki ✓: enskt, føroyskt, eitt sindur av fronskum; Málkunnleiki ×: -.
c) Eftirnavn: Kaiho; Fornavn: Chiaki; Tjóðskapur: japanari; Málkunnleiki ✓: føroyskt, danskt; Málkunnleiki ×: týskt.
d) Eftirnavn: Bertillon; Fornavn: Marie-Claire; Tjóðskapur: fraklendingur; Málkunnleiki ✓: franskt; Málkunnleiki ×: danskt.
e) Eftirnavn: Dahan; Fornavn: Daniel; Tjóðskapur: ísraeli; Málkunnleiki ✓: hebraiskt, enskt og eitt sindur av arabiskum; Málkunnleiki ×: føroyskt.

7 a) eri; b) er; c) eru; d) eru; e) Ert; f) eru.

8 a) Skeivt (tað er ikki Clairesa fyrsta ferð til Føroya); b) Skeivt (familja hennara býr í Havn og Klaksvík); c) Rætt; d) Skeivt (Kristin arbeiðir á posthúsinum; e) Rætt.

9 a) Hon er úr Skotlandi; b) Hon lesur eingilskt á fróðskaparsetinum í Edinburgh; c) Hon er í Føroyum nú; d) Nei, hon er føroyingur; e) Hon býr í Havn; f) Hon eitur Kristin; g) Hon arbeiðir á posthúsinum; h) Hon tosar við Jógvan; i) Han er blaðmaður.

Unit 2

1 a) sjeytan; b) átta og hálvfems; c) fimm og hálvfjerðs; d) trý og fjøruti; e) seks og tretivu; f) tvey og fýrs; g) fýra og tjúgu; h) níggju og hálvtrýss; i) null.

2 a) Fornavn: Tóroddur – Eftirnavn: Simonsen – Aldur: 63; b) Fornavn: Anna – Eftirnavn: Poulsen – Aldur: 24; c) Fornavn 'first name'; Eftirnavn: 'surname'; Bústaður: 'address'; Føðingardagur:

'birth date'; Aldur: 'age'; Føðingarstaður: 'birth place'; Tjóðskapur: 'nationality'; Gift(ur): 'married' – Ja 'Yes' – Nei 'No'; Børn: 'children' – Ja 'Yes' → hvussu nógv? 'how many' – Nei 'No'.

3 a) buss-; b) mamm-; c) borð-; d) flogvøll-; e) pláss-; f) nátt-; g) land-; h) dag-; i) kon-; j) fjall-; k) troyggj-; l) stivl-.

4 a) bussar ~ bussarnir; b) lond ~ londini; c) mammur ~ mammurnar; d) dagar ~ dagarnir; e) borð ~ borðini; f) konur ~ konurnar; g) flogvøllir ~ flogvøllirnar; h) fjøll ~ fjøllini; i) pláss ~ plássini; j) troyggjur ~ troyggjurnar; k) nætur ~ næturnar; l) stivlar ~ stivlarnir; m) lungur ~ lungurnar.

5 a) Skeivt (nú eru tey komin til Havnar); b) Rætt; c) Skeivt (hann verið í Danmark); d) Rætt, Jógvan hevur skrivað eina blaðgrein; e) Skeivt (hann hevur krím); f) Rætt.

6 a) rættiliga væl; b) so toluliga; c) út av lagi illa; d) væl.

7 a) Tær tosa; b) Hann gneggjar; c) Hon súkklar; d) Tey rópa; e) Tit skriva; f) Eg hugsi; g) Vit hugsa; h) Hann bíðar; i) Teir mála; j) Tú svarar; k) Hon tosar; l) Tygum rópa.

8 a) to speak / tosa: tosi tosar tosar tosa tosa tosa; b) to write / skriva: skrivi skrivar skrivar skriva skriva skriva; c) to hope / vóna: vóni vónar vónar vóna vóna vóna; d) to call / kalla: kalli kallar kallar kalla kalla kalla; e) to intend, want / ætla: ætli ætlar ætlar ætla ætla ætla; f) to think / hugsa: hugsi hugsar hugsar hugsa hugsa hugsa; g) to wait / bíða: bíði bíðar bíðar bíða bíða bíða; h) to shout, call / rópa: rópi rópar rópar rópa rópa rópa; i) to cycle / súkkla: súkkli súkklar súkklar súkkla súkkla súkkla.

9 a) Eg eri úr ikki Føroyum; b) Hann eitur ikki Páll; c) Nú tosar tú ikki við Claire; d) Hevur Claire ikki telefonnummarið? e) Vit duga ikki eitt sindur føroyskt; f) Malan súkklar ikki til Klaksvíkar; g) Koma tey ikki úr Danmark? h) Lesur tú ikki bøkur?

10 a) Hot ætlar at vitja alla familjuna hjá sær í Havn og í Klaksvík; b) Veðrið er ikki so ringt, og tað er ljóst úti; c) Hon plagar at koma til Føroya á sumri; d) Eitt orkestur úr Íslandi spælir; e) Hon keypir inn í sølumiðstøðini.

11 a) Mánadag plagi eg at skriva eitt bræv; b) Eg súkkli til Havnar leygardagin; c) Ætlar tú at vitja meg týskvøldið? d) Í dag er hósdagur; e) Í morgin er fríggjadagur; f) Eg ringi til tín mikukvøldið; g) Ert tú heima sunnumorgunin? h) Hvat ætlar tú gera hetta vikuskiftið?

12 a) Kristin, 61, works at post office, Tórshavn, Jákup (Jakob), 48, computer programmer at the Faroese national broadcasting company; b) Pætur, 23, law, Copenhagen, single; c)Turið, 26, unemployed, Kollafjørur, Janus; d) Malan, teacher, Aberdeen, Tom, fisherman; e) Jóannes, lawyer/solicitor, a bank in Klaksvík, divorced; f) Tóroddur; teacher, Tórshavn, Magga.

Unit 3

1 a) m., cup, ein kopp, koppin; b) f., village, eina bygd, bygdina; c) m., pig, ein grís, grísin; d) n., glass, eitt glas, glasið; e) m., man, ein mann, mannin; f) n., potato, eitt epli, eplið; g) f., cat, eina kettu, kettuna; h) n., ship, eitt skip, skipið; i) n., tree, eitt træ, træið; j) m., car, ein bil, bilin; k) f., girl, eina gentu, gentuna; l) f., book, eina bók, bókina; m) f., island, eina oyggj, oynna; n) m., boat, ein bát, bátin.

2 a) eina jarðberkøku; b) eina breyðflís; c) kaffi, te; d) mjólk; e) blaðið; f) bókina.

3 a) koppar, kopparnar; b) bygdir, bygdirnar; c) grísar, grísarnar; d) gløs, gløsini; e) menn, menninar; f) epli(r), eplini; g) kettur, ketturnar; h) skip, skipini; i) trø, trøini; j) bilar, bilarnar; k) gentur, genturnar; l) bøkur, bøkurnar (or: bøkrinar); m) oyggjar, oyggjarnar; n) bátar, bátarnar.

4 a) hundin / hundarnar; b) pípu; c) bussin; d) gólvið; e) kilometrar; f) fløgur; g) eitt telduspæl; h) eina pylsu, eina kola; i) eitt bræv.

5 a) bilur mín, mín bilur; b) mín kona; c) skip mítt, mítt skip; d) gittari mín, mín gittari; e) mín lítlabeiggi.

6 a) bilurin hjá mær; b) jarðberkøkan hjá honum; c) skipið hjá okkum; d) gittarin hjá tær; e) vinurin hjá henni.

7 a) eina systur; b) ein beiggja; c) mammu mína; d) ein sjeik; e) abba.

9 a) stóri; b) føroysku; c) reyða; d) langa; e) nýggju; f) donsku; g) góða; h) myrku; i) fittu; j) ullintu.

10 a) stórur; b) føroyskir; c) reytt; d) long; e) nýggja; f) danskar; g) góð; h) myrkar; i) fitt; j) nýggjar, ullintar.

11 a) Føroyska málið er torført; b) Eg lesi eina góða bók; c) Hevur tú ein nýggjan bil? d) Hvar býr føroyska fólkið? e) Tann hugnaliga kaffistova er ikki stór; f) Páll er ein ungur maður; g) Ungir menn hava stórar dreymar; h) Vilt tú keypa hasar ullintar handskarnar? i) Tónleikurin er harður; j) Er tað nýggja húsið hjá tær reytt?

12 a) Jógvan hevur ein beiggja. Hann eitur Páll. Hann er tónleikari; b) Nei, hon roykir ikki. Jógvan og Páll roykja; c) Claire dámar best klassiskan og modernaðan tónleik. Mær dámar…; d) Ja, tað eru nógv tónaskøld og tónleikarar í Føroyum. Eg kenni…

13 a) to demand, krevja, krevji, krevur, krevur, krevja, krevja, krevja; b) to count, telja, telji, telur, telur, telja, telja, telja; c) to sell, selja, selji, selur, selur, selja, selja, selja; d) to look, hyggja, hyggi, hyggur, hyggur, hyggja, hyggja, hyggja; e) to come, koma, komi, kemur, kemur, koma, koma, koma; f) to move, flyta, flyti, flytur, flytur, flyta, flyta, flyta; g) to stand, standa, standi, stendur, stendur, standa, standa, standa.

14 a) rætt: b) skeivt (hann er ein komandi poppstjørna; c) skeivt (hann gongur í skúla); d) skeivt (hann er tónleikari í frítíð sínari); e) rætt; f) skeivt (hann spælir í øllum Føroyum); g) rætt; h) skeivt (men hann ætlar at leggja eina heimsíðu á netið); i) skeivt (hann vil fegin flyta til USA).

15 a) Hon eitur 'Hvat bagir?' b) Hon eitur 'Pállpopp'. c) Páll syngur saman við Frank Sinatra; d) Ja, hann er milliarderur; e) Hann býr í USA; f) Mann kann keypa eina syngjandi dukku, ið ímyndar Páll, har.

Unit 4

1 a) Hvør er tann stóri maðurin? b) Nær kemur hann? c) Hvat hús er hjá tær? / Hvørji eru tíni hús? d) Hvørja bók lesur hann? e) Hvørjir eru teir føroyska menninir? f) Hvønn tosar tú við? g) Hvørji tíðindabløð lesur hon? / Hvørjar avísir lesur hon?

2 a) group 3; b) group 1; c) group 2; d) group 3; e) group 4; f) group 4; g) group 1; h) group 1; i) group 3; j) group 3; k) group 1; l) group 3; m) group 3; n) group 1; o) group 2.

3 a) eg berji; tú berjir; hann, hon, tað berjir; vit berja; tit berja; teir, tær, tey berja (also tygum berja); eg elski; tú elskar; hann, hon, tað elskar; vit elska; tit elska; teir, tær, tey elska (also tygum elska); c) eg fremji; tú fremur; hann, hon, tað fremur; vit fremja; tit fremja; teir, tær, tey fremja (also tygum fremja); d) eg frøi; tú frøir; hann, hon, tað frøir; vit frøa; tit frøa; teir, tær, tey frøa (also tygum frøa); e) eg goyggi; tú goyrt; hann, hon, tað goyr; vit goyggja; tit goyggja; teir, tær, tey goyggja (also tygum goyggja); f) eg grógvi; tú grørt; hann, hon, tað grør; vit grógva; tit grógva; teir, tær, tey grógva (also tygum grógva); g) eg hugsi; tú hugsar; hann, hon, tað hugsar; vit hugsa; tit hugsa; teir, tær, tey hugsa (also tygum hugsa); h) eg kalli; tú kallar; hann, hon, tað kallar; vit kalla; tit kalla; teir, tær, tey kalla (also tygum kalla); i) eg keypi; tú keypir; hann, hon, tað keypir; vit keypa; tit keypa; teir, tær, tey keypa (also tygum keypa); j) eg lýsi; tú lýsir; hann, hon, tað lýsir; vit lýsa; tit lýsa; teir, tær, tey lýsa (also tygum lýsa); k) eg rópi; tú rópar; hann, hon, tað rópar; vit rópa; tit rópa; teir, tær, tey rópa (also tygum rópa); l) eg royki; tú roykir; hann, hon, tað roykir; vit roykja; tit roykja; teir, tær, tey roykja (also tygum roykja); m) eg smíli; tú smílir; hann, hon, tað smílir; vit smíla; tit smíla; teir, tær, tey smíla (also tygum smíla); n) eg súkkli; tú súkklar; hann, hon, tað súkklar; vit súkkla; tit súkkla; teir, tær, tey súkkla (also tygum súkkla); o) eg tigi; tú tigur; hann, hon, tað tigur; vit tiga; tit tiga; teir, tær, tey tiga (also tygum tiga).

4 a) Hon er eitt korter til fýra; b) Hon er tíggju minuttir yvir hálvgum fimm / Hon er tjúgu minuttir í fimm; c) Hon er trý korter til seks; d) Hon er fimm minuttir í hálvgum sjey / Hon er fimm og tjúgu minuttir yvir seks; e) Hon er fimm minuttir yvir sjey; f) Hon er tíggju minuttir í tíggju; g) Hon er fimm minuttir í eitt; h) Hon er fimm minuttir yvir tvey; i) Hon er hálvgum sjey; j) Hon er tíggju minuttir í hálvgum átta / Hon er tjúgu minuttir yvir sjey; k) Hon er níggju; l) Hon er fimm minuttir í hálvgum tólv / Hon er fimm og tjúgu minuttir yvir ellivu.

5 a) 3:30; b) 5:15; c) 7.55; d) 2:40.

6 a) A sandwich with egg or tomato; b) 58 kr.; c) No; d) Kann eg fáa ein kopp av kaffi og eitt petti av gularótakøkuni? e) Gularótakøkan smakkar lekkurt; f) Hava tit nakran føroyskan mat?

7 A salmon sandwich, a small salad and a cup of tea.

8 a) hvítleyksbreyð, fisksúpan, lítil tomatsalat, fuglasúpan; b) oksasteik, kalvi, pitsa, búffur; c) eplakaka, køka, ostar, ísur; d) kaffi, øl, sodavatn, te.

9 a) hundrað og seytjan; b) tvey hundrað og átta og hálvfems; c) trý hundrað og fimm og hálvfjerðs; d) fýra hundrað og trý og fjøruti; e) fimm hundrað og seks og tretivu; f) seks hundrað og tvey og fýrs; g) sjey túsund trý hundrað og fýra og tjúgu; h) ein og tríss túsund átta hundrað níggju og hálvtríss; i) tjúgu túsund og hálvfems.

10 Gott kvøld. Eg vil fegin bíleggja eitt borð til í morgin. – Hálvgum átta. – Tvey. – Roykjarar. – Takk fyri. Farvæl.

11 Góðan morgun. Eg vil fegin bíleggja eitt borð til í kvøld klokkan átta. – Fimm. – Ikki-roykjarar. – Takk fyri. Farvæl.

12 a) Ja, tey hava mat fyri vegetarar. Mann noyðist at spyrja tænaran, hvat køkurin hevur at bjóða.

13 a) Skeivt (Restaurant Mediterraneo er ein nýggj matstova); b) Skeivt (Hon er í Havn); c) Rætt; d) Skeivt (Hon selur mat úr Miðjarðarhavslondunum); e) Skeivt (Restaurant Mediterraneo er ein dýr matstova); f) Skeivt (Tey kunnu keypa vín).

Unit 5

2 Umskylda. Er tað ein banki nærindis? – Ja. Tað er ein banki á horninum. – Takk fyri. – Einki at takka fyri.

3 Umskylda meg, veitst tú ta stytstu leiðina til posthúsið? – Ja, far beint fram og snara til høgru við kioskina. Posthúsið er vinstrumegin. – Er tað langt hiðani? – Nei, umleið einar 100 metrar. – Takk fyri! – Einki at takka.

4 a) The tourist information office; b) To go round the corner; c) Continue walking straight ahead; d) Just a three-minute walk away.

5 a) banki; b) hotel; c) bakarí.

6 Umskylda. Er nøkur sølumiðstøð stutt herfrá? – Ja, ein er ikki langt hiðani. – Kanst tú siga mær, hvussu eg finni hagar? – Við ferðsluljósini skalt tú taka ta fyrstu gøtuna til vinstru og fara beint fram. Hon er á vinstru hond. – Er tað langt vekk? – Nei, ikki einki serligt. – Takk fyri. – Einki at takka.

7 [your name] – [spell your name] – Í Klaksvík. Adressan hjá mær er Íslandsvegur tólv. – Tíggju, tólv, átta og hálvfjerðs. – Takk fyri. – Farvæl.

8 a) Skeivt (Hann skal vitja ein garð, av tí at hann skal skriva eina grein um bóndan); b) Skeivt (Hon var har eina feriu sum smágenta); c) Rætt; d) Rætt; e) Skeivt (Gjógv liggur í Eysturoynni); f) Skeivt (Gjógv er ein lítil bygd); g) Rætt.

9 a) Tey; b) Tað; c) Hon; d) hana; e) hon; f) honum; g) hann; h) hon; i) hann; j) tey; k) hansara; l) hon; m) hansara; n) Hon; o) hann; p) Tey; q) Tað.

10 a) Maðurin – kvinnuni – eina nýggja bók; b) Kvinnan – tað – ein spennandi bók; c) Hon – honum – bókina; d) Eg – tær – døgurða; e) Eg – eina nýggja matstovu; f) Eg – tær – bilinum – lagi; g) tú – mær – Eg – Eg – einum banka; h) Næsti bankin – hornið; i) tú – mær – býarkortinum?

11 a) Hann spyr eina gentu um veg; b) Tað er fyrstu ferð, hann er her; c) Hon finnur eitt kort av Suðuroynni á fjórðu síðu; d) Nei. Tey eru tætt við Sumba; e) Klokkan 17:30 sigla tey aftur til Havnar.

12 a ~ ix; b ~ v; c ~ i; d ~ xi; e ~ ii; f ~ vii; g ~ viii; h ~ iii; i ~ vi; j ~ x; k ~ iv.

13 a) báturin hjá pápa mínum; b) bókin hjá gentuni; c) súkklurnar hjá drongunum; d) bilurin hjá foreldrum mínum; e) pengarnir hjá Hjalmari pengar; f) ein vinur Jógvans; g) garðurin hjá Mikkjali Eirikssyni; h) høvuðsstaðurin í Føroyum; i) the street-name; j) the colour of the boat; k) the isle of Jersey; l) Øravík village; m) my head; n) Ólavur's book; o) the man's dog; p) a cup of tea.

14 a) A dentist's assistant; b) No, it's temporary (maternity-leave cover); c) Work on a fishing vessel; d) Building work; e) A certificate of completed apprenticeship as a car mechanic; f) The applicant must have experience working as a car mechanic, be polite and able to work independently; g) Send a written (paper) application to the address given; h) Either email or call Jóhannes Jørgensen; i) A concrete-mixer truck; j) T-postur (teldupostur).

Unit 6

1 a) eiga, eigi, eigur, eigur, eiga, eiga, eiga; b) kunna; kann, kanst, kann, kunna/kunnu, kunna/kunnu, kunna/kunnu; c) mega; má, mást, má, mega/mugu, mega/mugu, mega/mugu; d) munna, man, manst, man, munna/munnu, munna/munnu, munna/munnu; skula, skal, skalt, skal, skulu, skulu, skulu; f) vilja, vil, vilt, vil, vilja, vilja, vilja.

2 a) Skulu vit fara nú? b) Hann skal hitta hana klokkan sjey; c) Vilt tú giftast við mær? d) Dugir tú týskt? e) Hann vil ikke skriva brævið; f) Kanst tú koma í morgin? g) Gjógv skal vera ein vøkur bygd; h) Claire má ringja til Jógvan; i) Eg kann ikki finna fartelefonina hjá mær; j) Hann eigur at fara til Keypmannahavnar næstu viku; k) Tú mást tosa føroyskt við mammu mína; l) Eg man fara til Havnar fríggjadag; m) Hann skal vera sera ríkur.

3 Góðan morgun. – Góðan morgun. Eg ætlaði at veksla hundrað dollarar um til krónur. – Gaman í. – Hvat er kursurin? – Ein dollari er fimm krónur fimm og hálvfems. – Er tað nakað ómaksgjald? – Ja, tú mást gjalda tjúgu krónur í ómaksgjaldi. – Fínt. – Ger so væl at skriva undir her… og her eru pengarnir hjá tær. – Takk fyri og farvæl. – Farvæl.

4 a) To withdraw 2000 kr. on his credit card; b) His passport or some other ID; c) Have a good stay in the Faroe Islands.

5 a) minni; b) lægri; c) longri; d) eldri; e) vinaligari; f) størri; g) tjykkri / tjúkkari; h) styttri.

6 a) Tórshavn er størri enn Klaksvík; b) Mín bók er meiri spennandi enn tín; c) Hitin er hægri í dag enn í gjár; d) Var tað ikki lýggjari í gjár? e) Hann er styttri enn beiggi mín; f) Mín troyggja er dýrari enn hennara; g) Fróðskaparsetur Føroya er minni enn Universitetið í Oslo; h) Henda gamla íbúðin er bíligari enn handa nýggja.

7 a) tann mest modernaði; b) (tað) hægsta; c) stytst; d) tann elsta; e) tann tjyksti / tann tjúkkasti; f) tað lættasta; g) tann dýrasta; h) tann størsta.

8 a) Tey selja tær bestu køkurnar í Havn; b) Hann er tann ríkasti maðurin, eg kenni; c) Tann besti vinurin hjá mær er úr Týsklandi; d) Hann eigur tann størsta bilin í Klaksvík, men eg eigi tann dýrasta; e) Grønland er tað kaldasta landið í øllum heiminum; f) Hann át tær flestu køkurnar; g) Eg lesi ta mest spennandi bókina av Jógvani Isaksen; h) Hetta er tann keðiligasti filmurin, eg nakrantíð havi sætt.

10 Hei. – Hei. Kann eg fáa nøkur frímerkir? – Hvussu nógv? – Seks til Fraklands, takk. – Gaman í. Tað verða 45 krónur. – Ger so væl. – Takk. farvæl- – Farvæl.

11 a) 5 kr.; b) 45 kr.; c) 10 kr.; d) 7.50 kr.; e) 200 kr.

12 B ~ C ~ G ~ D ~ F ~ E ~ A.

Unit 7

1 a) Hon ætlar at fara ein kaitúr; b) Mann kann ikki brúka regnskjól, av tí at vindurin er alt ov nógvur; c) Luftin er samdrigin, og hann hevur ætlað vindin; d) Veðrið er so óstøðugt; e) Nei, hon bíðar.

2 Jógvan vaknar og fer á føtur. Hann rakar sær og fær sær eitt bað. So turkar hann sær við einum handklæði, letur seg í og greiðir sær. Hann etur morgunmat og drekkur kaffi, og síðani bustar hann tenn. So letur hann seg í skógvar og fer til arbeiðis.

3 a) gongst; b) síggjast; c) livst; d) Leingist; e) kallast; f) venjast; g) Kennast; h) sigst; i) minnist.

4 a) How's it going? b) See you! c) How are things at home? d) Do you miss the Faroe Islands? e) The island's called Svínoy; f) They're getting used to working in the Faroe Islands; g) Don't you know each other? h) He is said to be extremely rich; i) I don't remember.

5 a) ii ~ C; b) i ~ A; c) vi ~ D; d) iii ~ E; e) v ~ F; f) iv ~ B.

6 ógvuliga lýtt ~ tropiskur hiti; eitt sindur lýtt ~ ikki kalt ; ógvuliga kalt ~ bítandi kalt, ísakalt; eitt sindur kalt ~ kølið.

7 a) ein troyggja; b) gummistivlar; c) ein T-shirt.

9 a) glaðliga; b) vakurt; c) týðiliga; d) hugnaliga; e) vinaliga.

10 a) harðari, harðast; b) týðiligari, týðiligast; c) vakrari, vakrast; d) betri, best; e) meiri fantastiskt, mest fantastiskt (fantastiskari, fantastiskast).

11 a) 19:00; b) Yes, beginning at 17:00; c) Xena at 23:45; d) Entertainment; e) 19:30, chimpanzees in Congo; f) 23:00; g) The island of Svínoy; h) A football programme at 21:00.

12 a) Colder; b) No; c) Yes; d) Yes; e) The wind will become stronger and it will rain.

13 a) Skeivt / False (They were without electricity for 12 hours); b) Skeivt / False (A rockfall caused the blackout); c) Skeivt / False (The man who is in charge of the emergency generator was not on the island when the blackout happened); d) True; e) True.

14 a) ii; b) iv; c) i; d) iii; 'Tað er strangliga bannað at koyra rusk og annað burturkast á plássið, í fjøruna ella á sjógv. Hetta kann verða sektað eftir havnareglugerðini. Tórshavnar Havn' [It is strictly forbidden to throw rubbish and other waste in this area, on the beach or in the sea. This can be prosecuted in accordance with the harbour regulations. Tórshavn Harbour].

Unit 8

1 a) Henni dámar at fara í biograf, at hyggja at onkrum sjónleiki, at lurta eftir tónleiki og at fara við vinunum hjá sær at fáa sær eina øl á onkrari krógv ella barr; b) Ein danskur teknifilmur, ein amerikanskur gysari (ræðufilmur) og ein svenskur skemtfilmur; c) Hon vil sleppa at síggja biografin í Havn; d) Vissi hon blívur bangin, krógvar hon seg undir stólinum; e) Jógvan fer at keypa tey.

2 avís ~ tíðindablað; betala ~ gjalda; billet ~ atgongumerki; biografur ~ kykmyndahús; gysari ~ ræðufilmur; video ~ sjónband; weekend ~ vikuskifti.

3 a) Hesin filmurin er spennandi; b) Hasin maðurin er úr Nólsoy; c) Hesi børnini tosa føroyskt, men hasi tosa íslendskt; d) Tað / Hatta er so gott! e) Hetta veðrið er ræðuligt; f) Hesar kvinnurnar vilja fegin vita, hvaðani tú ert; g) Hesir menninir er útróðrarmenn; h) Hatta er ein nýggjur bilur. Hvør bilur? Hasin bilurin ella hesin?

4 a) Tú elskar at lesa; b) Jógvani dámar gysarar; c) Páll hatar klassiskan tónleik; d) Vit elska Føroyar; e) Tey kunnu ikki torga at sigla; f) Børnunum dámar at spæla telduspøl; g) Tykkum dámar ikki at lesa bøkur; h) Studentarnir kunnu ikki torga læraran; i) Ásu dámar føroyskan mat; j) Jóhanna hatar at gera mat; k) Eg eri býttur í fremmandamálum; l) Henni dámar ta nýggju fløguna.

6 a) ✓×✓×; b) ×✓✓✓; c) ✓✓✓✓; d) ✓××✓.

7 a) Rætt; b) Skeivt ('Systir mín ætlar at drepa meg' er bara tittilun á tí filmi, sum gongur í biografinum); c) Rætt; d) Skeivt (Hann skal koma eftir atgongumerkini í minsta lagi 30 minuttir, áðrenn filmurin byrjar); e) Skeivt (Í alt kosta tey 140 krónur).

8 a) nær; b) so at; c) Meðan; d) og; e) Tá ið; f) men; g) hví; h) Vissi / Um; i) um; j) av tí at / tí at / tí.

9 a) Leingist tær heim (aftur)? b) Manglar honum pening? c) Gongst henni væl? d) Tørvar teimum hjálp? e) Leiðist tær ikki við hendan filmin?

10 Er tað nøkur konsert hesa vikuna? – Nær byrjar konsertin? – Eru nøkur pláss eftir? – Hvussu nógv kostar ein billett? – Kann eg fáa tvær billettir? – Tað er í lagi. – [your name] – Takk fyri. Eg skilji. – Farvæl.

11 a) konsert- Norðurlandahúsið – 19:00 – 150,- ; b) fótbóltsdystur – Gundadalur – 19:30 – 100,- ; c) filmur – Havnar Bio – 20:00 – 70,- ; d) málningarframsýning – Gamla Meiarfið – 20:00 – ókeypis (0,-); e) gongutúrur – úr Havn til Kirkjubøar – 17:00 – 40,- ; f) vatnaerobikk – svimjihøll í Havn – 19:00 – 30,-.

12 a) var (irr.); bleiv (st.); vóru (irr.); byrjaði (wk.); gjørdist (wk.); noyddist (wk.).

13 a) eta – át (átst) – ótu; b) drekka – drakk (drakst) – drukku; c) gera – gjørdi – gjørdu; d) ganga – gekk (gekst) – gingu; e) fara – fór (fórt) – fóru; f) tosa – tosaði – tosaðu; g) koma – kom (komst) – komu; h) kalla – kallaði – kallaðu; i) brúka – brúkti – brúktu; j) selja – seldi – seldu; k) spyrja – spurdi – spurdu; l) hyggja – hugdi – hugdu; m) kenna- kendi – kendu; n) keypa – keypti – keyptu; o) noyðast- noyddist – noyddust; p) rógva – róði – róðu; q) síggja – sá (sást) – sóu; r) hoyra – hoyrdi – hoyrdu.

14 a) var; b) kom; c) blivu; d) hevði; e) segði; f) seldi; g) búðu; h) spurdi; i) keyptu; j) høvdu; k) startaði; l) komst; m) vart; n) visti; o) doyði; p) leitaðu, funnu; q) rópti; r) gav; s) koyrdu; t) fóru; u) Svavst; v) svaraði; w) vóru; x) bleiv; y) regnaði; z) arbeiddu.

15 a) stóðu; b) tosaðu; c) vóru; d) segði; e) svaraði; f) segði.

16 a) hevði; b) lósu; c) settu; d) fór; e) seldi; f) bað; g) fekk; h) bar; i) spurdi; j) hugdi; k) segði; l) Hevði; m) hevði.

17 Stjørnan – karaoke – 23:00 – free entry before midnight – 16 years of age.

Unit 9

1 a) Rætt; b) Skeivt (Hann keypir ikki nakrar svávulpinnur men ein tendrara): c) Rætt; d) Rætt; e) Skeivt (Hann keypir systkinabarninum hjá sær eitt føðingardagskort).

2 Góðan dagin. Kann eg fáa eina avís? – Hava tit okkurt á enskum? – Kann eg fáa Sosialin?- Ja, takk. – Ger so væl. – Farvæl.

3 Kropsrøkt: deodorant, rakiblað, sápa, sjampo, tannbust; Klæðir: handski, hosa, húgva, troyggja, vøttur; Roykivørur: pípa, sigar, sigarett, svávulpinnur, tendrari.

4 a) Eg vil fegin hava eina fløsku av vatni; b) Hann át eitt hálvt bikar av ísi; c) Eg drakk tveir koppar av kaffi og át eitt sykki av køku (eitt køkustykki); d) Kanst tú keypa eina pakka av mjólk, ein pakka av kornflakes og ein pakka av sukri? e) Hvussu nógv kostar ein tangi av bensini?

5 a) milk – 1 litre – 6 krónur; b) muesli – 1 bag – 24 krónur; c) wine – 1 bottle – 80 krónur; d) jam (jelly, marmelade) – 1 jar – 18 krónur; e) petrol (gas) – 1 tank's worth – 400 krónur; f) French cheese – 1 kilo – 120 krónur.

6 a) Hon fer til handils, av tí at hon leitar eftir onkrum gávum, sum hon kann hava við til familju og vinir í Skotlandi; b) Beiggi Claire er púra burtur í fólkatónleiki; c) Ja. d) Nei, tað dugir hann ikki; e) Hon heldur, at hon skal keypa honum turran fisk og rullupylsu.

7 Eitt myndasavn av føroyskum postkortum ~ myndabøkur; Føroysk bindingarmynstur ~ handarbeiði; Keypmaðurin í Venesia ~ sjónleikur; Leskiligur matur úr Italia ~ matgerð; Ringanna Harri ~ skaldsøga; Roknskapur fyri byrjarar ~ skúlabøkur; Tann føroyska sangbókin ~ sang- og sálmabøkur; Víkingar í Føroyum ~ søga; Ævintýrini hjá Brøðrunum Grimm ~ barnabøkur.

8 a) bankan; b) ódnina; c) tann dagin; d) síðstu viku; e) hann, hana; f) meg; g) ein mána; h) sjúku; i) ommu mína;) lampuna.

9 a) Tað spákar ein lítil genta oman eftir gøtuni; b) Tað eru nógv ferðafólk í býnum; c) Tað fer ein ungur maður inn í eina kiosk; d) Tað er komið eitt teldubræv til tín; e) Tað spælir ein íslendskur poppbólkur í Norðurlandahúsinum næsta leygardag; f) Tað situr ein vøkur kvinna í bilinum; g) Tað gingu átta minuttir, til dysturin tók eina avgerandi vend; h) Tað búgva fleiri ung heima hjá foreldrunum; i) Tað er eitt posthús á horninum; j) Tað gongur ein nýggjur filmur í biografinum; k) Tað stendur eitt træ við síðuna av vegnum.

10 a) Breyð og køkur: gularótakøka, horn, pitabreyð, rugbreyð, rundstykki; b) Grønt og frukt: agurkur, appelsinir, blómkál, dadlur, reyðkál; c) Persónlig røkt: blæur, deodorant, sjampo, tannkrem, wc-pappír; d) Kjøt og krás: dunna, enskir búffar, franskir grillhøsnaungar, frikadellur við eplasalati, heimagjørt rækjusalat, tunga; e) Fiskur: hýsa, kongafiskur, laksur, seiður; f) Fløgur og spøl: »Pállpopp«-fløgan.

11 a) átti; b) æt; c) var; d) vildi; e) vóru; f) fall; g) doyði; h) átti.

12 a) Páll spákaði oman eftir gøtuni; b) Hann fór í venjingarhøllina; c) Hann fór inn í eina kiosk og keypti ein pakka av sigarettum og eina avís; d) Claire leitaði leitar eftir onkrum gávum til pápa sín, men hon fann einki, sum passaði; e) Hon fann eina fløgu til beiggja sín og betalti 140 krónur fyri hana; f) Hon fór í sølumiðstøðina og keypti turran fisk og eina rullupylsu; g) Kristin koyrdi heim og steðgaði við bakarfið; h) Hon bað um eina rabarbukøku; i) Hon tók hana heim og át hana.

13 a) Hon heldur, at kjólin er alt ov stuttur; b) Nei, men hon hevur ein reyðan kjola við stuttum ermum; c) Kjólin hevur stuttar ermar og eitt prikkut mynstur; d) Henni manglar eitt sjál; e) Tað er Jákup, sum betalir fyri alt.

14 Vatnrætt: 1) sokkabuksur; 5) handskar; 8) ur; 9) lím; 11) blæur; 13) salt; 14) drops; 15) ur; 17) fingurgull; 20) ur; 21) troyggja; 22) skjúrt; 23) stivli.
Loddrætt: 1) sandálur; 2) undirtroyggja; 3) sokkur; 4) hárbust; 7) klædningur; 6) kambur; 10) saksur; 12) ur; 16) kot; 18) gummi; 19) lummi.

15 a) Barbra hevur ein langan, bláan kjóla við hvítum kraga. Skógvarnir hjá henni eru høghælaðir og reyðir. Hon hevur eina bláa tasku; b) Súsanna hevur sólbrillur og ein stóran hatt. T-shirtin er gul og buksurnar stuttar. Hon fer í sandálur; c) Oddný hevur eina stríputa troyggju og brúnar sokkabuksur; d) Klædningurin hjá Tróndi er myrkabrúnur; e) Kjartan hevur eitt grátt hálsturriklæði, eina reyða skjúrtu og langar, bláar buksur; f) Klæðini hjá Oyleivi eru grábrún. Hann hevur eitt prikkut slips, ein langan, gráan frakka og langar høghælaðar, svartar stivlar.

17 The sign that will help you is f. The other signs: a) Surveillance; b) Dental clinic; c) The public library; d) Watch out for me (Children playing); e) Taxis; f) Home for the elderly.

18 a) In terms of purchase power, the richest country in Europe is Luxembourg, the poorest is the F.Y.R. Macedonia; b) Iceland is the most expensive to live in, and Bulgaria is the cheapest.

Unit 10

1 a) True; b) False; c) True; d) False (She slept well, but dreamt a lot); e) False (The appointment is for later the same day); f) True.

2 a) iii; b) iv; c) ii; d) v; e) i.

3 a) ix; b) iv; c) x; d) vii; e) v; f) xi; g) i; h) viii; i) ii; j) vi; k) iii.

4 a) 20; á) 11; b) 7; d) 10; ð) 22; e) 17; f) 16; g) 3; h) 15; i) 25; í) 12; j) 8; k) 2; l) 13; m) 1; n) 23; o) 21; ó) 19; p) 5; r) 4; s) 26; t) 14; u) 27; ú) 18; v) 6; y) 24; ý) 9.

5 a) Hon eitur Jóhanna av Lofti; b) Hon hevur ilt í hálsinum, eina øgiliga høvuðpínu og fepur; c) Hon var frísk; d) Nei, tað ger hon ikki; e) Hálsbrúnin er íkomin av einari bakteriu; f) Hon fær antibiotika; g) Hon kann keypa onkrar pínutablettir; h) Nei, tað er beint um hornið.

6 a) Eg havi tað ikki so gott. Eg havi ilt í hálsinum og høvuðpínu. – Ja. Eg havi fepur, 39°. – Hvar kann eg keypa høvuðpínutablettir? – Takk fyri. Farvæl!; b) Eg havi ilt í høvdinum og eg eri svimbul. – Ja, og eg havi ilt við at fokusera. – Síðan at eg datt av súkkluni hjá mær í morgun. – Ja, og eg fór uttan súkkluhjálm. – Eg haldi ikki, at eg kann súkkla so langt.

7 a) hesum leikum; b) mær; c) landi; d) fyrstu tíð; e) hasum gátum; f) húsum; g) roykjarum, ikki-roykjarum; h) Krabbameini; i) elverkinum; k) sínum uppgávum; l) streyminum, ikki-varandi orkukeldum, dieselolju; l) hesum politikkaranum.

8 a) Hon keypir 28 tablettir; b) Nei, tað hevur hon ikki; c) Kururin varar eina viku; d) Hon skal taka fýra tablettir um dagin, tvær á morgni og tvær á kvøldi; e) Ja, hon keypir nakrar pínutablettir; f) tað kostar íalt 107,20 krónur.

9 a) øgiliga; b) ótrúliga; c) so; d) so; e) sera; f) ov; g) so; h) eitt sindur; i) ógvuliga.

10 a) 902121; b) 809022; c) 118; d) 809049; e) To report problems with the telephone or radio and television service; f) The time (talking clock); g) Queries concerning your telephone bill.

11 a) Do not hang up before somebody answers, and do not hang up until the police officer you are speaking to says goodbye; b) You must say what has happened, where the accident took place, who you are, and where you are telephoning from.

12 a) reinførisvørur; b) Heilivágsgerar; c) reseept; d) oyrapinnar; e) barnalappar; f) sjampo og hárbalsam; g) skúm; h) hárbustir og kambar; i) hárklemmur og spenni; j) stoytibað; k) neglafílur; l) pimpstein; m) húðkrem; n) rakigreiður; o) smyrsl; p) kosmetikki; q) eygnablýant; r) puturundirla; s) kinnareytt; t) varralit ella lepastift; u) neglalakk; v) apotekaranum; w) antibiotika; x) læknin.

Unit 11

1 a) Hon noyðist at taka eitt bílæt; b) Tey velta eplir; c) Hann hevur bílagt eitt kamar á einum gistingarhúsi við Gjógv; d) Morgunmatur er ímillum sjey og níggju; e) Mann kann gera døgurða í gestakøkinum á niðastu hædd.

2 Góðan dag. Eg ætli at bíleggja eitt kamar. – Týsdagin. – Fyri tríggjar nætur. – Eitt dupultkamar við sjónvarpi. – [Your name]. Hava tit døgurða? – Takk fyri. Vit síggjast næstu viku!

3 Góðan dag! – Eg havi bílagt eitt dupultkamar fyri tríggjar nætur. – [Your name] – Hevur kamarið nakað útsýni? – Nær er morgunmatur? – Er nøkur lyfta? – Tað er í lagi, takk.

4 a) land og kommunur; b) Suðuroy og Havnina; c) mannfólk og konufólk; d) ódnarveður; e) Havnar; f) okkara ímillum; g) teirra millum; h) hansara vegna; i) Íslands.

5 Einaferð var Lena í Nólsoy og hentaði mosa. Knappliga brendi hann á við vindi. Til alla lukku hevði hon eina eyka skipstroyggju, regnklæðir og vøttir í ryggsekkinum. Hon krokaði aftan fyri ein stein í tríggjar tímar. Tá hon so einaferð kom aftur til bygdar, var ferjan farin, men pápabeiggi hennara býr í Nólsoy, so hon yvirnáttaði hjá honum. Hann fór so við henni til Havnar við bátinum hjá sær morgunin eftir.

6 a) etin; b) drukkin; c) gjørdur; d) gingin; e) farin; f) tosaður; g) komin; h) kallaður; i) brúktur; j) seldur; k) spurdur; l) hugdur; m) kendur; n) keyptur; o) skaddur; p) rógvin; q) sæddur; r) hoyrdur.

7 a) smeltaður; b) málaðir; c)skrivað, sent; d) brotin; e) knúst; f) goymd; g) vónsviknir; h) gjørd; i) pøstar; j) hugtikin.

8 a) Eg eri farin til Havnar; b) Hevur tú lisið teldbrøvini hjá tær í dag? c) Hevur hann etið døgurða nú? d) Hví hevur tú ikki tosað við meg? e) Eg havi drukkið eitt glas av mjólk, og so eri eg farin í song; f) Vit hava flutt borðið inn í stovuna; g) Eru tey ikki flutt til Japan? h) Hevur hann keypt eina nýggja teldu? i) Tit hava verið í feriu í Ísrael; j) Hon er ikki blivin fyrsti, kvinnuligi løgmaður í Føroyum; k) Hevur hon ikki hentað mosa í Nólsoy? l) Pápabeiggi mín hevur búð á Viðareiði; m) Hevur tú roynt snorkling við Gjógv? n) Eg havi arbeitt á posthúsinum? o) Hevur tú lært føroyskt á universitetinum? p) Hevur hon sovið her? q) Vit eru flogin / flognir / flognar til Keypmannahavnar; r) Flogskiparin hevur flogið flogfarið til Keypmannahavnar.

9 a) Skeivt (Tey ótu nátturða í bygdini); b) Skeivt (Veðrið var gott); c) Skeivt (Tey ótu morgunmat og fóru ein biltúr); d) Skeivt (Hon sær nógv nýggj stað); e) Skeivt (Jógvan betalir rokningina); f) Skeivt (Øll bjóða Jógvani ein døgurða í Havn); g) Páll er ógvuliga svangur.

10 a) onkran; b) nakar; c) Einki; d) onkur; e) okkurt; f) einki; g) eingin; h) Onkur.

11 a) He was going home; b) The summer; c) It suddenly became foggy and windy d) He heard a voice from below calling for help; e) He was an enormous man, with a black matted beard, long, sharp teeth and red eyes. His body was dark brown and he had just one leg. Fire appeared to radiate from him; f) The sea-ghost pushed him over the cliff edge and he was lost in the sea below; g) The man's dog jumped towards the sea-ghost and frightened him, so he fell over the cliff edge; h) People only use the path if they are accompanied by a dog.

12 a) 1200 krónur; b) 1680 (2 nights @ 1400 krónur = 2800 krónur; there's a 40% discount □ 1680 krónur); c) Nothing, it would be free of charge; d) 11,000 krónur; e) No, all rooms are no smoking; f) A television, radio, telephone, trouser press and bathroom with WC.

Unit 12

1 a) Skeivt (Hon dansar salsa); b) Skeivt (Hon hevur nógvar vinir); c) Skeivt (Hon vandi ikki nóg nógv); d) Skeivt (Hon hevur ikki lisið bókina); e) Skeivt (Henni dámar at ganga í biograf).

2 a) Rætt; b) Rætt; c) Skeivt (Henni dámar at ferðast); d) Rætt; e) Rætt; f) Skeivt (Hon hevur ikki sæð nakrar føroyskar filmar); g) Skeivt (Hon ætlar sær at læna tær á bókasavninum).

3 Mær dámar a) bogaskjóting; b) rógving; c) kurvabólt; d) tennis; e) amerikanskan fótbólt.

4 a) Eg spæli badminton tvær ferðir um vikuna; b) Eg treni oftani; c) Eg íðki ikki ítrótt; d) Eg venji eina ferð um vikuna.

6 a) tær, mammu sínari; b) kredittkorti; c) døgum; d) bíðihøllini; e) tykki; f) ánna; g) brillum; h) kríggið; i) múrin; k) skrivstovuna; l) borðinum; m) borðið; n) spístovuborðinum; o) hjúnaskilnaðinum.

8 a) heima; b) upp; c) niðan; d) eysturi; e) vestur; f) úti; g) inn; h) higar; i) heim; j) har.

9 a) Hon fer á Kunningarstovuna fyri at finna útav, hvat hendir hesa vikuna í Havn; b) Hon hevur áhuga í mentanarligum tiltøkum og vil eisini fegin hoyra um útferðir; c) Mann kann síggja eina nýggja framsýning við ungum listafólkum úr Føroyum, Íslandi og Grønlandi; d) Ja, tað eru fleiri tónleikatiltøk við livandi tónleiki á ymiskum barrum og klubbum hósdagin, fríggjadagin og leygardagin; e) Norðlýsi er ein slupp. Vestmannabjørgini eru nøkur høg fuglabjørg; f) Hon kann fara higar við tyrluni; g) Hon fer ~~at taka~~ ein ríðitúr.

10 The short one for beginners – 2 hours (220 krónur): The tour crosses the mountains to Velbastaður; The longer one is for intermediates – all day (450 krónur): The tour crosses the mountains to Syðradalur, Velbastaður and Kirkjubøur. Dinner is served at the farm in Kirkjubøur; The long one for experienced riders – 3 days (2200 krónur): The trip is in the north of Streymoy and lasts three days. Overnight accommodation is provided in Saksun, Tjørnuvík and Vestmanna.

11 a) Hon ríður; b) Ítróttur hevur ongantíð verið nakað fyri hana, og hon heldur, at hon klárar seg fínt uttan; c) Hann elskar ítrótt og honum dámar væl at verða í formi og føla seg sterkan; d) Mann følir seg so væl, tá mann íðkar ítrótt, er úthvíldur og frískur aftaná.

Unit 13

1 a) Skeivt (Írskir munkar vóru teir fyrstu, ið settust niður í Føroyum); b) Skeivt (Teir tóku seyð og havra til Føroya); c) Skeivt (Hann er ein lítil, rundur bátur gjørdur úr húðum, sum eru spentar yvir eina viðarrammu); d) Rætt; e) Skeivt (Nøkur føroysk orð og staðarnøvn eru úr gæliskum); f) Skeivt (Teir vóru bøndur, høvdu seyð og handlaðu við Bretland og restina av Skandinavia); g) Rætt; h) Skeivt (Ísland er eitt sjálvstøðugt land, men Grønland hoyrir til Danmark; i) Rætt; j) Skeivt (Føroyar vóru eitt amt frá 1816 til 1948, men nú eru tær ein sjálvstýrandi partur av tí donsku kongsríkinum).

2 a) Hvat kann mann gera í Klaksvík um veturin? b) Mann etur nógvan fisk í Føroyum; c) Tað ger mann ikki; d) Tað kann mann ongantíð vita; e) Kann mann sigla til Føroya?

3 a) Troyggjan verður keypt henni; b) Báturin varð málaður av útróðrarmanninum; c) Eitt bræv verður sent løgmanni; d) Varð køkan bakað? e) Tann nýggja fløgan hjá Páll varð elskað av øllum; f) Billykilin varð funnin; g) Føroyar vorðu bygdar av írskum munkum í sættu øld; h) Grønland verður stýrt av einum øðrum landi; i) Rokningin verður ikki betalt.

4 a) i; b) ii; c) ii; d) i; e) i.

5 a) Tað varð dansað alla náttina; b) Allan dagin varð etið; c) Tað varð vitjað í Tórshavn og Klaksvík; d) Leingi varð tosað í telefon; e) Leingi varð sovið í gjár / Tað varð sovið leingi í gjár; f) Altið verður droymt í songunum í hasum hotellinum.

6 a) Málið hjá Tjóðskaparrørsluni er, at Føroyar skulu vera eitt frælst, demokratiskt tjóðveldi á sama hátt sum onnur lond; b) Diskuterað bleiv um, hvussu tey best varðveittu føroyskt mál og mentan; c) Sjálvstýrisflokkurin hevði meirilutan í løgtinginum fyri fyrstu ferð í 1918; d) Undir krígnur stýrdu føroyingar sjálvi Føroyum; e) Ein fólkaatkvøða er, tá ið fólkið verður spurt um okkurt, t.d. ein politikk; f) Ja, tað gjørdu tey; g) Tann danski kongurin upploysti løgtingið, og við næsta val fingu teir politisku flokkarnir, sum vildu hava samband við Danmark, meirilutan. Teir gjørdu samgongu og so bleiv ikki meria gjørt burtúr loysing; h) Hann er tann árligi, fíggjarligi stuðulin, sum danir veita Føroyum.

7 ambassador ~ sendiharri ; army ~ herur; candidate ~ valevni; civil war ~ borgarakríggj; democracy ~ fólkastýri; drug abuse ~ rúsevnismisnýtsla; election ~ val; human rights ~ mannarættindi; independence ~ sjálvstýri; negotiation ~ samráðing; politician ~ politikari; poverty ~ fátækt; president ~ forsætisráðharri; prime minister ~ forseti; republic ~ tjóðveldi; revolution ~ kollvelting; settlement ~ búseting; trade union ~ fakfelag.

9 a) Írskir munkar búsettust í Føroyum í sættu øld; b) Víkingarnir komu ikki fyrrenn í níggjundu øld; c) Føroyar vórðu kristnaðar í 999; d) Nú hoyra Føroyar til Danmark; e) Undir seinna kríggi var Danmark hersett av týskinum, og Føroyar vóru hersettar av bretum; f) Tann 14. september var fólkaatkvøða um loysing; g) Kongurin upploysti løgtingið; h) Í dag hava Føroyar heimstýri og fáa eina blokkstuðul frá Danmark.

10 a) Hvat hugsar tú um? b) Eg ætli at læra at sigla um summarið; c) Hann heldur, at stjórnin er býtt; d) Vit hava hugsað um tað allan dag; e) Hon meinar, at Føroyar áttu at verið sjálvstøðugar; f) Ætlar tú at flyta til Havnar? g) Eftir mínum tykki, arbeiða tey ikki skjótt; h) Eg haldi, at tey eru dovin.

11 a) Rætt; b) Skeivt (Páll hevur áhuga fyri politikkinum); c) Rætt; d) Skeivt (Hon veit ikki nógv um búskap); e) Skeivt (Mann hevur ikki enn funnið olju í Føroyum; f) Skeivt (Nógvir føroyingar hava sambond við Danmark; g) Rætt; h) ? (Vit vita ikki, hvussu hon velur!).

12 Tað stóð ein innbjóðing til ein fund í tinghúsinum; b) Sjálvan dagin, tá ið fundurin skuldi haldast, var veðrið ógvuliga ringt. Tað regnaði og tað var nógvur vindur. Tað var næstan ikki útfarandi. c) Rasmus Effersøe las upp eina yrking, ið Jóannes Patursson hevði yrkt; d) Nei, tað er hann ikki! e) i – 1, 3, 4, 5; ii – 2; iii – 6; f) Tann 6. januar 1889 varð Føringafelag stovnað; g) Føroyingar kundu best blíva sjálvbjargnir við at halda saman.

13 Jóannes Patursson – (1866) – Kirkjubøur – 1946 – (Kirkjubøur) – politikari; Hans Nicolai Jacobsen – 1832 – (Havn) – 1919 – Havn – (bókbindari); (Rasmus C. Effersøe) – 1857 – Trongisvágur – 1916 – Havn – blaðstjóri.

Unit 14

1 a) Tað er verkfall; b) Hon kann ringja til Atlantic Airways og vita, um nakað tómt pláss er umborð á tyrluni; c) Nei, tann fyrsti bussurin fer ov tíðliga; d) Av tí at tað er 20% í studentaavslátri; e) Ja, men tað kostar 30 krónur; f) Nei, tað er ikki so ringt at finna.

2 Góðan morgun. Nær fer tann næsti bussurin til Saksunar? – Hvussu leingi noyðist eg at bíða á Oyrabakka? – Nær kemur minibussurin til Saksunar? – Hvussu nógv kostar ein billett? – Einvegis, takk. – Hvaðan fer bussurin? / Hvar er bussstoppistaðið? – Takk fyri. Farvæl.

3 Góðan dag. Nær siglir tann næsta ferjan til Svínoyar? – Frá Hvannadsuni. – Hvussu leingi varar túrurin? – Kann mann keypa billett umborð? – Hvussu geri eg tað? – Eg vil fegin fara úr Svínoy mikudagin. Nær siglar ferjan? – Eg skilji. Hvat er telefonnummarið fyri at biðja um pláss umborð á ferjuni í morgin. – Takk fyri. Farvæl.

4 a) No; b) June, July and August; c) 12:35; d) 14:44. Not able to return on the same day.

5 a) bræv, letter; b) vakur, pretty; c) langur, long; d) Akrar, name of a village; f) barn, child; g) skomm, shame; h) lættur, easy; i) køka, cake; j) land, country.

6 a) Rætt; b) Skeivt (Tað er frakkin hjá Claire, sum liggur har; c) Rætt; d) Skeivt (Hann er úr Skotlandi); e) Rætt; f) Rætt; g) Skeivt (Henni dámdi teir væl!); h) Rætt; i) Skevit (Hon kennir hvørki teirra); j) Skeivt (Hann er eitt langt berghol); k) Skeivt (Hon arbeiddi heima, og onkuntíð arbeiddi hon eisini á flakavirkinum og onkuntíð í einum handli); l) Rætt.

7 a) Hon segði, at hon var so móð; b) Hon spurdi, hvussu eg hevði tað; c) Hon segði, at tey høvdu spákað í Viðarlundini; d) Hon greiddi frá, at hon hevði lisið bókina, áðrenn hon sá filmin; e) Hon spurdi, um eg ikki hevði haft tíð; f) Hon viðgekk, at hon fegin vildi reisa til Suðuramerika; g) Hon rópti, at hon visti, at eg hevði gjørt tað; h) Hon greiddi frá, at hon ikki var úr Føroyum; i) Hon svaraði, at hon ongantíð hevði etið sushi; j) Hon spurdi, nær vit høvdu verið í India; k) Hun spurdi, um eg kundi hjálpa henni; l) Hon spurdi, hví tey vóru so ímóti; m) Hon spurdi, um eg hevði hoyrt ta nýggju fløguna hjá Pálli; n) Hon segði, at Kristin ikki hevði skrivað nakað um, at hon hevði bjóðað mær; o) Hon segði, at tey vóru longu farin til Danmarkar, tá ið hon kom til Havnar; p) Hon rópti, at eg var býttur; q) Hon segði, at hon ikki var vorðin smittað av fuglakrími í Fugloy; r) Hon spurdi, hvat feilaði; s) Hon kravdi, at eg skuldi gera tað.

8 a) Hon heldur, at Claire er ov kløn; b) Hon var ikki serliga stór og hevði grátt hár, brillur og stav. Frakkin hjá henni var grønur og taskan hjá henni var hvít. Hon hevði ein stóran bommposa í taskuni; c) Eitt møsn er ein, sum tosar upp í saman og tvætlar; d) Tey hjálpa henni og manni hennara at mála húsini; e) Ja, hann elskar tær; f) hann ætlar at koma til Føroya; g) Hon er í ferð við at blíva forelskað.

10 d) Positive – fittur, gávumildur, glaður, íðin, klókur, lívligur, sannførdur, smákrevjin, tollyntur, trúfastur, umberandi; Negative – ágangandi, bláoygdur, býttur, í ringum lag, keðiligur, lorkutur , lúnutur, sjálvglaður, sjálvgóður, snúin, treiskur.

11 a) kóka, kókið; á) koyr, koyrið; b) rør, rørið; d) lat, latið; ð) rør, rørið; e) ger, gerið; f) brúka, brúkið; g) knúsa, knúsið; h) koyr, koyrið; i) smelta, smeltið; í) steik, steikið; j) stoyt, stoytið; k) rør, rørið; l) stoyt, stoytið; m) ger, gerið; n) trýst, trýstið; o) rør, rørið; ó) koyr, koyrið; p) lat, latið; r) píska, pískið; s) koyr, koyrið; t) stoyt, stoytið; u) kóka, kókið; ú) ger, gerið; v) lat, latið; y) rør, rørið; ý) stoyt, stoytið; æ) set, setið; ø) loys, loysið; å) sker, skerið.

12 a) By telephoning 34 10 60; b) Also by telephoning the number 34 10 60; c) You should be there at least twenty minutes before the flight to enable the helipad manager to print the tickets and do any preparatory work before the helicopter arrives; d) You may take 20 kg (or more, but a charge is payable for excess baggage); e) Yes, as long as it is in a box.

13 a) Skeivt (Hann missir koyrikortið); b) Rætt; c) Skeivt (Hon var ov smøl); d) Rætt; e) Skeivt (Tað eru ikki rottur í Fugloy, Koltri, Hesti, Mykinesi, Sandoy, Skúvoy, Svínoy, Stóru Dímun og Lítlu Dímun); f) Rætt; g) Skeivt (Tær komu við einum vraki).

13 Kai is a monkey!

Unit 15

1 a) Skeivt (Hon hevur mintst tær); b) Rætt; c) Skeivt (Klaksvík er ikki so stór); d) Skeivt (Omma Claire stúrir nógv); e) Skeivt (Hon má ringja til hennara áðrenn klokkan seks); f) Rætt; g) Skeivt (Omman er hyldlig); h) Skeivt (Hon saknar skemti hjá ommu sínari); i) Rætt, j) Rætt.

2 a) leypandi; b) lesandi; c) skríggjandi; d) livandi; e) hugsandi; f) irriterandi; g) grátandi; h) siglandi; i) sitandi.

3 a) The girls came running down the street; b) The letter was illegible; c) She can't cope with screaming children; d) No one can tell whether they are alive or dead; e) Isn't it conceivable that she's gone? f) He has always been irritatingly stupid; g) I saw many crying women on the quayside; h) Then the boat came sailing; i) You mustn't remain sitting for too long!

4 a) Ja, tað hevur hon (t.d. Gjógv og Havnar Bio); b) Tað er ringt at siga, men henni dámdi væl matin í Føroyum; c) Hon nevnir túrarnar til Gjáar, til Suðuroyar og til Kirkjubøar; d) Hon var á einari klassiskari konsert, lurtaði eftir rokkmusikki, hugdi at sjónleiki, var í biografi, á listasøvnunum og á fornminnissøvnunum í býnum; e) Nei, teimum dámdi væl at hava hana á vitjan; f) Hon vil heldur vera hjá familju sínari, og hon hittir Jógvan í morgin.

5 a) skerpikjøt; b) heimagjørd súlupylsa; c) knettasúpan; d) Klaksvík; e) Gjógv; f) Tórshavn; g) Kirkjubøur; h) Edinburgh; i) Slættaratindur; j) Suðuroy; k) klassisk konsert; l) lurta eftir rokkmusikk; m) sjónleikur; n) biografur; o) listasøvn; p) fornminnissøvn.

6 a) Skeivt (Hon hevur mintst tað); b) Rætt; c) Skeivt (Ferðafólkini fara umborð um tíggju minuttir); d) Rætt; e) Skeivt (Hann heldur tað vera keðiligt, at hon skal fara longu); f) Rætt; g) Skeivt (Hon svarar ikki!).

7 A painting, books, CDs, fish, gloves, photos, sausage, socks.

8 a) Hon skrivar, av tí at hon ynskir at senda ommu sínari nakrar myndir frá føðingardagsveitsluni hjá hennara, og av tí at hon vil biðja um uppskriftina uppá lagkøkuni við jarðberjum; b) Hann noyddist at bíða næstan 2 tímar eftir einum bussi í regni.

9 Hey _____!
Nú er eg aftur heima, men eg ynskti at skriva tykkum fyri at takka fyri gestablídni tykkara tykkum, meðan eg var í Føroyum. Eg hevði ein góðan túr til Havnar og neyt at búgva hjá tykkum. Mær dámdi væl at ganga niðan á Slættaratind, og ferjutúrin til Mykinesar gloymi eg aldrin! Mær dámdi eisini at royna føroyskan mat og at dansa føroyskan dans.
Eg havi gloymt frakkan hjá mær í sovirúminum. Kunnu tit senda mær hann?
Eg lovi at senda onkur bíløt so skjótt, sum tey verða framkallað.
Vinarliga, _____.

10 The parents of Claire MacDonald and Jógvan Jákupsson invite you, family and friends to their wedding on Saturday, 15 July at 12 o'clock in Tórshavn Church. After the ceremony, there will be a reception at the Mediterraneo Restaurant with dinner, dance and live music. RSVP.

Faroese-English Glossary

A

a, n. indecl. diet (vera upp á a to be on a diet)

abbabarn (-s, -børn), n. grandchild (if you are the child's grandfather)

abb/i (-a, -ar), m. grandfather

adr̲ess/a (-u, -ur), f. address

advok̲at/ur (-s, -ar), m. solicitor

aerob̲ikk (aerob̲iks, ~), n. aerobics

aftan fyri + acc., prep. behind

aftaná, adv. afterwards

aftur, adv. again; back

afturpart/ur (-s, -ar), m. backside, rear agn̲ostikar/i -a, -ar), m. agnostic

agurk/a (-u, -ur), f. cucumber

akkurát, adv. just

akne (-0, ~), f. acne

albog/i (-a, -ar), m. elbow aldrin, adv. never aldur (-s, aldrar), m. age (nakað við aldur elderly, um miðjan aldur middle-aged) aldursmark (-s, -mørk), n. age limit

aling (-ar, ~), f. fish-farming

alisfrøði (-0, ~), f. physics

alík̲avæl, adv. still, yet, nevertheless alkend/ur, adj. famous alkoholinnihald (-s, -0), n. alcohol content allar-, prefix. most … of all (allarfagrastur most beautiful of all) allarhelst, adv. I suppose so

alletiders, adj. indecl. great, super

all/ur (øll, alt), adj. all (alt árið all year, alt ov far tóo, alt í lagi okay, all right, alt fyri eitt as soon as, at once, í øllum góðum okay, in one piece) almannamál (-s, -0), n. public services

almannaráðgev/i (-a, -ar), m. social worker almannaøki (-s, ~), n. social services almenn/ur (almenn, alment), adj. public, general (alment vesi public toilet) alnet (-s, ~), n. internet alskyns, adj. indecl. all sorts of altíð, adv. always

altjóða, adj. indecl. international

altso, adv. that is

ambul̲ans/a (-u, -ur), f. ambulance amt (-s, -0), n. county, province

andahjálp (-ar, ~), f. mouth-to-mouth resuscitation andlit (-s, -0), n. face (andlit til andlits face to face) andøvsgul (-s, -0), n. gentle breeze

angriboll/i (-a, -ar), m. morning-after pill annaðkvøld (-s, -0), n. tomorrow evening (í annaðkvøld tomorrow evening) annar (onnur, annað), adj. other, second (aðra hvørja viku every other week, annar hvítusunnudagur Whit Monday, annar jóladagur Boxing Day, 26 December, annar páskadagur Easter Monday)

anor̲akk/ur (anor̲aks, -ar), m. anorak

ansa (-að) eftir + dat., vb. to take care of, look after; beware of ansin, adj. careful

antibi̲otik/a (-a, ~), n. antibiotics

antikvari̲at (-s, -0), n. second-hand bookshop

antin… ella…, conj. either… or…

apot̲ek (-s, -0), n. chemist's, pharmacy

apot̲ekar/i (-a, -ar), m. chemist, pharmacist

appilsi̲n (-ar, -ir), f. orange

appilsi̲ndjús (-0, -0), n. orange juice

appilsingul/ur, adj. orange appilsinlitt/ur, adj. orange apríl, m. indecl. April

arbeiða (arbeiddi), vb. to work (arbeiða í skiftum to work shifts)

arbeiði (-s, -[r]), n. work; job arbeiðsgevar/i (-a, -ar), m. employer arbeiðskvinn/a (-u, r), f. (female) manual worker arbeiðsleys/ur, adj. unemployed arbeiðsmaður (-mans, -menn), m. (male) manual worker arbeiðstakar/i (-a, -ar), m. employee arbeiðstíð (-ar, -ir), f. working hours arga (-aði), vb. to annoy, tease arkitekt/ur (-s-ar), m. architect armband (-s, -bond), n. bracelet arm/ur (-s, -ar), m. arm aspargussúpan (-ar, -ir), f. asparagus soup aspirin (-s, -0), n. aspirin astmasjúk/ur, adj. asthmatic at, conj. that atgongd (-ar, -ir), f. entry atgongumerki (-s, -[r]), n. (entrance) ticket atkomandi, adj. indecl. accessible atkvæð/a (-u, -ur), f. vote atkvæða (atkvæddi), vb. to vote atkvæðukass/i (-a, -ar), m. ballot box atkvæðurætt/ur (-ræts, -ir), m. suffrage atkvæðuseðil (-s, -seðlar), m. ballot paper august, m. indecl. August

automatiskt, adv. automatically av + dat., prep. by; from (av og á once in a while, av og til now and then, av tí at because) avdeyðahund/ur (-s, -ar), m. decrepit dog
avfall (-s, ~), n. precipitation avgjaldsfrí/ur (-frí, -frítt), adj. tax free avgjørt, adv. definitely, absolutely avgreiðslufólk (-s, -0), n. (shop) assistant avheinta (-aði), vb. to fetch
avís (-ar, -ir), f. newspaper avlang/ur (avlong, avlangt), adj. oval avloysar/i (-a, -ar), m. substitute, locum
avrokning (-ar, -ar), f. bill payment avstað, adv. away
avtaka (tekur; tók, tóku; tikið), st. vb. to dissolve
avtal/a (-u, -ur), f. date, appointment; deal avtala (-aði), vb. to make an appointment

Á

á (-ar, -ir), f. river; stream, beck á + acc./dat., prep. in; at; on (á degi in the day time, á kvøldi in the evening(s), á middegi (at) midday, á morgni in the morning (s), á nátt in the night, at night, á horninum on the corner, á høgru hond on the right, on the right-hand side, á vinstru hond on the left, on the left-hand side)
áðrenn, conj. before
áður, adv. previously, before ágangandi, adj. indecl. aggressive ágrýtin, adj. energetic áhaldin, adj. tough áhugað/ur, adj. interested
áhugamál (-s, -0), n. interest áhugaverd/ur (-verd, -vert), adj. interesting
áhug/i (-a, -ar), m. interest
ája, interj. well
ákæra (-di), vb. to accuse áleiðis, adv. on one's way álitandi, adj. indecl. reliable, trustworthy
álk/a (-u, -ur), f. razorbill, auk
álvara, adv. seriously
álvaratos (-0, -0), n. something said in seriousness ár (-s, -0), n. year
árlig/ur, adj. annual árnfirðing/ur (-s, -ar), m. inhabitant of Árnafjørður
árstíð (-ar, -ir), f. season ásett/ur (ásett, ásett), past part. set, fixed áskoðar/i (-a, -ar), m. spectator átjandapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. eighteenth (fraction) áttandapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. eighth (fraction) átting/ur (-s, -ar), m. eighth (fraction) ávikavist, adv. respectively (ávikavist a og b a and b respectively) ávirkað/ur (ávirkað, ávirkað), past part. under the influence (of alcohol or drugs), intoxicated

ávirkan (-ar, -ir), f. influence
ávís/ur, adj. certain, positive

B

badminton (-s, ~), n. badminton
baða (-aði), vb. to bathe baðikar (-s, -kør), n. bath tub baðirúm (-s, -0), n. bathroom
baðiverilsi (-s, -0), n. bathroom baga (-di), vb. to suffer from something; be the matter (hvat bagir? what's the matter?)
baggasj/a (–u, ~), f. luggage, baggage baggasjustativ (-s, -0), n. luggage rack bahá'í trúgvin, f sg. def. the Baha'i faith
bak (-s, bøk), n. back baka (-aði), vb. to bake
bakarí (-s, -0), n. bakery
bakteri/a (-u, -ur), f. bacteria
bak/ur (-s, -ar), m. greater black-backed gull
ballett (-ar, -ir), f. ballet
banan (-ar, -ir), f. banana
bangin, adj. afraid
bank/i (-a, -ar), m. bank
bankakonto (-0, -ir), f. bank account bara, adv. only, just; if only, as long as, I hope that (bara tað ikki regnar! As long as it doesn't rain!, I hope it doesn't rain!, It had better not rain!, As long as it doesn't rain!) barn (-s, børn), n. child barnabarn (-s, -børn), n. grandchild
barnafilm/ur (-s, -ar), m. children's film barnagarð/ur (-s, -ar), m. kindergarten, playschool, nursery barnalapp/i (-a, -ar), m. baby-wipe barnasong (-ar, -sengur), f. cot barnsburðarfarloyvi (-s, ~), n. maternity leave
barr (-ar, -ir), f. bar
baseballkepp/ur (-keps, -ar), m. baseball cap
basilikum (-s, ~), n. basil bat/i (-a, -ar), m. improvement (góðan bata get well)
batna (-aði), vb. to improve
battarí (-s, -0), n. battery báðir, pron. both (vit báðir Símun Símun and I m., teir báðir Páll Páll and he, tær báðar Anna Anna and she, vit bæði Jónas Jónas and I f., tey bæði Jógvan Jógvan and her)
bát/ur (-s, -ar), m. boat
begynnar/i (-a, -ar), m. beginner bei bei, interj. (good)bye
beigg/i (beiggja, beiggjar), m. brother bein (-s, -0), n. leg; bone beinkrím (-s, -0), n. influenza, flu beint, adv. directly, right, just, straight (beint fram straight ahead, beint her right here, beint í løtuni just now, beint nú straightaway, right now, beint um hornið just round the corner)
beisk/ur, adj. bitter
belti (-s, -[r]), n. belt
ber (-s, -0), n. berry
bera (ber; bar, bóru; borið), st. vb. to carry (bera bangheit fyri to be afraid, bera í bandi to set out, do, manage, bera í lag to succeed, bera seg at to behave, bera til to be possible)
berg (-s, -0), n. cliff
berghol (-s, -0), n. tunnel
bergtikin (-tikin, -tikið), past part. spellbound berja (bardi), vb. to hit berjast (bardist), vb. to fight

bert, adv. only, merely best superl. < væl, adv. best bestilla (-ti), vb. to order betala (-ti), vb. to pay betong (-s, ~), n. concrete betongpumpubil/ur (-s, -ar), m. concrete-mixer truck (with pump dispenser) betri < compar. góð/ur, adj. better biðja (biður; bað, báðu; beðið), st. vb. to pray; beg (biðja um + acc. to ask for, biðja um tíð to make an appointment) bikar (-s, -0), n. tub
bikini (-s, -0), n. bikini
bil/ur (-s, -ar), m. car bil (-s, -0), n. moment (í sama bili at the same moment)
bila (-ar; -ti), vb. to matter
bilførar/i (-a, -ar), m. car driver billett (-ar, -ir), f. ticket (billett aftur og fram return ticket) bilmekanikar/i (-a, -ar), m. car mechanic bilskúr/ur (-s, -ar), m. carport bilsmið/ur (-s, -ir), m. car mechanic bilstjór/i (-a, -ar), m. driver
biltúr/ur (-s, -ar), m. car trip, outing in a car bilverk/ur (-s, ~), m. car sickness
bimmilimm, adj. indecl. confused bind (-s, -0), n. bandage binda (bindur; band, bundu; bundið; bint! bindið!), st. vb. to tie; knit bindingarmynstur (-s, -0), n. knitting pattern biograf/ur (-s, -ar), m. cinema (fara í biograf go to the cinema) biologi (-ar, ~), f. biology biskup/ur (-s, -ar), m. bishop bisp/ur (-s, -ar), m. bishop
bit/i (-a, -ar), m. mouthful, bite bitin (bitin, bitið) av + dat., past part. mad about bíbli/a (-u, -ur), f. bible bíða (-að) eftir + dat., vb. to wait for bíðihøll (-hallar, -hallir), f. waiting-room bílegging (-ar, -ar), f. reservation bíleggja (bíleggur; bílegði, bíløgdu; bílagt), irr. vb. to reserve, book (bíleggja tíð to make an appointment)
bílig/ur, adj. cheap
bílæt (-s, bíløt), n. picture
bíta (bítur; beit, bitu; bitið), st. vb. to bite (tað er bítandi kalt it's freezing, extremely cold) bjarga (-að) + dat., vb. to save bjart/ur (bjørt, bjart), adj. bright bjóða (-að), vb. to invite; offer (eg bjóði it's on me, it's my treat)
bjørg, n.pl. cliffs
bjørn (-ar, -ir), f. bear blað (-s, bløð), n. magazine
blaðgrein (-ar, -ar/-ir), f. article blaðmaður (-mans, -menn), m. journalist, reporter
blaðstjór/i (-a, -ar), m. newspaper editor
blanding (-ar, -ar), f. mix blá/ur (blá, blátt), adj. blue bláber (-s, -0), n. bilberry, blueberry
bládúgv/a (-u, -ur), f. rock dove blágrøn/ur, adj. turquoise bláoygd/ur (-oygd, -oygt), adj. blue-eyed; naive bleik/ur, adj. pale blendar/i (-a, -ar), m. blender, food-mixer bleyt/ur, adj. soft blikksmið/ur (-s, -ir), m. plumber blíð/ur (blíð, blítt), adj. mild, gentle bliva (blívur; bleiv, blivu; blivið), st. vb. to become (bliva forelskaður to fall in love)
blokkstuðul (-s, -stuðlar), m. block grant
blomm/a (-u, -ur), f. plum blomstrut/ur (blomstrut, . blomstrut), adj flowery blóð (-s, ~), n. blood blóðmangul (-s, ~), m. anaemia blóðroynd (-ar, -ir), f. blood test blóðsprongd/ur (-sprongd, -sprongt), adj. blood-shot blóðtrýst (-s, -0), n. blood pressure (høgt blóðtrýst high blood pressure, lágt blóðtrýst low blood pressure)
blómkál (-s, -0), n. cauliflower

blus/a (-u, -ur), f. blouse
blæ/a (-u, -ur), f. nappy bløðr/a (-u, -ur), f. bladder; blister bløðrubrun/i (-a, ~), m. cystitis, bladder infection boardingkort (-s, -0), n. boarding card boða (-að) frá, vb. to report, notify bogaskjóting (-ar, ~), f. archery
boksl (-s, -0), n. bit, bridle
bolli (-a, -ar), m. bun, bread roll bomm (boms, -0), n., sweet(s), candy
bommpos/i (-a, -ar), m. bag of sweets / candy
borð (-s, -0), n. table borðdúk/ur (-s, -ar), m. tablecloth borðiskur (-s, -ar), m. dish, soup plate borðreiða (-reiddi), vb. to serve (food) borðtennis (-0, ~), n. table tennis
borg (-ar, -ir), f. castle, fort
borgarakríggj (-krígs, -0), n. civil war
botn/ur (-s, -ar), m. bottom bók (-ar, bøkur), f. book bóka (-að), vb. to book
bókahandil (-s, -handlar), m. bookshop
bókasavn (-s, -søvn), n. library
bókbindar/i (-a, -ar), m. bookbinder bókhaldar/i (-a, -ar), m. accountant
bókígð/a (-u, -ur), f. chaffinch
bókling/ur (-s, -ar), m. leaflet, booklet
bókmentir, f. pl. literature
bólt/ur (-s, -ar), m. ball
bónd/i (-a, bøndur), m. farmer bóndagarð/ur (-s, -ar), m. farm brandgul/ur, adj. orange
brádliga, adv. suddenly bráðfeingishjálp (-ar, ~), f. first aid breiðband (-s, ~), n. broadband breið/ur (breið, breitt), adj. wide; stocky brek (-s, -0), n. fault
brekk/a (-u, -ur), f. slope brenna (brendi), vb. to burn brennivín (-s, -0), n. schnapps, aquavit
breyð (-s, ~), n. bread
breyðflís (-ar, -ar), f. slice of bread
breyðsúpan soup made from bread, sugar and beer
breyt (-ar, -ir), f. lane
brillur, f. pl. glasses
brillusmið/ur (-s, -ir), m. optician
brillustell (-s, -0), n. glasses frame bring/a (-u, -ur), f. chest
bros (-0, -0), n. smile
brosjur/a (-u, -ur), f. brochure brosm/a (-u, -ur), f. cusk, tosk broyta (broytti), vb. to change broytast (broyttist), vb. to change (intrans.)
broyting (-ar, -ar), f. change bróðir (bróður, bræður), m. brother bróst (-s, -0), n. breast bróstahaldar/i (-a, -ar), m. bra, brassiere bróta (brýtur; breyt, brutu; brotið) av, st. vb. to break, discontinue brun/i (-a, ~), m. infection brunasár (-s, -0), n. burn brunn/ur (-s, -ar), m. well, spring
brúdleyp (-s, -0), n. wedding
brúgv (-ar, brýr), f. bridge
brúgvalag (-s, -løg), n. front brúk (-s, -0), n. use brúka (-ar; -ti), vb. to use brún/ur, adj. brown
brús/a (-u, -ur), f. shower bryggja (-að), vb. to brew bræv (-s, brøv), n. letter (a bræv letter sent 1st class, b bræv letter sent 2nd class / economy)
brævbjálv/i (-a, -ar), m. envelope buddist/ur (-s, -ar), m. Buddhist
buksur, f. pl. trousers
bummull (-ar, ~), f. cotton burtur, adv. gone, away (burtur í + dat. crazy about) burturfrá, adv. away
buss/ur (-0, -ar), m. bus
bussfelag (-s, -feløg), n. bus company
bussførar/i (-a, -ar), m. bus driver bussstøðgipláss (-0, -0), n. bus-stop bussstoppistað (-s, -støð), n. bus-stop busta (-að) tenn, vb. to brush one's teeth búff/ur (-s, -ar), m. steak búgva (býr; búði; búð/búgvið), vb. to live, dwell búkilsk/a (-u, -ur), f. stomach ache búk/ur (-s, -ar), m. stomach, belly búk/ur: harð/ur búk/ur (-s, -ar), m. constipation

búleikast (-aðist), vb. to live, get by

búsetast (-tist), vb. to settle

búseting (-ar, -ar), f. settlement

búskap/ur (-ar, -ir), m. economics

búskaparfrøðing/ur (-s, -ar), m. economist

bústað/ur (-ar, -ir), m. address

bygd/ur (bygd, bygt), past part. built; inhabited

bygdafólk, n. pl. village folk

bygdagøt/a (-u, -ur), f. path between villages

Bygdaleiðir, f. pl. name of a bus company bygdarfólk (-s, -0), n. villager

bygdaveg/ur (-s, -ir), m. road between villages

bygg (bygs, ~), n. barley

byggja (bygdi), vb. to build; inhabit

bygning/ur (-s, -ar), m. building

bylgjandi, adj. indecl. wavy

byrð/i (-a, -ar), m. load

byrging (-ar, -ar), f. causeway; dam, embankment byrja (-aði), vb. to start

býarkort (-s, -0), n. town map, town plan

býarlív (-s, -0), n. city-life, town-life

býta (býtti), vb. to divide býtt/ur (býtt, býtt), adj. stupid, crazy (hann er býttur í henni he's crazy about her)

býttisliga, adv. stupidly

bý/ur (-ar, -ir), m. town

bæði... og..., conj. both... and...

bø/ur (-ar / bíggjar, -ir), f. cultivated field

bøkk/ur (-s, -ar), m. lump of earth, mound

bøn (-ar, -ir), f. bean

C

café (-ar, -ir), f. café

celsius, indecl. centigrade, celsius

D

dagdroyma (-di), vb. to daydream

dagskrá (-ar, -ir), f. TV listing

Dagur og vika the name of the evening new's TV programme

dag/ur (-s, -ar), m. day (frá degi til dags overnight, dagsins suppa soup of the day)

dal/ur (-s, -ar), m. valley

dam/a (-u, -ur), f. lady; girlfriend

damubind (-s, -0), n. sanitary towels

Dannebrog name of the Danish flag

dansa (-aði), vb. to dance

dansktalandi, m. indecl. Danish-speaker

dálka (-aði), vb. to make dirty, soil

dáma (-ar; -di), vb. to be pleasing (dámar tær ikki suppuna? don't you like the soup?)

dámlig/ur, adj. atmospheric, pleasant

deild (-ar, -ir), f. branch

deilig/ur, adj. wonderful, lovely

demokratisk/ur, adj. democratic

dent/ur (-s, ~), m. interest, emphasis

deodorant (-s, -0), n. deodorant

depil (-s, deplar), m. point

desember, m. indecl. December

desembur, m. indecl. December

dessert (-s, -ir), m. dessert

detta (dettur; datt, dottu; dottin), st. vb. to fall

deyð/ur (deyð, deytt), adj. dead, deceased

diare (-a, ~), m. diarrhoea

dik (-s, -0), n. push, shove

dild (-ar, ~), f. dill

dimm(a) -, prefix dark (dimmbláur dark blue)

dimmi (-s, ~), n. gloom, darkness

diplomati (-s, ~), n. diplomacy

diplomatisk/ur, adj. diplomatic

diskil (-s, disklar), m. diskette (computing)

diskotek (-s, -0), n. disco

diskussión (-ar, -ir), f. discussion

djarvur (djørv, djarvt), adj. brave djór (-s, -0), n. animal

djórafrøði (-0, ~), f. zoology

djúp/ur, adj. deep

djúpstokt/ur (-stokt, -stokt), past part. deep-fried dokumentarfilm/ur (-s, -ar), m. documentary

dollar/i (-a, -ar), m. dollar

dovin, adj. lazy

doyggja (doyði), vb. to die

doyving (-ar, ~), f. anaesthetic dómar/i (-a, -ar), m. referee dómkirkj/a (-u, -ur), f. cathedral

dómsvald (-s, -0), n. judicial power

dós (-ar, -ir), f. can, tin dósaopnar/i (-a, -ar), m. tin opener, can-opener

dóttir (dóttur, døtur), f. daughter

dragulás (-0, -0), n. zip

drang/ur (-s, -ar), m. high projecting rock in the sea

drála (-aði), vb. to delay, dally

drekka (drekkur; drakk, drukku; drukkið), st. vb. to drink

drekkajogurt (-s, -0), n. drinking yoghurt

drekkandi, adj. indecl.; pres. part. drinkable, potable

drekkivør/a (-u, -ur), f. drink

drepa (drepur; drap, drópu/drupu; dripið), st. vb. to kill; murder

dreym/ur (-s, -ar), m. dream

drink/ur (-s, -ar), m. drink (alcoholic) dríva (drívur; dreiv, drivu; drivið), st. vb. to manage, run drop/i (-a, -ar), m. drop drops (-0, -0), n., sweet(s), candy (Suðuroy dialect)

drotning (-ar, -ar), f. queen

droyma (-di), vb. to dream

drunnhvít/i (-a, -ar), m. storm petrel

drúgv/ur (drúgv, drúgt), adj. that takes a long time

drúv/a (-a, -ur), f. grape

drykk/ur (-jar, -ir), m. drink

drøgg, n. pl. drugs

duga (dugir; dugdi; dugað/dugt), vb. to be able (hann dugir væl at gera mat he's good at cooking) dugandi, adj. indecl. skillful dukk/a (-u, -ur), f. doll

dunn/a (-u, -ur), f. duck

dupultsong (-ar, -sengur), f. double bed

dúk/ur (-s, -ar), m. tablecloth dvd-spælar/i (-a, -ar), m. dvd player

dyr, f. pl. door; hallway

dyst/ur (-s, -ir), m. match

dýr/ur, adj. expensive

dýranavn (-s, -nøvn), n. animal name

døgurð/i (-a, -ar), m. dinner

døkkormar, m. pl. acne

døma (-di), vb. to judge

dømi (-s, -[r]), n. example

E

economique second class, economy postage

edik/ur (-s, ~), m. vinegar eftir + dat., prep. after (eftir 5 mánum after 5 months); for (eg fari eftir henni I'll go and fetch her); left, remaining (eru tað nakrar smákøkur eftir? are there any biscuits left?)

eftirløn (-ar, -ir), f. pension eftirløntur, adj. retired eftirnavn (-s, -nøvn), n. surname eg (meg acc., mær dat., mín gen.), pron. I egg (egs, -0), n. egg (steikt egg fried egg, harðkókað egg boiled egg)

egg (-jar, -jar), f. cliff-top, top edge of a mountain wall

eggjahvíti (-a, -ar), m. egg white

eggjakøka (-u, -ur), f. omelette

eggjareyði (-a, -ar), m. egg yolk

eggrund/ur (-rund, -runt), adj. oval eiga (eigur; átti, áttu), irr. vb. to own, have, possess (eiga rætt til at to have the right to); to have to, ought to eigar/i (-a, -ar), m. owner

ein, indef. art. a, an ein, num. one

einaferð, adv. once; once upon a time einahandil (-s, -handlar), m. trade monopoly

einast/ur (einast, einast), adj. only, lone einastandandi, adj. indecl. unique

einavaldsharr/i (-a, -ar), m. sovereign

eingilsk/ur, adj. English

eingin (eingin, einki), pron. no-one; nothing; no

eingongd, adv. even, once einkj/a (-u, -ur), f. widow einkjumaður (-mans, -menn), m. widower einkultsong (-ar, -sengur), f. single bed eins og, conj. as if, just like eins, adj. indecl. like, identical einsamall/ur (einsamøll/ einsumøll, einsamalt), adj. alone einstak/ur (einstøk, einstakt), adj. single einusinni, adv. once eisini, adv. also, as well, too eita (eitur; æt, itu; itið), st. vb. to be called (einki sum eitur no question about it) ekspedient/ur (-s, -ar), m. sales assistant
eld/ur (-s, ~), m. fire
elektrikar/i (-a, -ar), m. electrician elg/ur (-s, -ar), m. moose ella, conj. or el-linj/a (-u, -ur), f. power line, electricity cable
ellisheim (-s, -0), n. home for the elderly ellivtapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. eleventh (fraction) elska (-aði), vb. to love elst/ur compar. < gamal, adj. oldest elverk (-s, -0), n. power plant, power station embætismaður (-mans, -menn), m. civil servant enda (-aði), vb. to end, conclude (enda við to end up) endaleik/ur (-s, -ir), m. final endaliga, adv. finally endurreisn (-ar, -ir), f. renaissance; revival enn, adv. still; than
ennigul ont (antar, entur), f. widgeon
enntá, adv. even ensk/ur, adj. English epileptikar/i (-a, -ar), m. epileptic
eplamorl (-s, ~), n. mashed potatoes eplasupp/a (-u, -ur), f. potato soup
epli (-s, -[r]), n. potato
erla kongsdóttir (-dóttur, -døtur), f. white wagtail erm/a (-u, -ar), f. sleeve
ermakvarð/i (-a, -ar), m. cuff
ertnasúpan pea soup
eskj/a (-u, -ur), f. box eta (etur; át, ótu; etið), st. vb. to eat (eta morgunmat to eat breakfast) etandi, adj. indecl. edible evnafræði (-0, ~), f. chemistry
evr/a (-u, -ur), f. euro evropameistaraskap/ur (-ar, -ir), m. European championships eydnuspæl (-s, -spøl), n. lottery eyðkvæmi (-s, ~), n. AIDS
eyðvitað, adv. of course
eyg/a (-a, -u[r]), n. eye
eyka, adj. indecl. extra, spare
eykagjald (-s, -gjøld), n. extra payment eyknevni (-s, -[r]), n. nickname
eymka (-aði) seg, vb. to wail eystur, adv. east (eysturi in the east, eystur towards the east, eystan from the east)

F

fabrikk (-ar, -ir), f. factory faðir (-s, fedrar), m. father
fagurbókmentir, f. pl. fiction
fakfelag (-s, -feløg), n. labour union, trade union faks (-0, -0), n. fax
faktiskt, adv. actually
faktur/a (-u, -ur), f. invoice
fall (-s, føll), n. fall familj/a (-u, -ur), f. family fanans, adv bloody, damned
fangaleg/a (-u, -ur), f. prison camp fantasifull/ur (-full, -fult), adj. imaginative fantastisk/ur, adj. amazing, fantastic fara (fer[t]; fór, fóru; farin), st. vb. to go (fara í + dat. to wear, fara ein túr to go for a walk, fara við + acc. to wear, fara yvir + acc. to cross, fara avstað to leave, fara á føtur to get up, fara inn to enter, fara í býin to go out (for the night), fara til arbeiðis to go to work, fara til gongu to hike, fara til songar to go to bed, fara umborð to board, go on board, fara úr + dat. to get off) farstøð (-ar, -ir), f. terminal fartelefon (-ar, -ir), f. mobile phone, cellphone farvæl, interj. goodbye fast/ur (føst, fast), adj. firm, fixed, regular, permanent fatla (-aði), vb. to tie a rope around something fáa (fær[t]; fekk, fingu; fingið), st. vb. to get (fáa + sup. to be able to, fáa fatur á + dat. to grab hold of, get hold of, fáa sær to have, take, fáast at vita to get to know, fáast við to have to do with) fátæk/ur, adj. poor
fátækt (-ar, ~), f. poverty
februar, m. indecl. February
feigdarsveimar/i (-a, -ar), m. swift
feil/ur (-s, -ir), m. fault, mistake
feila (-ar; -ti), vb. to be wrong
feira (-aði), vb. to celebrate feit/ur (feit, feitt), adj. fat
felag (-s, feløg), n. club
felags-, prefix communal, common
feld/ur (-s, -ar), m. fur felliknív/ur (-s, -ar), m. penknife felliskrák/a (-u, -ur), f. rook fepur (-s, ~), m. fever, high temperature fepurstokk/ur (-stoks, -ar), m. thermometer ferð (-ar, -ir), f. journey, trip; time (aðru ferð the second time) ferðafalk/ur (-s, -ar), m. peregrine falcon
ferðafólk (-s, -0), n. traveller
ferðakekk/ur (-keks, -ar), m. traveller's cheque ferðandi, m. indecl. traveller
ferðaskrivstov/a (-u, -ur), f. travel agency ferðast (-aðist), vb. to travel, be on a journey ferðaætlan (-ar, -ir), f. timetable
ferðsl/a (-u, ~) , f. traffic
ferðsluljós, n. pl. traffic lights ferðsluóhapp (-s, -0), n. car accident ferðsluvanlukk/a (-u, -ur), f. car accident
ferj/a (-u, -ur), f. ferry
ferjutúr/ur (-s, -ar), m. ferry trip
fersk/a (-u, -ur), f. peach fesk/ur, adj. fresh (fesk súpan soup made from freshly slaughtered sheep)
fetil (-s, fetlar), m. carrying strap
film (-s, ~), m. cling film, saran wrap
film/ur (-s, -ar), m. film fimleik/ur (-s, ~), m. fitness, gymnastics fimtandapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. fifteenth (fraction) fimting/ur (-s, -ar), m. fifth (fraction) final/a (-u, -ur), f. final fingur (-s, fingrar), m. finger
fingurgull (-s, -0), n. ring
finna (finnur; fann, funnu; funnið), st. vb. to find, get to (finna út av + dat. to find out) fisk/ur (-s, -ar), m. fish fiskaboll/i (-a, -ar), m. fish-ball fiskakøk/a (-u, -ur), f. fish cake fiskasúpan (-ar, -ir), f. fish soup fiskiídnað/ur (-ar, -ir), m. fishing industry
fiskimað/ur (-mans, -menn), m. fisherman
fiskiskap/ur (-s, - ~), m. fishing (industry)
fiskivinnumál (-s, -0), n. fishing affairs
fiskiørn (-arnar, -ir), f. osprey
fitnesssentur (-s, -0), n. fitness centre fitt/ur (fitt, fitt), adj. friendly, nice fittliga, adv. fairly fíggjarlig/ur, adj. economic fíggjarmál (-s, -0), n. economic affairs
fíggjarstøð/a (-u, ~), f. economic situation
fíl/a (-u, -ur), f. file fín/ur, adj. fine; smart (fínar greiður! super!)
fjall (fjals, fjøll), n. mountain fjallamjørk/i (-a, ~), m. mountain fog or mist fjallarygg/ur (-ryggjar, -ir), m. mountain ridge fjallaveg/ur (-ar, -ir), m. mountain road
fjallígð/a (-u, -ur), f. brambling

fjallmurr/a (-u, -ur), f. dunlin
fjallvák/ur (-s, -ar), m. common buzzard fjarrit (-s, -0), n. telegram
fjarskifti (-s, -[r]), n. telecommunications fjákut/ur (fjákut, fjákut), adj. silly fjeppar/i (-a, -ar), m. fan fjórð/i, weak adj. fourth fjórðing/ur (-s, -ar), m. quarter, fourth (fraction) fjórðingsfinal/a (-u, -ur), f. quarter-final fjórhyrnd/ur (-hyrnd, -hyrnt), adj. square fjúrtandapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. fourteenth (fraction)
fjørð/ur (fjarðar, firðir), m. fjord
flag (-s, fløg), n. grass sod
flagg (flags, fløgg), n. flag flakavirki (-s, -[r]), n. fish-processing plant flambgrað/ur (flambgrað, flambgrað), adj. flambé fleiri compar. < nógvir, adj. more flekkunáp/ur (-s, -ar), m. flycatcher
flesk (-s, ~), n. (roasting) pork fleyr (-s, -0), n. light breeze flís (-ar, -ar), f. round (of bread), slice flogbólt/ur (-s, ~), m. volleyball flogfar (-s, -før), n. aeroplane, airplane
flogrænar/i (-a, -ar), m. hijacker
flogskipar/i (-a, -ar), m. pilot
flogvápn (-s, -0), n. airforce flogvøll/ur (-ar, -ir), m. airport flokk/ur (floks, -ar), m. party, group; political party flokka (-að), vb. to group florsukur (-s, ~), n. icing sugar, powdered sugar
flot/i (-a, -ar), m. navy flott/ur (flott, flott), adj. elegant flógv/i (-a, -ar), m. mouth of an inlet between two islands flók/i (-a, -ar), m. bank of fog or mist
flótandi, adv. fluently
flóttafólk (-s, -0), n. refugee
flóttafólkaleg/a (-u, -ur), f. refugee camp
flug/a (-u, -ur), f. fly flúgva (flýgur; fleyg, flugu; flogin), st. vb. to fly
flúgvar/i (-a, -ar), m. aeroplane, airplane flyta (flytur; flutti, fluttu; fluttur), irr. vb. to move (flyta inn to import, flyta pengar to transfer money) flætt/a (-u, -ur), f. plait fløg/a (-u, -ur), f. CD, DVD føguhandil (-s, handlar), m. music shop fløkt/ur (fløkt, fløkt), past part. complicated; tangled fløsk/a (-u, -ur), f. bottle
fløtaost/ur (-s, -ar), m. cream cheese fokusera (-að), vb. to focus foli/a (-u, ~), f. aluminium foil, tinfoil
for, adv. too
forbannað, adv. damned forbinding (-ar, -ar), f. bandage
forboð (-s, -0), n. prohibition, ban foreldur, n. pl. parents
forhøll (-hallar, -hallir), f. lobby forkølilsi (-s, -[r]), n. cold forlovað/ur (forlovað, forlovað), past part. engaged (to be married) form/ur (-s, -ar), m. shape (í form in shape, fit) formakøk/a (-u, -ur), f. sponge cake fornavn (-s, -nøvn), n. first name fornfrøðing/ur (-s, -ar), m. archaeologist fornminnissavn (-s, -søvn), n. historical museum fornminnissavn (-s, -søvn), n. museum
fornøld (-aldar, -ir), f. Ancient World
forrit (-s, -0), n. (computer) program forrætt/ur (-ar, -ir), m. first course
forset/i (-a, -ar), m. president forstanda (forstendur; forstóð, forstóðu; forstaðið), st. vb. to understand forsætisráðharr/i (-a, -ar), m. prime minister
forsøgn (-sagnar, -sagnir), f. forecast, prediction fortelja (fortelur; fortaldi, fortaldu; fortalt), vb. to tell forvitin, adj. curious
foss/ur (foss, -ar), m. waterfall fossa (-að), vb. to cascade, gush fotohandil (-s, -handlar), m. camera shop fólk (-s, ~), n. people (hvørki fólk ella fæ nothing at all) fólkaatkvøð/a (-u, -ur), f. referendum

fólkadans/ur (-dans, -ir), m. folk-dancing Fólkaflokkurin, m. sg. def. the People's Party
fólkaháskúl/i (-a, -ar), m. folk high school
fólkalig/ur, adj. polite
fólkamorð (-s, -0), n. genocide
fólkarænar/i (-a, -ar), m. kidnapper fólkaskúl/i (-a, -ar), m. primary school
fólkaslag (-s, -sløg), n. people; nation
fólkastýri (-s, -[r]), n. democracy fólkatingið, n. the Danish parliament (lower chamber) fólkatingsval (-s, -0), n. general election, the national election fótbólt/ur (-s, ~), m. football, soccer fótbóltsgalin, adj. football crazy
fótbóltslið (-s, -0), n. football team
fótbóltssamband (-s, -bond), n. football association fótbóltsskógv/ur (skós, -ar), m. football boot
fótbóltssøg/a (-u, -ur), f. history of football fótbóltsvøll/ur (-vallar, -ir), m. football pitch fótsopp/ur (-sops, ~), m. athlete's foot fót/ur (-s, føtur), m. foot
frakki/i (-a, -ar), m. coat
frakt (-ar, ~), f. freight
framburð/ur (-ar, -ir), m. progress
framførsl/a (-u, -ur), f. performance
framhaldandi, adv. still
fram/i (-a, -ar), m. fame, glory framkalla (-að), vb. to process, develop (film) framkomin (-komin, -komið), past part. intermediate, advanced framman fyri + acc., prep. in front of
frammanfyri, adv. on the front
frammanundan, adv. in advance
framrokning (-ar, -ar), f. invoice
framsýning (-ar, -ar), f. exhibition
framtíð (-ar, -ir), f. future framúr, adv. exceptionally framvegis, adv. still fransatern/a (-u, -ur), f. black-headed gull
franskbreyð (-s, ~), n. white bread fras (-0, ~), n. email spam frá + dat., prep. from
fráferð (-ar, -ir), f. departure fráferðarkort (-s, -0), n. boarding card
frágreiðing (-ar, -ar), f. account, statement frálík/ur, adj. excellent, great, super fráskild/ur (-skild, -skilt), past part. divorced fremja (fremur) to do fremmand/ur (fremmand, fremmant), adj. foreign (fremmandur valuti foreign currency, fremmant gjaldoyra foreign currency) fremst/ur (fremst, fremst), adj. foremost frikadell/a (-u, -ur), f. fried burgers (patties) of veal, pork and onions frisør/ur (-s, -ar), m. hairdresser frídag/ur (-s, -ar), m. day off, free day fríggjadag/ur (-s, -ar), m. Friday (fríggjadag on Fridays, fríggjadagin on Friday) frímerki (-s, -[r]), n. (postage) stamp frísk/ur, adj. fresh; healthy fríteinkjar/i (-a, -ar), m. atheist
frítíð (-ar, -ir), f. spare time
frítíðarítrív (-s, -0), n. hobby
FR-kort (-s, -0), n. debit card fróðskaparsetur (-s, -0), n. university (Fróðskaparsetur Føroya The University of the Faroe Islands)
frukt (-ar, -ir), f. fruit frysta (frysti), vb. to freeze frystiskáp (-s, -0), n. freezer fræg/ur (fræg, frægt), adj. good frælsi (-s, ~), n. freedom frælst/ur (frælst, frælst), adj. free; saved
frættindi (-s, -[r]), n. news frøa (frøddi), vb. to please frøknut/ur (frøknut, frøknut), adj. freckled fugl/ur (-s, -ar), m. poultry fuglaberg (-s, -0), n. bird cliff
fuglalív (-s, -0), n. bird life
fuglasúpan (-ar, -ir), f. soup made from seabirds
fulkubb/i (-a, -ar), m. little auk full/ur (full, fult), adj. full fullkomiliga, adv. completely
fullveldi (-s, -[r]), n. sovereignty

fund/ur (s, -ar), m. meeting
fundarsamtykt (-ar, -ir), f. resolution carried at a meeting
fylgja (fylgdi) + dat., vb. to follow fylgjast (fylgdist), vb. to go together, accompany fylla (fylti), vb. to fill; have a birthday fyri + acc./dat., prep. for (fyri mín part as far as I'm concerned, fyri seg sjálvt alone); in front fyri + dat. ... síðani, prep. ago (fyri 2 vikum síðani 2 weeks ago) fyri at, conj. in order that fyribils, adj. indecl. temporary fyribyrging (-ar, -ar), f. contraceptive fyrikomandi, adj. indecl. courteous, polite
fyrimun/ur (-ar, -ir), m. advantage
fyrireikingararbeiði (-s, -[r]), n. preparatory work
fyrispurning/ur (-s, -ar), m. inquiry
fyrr enn, conj. before
fyrr, adv. before
fyrrapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. before noon, morning, a.m. (fyrrapartin this morning) fyrri, comp. adj. first (of two), former fyrrverandi, adj. indecl. former fyrst/ur (fyrst, fyrst), adj. first (fyrsti páskadagur Easter Sunday) fýrakant/ur (-s, -ar), m. square fýrs, num. eighty fæ (figgjar, ~), n. cattle (hvørki fólk ella fæ nothing at all) fødd/ur (fødd, født), past part. born føðibræv (-s, -brøv), n. birth certificate føðiland (-s, -lond), n. native land (of birth)
føðilandskærleik/i (-a, ~), m. patriotism føðingardag/ur (-s, -ar), m. birthday
føðingardagskort (-s, -0), n. birthday card føðingarstað/ur (-ar, -ir), m. place of birth
føla (-di) seg, vb. to feel følsdag/ur (-s, -ar), m. birthday føra (-di) við sær, vb. to involve, result in, lead to Føringafelagið, n. sg. def. The Faroese Association Føroya søg/a (-u, ~), f. history of the Faroe Islands føroying/ur (-s, -ar), m. Faroe Islander føroysk/ur, adj. Faroese (á føroyskum in Faroese)

G

gaffil (-s, gaflar), m. fork
galda, st. vb. to hold good, apply
galdandi, adj. indecl. valid
galið, adv. badly
galin, adj. bad (slett ikki so galin very good) gall-, prefix totally (hann er gallsúrur he's really angry, he's pissed off) gamal (gomul, gamalt), adj. old gaman í, interj. very good (sir/madam) gandakend/ur (-kend, -kent), adj. dark, mysterious, eery ganga (gongur;gekk, gingu; gingið; gekk! gingið!), st. vb. to go, walk (ganga av skriðuni to go very badly, ganga í biograf to go to the cinema, movies, ganga saman to ally, ganga til dans to go to dance lessons, ganga til violinspæl to go to violin lessons) garasj/a (-u, -ur), f. garage
garðljómar/i (-a, -ar), m. garden warbler garð/ur (-s, -ar), m. farm; yard, garden (hvussu í Guðs garði? how on earth?)
garnatálg (-ar, ~), f. kneaded tallow from around sheep's intestines gasspatrón (-ar, -ir), f. gas cylinder gáloysin, adj. casual gás (-ar, gæs), f goose
gát/a (-u, -ur), f. riddle. mystery
gáv/a (-u, -ur), f. present, gift gávumild/ur (-mild, -milt), adj. generous

geil (-ar, -ar), f. street; alleyway
geislaprentar/i (-a, -ar), m. printer Gekkur, m sg. the name of a popular TV lottery show.
gent/a (-u, -ur), f. girl
gentunavn (-s, -nøvn), n. maiden name gera (ger[t]; gjørdi; gjørt), irr. vb. to do (ger so væl here you are, gera leksiur to do one's homework, gera av to exaggerate, gera innrás í to invade, gera klára(n) to prepare, gera seg serkønar to specialise, gera til hjáland to colonise) gerandisdag/ur (-s, -ar), m. daily life; weekday (í gerandisdegnum in everyday life)
gest/ur (-s, -ir), m. guest
gestablídn/i (-a, ~), f. hospitalility
gestakøk/ur (-s, -ar), m. guest kitchen geva (gevur; gav, góvu; givið), st. vb. to give (geva út to release, gevast to give up, stop) geym/i (-a, -ar), m. USB disk, memory key gift/ur (gift, gift), adj. married
gifta (-ir; gifti) seg við + dat., vb. to marry giktsjúk/a (-u, ~), f. arthritis gistingarhús (-0, -0), n. guesthouse
gittarist/ur (-s, -ar), m. guitarist
gísl/i (-a, -ar), m. hostage gjalda (geldur; galt, guldu: goldið), st. vb. to pay (gjalda í hondina to pay cash, gjalda í ómaksgjaldi to pay a fee, gjalda við kekki to pay by cheque, gjalda við kredittkorti to pay by credit card)
gjald (-s, gjøld), n. debt
gjaldoyr/a (-a, -u[r]), n. currency
gjaldoyrakostnað/ur (-ar, -ir), m. exchange rate
gjaldskort (-s, -0), n. payment card, cash card gjeikar/i (-a, -ar), m. gay
gjóð/ur (-s, -ar), m. osprey gjósa (gýsur; geys, gusu; gosið), st. vb. to draw, blow (tað gýsur there's a draught, it's draughty) gjøgnumstokt/ur (-stokt, -stokt), past part. well-done (of fried meat) gjørd/ur (gjørd, gjørt) av mannaávum, past part. man-made, caused by humans glað/ur (glað, glatt), adj. cheerful, happy glas (-0, gløs), n. glass, jar
gleð/a (-u, -ur), f. kite
gleða (gleddi) seg til, vb. to look forward to glitra (aði), vb. to glitter glím/a (-u, ~), f. wrestling
globalisering (-ar, ~), f. globalisation
gloyma (-di), vb. to forget glugg/i (-a, -ar), m. peephole gløa (-ddi), vb. to stare gneggja (-aði), vb. to neigh golf (-s, ~), -n. golf Golfstreymurin, m. sg. def. The Gulf Stream gong/a (-u, ~), f. walking (til gongu on foot) gongubreyt (-ar, -ir), f. pavement, sidewalk
gongustivl/i (-a, -ar), m. hiking boot
gonguteig/ur (-s, -ar), m. pedestrian crossing gorhungrað/ur (-hungrað, -hungrað), adj. starving hungry gorp (-s, -0), n. bad cough goyggja (goyr; goyði; goyð), vb. to bark goyma (-di), vb. to save; store goymsl/a (-u, ~), f. storage góð/ur (góð, gott), adj. good (góðan dagin how do you do, hello, góðan túr! have a good trip! bon voyage!, í góðar 12 tímar for a good 12 hours) góðgæti (-s, -[r]), n. sweet(s), candy góðtrúgvin, adj. trusting gólv (-s, -0), n. floor gólvteppi (-s, -[r]), n. carpet grannskoðar/i (-a, -ar), m. auditor gras (-0, grøs), n. grass
grasrótarørsl/a (-u, -ur), f. grassroots movement grava (grevur; gróv, gróvu; grivið), st. vb. to dig gravimaskina (-u, -ur), f. excavator grá/ur (grá, grátt), adj. grey grábrún/ur, adj. beige

grágás (-ar, -gæs), f. greylag goose
gráspurv/ur (-s, -ar), m. sparrow
gráspæt/a (-u, -ur), f. grey-headed woodpecker
grát/ur (-s, ~), m. weeping, tears
gráta (grætur; græt, grótu; grátið), st. vb. to cry, weep
greiða (greiddi), vb. to explain greiða (greiddi) sær, vb. to comb one's hair
grein (-ar, -ar/-ir), f. article
gremja (gramdi) seg um, vb. to moan, grumble grill (-ar, -ir), f. grill, barbecue grillbarr (-ar, -ir), f. burger bar grind (-ar, -ir), f. school of pilot whales; pilot-whale meat grógva (grør) to grow
grulvidrakt (-ar, -ir), f. rompersuit grundleggja (grundleggur; grundlegði, grundløgdu; grundlagt), irr. vb to establish grundlóg (-ar, -ir), f. constitution
grundvøll/ur (-vallar, -ir), m. foundation
grýt/a (-u, -ur), f. pan
grýtissmyril (-s, -smyrlar), m. kestrel grýtut/ur (grýtut, grýtut), adj. stony, rocky grøn/ur, adj. green
grønertur (-ertrar, -ertrar), m. pea
grønleyk/ur (-s, -ir), m. chive
grønmeti (-s, ~), n. vegetables
grønmetishandil (-s, -handlar), m. greengrocer's Gud (-s, ~), m. God
gudfrøði (-0, ~), f. theology gudstænast/a (-u, -ur), f. religious service, church service gul (-s, -0), n. breeze gul/ur, adj. yellow
gularót (-ar, -røtur) f. carrot gularótakøk/a (-u, -ur), f. carrot-cake gull (guls, ~), n. gold
gummi (-s, ~), m. rubber
gummistivl/i (-a, -ar), m. wellington boot
gump/ur (-s, -ar), m. rump, haunches Gundadalur, m. the sports stadium in Tórshavn
guv/ur (-s, -ar), m. drag (of a cigarette) gúppa (-aði), vb. to kick into the air
gysar/i (-a, -ar), m. horror film gýðing/ur (-s, -ar), m. Jew
gælisk/ur, adj. Gaelic
gævi, vb. past subj. of geva used adverbially to mean 'I wish' (gævi at hann skjótt kom heim I wish that he'd come home soon)
gøt/a (-u, -ur), f. street
gøtuhorn (-s, -0), n. street corner

H

ha? question tag
haðani, adv. from there hag/i (-a, -ar), m. outfield (for grazing), uncultivated pasture land hagstov/a (-u, -ur), f. department of statistics hakkibúff/ur (-s, -ar), m. beef burgers, beef patties halda (heldur; helt, hildu; hildið; halt! haldið!), st. vb. to hold; to think, believe, consider (halda fram to continue, halda munn to be quiet, stop talking, halda saman to stand together, halda seg to stay, remain) halló, interj. hello (on the telephone) halt/ur (hølt, halt), adj. who hobbles, limps hampilig/ur, adj. tidy hampiligt, adv. so so handbólt/ur (-s, ~), m. handball handgjørd/ur (-gjørd, -gjørt), adj. handmade handil (-s, handlar), m. trade, business; shop handilskvinn/a (-u, -ur), f. businesswoman handilsmaður (-mans, -menn), m. businessman handilsskap/ur (-ar, ~), m. business
handla (-aði), vb. to trade

handlið/ur (-s, -ir), m. wrist
handsk/i (-a, -ar), m. glove handverkar/i (-a, -ar), m. workman, tradesman hanga (hongur; hekk, hingu; hingið; hakk! hangið!), st. vb. to hang) hann (hann acc.; honum dat.; hansara gen.), pron. he; it m.
happa (-aði), vb. to mock har, adv. there (har uppi up there, har yviri over there) harð/ur (harð, hart), adj. loud; hard (harður búkur constipation) harðdisk/ur (-s, -ar), m. hard disk Harragud, interj. good grief!
harumframt, adv. besides, in addition
hatt/ur (hats, -ar), m. hat
hav (-s, høv), n. sea hava (hevur; hevði, høvdu; havt), irr. vb. to have (hava áhuga fyri + dat. to be interested in, hava frí to have time off, hava hug til to feel like, want, hevur tú hug at...? do you fancy...?, hava ilt í + dat. to have pain in, hava rætt to be right, hava rætt til to be entitled to, hava størri hug to prefer, hava úr at gera to be busy, have one's hands full, hava við sær to involve)
havhest/ur (-s, -ar), m. fulmar hav/i (-a, -ar), m. garden havnarlag (-s, -løg), n. harbour area
havragreyt/ur (ar, ~), m. oat porridge
havørn (arnar, -ir), f. white-tailed eagle
hálk/a (-u, -ur), f. slipperiness, iciness
háls/ur (-0, -ar), m. throat; neck
hálsband (-s, -bond), n. necklace hálsbetændilsi (-s, -0), n sore throat
hálsbrun/i (-a, -ar), m. sore throat
hálssvørt gjør (-ar, -ir), f. black-tailed grebe
hálsturriklæði (-s, -[r]), n. scarf hálv/ur, adj. half hálvendaleik/ur (-s, -ir), m. semi-final hálvfinal/a (-u, -ur), f. semi-final hár (-s, -0), n. hair
hárbalsam (-s, -0), n. conditioner
hárbust (-ar, -ir), f. hairbrush
hárfríðkanarstov/a (-u, -ur), f. hairdressing salon hárfríðkar/i (-a, -ar), m. hairdresser
hátrýst (-s, -0), n. high pressure hátt/ur (-ar, -ir), m. way, manner (á sama hátt in the same way, just like) háv/ur (hás, -ar), m. shark hegling/ur (-s, -ar), m. hail
heiðin, adj. heathen, pagan heil/ur, adj. whole, all (heila árið the whole year) heilivág/ur (-s, -ir), m. medicine heilsa (-aði), vb. to greet, pass on regards, say hello heilstokt/ur (-stokt, -stokt), past part. roasted in one piece heilsumál (-s, -0), n. health services
heilsuøki (-s, -[r]), n. health-care sector heilt, adv. completely, totally heim, adv. home
heima, adv. at home
heimabý/ur (-ar, -ir), m. hometown heimagjørd/ur (-gjørd, -gjørt), adj. home-made heimahús (-0, -0), n. home
heimasíð/a (-u, -ur), f. homepage
heimastýrislóg (-ar, -ir), f. home-rule law heimatún (-s, -0), n. courtyard; alleyway heimildarfilm/ur (-s, -ar), m. documentary film heimsbardag/i (-a, -ar), m. world war (seinni heimsbardagi World War II) heimsíð/a (-u, -ur), f. homepage heimskend/ur (-kend, -kent), adj. world-famous heimspart/ur (-s, -ar), m. continent
heimspeki (-0, ~), f. philosophy
heim/ur (-s, -ar), m. world heimsvev/ur (-s, ~), m. World Wide Web heimveldisstevn/a (-u, ~), f. imperialism heinta (-aði), vb. to download heit/ur, adj. hot, warm heita (heitti) á + acc., vb. to call upon heldig/ur, adj. lucky heldur, adv. somewhat (heldur lágur somewhat short); rather, sooner (eg vil heldur ganga enn koyra I'd rather walk than drive) helst, adv. mainly, chiefly; I dare say; preferably (helst ikki rather not, preferably not) helvt (-ar, -ir), f. half (helvt um helvt fifty-fifty) henda (-di), vb. to happen

hending (-ar, -ar), f. event
henta (-aði), vb. to collect, gather
her, adv. here (her er hugnaligt it's nice here)
her/ur (-s, -ir/ar), m. army herðar, f. pl. shoulders
herfólk (-s, -0), n. soldier
herfugl/ur (-s, -ar), m. hoopoe herja (-aði), vb. to plunder, lay waste, ravage; to rage
herlig/ur, adj. marvellous
hermaður (-mans, -menn), m. soldier
hermót (-s, -0), n. (battle) front herseta (hersetur/hersetir; hersetti, hersettu; hersett), irr. vb. to occupy (hersettur occupied) herskyld/a (-u, ~), f. military service hesin (henda, hetta; hesir, hesar, hesi), pron. this hest/ur (-s, -ar), m. horse
hestabak (-s, -bøk), n. horseback heva (-aði) pengar, vb. to withdraw money hevði, vb. past subj. of hava used adverbially to mean 'I wish' (hevði eg nú verið yngri I wish I were younger) hey, interj. hello, hi
heyggj/ur (heygs, -ar), m. hill heyst (-s, -0), n. autumn hiðani, adv. from here
higartil, adv. so far hill (-ar, -ar), f. shelf hindber (-s, -0), n. raspberry
hindu Hindu
hit/i (-a, ~), m. temperature
hitalag (-s, -løg), n. temperature
hitastig (-s, -0), n. degree
hitta (hitti), vb. to meet
hít (-ar, -ir), f. condom hjall/ur (-s, -ar), m. drying house hjallamjørk/i (-a, ~), m. belt of fog or mist, above and below which it is clear hjart/a (-a, hjørtu), n. heart (á fastandi hjarta on an empty stomach) hjartamassasj/a (-u, ~), f. heart massage hjartaslag (-s, -sløg), n. heart attack hjá + dat., prep. at the home of; used in possessive constructions (hjá henni her, hjá mær my, hjá sær his, her, hjá tær your) hjáárin (-s, -0), n. side effect hjálp (-ar, ~), f. help
hjálpa (-ti) + dat., vb. to help hjálpandi, adj. indecl. helping
hjálpar-, prefix assisting
hjálparfelagsskap/ur (-ar, -ir), m. charity (organisation)
hjálparsleys/ur, adj. helpless
hjálpsam/ur, adj. helpful
hjúnalag (-s, -løg), n. marriage hjúnaskilnað/ur (-ar, -ir), m. divorce hokki (-s, ~), n. hockey hon (hana acc., henni dat., hennara gen.), pron. she; it f.
hond (handar, hendur), f. hand (á høgru hond on the right, on the right-hand side, á vinstru hond on the left, on the left-hand side)
hopa (-aði), vb. to hope horn (-s, -0), n. corner (á horninum on the corner, beint um hornið just round the corner); crescent-shaped roll; handset on a telephone (hon legði hornið á aftur she replaced the handset) hornabólt/ur (-s, ~), m. baseball hos/a (-u, -ur), f. (men's) sock, stocking host/i (-a, -ar), m. cough hosta (-aði), vb. to cough hostasaft (-ar, -ir), f. cough medicine, cough mixture hotell (hotels, -0), n. hotel
hoyra (-di) til, vb. to belong
hóast alt, adv. afterall
hóast, conj. although hósdag/ur (-s, -ar), m. Thursday (hósdag on Thursdays, hósdagin on Thursday) hóskandi, adj. indecl. appropriate hugna (-aði) sær, vb. to have fun, have a pleasant time hugnalig/ur, adj. cosy, charming hugsa (-aði), vb. to think (hugsa um + acc. to think about, think of) hugskot (-s, -0), n. thought, idea hugtaka (tekur; tók, tóku; tikið), st. vb. to fascinate, captivate hugtakandi, adj. indecl. thrilling hugtikin (-tikin, -tikið), past part. occupied, busy, engaged hug/ur (hugs, -ar/-ir), m. thought, idea; will (eg havi hug I fancy) hugvísindi, n. pl. humanities
hulin, adj. secretive hummar/i (-a, -ar), m. lobster
hunang/ur (-s, ~), m. honey hundraðpart/ur (-s, -ar), m. hundreth (fraction)
hungur (-s, ~), m. famine
hurð (-ar, -ar), f. door
húð (-ar, -ir), f. skin; hide
húgv/a (-u, -ur), f. cap
húnar, m. pl. masthead
hús (-0, -0), n. house usually in pl.(uppá húsið on the house, free of charge) húsabygging (-ar, -ar), f. house construction húsagang/ur (-s, ~), m. bankruptcy
húsdjór (-s, -0), n. pet húski (-s, -[r]), n. household
hvaðan(i), adv. from where?
hvar, adv. where hvass/ur (hvøss, hvast), adj. sharp; strong hvat, pron. what (hvat fyri + nom. what sort of, what kind of) hví, adv. why
hvíla (-di) seg, vb. to rest hvíld/ur (hvíld, hvílt), past part. relaxed
hvít/a (-u, ~), f. fromage frais hvít/ur, adj. white
hvítleyk/ur (-s, -ir), m. garlic
hvítusunnudag/ur (-s, -ar), m. Whit Sunday hvítvín (-s, -0), n. white wine hvonn (hvannar, hvannir), f. angelica hvussu, adv. how (hvussu langt? how far?, hvussu leingi? how long? hvussu nógv? how much? hvussu við tær? how about you?) hvør (hvør, hvat), pron. which, who (hvønn whom, hvør sum helst anyone) hvør, adj. every (hvønn morgun every morning) hvørki... ella..., conj. neither... nor... (hvørki teirra neither of them, hvørki fólk ella fæ nothing at all) hygga síggj, interj. well, well! well, indeed!
hyggja (hugdi), vb. to peep, look (hyggja at + dat. to watch, see, hyggja at sjónvarpi to watch TV) hyldlig/ur, adj. plump hýruvogn/ur (-s, -ar), m. taxi, cab hýs/a (-u, -ur), f. haddock
hædd (-ar, -ir), f. floor, storey hægst/ur superl. < høg/ur, adj. highest høgguslokk/ur (-s, -ar), m. octopus, squid høghælað/ur (-hælað, -hælað), adj. high-heeled høgravend/ur (-vend, -vent), adj. right-wing høgrumegin, adv. on the right

høg/ur, adj. tall (heldur høgur tallish)

høn/a (-u, -ur), f. chicken, hen høsnabring/a (-u, -ur), f. chicken breast høsnarung/i (-a, -ar), m. (young) chicken høsnasúpan (-ar, -ir), f. chicken soup

høvd (høvuðs, -0), n. head høvi (-s, -[r]), n. opportunity

høvuðpín/a (-u, -ur), f. headache

høvuðs-, prefix chief, main

høvuðsrætt/ur (-ar, -ir), m. main course høvuðsstað/ur (-s, -ir), m. capital city

I

ið, relative particle that, which, who ikki, adv. not (ikki... fyrr enn not until, ikki rættiliga not really, ikki... uttan... not... but...)

imam/ur (-s, -ar), m. imam

inflasjón (-ar, ~), f. inflation

innanfyri, adv. inside

innbjóðing (-ar, -ar), f. invitation

inni í + dat./acc., prep. inside

inni, adv. there, at home innihald (-s, -0), n. content innihalda (inniheldur;; innihelt, innihildu; innihildið), st. vb. to contain

inniskógv/ur (-skós, -ar), m. slipper

innímillum, adv. occasionally

innlendismál (-s, -0), n. domestic affairs

innrás (-ar, -ir), f. invasion

innskrivað/ur (-skrivað, -skrivað), past part. registered innsproyting (-ar, -ar), f. injection innspræning (-ar, -ar), f. injection inntøk/a (-u, -ur), f. income inntøkukeld/a (-u, -ur), f. source of income inntøkuskatt/ur (-skats, -ir), m. income tax

instinkt (-s, -0), n. instinct

internet (-s, ~), n., Internet

internetstov/a (-u, -ur), f. Internet café

iPod/ur (-s, -ar), m. iPod

irriterandi, adj. indecl. irritating

Í

í in (í summar in the summer, í vár in the spring, í húsunum in the house, í Føroyum in the Faroe Islands); on (í bussinum on the bus, í feriu on holiday, í handilsørindum on business); for (í allan dag for the whole day); in many adverbial phrases such as:

í annaðkvøld, adv. tomorrow evening

í dag, adv. today

í erva, adv. at the top

í fjør, adv. last year

í frítíð sínari, adv. in his free time

í fyrradagin, adv. the day before yesterday

í fyrstuni, adv. at first

í gjár, adv. yesterday

í gjárkvøldið, adv. last night

í hel, adv. to death

í kvøld, adv. this evening

í mesta lagi, adv. maximum

í minsta lagi, adv. at least

í morgin ári, adv. tomorrow morning

í morgin, adv. tomorrow

í morgun, adv. early this morning

í nátt, adv. tonight

í neðra, adv. downstairs

í ovurmorgin, adv. the day after tomorrow

í staðin fyri + acc, prep. instead of íalt, adv. in total

íbinding (-ar, -ar), f. connection

íbúð (-ar, -ir), f. flat, apartment

íbúgv/i (-a, -ar), m. inhabitant ídnaður (-ar, -ir), m. industry'

ídning (-ar, ~), f. industrialisation íðan, interj. right then, well then íðin, adj. hard-working

íðka (-að) ítrótt, vb. to play sports, pursue sport ígjøgnum + acc., prep. through ígjøgnum, adv. all the way, right through íkomin (íkomin, íkomið), past part. caused (by), come (from)

ílat (-s, íløt), n. container ímillum + acc., prep. between ímynda (-að), vb. to look like, symbolise írokna (-að), vb. to include íroknað/ur (íroknað, íroknað), adj. inclusive, including

íslandslomvig/i (-a, -ar), m. (short-beaked) guillemot

ísakald/ur (-køld, -kalt), adj. icy cold

ís/ur (ís, ~), m. ice-cream

ítrótt (-ar, -ir), f. sport, sports

ítrótt/ur (-ar, -ir), m. sport, sports

ítróttahøll (-hallar, -hallir) sports hall

ítróttarsentur (-s, -0), n. sports centre

ítróttarvøll/ur (-vallar, -ir), f. stadium

J

ja, interj. yes

jabba (-að), vb. to repeat (forever)

jakk/i (-a, -ar), m. blazer, jacket

jakt (-ar, -ir), f. yacht januar, m. indecl. January

jarðber (-s, -0), n. strawberry

jarðfrøði (-0, ~), f. geology

jarðnøt (-ar, -ir), f. peanut

javel, inter. yes

Javnaðarflokkurin, m. sg. def. the Social Democratic Party

javnan, adv. regularly

javnstøð/a (-u, ~), f. equality

jákupsskel (-jar, -jar), m. scallop játta (-að), vb. to agree

jogurt (-s, ~), n. yoghurt

jomfrúhummar/i (-a, -ar), m. Norway lobster, Dublin Bay prawn, langoustine journalist/ur (-s, -ar), m. journalist

jóansøk/a (-u, -ur), f. midsummer

jólaaftan (-s, ~), m. Christmas Eve jóladag/ur (-s, -ar), m. Christmas Day (annar jóladagur 26 December)

Jólafund/ur (-ar, -ir), m. the Christmas Meeting

juli, m. indecl. July

juni, m. indecl. June

jú, interj. yes

júst nú, adv. right now

jød/i (-a, -ar), m. Jew jødisk/ur, adj. Jewish

jøkil (-s, jøklar), m. glacier

jørð (jarðar, jarðir), f. ground; earth

K

kaffi (-s, ~), n. coffee (kaffi við mjólk coffee with milk, kaffi við róma coffee with cream)

kaffimunn/ur (-s, -ar), m. cup of coffee kaffistov/a (-u, -ur), f. café kag/i (-a, -ar), m. browser kaga (-að), vb. to browse

kai (-ar, -ir), f. quay, harbourside

kaitúr/ur (-s, -ar), m. walk along the quay

kak/a (-u,-ur), f. cake

kakao (-s, -0), n. hot chocolate

kakaomjólk (-ar, ~), f. cold drinking-chocolate

kakupetti (-s, -[r]), n. piece of cake

kald/ur (køld, kalt), adj. cold kaldarak, adj. indecl. skinny

kall (-s, køll), n. calling, mission

kall/ur (kals, kallar), m. man

kalla (-að), vb. to call kalv/i (-a, -ar), m. halibut

kamar (-s, kømur), n. (small) room

kamarsnummar (-s, -nummur), n. room number

kamb/ur (-s, -ar), m. comb

kambsgjør (-ar, -ir), f. grebe

kamp/ur (-s, -ar), m. match

kampavín (-s, -0), n. sparkling wine kanadisk/ur, adj Canadian

kanel (-s, ~), n. cinnamon

kanna (-að), vb. to examine kanska, adv. perhaps, maybe kant/ur (-s, -ar), m. edge kappast (-að)st), vb. to compete

kapping (-ar, -ar), f. competition

kappróður (-s, ~), m. rowing karaoke (-0, -0), n. karaoke kardongar/i (-a, -ar) m. condom

karry (-s, ~), n. curry
kasjett/ur (kasjets, -ar), m. cap (with peak)
kass/i (-a, -ar), m. counter
kassalán (-s, ~), n. overdraft kasta (-aði), vb. to throw kastanj/a (-u, -ur), f. chestnut kastiroll/a (-u, -ur), f. saucepan katolikk/ur (katoliks, -ar), m. Catholic katólsk/ur, adj. Catholic
kav/i (-a, ~), m. snow
kavamjørk/i (-a, ~), m. snow-fog
kavaroksódn (-ar, -ir), f. snowstorm, blizzard kavaskadd/a (-u, ~), f. snow-filled mountain mist kavatok/a (-u, ~), f. snow with fog or mist kaving (-ar, ~), f. diving
kál (-s, -0), n. cabbage
kálv/ur (-s, -ar) m. veal kedd/ur (kedd, kett), adj. sad keðilig/ur, adj. boring, dull; unfortunate keiking (-ar, -ar), f. sprain keikt/ur (keikt, keikt), past part. sprained (keiktur fótur sprained ankle) kekk/ur (-keks, -ar), m. cheque (ein kekkur uppá 100 kr a cheque for 100 kr.)
kekkhefti (-s, -[r]), n cheque book keks (-ar, -ir), f. biscuit, cookie kelinavn (-s, -nøvn), n. nickname
kelling (-ar, -ar), f. witch, hag
keltisk/ur, adj. Celtic kenna (kendi), vb. to know (a person, place), be acquainted with kensl/a (-u, -ur), f. feeling
kenslugrein (-ar, -ir), f. subject (at school) kenslusam/ur, adj. sensitive
kertiljós (-0, -0), n. candle kettjar/i (-a, -ar), m. racket keypa (-ti), vb. to buy (keypa inn to do the shopping) Keypmannahavn (-ar, ~), f. Copenhagen
keypsork/a (-u, ~), f. purchasing power kili (-s, ~), n. chilli Kili, n. Chile
kinn (-ar, –ar), f. cheek kiosk (-ar, -ir), f. kiosk, newsagent kips, n. pl. chips, french fries; crisps, potato chips
kirkj/a (-u, -ur), f. church
kirkjufólk, n. pl. people from church kirsuber (-s, -0), n. cherry
kísta (-aði), vb. to shoo away kjallar/i (-a, -ar), m. cellar
kjattsíð/a (-u, -ur), f. chat-page
kjól/i (-a, -ar), m. dress kjóv/i (-a, -ar), m. skua kjøt (-s, ~), n. meat
kjøtbúð (-ar, -ir), f. butcher's kjøtfylt/ur (-fylt, -fylt), adj. filled with meat
kjøtsós (-ar, -ir), f. meat sauce
klaga (-aði), vb. to complain klassisk/ur, adj. classical
klár/ur, adj. ready
klára (-aði) seg, vb. to get along, manage, cope, get by klárviðrað, adj. clear (of the weather; only exists in strong neuter form – klárviðrað er it's a clear day) klinikkassisent/ur (-s, -ar), m. dentist's assistant klippfisk/ur (-s, -ar), m. salted and dried fish klivstativ (-s, -0), n. climbing-frame klokka (-u, -ur), f. bell (klokkan fimm (at) five o'clock, klokkan hálvgum sjey half past six) klostur (-s, -0), n. monastery; convent klógv (klóar, kløur), f. claw klók/ur, adj. intelligent
klædnahandil (-s, -handlar), m. clothes' shop klædnaskáp (-s, -0), n. wardrobe
klædning/ur (-s, -ar), m. suit
klæðir, n. pl. clothes
klænur (kløn, klænt), adj. slim, thin knagg/i (-a, -ar), m. peg knallert (-ar, -ir), f. moped knapp/ur (knøp, knapt), adj. small, little (ein knappan tíma just under an hour)

knapp/ur (knaps, -ar), m. button knappaborð (-s, -0), n. keyboard
knappliga, adv. suddenly
knettasúpan (-ar, -ir), f. fish-ball soup knív/ur (-s, -ar), m. knife knossast (-aðist) við, vb. to struggle
knubbsvan/ur (-s, -ir), m. mute swan knúsa (-ar; -ti), vb. to break, crush knút/ur (-s, -ar), m. lump
knýti (-s, -[r]), n. bundle
knæ (-s, knø), n. knee kodd/i (-a, -ar), m. pillow, cushion kokk/ur (-s, -ar), m. chef kola, f. indecl. coca-cola
koll/ur (kols, -ar), m. top
kollvelting (-ar, -ar), f. revolution
kolonialism/a (-u, ~), f. colonialism
kom/a (-u, -ur), f. arrival koma (kemur; kom, komu; komið), st. vb. to come (koma aftur to return, come back, koma eftir + dat. to come and collect, koma fram to arrive, koma fyri to occur, happen, koma gangandi to come walking, to walk (towards), koma í to occur, begin, arise, koma sær to dare, not shy away from, koma við to come along) komandi, adj. indecl. coming, in the making; next (komandi mánadag next Monday) komfýr/ur (-s, -ar), m. cooker kommiser/ur (-s, -ar), m. police detective kommod/a (-u, -ur), f. chest of drawers kommun/a (-u, -ur), f. municipality, borough; local council
kommunism/a (-u, ~), f. communism kommunulækn/i (-a, -ar), m. general practioner kon/a (-u, -ur), f. wife; woman kondiskógv/ur (skós, -ar), m. trainer, sneaker konditarí (-s, -0), n. cake shop
kong/ur (-s, -ar), m. king kongafisk/ur (-s, -ar), m. ocean perch kongarekkj/a (-u, -ur), f. list of kings
kongaríki (-s, -[r]), n. kingdom
kongaørn (-arnar, -ir), f. golden eagle kongsdóttir (-dóttur, -døtur), f. princess kongsríki (-s, -[r]), n. kingdom kongsson/ur (-ar, -synir), m. prince konsert (-ar, -ir), f. concert, gig kont/a (-u, -ur), f. account
konto (-0, -ir), f. account
kontoavrit (-s, -0), n. bank statement kontuavrit (-s, -0), n. bank statement konvolutt/ur (-s, -ar), m. envelope kopp/ur (-s, -ar), m. cup koran (-ar, -ir), f. koran, Qu'ran korkalitt/ur (-litt, -litt), adj. purple
korn (-s, ~), n. grain
kornneyð (-ar, -ir), f. famine due to lack of grain
kort (-s, -0), n. map
korter (-s, -0), n. quarter kortini, adv. for all that, all the same, nonetheless, nevertheless kosta (-aði), vb. to cost
kot (-s, -0), n. traditional Faroese jacket kot/a (-u, -ur), f. code; pincode kovboybuksur, f. pl. jeans
kovboyklæði (-s, ~), n. denim
koyggj/a (-u, -ur), f. bed in an alcove
koyra (koyrdi), vb. to drive; to transport; to run, be a vehicle in motion; to travel (by means of transport); to move (hann koyrdi armin burtur he moved his arm away); to put (in), shove (in); to drive off, force away (kvinnan varð koyrd av bygdini the woman was driven off out of the village); to pour; to sack, fire
koyrikort (-s, -0), n. driver's licence kódn (-ar, ~), f. thick fog kógv (kóvs, ~), n. thick fog

kóka (-aði), vb. to boil; make (tea)
kókað/ur (kókað, kókað), adj.; past part. boiled kókibók (-ar, -bøkur), f. cookbook kólna (-aði), vb. to cool
kór (-s, -0), n. choir
kóv (-s, ~), n. hazy sky before a change in the weather krabbamein (-s, ~), n. cancer kraftig/ur, adj. well-built krag/i (-a, -ar), m. collar
krák/a (-u, -ur), f. crow
kred̲ittkort (-s, -0), n. credit card krevja (kravdi), vb. to demand, require; order krikket (-s, ~), n.. cricket
krikkont (-antar, -entur), f. common teal
krimi- detective, crime krimifilm/ur (-s, -ar), m. thriller krimisøg/a (-u, -ur), f. detective story, thriller kringvarp (-s, ~), n. broadcasting (Kringvarp Føroya Faroese national broadcasting company) kringvarpa (-aði), vb. to broadcast
kris/a (-u, -ur), f. crisis
kristin, adj. Christian
kristna (-aði), vb. to christianise kristnað/ur (kristnað, kristnað), past part. converted to Christianity kristnikensl/a (-u, -ur), f. instruction in Christianity
kríggj (krígs, -0), n. war kríggjast (-aðist), vb. to wage war krím (-s, -0), n. cold; influenza, flu krímsár (-s, -0), n. cold sore
kropp/ur (krops, -ar), m. body
kropsliga, adv. physically kropsrøkt (-ar, ~), f. personal hygiene, body-care; toiletries krossorðagát/a (-u, -ur), f. crossword puzzle
krossveg/ur (-ar, -ir), m. crossroads
krógv (kráar, kráir), f. pub krógva (-aði) seg, vb. to hide krón/a (-u, -ur), f. króna, krone (unit of currency = 100 oyrur); crown krónuseðil (-s, -seðlar), m. (króna) bank note krúss (-0, -0), n. mug kryddað/ur (kryddað, kryddað), adj. spicy kuffert (-s, -0), n. suitcase kul, interj. great!
kuldatám (-s, ~), n. light mist in cold weather kuldatok/a (-u, ~), f. freezing fog kumpass (-ar, -ir), f. compass
kund/i (-a, -ar), m. customer
kundatænast/a (-u, ~), f. customer service kunna (kann, kunnu/ kunna; kundi; kunnað), irr. vb. to be able to, can, may (kunna (væl) hugsað sær at + supine to fancy, want, kunna líkst to sound like, resemble) kunningarstov/a (-u, -ur), f. tourist information office
kur/ur (-s, -ar), m. course (of medication)
kurl/a (-u, -ur), f. at, @ (in email addresses)
kurs/ur (kurs, -ir), m. exchange rate
kurv (-ar, -ar), f. basket kurvabólt/ur (-s, ~), m. basketball kurvabóltslið (-s, -0), n. basketball team kúgv (-ar, kýr), f. cow kúrr/ur (kúrr, kúrt), adj. still
kvarð/i (-a, -ar), m. waistband kvartfina̲l/a (-u, -ur), f. quarter-final kvettir (kvetti) av, vb. to break off, interrupt kvinnufótbóltslið (-s, -0), n. women's football team kvinnulig/ur, adj. female kvittan (-a, -ir), f. receipt kvittering (-ar, -ar), f. receipt kvøða (kvøddi), vb. to chant kvøldroð/i (-a, -ar), m. glow of the sunset kvørkveggj/a (-u, -ur), f. blackbird kykmyndahús (-0, -0), m. cinema kyn (-s, -0), n. sex, gender kynisk/ur, adj. cynical kynssjúk/a (-u, -ur), f. sexually transmitted disease, sexually transmitted infection kyrr/ur (kyrr, kyrt), adj. calm kyrrfugl/ur (-s, -ar), m. kingfisher
kær/ur, adj. dear
kærleik/i (-a, ~), m. love
køk/a (-u, -ur), f. cake

køk/ur (-s, -ar), m. kitchen
køkspappír (-s, -0), n. kitchen paper
kølin, adj. cool, chilly køliskáp (-s, -0), n. refrigerator, fridge
køva (-di) av, vb. to darken

L

lag (-s, løg), n. mood (í góðum lag in a good mood, í ringum lag in a bad mood, í minsta lagi at least) lagkøk/a (-u, -ur), f. cake of sponge, vanilla custard and whipped cream – traditionally eaten on birthdays (lagkøka við jarðberjum sponge cake with cream and strawberries)
lak (-s, løk), n. sheet laks/ur (laks, -ar), m. salmon lamb (-s, lomb) n. lamb lambskjøt (-s, ~), n. lamb (meat of) lambssneið (-ar, -ir), f. cut of lamb landafrøði (-0, ~), f. geography
landnám (-s, -0), n. colonisation, settlement
landnámsmaður (-mans, -menn), m. settler
landnyrðing/ur (-s, ~), m. north-east
landslag (-s, -løg), n. scenery, landscape
landslið (-s, -0), n. national team landsstýri (-s, -[r]), n. (governmental) cabinet landsstýrismaður (-mans, -menn), m. member of the cabinet landstingið, n. sg. def. the Danish parliament's upper chamber (abolished in 1953) landsynning/ur (-s, ~), m. south-east landøki (-s, -[r]), n. territory langafríggjadag/ur (-s, -ar), m. Good Friday langt síðani, adv. long ago
langt, adv. far
lang/ur (long, langt), adj. long lastbil/ur (-s, -ar), m. lorry, truck lata (letur; læt, lótu; latið), st. vb. to let, allow (lata seg í to put on, lata seg úr to take off, lata upp to open, lata heilsa to send one's regards, lata seg í skógvar to put on one's shoes, lata seg í to get dressed) lat/ur (løt, latt), adj. lazy
lavrber (-s, ~), n. bay leaf
lágtrýst (-s, ~), n. low pressure lág/ur, adj. low; short
lán (-s, -0), n. loan
látur (-s, ~), m. laughter
leður (-s, ~), n. leather leggja (leggur; legði, løgdu; lagt), st. vb. to lay, put (leggja inn to hospitalise, leggja av to put to one side, keep, leggja á netið to put on the web, leggja dent á to emphasise, leggja merki til to notice, leggja til rættis to put together, adapt, correct) legubræv (-s, -brøv), n. poste restante leið (-ar, -ir), f. path, route, way
leiðvísar/i (-a, -ar), m. guide leiga (-aði), vb. to rent, hire leik/ur (-s, -ir), m. play leikar/i (-a, -ar), m. actor
leingi, adv. long, a long time leingjast (longdist) sær aftur til + acc./gen., vb. to miss leinki (-s, -[r]), n. link leita (-aði) eftir + dat., vb. to look for leitil (-s, leitlar), m. search engine lekkur (lekkur, lekkurt), adj. delicious
lendi (-s, -[r]), n. country, (type of) land lenistól/ur (-s, -ar), m. armchair lesa (lesur; las, lósu; lisið), st. vb. to read (lesa upp to read aloud); to study lesbisk/ur, adj. lesbian
lestur (-s, lestrar), m. studies leygardag/ur (-s, -ar), m. Saturday (leygardag on Saturdays, leygardagin on Saturday) leygarkvøld (-s, -0), n. Saturday evening

leyk/ur (-s, -ir), m. onion

leypa (loypur; leyp, lupu; lopið), st. vb. to jump, leap leypár (-s, -0), n. leap-year

leys/ur, adj. available; loose (leyst lív diarrhoea)

liðítrótt/ur (-ar, -ir), m. team-sport

liðug/ur, adj. finished, ready liggja (liggur; lá, lógu; ligið), st. vb. to lie, be lying; be situated / located (liggja veðurfastur to be unable to travel because of bad weather)

likam (-s, -0), n. body

likk/a (-u, -ur), f. herring gull

likør/ur (-s, -ar), m. liquor

lilla, adj. indecl. mauve

lim/ur (-ar, -ir), m member

limaskap/ur (-ar, -ir), m. membership

limonad/a (-u, ~), f. lemonade

lin/ur, adj. soft

lins/a (-u, -ur), f. lense (linsur contact lenses)

liss/a (-u, -ur), f. shoelace

list (-ar, -ir), f. art

list/i (-a, -ar), m. list

listafólk (-s, ~), n. artist

listagallarí (-s, -0), n. art gallery

listakvinn/a (-u, -ur), f. (female) artist listasavn (-s, -søvn), n. art gallery, art museum

litfilm/ur (-s, -ar), m. colour film

livandi, adj. indecl. alive; live (music etc.)

livrabrun/i (-a, ~), m. hepatitis livur (livrar, livrar), f. liver livurpostei (-ar, -ir), f. liver pâté líð (-ar, -ir), f. hillside líða (líður; leið, liðu; liðið), st. vb. to pass (of time) líka, adv. in the same way (líka mikið all the same, no matter, líka síðani ever since) líkamikil (-mikil, -mikið), adj. of no importance líkasæl/ur, adj. careless

líkinda, adj. indecl. good enough líkjast (líktist), vb. to look similar líknandi, adj. indecl. similar

lík/ur, adj. similar to, resembling

lím (-s, ~), n. glue

línuveið/a (-u, -ur), f. long-line fishing

líta (lítur; leit, litu; litið), st. vb. to look lítil (lítil, lítið), adj. little, small

lítlibeigg/i (-beiggja, -beiggjar), m. little / younger brother

lív (-s, -0), n. life; abdomen (leyst lív diarrhoea)

lívd (-ar, ~), f. cover, shelter

lívfrøði (-s, ~), f. biology

lívga (-aði), vb. to enliven lívlig/ur, adj. active lívsýki (-s, ~), m. diarrhoea

ljóða (-aði), vb. to sound

ljóðføri (-s, -[r]), n. musical instrument

ljós (-0, -0), n. light

ljós/ur, adj. light

ljósa-, prefix light (ljósabláur light blue, ljósareyð/ur pink) ljóslesar/i (-a, -ar), m. scanner (computer) loddrætt/ur (-rætt, -rætt), adj. vertical loða (-aði), vb. to hang (low)

lomvig/i (-a, -ar), m. guillemot

longst, adv. furthest

longu, adv. already

lop/i (-a, ~), m. jelly, jello lopp/a (-u, -ur), f. flea lorkut/ur (lorkut, lorkut), adj. clumsy

lot (-s, ~), n. gentle breeze

lova (-aði), vb. to promise

loyniorð (-s, -0), n. password

loynital (-s, -tøl), n. pincode loysa (-ti), vb. to loosen

loysing (-ar, -ar), f. secession

loysingarevni (-s, -[r]), n. laxatives

loysingarflokk/ur (-floks, -ar), m. separatist party

loysingarfólk, n. pl. separatists

loysn (-ar, -ir), f. separation, freedom; solution

loyvi (-s, ~), n. permission

lóg (-ar, -ir), f. law

lóggáv/a (-u, ~), f. legislation

lóggávuvald (-s, -0), n. legislative power

lógv (láar, láir), f. golden plover

lógvatak (-s, -tøk), n. handshake

lóm/ur (-s, -ar), m. diver

luft (-ar, ~), f. air

luftpost/ur (-s, -ar), m. airmail

luktilsi (-s, ~), n. perfume

lumm/i (-a, -ar), m. pocket

lummapengar, m. pl. pocket money

lund/i (-a, -ar), m. puffin

lung/a (-a, -u[r]), n. lung lurta (-aði) eftir + dat., vb. to listen to, hear

lutfalsumboðan (-ar, -ir), f. proportional representation

lutleys/ur, adj. neutral

lutloysi (-s, ~), n. neutrality

luttaka (luttekur; luttók, luttóku; luttikið), st. vb. to take part

luttakar/i (-a, -ar), m. participant

lut/ur (-ar, -ir), m. part; thing (ein royndur lutur a fact) lúnut/ur (lúnut, lúnut), adj. moody

lycra (-s, ~), n. lycra

lyfta (lyfti) upp, vb. to lift up

lykil (-s, lyklar), m. key lykt (-ar, -ir), f. torch, flashlight lynlás (-0, -0), n. zip, zipper lýggj/ur (lýggj, lýtt), adj. warm (of weather)

lýs, f. pl. lice

lýsa (-ti), vb. to shine; advertise, declare; get light lýsing (-ar, -ar), f. advertisement, commercial; announcement

lækn/i (-a, -ar), m. doctor

læknafrøði (-0, ~), f. medicine (subject)

læknastov/a (-u, -ur), f. clinic læna (-ti) + dat., vb. to lend to (læna frá + dat. to borrow from)

lær (-s, lør), n. thigh læra (lærir) seg, vb. to learn

lærar/i (-a, -ar), m. teacher

lærubók (-ar, -bøkur), f. textbook lætt/ur (løtt, lætt), adj. easy; light lættimjólk (-ar, ~), f. low-fat milk (0.5%) lættstokt/ur (-stokt, -stokt), past part. lightly fried

løgfrøði (-0, ~), f. law

løgfrøðing/ur (-s, -ar), m. lawyer

løgin, adj. strange, weird

løgmað/ur (-mans, -menn), m. prime minister of the Faroe Islands

løgregl/a (-u, ~), f. police

løgreglufólk (-s, -0), n. policeman

løgreglustøð (-ar, -ir), f. police station

løgtingið, n. sg. def. Faroese parliament

løn (-ar, -ir), f. wage, salary

løt/a (-u, -ur), f. period of time, moment, instant, while (um eina løtu in a moment)

M

mað/ur (mans, menn), m. man; husband (maður at fastur uncle, husband of father's sister, maður at mostur uncle, husband of mother's sister)

maðk/ur (-s, -ar), m. grub, worm mag/i (-a, -ar), m. stomach (trekur magi constipation)

mai, m. indecl. May

mais (-0, ~), n. sweetcorn

majones/a (-u, ~), n. mayonnaise

mak/i (-a, -ar), m. partner makrel/ur (-s, -ar), m. mackerel

makt (-ar, -ir), f. power

mala (melur; mól, mólu; malið), st. vb. to grind, mince (malið kjøt minced meat, ground meat)

maltøl (-s, -0), n. malted beer

mamm/a (-u, -ur), f. mum, mom, mother mammubeigg/i (-ja, -gjar), m. uncle, mother's brother mammubeiggjakon/a (-u, -ur), f. aunt, wife of mother's brother mammusystir (-systur, -systrar), f. aunt, mother's sister

mandarin (-ar, -ir), f. mandarin

mann, pron. one, you

mannarættindi, n. pl. human rights

mannfólk (-s, -0), n. man

manning (-ar, -ar), f. crew, personnel; staffing mannleys/ur, adj. uninhabited

margarin (-s, ~), m. margarine
margfløg/a (-u, -ur), f. DVD
marknað/ur (-ar, -ir), m. market
marmulát/a (-u, ~), f. marmelade, jam mars, m. indecl. March
matbruður, (-bruns, -brunnar), m. spring or well with drinking water matgera (matger; matgjørdi, matgjørdu; matgjørt), vb. to cook matolj/a (-u, -ur), f. oil
matpakk/i (-a, -ar), m. packed lunch matseðil (-s, -seðlar), m. menu matstov/a (-u, -ur), f. restaurant mál (-s, -0), n. goal, aim; issue; language
mála (-aði), vb. to paint málar/i (-a, -ar), m. painter málkunnleik/i (-a, ~), m. ability to speak languages málvísindi, n. pl. linguistics
mán/i (-a, -ar), m. month; moon mánadag/ur (-s, -ar), m. Monday (mánadag on Mondays, mánadagin on Monday) mánað/ur (-ar, -ir), m. month mánamorgun (-s, -morgnar), m. Monday morning (mánamorgunin on Monday morning) mánasjúk/a (-u, ~), f. period (of menstruation) medalj/a (-u, -ur), f. medal medisin (-s, -0), n. medicine meðaltal (-s, -tøl), n. average, mean meðan, conj. while, whilst meðni, adv. then
mega (má, mega/mugu; mátti), irr. vb. to have to (must) megnarmaður (-mans, -menn), m. great man meiðsla (-aði), vb. to injure mein (-s, -0), n. pain, sickness
meina (-ar/-ir, -ti), vb. to mean meira compar. < nógv, adv. more meirilut/i (-a, -ar), m. majority meirvirðisgjald (-s, -gjøld), n. value-added tax, goods and services tax meistaraprógv (-próvs, -0), n. Master's degree

mekanikar/i (-a, -ar), m. mechanic
melón (-ar, -ir), f. melon men, conj. but menniskjanslig/ur, adj. human
menstruatiónbind (-s, -0), n. sanitary towel
mentamál (-s, -0), n. cultural affairs Mentamálaráðið, n. def. the Ministry of Education and Culture
mentan (-ar, -ir), f. culture
mentanarlig/ur, adj. cultural mentanarlív (-s, -0), n. cultural life mentanartiltak (-s, -tøk), n. cultural event
mentanarútboð (-s, -0), n. cultural offering
merian (-s, ~), n. marjoram
merki (-s, -[r]), n. mark (blátt merki bruise) Merkið, n. sg. def. name of the Faroese flag
merkja (merkti), vb. to mean meslingar, m. pl. measles miðal-, prefix average (miðalstórur medium height) miðallivialdur (-s, -aldrar), m. life expectancy
miðbý/ur (-ar, -ir), m. town centre Miðflokkurin, m. sg. def. the Centre Party miðilslær/a (-u, ~), f. media studies Miðjarðarhavið, n. sg. def. the Mediterranean Sea miðling/ur (-s, -ar), m. middle child
miðnøld (-aldar, -ir), f. Middle Ages
miðskeiðis, adv. near the centre migrena (-u, -ur), f. migraine mikroovn/ur (-s, -ar), m. microwave oven miksar/i (-a, -ar), m. food-mixer mikudag/ur (-s, -ar), m. Wednesday (mikudag on Wednesdays, mikudagin on Wednesday) mikunátt (-ar, -nætur), f. night between Tuesday and Wednesday (mikunáttina during the night between Tuesday and Wednesday) milliardør/ur (-s, -ar), m. billionaire million (-ar, -ir), f. million milliónpart/ur (-s, -ar), m. millionth (fraction) millummjólk (-ar, ~), f. semi-skimmed milk (1.5%) millumnavn (-s, -nøvn), n. middle name minnast (mintist), vb. to remember

minnilut/i (-a, -ar), m. minority minutt/ur (-s, -ir), m. minute mirakul (-s, -0), n. miracle
missa (misti), vb. to lose mín (mín, mítt), adj./pron. my; mine mjólk (-ar, ~), f. milk (skúmað mjólk skimmed milk 0.1%, hálvskúmað mjólk semi-skimmed milk 1.5%, vanlig mjólk full-cream milk 3%) mjólking (-ar, ~), f. milking mjøll (mjallar, ~), f. dry, flaky snow mjørk/i (-a, ~), m. fog, mist (usually during summer) mjørkabakk/i (-a, -ar), m. fog bank mjørkabelti (-s, -[r]), n. long, thin bank of fog mjørkabrúgv (-ar/brúar, -ar/brýr), f. fog bank on the horizon mjørkaflók/i (-a, -ar), m. fog bank mjørkakógv (-kóvs, ~), n. very thick fog mjørkakóv (-s, ~), n. very thick fog mjørkasubb (-subs, ~), n. fog and rain together mjørkasurk (-s, ~), n. fog and rain together mjørkatám (-s, ~), n. mist, haze modernað/ur, adj. modern morgunmat/ur (-s, -ir), m. breakfast morreyð/ur (-reyð, -reytt), adj. brownish, dark-brown; maroon mortítling/ur (-s, -ar), m. wren
mos/i (-a, -ar), m. moss
mosaslag (-s, -sløg), n. type of moss mosk/a (-u, -ur), f. mosque mostir (mostur, mostir), f. aunt (mother's sister)
motiónstím/i (-a, -ar), m. gym class
motorsúkkl/a (-u, -ur), f. motorbike móð/ur (móð, mótt), adj. tired móðir (móður, møður), f. mother
móðurmál (-s, -0), n. mother tongue
mótaavvitandi, adj. indecl. fashion-conscious mótahandil (-s, -handlar), m. boutique móti + acc./dat., prep. towards
mótstøð/a (-u, ~), f. resistance, opposition

móttøk/a (-u, -ur), f. reception
mótvegis + dat., prep. towards mun/ur (-ar, -ir), m. difference (á + dat., between)
munandi, adv. significantly
munk/ur (-s, -ar), m. monk munn/ur (muns, -ar), m. mouth
musikkinstrument (-s, -0), n. musical instrument
muskattnøt (-ar, ~), f. nutmeg muskul (-s, -klar), m. muscle muslim/ur (-s, -ar), m. Muslim muss/ur (-0, -ar), m. kiss
mussa (-aði), vb. to kiss múgvandi, adj. indecl. wealthy, prosperous múr/ur (-s, -ar), m. wall mús (-ar, mýs), f. mouse (also on computer)
músagjóð/ur (-s, -ar), m. tawny owl
músli (-s, -[r]), n. muesli
músvák/ur (-s, -ar), m. common buzzard MVG meirvirðisgjald, VAT, GST mynd (-ar, -ir), f. picture; photo myndalist (-ar, ~), f. art myndatøk/a (-u, ~), f. photography
myndugleikarnir, m. pl. def. the authorities
mynstur (-s, -0), n. pattern
mynt/ur (-s, -ir), m. coin
myrða (myrdi), vb. murder
myrka-, prefix dark (myrkabláur dark blue) myrk/ur, adj. dark myrkna (-aði), vb. to get dark mystisk/ur, adj. mysterious mytisk/ur, adj. mythological mýrisníp/a (-u, -ur), f. snipe (lítil mýrisnípa jacksnipe)
mækjuglám/ur (-s, -ar), m. bittern
mæla (-ti) til, vb. to recommend
møguliga, adv. possibly
møgulig/ur, adj. possible
møsn (-s, -0), n. chatterbox, someone who talks nonsense møta (møtti), vb. to come to møtast (møttist), vb. to meet
myt/a (-u, -ur), f. myth

N

nakar (nøkur, nakað), pron. some, any nakrantíð, adv. ever (nakrantíð fyrr ever before) namminamm, interj. yum, mmm... narko, n. indecl. drugs
narkoman/ur (-s, -ar), m. drug addict nasablóð (-s, -0), n. nosebleed natúr (-ar, ~), f. nature, countryside
natúrhavn (-ar, -ir), f. natural harbour
ná ja, interj. oh yes náa (náddi) + dat., vb. to reach, make in time nánd, f. vicinity: only in í nándini nearby, í nánd av / við near to nát/i (-a, -ar), m. young fulmar nátt (-ar, nætur), f. night
náttkjarr/a (-u, -ur), f. nightjar náttverð/i (-a, -ar), m. supper náttúr/a (-u, ~), f. nature, countryside náttúrugripasavn (-s, -søvn), n. natural historical museum náttúruheilivág/ur (-s, -ir), m. natural remedy náttúrurøð (-raðar, -ir / -raðir), f nature series náttúruvanlukk/a (-u, -ur), f natural disaster
náttúruvísindi, n. pl. sciences
nei álvaratos, interj. good grief no! honestly!
nei, interj. no
neilon (-s, ~), n. nylon
nelikur (-s, -ar), m. clove
nes (-0, -0), n. headland, cape
netbank/i (-a, -ar), m. internet bank nevaleik/ur (-s, ~), m. boxing
nevfatt/i (-a, -ar), m. avocet
nevna (-di), vb. to mention nevniliga, adv. that is, namely, viz. you see neyð (-ar, -ir), f. distress, hardship, trouble, problem neyðaggregat (-s, -0), n. emergency generator
neyðsemj/a (-u, -ur), f. compromise
neyðturviliga, adv. necessarily
neyðug/ur, adj. necessary
neytakjøt (-s, ~), n. beef
neyvan, adv. hardly
neyvt, adv. exactly
niðan, adv. up, upwards, from below
niðaná, adv. up
niðaneftir, adv. up the road niðast/ur (niðast, niðast), adj. lowest; ground (floor) niðursetufólk (-s, -0), n. colonist
niðursetuland (-s, -lond), n. colony
niðursetumaður (-mans, -menn), m. settler Niels Finsensgøta, f. main shopping street in Tórshavn níggjundapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. ninth (fraction) nítjandapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. nineteenth (fraction) njós/i (-a, ~), m. sneezing njóta (nýtur; neyt, nutu; notið), vb. to enjoy noð/a (-a, -u[r]), n. ball of yarn nokk, adv. for sure, certainly; probably nokta (-aði), vb. to deny; refuse norðast/ur (norðast, norðast), adj. most northerly norðbúgv/i (-a, -ar), m. Norseman
norðlýsi (-s, -[r]), n. northern lights, aurora borealis Norðoyartunnilin, m. sg. def. the tunnel between Eysturoy and Borðoy norður, adv. north (norðuri in the north, norður towards the north, norðan from the north, norðureftir northwards, norðurum over in the north) Norðuratlandshav, n. North Atlantic Norðurlandahúsið, n. sg. def. The Nordic House (cultural centre in Tórshavn) Norðurlondini, n. pl. the Nordic countries, Scandinavia
norrøn/ur, adj. Norse
november, m. indecl. November novembur, m. indecl. November
noyðast (noyddist), vb. to have to nóg mikin, adj. plenty, enough

NØVN (pl. NØVN), m. - jmeno (mnoho; mnoho) nógv/ur (nógv, nógv), adj. much, a lot

nudl/a (-u, -ur), f. noodle nummar (-s, nummur), n. size, number nú, adv. now (nú ein dagin the other day) nútíð (-ar, -ir), f. Modern Age; present
nútíðar-, prefix modern nykkja (nykti), vb. to jerk
nytta (-aði), vb. to be of use nýggj/ur (nýggj, nýtt), adj. new; fresh nýggjársaftan (-s, ~), m. New Year's Eve nýggjársdag/ur (-s, -ar), m. New Year's Day nýr/a (-a, -u[r]), n. kidney
nýta (nýtti), vb. to use nýtast (nýttist), vb. to be needed, be necessary næming/ur (-s, -ar), m. pupil nær, adv. / conj. when (at what time) nærhendis = nærindis nærindis, adv. nearby næst-, prefix second most (næsthægstur second highest) næst/ur, adj. next (í næstu viku next week, næsta ár next year) næstan, adv. almost nøgd/ur (nøgd, nøgt) við + acc., adj. happy with nøktandi, adj. indecl. satisfactory
nørast (-dist), vb. to increase nøs (nasar, nasar), f. nose
nøt (-ar, -ir), f. nut

O

odd/i (-a, -ar), m. front, lead ofta, adv. often oftani, adv. often og, conj. and (og so framvegis and so on, og so tað afturat and in any case, anyway) okkara, pron. indecl. our; ours oktober, m. indecl. October oktobur, m. indecl. October
olj/a (-u, -ur), f. oil
oman, adv. from above, downwards omaná, adv. afterwards (okkurt omaná something after, 'afters', dessert)
omanav, adv. up, off (from the surface) omaneftir, adv. down the road omanlop (-s, -0), n. rockfall, landslide
omm/a (-u, -ur), f. grandmother ommubarn (-s, -børn), n. grandchild (if you are the child's grandmother) ongantíð, adv. never onkuntíð, adv. sometimes; some day (in the future) onkur (onkur, okkurt), pron. some, any onkustaðni, adv. somewhere opna (-aði), vb. to open optikar/i (-a, -ar), m. optician ordiliga, adv. properly; really
orð (-s, -0), n. word
orðaskifti (-s, -[r]), n. discussion orðatak (-s, -tøk), n. proverb, saying orðna (-aði), vb. to settle; straighten out
orkestur (-s, -0), n. orchestra orm/ur (-s, -ar), m. worm; worms (medical condition)
orr/i (-a, -ar), m. black grouse
orrust/a (-u, -ur), f. battle, struggle orsaka (-aði), vb. to cause orsaka (meg), interj. excuse me
orsøk (orsakar, orsakir), f. reason ostflís (-ar, -ar, f. slice of cheese ost/ur (-s, -ar), cheese ov, adv. too (alt ov far too)
ovast uppi, adv. at the top ovast/ur (ovast, ovast), adj. top, uppermost ovn/ur (-s, -ar), m. stove ovurfeit/ur (-feit, -feitt), adj. obese ovurviðkvæmi (-s, -[r]), n. allergy oy, oy, interj. goodness me!
oyðublað (-s, -bløð), n. form
oyggj (-ar, -ar), f. island
oyjøssus, interj. good grief!
oyjøssusikki, interj. oh no!
oyr/a (-a, -u[r]), n. ear; oyra, øre, unit of currency = 1/100 króna

oyraring/ur (-s, -ar), m. earring
oyratelefon (-ar, -ir), f. earphones
oysregn (-s, ~), n. pouring rain, downpour

Ó

ó-, prefix negation, 'un-'
ódn (-ar, -ir), f. violent storm
óðinshan/i (-a, -ar), m. redwing
ófrásigandi, adv. indescribably, extremely
ófriðartíð (-ar, -ir), f. (time of) war ófør/ur, adj. great, super; skillfull, talented ógift/ur (ógift, ógift), adj. unmarried ógvuliga, adv. very; extremely
óhandalig/ur, adj. unwieldy, awkward to handle óhapp (-s, -0), n. accident óheppin, adj. unlucky óhóskandi fyri + acc., adj. indecl. unsuitable for óhugnalig/ur, adj. terrifying; unpleasant, creepy ókeypis, adj. indecl. free (of charge)
ókurteis/ur, adj. rude ólag (-s, ~), n. disorder
ólavsøk/a (-u, -ur), f. St Olaf's Wake, 29 July (the national holiday)
ólukk/a (-u, -ur), f. accident ólukksáliga, adv. damned
ómaksgjald (-s, -gjøld), n. fee
ómøgulig/ur, adj. impossible ónatúrliga, adv. extremely ónosslig/ur, adj. messy ónsdag/ur (-s, -ar), m. Wednesday (in Suðuroy dialect) óra (-aði/-di), vb. to have a premonition about, suspect óstøðug/ur, adj. unstable óteljandi, adj. indecl. numerous ótolandi, adj. indecl. intolerable
ótrúliga, adv. incredibly, unbelievably óttast (-aðist) fyri, vb. to be afraid (of)

P

pakk/i (-a, -ar), m. bag; box, carton; packet; package, parcel pakka (-aði), vb. to pack
pallleiðar/i (-a, -ar), m. helipad manager
pannukak/a (-u, -ur), f. pancake
pappír (-s, ~), n. paper
pappírshandil (-s, -handlar), m. stationer's par (-s, pør), n. couple parasetamol (-s, -0), n. paracetamol parisar/i (-a, -ar), m. condom parkeringspláss (-0, -0), n. car-park parlag (-s, -løg), n. partnership
parlament (-s, -0), n. parliament
part/ur (-s, -ar), m. part parúkk/ur (parúks, -ar), m. wig, hairpiece
pass (-0, -0), n. passport passa (-aði), vb. to be correct, true (passa til to suit)
passandi, adj. indecl. matching
pastasós (-ar, -ir), f. pasta sauce páp/i (-a, -ar), m. dad, father pápabeigg/i (-ja, -gjar), m. uncle, father's brother pápabeiggjakon/a (-u, -ur), f. aunt, wife of father's brother pápasystir (-systur, -systrar), f. aunt, father's sister pástanda (pástendur; pástóð, pástóðu; pástaðið), st. vb. to allege, claim p-boll/i (-a, -ar), m. the Pill, contraceptive pill pen/ur, adj. nice, pretty pengaautomat (-ar, -ir), f. cash machine, ATM
pengar, m. pl. money
pengaseðil (-s, -seðlar), m. banknote
pengaskáp (-s, -0), n. safe
peningasjálvtøk/a (-u, -ur), f. cash machine, ATM
peningur (-s, -ar), m. money
penn/ur (pens, -ar), m. pen
pensjón (-ar, -ir), f. pension pensjónerað/ur (pensjónerað, pensjónerað), past part. retired
per/a (-u, -ur), f. pear
pergamentpappír (-s, -0), n. greaseproof paper

perluhøn/a (-u, -ur), f. guinea fowl permanentað/ur, adj. permed
persilla (-u, ~), f. parsley persillublað (-s, -bløð), n. leaf of parsley petti (-s , -[r]), n. (small) piece, bit; slice pianoleikar/i (-a, -ar), m. pianist pillar/i (-a, -ar), m. pill pilsnar/i (-a, -ar), m. lager pingvin/i (-ar, -ir), f. penguin
pinnkot/a (-u, -ur), f. pincode pipar (-s, -0), n. pepper (reytt pipar red pepper, grønt pipar green pepper)
piparfrukt (-ar, -ir), f., pepper piparrót (-ar, ~), f. horseradish pirr/a (-u, -ur), f. spot, pimple pirrut/ur (pirrut, pirrut), adj. spotty (with acne)
pitabreyð (-s, ~), n. pita bread
pína (-di), vb. to torture pínutablett (-ar, -ir), f. painkiller (tablet) píp/a (-u, -ur), f. pipe píska (-aði), vb. to whip plaga (-di), vb. to be in the habit of, usually do plantufrøði (-0, ~), f. botany
plastikkpos/i (-a, -ar), m. plastic bag
pláss (-0, -0), n. seat plástur (-s, -0), n. Band-aid®, plaster
plát/a (-u, -ur), f. record
plomb/a (-u, -ur), f. filling (in a tooth) politi (-s, ~), n. police
politikar/i (-a, -ar), m. politician
politikk/ur (politiks, ~), m. politics
politisk/ur, adj. political politist/ur (-s, -ar), m. police officer pollamjørk/i (-a, ~), m. low-lying fog with good weather above
polyestar/i (-a, ~), m. polyester poppkong/ur (-s, -ar), m. king of pop poppstjørn/a (-u, -ur), f. pop star popptónleik/ur (-s, ~), m. pop music populer/ur, adj. popular porkerning/ur (-s, -ar), m. someone from Porkeri pos/i (-a, -ar), m. sack, bag
post restante poste restante post/ur (-s, -ar), m. post, mail (við postinum by post) postai (-ar, -ir), f. pâté postboð (-s, -0), n. postman/-woman, mailman/-woman postboks (-ar, -ir), f. postbox, mailbox postgjald (-s, -gjøld), n. cost of postage
posthús (-0, -0), n. post office postkass/i (-a, -ar), m. postbox, mailbox postkort (-s, -0), n. postcard postmaður (-mans, -menn), m. postman/-woman, mailman/-woman postnummar (-s, -nummur), n. postcode, zipcode poststovufólk (-s, -0), n. post-office clerk praktisk/ur, adj. practical prát (-0, -0), n. talk, chat; interview
práta (-aði), vb. to chat, talk prest/ur (-s, -ar), m. priest prikkut/ur (prikkut, prikkut), adj. dotted, dotty, spotty prins/ur (prins, -ar), m. prince prinsess/a (-u, -ur), f. princess prioritaire first class (post) prippin, adj. irritable prís/ur (-0, -ir/-ar), m. price (seta prís uppá + acc. to value) propptrekkjar/i (-a, -ar), m. corkscrew
prosent (-s, -0), n. per cent
provinsbý/ur (-ar, -ir), m. provincial town prógv (prógvs, -0), n. proof prúð/ur (prúð, prútt), adj. well-built prýðilig/ur, adj. pretty prøv/i (-a, -ar), m. test prøva (-aði), vb. to try, try on (clothes)
prøvirúm (-s, -0), n. fitting room psykolog/ur (-s, -ar), m. psychologist pulshos/a (-u, -ur), f. thick woollen sock
pund (-s, -0), n. pound (sterling)
punkt (-s, -0), n. point
puntut/ur (puntut, puntut), adj. plaid, cross-hatched purlut/ur (purlut, purlut), adj. curly purrusúpan (-ar, -ir), f. soup made of lambs' testicles
púra, adv. completely
pyls/a (-u, -ur), f. sausage (steikt pylsa fried sausage, kókað pylsa boiled sausage) pøsa (-ti), vb. to exhaust

R

rabarb/a (-u, -ur), f. rhubarb rabarbukøk/a (-u, -ur), f. rhubarb cake rabbin/i (-a, -ar), m. rabbi
radis/a (-u, -ur), f. radish raka (-aði) sær, vb. to shave rakiblað (-s, -bløð), n. razor blade rakivatn (-s, ~), n. aftershave ramføroysk/ur, adj. totally Faroese, 100% Faroese ramm/a (-u, -ur), f. frame randform/ur (-s, -ar), m. spring-form cake tin rask/ur (røsk, raskt), adj. skilful, capable rasp (-s, ~), n. breadcrumbs
ravn/ur (-s, -ar), m. raven
ráð (-s, -0), n. [piece of] advice
ráða (ræður; ráddi, ráddu; rátt), irr. vb. to advise; decide ráðharr/i (-a, -ar), m. minister
rás (-ar, -ir), f. channel rávør/a (-u, -ur), f. raw materials
regluliga, adv. regularly
regn (-s, ~), n. rain
regna (-aði), vb. to rain
regnfrakk/i (-a, -ar), m. raincoat regnklæðir, n. pl. rain-clothes
regnskjól (-s, -0), n. umbrella regnskóg/ur (-ar, -ar), m. rainforest reið (-ar, -ir), f. ride, riding reiggj/a (-u, -ur), f. swing
reion (-s, ~), n. rayon
reka (rekur; rak, róku; rikið), st. vb. to run, administer (reka á land to drift ashore, rekast burtur to be driven away, expelled) rekkj/a (-u, -ur), f. bed religiøs/ur, adj. religious
remulát/a (-u, ~), f. mayonnaise mixed with piccalilli renna (rendi), vb. to run (trans.) renna (rennur; rann, runnu; runnið), st. vb. to flow, run (intrans.)
rent/a (-u, ~), f. interest
resept (-ar, -ir), f. prescription
rest (-ar, -ir), f. rest, remainder restauratión (-ar, -ir), f. restaurant returbillett (-ar, -ir), f. return ticket reyð/ur (reyð, reytt), adj. red reyðblá/ur (-blá, -blátt), adj. mauve reyðgul/ur, adj. orange reyðhærd/ur (-hærd, -hært), adj. red-haired reyðkál (-s, -0), n. red cabbage
reyðrót (-ar, -røtur), f. beetroot reyðsprøk/a (-u, -ur), f. plaice reyðvín (-s, -0), n. red wine
reypa (-aði), vb. to boast rigga (-aði) væl, vb. to suit somebody rinda (-aði), vb. to finance, pay (a fee) ring/ur, adj. difficult (ringt at siga it's hard to say); bad (ikki so ringur quite good, ringt svøvnlag insomnia)
ring/ur (-s, -ar), m. ring ringja (ringdi), vb. to call, ring, phone (ringja eftir + dat. to phone someone)
ris/i (-a, -ar), m. giant risastór/ur, adj. gigantic
risaveldi (-s, -[r]), n. superpower rista (-aði), vb. to toast (ristað breyð toast, toasted bread) rit/a (-u, -ur), f. kittiwake rithøvund/ur (-s/-ar, -ar), m. author, writer
ritstjór/i (-a, -ar), m. editor rivjabein (-s, -0), n. rib ríða (ríður; reið, riðu; riðið), st. vb. to ride ríðitúr/ur (-s, -ar), m. riding trip rík/ur, adj. rich
ríki (-s, -[r]), n. state
ríkidømi (-s, ~), n. wealth Ríkisfelagsskapurin the united kingdom ruled over by Denmark, unity of the Danish kingdom ríkisumboðsmaður (-mans, -menn), m. the High Commissiõ oner (appointed by the Danish monarch)
rís (-0, ~), n. rice
rísa (rísur; reis, risu; risið), st. vb. to rise rokkorkestur (-s, -0), m. rock band rokktónleik/ur (-s, ~), m. rock music rokna (-aði) við + dat., vb. to expect, suppose rokning (-ar, -ar), f. bill, check romantisk/ur, adj. romantic room service, indecl. room service

rosin/a (-u, -ur), f. raisin
rosmarin (-s, ~), n. rosemary
ross (-0, -0), n. horse
rot(u)veður (-s, ~), n. drizzle, damp fog
rott/a (-u, -ur), f. rat
rottuleys/ur, adj. rat-free
rotveður (-s, ~), n. drizzle roykja (roykti), vb. to smoke
roykstov/a (-u, -ur), f. front room containing the hearth
royna (-di), vb. to try roynd (-ar, -ir), f. experience; test roynd/ur (roynd, roynt), adj. experienced rógva (rør; róði; rógvið / róð) út á netinum, vb. to surf the internet rógving (-ar, ~), f. rowing
rók/ur (-s, -ar), m. jackdaw
róm/i (-a, ~), m. cream rómaost/ur (-s, -ar), m. cream cheese rópa (-ar; -ti), vb. to shout, call rót (-ar, røtur), f. root ruddiliga, adv. totally rugbreyð (-s, ~), n. ryebread rugby (-s, ~), n. rugby rukkut/ur (rukkut, rukkut), adj. wrinkled rullupyls/a (-u, -ur), f. a spiced meat roll made from lamb, pork and onions rund/ur (rund, runt), adj. round rundstykki (-s, -[r]), n. roll, breakfast roll runt, adv. around
rúgv/a (-u, -ur), f. load, pile, heap rúmtænast/a (-u, ~), f. room service rúsdrekk/a (-a, ~), n. alcoholic drink, alcohol rúsdrekkakoyring (-ar, ~), f. drunk-driving
rúsevni (-s, -[r]), n. drug, narcotic rúsevnimisnýtsl/a (-u, ~), f. drug abuse rúsevnismisnýtar/i (-a, -ar), m. drug addict
rúsevnismisnýtsl/a (-u, ~), f. drug abuse rúsevnissmugling drug smuggling ryggsekk/ur (-jar, -ir), m. backpack, rucksack ryggur (-s, -ir), m. back rædd/ur (rædd/rødd, rætt), adj. afraid ræða (ræddi), vb. to frighten
ræðandi, adj. indecl. scary
ræðast (ræddist), vb. to be afraid
ræðufilm/ur (-s, -ar), m. horror film
ræðulig/ur, adj. terrible rækj/a (-u, -ur), f. prawn, shrimp ræna (-di), vb. to kidnap (ræna fólk to kidnap); hijack (ræna eitt flogfar to hijack an aeroplane) ræst/ur (røst, ræst), adj. hung and dried (røst súpan soup made from hung meat)
rætta (rætti), vb. to pass, hand
rættilig/ur, adj. real, proper
rættiliga, adv. properly, really
rættindi (-s, -[r]), n. right
rættstundis, adv. punctually rætt/ur (-ar, -ir), m. dish rætt/ur (røtt, rætt), adj. proper
rødd (raddar, -ir), f. voice rødd (rødd, røtt), adj. that can be crossed by rowing-boat røð (raðar, raðir), f. row røkka (røkkur; rakk/røkk, rukku; rokkið), st. vb. to reach røntgenmynd (-ar, -ir), f. x-ray photo røra (-di), vb. to stir røregg (egs, -0), n. scrambled egg rørsl/a (-u, -ur), f. movement

S

saft (-ar, ~), f. juice; soft drink sakna (-aði), vb. to miss
saks/ur (saks, -ar), m. scissors
sal (-s, -ar), m. hall, room salat (-s, -0), n. salad (blandað salat mixed salad, grønt salat green salad) salpetur (-s, ~), n. saltpetre
salt (-s, ~), n. salt
saltfisk/ur (-s, -ar), m. salted fish saltmol/i (-a, -ar) m. pinch of salt

salvi̲a (-u ~) f. sage sam/ur (som, samt), adj. same (samur som the same as, sama dag the same day) saman, adv. together samanbakað/ur (-bakað, -bakað), past part. folded and baked samband (-s, -bond), n. connection; union Sambandsflokkurin, m. sg. def. The Union Party
sambandsmaður (-mans, -menn), m. unionist sambært + dat., prep. according to
samdrigin, adj. overcast samdøgur (-s, -0), n. 24-hour period, day and night sameind/ur (sameind, sameint), past part. allied samfelag (-s, -feløg), n. community, society samfelagsfrøði (-0, ~), f. sociology
samgong/a (-u, -ur), f. alliance, coalition
samkom/a (-u, -ur), f. congregation, church samkynd/ur (-kynd, -kynt), adj. gay, homosexual
samleikakort (-s, -0), n. identity card samleikaprógv (-prógvs, ~), n. ID, proof of identification samráðast (-ráddist), vb. to discuss, debate samráðing (-ar, -ar), vb. negotiation
samsvar (-s, -svør), n. agreement samtal/a (-u, -ur), f. interview
sandá̲l/a (-u, -ur), f. sandal sandlitt/ur (-litt, -litt), adj. sandy (colour)
sangar/i (-a, -ar), m. singer sang/ur (-s -ir), m. song sann/ur (sonn, satt), adj. true sannførd/ur (-førd, -ført), adj. confident sannlík/ur, adj. probable, likely
sar/ur (-s, -ar), m. tsar, czar
sarism/a (-u, ~), f. tsarism, czarism savn (-s, søvn), n. collection; museum
sál (-ar, -ir), f. soul
sálarfrøði (-0, ~), f. psychology
sálarfrøðing/ur (-s, -ar), m. psychologist sálm/ur (-s, -ar), m. hymn sáp/a (-u, -ur), f. soap sárbind (-s, -0), n. gauze seið/ur (-s, -ir), m. coalfish seig/ur (seig, seigt/ sogt), adj. tough

sein/ur, adj. late
seinast, adv. last time, most recently seinast/ur (seinast, seinast), adj. last (seinasta týsdag last Tuesday) seinka (-aði), vb. to delay seinkað/ur (seinkað, seinkað), adj. delayed seinnapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. afternoon (seinnapartin in the afternoon, this afternoon) seinni, adv. later
sekk/ur (sekkjar, -ir), m. bag sekkjarpíp/a (-u, -ur), f. bagpipe sekstandapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. sixteenth (fraction) sekund (-s, -0), n. second
sellarí̲ (-s, ~), m. celery semifina̲l/a (-u, -ur), f. semi-final senda (sendi), vb. to send sendar/i (-a, -ar), m. sender
sendifólk (-s, -0), n. diplomat
sendiharr/i (-a, -ar), m. ambassador sending (-ar, -ar), f. broadcast, programme
sendistov/a (-u, -ur), f. embassy september, m. indecl. September septembur, m. indecl. September sera, adv. very serlig/ur, adj. special, particular
serliga, adv. especially
servi̲ett/ur (servi̲ets, -ar), m. napkin, serviette seta (setur/setir; setti, settu; sett), irr. vb. to place, put (seta pengar inn á kontoina to deposit money, seta spor to leave a trace, seta á stovn to found, establish, seta seg to sit, seta í gongd to start, setast to settle)
setur (-s, -0), n. seat, place
SEV, abbreviation Faroese electricity company
seyð/ur (-ar, -ir), m. sheep
seyðarhøvd (-s, -0), n. sheep's head (boiled)

seyðakjøt (-s, ~), n. mutton
seym/ur (-s, -ir), m. seam, hem seytjandapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. seventeenth (fraction) show (-0, -0), n. show
siðmenning (-ar, -ar), f. civilisation
siður (siðrar, siðrir), f. custom, tradition siga (sigur; segði, søgdu; sagt), irr. vb. to say (siga aftur to repeat, siga upp to sack, fire) siga̲r (-ar, -ir), f. cigar
sigare̲tt (-ar, -ir), f. cigarette
sigare̲ttpappír (-s, -0), n. cigarette paper sigla (sigldi), vb. to sail signa (-aði), vb. to bless sikkur (sikkur, sikkurt), adj. sure, certain sild (-ar, -ir), f. herring
silki (-s, ~), n. silk silvur (-s, ~), n. silver silvurpappír (-s, -0), n. aluminium foil, tinfoil sindur (-s, -0), n. bit, little; pinch; some (eitt sindur av mjøli some flour) singul (singul, singult), adj. single sinni (-s, -[r]), n. mind; mood, temper; time sinnissjúk/ur, adj. crazy, insane
sinoppur (-s, ~), m. mustard
sipa (-aði) til, vb. to imply sirm (-s, ~), n. wet fog, very fine rain sita (situr; sat, sótu; sitið), st. vb. to sit, be sitting sitró̲n (-ar, -ir), f. lemon síðani, adv. then, next (fyri... síðani ago) síðst/ur (síðst, síðst), adj. last (síðsta sunnudag last Sunday) síggja (sær[t]; sá, sóu; sætt/sæð), st. vb. to see (síggja út til to look like, síggja út to look (of appearance), síggjast see each other) síl (-s, -0), n. trout
sjafø̲r/ur (-s, -ir), m. driver sjampa̲nj/a (-u, ~), f. champagne
sjampo (-s, -0), n. shampoo
sjál (-s, -0), n. shawl sjáldan, adv. rarely

sjálstøðug/ur, adj. independent
sjálvandi, adv. of course
sjálvbjargin, adj. self-sufficient sjálvglað/ur (-glað, -glatt), adj. self-centred sjálvgóð/ur (-góð, -gott), adj. selfish sjálvstýrandi, adj. indecl. autonomous sjálvstýri (-s, -[r]), n. independence; home rule, autonomy Sjálvstýrisflokkurin, m. sg. def. The Independence Party sjálvstøðug/ur, adj. independent; strong-minded
sjálvt um, conj. even if sjálvt, adv. even sjálv/ur, adj. self (sjálvan dagin that same day)
sjálvtøk/a (-u, -ur), f. cash machine, ATM
sjeik/ur (-s, -ar), m. boyfriend sjeynding/ur (-s, -ar), m. seventh (fraction) sjeyndipart/ur (-s, -ar), m. seventh (fraction) sjimpa̲ns/a (-u, -ur), f. chimpanzee sjoppa (-aði), vb. to shop
sjódregil (-s, -dreglar), m. sea-ghost sjógv/ur (sjós, -ar), m. sea, ocean
sjógvhøn/a (-u, -ur), f. coot sjómaður (-mans, -menn), m. fisherman; sailor sjónband (-s, -bond), n. video
sjónleik/ur (-s, ~), m. theatre (as an art form)
sjónleik/ur (-s, -ir), m. play
sjónleikaframførsl/a (-u, -ur), f. theatre performance sjónleikar/i (-a, -ar), m. actor sjónleikarhús (-0, -0), n. theatre (building) sjónvarp (-s, ~), n. television sjónvarpa (-aði), vb. to televise sjónvarpsrøð (-raðar, -ir / -raðir), f. TV series sjónvarpsstøð (-ar, -ir), f. channel sjónvarpstíðindi(r), n. pl. TV news sjónvarpstól (-s, -0), n. television set sjórænar/i (-a, -ar), m. pirate sjóverk/ur (-s, ~), m. sea-sickness
sjúkrabil/ur (-s, -ar), m. ambulance sjúkrahjálparfrøðing/ur (-s, -ar), m. nurse sjúkrahús (-0, -0), n. hospital

sjúkrarøktar/i (-a, -ar), m. nurse
sjúkrarøktarfrøðing/ur (-s, -ar), m. nurse sjúkrasystir (-systur, -systrar), f. nurse sjúkratrygging (-ar, -ar), f. health insurance sjúkueyðkenni (-s, -[r]), n. symptom skadd/a (-u, ~), f. thick wet mountain fog skaða (-ar, skaddi), vb. to damage; injure
skað/i (-a, -ar), m. damage skaðastov/a (-u, -ur), f. casualty department, accident and emergency, emergency room skaldsøg/a (-u, -ur), f. novel skallut/ur (skallut, skallut), adj. bald skammast (-aðist), vb. to be ashamed
skamt, adv. not far, close skamt/ur (-s, -ar), m. portion skans/i (-a, -ar), m. fort skapa (-ar, -aði/-ti), vb. to create skarv/ur (-s, -ar), m. cormorant skatt/ur (skats, -ir), m. tax (on, á + dat.) skattaborgar/i (-a, -ar), m. taxpayer skattafrádrátt/ur (-ar, -ir), m. tax deduction skattaprosent (-s, -0), n. rate of taxation skattaskjól (-s, -0), n. tax-haven skattasvikar/i (-a, -ar), m. tax dodger skattatrýst (-s, ~), n. tax burden skattskyldig/ur, adj. liable to pay tax; taxable skattstov/a (-u, -ur), f. tax office skál (-ar, -ir), f. bowl skál, interj. cheers!
skáp (-s, -0), n. cupboard
skegg (skegs, -0), n. beard
skeið (-ar, -ir), f. spoon, spoonful skein/a (-u, -ur), f. scratch
skelti (-s, -0), n. sign
skemt (-s, ~), n. good sense of humour
skemtifilm/ur (-s, -ar), m. comedy film skemtirøð (-raðar, -ir / -raðir), f. comedy series
skepn/a (-u, -ur), f. creature
sker (-s, -0), n. rock, skerry skera (sker; skar, skóru; skorið), st. vb. to cut skerpikjøt (-s, ~), n. one-year-old hung and dried mutton or lamb skifta (skifti) orð, vb. to change, exchange (skifta orð to discuss, exchange words, skifta klæði to change clothes) skiftandi, adj. indecl. changeable skifti (-s, -[r]), n. period; shift skilagóð/ur (-góð, -gott), adj. sensible skilja (skilur/skilir; skildi/skilt; skilt), vb. to understand skink/a (-u, -ur), f. ham (kókað skinka boiled ham)
skinnbát/ur (-s, -ar), m. coracle
skinsakjøt (-s, ~), n. boiled, salted and hung mutton
skip (-s, -0), n. ship
skipa (-að), vb. to captain, man skipspost/ur (-s, -ar), m. surface mail (by ship)
skipstroyggj/a (-u, -ur), f. thick type of jumper skína (skínur; skein, skinu; skinið), vb. to shine skíthamrandi, adj. indecl. completely (offensive! skíthamrandi býttur completely stupid) skjót/ur, adj. fast skjótt, adv. quickly, soon (skjótast til ber as soon as possible) skjúrt (-s, -0), n. skirt
skjúrt/a (-u, -ur), f. shirt skjøldur (skjaldrar, skjøldrar), m. shield
skomm (skammar, skammir), f. shame, disgrace skorp/a (-u, -ur), f. crust skot/i (-a, -ar), m. Scot, person from Scotland Skotland (-s, ~), n. Scotland
skógarorr/i (-a, -ar), m. capercaillie
skógv/ur (skós, -ar), m. shoe
skóhandil (-s, -handlar), m. shoe shop skóhill (-ar, -ar), f. shoe rack

skókrem (-s, -0), n. shoecream
skólpasúpan (-ar, -ir), f. soup made of lambs' testicles
skraddar/i (-a, -ar), m. tailor's, dressmaker's
skrá (-ar, -ir), f. programme
skrið (-s, -0), n. moderate gale
skrið/a (-u, -ur), f. landslide
skriftlig/ur, adj. written skriva (-að), vb. to write (skriva undir to sign) skrivar/i (-a, -ar), m. secretary skriviblokk/ur (-bloks, -ar), m. writing pad
skrivivørur, f. pl. stationery skrivstov/a (-u, -ur), f. office skrivstovufólk (-s, -0), n. office worker
skrivstovuveldi (-s, -[r]), n. bureaucracy skroypilig/ur, adj. frail skruv/a (-u, -ur), f. scab (on a wound) skrædna (-að) frá, vb. to fall off, be torn away skræpa (-u, -ur), f. diarrhoea
skuff/a (-u, -ur), f. drawer skunda (-að) sær, vb. to hurry skurð/ur (-ar, -ir), m. cut, incision; operation skursl (-s, -), n. scratch skurvut/ur (skurvut, skurvut), adj. scruffy
skúgv/ur (skúvs, -ar), m. great skua skúgva (-að), vb. to push, shove
skúl/i (-a, -ar), m. school
skúlastjór/i (-a, -ar), m. school head, principal skúlv/ur (-s, ~), m. fog or mist on mountain tops
skyld/a (-u, -ur), f. duty skylda (-að) + dat., vb. to owe money to…
skýggjað/ur (skýggjað, skýggjað), adj. cloudy, overcast skýggjut/ur (skýggjut, skýggjut), adj. cloudy, overcast
skýming (-ar, -ar), f. twilight skødd/a (-u, ~), f. thick wet mountain fog skødd/ur (skødd, skøtt), past part. shod, wearing footgear skøv/a (-u, -ur), f. scratch, graze slag (-s, sløg), n. kind, sort, type (fínasta slag great, super, perfect, hvat slag av + dat. what sort of, ymisk slag av + dat. different types of) slagin, adj. damp
slambur (-s, -0), n. edible offal; tidbit slavtok/a (-u, ~), f. rainy mist sleppa (sleppur; slapp, sluppu; sloppið), st. vb. to be allowed, may; loosen (sleppa til + acc. to get away to, sleppa ongan veg to get nowhere) slett ikki, adv. not at all slettis ikki so, adv. not at all slips (-0, -0), n. tie slitin, adj. shabby slík/ur, adj. such, like this / that; what slupp (-ar, -ir), f. cutter-like sailing ship
slætt/ur (sløtt, slætt), adj. straight Slættaratindur, m. name of the highest mountain in the Faroe Islands
sløkkilið (-s, -0), n. fire brigade
smakk/ur (smaks, -ir), m. taste smakka (-að), vb. to taste
smal/ur, adj. narrow
smá/ur, adj. small, little
smágent/a (-u, -ur), f. small girl smákrevjin, adj. modest smápengar, m. pl. loose change smásøg/a (-u, -ur), f. tale
smátjóð (-ar, -ir), f. small nation smátt um smátt, adv. bit by bit, gradually smelta (-að), vb. to melt smíla (-ti), vb. to smile smoltstøð (-ar, -ir), f. ironworks, smelting plant sms'a (-að), vb. to text, text message, sms (tey sms'ast they're texting each other) smyril (-s, smyrlar), m. merlin
smyrjibreyð (-s, -0), n. open sandwich
smyrjiost/ur (-s, -ar), m. soft cheese smæðin, adj. shy
smør (-s, ~), n. butter
snakka (-að), vb. to talk, chat snaps/ur (-0, -ar), m. schnapps, aquavit snara (-aði), vb. to dial; turn (snara sær á to turn around) sniðgev/i (-a, -ar), m. designer snikkar/i (-a, -ar), m. carpenter

snjófugl/ur (-s, -ar), m. snow bunting snora (-aði), vb. to have a runny nose
snorkling (-ar, ~), f. snorkling snúgva (snýr; snúði, snúðu; snúð/snúgvið), irr. vb. to turn (snúgva seg um + acc. to be about, to concern) snúin, adj. crafty
so, adv. then
so (at) , conj. so (that) sodavatn (-s, ~), n. soft drink, soda sof/a (-u, -ur), f. sofa sofaborð (-s, -0), n. coffee-table
sokkabuksur, f. pl. tights
sokkur, f. pl. stockings
soleiðis, adv. like this, thus, so, in this way soltimjólk (-ar, ~), f. skimmed milk (0.1%) son/ur (-ar, synir), m. son song (-ar, sengur), f. bed
sopp/ur (sops, -ar), m. mushroom sor (-s, -0), n. broken pieces (fara í sor to break)
sosialism/a (-u, ~), f. socialism
sova (svevur; svav, svóvu; sovið), st. vb. to sleep sovikamar (-s, -kømur), n. bedroom sovipos/i (-a, -ar), m. sleeping bag sovitablett (-ar, -ir), f. sleeping pill sovorðin, adj. such, that sort of (ein sovorðin... what a...) sóknast (-aðist) eftir, vb. to look for
sól (-ar, -ir), f. sun sólbrend/ur, adj. sun-tanned
sólbrillur, f. pl. sunglasses
sólglott/i (-a, -ar), m. sunny spell
sólkrem (-s, -0), n. suncream
sópa (-aði), vb. to sweep
sós (-ar, -ir), f. sauce, gravy sóttreinsan (-ar, -ir), f. antiseptic spailegg (egs, -0), n. fried egg spakuliga, adv. slowly; gently, carefully spann (-ar, -ir), f. bucket spara (-di), vb. to save sparikass/i (-a, -ar), m. savings bank
spáka (-aði), vb. to stroll spegil (-s, speglar), m. mirror speigipyls/a (-u, -ur), f. salami-style sausage
spell (-s, ~), n. pity
spenna (spenti), vb. to stretch spennandi, adj. indecl. exciting; interesting spenni (-s, -[r]), n. buckle spent/ur (spent, spent), past part. stretched spesialitet/ur (-s, -ir), m. special(i)ty spikafeit/ur (-feit, -feitt), adj. obese
spikar/i (-a, -ar), m. presenter, newsreader spillfrísk/ur, adj. fit as a fiddle spilt/ur (spilt, spilt), adj. stale
spinat (-s, ~), n. spinach
spísk/ur, adj. spiky
splitt/a (-u, -ur), f. fly sporvogn/ur (-s, -ar), m. tram
spógv/i (-a, -ar), m. whimbrel springa (springur; sprakk, sprungu; sprungið), st. vb. to jump, leap, spring spurning (-ar, -ar), f. question spurvaheyk/ur (-s, -ar), m. sparrow hawk
spyrja (spurdi), vb. to ask spýggj/a (-u, ~), f. vomit spæl (-s, spøl), n. game; playing spæla (-di), vb. to play (spæla fótbólt to play football, spæla telduspøl to play computer games, spæla uppá + acc. to play (a musical instrument))
spælar/i (-a, -ar), m. player spæliplass (-0, -0), n. playground
stadivekk, adv. still
stað (-s, støð), n. place, spot
staðarnavn (-s, -nøvn), n. place-name staðkend/ur (-kend, -kent), adj. familiar with a place (vera staðkend/-ur to know one's way around) standa (stendur; stóð, stóðu; staðið; statt! standið!), st. vb. to stand, be standing (standa fyri to be responsible for; block)
star/i (-a, -ar), m. starling
starv (-s, størv), n. position, job

starvsfelag/i (-a, -ar), m. colleague
stativ (-s, -0), n. stand, rack
stav/ur (-s, -ar), m. walking-stick stava (-aði), vb. to spell (stava frá + dat. to evolve, originate from) stál (-s, -0), n. steel
steðga (-aði) + dat., vb. to stop steik (-ar, -ir), f. steak; roast (kálvasteik veal steak, lambssteik lamb steak, oksasteik beef steak) steikja (steikir; stokti, stoktu; stokt), irr. vb. to fry stein/ur (-s, -ar), m. rock Steinatún, n. a street in Tórshavn steinbýtt/ur (-býtt, -býtt), adj. idiotic, stupid
steinflís (-ar, -ar), f. stone tile
stelk/ur (-s, -ar), m. redshank stempul (-s, -0), n. stamp, seal sterk/ur, adj. strong, hot stevnumið (-s, -0), n. aim, purpose steyp (-s, -0), n. cup, trophy steyrrætt/ur (-røtt, -rætt), adj. sheer, rising straight up stig (-s, -0), n. degree, point (stig fyri stig step by step, gradually) still/ur (still, stilt), adj. quiet
stilla (-aði) út, vb. to exhibit stinga (stingur; stakk, stungu; stungið; stikk! stingið!), st. vb. to poke stivl/i (-a, -ar), m. boot stív/ur, adj. steady; stiff, set stjala (stjelur; stjól, stjólu; stolið), st. vb. steal
stjór/i (-a, -ar), m. manager stjórn (-ar, -ir), f. government, administration stjórnarloysi (-s, -[r]), n. anarchy
stjórnaráð (-s, -0), n. ministry stjórnmál (-s, ~), n. politics
stjórnmálamaður (-mans, -menn), m. politician stjúkbarn (-s, -børn), n. foster child stjørn/a (-u, -ur), f. star stjørnuspeki (-0, ~), f. astrology stokt/ur (stokt, stokt), past part. fried stong (stangar, stengur), f. pole
storm/ur (-s, -ar), m. storm
stov/a (-u, -ur), f. living-room, den
stovn/ur (-s, -ar), m. institution stovna (-aði), vb. to establish (stovna eina konto to open an account)
stovnast (-aðist), vb. to be founded, established stoyta (stoytti), vb. to pour stól/ur (-s, -ar), m. chair
stórtít/a (-u, -ur), f. great tit stór/ur, adj. big (stóra tá big toe) stórætlað/ur (-ætlað, -ætlað), adj. ambitious streym/ur (-s,-ar), m. current; power
streyma (streymar), vb. to pour, stream streymloysi (-s, -[r]), n. power cut stríð (-s, -0), n. struggle, battle, fight, conflict stríðskvinn/a (-u, -ur), f. warrior woman strip/a (-u, -ur), f. stripe stríput/ur (stríput, stríput), adj. stripy strond (strandar, strendur), f. beach; shore, shoreline, coast strongd (-ar, ~), f. stress
stropp/ur (strops, -ar), m. strap
strævin, adj. difficult, hard, trying
studentaavsláttur (-s, -slátrar), m. student discount studentaskúl/i (-a, -ar), m. upper secondary school student/ur (-s, -ar), m. student studerandi, m. indecl. student
stuðul (-s, stuðlar), m. support
stund (-ar, -ir), f. moment
stutt/ur (stutt, stutt), adj. short, brief stuttbuksur, f. pl. shorts
stuttfilm/ur (-s, -ar), m. short film stuttleika (-aði) sær, vb. to enjoy oneself, have a good time, amuse oneself stuttlig/ur, adj. nice; entertaining
stúra (-di), vb. to worry, be afraid stúrin, adj. worried

stykki (-s, -[r]), n. piece; slice styrkitrening (-ar, ~), f. body-building
stýra (-di), vb. to govern
stýristong (-stangar, -stengur), f. joystick stødd (-ar, -ir), f. size støddfræði (-0, ~), f. mathematics staða (-u, -ur), f. situation staðugt, adv. still stokka (stokkur; stokk/stakk, stukku; stokkið), st. vb. to change direction (móti morgni stokkur hann eysturum towards morning the wind changes over in the east, hann fer at stokka the weather is changing direction); go (stokka inn á gólvið to drop by) subb (subs, ~), n. wet mist suður, adv. south (suðuri in the south, suður towards the south, sunnan from the south)
suffa (-aði), vb. to sigh
sukur (-s, ~), n. sugar
sukursjúk/a (-u, ~), f. diabetes sukurvørur, f. pl. confectionery sum, conj. relative particle, that, which, who; as (sum frægast as well as possible, sum skjótast as quickly as possible); like (sum fyrsta dagin like one's old self); what! (sum tú sært út! what do you look like!) summar (-s, summør), n. summer
summarhús, n. pl. summerhouse
summarnátt (-ar, -nætur), f. summer night
sund (-s, -0), n. strait, channel, sound
sundur, adv. into pieces, fragments sunnast/ur (sunnast, sunnast), adj. most southerly sunnudag/ur (-s, -ar), m. Sunday (sunnudag on Sundays, sunnudagin on Sunday) sunn/ur (sunn, sunt), adj. healthy supp/a (-u, -ur), f. soup (suppa við grønmeti vegetable soup) supputallerk/ur (-s, -ir), m. dish of soup, soup plate surfa (-aði) í internetinum, vb. to surf (the Internet) surk (-s, ~), n. wet fog surp (-s, ~), n. wet fog
sutlont (-antar, -entur), f. gadwall súkkl/a (-u, -ur), f. bicycle, bike súkkla (-aði), vb. to cycle, bike súkkling (-ar, ~), f. cycling súkkluhjálm/ur (-s, -ar), m. bicycle helmet
súl/a (-u, -ur), f. gannet súlta (-aði), vb. to pickle
súltutoy (-s, ~), m. jam
súlupyls/a (-u, -ur), f. sausage (with skin made from a gannet's stomach) súpan (-ar, -ir), f. soup (Faroese style) súpanartallerk/ur (-s, -ir), m. dish of soup, soup plate súreplakak/a (-u, -ur), f. stewed apple dessert
súrepli (-s, -[r]), n. apple súrevni (-s, -[r]), n. oxygen súrróm/i (-a, ~), m. crème fraîche, smetana svak/ur (svøk, svakt), adj. crazy, mad
sval/a (-u, -ur), f. swallow svan/ur (-s, -ir), m. mute swan svang/ur (svong, svangt), adj. hungry svara (-aði), vb. to answer, reply svart/ur (svørt, svart), adj. black svartbak/ur (-s, -ar), m. greater black-backed gull svartkjaft/ur (-s, -ar), m. blue whiting
svass (-0, ~), n. nonsense, rubbish
svávulpinn/ur (-pins, -ar), m. match sveinabræv (-s, -0), n. certificate of completed apprenticeship svimbul (svimbul, svimbult), adj. dizzy svimjibrillur, f. pl. swimming goggles svimjibuksur, f. pl. swimming trunks
svimjidrakt (-ar, -ir), f. swimsuit
svimjihyl/ur (-s, -jar), m. swimming pool

svimjihøll (-hallar, -hallir) swimming pool svimjing (-ar, ~), f. swimming
svinga (-aði), vb. to swing
svisk/a (-u, -ur), f. prune
svín (-s, -0), n. pig
svínakjøt (-s, ~), n. pork
svínoying/ur (-s, -ar), m. inhabitant of Svínoy SV-tíðindi, n. pl. TV-news svull/ur (svuls, -ar/-ir), m. boil svølgd/ur (svølgd, svølgt), past part. swallowed syðst/ur (syðst, syðst), adj. southernmost symfoni (-ar, -ir), f. symphony syngja (syngur; sang, sungu; sungið), st. vb. to sing (syngja í kóri to sing in a choir) syrgja (syrgdi) fyri, vb. to make sure systir (systur, systrar), f. sister systkin, n. pl. siblings systkinabarn (-s, -børn), n. niece; nephew; cousin sýnagog/a (-u, -ur), f. synagogue
sýning (-ar, -ar), f. exhibition sýsl/a (-u, -ur), f. sheriff's district, policing district sýslumaður (-mans, -menn), m. sheriff sæddur (sædd/sødd, sætt), past part. seen sættapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. sixth (fraction) sætting/ur (-s, -ar), m. sixth (fraction) søg/a (-u, -ur), f. history; story søgn (sagnar, sagnir), f. fairy-tale, legend, tradition søkjast (søktist), vb. to be sought sølubúð (-ar, -ir), f. corner-shop, convenience store sølumiðstøð (-ar, -ir), f. supermarket, shopping centre sørving/ur (-s, -ar), m. person from Sørvágur søt/ur (søt, søtt), adj. sweet

T

tabell (-ar, -ir), f. table
tablett (-ar, -ir), f. pill, tablet tað (tað acc., tí dat., tess gen.) it n.
tak (-s, tøk), n. hold, grip; roof taka (tekur; tók, tóku; tikið), st. vb. to take (taka pengar út (av kontoini) to withdraw (money), taka av to dissolve, do away with, taka burtur to remove, taka dik á seg to get going, taka fepurin to take one's temperature, taka inn aftur tað forsømda to catch up, taka ímóti + dat. to receive, taka seg upp to rise, lift oneself up, taka um + acc. to embrace, taka vekk to remove) takk, interj. thanks (takk fyri seinast thanks (for a pleasant time last time we saw each other), takk fyri thanks, túsund takk thanks a lot) taksabil/ur (-s, -ar), m. taxi, cab talan (-ar, -ir), f. talk (talan er um it is a matter of) tallerk/ur (-s, -ar), m. plate; dish tang/i (-a, -ar), m. tank tank/i (-a, -ar), m. thought, idea tannapín/a (-u, ~), f. toothache
tannáring/ur (-s, -ar), m. teenager
tannbust (-ar, -ir), f. toothbrush
tannfrøði (-0, ~), f. dentistry
tannkrem (-s, -0), n. toothpaste tannlækn/i (-a, -ar), m. dentist tannpín/a (-u, -ur), f. toothache tannsteytar/i (-a, -ar), m. toothpick
tapa (-ti), vb. to lose tarmsjúk/a (-u, -ur), f. intestinal disease
task/a (-u, -ur), f. bag tasta (-aði) inn, vb. to key in (a number) tá (ið), conj. when (at that time), whenever tá (-ar, tær), f. toe (stóra tá big toe) tálgarlivur (-livrar, -livrar), f. lamb's liver filled with tallow or suet
tám, n. haze, mist
táverandi, adj. indecl. the former te (-s, ~), n. tea (te við mjólk tea with milk, te við sitrón tea with lemon)

tein/ur (-s, -ar), m. distance, length of road

teir (teir acc., teirra gen., teimum dat.), pron. they m.

teist/i (-a, -ar), m. black guillemot

tekj/a (-u, -ur), f. roof covering

tekna (-aði), vb. to draw

teknifilm/ur (-s, -ar), m. cartoon

teknirøð (-raðar, -ir / -raðir), f. cartoon series

tekopp/ur (-kops, -ar), m. cup of tea

tekstboð (-s, -0), n. sms, text message

teld/a (-u, -ur), f. computer

teldubræv (-s, -brøv), n. email teldufløg/a (-u, -ur), f. CD-rom

teldufrøði (-0, ~), f. computer science

teldumað/ur (-mans, -menn), m. IT-man, programmer

teldupost/ur (-s, -ar), m. email, emailing system (við telduposti by email) telduspæl (-s, -0), n. computer game telefon (-ar, -ir), f. telephone telefonboks (-ar, -ir), f. telephone box telefonkon/a (-u, -ur), f. operator

telefonmaður (-mans, -menn), m. operator

telefonnummar (-s, -nummur), n. telephone number telegramm (-s, -0), n. telegram

telja (telur; taldi, taldu; talt), vb. to count

tempul (-s, -0), n. temple

temunn/ur (-muns, -ar), m. cup of tea tendra (-aði), vb. to turn on

tendrar/i (-a, -ar), m. lighter

tennis (-0, ~), n. tennis

tennisvøll/ur (-vallar, -ir), m. tennis court teppi (-s, -[r]), n. blanket; rug

terapeut/ur (-s, -ar), m. therapist

tern/a (-u, -ur), f. tern

tert/a (-u, -ur), f. tart, pie

teska (-aði), vb. whisper teskeið (-ar, -ir), f. teaspoon tey (tey acc., teirra gen., teimum dat.), pron. they n.

thrillar/i (-a, -ar), m. thriller tiðna (-aði), vb to melt, thaw tiga (tigur/tigir; tagdi, tagdu; tagt), vb. to be quiet, be silent til + gen./acc., prep. to (til alla lukku luckily, fortunately, til ber at it is possible, til dømis for example, til endans in the end, til handa at hand, til hvørja aðra to one another, til høgru (to the) right, til lukku congratulations, til og við up to and including, til seinni until later, til vinstru (to the) left, til)

tilboð (-s, -0), n. special offer

tilfar (-s, -før), n. material

tilfriðs, adj. indecl. satisfied tilsamans, adv. altogether

tiltak (-s, -tøk), n. event

timian (-s, ~), n. thyme

tind/ur (-s, -ar), m. summit, top, peak

ting (-s, -0), n. assembly, 'thing'

tinghús (-0, -0), n. parliament building

tinging (-ar, -ar), f. negotiation tinglim/ur (-ar, -ir), m. member of parliament, assembly member tit (tykkum acc., tykkara gen., tykkum dat.), pron. you pl.

tí, conj. because

tíbetur, adv. fortunately

tíð (-ar, -ir), f. time; appointment; age, era tíðarrit (-s, -0), n. journal

tíðindablað (-s, -bløð), n. newspaper tíðindafólk (-s, -0), n. journalist tíggjundapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. tenth (fraction)

tím/i (-a, -ar), m. hour

tíma (-di), vb. to want, be bothered

tím/i (-a, -ar), m. hour

tín (tín, títt), pron.; adj. your, yours tíverri, adv. unfortunately tjald (-s, tjøld), n. tent

tjald/ur (-s, -ar), m. oystercatcher

tjalda (-aði), vb. to camp tjaldhælir, m.pl. tent pegs tjaldingarpláss (-0, -0), n. campsite tjaldpláss (-0, -0), n. campsite

tjaldursgræling/ur (-s, -ar), m. turnstone

tjekka (-aði) inn, vb. to check in tjena (-ar; -ti), vb. to earn tjóð (-ar, -ir), f. nation, people

tjóðarhátíð (-ar, -ir), f. national holiday

tjóðskaparmaður (-mans, -menn), m. nationalist

tjóðskaparrørsl/a (-u, -ur), f. nationalist movement

tjóðskap/ur (-s, -ir), m. nationality, nation

tjóðveldi (-s, -[r]), n. republic

Tjóðveldisflokkurin, m. sg. def. the Republican Party tjúgundapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. twentieth (fraction)

tjúkk/ur (tjúkk, tjúkt), adj. thick; fat

tjørn (tjarnar, tjarnir), f. small lake

togtogan (-ar, -ir), f. tug-of-war

tok (-s, -0), n. train

tok/a (-u, ~), f. fog, mist

tokubakk/i (-a, -ar), m. fog bank

tokutám (-s, ~), n. mist, haze

Toll- og Skattstova, f. Tax and Revenue Office toll/ur (tols, -ar), m. customs, duty tollar/i (-a, -ar), m. customs official tolldeild (-ar, -ir), f. tax office

tollfólk (-s, -0), n. customs official

tollfrí/ur (-frí, -frítt), adj. duty-free tollgjald (-s, -gjøld), n. customs duties

tollpappír (-s, ~), n. tax paper, label

tollseðil (-s, -seðlar), m. tax form tollstov/a (-u, -ur), f. customs office

tollynt/ur (tollynt, tollynt), adj. broadminded tomat (-ar, -ir), f. tomato tomatsós (-ar, -ir), f. tomato sauce

tonn (tannar, tenn), f. tooth

topp/ur (tops, -ar), m. top

toppamjørk/i (-a, ~), m. mist on the mountain tops

toppont (-antar, -entur), f. red-breasted merganser

tor/a (-u, ~), f. thunder

torfør/ur, adj. difficult torga (-aði), vb. to stand, tolerate

toruljós (-0, -0), n. lightning

torvkrógv (-kráar, -kráir), f. place for storing turf, a long low turf-stack tos (-0, -0), n. conversation, talk tosa (-aði), vb. to speak, talk (tosa við + acc. to talk to, tosa upp í saman to talk nonsense)

tosk/ur (-s, -ar), m. cod

tó, adv. nonetheless

tólvtapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. twelfth (fraction)

tóm/ur, adj. empty

tónaskald (-s, -skøld), n. composer tónatól (-s, -0), n. musical instrument tónleik/ur (-s, ~), m. music tónleikar/i (-a, -ar), m. musician

tónleikatiltak (-s, -tøk), n. music event

tónleikavideo (-0, -ir), f. music video tónlistaskúl/i (-a, -ar), m. music academy, conservatory tórsdag/ur (-s, -ar), m. Thursday (in Suðuroy dialect)

traðka (-aði), vb. to tread, pedal

trapp/a (-u, -ur), f. staircase

treisk/ur, adj. stubborn trek/ur, adj. sluggish, inert (trekur magi constipation) trettandapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. thirteenth (fraction) triðing/ur (-s, -ar), m. third (fraction) trína (trínur; trein, trinu; trinið), st. vb. to go, tread; step, climb (trína á pallin to step on the stage)

trolar/i (-a, -ar), m. trawler

trom (tramar, tremur), f. edge (of a mountain)

trong/ur, adj. narrow; tight tropisk/ur, adj. tropical trot/i (-a, -ar), m. swelling troyggj/a (-u, -ur), f. jumper, sweater (opin troyggja cardigan)

troyttast (-aðist), vb. to grow tired

trupul (trupul, trupult), adj. difficult, complicated trupulleik/i (-a, -ar), m. difficulty; problem

trussur, f. pl. knickers

trúbót (-ar, -bøtur), f. (religious) reformation trúfast/ur (trúfast, loyal trúfast), adj.

trúgv (trár, -ir), f. religion, faith

trúlovað/ur (trúlovað, trúlovað), past part. engaged (to be married) trútta (-aði), vb. to force one's opinions (trútta a inn í *b to force a onto b) trygg/ur (trygg, trygt), adj. safe, secure

trygging (-ar, -ar), f. insurance

trýsta (-ti), vb. to press, push trýstilás (-0, -0), n. snap fastener

træ (-s, trø), n. tree

træl/ur (-s, -ir/ar), m. slave

trældóm/ur (-s, ~), m. slavery

træsmið/ur (-s, -ir), m. carpenter

tröll (-s, -0), n. troll tröllabarn (-s, -börn), n. troll children

tröllont (-antar, -entur), f. tufted duck

trøsk/a (-u, ~), f. thrush (medical condition)

T-shirt (-s, -0), n. t-shirt

tubbak (-s, -0), n. tobacco

tubbaksvar/a (-vøru, vørur), f. tobacco product

tufl/a (-u, -ur), f. clog

tummil (-s, tumlar), m. thumb

tunfisk/ur -s (-ar) m. tuna

tung/a (-u, -ur), f. lemon sole tung/ur, adj. heavy; close, humid tunglynt/ur (tunglynt, tunglynt), adj. melancholic tunn/a (-u, -ur), f. barrel

tunnil (-s, tunlar), m. tunnel

tup/a (-u, -ur), f. tube

turka (-aði) sær, vb. to dry oneself turkituml/a (-u, -ur), f. tumble-dryer turr/ur (turr, turt), adj. dry, dried (turt kjøt hung and dried meat)

tutla (-aði), vb. to mumble

tú (teg acc., tín gen., tær dat.), pron. you inf. sg.

tún (-s, -0), n. garden, yard, alleyway túr/ur (-s, -ar), m. trip, journey; walk túsundapart/ur (-s, -ar), m. thousandth (fraction) tváttarkar (-s, -kør), n. wash-basin

tvíburasystir (-systur, -systrar), f. twin sister

tvífjall (-fjals, fjøll), n. 'double-mountain', mountain with two peaks

tvætl (-s, ~), n. nonsense

tvætla (-aði), vb. to talk nonsense

tvør/ur, adj. stubborn tykjast (tykist; tóktist, tóktust), irr. vb. to seem, appear tykki (-s, -[r]), n. opinion

typ/a (-u, -ur), f. type typpamjørk/i (-a, ~), m. mist on the mountain tops

tyrl/a (-u, -ur), f. helicopter

tyrlupall/ur (-pals, -ar), m. helipad, helicopter landing point tysja (tysur; tusti, tustu; tust), irr. vb. to rush tyst/ur (tyst, tyst), adj. thirsty týdning/ur (-s, -ar), m. importance, meaning, significance týdningarmikil (-mikil, -mikið), adj. important týðandi, adj. indecl. important

týðiliga, adv. clearly, distinctly

týnast (-dist), vb. to be detroyed, annihilated

týsdag/ur (-s, -ar), m. Tuesday (týsdag on Tuesdays, týsdagin on Tuesday)

týskvøld (-s, -0), n. Tuesday evening (týskvøldið on Tuesday evening)

tænar/i (-a, -ar), m. waiter

tænast/a (-u, -ur), f. service

tær (tær acc., teirra gen., teimum dat.), pron. they f.

tætt við… + acc., prep. close to, near tætt/ur (tøtt/tætt, tætt), adj. close

tøknifrøði (-0, ~), f. technical sciences

U

ugl/a (-u, -ur), f. owl

ull (-ar, -ir), f. wool

ullarfiti (-0, ~), f. lanolin ullint/ur (ullint, ullint), adj. woollen um + acc., prep. about (um náttina in the night, at night, um tíggjutíðina around 10 o'clock)

um, conj. whether, if umberandi, adj. indecl. tolerant

umboða (-aði), vb. to represent

umborð, adv. onboard

umframt + acc., prep. in addition to umgird/ur (umgird, umgirt), past part. surrounded

umhvørvi (-s, ~), n. environment

umleið, adv. about, approximately

ummæli (-s, -i[r]), n. review

umráðandi, adj. indecl. important

umsiting (-ar, ~), f. administration

umskylda, interj. excuse me! I'm sorry!

umsókn (-ar, -ir), f. application

umsøkjar/i (-a, -ar), m. applicant umtókt/ur (umtókt, umtókt), adj. popular

umvegis + acc., prep. via

umvæla (-ti), vb. to repair undanvind/ur (-s, -ar), m. success

undarlig/ur, adj. strange, weird

undirbuksur, f. pl. underpants

undirgrundarbreyt (-ar, -ir), f. underground, tube, metro undirlív (-s, -0), n. abdomen undirlutakensl/a (-u, -ur), f. feeling of inferiority undirskriva (-aði), vb. to sign undirtekst/ur (-s, -ir), m. subtitle undirtroyggj/a (-u, -ur), f. vest undirvandsbát/ur (-s, -ar), m. submarine undirvísing (-ar, -ar), f. teaching, education; classes

undirvísingarmál (-s, -0), n. language of instruction

undrast (-aðist), vb. to wonder, be surprised ung/ur, adj. young (unga tjóðveldið youth organisation of Tjóðveldisflokkurin)

ungfólk, n. pl. young people, youth

uniform/ur (-s, -ar), m. uniform

unión (-ar, -ir), f. union

universitet (-s, -0), n. university (Universitetið í Oslo The University of Oslo)

universitetsútbúgving (-ar, -ir), f. university studies

upp, adv. up (upp í saman without content)

uppdaging (-ar, -ar), f. discovery

uppgerð (-ar, -ir), f. calculation upphiting (-ar, ~), f. warming, heating (upphiting av jørðini global warming)

uppi, adv. up (uppi á loftinum upstairs)

upplag (-s, -løg), n. distribution

upplesing (-ar, -ar), f. recital, reading

uppliva (-ir; -di; -að), vb. to experience

upploysa (-ti), vb. to dissolve

upplýsa (-ti), vb. to inform. tell

upplýsing (-ar, -ar), f. [piece of] information

upprunaliga, adv. originally

uppsparingskonto (-0, -ir), f. savings account upptikin (-tikin, -tikið), past part. taken, occupied upptraðka (-aði), vb. to perform

upptrekkjar/i (-a, -ar), m. bottle opener

uppvaskimaskin/a (-u, -ur), f. dishwasher ur (-s, -0), n., clock, watch urt (-ar, -ir), f. herb uttan + acc., prep. without

uttan fyri + acc., prep. outside

uttanfyri, adv. outside

uttanífrá, adv. from abroad

uttanlands, adv. abroad

uttanlendis, adv. abroad

Ú

úlv/ur (-s, -ar), m. wolf úr + dat., prep. from

úrslit (-s, -0), n. result

úrval (-s, -0), n. selection

ússalig/ur, adj. weak, unwell úsýni (-s, -[r]), n. view útbrot (-s, -0), n. rash útbúgvin (útbúgvin, útbúgvið), past part. trained, educated

útfarandi, adj. indecl. possible to go outside útferð (-ar, -ir), f. excursion
útflýggja (-aði), vb. to dispense, distribute
útgongd (-ar, -ir), f. exit, way out útheim/ur (-s, -ar), m. countries abroad, overseas (til útheimin abroad) úti, adv. outside
útideyðaveður (-s, ~), n. extremely bad weather
útinnandi vald (-s, -0), n. executive power
útland (-s, -lond), n. foreign country
útlending/ur (-s, -ar), m. foreigner
útlendsk/ur, adj. foreign útmerkað/ur (útmerkað, útmerkað), adj. excellent útnyrðing/ur (-s, ~), m. north-west (wind, direction)
útnyrðing/ur (-s,~), m. north-west útróðrarmaður (-mans, -menn), m. fisherman útseld/ur (útseld, útselt), adj. sold out útstappað/ur (útstappað, útstappað), adj. stuffed útsynning/ur (-s, ~), m. south-west (wind, direction)
útsýni (-s, -[r]), n. view útvarp (-s, ~), n. radio útvarpa (-aði), vb. to broadcast (by radio) útvarpssending (-ar, -ar), f. radio programme útvarpsstøð (-ar, -ir), f. station útvarpstól (-s, -0), n. radio set, radio, wireless

V

vaða (veður; vóð, vóðu; vaðið), st. vb. to wade Vaglið, n. sg. def. name of the main square in the centre of Tórshavn vakna (-aði), vb. to wake up
vaknandi, adj. indecl. awakening vaksa (veksur; vaks, vuksu; vaksin), st. vb. to grow (up); grow bigger; grow stronger vaksiner/a (-aði), vb. to vaccinate vakstrarhúsárinið, n. sg. def. the greenhouse effect
vakt (-ar, .-ir), m. official vakur (vøkur, vakurt), adj. beautiful, pleasant vakurleik/i (-a, ~), m. beauty val (-s, val), n. choice; election
valaldur (-s, -aldrar), m. age of suffrage
vald (-s, ~), n. power, control
valevni (-s, -[r]), n. candidate valrætt/ur (-ar, ~), m. right to vote (hava valrætt to have the vote) valstaðarkanning (-ar, -ar), f. exit poll
valut/i (-a, -ar), m. currency
valúrslit (-s, -0), n. election result vaml (-s, ~), n. nausea
vand/i (-a, -ar), m. danger vandamikil (-mikil, -mikið), adj. dangerous vaniljusukur (-s, ~), n. vanilla sugar vanlig/ur, adj. normal
vanliga, adv. usually
vanlukk/a (-u, -ur), f. accident
varð/i (-a, -ar), m. cairn (that marks a path) varðveita (-veitti), vb. to protect varin, adj. careful
varisliga, adv. carefully, cautiously
varm/i (-a, ~), m. warmth vas/i (-a, -ar), m. vase vask (-s, vøsk), n. sink vaskarí (-s, -0/-ir), n. laundrette vaskimaskin/a (-u, -ur), f. washing-machine vatn (-s, ~), n. water (vatn við kólsýru sparkling water, carbonated water)
vatn (-s, vøtn), n. lake vatnbað (-s, -0), n. water bath vatnfløsk/a (-u, -ur), f. water bottle vatnítrótt/ur (-ar, -ar), m. water sports vatnrætt/ur (-rætt, -rætt), adj. horizontal vatt (vats, ~), n. cotton wool vattpinn/ur (-s, -ar), m. cotton-tipped bud, Q-tip Vágatunnil (-s, -tunlar), m. tunnel linking Vágar and Streymoy vár (-s, -0), n. spring vár (vár, várt), pron. our (old-fashioned)

vátasletting/ur (-s, -ar), m. sleet vedding (-ar, -ar), f. bet, wager; betting veðr/ur (-ar, -ir), m. ram
veður (-s, ~), n. weather
veðurlag (-s, -løg), n. climate veðurstov/a (-u, -ur), f. meteorological office
veðurtíðindi, n. pl. weather forecast
veðurvánir, f. pl. weather outlook
vegakort (-s, -0), n. road map
vegamót (-s, -0), n. junction, road vegetar/ur (-s, -ar), m. vegetarian
vegføring (-ar, -ar), f. roadway vegg/ur (veggjar, -ir), m. wall veg/ur (-ar, -ir), m. road (vera upp á vegin to be pregnant) veipa (-aði), vb. to wave one's arms about veita (veitt), vb. to allocate veitsl/a (-u, -ur), f. party veittra (-aði), vb. to wave veking (-ar, -ar), f. awakening; wake-up call veksla (-aði) , vb. to change (veksla pengar to change money) vekt (-ar, -ir), f. weight, scales velja (velur; valdi, valdu; valt), irr. vb. to choose, elect veljar/i (-a, -ar), m. voter (veljararnir the electorate) velta (velti), vb. to grow, cultivate venda (vendi), vb. to turn (venda sær til to contact, write to) venja (venur; vandi, vandu; vant), irr. vb. to practise (venjast við at to get used to) venjingarhøll (-hallar, -hallir), f. fitness centre
ver so góð, interj. here you are!
vera (eri, ert, er; var, vóru; verið), st. vb. to be (vera í trongum skóm to be in trouble, vera í ferð við at + inf. to be in (the process of) …ing, vera nakað fyri seg to be something special, vera noyddir til at to have to, vera við at to be involved in, vera upp á vegin to be pregnant) verd/ur (verd, vert), adj. worthy verða (verður; varð, vórðu; vorðið), st. vb. to become (verða settur to be opened (of meetings etc.)) verðinskend/ur (-kend, -kent), adj. world-famous verj/a (-u, ~), f. defence verj/a (-ir; vardi), vb. to defend, to protect verkfall (-fals, -føll), n. strike, industrial action
verkfrøði (-0, ~), f. engineering
verkfrøðing/ur (-s, -ar), m. engineer vert/ur (-s, -ir), m. host vertshús (-0, -0), n. pub
veruleik/i (-a, -ar), m. reality
vesi (-s, -0), n. WC, toilet
vesipappír (-s, -0), n. toilet paper vestur west (vesturi in the west, vestur towards the west, vestan from the west, vestureftir westwards) vetrartíð (-ar, -ir), f. wintertime vetur (-s, vetrar), n. winter vevsíð/a (-u, -ur), f. website vevstjór/i (-a, -ar), m. webmaster video (-s, -0), n. video við + acc./dat. by, next to; with (við fullveldi sovereign, við síðuna av… + dat. next to, við) viðarlund (-ar, -ir), f. the wooded park in Tórshavn
viðarramm/a (-u, -ur), f. wooden frame
viðburð/ur (-ar, -ir), m. success viðfest/ur (viðfest, viðfest), adj. attached
viðføri (-s, -[r]), n. luggage, baggage viðganga (viðgongur; viðgekk, viðgingu; viðgingið), st. vb. to admit viðkvæm/ur (viðkvæm/viðkvom, viðkvæmt), adj. sensitive viðsker/i (-a, -ar), m. toppings for sandwiches (sausage, cheese etc.)
viðskerabreyð (-s, -0), n. open sandwich
viðskerahandil (-s, -handlar), m. delicatessen
viðskiftafólk (-s, -0), n. customer

viðtalutíð (-ar, -ir), f. surgery hours
viðurskifti (-s, -[r]), n. discussion viga (-aði), vb. to weigh vik/a (-u, -ur), f. week
viktug/ur, adj. important vikuskifti (-s, -[r]), n. weekend vilja (vil[t]; vildi, vildu; viljað), irr. vb. to want, will villast (viltist), vb. to get lost, wander aimlessly villdunn/a (-u, -ur), f. mallard vilst/ur (vilst, vilst), adj. lost, astray vinalig/ur, adj. friendly vinaligast, adv. yours sincerely (letter writing)
vind/ur (-s, -ar), m. wind vinda (vindur; vant, vundu; vundið), st. vb. to hoist vindeyg/a (-a, -u[r]), n. window vinka (-aði), vb. wave vinna (vinnur; vann, vunnu; vunnið), st. vb. to earn vinnumál (-s, -0), n. labour affairs vinstravend/ur (-vend, -vent), adj. left-wing vinstrumegin, adv. on the left vin/ur (-s, -ir), m. friend violett/ur (violett, violett), adj. violet viólblá/ur (-blá, -blátt), adj. violet virðisminking (-ar, ~), f. inflation
virka (-aði), vb. to work, be active, serve virki (-s -[r]), n., factory virus (-0, -0), n. virus viss/ur (viss, vist), adj. certain vissi, conj. if
vist, adv. certainly vit (-s, -0), n. reason, intelligence vit (okkum acc., okkara gen., okkum dat.), pron. we (vit síggjast see you later) vita (-aði), vb. vitað), irr. vb. to look (for) vita (veit[st]; visti, vistu; to know vitamin (-ar, -ir), f. vitamin (C-vitamin vitamin C) vitja (-aði), vb. to visit vitjan (-ar, -ir), f. visit vitjandi, m. indecl. guest
vittuggi (-s, -[r]), n. unpleasant person vídd (-ar, -ir), f. wide open space, expanse
víðari, adv. further, onwards
vígsl/a (-u, -ur), f. ceremony
vík (-ar, -ir), f. bay, cove
víking/ur (-s, -ar), m. viking
vín (-s, -0), n. wine
víndrúv/a (-a, -ur), f. grape vínkort (-s, -0), n. wine list
víp/a (-u, -ur), f. lapwing vís/a (-u, -ur), f. song
vís/ur, adj. certain vísa (-ti), vb. to show (vísa frá sær to decline, turn down, vísa seg to seem)
víst, adv. of course
vón (-ar, -ir), f. hope
vóna (-aði), vb. to hope
vónandi, adv. hopefully
vrak (-s, -0), n. wreck
væl, adv. well; much, a lot (væl bygdur well-built, væl gagnist enjoy! bon appétit!, væl umtóktur well liked, popular)
vætukrem (-s, -0), n. moisturiser
vødd/i (-a, -ar), m., muscle vøddamikil (-mikil, -mikið), adj. well-built vøggustov/a (-u, -ur), f. creche vør/a (-u, -ur), f. ware; provision; commodity, merchandise (útflutt vøra export item)
vørr (varrar, varrar), f. lip vøruvogn/ur (-s, -ar), m. van vøtt/ur (vattar, -ir), m. woollen mitten

W

weekend (-ar, -ir), f. weekend

Y

ymisk/ur, adj. different (ymiskt nýtt different new things) ymiss/ur (ymiss, ymist), adj. different, various, differing ymsastaðni, adv. in different places
ynski (-s, -[r]), n. wish, desire ynskja (ynskti), vb. to wish yrking (-ar, -ar), f. poem yrkja (yrkti), vb. to compose yrkjar/i (-a, -ar), m. poet
ytst, adv. furthest out
yvir av + dat., prep. opposite yviráls (-0, -0), n. dungarees
yvirgang/ur (-s, ~), m. terrorism
yvirgangsfólk (-s, -0), n. terrorist yvirhøvur adv. at all, altogether yvirklæði, n. pl. outdoor clothes yvirliva (-di, -að), vb. to survive
yvirmenni (-s, -[r]), n. superhuman
yvirnátta (-aði), vb. to spend the night yvirskegg (-skegs, -0), n. moustache
yvirskrift (-ar, -ir), f. headline yvirtaka (yvirtekur; yvirtók, yvirtóku; yvirtikið), st. vb. to take over yvirvekt (-ar, -ir), f. excess weight

Ý

ýla (-di), vb. to howl, bellow

Æ

æð/a (-u, -ur), f. common eider æðr (-ar, -ar), f. vein
æðukong/ur (-s, -ar), m. king eider
æl (-s, -0), n. shower
ælabog/i (-a, -ar), m. rainbow æling/ur (-s, ~), m. showery weather
ær/a (-u, ~), f. glory, honour, reputation ætla (-aði), vb. to want; intend, plan to; think (ætla sær to want, intend) ætt (-ar, -ir), f. point of the compass, wind direction; family, lineage, descent

Ø

øgilig/ur, adj. awful, very bad, terrible øgvuliga, adv. extremely, very
øki (-s, -[r]), n. area
økil (-s, øklar), m. ankle
økja (økti), vb. to increase øksl (akslar, akslar), f. shoulder
øl (-s, ~), n. beer
øld (aldar, -ir), f. century; age (long time) ølkort (-s, -0), n. beer list
øshvít gás (-ar, gæs), f. Canada goose øskubikar (-s, -0/ -bikør), n. ashtray øtla (-aði), vb. to deteriorate, become rougher/stronger (hann øtlar sjógvin the sea is getting rougher, hann øtlar veðrið the weather is deteriorating, getting worse, hann øtlar vindin the wind is getting stronger) øva (-di/-aði) seg, vb. to practise

Faroese: A Language Course for Beginners is an introduction to reading, writing and speaking Faroese. It is suitable for complete beginners and those needing to brush up their skills in Faroese. The course comprises two books (a textbook and a grammar book). The textbook is based around sets of dialogues, reading texts and exercises with an emphasis on modern spoken Faroese. The book also includes sections on new grammar, cultural information and a short Faroese-English dictionary.

New grammar is explained in further detail in the grammar book which acts as an essential reference book.

A CD-ROM with recordings of all the dialogues and many of the texts and exercises accompanies the course.

This is a new course developed and written by two experienced language teachers.

Grammar & Textbook ISBN:

Textbook ISBN:
978-99918-42-48-6